High-Rise Bids Set for Oct. 21

The Board of Trustees will open new bids Oct. 21 for pluming, heating, and other mechanical work on two additional four-story residence halls and commons buildings at the University Park development.

Although a $6.4 million general construction contract on the project was approved conditionally earlier this month, the trustees turned down all mechanical work bids because they were above engineers' estimates.

The project—one tower for women and one for men with a capacity of 1,032 students—will be an addition to one tower and two men's halls plus a commons which were occupied last month. A third man's dormitory will be ready for use next spring, according to John S. Rendleman, vice president for business affairs.

Hart said another project, widening Harwood Avenue to four lanes, has been put off until spring. The postponement of the project is due to the traffic problem which would be created by setting up detours.

New World Hails His Historic Trip

NEW YORK (AP)—Before the powers and dominions of the earth, Pope Paul VI pleaded Monday for peace and disarmament.

Throughout his day in New York, amid great gatherings and small for the hot spot of the New World, he made his momentous, personal appeal.

"No more war, war never again," the pontiff pleaded before the United Nations. "Let the arms fall from your hands,"

That appeared to be his historic talk with President Johnson.

And it resonated from other rostrums across the city as the world's pre-eminent spiritual leader entered the secular mind in an unprecedented attempt to halt the peril of arms.

Among him, as he moved about the city on his swift round, tens of thousands in celebrations of acclaim. Horns blared, banners waved, bells rang out.

An estimated one million people packed his route through the mighty metropolis, cheering the first Pope ever to set foot in the Western Hemisphere.

To the United Nations General Assembly, the Pope urged diplomats to find ways to guarantee international security, "without having recourse to war.

As the widow of former President John F. Kennedy sat in the hall, the pontiff recalled the words of her husband four years ago: "The United Nations must put an end to war, or war will put an end to mankind."

"The Pope put man's emphasis on disarmament as a primary moral and political concern of the world and to the delegations who have been arriving unsuccessfully for 20 years to achieve world disarmament been said.

"If you wish to be brothers, let the arms fall from your hands. One cannot love while holding offensive arms."

He said that as man remains "that weak, changeable, wicked being"

Audience Pleased

'The Sound of Music' Praised
As Splendid Stage Production

By Roland A. Gill

The pealing of the abbey bells and the black and white costumed nuns standing before a dramatic blue setting heralded the beginning of what could be described as a splendid production of "The Sound of Music.

The Summer Music Theater presented the Rodgers and Hammerstein favorite at 8 p.m. Friday, Saturday and Sunday in Shryock Auditorium, under the direction of William K. Taylor, assistant professor of music.

The feeling the performance gave the audience came mostly from Denise Cocking who portrayed Maria, What Miss Cocking lacked in physical size, she made up many times with her voice, acting ability, agility and beautiful spirit that radiated from the stage to the audience.

From the first notes of "The Sound of Music" and "My Favorite Things," Miss Cocking knitted the plot together with her talents. She showed an outstanding ability to shift from the completely elated to the completely depressed with the greatest of ease.

Rousing ovations were awarded Judith Sablonky who played the mother abbess. Her performance, especially the singing of "Climb Every Mountain," proved how she can be excellent in voice and action.

The seven Von Trapp children ran away with the hearts and voices of the audience with every appearance on the stage. Their seven children can be found to perform in such a production is amazing, but that they can perform together as well as they did in the SMU production is even more amazing.

Becky and Wendy Taylor as the youngest children proved especially pleasing to viewers. Linda Sparks turned in an outstanding performance as Liesl, the oldest of the children. Her voice was well-received and she proved herself a dancer in the number 'Sixteen Going on Seventeen' performed with another accomplished dancer, Michael Williams, playing Rolf Gruber.

Robert Guy headed the male members of the cast. He was strong in voice and action in his portrayal of Georg von Trapp.

Jeffrey Gilliam and Jeana Bray were audience-pleasing in their rendition of "How Can Love Survive." Gilliam was especially adequate in his portrayal of Max Detweiler. Miss Bray may have been somewhat short in voice for the role of Elsa Schrader but her acting was outstanding.

A minor part which left a major effect on the audience was the one of Admiral von Schreiber, played by Rudolf Scharinger. The haunting voice of the sea, which could be heard through terrific body-action and costume, merited great ovations.

Chemical Society Charter Granted

A charter has been granted by the American Chemical Society to a Southern Illinois section of the chemical fraternity, according to George E. Brown, professor of chemistry. The new organization will be the first in Illinois south of Chicago and will be sectional, a move being made with the ACS must live within 75 miles of the headquarters city. Brown said he and other ACS members have been trying for eight years to get a sectional charter. Corporation.

Brown said a charter meeting will be held in early November, when officers will be elected. The action means professional chemists in the region will be represented by a council within the national body. Brown said ACS officials advised him the approval was voted at an ACS executive session that reviewed the national convention Sept. 14 in Atlantic City.

Odd Jobs Offered

By Work Office

Students who do not want regular employment, but would like an occasional job to earn extra cash, may fill out an "odd-job" form at the Student Work Office.

This form is for temporary binding, according to the office. However, when persons from Carbondale get calling asking for people to do baby-sitting, lawn mowing, painting, cleaning, etc., the Student Work Office looks into its file for students who would be interested in this type of work. The students are then called, and if they so desire, may accept the job.

Wages are up to the individual student and his employer.

The University's only connection is in handing the jobs available to students.

China Intelligentsia Wants Peace

China being a student of international relations, I am concerned with our present attitude toward the mainland. The mainland...the mainland. Through the medium of various publications...an...magazines, the United States has continually propagated..."Chinad is faceless" China. While such reports may be true, a more accurate picture of the mainland government, which rules over roughly sixty million people. Meanwhile, foreign correspondents...such as Brian Crozier visit...the General Ho. Their...living conditions, which do not always appear to be as bad as depicted by American correspondents....correspondents, who warn us that war is spreading from their position in the British colony of Hong Kong. In Southeast Asia, leaders...such as Sukarno of Indonesia and Prince Sihanouk of Cambodia realize China's...will be willing to learn to live with long-range potential and area. Why aren't we? After Chiang left the...mainland in 1947, the Chinese had to learn how to industrialize, yet in a period of...eighteen years they have set up an actual...rate world power. As in the Soviet Union, I believe there is a class of intelligentsia in Communist China which could be persuaded to live peacefully with the West...if there existed at the time of negotiation a prevailing attitude of respect for each other's interest. Rather than deploring the Communist Chinese as "warmongers," why not try to make the most of our relations with them and...actively attempt to resolve our differences before another catastrophic world debate erupts...

Is Lents Hall Private Club?

It seems strange that, in a dynamic world such as ours, people still believe in an isolationist policy, and it is even...stranger in a university atmosphere. This is what may find in our building..."dedicated to the fusion of...learning"-Lents Hall. At Lents Hall one is encouraged to buy from their snack bar, but just let some...from the outside world...their recreational facilities. They are...told that they must prove resi...dency at either T.P. or University Park. If they live anywhere else, they are told plainly NO! Why just University Park? Either open it to the student, or close it to everyone not from T.P.

"Are You Entertained In Viet Nam, Son?"

"Yes, Mom: I Want to 'Call Me (a) Madam'

By Arthur Hoppe
San Francisco Chronicle

General Ky, the firmly entrenched ruler of the unstable government of South Vietnam (as this is written), has come up with a stimulating idea for winning the war out there: He is offering a moving billboard for our boys by the roadside of his beloved motherland. Kind of like mobile billboards.

"After battle," says the Premier happily, "the troops would like a place to rest, and a billboard, naturally, would boost the old morale." Experts, however, see no chance of such a promotional...ous offer will be accepted. The decision was arrived at as the conference was once made in the neighboring bastion of democracy of West Vietnam (call it South Vietnam to avoid...quarters). The reaction was just...a matter of respect.

It was in the 28th year of our lightning campaign to wipe out the Premier's "baster" or "demon" or "pirate" guerrillas. Our Ambassador strongly requested that the Royal Palace pay our daily respects and our daily 22 million dong fee. "We are paying the week, General Ho Dat Don Dat (call him to cut it)...But all he found was...a note on the door saying, "In case anyb...do anything with the students, he wondered on...well-meaning...like Hill have tried to get closer to their students, only to find the students too busy caring for themselves to use the opportunity.

This fall, students in the School of Business are being given that opportunity. We are sure that other deans, chairman and teachers share Dean Hill's desire for meaningful interpersonal relationships among students and faculty. But they cannot force the student to assert himself as a person—that is up to him.

Johnson, Pope Hold Meeting, Proclaim Search for Peace

NEW YORK (AP)—President Johnson and Pope Paul VI climaxed a historic-making private conference here Monday by proclaiming publicly that they are united in the world's quest for peace.

Johnson said the Pope's visit to New York "may be just what the world needs to get us thinking of how to achieve peace and getting us to make progress in that area."

The chief executive described their discussion of health and education problems in this fashion:

"We also exchanged views in detail in connection with what could be done to help provide education to the 800-million people of the world, and I believe that the continents generally."

Johnson continued:

"We discussed in some detail troubles spots in the world today and the great progress made by the United Nations in trying to provide help in these troublesome spots. We discussed in some detail in connection with what could be done to help provide education to the 800-million people of the world who cannot read or write, to help increase the life expectancy of the millions of humans who now die at an early age, with a life expectancy less than half of what it is in this country."

Johnson said:

"The Pope's visit has complicated the fate of Ernesto (Che) Guevara, once regarded by many as the intellectual leader of the revolutionary government, has been out of sight for six months. He was out of step with both the Havana and Moscow regimes even longer."

Guevara, one of Castro's closest associates and advisors in past years, has disappeared as have others of Castro's former top lieutenants, but none under such strange circumstances.

A farewell letter attributed to Guevara, which sounded much like a political will and testament, was read by Castro at a Communist rally in Havana Sunday night. It answered some questions but left other, basic ones still obscured.

The document did not say where Guevara is, but some Cuban exiles wonder if he may not be buried in Cuba, or may be held in one of Castro's prisons.

Some exiles believe that if Castro has killed Guevara, he may be heading for trouble within his region. One ever suggests that the bearded dictator might be liquidated himself by the international Communists.

Guevara, once regarded by many as the intellectual leader of the revolutionary government, has been out of sight for six months. And he was out of step with both the Havana and Moscow regimes even longer.

For the early years of the Castro regime, Guevara was the country's economic czar. As such, he left Cuba's sugar industry in chaos from which it recovered only last year. His attempts to make Cuba an industrial country plunged the island nation's economy and its administrative machinery into a tangle.
Sukarno Faces Civil War Peril

KUALA LUMPUR, Malaysia (AP)—Indonesia faced the threat of civil war Monday as the pro-government army denounced the air force, whose members backed a leftist rebel coup attempt last Thursday. Clashes between the army and rebel forces were reported in central Java.

President Sukarno, in a message broadcast over Jakarta Radio, called on all the Indonesian armed forces to end hostilities arising from the attempt to unseat him. He said the coup attempt was a political matter and he would solve it as soon as possible. But the army was angry at the air force.

Maj. Gen. Subarto, in control of the army under Sukarno's orders, accused the air force of "merciless action" in killing the army chief of staff-Lt. Gen. Achmad Yani, an anti-Communist—and five other generals.

A Jakarta broadcast said the mutilated bodies of the generals were found in a common grave near an air force base just outside the capital.

Subarto denounced the air force chief, Vice Admiral Mar Dhan, who has pro-Communist sympathies, and Lt. Col. Untung, the presidential guard officer who led the coup attempt, in the slaying of the generals.

Preliminary Talks On Refugees Asked

WASHINGTON (AP)—The State Department revealed Monday it has asked the Swiss Embassy to start preliminary talks with the government of Fidel Castro on President Johnson's offer to grant asylum to Cubans in the United States.

State Department press officer Marshall Wright said the request was made Sunday. He also replied to Castro's objections to Johnson's suggestion of a Red Cross role in the expected exodus of Cubans to this country.

Pub Floor Caves At Mighty Roar

LONDON (AP)—Fred Pervical roared the traditional "Time, gentlemen, please" to close his pub Sunday and the floor fell in.

Grimey cluthching their glasses, some of his best customers dropped two feet into the hole that opened up in the crowded bar. A voice complained from the rubble: "Don't shout again, Fred—we're going."

Pervical, keeper of the Hope and Anchor Tavern in suburban Tottenham, blamed the collapse on a new subway tunnel being built nearby.

"No one was hurt," he said, "and no single glass was broken."

Dirksen Starts Filibuster; Fortas Dons Court Robe

WASHINGTON (AP)—"Extended discussion," salty water and a new face on the bench were the major news stories in Washington Monday.

Sen. Everett M. Dirksen, R-Ill., started a filibuster which he styled "extended discussion" as the Senate began a battle of words over a bill to repeal the Taft-Hartley Act's union shop provision.

And the United States and Mexico moved to study a possible atomic-powered water desalting plant to serve neighboring areas along the U.S.-Mexico border.

FILIBUSTER: Dirksen began an announced Senate filibuster against repeal of the law allowing states to ban union shop labor contracts, in union shops a worker must join a union or pay dues to it to retain his job.

"Extended discussion in the Senate is part of the democratic process," Dirksen said.

The filibuster wasn't underway long Monday, though. The Senate adjourned at 4:27 p.m. Tuesday. NEW JUSTICE: Abe Fortas donned a black robe and, as President Johnson's choice, became an associate justice of the Supreme Court at the opening of a brief and solemn ceremony. He became the 95th justice in history.

Liquid-Grown Corn Used in Rot Study

If a farmer saw corn growing out of livestock watering tanks without soil at SIU, he might just shake his head in disbelief and think "that college crowd's at it again.

But some day this stilted off-beat approach might save American farmers millions of dollars.

The project, being conducted by assistant professor J. Pappelis, assistant professor of botany, is an effort to find effective muffler but the charge tion through fall quarter after the previous discovery that Frank, a sopho more from Chicago, has been carrying on at other institutions.

Anything that increases the ISU Sophomore Put on Probation

Jerrod B. Frank, a sophomore from Chicago, has been placed on disciplinary probation through fall quarter after being fined $10 for running a stop sign by Judge Robert Sherlock.

It was also determined that Frank's motorcycle had a defective muffler but the charge was dropped by Schwartz pending repair of the muffler.

T.W. Adkins, assistant dean of men, said Frank was placed on disciplinary probation when it was discovered that Frank had a previous incident involving a defective muffler.

plant's proneness to stalk rot increases the rate at which the cells die and vice versa, Pappelis said. Some corn varieties have more resistance than others, so plant breeders can work at the problem by breeding more resistance into corn plants by controlling the genetic factors that account for the early death of cells.

Stalk rot is not a new farming problem but it is one claiming much attention from scientists. It is costing Illinois farmers about $75,000,000 annually in corn losses, and agronomists are warning that this is a bad year for it in some kinds of corn-growing areas because of certain fertilizing conditions. Farmers may expect much fallen corn in some of the early maturing fields because weather conditions were not favorable for the fungus disease.

Pappelis says he has pin-pointed susceptibility to stalk rot in certain types of cells which die early in the plant's development. The rot fungus grows on the dead cells, weakening the stem so it breaks or falls easily from the weight of the stalk, or from wind. He has been conducting basic research on corn for about 10 years and has presented several papers on the subject at scientific meetings. Research on stalk rot also has been carried on at other institutions.

Youngstown Hands Southern Second Defeat

Southern did one thing different Saturday against Youngstown University — the Salukis scored first. The outcome was the same as last week's fiasco, however, as Youngstown won 9-7.

The margin of victory came on a 31-yard field goal in the last second of the first half of a game marked by penalties, miscues and pass interceptions.

The Salukis jumped to a 7-0 lead in the first quarter on a touchdown set up by Al Jenkins' interceptions. The bulky defensive lineman picked off a Youngstown pass on its 31-yard line, and Southern marched the distance in six plays for the game's first score.

Quarterback Jim Hart hit Arnold Kee and Bill Blanchard on two straight passes to put Southern at the Youngstown seven. With a first down and goal-to-go from there, Hill Williams carried to just inside the one-yard line and then scored on a dive, Doug Moughy added the extra point to put the Salukis ahead 7-0.

The second quarter began with Youngstown having a first and ten at its own 42, but the Penguins couldn't move the ball and were forced to punt.

The Salukis took over on their 27, and found themselves pushed two yards back after a pair of unsuccessful running plays.

Jim Hart dropped back to pass on third down, but his aerial was picked off by the Penguins' Ray Repaszky at the Southern 38 and returned to the 24.

Seven plays later, Youngstown's Dick Addipotti scammed untouched into the end zone. The two-point conversion attempt failed, and the Salukis still led 7-0.

Midway through the second quarter, Youngstown made another thrust deep into Saluki territory after Southern lost the ball at its own 35 on a fumble, Youngstown drove to the Southern 16, but lost the ball on downs.

The Salukis then could pick up only four yards in three plays and had to punt. Hart's punt sailed downfield and struck the helmet of an advancing teammate at midfield. The ensuing 15-yard penalty for interfering with a receiver gave Youngstown a first down at the SIU 35-yard line with less than a minute left in the air.

The blistering Saluki defense then threw Youngstown back to its 49 in the first two plays before a 10-yard pass put the Penguins at the Southern 40-yard line. Another pass moved the ball to the SIU 21 with only one second left in the half.

From there, the Penguins' Chad Rudzik booted a field goal, providing the margin of victory, 9-7.

The second half was a breather for Southern as it repeatedly drove into Youngstown territory only to have the drive ended by an interception.

Late in the third quarter the Salukis marched from their 2-yard line to Youngstown territory only to have the drive ended by an interception.

Turnover took over and couldn't move the ball. On fourth down the Penguins faked a punt and tried to pass, but they couldn't pick up the necessary yardage and Southern took over on the Penguins' 27-yard line.

After picking up three yards on two running plays, Hart took to the air again. Youngstown intercepted.

Youngstown intercepted six Southern passes, five in the second half. Of these five, four of them came inside the Youngstown 40-yard line.

The loss was the second of the year for Southern. The team has scored one victory. The next outing for the Salukis will be Saturday night in McKale Stadium against Lincoln University.

Walt Frazier Lost
On Ineligibility Call

The search for forwards is not a member of the conference, follows its rules on eligibility requirements. With Frazier's loss, Hartman has now taken three forwards from last year's team that finished second in the NCAA college division tournament at Evansville with a 20-6 record. The other two, Joe Ramsey and Thurman Brooks, were lost through graduation.

Despite the losses, Hartman is optimistic about the coming season. He still has transfers Dave Lee, George McNeil, Boyd O'Neal, Bill Lacy, Randy Goins, Ralph Johnson, Clarence Smith, Roger Catchold, Ed Zastrow and Bill Roberts returning.

Additions include Lloyd Stoval, a 6-foot-0 center who returns after a year's absence, transfer student Andy Kucik from Wichita State University and sophomore Bobby Jackson and Jay Westcott.

Hartman, who now has four centers on the squad, is expected to switch one of the four to the forward position when practice officially begins Oct. 15.

WRESTLING PRACTICE STARTS WEDNESDAY

Practice for SIU varsity and freshman wrestlers will begin at 8 a.m. Wednesday on the east concourse of the Arena. Students interested in trying out for either team are asked to report to the Arena at that time.

BOYDSTON HONORED BY MEDICAL SOCIETY

The American Medical Association honored Donald N. Boydston, SIU Athletics Director and chairman of the Health Education Department, for "contributions and support of the educational programs of the AMA and for services rendered as a chairman, consultant and recorder at physicians and schools' conferences held during the past decade."

The ceremonies were held last week in Chicago at the physicians' and schools' conferences.

Boydston was also inducted into the honorary AMA Bell Ringers organization, which includes physicians and health educators in this country.

HARRIERS BEATEN BY KANSAS,
Will Meet DePaul Saturday

Cross-country Coach Lew Hartzog predicted two weeks ago that the toughest teams his runners would meet would be Kansas and DePaul.

Saturday the SIU team was defeated by the Mountaineers, who took four of five places in the meet. SIU's John Trowbridge finished fifth, with a time of 30:38. Hartzog said Trowbridge ran the best race of his career on the new six-mile course.

John Lawton of Kansas was the individual winner, rounding the course in 29:21.4. Other SIU runners and their times were Al Ackman, who placed ninth, in 31:59; Jack Leydig, tenth, 32:00; Tom Curry, eleventh, 33:13; and Art Sonner, last place, 35:19. No. 2.

The course, in Lawrence, will be the site of the NCAA finals on Nov. 22.

Next Saturday the SIU team will face another No. 2 squad, DePaul University.

SIRENS PRECEDED A FUTURE" EVENTS

The sirens preceded a series of programs and Fire Prevention Week in Carbon- dale. A series of programs and fire drills will be held during the week.

SIU's performance was highlighted by the absence of Dan Shaughnessy, of Alliston, Canada, who was ruled out of school last week. Shaughnessy was one of Hartzog's most promising freshmen this season. Last year he was undefeated.

Walt Frazier No. 52, will be ineligible to play this sea- son because of academic de- ficiciencies.

Although supporting a better than 3.0 average, Frazier failed to meet a Missouri Valley Conference ruling requiring an athlete to have passed a set number of hours in relation to his year in school.

Southern, who currently promotes Fire Prevention

What sounded like a major disaster turned out to be the start of a parade at 10:20 a.m. Monday as nearly every air at the Carbondale Fire Department was activated to promote Fire Prevention Week.

The sirens preceded a parade which started Fire Prevention Week in Carbondale. A series of programs and fire drills will be held during the week.
Texas, Cornhuskers
Top AP Football Poll

By The Associated Press
Texas and Nebraska were the solid 1-2 choices Monday, and Louisiana State, Kentucky and Michigan were out of the running and out of the Top Ten in The Associated Press' weekly college football poll.

Texas held its No. 1 rating on a heavy first-place vote while Nebraska moved up from third and replaced Texas in second place. The Cornhuskers received strong support in the balloting by a national crew of sportswriters and sportscasters.

The Longhorns, 27-12 victors over the Gophers for their third straight victory, collected 25 first-place votes and 368 points. Points are figured on a basis of ten for first, nine for second, etc., Nebraska, which bombed Iowa State 44-0, received 10 first-place votes and 328 points.

Behind the first two came Arkansas, 3-0; Georgia's six-up set kings, 3-0; Michigan State, 3-0; Purdue, 2-0-1; Notre Dame, 2-1; Southern California, 2-0-1; Mississippi State, 3-0-1 and Florida, 2-1.

Purdue, second a week ago following its conquest of Notre Dame dropped four notches as a result of a 14-14 tie with Southern Methodist, a team that had been rated seventh by Illinois.

Georgia, occupants of Alabama earlier, advanced from 10th to fourth on its 15-7 upending of seventh-ranked Michigan. Louisiana State, fifth-ranked a week ago, was beaten by Florida, 14-7. Sixth-ranked Kentucky topped the Irish at Auburn, 23-18.

The vote with points on Hale and first-place ballots in:

1. Texas (25) 368
2. Nebraska (10) 355
3. Arkansas (1) 285
4. Georgia (3) 250
5. Michigan State 221
6. Purdue (1) 172
7. Notre Dame 172
8. Southern Calif. 170
9. Miss. State 47
10. Florida 46

Drysdale Will Pitch Opener Against Jim Grant of Twins

MINNEAPOLIS-ST. PAUL (AP)—The Los Angeles Dodg­ ers have passed over Sandy Koufax, have tapped big Don Drysdale to pitch the opening game of the World Series at Metropoli­ tan Stadium Wednesday against fearless Jim Grant of the Minnesota Twi­ ns.

Draysdale, a 23-game winner and the right-handed half of the Dodgers’ ace pitching twinnings, got the call because Wednesday is Yom Kippur, the most solemn Jewish holy day. Koufax, who is Jewish, will remain on the sidelines.

Despite that development the Dodgers are 13-10 favor­ ites here to beat the Twins in the Series. In Las Vegas the odds were 10-9 in favor of the Phila­ leps were quoted at 2-3.

The latest forecast for the opening game called for clearing weather with temperatures in the lower 70s and no rain in sight.

A crowd of about 46,000

Free Rides Offered To Jewish Service

Yom Kippur service will be held at 7 p.m. today, and at 9 a.m. Wednesday at the Temple Beth Jacob.

All Jewish students who wish to travel to the service by bus, will have a free ride everywhere on campus. The service is expected to be packed.
