The event will include a variety of science-related activities, including a science fair, a lecture series, and a science camp.

Advisory Council Makes Surprise Move Yesterday

The Advisory Council made a surprising move yesterday by announcing the abolition of the compulsory assemblies.

The council cited a lack of student interest and support as the reasons for the decision.

Abolition could come as early as next year, depending on the will of the students.

ATTENTION SENIORS

Attention seniors: The seminarian's collection is due before the end of the school year. Please submit your contribution to the seminarian's director.
College Credit For Activities

If poor emphasis is to be placed on extra-curricular activities at Southern, it seems that a plan to compensate for this defect in various activities should be formulated.

Let's face it. Young people today can have fun, singing, dancing, or playing a musical instrument without sufficient compensation for time spent in these activities. The major field in which they lead to supplement various courses of the College.

It seems only logical that participation in such extra-curricular activities should mean college credit, the new professional degree program in music, which was only two years ago, all-church credit, and participation in the band, chorus, and orchestra. All students must play their part in the future. They will be required to do the same in the event of the above three especially in the band credit, college credit, and band credit.

The band credit for each contributed to these activities, does, of course, necessitate the setting up of certain requirements and expectations to be met before receiving credit. The North Central Association would probably approve if it were shown that the time spent on these activities would be equivalent to class time. Our immediate concern is perhaps a more efficient way to judge whether a student is entitled to credit.

WISHFUL THINKING

"Is there anything we can do that is unfeasible?"

This was the challenge that business man, John, put to an audience in an article on the difference covering the hiring of a minister to the business firm toward the development of the community. The answer to the question is "of course not, but it is possible." The answer to the question is "of course not, but it is possible." The answer to the question is "of course not, but it is possible."

The Southern Parade

By DATE PAYNE

The veteran's parade was held last Monday night, and the entire community of South was at the parade. The parade was a great success, and the floats were very well done. The floats were all very colorful and the crowds were very enthusiastic. The parade was a great event for the community, and it was a great day to be at.

One of the floats that stood out was the float from the Southern High School. The float was decorated with bright lights and music, and it was a great success. The students from the high school were very enthusiastic and they were very happy to be a part of the parade.

Another float that was very successful was the float from the Southern Junior High School. The float was decorated with bright lights and music, and it was a great success. The students from the junior high school were very enthusiastic and they were very happy to be a part of the parade.

The parade was a great event for the community, and it was a great day to be at.

Sebastian Scores 32 Points As Maroons Annex Loop Title

Holder-Men Visit Huskies
For Final IIA Loop Tilt;
Point For Kansas City

By Dave Kennedy

The Illinois Intercollegiate Athletic Conference champions, with the record won and the pressure temporarily off, are relaxing this week with only one scheduled game, yet to be played before they take the road for Kansas City March 30. Coach Loui Holden will take his Maroons up to DeKalb tomorrow for a last tilt in conference competition in a game which won't mean a thing as far as their final standings is concerned.

In Kuhl, in the role of point-scorer, has knocked the Maroons out of a football championship for the last 20 years, in the season's final game. The stage was set for him to have another chance at blasting Southern title hopes until the Maroons went wild against Normal last Monday to crown the season.

DeKalb, despite their three and four record in recent play this year, is not to be taken lightly. A look at Maroons game last week, just after Maroons had edged out Charleston, who, you remember, have given the Maroons only their only setback this year. The Maroons will be fighting to prove themselves undefeated third place in the standings and will probably prove it to be a tough nut to crack.

The other conference game left on the schedule sees Maroons meet Normal. Normal and DeKalb are present day in the standings with three and four wins each. Maroons will wish to win to meet final stage. Normal, of course, has a tight hold on the championship.
