Enrollments to Double by '75

Master Plan Warns Eductors Of Approaching College Crisis

More students attend college in Illinois than in England, Ireland, Sweden, Norway and Denmark combined. This is one of the statements in the proposed provisional master plan for higher education in Illinois. Illinois public and private colleges and universities enroll some 240,000 resident students plus another 17,500 in extension courses for credit, the study found. "The total enrollments in Illinois' higher education are virtually equal to the total of Germany... and are greater than any other European country except the Soviet Union." The report cites the rapid expansion of enrollment which has already taken place and "the further growth that lies ahead."

"As recently as the 1933-34 school year, the six state universities enrolled only 15,684 resident students. Their greatest enrollment before World War II was 20,844. As recently as 1953-54, their enrollments totaled only 31,847. Today they total 76,772."

"It is evident that a problem of great urgency has been brought about in our state colleges and universities alone, and are greater than any other European country except the Soviet Union."

PRIZE WINNER - This silk quilt, made more than 70 years ago by Mrs. Alice Morris Beal, has been presented to the historical collection of the School of Home Economics. It was won in the blue ribbons at the Illinois State Fair. Two of Mrs. Beal's descendants, Frank Bridges (left) and R.E. Bridges, Jr. display the quilt to Ritta Whitesel, associate professor of home economics.

Prize-Winning Quilt of 1890's Added to Home Ec Collection

A silk quilt that won state fair blue ribbons in the '90s has been presented to the SIU School of Home Economics for the historic collection of homemaking articles.

Each tiny scrap of colorful silk held its special significance and Mrs. Alice Morris Beal of Johnson County grew fond of it, skill and the quilt on five years. She started the quilt in 1885 and finished it in 1890.

Pieces of tins worn by her grandchildren, Miss Andrew Jackson Kuykendall, while waiting in Congress after the military service in the Union Army, and some flags she waved to conventions of the then-young Republican Party, are found in the quilt, as is Frank Bridges, Jr.'s trousser hat.

The quilt, which Eileen E. Quigley, dean of the School of Home Economics, rates as "one of the finest and most colorful I have ever seen," is machine-woven with rich purple velvet, elaborately embroidered. The pieces are embellished with gold cross-stiches.

Donors of the quilt are Mrs. Beal's daughter, Mrs. Bridges Beal of Los Angeles, Calif., and Mrs. R.E. (Essie Beal) Bridges Sr. of Vienna, who is now residing in a nursing home in Jackson County. The quilt was obtained for the home economics collection by Mrs. Bridges' step-children, R.E. Bridges Jr., Frank Bridges, and Mrs. Julia Beal, all of Carbondale.

Mrs. Bridges Sr. was formerly Mrs. Arthur Wehner and lived at Galatia for many years, Miss Beal formerly lived in Zelizer and on recent trips to St. Louis visited friends there and in Carbondale.

British Troops Reinforce Aden

LONDON—Britain ordered more troops to Aden Tuesday in preparation for stronger action to defend its base guarding British oil investments in the Persian Gulf. Defense sources said 600 men of the Lancashire Fusiliers, plus a tactical headquarters from Northern Ireland, would be airlifted immediately from Aden and Prince of Wales Barracks at the southwest tip of the Arabian Peninsula.

They will bring British strength in Aden to about 3,000 men, backed by jets of the Royal Air Force.

Their immediate task, informed sources said, would be a punitive expedition against tribalmen fighting a guerrilla war against the British-protected South Arabian Federation, which plus the Aden crown colony with the 14 sheikdoms of the former South Aden protectorate stretching along the south coast of the peninsula.

The long-term objective is to convince the guerrillas, Yemen's republican regime and President Gamal Abdul Nasser of Egypt that the South Arabian Republic that Britain will not be driven out of its Aden base. A source close to defense sources considered essential to the protection of Western oil interests in the peninsula as well as a staging post on the Commonwealth defense line to the Far East.

Gus Bode...
Don’t Fence Us In

One of the more interesting pastimes of campus election week is observing the jockeying of various campus groups for positions which have not been endorsed by whom, where alliances are rumored, or who the campus politicians are betting on.

This year the Daily Egyptian has not endorsed a candidate for student body president. We presented their platforms Tuesday. They contain nothing warranting a special effort either for or against one of the slates. We are aware of no issue where an Egyptian endorsement would serve the public interest.

In the past the Egyptian has endorsed candidates. It should do so in the future if the campus interest merits it.

A sense of proportion is also useful here. Our endorsement might solidify a trend, but it would not be earth-shaking. We happen to feel that you, the voters, have the candidates assessed already.

High-Flying Gymnast Aspires To Even More Lofty Heights

By Alan Goldfarb

Frank Schmitz spends a great deal of his life in the air. He intends to conquer the inner strata in more ways than one.

Frank Schmitz currently spends his time only about 15 feet in the air, but he intends to go much higher than that one day.

In case you’re wondering what he does up there and in case you’re wondering who Frank Schmitz is, Steve NCAA gymnastics coach Mike Meade thinks that he is one of the top – trampoline prospects in the country – and he’s only a freshman. Schmitz comes from Lafayette, La., where most people have probably never heard of a trampoline, just returned from a tour of South Africa, where he represented the United States Gymnastics Federation.

Touring through Cape Town, Johannesburg, Port Elizabeth, East London and Durban, moving about every village and town in South Africa, Schmitz was one of the Americans to compete against the South Africans in the South African Games.

“The tour was somewhat like the gymnastics Peace Corps,” said Schmitz, “just white teeth flashing against his well-tanned face,” he explained. Schmitz is a co-captain of the 1967 NCAA trampoline team, and a two-time All-American. Last year, Schmitz won five of the six meets, as did the American contingent. The only person I’ve seen to date who can match Schmitz is Dan Harbaugh, Ken and Tim Ryan.

FRANK SCHMITZ (who doesn’t speak like one) broke down and cried.

He was happy.

Besides crying, Frank also laughs a lot. He loves to clown around. Southern fans might have remembered two kooks! performing pizzazz stunts and often off the trampoline between halves of a Saluki basketball game.

The two clowns were Schmitz and another outstanding freshman prospect, Brent “Miami” Williams.

Without any reservations or modesty, Schmitz said that Southern has the three best tumblers in the country – himself, Williams and Steve Whalcock. Unfortunately, the NCAAs are eliminating the event from dual meet competition next year.

Nevertheless, and despite the fact that he is only a freshman and the Salukis will lose national champ Rusty Mitchell next year, Schmitz didn’t hesitate to assert that “We (SIU) will definitely win the NCAA championship again.”

As far as he’s concerned, he says his chances are pretty good for an NCAA Blue Ribbon on the trampoline next year. He’ll probably be in the top six in vaulting (long horse) and free exercise when the Salukis host the NCAA championships.

Frank is also a driver. He does for the Saluki freshmen in a few meets this year, but it took up too much of his time. Next year he intends to enter a few meets for the varsity.

The trampoline and diving are somewhat similar in that both are in the air half the time. But the altitude that he hits will be nothing compared to the heights he’ll probably reach upon graduation from Southern.

As one of his older brothers, Frank wants to become an aerospace engineer, physical Education major, but doesn’t really want to teach gymnastics. Right now he just wants his college degree and to keep up with his gymnastics.

Most important to him, though, is flying. He’s under training – good training – bouching his small frame off the trampoline or off a diving board. He’ll probably be flying pretty high next year, or the next three years, as he is probably one of the top threats in collegiate gymnastics in the country.

Frank Schmitz is a flyer!

FLYING HIGH – That’s Frank Schmitz, completing a trick on his specialty, the trampoline.

Texas Tour Games Uncounted
In Baseball Squad's Record

With Southern's baseball season half over, the Salukis have already chalked up 10 straight wins and no defeats. The Salukis won three of the 12 games played on the spring tour in Texas, but these games will not be counted in the overall team record.

However, in the individual statistics department, records are kept from all 22 games.

Collins leads in hits with 26, followed by Peludat and Siebel with 20 apiece. Long is out in front in the RBI department with 18 while Siebel is close on his heels with 15, followed by Pratte with 12.

Siebel has also scored the most times, crossing the plate 16 times. Pratte leads in home runs with two while Collins, Long and Peludat have rapped one each. Collins leads in doubles with seven, and is tied with Bernstein for triples.

In the pitching department, Hotz has compiled a 6-1 record when the "other half" of the Saluki mound staff, Gene Vincent, has a 6-2 over-all record.

Hotz has been most effective, however, with an earned run average of just 1.32 for 52 2/3 innings, Vincent's ERA is 4.26.

During the regular season, both pitchers have been near perfect as Vincent has allowed three earned runs while Hotz has only allowed four. Overall, Hotz has given up 41 hits, 10 runs (9 earned), 18 walks and 56 strike outs. Vincent has given up 41 hits, 10 runs (7 earned), 18 walks and 56 strike outs.

As a team, the Salukis are batting a lofty .286.

THE TROUBLE WITH SPORTS SHIRTS IS WHEN YOU WEAR AN ORDINARY TIE WITH ONE YOU LOOK LIKE A GANGSTER

However, there are times that are a little too dressy for an unadorned throat (as when you're wearing a blazer), and for these the Ascot is finding increasing favor. Women apparently find them madly attractive, and men like their go-to-hell feel once they get around to wearing them. The Ascot is the same as though we ran transverse stripes in the same colors across your neck, inside the collar, and loop one end over the other below your Adam's apple, and loop it back door. If you don't know where that would be, drop a line to Miss Afflerbach and she'll write right back with the news.

Freshman Fined On Theft Charge

Strike Is Ended At Edwardsville

Stark members of labor union Local 179 have agreed to return to work on a construction project at the SIU Edwardsville campus, according to the Associated Press.

They walked off the job two weeks ago, causing a layoff of skilled workers. General contractor for the project is the Prairie-Cotton Construction Co. of St. Louis.

A spokesman for the laborers said they objected to certain working conditions which the company agreed to correct.

Under construction is $12 million in new buildings on the campus.
