City Plans Expansion of Park Facilities

But Voters Must First OK Bond Issue

A $375,000 program for community recreational facilities in Carbondale will be submitted to city voters late in May under the new city management plan.

The referendum of the Carbondale Park District was one of the recommendations in a master plan for parks and recreation for the city. It was prepared for the Board of Park Commissioners by Mr. Judge, Eversy and Associates, park and recreation planners, of Winnetka.

The Carbondale Park District must issue bonds if it is to expand its facilities sufficiently to provide adequate public recreation, the study recommended.

Kenneth R. Miller, director of the SIU Foundation and administrative assistant to President Delyte W. Morris, is chairman of the Board of Park Commissioners.

He said the election is scheduled for May 22 and will be one of four bond issues on the ballot. The others are those of the high school board, the elementary school board, and the City of Carbondale.

"Although university students have the legal right to use Park District facilities, few will do so when adequate facilities are maintained by the University. This is not true of University employees and their families. Although they may enjoy the privilege of using University recreation facilities, many of these citizens can be expected to participate in the programs offered by their community as well," the report stated.

The report cited the presence of several nearby large housing projects, including Orchard National Wildlife Refuge and Giant City State Park.

"They help meet the need for all-day recreation for families and school groups but they are often crowded and do not eliminate the need for all-day facilities in or near Carbondale," the report pointed out.

It took into consideration private recreational facilities available for the community and listed these as an indoor movie theater, drive-in movie theater, bowling centers and riding stables. "An axiom of good public administration is that the government should not attempt to provide a service that can be provided just as well by private enterprise," the report stated.

The students participating in the Junior Academy of Science at SIU are expected to attend in any unit which studies the development of public facilities," the report stated.

One sentence in the report summed up the issue facing the voters today for the next four months: "A decision to provide facilities is not difficult; the problem is in providing the funds."

Mary Kay Crouch Chosen Southern Student of Week

Mary Kay Crouch of Du Quoin, who plans to teach Latin after graduating this June, is SIU's Student of Week.

She is president of her floor hall, of Thompson Hall, and of a candidate in the April 18 "Miss Thompson Point" contest. Her other activities include judicial board chairperson for the Junior Academy of Science, President of 1961-62 student body, and coordinating Student Newscaster activities for four years.

Out of a possible 5.0, her grade average in Latin is 4.5, and her over-all scholastic ranking is 4.2. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Merrill Crouch and has two sisters.

CIVIL RIGHTS DEMONSTRATORS GATHERED AT THE UNIVERSITY CENTER PATH TO REGISTER THEIR VIEWS.
WASHINGTON -- A wide-ranging foreign policy debate developed this week as both parties reacted to a speech by Sen. J. William Fulbright, D-Ark., urging a new flexibility in the U.S. cold war strategy.

The chairman of the Foreign Relations Committee said his purpose in an address in the Senate March 25 was to stir public talk on basic foreign policy issues, and he appeared to have succeeded beyond expectations.

His remarks to a sparsely attended Senate on party lines were a sharp disagreement from Secretary of State Dean Rusk.

Agreement came from Republicans and some Democrats.

Speaking at the University of Alabama, Sparkman said the United States may in time have to shape a new strategy toward Cuba, but he stopped short of calling the present policy a failure.

"It was essentially a defense of positions taken by the administration on many foreign policy problems, including Cuba, trade with Communist countries and United Nations finances," he said.

"We face the scene of another popular crusade -- against Communist belligerency." In an interview Thursday Fulbright said he had made his speech because in the New Hampshire presidential primary Sen. Barry M. Goldwater, R-Ariz., and Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller, R-N.Y., had said foreign policy was a U.S. farm bill a major legislative goal.

Fulbright urged abandonment of the Cuba boycott as a "failure." In a report since the end of 1960, in a speech in the Senate Thursday, Fulbright charged in a editorial of the department of the United States that growing awareness that the United States and its allies have greater unity, military strength and economic power than the world's Communist nations, the report said ...

"In the embattled Far East we have held the line and in the Near East the tide has been against the Communists," the department added.

"In Africa, however, the countries of the Communist camp are making new contacts and friends," it continued.

Sen. John J. Sparkman, Ala., a senior Democrat on the Foreign Relations Committee, agreed with Fulbright's challenge to the administration to accept Cuba as a nuisance rather than an intolerable menace to the United States. He said he would vote with Fulbright that the U.S. economic boycott of Cuba in a failure.

Old-Myths vs. Realities

What did he do to create the stir?

Fulbright urged abandonment of "old myths" in cold war attitudes in face of "new realities" of today.

He called for flexibility in dealing with the growing "tremendous variations" among the Reds and advocated an end to the Cuba boycott as a "failure." He proposed open-mindedness on the question of recognizing Red China.

The public, Congress and the executive branch should dare to explore such "unthinkable" things, he said.

Some support for Fulbright's plea for flexible policies came from Sen. Barry M. Goldwater, R-Ariz.

Goldwater charged in a speech in the Senate Thursday that Fulbright was voicing the basic foreign policy assumptions of the Johnson administration.

"Fulbright's proposals," Goldwater said, "are dangerously weakening the posture of this nation in a world crisis."
Minor Sports Teams Among Elite Group

By Alan Goldfarb

Southern's athletic teams may not be the most famous, but they've been right there last weekend in three NCAA championship tournaments, but how much of an impact it will make with the public is yet to be determined.

When one talks of sports in college circles, it's basketball and football that take precedence over all others. An athletic power is known for its winning basketball and/or football teams.

We leave it to Southern's Athletic Department is striving for that kind of recognition, but it doesn't seem too clear at the present time, but from the results last weekend, SIU is spreading its athletic muscle in other directions as well.

In an unofficial roundup of the results of all three NCAA championships held last weekend -- gymnastics, wrestling and swimming -- when all points are added up, Southern can be considered the third best athletic power in the country.

According to early reports, is not quite possible starter, according to Abe Peludat, head basketball coach at SIU.

"I'm planning on winning, but they've got a tough team," said Martin before the team headed down south.

Coach Abe Martin has his starting lineup for the first game all squared away and it figures to be almost the same which went against Illinois State in the Salukis' 6-3 opening win last weekend.

Martin plans to go with Gene Vincent on the mound in the opener today with either John Hotz or Ken Everett getting the nod in the nightcap.

Ed Walters, who was a possible starter, according to early reports, is not quite ready to throw yet. Martin says that he isn't around the school ranks with the best -- Southern California, Michigan and Yale. But the rest of the sports-conscious nation would be hard pressed to say of Southern's "minor sports prowess."

The Salukis walked away with the first place title and finished a strong fourth in the wrestling championships, and scored the most points they've ever scored in that kind of championships, an indication of things to come.

A tally was taken of the results of all three post-season tournaments, USC came out on top with 163 1/2 points. The Trojans finished behind the Salukis in gymnastics with 69 1/2 points and won the swimming championships with 96 points, edging pre-tourney favorite Indiana.

The Trojans finished second in swimming with 30 1/2 points edging Indiana, 103 to 102. Final (unofficial) combined NCAA totals includes gymnastics, wrestling and swimming:

1. Southern Cal-165 1/2
2. Michigan-124
3. Southern Illinois-112 1/2
4. Yale-102
5. Indiana-102
6. Oklahoma State-87
7. Oklahoma-59
8. Iowa State-51
9. Penn State-49
10. Colorado-36

Southern gained the third spot by virtue of a first in gymnastics with 84 1/2 points, a tie for fourth in wrestling with 31 points and 12th in swimming with 7.

The fight for the fourth spot was also close with Yale edging Indiana, 103 to 102.

With point earned the runner-up spot by virtue of a first in swimming with 30 1/2 points edging Indiana, 103 to 102.

Final (unofficial) combined NCAA totals includes gymnastics, wrestling and swimming:

1. Southern Cal-165 1/2
2. Michigan-124
3. Southern Illinois-112 1/2
4. Yale-102
5. Indiana-102
6. Oklahoma State-87
7. Oklahoma-59
8. Iowa State-51
9. Penn State-49
10. Colorado-36

Technical people concerned with Southern will take great pride in knowing that their

Woods Is Southern's Best Bet For Place in Texas Relays

Southern's track team is entered in the Texas Relays at Austin today, but injuries and other circumstances figure to knock the Salukis out of the running for the top spots.

George Woods, Southern's big shot putter, booms as the only Saluki favored to place in the two-day meet which got underway yesterday.

According to the Associated Press, a dozen records are expected to be broken in the large field of more than 1,100 athletes. Little Gymnastics, of Louisiana, competing in the college class, aims at the world record of 40.0 seconds in the 440-yard relay around two turns.

A company of crack 100-yard dashmen, three of them with 9.4 times, hit the cinders in a search of a relays mark of 9.3. (Unbeaten Billy Foster of Southern Methodist and sophomore Terry Williams of Omaha, are the ringleaders.

The track carnival may have its first winner under four minutes-John Cameron of Emporia, Kansas State, who had a 4:4.0 winning time last year.

A couple of 600-foot shot putters will be in attendance, one at Matson, the Texas A&M freshman who will be the freshman- junior college division and Fran Maaza of Baylor, the top threat in the university division. Woods is not expected to challenge the leaders, but figures to be somewhere around the top. Southern Methodist and Mississippi are expected to win the multiple relay championships, SMU will be after the 40.2 record in the university division 440-yard relay and might also tumble the most 880-yard record of 1:22.6.

Missou's power comes in the two-mile and distance medley relays, with Robin Lingle, a 4:52.2 miler, the key man. An SIU entry of Gary Carr, Bob Wrightstrill, Bill Lindsay and Herb Walker will compete in the sprint medley and mile relay events.

Athlone Christian, with the nation's fastest time in the sprint medley--3:20.9--could crack the record of 3:19.8. Drake will be favored in the four-mile relay, and Oklahoma State looks toughest in the mile relay.

Olympic champion Ralph Boston will compete in a special broad jump against bill Miller, formerly of MacMurry College.

U.S. and Panama Re-Establish Ties

WASHINGTON--The United States and Panama Friday signed a declaration of agreement to re-establish diplomatic relations and "to seek the prompt elimination of the causes of conflict" between the two countries.

The agreement was signed at a public ceremony by U.S. Ambassador Ellsworth Bunker and Miguel Moreno of Panama. Also present were the ambassadors of the other Latin-American states.

Kerner Recognizes Future Teachers

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. -- William Chamberlain of Springfield, an administrative assistant to Gov. Otto Kerner, was appointed Friday as successor to the late Secretary of State Charles F. Carpenter. Chamberlain, 53-year-old attorney, was named by Kerner to the nine-month vacancy created by Carpenter's death early Friday.

A Democrat, Chamberlain has served as an aide to Kerner since 1961, principally as a liaison man with the legislature.

U.S. Pledges Assistance To New Brazilian Regime

WASHINGTON -- Secretary of State Dean Rusk said Friday the United States is ready "to work very closely" with the new government of Brazil in tackling Brazil's problems of economic and social development.

President Johnson sent a message to new Brazilian President Janiero Mazzilli Thursday night, congratulating him on Brazil's change of government within that nation's constitutional framework.

This established U.S. recognition of the new regime following the ouster of President João Goulart.

Rusk told a news conference Friday that Goulart had been overthrown by a combination of forces representing fears in the Brazilian Congress, armed forces, and among state governors that constitutional government in the country was in danger. "They moved to insure the constitutional process," Rusk said. Goulart's enemies had accused him of leading the country down the road to communism, U.S. officials had become alarmed about Communist charges.

Russian Charges Widen Red Split

MOSCOW -- The violent Soviet counterattack against Communist China persuaded Western diplomats Friday that the Red State is split almost beyond patching.

The open collision between Chinese and Soviet Communists was glaringly outlined in theargside-written doctrinal speech by Moscow's chief theoretician, Mikhail A. Suslov, published Friday in the Communist party paper "Pravda."

This was a long-delayed answer to maneuvers of Mao Tse-tung's Peking regime that the paper denounced in such terms as slanderous accusations, vicious accusations, and blackmail.

Bunker invited the ambassadors to go to the White House for a meeting with President Johnson. Gathered there with Johnson were a group of congressional leaders.

The Congress members were summoned to the session on short notice.

The agreement said that the United States and Panama will "designate without delay special ambassadors with sufficient powers to seek the prompt elimination of the causes of conflict between the two countries."

The agreement was brought about through the mediation of Bautista de Lavalle of Peru, ambassador designated by each country "will begin immediately the necessary procedures with the objective of reaching a just and firm agreement, which would be subject to the constitutional process of each country."

The top-level National Security Council was called to the White House to participate in the discussions with the Congress members.

2 Senators Tackle Rights Bill

WASHINGTON -- Senators leading the fight for the House-passed civil rights bill took up the school desegregation provision Friday.

Sens. Paul H. Douglas, D-Ill., and John Sherman Cooper, R-Ky., were assigned to spell out the arguments.

Douglas said this part of the bill is essential because "only one per cent of the Negro school children in the states of the Old Confederacy are now in desegregated schools." 10 years after the Supreme Court ruled that segregation was unconstitutional.

Alaskan Aid OK'd

WASHINGTON -- The Senate Appropriations Committee approved Friday a $50 million supplemental appropriation for restoration of public facilities damaged in last week's Alaska earthquake.

The action in contingent upon approval of the disaster relief bill by the House, which acts first on federal appropriations.
