Maroons Take Over IIAC Lead By Defeating Huskies

By Fusion Harris

Despite the presence of sharp shooters John Samuel and Donn McNeal, who scored 10 points each, and Quentin Simon, who scored 15 points in the first half, the Maroons were able to take a commanding lead at the end of the game. Two of the Northern Iowa players had five personal foul credits against them, making it difficult for them to gain possession of the ball. This was a result of the Maroons' defensive strategy, which included pressuring the ballhandler and denying them easy passes. The Maroons' strategy worked, as they were able to hold the Huskies to just 49 points, while scoring 71 themselves. The game was played in front of a sold-out crowd at the Evans Center, which added to the excitement of the game.

Cagers Travel To Normal Saturday; Chicago Here Wed.

By Bob Curtis

Southern's Maroons journey to Normal tonight for a conference game with the rebuilding Rabinowitz of Illinois State Normal University.

Next home game will be on February 5, when the Maroons take the floor against the University of Chicago Maroons in the first meeting between the two schools. Chicago, which has been leading the Midwest Conference in sportsmanship, hosts a record season of three wins and eight losses.

Normal's conference record is three and five victories, which is just opposite to the Southern record of three conference wins and two losses.

On Saturday, however, the Maroons' defense will be tested against the powerful offense of the Normal Blue Jays.
