Nuisances by Students May Bring Restrictions

The beer bottles are flying again at Crab Orchard Lake, and safety officers are doing most of the cleaning up. General Motors brought students out in scores last Sunday and several investigators were sent to Crab Orchard Spillway area. Several tickets were issued to students caught tossing the bottles and-under drinking.

Students have complained that students were very unmanly. Instead of placing the several containers at the picnic area, students instead found it exciting to toss them on the rocks and into the lake.

Not only did students throw the bottles and came into the lake, but they also threw the disposal barrel into the lake.

The action has been done most of the students who are unfortunate to be injured in such an action, not to mention as other students who would merely like to have a good time without having to worry about the action. Refuge officials must patrol the area more heavily because of the action. When the action continues, students may face more serious charges.

Students could enjoy themselves more and have a safer reflection of life should be as they would obey the laws. Wildlife officials are apt to use such devices to keep kids more restrictive if students continue to conduct themselves in an orderly manner.

Because of the hazardous building of fires and drinking, beer are prohibited on the beach areas. Should students continue to throw beer bottles and dangerous action at the Spillway area, the peaceful recreation area might be heavily restricted.

Students may find it a good place to enjoy those leisure hours. There are low restrictions on the recreation area—let’s keep it that way.

Double Standards Working To Advantages of Negroses

Negroes hear on all sides that with civil rights and equal demands they should be granted which they must shoulder if they would be accepted in modern society.

Without disputing the obvious, it must be admitted that the citizen assumes responsibility.

Auto Makers Try Foiling Car Thieves

United States auto-theft figures for 1965 passed the 300,000 mark and the upward trend presumably continues. One government official called the stealing of automobiles "a very common first offense in which frequently becomes a life crime."

Last July, we wrote: "It has been estimated that manufacturers could come up with a fairly tamper-proof car…"

The need for an automobile that is less deterred from murder and crime seems to be the prime contributing factor.

Certainly a vengeful Negro is less deterred from murder and crime by his social charge than he would be by the more painful threat of the electric chair.

Such a double standard of justice should not exist. Action is needed to be brought into the enforcement of law, or in the enforcement of law, or in the enforcement of law.

"Many whites wonder why the Negro community believes in justice," Andrews said, "and I believe that nothing has been done to apply the prime contributing factor."

Since then, the government has been putting the pressure on. Robert McNamara announced that its 1968 models will have hazzard warning devices to remove the key from the ignition switch, identification numbers on carburetors, and a larger number of key and lock combinations to make it harder to break into the locked car of another.

General Motors is to be congratulated for taking a step toward the solution of this problem. They have a right to try to secure the ignition system and locks for steering wheel, transmission, and door and brake.

The need for a law in the 10 states which does not have speedometer is certainly, as would a law regulating the advertising and sale of master keys. We need to persist until the problem of auto thefts, like that of auto safety, is reduced to manageable proportions.

Letters to the Editor

Where’s Overpass?

To the editor:

Southern Illinois University stands for. And I am sure that President Morris would never allow anyone, even himself, to obstruct the workings of the university in such a manner. For myself I am convinced that President Morris is an honest man, but some of my acquaintances have suggested that he be more assertive on this point. I trust that President Morris will do what is right and mine straight at his earliest convenience.

Really Eager

To the editor:

in your April 4 issue you have entitled a photograph of our Irish Wolfhound, Mary, "Barking Hound." If you will notice her head is being lifted off with his left foot, which to the trained eye is equivalent to the command "sit," Mary is not barking but rather is obediently following the command by raising the arm which she had previously assumed when he stopped in the previous overpass.

Ronald to Serve Golden Lands,
Averts Tantalizing Treasures
By Arthur Hoppe

All right, children, climb into beddy-bye and Dan'l Webster. You not only one more item tale about Sir Ronald of Hollywood. Let's see, how about the story of Sir Ronald and The Tantalizing Treasure?

Well, as you remember, Sir Ronald and his faithful squire, Sir Sancho Nofziger, barely entered The Tangled Thicket in search of The Unruly, that fearsome creature who dwell somewhere.

Sir Ronald has disembowled from his handsome white charger and with his famed Swinging Sword he was cutting a brave swath through the magical Bureaucratic Brambles, which screamed pitiously at every nick, almost as though they were human.

Then Sir Ronald suddenly, raising the tinted visor that kept falling down over his eyes, "What manner of enchanted vision is this Idesey Far to the East?"

"What does it look like, Sire?" said Sancho, as usual, glad of any excuse for a rest.

"It seems," said Sir Ronald, "I would not change, in opposition to a legislative investigation of the Big Ten's treatment of the University of Illinois in the current athletic uproar.

As it turned out, I was the only member of the Senate to vote in opposition to the investigation. I respect my colleagues who differed with me on this vote, but several things bothered me.

One has been the rash of editorials in support of the Big Ten. They have appeared in most of the state's leading newspapers, which has denounced our courts regularly for not being harsh enough against sports rules violators. The editorials were a rare front-page editorial denouncing the Big Ten.

The very frequency of these editorials"--Sir Ronald paused and gazed intently outward. "I am not about to yield;

"Why, Sire," said Sancho surprisingly, "it is filled with fame and power and treasures beyond your most mad imaginings. We must pursue it lest some other knight captures it first!"

"Hold, there, varyet," said Sir Ronald irritably. "I have pledged my sacred word to serve a people who believe. I am not to shirk-daddle-off after some Tantalizing Treasure!"

Sancho was amazed. "But, Sire, the Tantalizing Treasure is the enchantment over any knave who seeks it. Invariably, he flies off in directions spouting oratory, slaying mythical dragons!"

"Oh, I felt the temptation," said Sir Ronald, nodding, "But I merely numbed my battleaxe, For Purity! For Righteousness! For Just Plain Goodness!" And I gave no further thought to yielding."

"But, Sire, the fame, the fortune, the..." said Sir Danilo, "I shall not touch the Treasure," Sir Ronald resumed hacking straight ahead, allowing only an occasional glance over his shoulder to the East. "Of course you might keep an eye on it, Sancho," he added, "but I'd rather not be caught with it in my pocket."

"Very well, Sire," was Sancho's reply. "I am the Tantalizing Treasure."

"That's what I mean, Sir," said Sir Sancho, eyeing his master in the mirror that was a part of his head. "Either that, or he's some kind of nut."

All right, children, sleep tight. No, you'll just have to wait and see how it all comes out. There, there, I know you can hardly wait, Daddy feels the same.

Cheating Deserves Dismissal
For Coaches, Undergraduates
By Sen. Paul Simon

About two weeks ago I cast a vote for which I have received some criticism, and a vote which I feel is the right one. It was in opposition to a legislative investigation of the Big Ten's treatment of the University of Illinois in the current athletic uproar.

As it turned out, I was the only member of the Senate to vote in opposition to the investigation. I respect my colleagues who differed with me on this vote, but several things bothered me.

The North Vietnamese have been fighting for decades. During the present war they have refused volunteer soldiers from several countries. They are obviously out to show that all alone they can hold off the most powerful nation in the world, which is fighting against them in a singularly ferocious manner.

They have presented us with clear alternatives. They say: "You can destroy us, perhaps, but you cannot make us surrender. We will come to the peace table only if you can destroy us completely," which is fighting against them in a singularly ferocious manner.

Less Noise, Fewer Bruises

Registered Cycles Total 850

Fewer cuts and bruises, slightly less noise, and more tired feet are just a few results of the Motor Vehicle Regulations which went into effect on campus Sept. 1, 1966.

The new regulations have cut the number of registered cycles on the campus from 1,669 in fall of 1965 to 850 in fall of 1966.

The reason for the new controls was "general irresponsible operation by a minority," according to Joseph Zaleski, of the Dean of Students Office.

"When the cycle problem became big, the students were given a chance to help control the problem, but their help didn't work, so the University had to step in," Zaleski said.

Zaleski went on to say that "no cycles" is not the answer, but that controls are necessary. He felt there should be a way, but that finding it is the problem.

PEORIA, (AP) — Petite Corazon Amurao, the only survivor of the night of horror, Coppolino Trial Moving Slowly

NAPLES, Fla. (AP)—In the third day of efforts to pick an impartial jury, one man said he believed "beyond a shadow of a doubt" that Dr. Carl Coppolino killed his wife, Corazon, during a drug-related alcohol binge.

"To me," said Roy Lee Ingram, "there was too much of a similarity between two murder charges to be an accident. Drugs were used and that is his profession."

But P. Lee Bailey, noted Boston defense lawyer asked Ingram Wednesday if he was aware that Coppolino had been convicted in his first trial in New Jersey on a charge that he killed retired Army Col. William E. Farber.

At the close of Tuesday's session, State Atty. Frank Schaub had challenged Ingram's perjury charge. He said he had a fixed opinion in the case. Both state and defense asked for the change of venue that brought the trial to this small seaside city from Sarasota. Each agreed that massive news coverage given to the case there would preclude the possibility of a fair trial. Thus far, 29 prospective jurors have been discharged; they said they would refuse to convict on circumstantial evidence, or to inflict the death penalty in any case.

Phyllis Amurao, the only survivor of the night of horror, told her story in court with tears streaming down her cheeks. "I saw an elfin woman of eight nurses July 14, 1966 in their townhouse dormitory on Chicago's South Side."

But the spectators had eyes only for Miss Amurao as she walked across the courtroom floor, took a stance within a yard of Speck, pointed her right index finger and said "This is the man."

Speck, slumped in a chair at his counsel's table, showed no reaction.

A crowd which filled all 70 seats in the hot Circuit Court chamber, including members of the families of some of the victims, watched in fascination as the doll-like witness confronted the lanky drifter.

Speck, 25, is on trial on charges of methodically murdering the eight young women July 14, 1966 in their townhouse dormitory on Chicago's South Side. As the trial opened, the man she identified as Speck, slumped in a chair and said "To me," said Roy Lee Ingram, "there was too much of a similarity between two murder charges to be an accident. Drugs were used and that is his profession."

Miss Amurao blinked to no reaction.

"I saw an elfin woman of eight nurses July 14, 1966 in their townhouse dormitory on Chicago's South Side."

But the spectators had eyes only for Miss Amurao as she told her story for the first time in public.

Soviet Aid To Vietnam Increasing

ODOSSA, U.S.S.R. (AP)-Soviet aid shipped from this Black Sea port to North Vietnam apparently has increased sharply over the past two months.

Informed shipping sources say there are signs of strain on facilities of the port, long a major one for the Soviet aid that goes to North Vietnam by sea.

These sources believe the strain is due to the increased use of the sea route from Odessa to the North Vietnamese port of Haiphong.

They attribute the increased sea traffic to recent Soviet difficulties in getting aid through to Haiphon on overland routes across Red China.

Increased Soviet reliance on the sea route raises the possibility of a direct U.S.-Soviet confrontation on the open sea, should Soviet ships carry the antiaircraft weapons used in Vietnam to abate down American planes.

But so far, sources say, there is no evidence that such weapons are aboard Soviet ships leaving the Black Sea for Haiphong.

Just 'a Soviet goods leaves here for Vietnam is difficult to pin down.

Cargoes for Haiphong are always in crates when being loaded on decks here.

Soviet officials here admit that aid leaves Odessa for Haiphong.

This is about all they will say, for the record.

A private conversation, however, word gets around that aid leaves Odessa and its sister port of Ilichyevsk, 22 miles to the southwest.

Washington (AP)-President Johnson asked Congress Wednesday to hike postal rates -from letters to books-by $800 million a year and to increase the pay of civilian workers and military personnel an average of 4.5 per cent.

The present 5-cent first-class stamp, the 8-cent air-mail stamp and the 4-cent postcard stamp all would be raised by one penny.

The proposed 4.5 per cent pay increase would be the first step of a three-stage plan with the avowed aim to give government workers pay equality with private industry.

There would be further pay increases in each of the next two years.

Government officials, without being specific, said each scheduled increase pay raise which Johnson wants enacted this year might be the range of 2 per cent.

The average 4.5 per cent pay increase for both civilian employees and members of the uniformed forces would be effective next Oct. 1.

Johnson, in a special message, recommended that Congress "take the final step this year to achieve full compatibility with private industry."

To accomplish this, Johnson urged that the added pay increases for civilian workers be made effective in October, 1967, and October 1968.

Except for first-class mail, all other classes of mail are operating deep in the red.

Herb Alpert, Tijuana Brass Concert Set

Herb Alpert and the Tijuana Brass will appear in concert at 8 p.m., May 7, in the SIU Arena.

The appearance of Alpert, Billboard Magazine's "Music Man of the Year," will climax Spring Festival Week and Mom's Day activities.

Instructor, Student Will Join Chorale

Two singers from SIU's music faculty, the only faculty student to join the world famous Robert Shaw Chorale for its annual spring tour March 20-May 15.

Robert W. Kingsbury, director of University Choral and assistant professor of music, who has previously performed on U.S. and European concert tours with the Shaw group, has been granted a leave of absence to serve as the soloist on the 1967 tour.

Sharon Huebner of Waterloo, a graduate student in music, also was accepted for the tour. During the spring break, Miss Huebner toured with the SIU Chamber Choir, and at the close of the tour went to New York City to hear the Shaw Chorale rehearse. Kingsbury arranged an audition for her, resulting in her acceptance.

A voice student of Marjorie Lawrence, director of the Opera Workshop, she has sung major roles in operatic productions since enrolling at Southern in 1962. She will return to SIU this summer.

Checks and money orders should be made payable to the SIU Arena. No telephone orders for tickets will be taken. Mail orders should be addressed to Herb Alpert, c/o Herb Alpert, The SIU Arena.

Because of what the Arena management says has been "abuse" of student discount privileges, the holders of student tickets will have to present their ID cards at the door on the evening of the performance.

Choir to Perform Renaissance Music At 8 p.m. Tonight

The SIU Chamber Choir will present a program at 8 p.m. tonight in the Home Economics Auditorium. Dan Saathoff, choir manager, said the performance will feature the most highly selected choir on campus. It consists of seven men and seven women, and their program will include music from the Renaissance Period to the contemporary.

The music to be performed tonight was presented last month at Winston-Salem(D.C.) State College as part of an all-university exchange which is now in its second year with this school.

Deadline for graduation applications for June Commencement is May 6, according to the Registrar’s Office. A $17 graduation fee must be paid at the Bursar’s Office. No late applications will be accepted.

Graduation applications are at the Registrar’s Office. An instruction sheet with all necessary information will be attached.

A $17 graduation fee must be paid at the Bursar’s Office. No late applications will be accepted.

Musulin at Meeting

Boris Musulin, associate professor of chemistry, will speak at a keynote ceremony marking the opening of the first annual Fine Arts Festival at the Edwardsville campus, at 2 p.m. Sunday in the new Communications Building theater.

Also speaking during the opening ceremony will be President Delby W. Morris; Robert W. MacVicar, vice president for academic affairs; and Andrew J. Kochman, dean of the Fine Arts Division.

Forwarder for an Accepted Living Center classification, but recommendations have been made for two of these courts, which he said he could not name.

Lowery also reported that no trailer court has the accepted Living Center classification, but recommendations have been made for two of these courts, which he said he could not name.

Lowery added that any student who plans to move spring quarter must move to an Accepted Living Center.

No Trailer Courts Approved

Accepted Living Centers now number 27, according to Joseph Zaleski, assistant dean, Office of Student Affairs.

These represent 6,204 spaces for single undergraduate students on the Carbondale campus. Of these spaces, 4,499 represent spaces for men.

In addition, 362 facilities carry Conditional Approval. This means that there is a deficiency or conflict with present University policy, some of the major types of conflicts which keep the areas from becoming Accepted Living Centers are improper mixing of sexes, improper combining of married and single students, and residents who are other than students.

To Speak About Pigs

Howard Miller, assistant professor of animal industries, will be in Belleville April 17 at a meeting of the St. Clair County Boar Testing Association. Miller will show slides and describe swine facilities at SIU.

Gowns can be ordered now from the University Book Store. All graduates will be allowed five copies of the graduation invitation. Arrival times are indefinite, but hopefully announcements will be available about 10 days and gowns two days before graduation.

Musulin of Meeting

Boris Musulin, associate professor of chemistry, is attending the American Physical Society meeting in Chicago. Musulin, a specialist in quantum chemistry, will report at the meeting on important research on molecular screening.

SU's golf team, hoping to improve a 1-2 season record, will visit the University of Illinois in Champaign Saturday for a dual meet.

The Salukis started off the season by defeating Tulane University 11 1/2 to 6 1/2 on March 21. Since then the Salukis have been hampered by injuries and ineligibilities which have cost Coach Lynn Holder the services of three of his performers.

Sixth man Dan Wagco has been an injured back and sophomore Mike Johnson was hurt in an automobile accident returning from Georgia. Johnson was given an excellent chance of helping the Salukis this season. In high school he was state champion for two years.

Fifth man Steve Cools, who shot a 76 and won at Tulane 2-1 is ineligible for the remainder of the spring quarter. But Holder is still optimistic about the success of the golf team. Holder says that the team is coming along well and is starting to show improvement.

Data Processing Nabs Three Points From Rehab in Faculty-Staff Bowling

Data Processing won three points from Rehab in faculty-staff bowling league action. VITL, the second-place team, could gain only one point as they split with the University Center, Dutch Masters with Chemistry. The Rehabilitation Center only took one point.

The No. 1 man for Holder's team is Steve Heckel. Heckel has posted a 1-2 record with a win over Murray and losses to Tulane and Tennessee Tech. Heckel shot a 75 at Tulane and came in with a 77 at Murray.

The No. 4 man for Holder's team is Steve Heckel. Heckel has posted a 1-2 record with a win over Murray and losses to Tulane and Tennessee Tech. Heckel shot a 75 at Tulane and came in with a 77 at Murray.

Bob Ernst took over the No. 5 position at the Murray State meet where he shot a 78.

Tennis Shoes Only, Please!

All persons wishing to use the SIU tennis courts must wear tennis shoes, according to SIU tennis Coach Dick LaFevere. Persons with crocs, sole or basketball shoes will not be permitted to use the facilities.

An attendant will be present during hours that the courts are open. The courts must be cleaned and be kept in good shape for the NCAA Championships, which will be held here in early June, according to LaFevere.

Major Teams Interested in Saluki Basketball Schedule

By Tom Wood

The success of the basketball Salukis this past season has apparently begun to solve one of the biggest problems—that of scheduling major opponents for the coming season.

On the basis of early attempts to work out a schedule, there is a possibility the 1967-68 Salukis will be playing teams such as Texas Western, Arizona Western, Iowa, University of Washington, Arizona State, Arizona Western Tech, San Francisco, Maryland, and St. Louis and Cremonay.

Due to fulfilling obligations range home-and-home contracts it has been learned the Salukis will play Arizona, Arizona Western, and Cremonay next season. The Salukis will also meet Evanville and Kentucky Wesleyan at home and on the road.

Contracts have not been signed with any of the other schools mentioned, but it is known that Salukis are interested in games with these schools and contacts have been made regarding discussions.

Louisville, which had reportedly discussed a game with SIU for next season recently released its 1967-68 schedule and Southern did not appear.

The Cardinals suffered their first defeat of the year last season at the hands of the Salukis in the Arena. The Salukis will play Cremonay, Arizona and Arizona Western in the Arena and meet St. Louis in St. Louis.

There is also a strong possibility the Salukis will be playing in both Madison Square Garden and the Chicago Stadium.

The Salukis might play Texas Western in Chicago. They would also make a return engagement in the Sun Bowl Tournament along with Texas Western, Maryland and San Francisco, although none of the schools has been contacted for the event.

Mr. Wood is very anxious to get a return engagement with the Salukis, either in New York or on their home court. The Salukis defeated the Peacocks in the first round of the National Invitation Tournament this year by a 103-58 score, the largest spread in tourney history.

The schedule does not complete or official and will not be so until approved by the Athletic Committee.

AP Picks Pirates for N.L. Flag

NEW YORK (AP) - Retirement has broken up Los Angeles' pennant-winning conglomeration of Sandy Koufax, Duke Snider and Walter Alston so the National League will have to look elsewhere for its champion this year. The search will be in Pittsburgh.

Despite their questionable pitching, the Pirates—from - will win the San Francisco and Atlanta and demonstrate the Dodgers, who won the pennant the last two years behind Koufax' pitching and Atlanta's running.

The Pirates have as formidable an offensive and defensive array as can be found in the majors and are set to be the Pirates' first pennant winner since 1960. They will be even more formidable if their pitching improves for its championship.

San Francisco has just as good a chance to win the pennant as any other team in the National League in the past years, but as in past years there is usually some way to avoid finishing first.

Pittsburgh Bravos have more power than most teams. However, they lack the defense and pitching depth found in the Pirates as well as a proven pitching staff.
