Kingston Trio Coming To Southern May 17

Tickets For Two Shows
Go On Sale April 22

The Kingston Trio, popular folk-singing group, is coming to Southern for two performances on Friday, May 17. Delta Chi Fraternity, the sponsoring organization, has arranged for the Trio to present 7:30 p.m. and 9:30 p.m. shows in the Carbondale Armory.

The concerts are being held in the Armory because of its larger seating capacity than other on-campus facilities. A spokesman for Delta Chi said the Armory will accommodate about 2,000 persons a show as compared to 1,600 per show at Shryock Auditorium.

The Trio, composed of John Stewart, Nick Reynolds and Bob Shane, has appeared in auditoriums of most major colleges and universities in the country.

The Kingston Trio skyrocketed to success in 1958 through the laurels of their first million-selling record, "Tom Dooley."

Other million-sellers by the group since that time include "Tijuana Jail," "M.T.A.," "Worried Man," "Everglades," "Where Have All the Flowers Gone," and "Greenback Dollar."

An estimated 3,000 high school students are expected on campus Saturday for career days, open houses and special events in various academic fields.

The events include the School of Technology's Engineering Open House, the third annual School of Agriculture High School Guest Day, the School of Home Economics High School Career Day and the Southern District of the Illinois Junior Academy of Science exhibition.

The Engineering Open House will be held in the University Center Ballroom. The Open House will be from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m., with a tour of the Thompson Point dormitories and demonstrations at the engineering laboratories included.

About 250 high school students are expected for the event. Herman Stover, who is in charge of the program, said there will be displays, exhibits and films concerning engineering.

Some 250 high schoolers are also anticipated for the School of Agriculture Guest Day. Careers in agriculture will be the theme of the annual event.

Registration will be in the Agriculture Building foyer from 8:30 a.m. to 9:30 a.m. Saturday.

More than 1,850 students from about 65 Illinois communities are expected for the Home Economics Career Day, Science projects and students in some 30 area junior and senior high schools will be public view Saturday in the University School gymnasium. The Southern District of the Illinois Junior Academy of Science will sponsor an exhibit of some 250 experiments and other projects.

Theater Department To Sponsor Scenic Design Competition

For the second year, the Theater Department is sponsoring an intercollegiate scenic design competition and exhibition.

It is open to both graduate and undergraduate students in American colleges and universities, according to Christian H. Moe, associate professor in the department.

Deadline for submission of entries is the $100 award in April 30, the exhibition will be held in the SIU campus May 2-26, and awards will be announced May 28.

Designs may be done in any medium, but must be properly matted.

The scenic designs must be for a play produced or planned for production or assigned for a project in scenic-design classes on a college campus during the academic year 1962-63.

Judges for the competition will be SIU faculty members Mordecai Gorell, research professor in theater; Claude Chase, visiting professor in theater; Burnett H. Shryock, dean of the School of Fine Arts; Herbert L. Fink, chairman of the art department; and Benjamin Watkins, acting curator, University Galleries.

As told to you before, "To Kill a Mockingbird," one of the finest American pictures in many years. We are proud to say that the response to this great movie has made it necessary to hold it over far longer than Thursday and Friday. "The Hook," which was originally scheduled will play one day only, Saturday, Apr. 6.

The Dance Committee of the Campus Programming Board had a touch of spring fever at the planning stage of the weekend dances. They considered it might be a good time to get campus males moving and decided on a causal, laissez-faire theme.

Tonight's dance from 8-12 p.m. has been named "No Name," because students don't know what it means, the dance is the place to find out. Records, in the Roman Room, All Free.

The Saturday night dance is no less casual. "No Name," is the theme. Request music, all records. Same time, place and same as tonight, no charge.

Another dance will be in session in Ballroom A and B tonight. Alpha Phi Omega will be holding forth there starting at 8:30.

Other campus events today include General Educational Development, testing starting at 8 a.m. in Library Auditorium and a Psychologist: Donald W. Fiske, "Some Problems in Measuring Personality," in the Agriculture Seminar Room at 4 p.m.

Soph Suspended For Duplicating Parking Decals

Victor Fauss, a 19-year-old sophomore from Waterloo, has been suspended from the University for four months for duplicating parking decals which he claims to have given to other students for use on cars.

University officials said Fauss admitted duplicating the decals. Authorities said Fauss probably would have been suspended for a year, but officials took into consideration the fact that he turned himself in.

An 18-year-old freshman from DeKalb who used one of the counterfeit decals has been fined $50 for illegal possession of a car and placed on disciplinary probation through the summer quarter. An investigation is continuing of another student who allegedly used one of the decals.

Campus police discovered some faulty permits were being used after checking decals on cars in a parking lot recently.

Chicago University Psychologist Will Give Talk Friday

An authority on the measurement of personality will be on the SIU campus Friday for a lecture sponsored by the Psychology Department. He is Donald W. Fiske, associate head of the Department of Psychology, University of Chicago.

Deadline Extended for New Student Week Leaders

Bonne Garner, chairman for next year's New Student Week, said the deadline for applying to serve as a New Student Week leader has been extended until 5 p.m. today.

Application blanks may be picked up at the Information Desk in the University Center and should be returned to that desk. Miss Garner said she andushman Whitney Kramer will review the applications and select the leaders.

About 200 student leaders will be chosen to help next year's new students become familiar with academic programs, social activities and traditions at SIU.

Miss Garner, a junior speech major from Mulkeytown, was appointed as chairman of New Student Week by Student Body President Bill Penwick and approved by the Student Council at the close of last quarter.

The seasonally adjusted unemployment rate dropped one-half per cent in March to 5.6 per cent of the work force. It was the biggest monthly drop since November of 1958, at the end of the recession.

Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz said the seasonally adjusted unemployment rate improvement was encouraging but it "paves us back to where we were during most of last year."

Since other economic indicators have been pointing upward, the drop has been taken as a hopeful sign for the nation's economy.

The February unemployment rate of 6.1 per cent was taken by many to mean a countryside distress. When a community unemployment rate reaches 5 per cent, it is called "a distressed area" and then eligible for special federal help.

Carpenters, averaging $3.45 an hour, are asking increases totaling $1.20 over three years. They were getting $3 an hour under a contract that expired in 1960.

The measure, sponsored by Sen. Morgan Finley, D-Chicago, was advanced to the House by a 51-9 vote.

Prospective Engineers Visit Campus Saturday

"Where do we go after Mary?" is the question on posters sent out by SIU announcing Engineering Open House tomorrow.

Beginning with registration in the ballroom of the University Center at 9 a.m., the day-long program will feature a simulated missile trajectory demonstration using electronic instruments, closed circuit television showings and other engineering exhibits.

Three movies will be included in open house events, which are sponsored by the SIU School of Technology. In addition to a film on engineering as a career, they will show jet aircraft engineering developments and the manufacturing and processing of steel.

Tours of campus areas and engineering facilities were a feature of a similar program held last year.

School of Technology facilities also are planned, Dean Julian H. Lauchner, who will welcome visitors following registration, said the event is aimed primarily at high school students who are considering engineering careers.

Orozco: Man of Restraint and Judgment

Occasionally there appears in the literature of a people personae worthy of the attention of professional writers, perhaps a genius in their own chosen field that are once considered pellingly persuasive as histrionic documents and noteworthy contributions to good writing. Although Jose Clemente Orozco has been universally acclaimed as one of the greatest Mexican artists of the twentieth century he has through his elegantly unpretentious autobiography established himself as a man of wide interests and sound judgment: a witness to and participant in the stirring events of the revolutionary epoch.

The Autobiography was first written for the Mexican Journal Excelsior in fifteen installments during the early months of 1942. Later, in 1945, the articles were published in a volume of Ediciones Occidente under the title Autobiografia. The Mexican edition was enthusiastically received among the Spanish reading public and it is not surprising, translation into other languages should follow.

The present volume issuing from the University of Texas Press is translated into excellent, easily readable English by Professor Robert C. Stephenson, Director of the Honors Program at the University of Puerto Rico.

Readers will be thankful for John Palmer Leeper's incisive introduction to the Autobiography. His critical estimate of Orozco as artist and writer will be particularly helpful to those readers having only a passing acquaintance with twentieth century Mexican art. Those who are familiar with Orozco's work and the Mexican art will appreciate Mr. Leeper's acute remarks concerning Orozco's position in the world of art. Yet Orozco's work and account of himself as an artist is not sufficient to reveal the monumental greatness of his achievements as a painter. He was also a man of many projects in the United States at Dartmouth, New York and Pomona. His account ends with the factual statement: "In 1936 I went to Guadalajara, where I was to remain for four years, engaged in intense and fruitful labor."

Orozco rightly considered that his art spoke for itself; it needed no explanation or defense. He had, by the late nineteen-thirties, established himself as one of the three great Mexican artists. Orozco, Rivera and Siqueiros. Indeed he had gained a wider reputation as an artist in Mexico than either of the other two who were more frequently observed with the present crisis in Latin America. He has the effrontery to even suggest that the politicians and the major agents in the field should possess a thorough knowledge of Latin American affairs—most of them wouldfully lack at the present time.

Among the interesting characterizations of the Autobiography is that of Dr. Ad who was a carlist among those who plotted for a government of the people and at the same time threw a great deal of his energies into making energy into a successful effort to break with European art in influences and build a Mexican art based on Native tradition and revolutionary aspiration. Orozco reveals an admiration for the zeal and effectiveness of Dr. Ad but he, by his own action, indicates disagreement with Dr. Ad's naive atten­ tive attention to native themes at the expense of sound principles. Orozco, in fact, is outspoken in his conviction that the artist should be a thoroughly trained person. He tells of his long years of outside study, his training in drawing and the techniques of using materials of the artist. His administration for the great art that he saw in Europe is expressed with enthusiasm and it is obvious that the dynamic vitality of his work owes a debt to Ingres, Michelangelo, Coy, Daumier. On the other hand it can not be denied that the strength of...
Salukis Face Best Relay Teams This Weekend

Texas Relays
First Big Test
For SIU Runners

SIU trackmen come up against some of the best relay teams in the nation this week-end at the Texas Relays in Austin.

Last year the Salukis finished second in the two-mile relay behind Kansas in the Texas relay and SIU were given identical 7:27.7 which is the record in the event.

"This is the first big one on our 1963 schedule," Lew Hartzog, SIU track coach, said. "And the boys appear to be in excellent shape for it. They are really hungry."

"Brian, Bill and Jim are in real good shape," Hartzog said. "They appear to be in better shape this year than at the same time a year ago."

Chief reason for the enthusiasm is that both SIU's varsity and freshman groups have their sights set on Texas Relay records.

Hartzog's varsity sprint medley and distance medley teams appear to have good chances of setting new marks as well as the Saluki frosh quartet in the mile relay.

SIU Golfers Scalp SEMO Indians

Southern's golf team captured a 73-80 victory at Cape Girardeau and SIU with a comparatively easy time at Jackson County Golf Club Wednesday afternoon.

The win, which marked the 46th out of the last 47 matches the Salukis have won at home, was the first dual outing for both clubs.

SIU was paced by Bob Payne, a long-driving sophomore, who shot a 1 under par despite the windy playing conditions. Payne, who went out with a 36, finished up the back nine with a brilliant 33. The 180-pounder had little trouble in defeating the Indian's Ron Medler, who shot an 82 for the match.

Payne was backed up by Jim Place who shot a one under par, 71 for the 18 holes. Place just did manage to defeat his opponent John Erwin by one stroke. Place was down by one stroke after the front nine, but came back strong with a 35 in the back nine to edge Erwin.

In another close match, SIU's Jerry Kirby outscored Lynn Johnston 74-75, to add 1/2 more points to Southern's total. John Kruegar had a comparatively easy time with Cape's Rich Martindale and turned in a fine 75 for the round as compared to Martindale's 82.

Al Kruse defeated his opponent Mike Busch by three strokes in shooting a 77. Roy Gish took his opponent Dan Hogg, 78-75 and Leon McNair added the finishing touches with a round of 79 to defeat Lee Vandover who shot an 82.

Results:
1-Place, SIU, 36-35-71; 2 points.
Erwin, Cape, 35-37-72; 1 point.
2-Kruse, SIU, 39-38-77; 3 points.
Busch, Cape, 40-40-80, 3-Payne, SIU, 36-33-69; 3 points.
Medler, Cape, 41-41-82.
4-Kirby, SIU, 33-39-74; 2-1/2 points.
Johnson, Cape, 36-39-75; 1/2 point.
5-McNair, SIU, 38-41-79; 3 points.

"It happens every time I play my suit at One HOUR MARTINIZING"
Doug Edwards To Pitch Opener Against St. Louis Here Saturday

Doug Edwards has been named to pitch the first game against the St. Louis Billikens when the Salukis open their home baseball season at 1 p.m., Saturday.

However, Coach Glenn (Abe) Martin still hasn't picked the pitcher for the second game.

Martin said he expects pitching and hitting to be the main weaknesses this season because he lost some of his best men at the end of last season.

Missing from last year's team are starting pitchers Harry Garley, Larry Tucker and Jim Woods. Tucker will compete in the "An-Amer Games" in Brazil later this month.

Gene Tracy and Art Ritter, two pitchers who Martin was counting on heavily this year, are not available. Tracy is ineligible and Ritter signed a professional contract with the Houston Colts.

Last year's top two hitters are returning, Blen Bischof and captain Dave Leonard are back and will be trying to improve on last year's averages.

Bischof hit .395 last season with 17 hits in 43 times at bat, tying for a professional infielder from East St. Louis, Leonard collected 27 hits in 80 times at bat for a .333 average.

Lack of power in the lineup appears to be one of Martin's chief concerns after a 1-5 record.

"I have found my number three hitter," Martin said. "John Siebel will handle that position but the fourth and fifth positions are still wide open."

Martin was not disappointed by the spring start down South. He said it is expected for the young freshmen and sopho-

Tennis Squad In Minneapolis
For First Quadrangular Meet

SIU's undefeated tennis team travels to Minneapolis, Minn., to take on Minnesota, Iowa State and Wheaton College today and tomorrow in a quadrangular meet.

The Salukis, who are favored to lead the strong four team field, have already made two successful outings by beating Northwestern 9-0 two weeks ago in Miami, Fla. and Tulsa 5-1 last week.

Southern's hopes are riding on an exceptionally strong six-man team which will probably be spear-headed by Lance Lumaden, a talented import from Kingston, Jamaica and captain Pacho Castillo. Both Lumaden and Castillo are capable and experienced players who are expected to be able to hold their own on any level.

Castillo was the co-most valuable player on SIU's 1962 team as a sophomore along with John Geremich with identitical 15-3 records. Geremich will be lost to the Salukis this year due to scholastic difficulties.

Bob and Roy Sprengelmeyster will provide fine middle support for Southern's lineup in the third and fourth spots respectively. Wilson Burge, a promising sophomore, who was 12-ranked nationally in junior doubles in 1961, will work the number five position in Minneapolis.

Southern's anchor man will be veteran George Dombrowski from Sanruce, Puerto Rico. The 22-year old senior was conference champ at number three spot last year when SIU bowed out of the IIAC.

"Without a doubt this is the best all-around team ever to represent SIU," said coach Dick LeFevre, "but it is difficult to predict what kind of record we'll compile because we also have the toughest schedule ever faced by an SIU team. We should be able to win most of the tough ones, however."
