Walker vows to fight Daley politics

By Pat Corcoran
Daily Egyptian Staff Writer

Gov. Daniel Walker said Thursday he will continue his run-off against Chicago Mayor Richard Daley's machine politics in his reelection bid.

Walker, in Carbondale Thursday afternoon as part of a six-city air blitz to promote his reelection campaign, said he would continue holding state spending at present levels until a tax increase. Walker said he was taking his candidacy to the citizens and shunning the Chicago state-makers.

Walker announced his candidacy Wednesday in Chicago. He repeated an earlier statement about not closing the door on presidential ambitions.

"I am human and I have thought about being president," Walker told a press conference.

The governor said he would not be a favorite son candidate in the Illinois primary against Chicago Mayor Daley. Walker said he does not plan to run in opposition to Daley.

Walker said he has not picked a running mate for the governor position. Present Lt. Gov. Neil Hartigan, D-Chicago, is a possible opponent for Walker for the governor's nomination.

Walker was looking for another possible Democratic challenger. Walker criticized Alan Dixon, state treasurer.

GSC, Senate support attorney program

By Ken Temkin
Daily Egyptian Staff Writer

Both the Graduate Student Council (GSC) and the Student Senate unanimously approved the proposed Student Senate and GSC program Wednesday night.

In a separate meeting, the two bodies also passed resolutions asking the SIU Board of Trustees to approve the program.

The attorney proposal will come before the board at its meeting Oct. 9 in Carbondale.

The Student Senate passed its student attorney proposal with little discussion at a 50-minute meeting.

Ellen Shanzle-Haskins, president of the GSC, told members she was quite satisfied with the attorney program proposal and encouraged council members to give it full support.

Shanzle-Haskins defended the GSC against the accusations which she claims several Student Government officials have made that the council fled not participate in drafting the Student Attorney Program.

She told the council she made repeated attempts to get a draft of the attorney program proposals but was not able to until early this week.

Although she was not able to assist other constituency groups in drawing up the program, Shanzle-Haskins said she is fully behind the program.

The GSC also heard from guest speaker Thomas Mitchell, dean of SIU graduate programs, who explained recently revised scheduling procedures for graduate students.

Mitchell told the council that graduate students must now register in the basement of Woody Hall with undergraduate students.

In the past, graduate sectioning was done in the Graduate School offices.

Problems arose because of a lack of communication between the undergraduate and Graduate School registration offices.

Mitchell said he hopes the new system will facilitate faster registration for graduate students, although it is now experimental.

Mitchell explained that graduate registration will return to the old system if the new one proves to be less efficient.

"We will assume that the system is working unless we get a number of complaints to the contrary," Mitchell said.

The GSC reacted to the new registration system with mixed emotions. Several members said that standing in long lines was one of the problems they have already faced with the new system.

The council was generally receptive of the new system and now told Mitchell they will be addressing complaints and comments to him.

Larry Schaeke, coordinator of Recreation and Intramurals, spoke to the council about the procedures for appointments to the Men's Intramural Advisory Committee. Schanzle-Haskins claimed that in the past there has been very little student input into the selection of members to the committee.

The council and Schaeke agreed that...

Van Natta not upset by court verdict

By Laura Coleman
Daily Egyptian Staff Writer

Carbondale funeral director Joe Van Natta said Thursday he is not concerned about last week's circuit court decision that may force him to move his residence farther from Illinois 13.

The court decision overrules two lower court decisions and gives Carbondale the power to enforce zoning regulations 1/4 miles outside the city limits.

Van Natta's house is located just west of Illinois 13 and Illinois 12. A city ordinance requires houses to be 60 feet from the highway.

Van Natta said, "It's just a silly city ruling, and I'm not going to worry about it. I can't do anything about it. He claimed the city's Superintendents of Schools, who voted in the majority, "were just listening to (Mayor Neal) Eckert."

Van Natta said he had poured the foundation of his house before he was informed of the ordinance. He said he built the house close to the highway on the north end of his 35-acre property "just so we could be near the people, I and the traffic. I like it."

Both the Circuit and Appellate Courts ruled in favor of Van Natta and against the city's right to enforce zoning regulations outside the city limits.

Both the Circuit and Appellate Courts ruled in favor of Van Natta and against the city's right to enforce zoning regulations outside the city limits.

The Circuit and Appellate Courts had set aside an injunction which they had granted to halt construction of the Van Natta House and go against the ordinance that since the case was still in litigation, Van Natta built the house at his own risk.

Womick said Thursday he will ask the ordinance to be enforced.

Van Natta says he does not understand why the city is concerned with enforcing the ordinance. "Why don't they tend to their business instead of making a deal of something that doesn't bother anyone."

"They bore around with a little old French director," he said. "I've got a nice home. I like it. I enjoy it. I'm not worried about it."

in the future members of the Men's Intramural Advisory Committee will be chosen by Schaeke upon the recommendations and advice of student constituency group representatives.

- Re-elected by unanimous vote Sharon Smith to the post of GSC treasurer.

- Approved a plan which will be submitted to the Student Senate for approval, which would allow the Student Government to reorganize the arrangement of office space on the third floor of the Student Center.

At the Student Senate meeting, the new resolution also received the support of the Student Senate, which passed a resolution last week, changing the meeting time from 7:30 to 8 p.m., which was apparently effective in curbing the disruption of meetings by quorum problems. Fourteen of the 23 student senators were present Wednesday night's meeting, a sufficient number to declare a quorum.

In other action, the senate:

- Approved the appointment of Michelle Daft as the Student Government representative to the Graduate Student Advisory Committee.

- Approved the appointment of Lee Tews as the Student Government representative to the Student Government Advisory Committee.

- Approved the appointment of Vincent Harvey to represent Student Government on the Student-to-Studenl Commission.

- Debated appointments to the post of student Government Elections Commission and sent the matter to committee.

Madrid police call for premier's resignation

MADRID, Spain (AP) — Enraged police officers attending the funeral of three colleagues slain by terrorists jeered liberal-leaning Premier Carlos Arias Navarro on Thursday and told him to quit if he had "any honor left.

"Show of 'we want justice, not clemency' and 'justice yes, pardon no' continuously disrupted services for the three dead policemen, who were gunned down Wednesday in Madrid.

Tears rolled down the premier's cheeks as officers shouted: "You wanted to open Spain up politically and this is the price we are paying. If you have any honor left, resign."

Others shouted "go take a trip," and "let's see what action you'll take against the Pope now," a reference to Pope Paul VI's condemnation of the execution of five terrorists Saturday.

Ford greets Japanese Emperor Hirohito

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Ford stood on a red-carpeted platform just a few feet from the Japanese Emperor whose forces he fought against 30 years ago, but all the talk was of peace.

Having the full seal of Japanese-American friendship after the "tragic interlude" of World War II, Emperor Hirohito began a state visit Thursday amid elaborate security precautions.

President Ford, who served in the U.S. Navy, made no reference to the war, dwelling instead on the current era of peace and friendship between the two countries.

"At a time when the benefits of cooperation are mutually acclaimed, your Majesty's visit symbolizes and strengthens the ties between our two peoples," Ford said.

W.T. Grant chain files for bankruptcy

NEW YORK (AP) — W.T. Grant Co., which started in Massachusetts in 1906 as a Main Street variety store and now has 1,070 stores in 40 states, became on Thursday the largest retailer to ever file for reorganization under bankruptcy laws.

Grant, which lost $111.5 million in the first six months of this year, asked a federal court here for protection from creditors and time to place its house in order.

The 1975 losses were on top of last year's losses of $173.2 million. On Monday, Grant said its losses had grown to the extent that liabilities exceeded assets.

The company is most heavily concentrated in the Northeast. A company spokesman said the firm's 62,000 employees were notified by letter of the bankruptcy filing.

House passes $112 billion defense bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House, having refused to add a rider forcing public disclosure of the Central Intelligence Agency's budget, passed a $112 billion defense appropriation bill today, 364 to 1.

Late Wednesday, it rejected an amendment barring CIA use of any funds in a $2 billion item marked "other procurement." The amendment was offered by Rep. John Conyers, D-Mich., who said he had been briefed by the CIA that the agency had been involved in a plot to murder a Cuban exile in Miami.

The Senate was expected to pass the bill today.

Hearts, Harrises indicted on 11 counts

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The Los Angeles County Grand Jury returned an 11-count indictment today against Symbionese Liberation Army members Patricia Hearst and William and Emily Harris in connection with a May 1974 suburban crime spree.

The indictment included three counts of armed robbery, six of assault with a deadly weapon and two for kidnapping.

Superior Court Judge William L. Ritz ordered the Harrises to appear for arraignment Friday morning.

He set bail for all three at $500,000 each.

The indictments came after four days of closed-door grand jury deliberations.

The Harrises already face 18 federal felony charges stemming from a May 1974 robbery with hostages in a shopping mall.

Recently released evidence indicates that defendant and her co-conspirators have absconded with some specific term of defendant's confinement as a result of defendant's representation of herself initially should be raised in district court."

House effort to subpoena Kissinger fails

WASHINGTON (AP) — An effort to subpoena Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger and force him to release a secret memorandum failed Thursday in the House intelligence committee.

Chairman Otis Pike blamed the vote's failure on abstentionism. The New York Democrat said the vote was 5 to 3 in favor of the subpoena, but seven affirmative votes were needed to issue a subpoena.

Pike said the vote will be taken again, as early as Thursday afternoon.

At the same meeting, Kissinger offered his own memorandum written by a former State Department Cyprus chief, detailing what he considered to be U.S. mismanagement of the 1974 Cyprus crisis.

The former section chief, Thomas D. Boyatt, told the committee last week he had been given instructions under a new Kissinger order not to tell the committee what his own recollections were during the crisis.

Sex-pot study decision up to SIU, says Walker

Defending SIU's right to academic freedom, Gov. Daniel Walker said Thursday he would not block the proposed sex-marijuana study to be conducted by Harris Rubin, associate professor in the School of Medicine.

"While I think the university could better spend the money on other projects, it is up to the board and the administration to decide of such studies should be conducted," Walker said about the federally funded research into the effects of marijuana on young males' sexual response.

Walker, in Carbondale for a press conference promoting his reelection campaign, also said he expected to soon appoint a member to the University's Board of Trustees to fill the vacancy left by Richard Haney.

Haney resigned after an attorney general's ruling which said he could not work for the state superintendent of public instruction and serve on the SIU board simultaneously.

Walker also said he favored increased funding for the University and would oppose tuition increase.

The governor said he does not expect the General Assembly to override his veto of the bill sponsored by Sen. Sam Vadakelen, D-Edwardsville, which would have created a separate board of trustees for SIU-Edwardsville.

"I think Sen. Vadakelen's embetad he didn't think the veto would be overridden. ." Walker said.

Hearst lawyer expects murder charge

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A lawyer for Patricia Hearst said Thursday he's sure the one-time fugitive heiress has nothing to do with any murder, although he said he won't be surprised if she is charged with one.

Hearst reportedly has been identified as the young woman who rented a garage for a getaway car used in a suburban Sacramento bank holdup in which a woman customer was shot and killed. Federal prosecutors say it's possible Hearst and her revolutionary companions may be charged with murder.

"They're undoubtedly trying to pile up more charges against her," attorney Terence Hallinan said in an interview. "I'm confident she was never involved in a murder and if they throw an murder charge at her, they'll never make it stick," he said.

In Los Angeles, a county grand jury indicted Hearst and Symbionese Liberation Army members William and Emily Harris in connection with a May 1974 crime spree in Los Angeles County.

The indictments charging three counts of armed robbery, six of assault with a deadly weapon and one each of kidnapping and kidnaping for the purpose of robbery—were expected to replace state felony charges previously filed against the three.

The Harrises have been held in Los Angeles since last week. Prosecution of the state charges against Hearst would depend on developments in the federal prosecution on a bank robbery charge here.

U.S. Atty. James L. Browning Jr. said he expected that Hearst would be brought to Los Angeles for arraignment on the charges there at some later date.

The question of where she is tried first depends on several factors, he said, including a decision on the defense contention that Hearst is not competent to stand trial and court calendars in the two cities.

The ties between the SLA and crimes in Sacramento to become stronger Thursday as the FBI confirmed that the Harrises lived in a room downtown house near the state Capitol from February to sometime in June.

Three dates coincide with the murder-holdup at a Crocker National Bank in suburban Carmichael, and the robbery in February of a Sacramento savings and loan office.

And the FBI confirmed a San Francisco Chronicle report that federal law enforcement sources are positive Hearst rented the garage used to house a stolen car employed in the Crocker robbery. The newspaper quoted its sources as saying that was Hearst's only known role in the holdup.

But a number of other links have been reported between the SLA and the bank heist. In addition to the fatal wounding of a 42-year-old Myrna Opsahl, four other persons were stomped to death in the holdup.

Sources say the fingerprints of James Kilgore, an SLA sympathizer, were found on one of the two getaway cars, and a green scarf similar to one wore by a female robber was found in the apartment where Hearst and radical Wendy Yoshimura were arrested Sept. 11.

An unsealed communique from the New World Liberation Front claiming responsibility for the holdup reportedly was found in the San Francisco apartment used by the Harrises. And reports have circulated that marked currency from the Carmichael bank was discovered in the Hearst-Yoshimura apartment, although authorities have not confirmed that.

After an SLA summit meeting Wednesday of top prosecutors here, U.S. Atty. Dwayne Keys of Sacramento was asked if authorities might file murder charges against Hearst or the Harrises.

"It's under investigation," he told reporters. "If we find sufficient evidence, you'll know." Police sources in Los Angeles said Thursday that investigators were probing possible SLA links to the execution-style slaying of a Los Angeles policeman five days before a shootout that claimed the lives of six SLA members.

Northern Ireland violence claims lives of 10 persons

BELFAST. Northern Ireland (AP) — Ten persons were killed Thursday in Northern Ireland when a Catholic man was shot and killed in sectarian violence in months, police reported.

Four men were shot and killed, two of them sisters, after a fight between men and women who exploded a car bomb rampaging through Belfast, police said.

Four men were killed when their car exploded on a county road near Ulstair, 60 miles northeast of Belfast. Police said they believed the men were carrying a bomb that exploded prematurely.

A man was shot and killed and several were wounded in a bomb attack on a bar in Kilflyne, south of Belfast. Police headquarters reported that at least 200 persons were killed or injured in a province, during the day. The violence began the day after the paramilitary Protestant Ulster Volunteer Force announced it had relieved the Protestant Ulster Defense Association and the Ulster Defense Association which claimed it had shot and killed a Protestant unionist and a Catholic priest in a funeral procession.

The killings raised the known death toll from the six years of sectarian warfare in the province to at least 1,289-180 of them this year.

SGAC is concerned with the possibility of student fees being raised for a second time. Some proposed restructuring for student center administration is proposed.

Kelth Vyse, chairman of SGAC, voiced concern that such a move gray through the autonomy of student-funded SGAC.

"The real issue is that we are dealing with student activity fees, and SGAC feels that it is in the best interest of the students to be in control of those funds, without any outside special interests," Vyse said.

Handgun ban won't stop murders

By Cathy Tokarski
Daily Egyptian Stafl Writer

In light of the two recent assassination attempts on President Ford's life, Congress has been strongly urged by gun control proponents to swiftly enact legislation that would ban the sale, use and manufacture of small, cheap handguns.

The rationale behind gun control legislation is to prevent the occurrence of potential assassination attempts on political leaders. But will stricter handgun control be enough?

Cheap handguns, or "Saturday night specials," were used in both of these assassination attempts. It is believed that many Americans feel towards this critical problem, and the almost "grasping at straws" urgency of trying to find a solution. It is believed that lawmakers took notice of these valiant attempts and stand up to the gun lobby in a concerted effort at finding ways to see we don't kill each other.

Vote for collective bargaining

By Lenore Sobota
Daily Egyptian Staff Writer

"Remember the 104 -- you could be next!" SIU faculty members will have a chance to voice their opinion on collective bargaining in a non-binding referendum Oct. 6. As they vote, they will remember the manage carried on a sign at Tuesday's rally in support of collective bargaining: Remember the 104 -- you could be next!

Faculty across the country find it hard to forget the firing of 104 teachers by SIU in 1973 because of a financial exigency. Robert Nielson of the American Federation of Teachers blames the firing of the 104 for the increasing number of members forming collective bargaining units.

"It scared the hell out of them," said a gathering of 250 at the Faculty Senate's collective bargaining symposium. While other university faculties across the nation are unionized, however, SIU stood still, perhaps in a state of shock.

But the memory of the 104 lingers on. As Illinois financial plight continues to worsen, the SIU faculty convenes to the 104 and asks, "Could it be next?"

Unionization may not prevent another financial emergency from hitting SIU. There are people who would argue that unions are the cause of our present fiscal crisis. But, as John McCluskey of the Illinois Education Association said, without collective bargaining, the faculty is at the mercy of the administration.

The administration is in total control of the University. Faculty members are given "input" into the decision-making process but only in an advisory capacity. They have no real effective power.

Gerry Bledsoe of the American Association of University Professors said one of the reasons for faculty resistance to collective bargaining is that they do not want to get involved with administrative responsibilities. He may be right. But if the faculty had been involved with administrative duties in 1972, the chances that 104 teachers would have gotten the ax are greatly diminished.

Opposition to unionization usually focuses on the right to strike. Faculty members like to think of themselves as a group, a family, a father, theoretically, some respect for the personal, professional candidate. The right to strike conflicts with that basic principle.

Collective bargaining does not automatically lead to strikes. Mediation and binding arbitration can be used, Bledsoe explained.

Sometimes a situation becomes so intolerable that a strike seems justified as a means of escape. If the faculty decides to unionize, it must face this fact and be prepared to take that drastic step. Norman Swenson, president of the Cook County College Teachers Union, has gone to jail more than once to defend the right of his fellow teachers to strike.

Upon leaving Cook County Jail after his most recent visit, Swenson said, "We still have our dignity." That's more than can be said for the 104, who were fired by the firing of the 104.

The SIU faculty must remember the 104 and vote in favor of collective bargaining or they will be next.
Why can't city hall reveal downtown plans?

By Jim Sandret
Student Writer

The possible destruction of the downtown strip is not being discussed too much nowadays, but this is due to a lack of concern by the people as much as a lack of information coming out of city hall.

The renovation of downtown includes plans for constructing a federal building in back of the Varsity Theatre and building 1 University Avenue between Cherry and Elm Streets.

There is also a proposal to put up a municipal com-plex on the west side of South Illinois Avenue from Elm to Walnut Streets and a shopping mall on the same side between Walnut and Monroe, both buildings to extend to University Avenue.

This is the area where the city has been having trouble with rowdy students who frequent Merlins and Pizza King bars. This redevelopment could conceivably do away with the trouble section for the city.

The problem with declaring these plans has one fault though, except for the federal building, nobody in city hall wants to claim the plans.

In fact, the city refuses to claim that it even has a plan for the renovation of downtown. These are to be considered only "vague proposals," according to city officials. But once they start talking about downtown renovation, they always refer to this "phantom plan."

They insist that this is not the official plan and that other ideas will be entertained and considered. But, according to the merchants who rent the downtown storefronts, no one from city hall has contacted them about renovating their store.

If city officials minds are indeed made up, why haven't the people of Carbondale been kept informed of the renovation developments and plans? City Manager Carroll Fry said that only those people who have a financial stake in the downtown area need to be consulted.

Presently, the city is using tax dollars to subsidize appraisal of private property in the downtown area in order to start pushing for redevelopment. Surely using tax dollars alone would constitute public interest.

And who is the land developer whom Mayor Neal Eckert told a Southern Illinoisan reporter he was in contact with? Says Eckert, "I haven't been in con- tact with a developer." Fry said that "even if I had the name of the developer, I wouldn't tell the press. They would put it in screaming headlines."

That's doubtful, but considering the double talk and vague references to plans (or no plans), suspicions are bound to remain and the only recourse to lack of information is to conjecture with what is on hand.

One reason city hall could be keeping the plans under wraps is many people have stated they are opposed to spending money for a new city hall when they already have one at University City.

But former Chamber of Commerce Executive Director Marvon Van Metre said Mayor Eckert is determined to locate city hall in the downtown district. An early release of plans to the public could start a heated debate on the feasibility of putting up a new one and possibly block further development.

Another possibility is city officials might fear students may "rise up in arms" against the destruc-tion of the only area available in the city for after-school entertainment. The city has announced neither a plan nor an ideal downtown entertain-ment area. Only leveling it. An ultimatum release that this area is coming and possibly spark a movement to block the raising.

Then there is the third possibility: that the city officials have a plan a secret one, to use why all preliminary plans."

Fry has been up sorting for a tax incentive law that could make available an economically feasible plan for development of blighted areas, more specifically downtown Carbondale. According to Fry, money and time has been spent in obtaining proposals for the building of a new railroad depot in St. Louis and from Eckert's mysterious developer. Plans for a new railroad depot and federal building are ahead anyway and depression of the railroad tracks appears certain.

The biggest large source of money and time and then say there is no general planning available sounds a little foolish, financially and unhealthily, politically at the very least, it is shortsighted and mismanaged.

Whatever the case, citizens of this town should start calling their elected officials to account. The reporter should not be allowed to set up illusions while constructing plans for city-wide revamping and then hiding behind innuendos.

Officials should come out of their high offices, talk plain language with the people and stop playing politics with the future of Carbondale.

State Bicentennial plans slow

By Barry Hanson
Associated Press Writer
SPRINGFIELD, III. (AP)—With the year of the nation's 200th birthday only three months away, the Illinois Bicentennial Commission's major statewide projects are still on the drawing board.

The commission has spent some $786,000 in state money since its creation in 1972. Of that, $300,000 was dispensed to local groups, but the rest went for salaries and expenses and such intangibles as "planning" and "coordination."

To do its work, the commission, whose members are unalarmed, employs a full-time staff of 15, a $28,200-a-year executive director and a former executive director who is on the payroll as a $2,000-a-month consultant.

The new commission chairman, Howard Fricke, former director of the Illinois Business and Economic Development, said priorities are being changed.

"What we're trying to do is change the direction of the commission so we're interested in re-acting or putting our stamp of approval on what local communities are doing to one of initiating a statewide action," said Fricke, appointed to the post in May by Gov. Daniel Walker.

"It's going to be a mover and a doer rather than sitting back and stroking our chin and reacting," he added.

For the current fiscal year the commission has about $1.3 million available to spend, including $300,000 in federal money and revenue from the sale of bicentennial medallions.

Mike Linderman, former director of the Illinois Division of Tourism and the commission's executive director since June, says plans are underway for projects in the areas of agriculture, ethnic groups and Americans in the labor movement.

"It's still in the developmental stage, but I can assure you that we will have something to spring and next summer when the bulk of the Bicentennial ac-tivity will be going on," he said. "So we really haven't lost any time.

Fricke, a Springfield insurance executive, says the 22-member commission plans to meet at least once a month through the end of the bicentennial celebration.

"It would be a shame if we all end up doing is pop-ping off firecrackers or shooting the Fourth of July and saying, "that's it"," he said. "We're trying to create some meaningful lasting things.

So far, the only solid project the commission has come up with is a "sound and light" show to be set up at the Old State Capitol in downtown Springfield.

This half-million-dollar-plus project will consist of shining colored lights on the Capitol building while visitors sit in bleachers and are treated to taped voices representing historical figures like Abraham Lincoln and Stephen Douglas.

"This is going to draw people from all over the United States to Springfield," said Linderman, state historian and member of the commission.

Fricke said he thinks the commission's "change of direction" was constructed because the old Linderman (look over the top two posts last spring.

Fricke replaced Chicago publishing executive Andrew McNally in late 1974. McNally said he left the position because he was too busy, he reportedly resigned after Walker asked him to fire the then-executive director. McNally later

Fricke replaced McNally in early May and Linder-man replaced Lily one month later. But Lily said in an interview that he left the position because "the chair-man resigned" and to "plan for my future business."

On May 23, Lily's consulting firm, Lilly Associates, Inc., was given a 15-month contract with the commission for $30, 1976, for $38,000 plus expenses.

Simon explains reasons for renting his home

To the Daily Egyptian:
An Associated Press story which mentioned the renting of my home in Carbondale may have puzzled some of your readers. The reporter who wrote the story was given some misinformation by a source; and, because the source that emerged was unfortunately misleading.

Here are the facts: like my predecessor, Ken Gray, and like almost all members of Congress, we have a home in the Washington area. A few members of Congress, Back in Washington, but that is not an arrangement the Simon family has made.

While buying the home here (and keeping the one in Carbondale) meant getting more indebtedness than I like to carry, we had a need, and a large one, for housing.

I was in business a number of years and the financial disclosure which I make to all the news media each year shows that my assets exceed my liabilities. I am not wealthy, but we are not hurting. I voted against the pay raise for members of Congress.

After the family moved, we faced the problem of having our home in Carbondale vacant most of the time. The rental of homes to tenants, children breaking into a house, and damage from water or fire in an empty house. (In fact, several homes recently burned in Carbondale.) After discussing this problem, we decided to rent our Washington, D.C. home. I followed their advice and rented our Carbondale home.

It was a practical decision. We continue to own our Carbondale home and store many of our things there. I return to the district more often than most members of Congress. If the renting of our home indi-cated we were losing touch with the people in the district, I would be justifiable complaints. But the record makes clear that is not happening, and it will not happen.

Stars shine in ‘Salute to Broadway’

By Kim MacQueen

Shrewdly designed, well mounted and with the Astor, the Shubert, the Belasco and all other Broadway theaters Wednesdays night when the Celebrity Series featured ‘Salute to Broadway’! Directed and choreographed by Gene Kelly, the program featured a ballet that made the best of Broadway musicals, enhanced by fine singing, dancing, costumes and props.

The program included the Broadway musical from the 30’s to the present, from Cole Porter’s “Another Opening, Another Show” to the 80’s “Age of Aquarius” and the avant-garde musical “Hair.” Performing in the production were Ken Berry, best known as the funning captain of television’s F. Troop, Howard Keel, a self-described “old Broadway pro,” Lainie Nelson singer-actress and comedienne-singer Mimi Hines. Ken Berry proved himself to be a very versatile performer, who was at his best when dancing his way through Kelly-inspired numbers. Berry received the biggest audience response of the evening when he sautéed and tapped through “Fez for Two” and “I Got Rythym.”

Howard Keel is no stranger to musical fans. Besides his starring roles in the Broadway productions of “Whispering” and “Oklahoma!,” he appeared in a number of films, musicals, including “Annie Get Your Gun,” “Shenandoah,” and “Kismet.”

In the show he sang some of the songs he made famous on Broadway, such as “Stranger in Paradise” (from “Kismet”) and “Wonderbar” (from “Kiss Me Kate”). The highlight of Keel’s performance was the re-creation of “Carnival Song,” sung while slides of John F. Kennedy were projected on the stage backdrop.

A Review

Keel’s deep baritone voice contrasted nicely with Lainie Nelson’s soprano. Though not listed as one of the show’s “stars,” Nelson proved to be an accomplished singer. At one point, she forgot her lines and failed to introduce Keel’s following number. She was embarrassed and apologetic, but the show was lovely and the costume and audience laughed it off.

The highlight of the performance was the moment when Mimi Hines, a powerful singer and comedienne, Hines’ best performance was “The Music That Makes Me Dance” from “Fanny Brice.” It was Hines who played Fanny Brice in that musical after its original star, Barbara Streisand, left the stage. "What ever happened to Streisand? dead named Hines. 'You never hear about her any more."

An eleven-piece orchestra and a six-member, back-up group of singers and dancers enhanced the revue’s performance. But, with the exception of Berry’s occasional dance solo, the choreography in the show was disappointing. It was difficult to imagine that Gene Kelly, a genius of the musical stage, played a major part in the dance creations.

The text of the play was written by Alan Jay Lerner, author of such Broadway greats as “Camelot” and “My Fair Lady.” Besides the songs, the actors gave insights into various plays, and explained the different eras of the stage. For example, Berry noted, the musicals were at their peak during times of depression. “When there’s not much to sing about, there’s not much to do but sing,” he said.

The evening was a gala event, introducing Carbonell to what he called “the glitter and gangle of Broadway.” The near-capacity crowd awarded the troupe a standing ovation and demanded three curtain calls. In the words of Cole Porter, it was “more than wander-her.”

Office career majors form new organizations

Two new student organizations have been formed after students said that existing organizations could not meet their needs.

Future Secretary Association (FSA) and National Association of Legal Students (NALS) were formed by students enrolled in the secretarial and office specialties division of the School of Technical Careers and Business Education.

Lillian Greathouse is the faculty adviser for FSA. She said that the student organization of FSA is sponsored by the Carbondale chapter of the National Secretary Association, an organization of professional secretaries and office personnel.

The new organizations will give students the chance to schedule speakers and activities which will meet their needs plus exchange ideas with professionals in the field, Greathouse said.

Judy Fox is the faculty adviser for NALS.

FSA and NALS have scheduled their first joint meeting at 7 p.m. on Oct. 6, in the Home Economics Lounge. The guest speaker is Joan Loeft, a professional secretary. Also scheduled is a play which will be performed by students.

Fuel from deposits of oil shale costly

Oil shale deposits are not a very good source for America's future energy needs, contends Rex Cole, professor in geology. Cole said the cost to the environment compared to the amount of potential fuel available is the main reason.

Estimates are that oil shale deposits in the U.S. could contain billions of barrels of oil much of it in the Green River oil shale formations in Colorado, Utah and Wyoming.

All the top oil companies are currently engaged in different methods of mining the Green River basin shale.

Cole predicts that the environmental effects will not be worth the cost of the oil. He feels the estimates are overestimated due to inefficient mining techniques. It will take many years to mine all the oil. Cole said that the amount taken out will hardly affect the fuel economy.

Cole says that money be channeled into other types of sources for future energy, such as geothermal and solar energy.

Mining the oil shale will endanger the area's ecology and the amount of waste material left over, Cole said.

Lesar receives Senate's thanks

Hiram H. Lesar, dean of the SIU law school, was presented with a commendation from the Illinois Senate for his service as interim president of SIU in 1974.

Appointed interim president by the SIU board of trustees following the resignation of David R. Deere in March, 1974, Lesar served as president until December, 1974, when Carmen Breault took office.

A copy of the Senate resolution was given to Lesar by Senators John Davidson (R-Springfield) and William C. Harris (D-Fontainebleau), the office of the Vice President for University Relations George H. Mace. Making the presentation was David Elder, staff assistant to the Illinois Senate Education Committee.

"This resolution is a sincere, heartfelt commendation for the job you (Lesar) did as interim president," Elder said.

He said that although the resolution had been approved near the end of Lesar's term as interim president, the actual presentation of the award had been delayed so it could be made in person.

Planning commission okays two proposals for rezoning

The Carbondale Planning Commission Wednesday unanimously approved a request by Southern Illinois Power Co. (SIPC) to construct a 14-mile strip of power transmission line through a 5.3-mile strip of land running north-south in the eastern sections of Carbondale city and township.

The commission also rezoned an area in the northeast section of the city which will allow New Zion Missionary Baptist Church to use a parking lot.

At the public hearing Wednesday, Carl Edmonds, SIPC spokesman, said, "The need for power will double in this area by 1980. The new power line will literally sit in the dark.

SIPC projects that the construction of the line will cost $1 million and will be completed by 1981.

Several commission members expressed concern about the environmental impact of the line, especially since it will run through the city's flood plains. William Boyd, public works director, said the impact would be negligible.

Edmonds introduced a letter from the Greater Egypt Planning Commission which said that it has no objection to the power line's construction.

No formal opposition to the proposal was heard from the public.

Had the Planning Commission denied the request for the special use rezoning, the power line would have to go somewhere inside the city, as city property cannot be condemned, Boyd said. Final action will be taken by the city council.

The request to rezone the area in the northeast section of the city involves 50 lots east of Barnes Street facing Willow St.

The site, 9.7 acres, will have R-2 (single-family dwellings) or R-3 (high-density dwellings). The commission chose to rezone the land rather than grant a special use permit because the lots are bordered by R-3 areas.

John Stoeckard, assistant city planner, said, "Even though it is R-3 zoning it allows higher density, it doesn't mean that people will come in and put up apartment buildings."

No formal opposition to the rezoning was presented.

Puppets star in Roman play

Peter D. Arnott, noted author and puppeteer has been scheduled to appear at SIU with his Arnott Marionette Theatre on Nov. 11, to present a puppet version of Europe's "The Besieged."

Arnott, who is presently chairman of the theatre department at Tufts University, has also authored several books on the classical studies. One of these books, "The Romans and Their World," was used as a text here at SIU in Classical Studies 271, Roman Civilization.

The departments of foreign language, theatre and English will co-sponsor the presentation.

The Arnott Marionette Theatre has appeared at university campuses all over the country and abroad and the noted puppeteer has gone as many as 40 performances a year.

Buyer moods determine stores' Christmas sales

NEW YORK (AP)—Of growing importance, almost by the day, will be the attitude of ordinary Americans toward economic news between now and the Christmas season.

In a secular context, that period is more than one of goodwill and charity. It is a period when merchants seek what for them is the biggest gift of all, a sales bonanza.

Whether or not they will have it depends, it is popularly argued, on whether the economic recovery continues and gains strength, but that explanation misses the point.

Of more significance is how the American consumer perceives economic conditions, which really is a measure of how he perceives his own financial condition. In the United States, the consumer is the economy—two-thirds of it, anyway.

It has been demonstrated before that even though the consumer might have cash in his or her pocket, that cash isn’t necessarily spent if there are doubts about jobs or inflation or other aspects of the economy.

The consumer buying mood, when said to be improving, still remains "eak when compared to some of the peaks of past years. Fears about jobs are common, and so are doubts about future spending power.

These doubts are reflected in retail sales, which in the third week of September were only 6 per cent higher than in the third week of September of last year, an annual, dollar basis. Because of 8.6 per cent inflation, that meant a real decline.

A good deal of the decline results from a slump in the sales of certain big-ticket items, including furniture, whose markets have been damaged by the slow pace of homebuilding. But overall, the expenditure merchants seek isn’t evident.

For at least one large merchant, the situation, unless corrected, might lead to an additional financial crisis. W.T. Grant Co., which lost Boston grad wins top essay prize

Nikhil Bhattacharya, Ph.D. graduate of Boston University, has won the first-place $1,000 award in the 2nd annual John Dewey Essay Project. The project is co-sponsored by the John Dewey Foundation of New York City and BU Center for Dewey Studies.

Bhattacharya, of Providence, R.I., won the top prize for his essay, "John Dewey’s Philosophy of Science."

Jo Ann Boydston, director of the Dewey Center at BU, said the 1976 contest "will be the John Dewey’s Philosophy of Mind," and essay entries (10,000-word limit) will be received until June 1. Entry packages are available from the Dewey Center.

$11.1 million in the first half of the year, needs big Christmas season sales to pay its financial creditors.

Grant is being kept alive with a $4 million loan from 27 banks, a loan that will come up for payment or renewal next July. Store officials say the critical factor will be Christmas sales.

In fact, Grant is depending heavily on improved consumer attitudes as well as cost-cutting to turn the tide. No longer does it expect to make a profit for the August-September-October quarter, but it does hope to be in the black for the final three months of its fiscal year, which ends Jan. 31.

It would ease the anxiety of merchants and consumers too, if they were able to make assumptions they were reasonably certain would hold. But this is difficult at the moment, too many imponderables exist.

The consumer has enormous spending power, despite the economic troubles of recent years. How he uses it during the Christmas shopping season will make or break many merchants.
Opponents may block ERA vote in Senate, representative says

By Sandra Maddox Student Writer

Misdistribution spread by opponents of the Equal Rights Amendment in the state Senate, and the sponsor of the bill, said State Rep. Eva Chapman, co-sponsor of the bill, said.

The resolution, which passed in the House this summer, needs the support of three more senators before it will be voted on, she said.

As of Thursday, Chapman was in Carbondale as member of the Special Study Commission on Alcoholism which met at the Student Center.

If the ERA is not ratified this fall, supporters will have until spring of 1977 to gain the support they need for it to be ratified. Illinois is considered a key state in the drive to amend the U.S. Constitution on equal rights for women, she said.

"We don't want to vote yes and no," Chapman said. "We want to vote yes or no."

"They are not going to vote for the ERA or for the ERA."

"It is not saying all opponents of the ERA are liars," she added. "It is saying that they are not voting for the ERA."

"Those who choose not to vote for the ERA are not voting for it," she said.

Chapman said that many politicians support the ERA, "for their own political ends, to enhance their own political reputations."

"Other people are just afraid of change," she said. "If they don't understand something, they're against it."

Chapman said that the main goal of ERA supporters this fall is to convince the myths being spread by the opposition and to educate senators and legislators about the ERA.

"It may well be," she said, "that the time has come to lay aside the hearing discusses new state law on public drunkenness

A new law state law which criminalizes public drunkenness was discussed at a public hearing held at the federal Center Thursday.

The Illinois House Subcommittee on alcoholism conducted the hearing on the new Alcoholism and Intoxication Act, Public Law 78-1270.

Although the act is already law, it does not go into effect until July 1, 1976. The act has provided time for the subcommittee to hear feedback from people throughout the state.

There are statutes that make alcoholic and intoxicated persons not be prosecuted solely because of their consumption of alcoholic beverages. It also establishes a division of alcoholism within the State Department of Mental Health that will develop regional and local centers for the prevention and treatment of alcoholism.

Witnesses before the subcommittee testified that the administration of the law could be left to local governments. Robert Dowen, chairman of the subcommittee, said that there were enough doctors to be administrators of the alcohol programs and treatment centers. The law calls for the administrator of the law to be a physician.

Dowen will be presenting his report on the hearings to the Illinois Senate by Nov. 15.

Police arrest two men in gas station robbery

Two men were arrested Wednesday night in Murphysboro for allegedly robbing an attendant at a Carbondale gas station.

Police said Jesse Lee Robinson and Malcolm L. Smith, both of St. Louis, Mo., were arrested by Murphysboro police 45 minutes after the two men allegedly took $40 from a gas station attendant at the Clark gas station, 910 W. Main St. Both men were taken to Jackson County Jail for appearance in court.

An armed robbery took place at the Liberty service station, 204 Cedar View, according to police.

The attendant told the police that the suspect had his hand covered with a handkerchief, as though he was concealing a gun. Police said $40 cash was taken.

John Miller, route 1, Carbondale, reported Wednesday morning that while his truck was parked at 301 N. Illinois Ave., someone stole some tires and wheels from it. The items were valued at $40.

Michael Kelly, 900 E. Grand Ave., told the police Wednesday night that someone threw a wine bottle through his apartment window.

Michael R. Martin, 605 Hunter Dr., reported that his bicycle was stolen from 610 Laurel Dr. The item was valued at $10.

The purpose of the bills is to extend the benefits of property and income laws to women, and to implement Section 18, Article 1 of the new state Constitution which guarantees equality, everyone equal protection under law.

Chapman is also a member of the Illinois Commission on the Status of Women, a direct outgrowth of the National Commission on the Status of Women initiated by Eleanor Roosevelt during the late thirties.

Marketbasket survey shows coffee prices boost food cost

The coffee price hike that started Sept. 1 has raised the retail price of coffee and other breakfast foods, according to a recent-marketbasket survey shows.

The coffee price increase reflects rising demand and lower supplies of green coffee beans. The price of green coffee beans has been rising in recent months, with some beans increasing by as much as 20% in the past year.

The marketbasket survey found that the price of a dozen eggs increased by 10% in the past year, while the price of a pound of butter increased by 15%. The price of milk also increased by 5%.

The survey also found that the prices of fresh produce and meat have remained stable, with minor fluctuations in prices due to seasonal changes.

The survey was conducted in a random sample of 10 cities across the country, and the results are representative of the prices paid by consumers in those areas.

The findings of the survey are consistent with the broader trends observed in the U.S. food market, where inflationary pressures have been pushing prices higher in recent months.
City firemen set plans for fire prevention

The Carbondale Fire Department will observe Fire Prevention Week Oct. 6 through Oct. 12.

During the week the Fire Department will make its annual visits to all elementary schools in and around the Carbondale area, said Captain Everett Rushing, co-director of Fire Prevention Week activities.

Rushing said that fire department members will present a skit at the schools. The skit will try to educate the children about the dangers of the firemen other than fighting fires.

The Fire Department will be assisted this year by the SIU Recreation Department. The recreation department has worked out a puppet routine for the children which deals with fire prevention in the home.

Rushing added that the department will hold its annual Precaution-Safety water fight at 1 p.m. Saturday, Oct. 11, on the First National Bank parking lot at 506 E. University. A parade of firefighting equipment, led by Smokey the Bear, will precede the water fight competition.

Other activities planned for Fire Prevention Week include the showing of a 30-minute film on the dangers of firefighting. The Varsity and Saluki Theaters will show one-minute film clips on fire prevention in the home during the week, Rushing said.

Iranian student group claims their country has no freedom

By Dennis Rice
Daily Egyptian Staff Writer

Democracy rights are something that Americans probably take for granted. But for persons living in Iran, they are something which they envision for the future.

The Carbondale Chapter of The Committee For Artistic and Intellectual Freedom in Iran (CAIF) is attempting to make Americans aware of the situation in Iran. The group maintains that no freedom of speech is allowed there.

Because they fear reprisals from the Iranian government, Iranian students interviewed asked that fictitious names be used in this article. Mark Harris, an American spokesman for the group, consented to the publication of his name.

Harris, coordinator of CAIF, said that several members of the Iranian press have been imprisoned by order of the Shah, Iran's ruler. "No one is allowed to say anything in Iran," she said. "If you don't join the Shah's political party, you are either imprisoned or asked to leave the country."

Mitra said that it isn't difficult to leave Iran, except that a person has to have the money to do it.

Two other members of CAIF, Ali and Parvin, said the organization conducts protests last spring, most notably in Chicago and also here on campus. Forty to 50 Iranian students protest to the paper sacks over their heads. The protest was in defiance of the ban enforcements that the Shah and the United States.

"This was the second largest arms sale made in history by the United States," said Harris, an SFU senior in history. "The Shah took these weapons and used them against the Iraqi people who were revolting against the government of Iran."

Members of CAIF emphasize the organization is oriented to a single issue: and that issue is to bring democratic rights to the people of Iran.

"It doesn't make sense for the United States to support the Shah of Iran," Ali said. "We stand against all the principles of democratic freedom."

CAIF began because Keha Barahani, Iranian poet, novelist and literary critic, was imprisoned in 1972 by the Iranian government. Another prominent Iranian playwright, Golamhossein Saeedi, was imprisoned in 1974 and recently released. Saeedi was tortured and forced to admit his writings were lies in the opinion of the Iranian government. Mitra said.

Saeedi's film, "The Cow," was the featured attraction at the last CAIF meeting, held in the Student-Center last spring. The film was voted the best in Iran in 1971.

Area fire ruled an accident

A fire that damaged two buildings in Carbondale Sept. 24 was ruled an accident by the Arson Bureau of the Illinois Fire Marshall, according to Assistant Fire Chief Jim Johnson.

The fire, which started in an upstairs apartment over a restaurant, was thought to be started by a lit cigarette on a love seat, he said.

"There was no evidence to indicate that arson was involved in this fire," Johnson said.

No one was reported injured in the blaze, according to fire officials. Although the fire was confined in the one apartment, damage was done to the restaurant, two other apartments and a shop next door.

The restaurant, Mama C's Pizza Inn, 110 S. Division St., and Fashion Wardrobe, 112 S. Division St., had smoke and water damage, Johnson said.

The fire was reportedly first discovered by the building's owner, Matthias Mauer, of Carbondale. Officials said he was in the restaurant when he smelled something burning.

Mauer said he went upstairs and saw smoke. When he kicked in the door of the apartments, flames exploded inside. He said he then evacuated the building.

There were no damage estimates available, although Mrs. Mauer reportedly said that cost would run into the thousands.

University concerned about proposed bill, council says

By Linda Hesmer
Daily Egyptian

The University reportedly expressed concern about a lack of money to cover a possible legislative bill that would provide six paid holidays to non-unionized and non-prevailing Civil Service workers represented by unions.

In a meeting of the Civil Service Council Thursday, Bill Nelson, assistant director of the Physical Plant, said the University is concerned about the bill because there is no money coming with it for the holidays.

He said if the bill is signed, it will cost, for example, the Physical Plant about $60,000 in salary money. The bill is presently on Gov. Daniel Walker's desk, having been passed almost unanimously by the legislature.

The non-union workers are currently allowed to have the holidays expressed on their contracts. If the bill is signed, the workers will be granted the six paid holidays by law as compared to the nine holidays non-union workers are allowed.

Council members said Walker is expected to sign the bill this week. The Joint Benefits Committee, part of the council, said if the bill is signed, the premiums and benefits included in the Continental Insurance Plan will increase slightly depending on the specifications of each policy.

The council also discussed a letter President Warren Brandt wrote to them, asking for their opinion on reestablishing the parking committee. Brandt said, in his letter, that he wants to expand the voting members on the committee from seven to 10. The voting members are representatives appointed from University constituencies.

Brandt's letter indicated that he wanted to add a student from the Student Center Advisory Board, a member of the administration and a member of Security to the parking committee.

Action on Brandt's request was tabled until the traffic and parking committee could meet to discuss the additions. The majority of the Civil Service Council said they were not familiar with Brandt's request.

Richard Musgrave, a representative on the traffic and parking committee, said that the parking committee is looking into the possibility of making motorcycle parking in the corner of existing parking lots. Motorcycles are now required to be a sticker and park in a car space. A new sticker would probably be required if the motorcycle policy is changed.

The council discussed the new parking facility that is under construction next to the Vanier Building.

The council said that President Brandt has been asked to make the new structure a red and blue parking garage. The construction on the garage is running about two years behind, the council said. The completion date at the present time is November 1977.

The Civil Service Council also discussed the possibility of obtaining a budget. They are the only constituency on campus without a budget. The council expressed the opinion that it wanted funds to publish a newsletter or some type of communication in order to keep the Civil Service employees on campus informed of the council's actions.

Women's Center schedules potluck

The Women's Center, 408 W. Freeman, will hold a potluck supper followed by a meeting of the Rape Action Committee at 3:30 p.m. Sunday.

The potluck and meeting will provide an opportunity for interested persons to meet the staff of the center and see its facilities, said Manderi Buckhich, program coordinator. The committee will discuss plans for fall.

Everyone is invited to both events, she said. Guests for the potluck should, if possible, bring a covered dish. The center will furnish drinks and utensils.

The SIU Flying Club will participate in a regional flying contest Oct. 11 and 12 at Middle Tennessee State University in Murfreesboro.

The contest is sponsored by the National Intercollegiate Flying Association (NIFA) for two to four year colleges or universities in Illinois, Indiana, Michigan and Tennessee that grant an associate or bachelor degree, said Jerry Kennedy, assistant coach of the club.

The team will be judged on accuracy, landings, and various ground events, Kennedy said. Bonus drops, which are also a part of the competition, consist of dragging balsa-wood containers with 3-inch streamers from the plane into a barrel on the ground, he said.

Kennedy said the club has two single-engine planes, the Cessna 150 and the Cessna 172, which will enter the event.

The flying team consists of both members and non-members of the flying club Kennedy said, and membership is open to anyone. There is a $50 fee for a flying member and $15 for non-flying members.

Career Counseling helps students in many areas

By Susan Vickroy Jones
Student Writer

When a freshman is unsure of a major, a junior doubts his major is right for him or a former student is unhappy with his job and comes back for retraining, where can they go for help? The Career Counseling division of the Career Planning and Placement is where.

The counseling center helps students with a variety of problems, but the main problems deal with students who are undecided about their major and career choices, said Alice Rector, career counselor.

"A lot of the students need to discover an awareness of themselves, an occupational awareness of what the world of work is like and educational awareness of what factors need to be considered in choosing a major or a career."

The career counselors use a variety of aptitude tests, but an interest test is usually given first since there are so many aptitude tests that could be used, Rector said.

Talking with a counselor helps students verbalize their aptitudes, desires and goals. It also helps them talk about how they would fit into the changing environment of work, Rector said.

The counselors also help students with problem-solving skills.

"The career counselors are not academic advisors but they do spend time with students to acquaint them with the university, its policies and procedures. The counselors also refer students to academic advisors, Rector said.

The main functions of career counseling are self-exploration and career-exploration. "Not being sure of what area to go into is typical of most university students," Rector said.

Enthusiastic square dancers start Swing to promote art
By Kathy Drew
Daily Egyptian Staff Writer

What is a "Saluki Swinger"? If your answer is someone who cruises Illinois Avenue on a Saturday night, looking for action you're on the wrong track. A Saluki Swinger responds to "swinging your partner round and round" and is an enthusiastic square dancer.

Saluki square dancing is an outgrowth of a general studies class in square dancing, according to Pete Carroll, the club's advisor. Carroll, who taught the square dancing class and said students were so enthused by the dance they wanted to continue by organizing the club.

Carroll, a 1956 veteran of square dancing, expects dancing: "by organizing a club, the dance they round and round is evolving into a fine art when used as a religious and ritualistic performance, over 500 years ago, in Europe."

The choreography of the square dancing dances known in America today is based on four couples forming a square. Carroll said. The dances are named for calls, or dance instructions, sung out at a fast pace by a "caller." The caller learns 50 basic calls and an additional 75 calls are learned to reach the club level. "After the training course, the dancer gets a certificate saying "Bachelors of squaredancing," Carroll said. When this level is attained, a dancer can dance in any square dance in the world with proficiency, he added.

Carroll noted, in his Australian accent, that the dance is international, though done primarily in America. "Japanese dance in all countries. if they come to America, they may not be able to speak English, but can square dance." Carroll said. Hinamitsu Matsuo, club treasurer, said he became involved when he took the general studies class. Speaking little English, at that time Matsuo said he first learned by dancing alone, not the ideal way to learn, according to Carroll. Later, Matsuo joined the rest of the group and showed Carroll that his method had made him a proficient square dancer. Matsuo plans to teach square dancing when he returns to Japan.

John Buford, caller for the swingers group in America today, evolved in the dance while living in the Panama Canal zone, in 1971. Calling, another aspect of the dance, requires a practiced and experienced person with a bit of singing talent, Carroll said. He added that the majority of callers are men and attend square dance calling school. "The callers in this area are quite good," Carroll said.

Buford said square dancing as one of the cheapest forms of entertainment, a good exercise and a mental challenge. "It's one of the few activities where the dancer pays and the spectator gets in free," Buford said.

For the club level dancer, there are large festivals held, with square dances surrounded by pinwheels of color and men decked out in their cowboy duds. Carroll associated the attire with the Western tradition of square dancing. Carroll said both the amateur and pro attend this festival which begins with a large demonstration. One of the best callers at these festivals, Carroll said and proficiency in the art is recommended. Festivals have been held at the Student Center and a festival will be held in Evanston, in a few weeks.

Netters to compete in tourney

A contingent of SIU women tennis players will participate in the 6th Dorothy McClure Memorial Tennis Tournament at Millikin University, Friday and Saturday. Tennis coach Judy Auld will enter 10 players in the single-elimination tournament.

Singles entries are Sue Briggs, Rhonda Garcia, Sue Cusick and Sue Monaghan. The three doubles teams are Sue Dren-Margarite Wimsaw, Cindy Sagati-Trina Davidson and Janet Moyle-Annette Hackett.

According to tournament rules, players entered in the singles competition are not eligible for doubles. Auld said this rule is also used in the state tennis tournament.

According to Auld, Briggs—the No. 1 singles player for the Salukis—has the best chance in win the singles division.

"Briggs has a very good chance of winning it. The girl who won last year (Jean Coberly) was defeated in the quarterfinals by Garcia, and Briggs has beaten her in earlier competition," said Auld.

Briggs has been playing tennis with some of the players on the men's team this week. Auld said Briggs was hitting the ball a "lot better." One of her practice opponents this week was Jay Everitt, a freshman on the men's squad and a cousin of tennis player Chris Everitt.

"In order for Garcia, the No. 2 player on the team, to win the tournament, Auld said she feels she has to learn to keep her concentration high and not get down on herself for making a mistake or falling behind in the score.

Briggs and Wimsaw could finish high in the doubles competition if they're playing well together, Auld said.

Cross country meet off

The SIU-Edwardsville State cross country meet scheduled for 10:30 a.m. Saturday has been canceled, according to SIU-Edwardsville cross country coach Lew Hartg.

The Salukis were scheduled to fly to Carbondale with the Long Beach State football team that is playing SIU Saturday afternoon.

SIU Sports Information Director Chuck Henry who talked to the Long Beach State coach by telephone Thursday, said the coach offered no reason for the cancellation.

"I'm sure it had something to do with expenses," Hartg guessed.

Hartg did not seem angry over the cancellation of the last home dual meet. "I kind of welcome it," he said.

Hartg mentioned that running against Murray State Tuesday and playing against Kansas Oct. 10 was "making things a little tight." The Salukis runners will not get a day off even after the cancellation. "We'll hit the hills hard," he said.

"We have some of our toughest workouts on weekends," Hartg said.

"They're in fine shape now," Hartg guessed. "We're slowly rounding into condition. It will be another three weeks or so before they start to look like a cross country team.

Hartg mentioned he had been especially pleased with Pat Cook sixth-place finish in the 27-28 win against Murray State Tuesday.

"It's really coming along," Hartg said, adding that Cook's performance makes the runners stronger in the fifth position.

SIU will compete in a double dual Friday at Lawrence, Kan., against Kansas State and Iowa State.

Illega! Commandoes cop softball crown

By Rick Karch
Staff writer

The Illegal Commandoes jumped out to a 5-0 lead in the first inning of the NCAA softball championship final game, and coasted to an 8-2 victory over Conquest. The game was played under the lights Wednesday at Evergreen Park Ballfield.

Conquest's dream began in the first inning when they loaded the bases with no outs. A bad throw by the second baseman of the first inning, the Commandoes also had a hit by Ken Lorino. However, a big fly by Lorino pushed the Commandoes up for 1-0. Two minutes later, Lorino scored on a triple by Jim Kinsey single.

The Commandoes scored two more runs in the third inning with back-to-back extra base hits. Conquest didn't score until the fourth inning and therefore, three runs of the game weren't enough to stop the Champion Commandoes, who already lead 7-0.

Conquest was thus dethroned as 12-inch softball champions after winning last summer. The Illegal Commandoes finished the season with a perfect 10-0 record, while Conquest ended at 8-1. After the game, Commando manager, Chuck, said, "It was a great idea to have the games over here." Tascas, referring to Evergreen Park. The last three rounds of games were played as the Carbondale Park District Ballfield.

After the game, Schaeke said that he was very fortunate to be able to stage the final games at Evergreen Park with the Park District's permission. Leo Vaksals, manager of Conquest said to The Southern that he and his team would have to wait until next year's schedule to see if the Commandoes would meet the winner of a George Foreman-Norton elimination fight.

But considering the poetic justice of Ali's defeat, the Commandoes would have to wait until next year's schedule to see if the Commandoes would meet the winner of a George Foreman-Norton elimination fight.

The Illegal Commandoes played good defense, and they deserved it. The semi-final games were played earlier in the season. Conquest, stunned, Pierce Olympians 14-2 and the Illegal Commandoes defeated Sigs 10-4.

crazily speaking

Southern division of the World Frog Jumping League.

The players represent being dropped into oblivion in the press coverage in oblivion isn't nearly as good as it is in the Big Apple or the windy city.

Muhammad Ali could very easily "be the next Benny Zelch." Although Frog Jumping and boxing are not similar, and Ali in his never-shy style will continue to be good print for some time. He could be on his way to oblivion, he does not retire soon.

The man who floats like a butterfly, stings like a bee, and talks like a parent that just learned a new phrase has lost only two amateur fights.

He avenged both losses. He has done things for professional boxing no contenders have been able to do.

The man who writes verses really has only one more feat to perform if he wishes to maintain the poetic justice that has been so much a part of his career.

That would be to fight Ken Norton in a rubber match. The continent-hopping Ali lost to Norton in the first meeting, but came back to beat the ex-Marine in their second match.

Ali also lost the first match (The Fight of the Century) to Joe Frazier but beat his old foe in the return match (Superfight II).

After defeating Frazier in Tuesday's fight (The Thrilla in Manilla), Ali leads the series 2-1, and may have eliminated the only two professional fighters. Frazier said Thursday he will not decide to retire until he has explored the possibilities with his father and adviser Eddie Futch.

At 32 Ali has to be considered on gimp legs as a boxer. Some question has to exist as to whether he is able to wait the time between in order to meet again with a winner George Foreman-Norton elimination fight.

But considering the poetic justice of Ali's defeat, the Commandoes would have to wait until next year's schedule to see if the Commandoes would meet the winner of a George Foreman-Norton elimination fight.

Perhaps Ali summed up his feelings best in a press conference Thursday: "I don't want to retire as much today as I want the first thing because I want to retire eternally. No one will come up with a big stack of money and I will be anxious to go again."
