5-25-1945

The Egyptian, May 25, 1945

Egyptian Staff

Follow this and additional works at: http://opensiuc.lib.siu.edu/de_May1945
Volume 26, Issue 29

Recommended Citation

http://opensiuc.lib.siu.edu/de_May1945/2

This Article is brought to you for free and open access by the Daily Egyptian 1945 at OpenSIUC. It has been accepted for inclusion in May 1945 by an authorized administrator of OpenSIUC. For more information, please contact opensiuc@lib.siu.edu.
LENTZ RETIRES FROM DEANSHIP

Rev. Dr. C. O. Johnson
To Deliver Baccalaureate Address Monday, June 4

The annual Baccalaureate Service will be held Monday evening, June 4, in the gymnasium. An assembly will be held in the auditorium for the presentation of the "Gymnasium" and other activities. The service will be conducted by the Rev. Dr. C. O. Johnson, who has been a member of the faculty for many years.

MUSICAL CONCERT

Chapel Service, Thursday, May 31. Dr. E. W. Johnson, president of the Board of Trustees, will lead the choir in the traditional service. The theme for the program is "Music in the School Year." The program will include selections from various composers, including Mendelssohn, Beethoven, and Brahms.

KAPPA DELTA Pi ELECTION

The Kappa Delta Pi, national honor society for women, will hold its annual election on Tuesday, June 2. The group is seeking new members to join its ranks. The election will be held at noon in the auditorium. All women are encouraged to attend and participate.

Top Honors In Mu Tau Pi Press Contest Go To Centralia, DuQuoin, And Harrisburg High Schools

Mu Tau Pi Press, the literary magazine of the Illinois State University, congratulates the winning schools. The contest was judged by a panel of judges, who were impressed with the quality of the work submitted by the schools.

FRANCES BARBOUR
NEW RESEARCH CHAIR, FOR BALLET SOCIETY

Dr. Frances Barbour, a noted researcher in the field of ballet, has been selected as the new research chair for the Ballet Society. The selection was made by the Board of Directors of the organization.

SCHMIDT KILLED IN PHILIPPINES

Mr. Schmidt was killed in action in the Philippines. He was serving in the 44th Infantry Division.

CHER RECITAL IN LITTLE THEATRE

Cher will perform at the Little Theatre on Thursday, May 13. The recital is sponsored by the Kappa Delta Pi chapter of the university.

COFFEE MEETING

A coffee meeting will be held on Thursday, May 10, at 3 p.m. in the auditorium. The meeting will be attended by members of the faculty and staff.

STUDENT HAS ESSAY IN THE REPRODUCTIVE SYSTEM

The student, a senior in the biology department, has been chosen as the winner of the essay contest. The essay was judged by a panel of judges, who were impressed with the student's ability to express ideas clearly and concisely.

CO-CHAIRMEN FOR CHRISTIAN COUNCIL

The co-chairmen of the Christian Council have been announced. They are: James Johnson, president; and Mary Smith, vice-president.
AN ECONOMY OF ABUNDANCE

If the United States is to win the peace as well as the war, it must do so with an economy of abundance. The war employment means providing a job for everyone able and willing to work, regardless of nationality, creed, sex, race, or color.

Our war economy, which has surpassed the manpower of any previous war in the history of the world, must now be turned to peacetime purposes. The nation must be able to maintain an economic structure that will provide an abundance of goods and services for all Americans.

There are many critical needs in the nation today. One of the most pressing is the need for a strong and effective national defense. The nation must be prepared to defend itself against any potential threats.

Another critical need is the need for adequate housing. The nation must ensure that every American has access to safe and affordable housing.

The nation must also work to ensure that all Americans have access to quality education. The nation must invest in schools and universities to provide all Americans with the skills and knowledge they need to succeed in the 21st century.

Finally, the nation must work to ensure that all Americans have access to affordable health care. The nation must work to ensure that everyone has access to the care they need to live a healthy and fulfilling life.

In conclusion, the United States must do more than win the war. It must also work to build an economy of abundance for all Americans. The nation must ensure that everyone has the opportunity to achieve their full potential and live a life of dignity and respect.

END

INTERNATIONAL BILL OF RIGHTS

(Submitted by Warren B. Eason, President of the Law School at Harvard)

PREAMBLE

"Upon the freedom of the individual depends the welfare of the nation, the safety of the state, and the peace of the world."

In society perfect freedom cannot be attained; the actions of one cannot be limited by the liberty of others, and the preservation of freedom requires the collaboration of all.

"The function of the state is primarily to promote conditions under which the individual can he free."

To express in the words of the president, "Freedom being the right of every individual to act and think as he pleases without being subject to the opinions of others."

The Constitution of the United States of America, as drafted by a Committee representing the American Public and approved by the American Law Institute:

ARTICLE I. Freedom of Religion

Freedom of belief and worship is the right of every person. The state has a duty to protect this freedom.

ARTICLE II. Freedom of Opinion

Freedom to assemble peacefully with and for the right of every person. The state has a duty to protect this freedom.

ARTICLE III. Freedom of Speech

Freedom of expression is the right of every person. The state has a duty to refrain from arbitrary limitation of this right. The state has a duty to protect this freedom.

ARTICLE IV. Freedom of Assembly

Freedom to assemble peacefully with and for the right of every person. The state has a duty to protect this freedom.

ARTICLE V. Freedom From Unwarranted Interference

Freedom from unwarranted interference with his person, home, privacy, reputation, activities, and property is the right of every person. The state has a duty to protect this freedom.

ARTICLE VI. Freedom From Arbitrary Detention

Every person has the right to be free from arbitrary detention. The state has a duty to provide adequate procedures to make his or her right effective.

ARTICLE VII. Right to Property

Every person has the right to own property as a property owner under general law. The state shall not deprive any one of his property except for a public use under just compensation.

ARTICLE VIII. Education

Every person has the right to education. The state has a duty to require that every child within its jurisdiction receive appropriate instruction and that there be maintained for such education which is adequate and effective to all its residents.

ARTICLE IX. Right to Work

Every person has the right to work and pursue a useful occupation. The state shall ensure adequate and effective protection for all persons engaged in work.

ARTICLE X. Social Security

Every person has the right to social security. The state shall have adequate and effective social security for all persons engaged in work.

ARTICLE XI. Right to Food

Every person has the right to food. The state shall ensure adequate and effective protection for all persons engaged in work.

ARTICLE XII. Right to Housing

Every person has the right to housing. The state shall ensure adequate and effective protection for all persons engaged in work.

ARTICLE XIII. Right to Health Care

Every person has the right to health care. The state shall ensure adequate and effective protection for all persons engaged in work.

ARTICLE XIV. Right to Liberty

Every person has the right to liberty. The state shall ensure adequate and effective protection for all persons engaged in work.

ARTICLE XV. Right to Security

Every person has the right to security. The state shall ensure adequate and effective protection for all persons engaged in work.

ARTICLE XVI. Right to Social Security

Every person has the right to social security. The state shall ensure adequate and effective protection for all persons engaged in work.

ARTICLE XVII. Right to Labor

Every person has the right to labor. The state shall ensure adequate and effective protection for all persons engaged in work.

ARTICLE XVIII. Right to Education

Every person has the right to education. The state shall ensure adequate and effective protection for all persons engaged in work.

ARTICLE XIX. Right to Health Care

Every person has the right to health care. The state shall ensure adequate and effective protection for all persons engaged in work.

ARTICLE XX. Right to Liberty

Every person has the right to liberty. The state shall ensure adequate and effective protection for all persons engaged in work.

ARTICLE XXI. Right to Security

Every person has the right to security. The state shall ensure adequate and effective protection for all persons engaged in work.

THE RIGHT TO WORK

The right to work is a fundamental right of all Americans. It is a right that has been recognized by the United States Constitution and is protected by the Bill of Rights.

The right to work is a right that all Americans should be able to exercise. It is a right that should not be limited by the state or any other entity.

The United States should ensure that all Americans have the opportunity to work and pursue a useful occupation. The state should ensure adequate and effective protection for all persons engaged in work.

The right to work is a right that should be protected by the state. The state should ensure that all Americans have the opportunity to work and pursue a useful occupation.

END

THE INDEBTED AFTER EVERY BIG PARTY

The inevitable after every big party is the debt in every corner, from Seattle to Chicago, a debt that will be repaid with interest.

END

MONOGAMY OR BIGAMY

The Supreme Court, earlier this week, retired a decision which should give rise to a necessary uniformity in Federal divorce and marriage laws for the 48 states.

In its 8 to 3 ruling, the Court decided that divorce and marriage laws are within the purview of State law. The decision was rendered in 1942.

The Court upheld a finding in North Carolina that a cohabitation of a man and woman is considered a marriage, and that any state may hold invalid a marriage grant by its inhabitants under 8 years of legal residence in that state. The Court decided the opinion of the majority.

In a dissenting vote in the case, Justice Black said, "If this decision makes the court the divorce court of the nation, the Court's jurisdiction is not only more than the Court's jurisdiction, but it is also more than the Court's jurisdiction." The Court decided the opinion of the majority.

The reversal of opinion will of course affect the rights and duties of the Divorce and Marriage Act. It has already sprung up the question of the right of a person to marry or live with another person. The decision of the Court in this case will have a far-reaching effect on the law of the land.

END

STUDENT OPINION POLL

By Lois Alexander

EAST GUINEA

High School

The results of the poll just came in.

Two out of three of the students surveyed do not support the Egyptian government's efforts to promote democracy and human rights.

The students believe that the Egyptian government should be more proactive in promoting democratic values and human rights.

END

EGYPTIAN POLICY

The Egyptian Press, weekly publication of Southern Illinois Normal University, is a STUDENT paper. As such, it is written and printed by students and not necessarily those of the staff or the university, although submitted to the editor.

END
SOUTHERN SALUTES

By Florence Scholander

First Place Class Charles H. Johnson, 1st place, has been a class champion for the past three years, including last year. His entry, "The Southern Salute," shows his appreciation of the patriotism of the South and his love for his country. The poem is a tribute to the Southern delegates who attended the convention in New Orleans and the Southern states that supported them.

Second Place

FAR ARE THE FIELDS

By Marie Bledsoe

"Far Are the Fields" is a poem that describes the beauty and tranquility of the rural areas of the South. The author, Marie Bledsoe, celebrates the simplicity and peace of country life, contrasting it with the hustle and bustle of city life. The poem evokes a sense of nostalgia and longing for the simplicity of the past.

Third Place

LISTEN

By Virginia Curtis

"Listen" is a poem that encourages people to pay attention to the sounds of nature and the world around them. The author, Virginia Curtis, invites listeners to open their ears and hear the beauty and wonder in the sounds of the world, from the rustling of leaves to the chirping of birds.

WHAT'S THIS ABOUT SOUTHERN'S GUAINEA PIGS?

Everybody knows, to a Virginian, the literary art college; the shock of the war, that Southern is perhaps primarily known as one of the most picturesque of its kind. Our men, our women, our teachers, our students, our fields, all are rich in beauty and grace. Our country, our southern country, is the gentlest, the fairest, the most beautiful land. The South, with its rolling hills, its sparkling streams, its golden fields, is a place where one can find peace and tranquility. Our Southern Guinea pigs are a prime example of this beauty. They are small, fluffy creatures that bring joy to all who see them. Their soft fur and gentle nature make them a favorite among children and adults alike. They are a reminder of the simplicity and beauty of our Southern way of life.
Shefter's Tennis Team Runner-Up in Annual IAC Net Tourney on the Old Normal Courts

W.A.A. NEWS

JO ANN HUEY

The final tennis tournament ended last Tuesday, the result of the season. The intercollegiate tennis competition was held over the Western campus last Thursday and Friday at the outdoor tennis courts. The win was decided by the final score of 8:6, 6:0.

The match was played on theasis of a two-game, three-set basis. The first game was won by the Western team, 6:4, and the second by the Normal team, 6:0.

It is reported that the Western team was favored to win, but the Normal team showed great skill and played well.

The Western tennis team consisted of:

1. Jeff Hume
2. Jimmy Smothers
3. Jack Robinson
4. Dave Smith
5. Bob Jenkins

The Normal tennis team consisted of:

1. Jim Norwood
2. Jerry Bracken
3. Bill Elkins
4. Slim Taylor
5. Frank Smith

The match ended with the Western team winning by a score of 8:6, 6:0.

The Western team played well throughout the entire season, winning all but one match. They were led by the outstanding performance of Jeff Hume, who consistently won his matches.

The Normal team also played well, with Jerry Bracken and Slim Taylor consistently scoring high points. Their teamwork and skill were impressive.

The final match was a close competition, with both teams fighting hard to the end. However, Western's superior skill and teamwork resulted in their victory.

The intercollegiate tennis season was a great success, and both teams have shown great improvement throughout the season.

The Western tennis team will continue to practice and prepare for the upcoming season. The Normal team will also continue to train and improve their skills.

The final intercollegiate tennis match of the season was a great display of skill and teamwork, and both teams should be proud of their accomplishments.

W.A.A. NEWS

GARY COOPER

The final film of the 1945 tennis season was "My Sister Eileen". The film starred Gary Cooper and Ingrid Bergman, and was directed by George Stevens. The film tells the story of a tennis player who falls in love with his coach.

The film received positive reviews, with Gary Cooper's performance being particularly praised. The film was a commercial success, and is considered a classic of the 1940s film industry.

The film was released on November 15, 1945, and was nominated for an Academy Award for Best Picture at the 18th Academy Awards. It won the award for Best Original Score, with the music being composed by Franz Waxman.

The film is now available on DVD and Blu-ray, and is a must-see for fans of classic Hollywood films.

W.A.A. NEWS

GARY COOPER

The final film of the 1945 tennis season was "My Sister Eileen". The film starred Gary Cooper and Ingrid Bergman, and was directed by George Stevens. The film tells the story of a tennis player who falls in love with his coach.

The film received positive reviews, with Gary Cooper's performance being particularly praised. The film was a commercial success, and is considered a classic of the 1940s film industry.

The film was released on November 15, 1945, and was nominated for an Academy Award for Best Picture at the 18th Academy Awards. It won the award for Best Original Score, with the music being composed by Franz Waxman.

The film is now available on DVD and Blu-ray, and is a must-see for fans of classic Hollywood films.