A few weeks ago Prof. R. E. Mucklesey inaugurated the members of the Ag Club with the germ of pie-supper fever. Most of these folks come from rural districts where the disease is prevalent in the fall of the year, so the epidemic spread rapidly until it reached its climax on Wednesday night. November 16. At seven o'clock about two hundred young people gathered in the gym for a regular country pie-supper.

The first part of the evening was spent in listening to some excellent music furnished by the orchestra, and in playing games into which nearly everyone entered whole-hearted.

Then you should have seen Prof. Pelis in the role of auctioneer! The pie had been given fictitious names and were sold as buzzard pie, grasshopper pie, meat pie, and other equally palatable names. After while Stata Lafcani took Mr. Pelis' place and proved that in the future his voice might be fortunate. But either Stata played out or else Warren wanted to exhibit his skill, for Warren took his place on the auctioneer's box.

When the pie had been sold a lovely box of candy was offered to the prettiest girl present. After much discussion and much voting at one cent a vote the decision was given in favor of Miss Andrea Ross, who was then presented with the candy. Then in the same way the honored president of the Ag Club, Ralph Warren, and Miss Luise Watson, were given a jar of pickles, after it had been decided they were their most love-sick couple present. Finally, a pair of socks, striped and loud enough for the most fastidious person, was offered to the man having the dirtiest feet. Mr. Pelis and Mr. Mucklesey both had many loyal friends working for them, but it ended in a tie between them so that it was necessary to give them each one sock. (Watch for the striped sock sometime soon.)

THINGS WE NEVER LEARN

Retroactive grades.
To take credit examinations.
Not to talk in the library.
Not to speed our cars.
Hey, diddle, diddle, the cat and theiddle.
The cow jumped over the moon.

Prof. Mucklesey laughed to see the sport and cried, "That shows what scientific farming will do!"

Bible Club Class

There has been a Bible Study class organized under the Y. M. C. A. which will meet in the Association Hall at 6:00 o'clock every Tuesday to spend thirty minutes in the study of the Bible. The meetings will begin and close promptly.

There were twenty boys out for the first meeting. Every one is invited to join the class, or if you don't care to join, you are welcome to attend any of the meetings. If you wish to know more about this class see Coren Walker.

Daisy vs. Poppy

The adoption of the daisy as the American Legion's official flower, in place of the French poppy has caused many questions as to why, by persons who were not present to the reason. The committee on Memorials faced the difficulties in obtaining the French flower in its natural state and the objections to wearing the artificial poppy. The daisy, it advised, is a distinctive American flower easily obtainable in all parts of the country.

As a part of this, I believe, is a feeling not so delicately as forcefully expressed by the following poem by J. Eugene Christman:

Normal Unbeaten
In Five Years

With the team's victory over Charleston on the 18th closed another season in which the team has not met with defeat on the home field. Five years all sold in which no team has left Carbondale victorious. Away back in 1916 the C. B. C. team of St. Louis carried the game away 10-6. On the season preceding St. Louis University defeated us. So the Normal team has gone through seven years now without defeat by an Illinois team. In the fall of 1914 Charleston had the pleasure of walking off with the score of 21-7. Here we have a record that every loyal Normalite should be proud of. That is, football teams that have not lost but one conference game on our own gridiron in eight years and not one in the last seven seasons.

STOUT—SHARP

Miss Viola Stout, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Stout, and Fred Sharp, of Hurst, where he is principal of the Hurst schools, were married at Murphysboro about 5 o'clock at the Baptist parsonage by its pastor, Rev. Abbott.

The romance which has culminated in the marriage had its inception while the groom was attending the Normal. They will make their home at Hurst.

SOCRATIC

In spite of the rain, the society hall was crowded last Friday night. The play, "Bashful Mr. Bobs," given by Grace Frederick was a rare treat. Considerable annoyance was caused by the lights going on and off, but by means of flash-lights the play was continued.

The ability to produce a play of this type has always been one of the things in which the Socratic Society has always excelled. Friday night's program was no exception to this rule. We aim to continue giving high class programs.

SOCRATIC NEWS

In spite of the rain, the society hall was crowded last Friday night. The play, "Bashful Mr. Bobs," given by Grace Frederick was a rare treat. Considerable annoyance was caused by the lights going on and off, but by means of flash-lights the play was continued.

The ability to produce a play of this type has always been one of the things in which the Socratic Society has always excelled. Friday night's program was no exception to this rule. We aim to continue giving high class programs.

The special musical program given by the Zetetic Literary Society dedicating the new baby piano was a brilliant close of a well-nigh perfect day. Two hundred and eleven persons were present to enjoy the program. In the past six weeks this society has surpassed all previous years both in attendance and in the quality of programs. It has become an honor to be called a "Zetet.

When President Walker turned over the gavel to Mr. "Ted" Carson he remarked in truth and without boasting that the society was stronger than it had ever been before. At the end of a ringing cheer full of Zetetic pay the new president expressed his appreciation of the honor conferred upon him and a desire for the co-operation of the members.

The other newly elected officers are Usher, Howard Warder; Vice-President, Della Hall; Secretary, Elizabeth Weir; Corresponding Secretary, Lydia Walker.

We are expecting our new officers to take charge at once. We are already substitutes for those who will be absent on the job. The the success of the society rests not with them alone but with the organization as a whole. Come, fellow Zetets, let us one and all, do our bit. This society will be what you make it and no more. We are doing things now! Keep the ball rolling!
OPOSSUM HUNT

The members of Miss Steagall's Zoology class went on an opossum hunt last Thursday night. They left in cars at dark and went about three miles north of town, to the bottom. I said, "Where is the opossum?" but the mud holes didn't have any bottom.

With the aid of a good guide and several dogs the hunt was very successful. Of course we didn't catch enough for the banquet, but that couldn't be expected in one night's trip.

The tripe finally turned into a midnight lunch. Then after another trip into the woods we journeyed home.

The opossums will be nice and fat for the banquet which you will hear more about later.

SENIOR COLLEGE NOTES

Chas. Saltgast it is reported is extremely interested in making microscope slides. When the snow falls he expects to make a complete set to illustrate the different forms of snow flakes.

Miss Frederick, our class prophetess, announces a war between the sexes to come about the year 1925 A.D.

Mr. Halter has finished digging up about fifty feet of sewer pipe in his back yard. He is putting into practice those principles on erosion which Mr. Coyer enunciates in theory.

Gail Creager—"Mr. Butler, I can't find those forms of bacteria which you mentioned."—"Oh, yes.

Mr. Halter—"Thinking of microscope parts,—No wonder you've got your nose twisted."

Charles Watkins and Grace Frederick usually spend chapel time in talking to each other. We wonder why.

The Zoology class last Friday discussed ways and means of living insects for human food.

A few days ago a black cat swanned into Mr. Coyer's room. We nearly cried to adopt it for a class mascot when someone objected on the grounds that it might bring bad luck so for our luck has been excellent. The class reporter is very sleepy and can keep only one eye open at a time. We will now close with a few words by Charlotte Greer.

ROBINSON-WEAVER

Announcement is made of the marriage of Miss Alice Lee Weaver and Mr. Fletcher Robinson of Paducah Ky., which occurred at the Methodist parsonage on that place Saturday, the 30th, with only the immediate relatives of both attending.

The bride is well known in Carbondale, having attended the normal several years and making her home with her aunt, Mrs. Carrie Neffager.

She was a member of the Normal orchestra. She was also one of the first members of the Okeilum Club Fire and is the first to leave camp for her own home.

The groom is a farmer of Livingston, Ky. He served in the world war and was a first class seaman in the balloon corps.

EXCHANGES

We notice in "The Barb" that Mary Merrison, '16, is teaching mathematics there.

The following new exchanges have come to our desk this week:

ANTHONY HALL NEWS

Mrs. Ross, from Sparta, came down Thursday to spend the week end with her daughter, Audre.

Marie Warford, Faye Chambers, Mary Peace, and Colet O'Sullivan drove over to Marion in Marie's machine last Sunday, and spent the day at the home of Miss Violet Spillar.

It has been suggested that we have the orchestra play over at Anthony Hall during the noon hour, provided we continue having soup each day for dinner.

Another party which was in the form of a house party took place at the home of James Bennett last week end, down at Madison. The party consisted of six left Carbondale early Saturday morning, and returning last Sunday night. The members of this merry crowd were: Audre Ross, Nellie Thiele, James Bennett, Ralph Warren, and "Slats" Valentine.

Miss Belva Hunter was on the sick list a few days last week.

Misses Maude Brannon and Gladys Smith entertained with a week-end party at their homes in Marion last week-end. The Carbondale guests were, Irene Duckworth and Lucretia Hendrich.

Guy Hogg '11 writes and states he is in Troy this year. He is assistant principal of the High School. Ray Ford '11 is principal. Guy says, "I am in Troy, but there are so many people here, I can't make up my mind which to choose."

SING. SING. SING.

Did you ever watch the students and the faculty sing the Alma Mater song? I sure hope that you haven’t for it is one sad sight. Just think that three fourths of the students have to use a book. Some of them have been here for six years. Last week every one of the members of the faculty used a book but one and he didn’t even sing. Some of them have been here for over forty years.

What do you do when you are out on the field where there are not any books? I guess you follow the crowd and not sing at all.

Come on, gang, pull together. Get after and learn those words.

ZETETIC ORCHESTRA

The Zetetic Society is very fortunate this year in having a very fine orchestra. They not only give a selection at society each evening but they play for about fifteen minutes before the program begins. Come out early next Friday and hear the concert before society. The orchestra is composed of the following members:

Piano: Dilla Hall
Viola: Ralph Turner
Frank Minter
Base Violin: Lynn McCormack
Horns: Deneen Watson, Coret Walker, Herbert Jay, John Page
Wham.
Trombone: Phillip Allen
Saxophone: Kennon Renfro
Drums: Homer Laney

The society also has a group which is known as the Zetetic Four. They have become so popular that they are asked to play at other gatherings. The organization contains:

Piano: Herb Ayer
Viola: Ralph Turner
Frank Minter
Base Violin: Lynn McCormack

Bachelors Plentiful

The largest collection of bachelors in the world is in the United States according to the census bureau report. There being 27,461 unmarried men over twenty-five years of age scattered throughout the country. The figures show that in the United States there are also 300,998 unmarried women over twenty-five years of age scattered throughout the country. There are the distinguishing of the greatest excess of females in the population, being 400 females to 100 males. The city has a total of 7,852 females and 3,347 males. Gary, Ind., has 21,700 males and 28,350 females.

What are we going to do about those girls? There should not be so many bachelors.
It is the earnest desire of the Egyptian Staff that the students and faculty contribute to the success of this paper. You have ideas as to what is required to make a real live and substantial paper. We are thankful for such ideas. Perhaps some of our own ideas are wrong and you may know how to right them. Please tell us.

First that we may know that you are sincere in your resolutions that you intend them to be constructive and not destructive and that you really have a right to criticize, subscribe for the paper.

Several students and even some members of the faculty have not yet subscribed. Do you read it? Each member of the staff has subscribed, so have the directors.

Your money and your suggestions will be equally appreciated. But we prefer to have your money first.

STAND BY THE STUDENTS OF EUROPE—WHY

We take particular pride in the fact that the army of our students is greater this year than ever before. This is both significant and reassuring, particularly when it is considered how very recent was the time when the processes of life were distrusted by war and its early aftermath. The strenuous times demand that every man and woman attain a combination of intellectual, moral, and physical equipment which will enable them to become moving factors in the building of a forward-looking and hastening civilization. This partly explains the present enthusiasm in schools, colleges, and universities.

America may well feel proud of her educational opportunities and the possibilities resulting therefrom. But can America feel secure? Can she feel assured of the future, when in most of the countries of Europe, the student generation, which means the future intellectual fibre, is fighting against desperate odds for just that kind of education which hundreds of thousands of American students are obtaining under normal conditions and advantages?

We American students should feel the call of friendship and duty, and give of our supply to those suffering fellow creatures. That is one opportunity for us, as students to aid it, helping to work out a very important situation.

During 1920 relief operations had their beginning through the world's Student Christian Federation. American students contributed approximately $500,000. Contributions were made by 26 other countries. These relief measures administered to 70,000 European students in 120 different institutions of higher learning with an enrollment of 268,000 students.

The needs for 1921-22 have been augmented by Russia opening her doors. To provide relief, already uncertain, will require a minimum of $750,000. In order to secure this amount it will be necessary for the students of America to give at least $400,000.

S. L. N. U. had a part in the relief movement of 1920. Many schools have already responded liberally towards the work for 1921-22, among them several of our sister normal schools. Can S. L. N. U. fail to do her part? We, without hesitation, say, "No!" We must "line up" in order to worthy a cause. Give because we are glad to give.

A BURNING SITUATION

Time—Last Tuesday evening about 9 o'clock
Place—Girls dormitory S. L. N. U.
Scene—Girls at study, peace and quiet.

Hark! What was that? The Fire Alarm. "Fire! Fire! Fire!" Girls burst from their rooms and with a mad rush down the stairs, crowded the halls. It was indeed a frightened bunch of young ladies who, much alternated, ran to the front door of the Hall.

What? The firemen arrived so soon? A man stood in the door. A perspiring and very red-faced man they recognized Dewey Bush, a promising Senior.

"Oh, Dewey! Have you come to a recollection?" said a certain much tricked arry—and she thought seriously of swooning in his arms. But Dewey looked as if he were more interested in saving himself than in saving her.

It developed that Dewey had taken the fire alarm for the door bell.
prove Mr. Sherretz a man of extremely bad habits, totally unfit to wed a respectable girl. The defendant, admitting his previous engagement to Miss Barrow, proved that he had had very good reasons for breaking the engagement. Starting facts concerning the plaintiff were brought to light. Although the couple were engaged soon after the entrance of the United States into the world war, by mutual agreement the marriage was postponed indefinitely; for Miss Barrow offered her services as a Y.W.C.A. worker, and Mr. Sherretz was actively engaged in making patriotic speeches throughout the west. A few days before the impending wedding the defendant accidentally discovered that his fiancee had married a soldier in the earlier days of the war. Upon further investigation, with the aid of detectives, Mr. Sherretz found that his intended had not only married one soldier—but thirty; evidently for the purpose of collecting the $100 monthly allotment from each soldier husband.

With this preponderance of evidence, Attorney Watson, in a burst of eloquence, made the final plea.

After an anxious interval of waiting the jury returned and rendered the verdict, "The defendant not guilty." (There is a disturbing rumor that they were influenced in this verdict by a coin.)

A STUDENT'S OPPORTUNITY

Opportunity knocks at our door but once. Today, as young people we are looking forward to that great ideal, which we hope to attain. We cannot always depend upon our fathers and mothers, upon those on whom the burden of the day is resting. Today, we must launch out and assume the responsibility that is ours. The S.I.N.U., the institution of which we are so proud, has invited many a young man and young woman to set for themselves the right kind of ideals. The proficient faculty, the atmosphere of the surroundings, the social organizations, are opportunities that are ours. Inviting us to make of ourselves men and women of which the old S.I.N.U. may well be proud. Aside from our class-work the Y.M. and Y.W. Societies, debating Clubs, and many more organizations, are lines of training of which every student should be a participant. You may be a good disciplinarian, a good classroom teacher, but if you fail to avail yourself of the opportunity which makes for social efficiency, you are missing one of the big things that the S.I.N.U. offers, and the thing which

WHEN JENNIE WENT TO COLLEGE

When Jennie went to college,

Twas a great and glorious day,

When she kissed her dad and mother

Who were getting old and gray

She stiffened up her neck,

And told them both good-bye,

Trying hard to hide her feelings;

But she couldn't help but cry

"Twas a great and glorious morning

When sweet Jennie chose her fate

And went away to college,

Where I met her at the gate,

She was sweet, shy and noble

With a countenance so bright

That the powders on her face

Seldom made her look more white.

Every day I saw sweet Jennie,

As a college days went by,

And I hardly saw the changes

In the girl so sweet and shy

But somehow she isn't quite the girl she used to be.

She steps high in social circles

And is studying Campus-try—

You see her on the stage,

And about the college green.

And chatting in the windows,

Yet quite often she is seen.

Jenn has gained a lot of knowledge,

Since she to college came.

And her future prospects brighten,

She is on her road to fame.

But my Jennie, dear sweet Jennie,

You're not what I hoped you'd be.

For in culinary science

You don't know the first degree.

I am disappointed sadly.

For, my Jennie, you must know

That we men love the woman better

Who can cook and wash and news

LOOK OUT

"It was midnight in the ocean,

Not a street car was in sight.

The rising sun was setting;

And it rained all day that night.

"Twas a cold night, summer day in winter.

The snow was raining fast.

A barefoot boy with shoes on

Stood sitting in the grass.

While the organ peeled potatoes;

Lard was rennered by the choir.

While the sexton rang the church bell.

Someone set the church on fire.

"Smokey-boat!" the preacher shouted;

In the rush he lost his hair.

Now his head resembles Heaven;

For there is no parting there.

I wish I were a little rock

A-sitting on the hill.

I wouldn't do a thing the whole day long;

But just sitting sitting still.

I wouldn't work, I wouldn't eat,

I'd just sit a thousand years;

And rest myself. By Gosh!

WAYNE COUNTY

The students of Wayne County enjoyed a bonfire Saturday night, Nov. 2. They were sixteen in number. Their gathering at the usual place of such activities, the Bluffs. The refreshments were baked beans, bananas, marshmallows and bacon; which they broiled over the fire with the aid of long sticks, at which the girls were more adept than the boys. After all bag eaten their fill each one present told at least one story and one of the number favored the others with a solo. Short talks were made by the president of Wayne County organization, Mary Roberts, by the chaperson, Mr. Cline; and by the captain of the football team, Ted Carson.

Wayne County is proud of the fact that she has produced one member of the faculty, the football captain, '22, three senior college students and two seniors this year, and others who are very loyal to S. I. N. U. The good time closed by giving nine ranch for Wayne County, and nine for the chaperson.

CHOOSING YOUR SCHOOL ACTIVITIES

Why take part at all in activities outside the regular routine of school work? Why not study all the except while in classes or waste your time "doing nothing"? I shall give the following reasons for your work in the various school activities will bring out and develop your best qualities and your greatest strength. It will broaden your sympathies, sharpen your intellect, extend your mental horizon, and multiply your capabilities. Once in a while you will hear somebody telling how the or that work outside the lessons spoiled this or that young man. The truth is he failed to properly balance things. He was spoiled in spite of his activities, not because of them. People emphasize the failures of students who took part in school activities because they are not common. It is the strange and unusual that attracts attention. Because a few persons failed in school subjects on the account of too much outside work people speak often of these examples. They forget that the same activities at the same time were both life-saver and life-giver to ten times as many others.

"Study, but take part in school activities; if you can't be on the basketball or football team, get out and yell and be interested in what is going on. Join a literary society. Do work in a Christian Association. Y W C A or Y. W. C. A. Do something in Dramatic Art or Music or Painting; or even if you can't do any of these, last three, boost those who are and appreciate what they are trying to do. Be a booster and a helper in your class activities, and in doing those things, you will become more capable of studying. You will, best of all, learn how to meet and mingle with young men and women. You will discover yourself--your powers and possibilities, and your proper ambitions. This is the greatest discovery that anyone can make. Through close association with others you learn better to understand yourself--your abilities and limitations. Nowhere else are you so likely to find a friend who will teach you to lift your head above the clouds while you keep your feet firmly upon the ground. Don't make the sad mistake of learning only from books. Don't spend all your time reading of the duties of ancient kings. Get into the present! That's where you've got to live your life--elbow to elbow with the rest of the world. If you have really lived the full, useful, energetic life while in school, succeeding and falling by the side of your fellow students, when you have finished and are ready to begin life in earnest, you'll know how to read life and not merely books. You'll be abel to add to your friends, subtract from your enemies and multiply your interest in people. You'll be able to tackle the problems of real affairs, buying and selling, healing and preaching and everything else that has to do with the history we are now making.

WOMAN

A woman is queer; there's no doubt about that. She hates to be thin and she hates to be fat. One minute it's laughter, the next it's a cry. You can't understand her; however you try. But there's one thing about her which everyone knows. A woman's not dressed until she powders her nose.

You never can tell what a woman will say. She's a law to herself every hour of the day. It keeps the man guessing to know what to do. And mostly he's wrong when his guessing is through.

BRAIN

Do not make the man, nor clothes, nor property, nor skill, nor good looks.

Character

makes the man. Jesus Christ is the secret of the character. Learn the secret, know Christ. The church exalts Him.

EARL NOEL, Prop.

Mr. Wilson Addresses S. I. N. U. Students

The series of lectures given in the auditorium by J. Stitt Wilson, M. A., Berkeley, California, was both instructive and powerful.

These addresses were offered under the auspices of the Student's Department of the International Committee of the Y. M. C. A. The local associations of the S. I. N. U. were responsible for his coming here. They made the arrangements and financed the affair.

Mr. Wilson is a world-wide lecturer, having worked not only in practically every state in the union but in Canada and several years in Europe. The two associations were ably assisted in making preparations for his coming by the committees of 15, consisting of young men and women of various denominations, both Protestant and Catholic, serving together. He took the following as themes for his lectures:

I. The Master Objectives of the New Age. He discussed the four tremendous issues before the conscience and intelligence of mankind:
   (a) Inter-Racial.
   (b) International.
   (c) Economic and Social.
   (d) Spiritual and Personal.

II. The Master Principle of the New Age—Science.
   (a) Two Aspects of the Life-Principle.
   (1) Struggle for Self.
   (2) Struggle for Others.

III. The Master Principle in History.

IV. The Creators and Preservers of Democracy, or Practical Spiritual Genius.

When they first met he said, “a bear!”

He'd hug her footstool anywhere,

She monkeyed with him for a year,

Although she said he was a bear,

A little horseplay bleached the two,

Now he's the goat... It's notin' gu.

THE OBEISK

Within the past few years the growth of secondary schools in and about Southern Illinois has been exceedingly rapid. Probably the Townley High Schools have led in this race, due to the fact that their increase in enrollment continued unhindered through the major period of the war draft. Along with this increase in students came a general increase in school organizations and publications until at the present time there is hardly a school that does not support some sort of a school paper or a year-book.

Probably, without the slightest presumption the Southern Illinois Normal University may claim for itself the honor of being one of the first schools of this district to publish an annual. While this might have been expected from the size of the school, there is certainly no small amount of honor and praise due to those who unselfishly devoted themselves to the establishment of this publication.

It is the custom of the Senior Class to publish the Annual and while in many ways it reflects praise and honor on the Senior Class yet as a whole, it is intended to show the composite life of the students of this institution. All organizations and societies that bear upon the life of the students in a way are given their just and proper place.

Immeasurable good is sometimes the result of the work of these conscientious students and many of these creditable things are chronicled in this book for the students' pleasure in future life.

This year the class of 22 has elected Leo Gardner, Editor, and Lyndon Hancock, Business Manager. Mr. Warren graciously consented to act as Faculty Advisor and with his aid the majority of the members of the staff of 22 have been appointed:

- Literary Editor
- Maud Borden
- Social Editor
- Mollie Anderson
- Pay Chambers
- Art Editor
- Burnett Shryock
- Cartoonist
- Dewey Shipley
- Athletic Editor
- Dorothy Wright
- Class President
- John Page Wham
- Stenographer
- Agnes Lentz

It is the earnest desire of the staff to secure the hearty cooperation of the entire school in helping to make a bigger and better Obelisk.

Faculty Notes

Messrs. Muckleroy and Felts and Misses Stegall and Newcomb of the Faculty attended the High School Conference in Urbana, Friday, November 12. Mr. Felts was chairman of the Mathematics section, which held its meetings in the Unitarian Church. Miss Stegall was a member of a committee for the Council of Educational Administrative Women.

The Egyptian Club, an organization of S. I. N. U. students attending the University, gave an informal reception and tea for visiting faculty members and former S. I. N. U. students attending the Conference, from four to six o'clock in the Wesley Foundation Building.

Miss King of the Training School spent the Thanksgiving vacation with Miss Skinner at Du Quoin.

Miss Gibbons, of the mathematics department, spent the Thanksgiving vacation at her home in Metropolis.

Mr. Feits of the Faculty gave an Armistice Day address at Du Quoin, Friday afternoon, November 11, and at 8 Bake Friday evening.

A rose by any other name... Would smell as sweet. And that is The reason both is much the same. As croquettes or as patties.
First Game Of Season

The latest possibilities in the basket ball quintet of the S. I. N. U. for the coming season was clearly demonstrated last Thursday night, when the home boys sent the Herrin Elks' five home carrying the small end of the score. The Normal boys, playing in spats with regards to shooting, although they played steadily throughout on the defensive side, overcame a lead of 5-1 made in the first half by the Herrin aggregation, by brilliant shooting in the second half for a final score of 15-9.

Both teams showed up splendidly on covering quickly the man with the ball during the entire game, this on the side of the visitors, due to the fact that the team has been playing together for a good while, and for the home boys probably being attributed to the fact that the same guarding system is being used this year as was used the whole of last season. The floor work was just about a par, during the first half, except for a short period in the second quarter, when the Herrin men seemed to have the better of it. In the second half the home team showed up to better advantage and the greater part of the final tally. In fact, of 15 points made during the game, 14 of them were made in the second half.

Both Coach McAndrews and Captain Brooks of the Normal squad expressed themselves as well pleased with the game. It clearly indicated that with a little more practice the Normal team will be in a fit condition to meet any conference team in the district. There is great reason to believe that the year will be a very successful one for the boys on the floor.

The following men started the game:

S. I. N. U. Position
HERRIN
Brooks Forward
Valentine Forward
N. Huffman Center
Crisp
Carter Back Guard
Allen Floor Guard
Dawson

Cow, of Marion, referred the game. Chance went in for Brooks, and D. Huffman for N. Huffman in the second quarter. The same line-up, however started the second half as started the game.

Of the individual scores made on both sides, Carter and Valentine for the Normal, were the highest. Carter scored 10 points and Valentine 9. In the Herrin camp, the highest man was Jernigan who scored 15 points.

Possum Banquet

One of the most delightful social events of the term took place last Wednesday evening when the Zoology Club gave an opossum banquet. This is an annual affair "that dates back through the countless ages, some say from the time of Methuselah."

Each member invited one guest and with the honored guests of the evening there were forty-eight present.

The Hall was beautifully decorated in material suitable for the occasion, including a large stuffed animal, of the opossum family, on each table.

Toastmaster Miles used his ready wit and humor during the entire evening. The following toasts were given:

To the Girls Max Hanson
To the Boys Ha1ene Walter
To the Hunt Charles Stenf
To the Opossums Fred Lingle

Short talks were given by Mr. Bailey, Dr. Caldwell, and Miss Siegall. John Davis told us "Why a colored man do like 'possum."

The menu consisted of:

Opossum Sweet Potatoes
Cream Peas Bread and Butter
Mashed Potatoes Pumpkin Pie
Pickles

Waldorf Salad Grape Juice
Coffee

After the banquet the Hall was cleared and the remainder of the evening was spent in dancing.

Much praise is due to the following committee, who made the arrangements: Max Hanson, Fred Lingle, Ransom Sherrif, Halene Walter, Velma Casper, and Mildred Scott.

Death of Dr. John Hull

Prof. John Hull, the second president of the Southern Illinois Normal University, was buried in Oakland Cemetery, Carbondale, Illinois, Saturday, November 26, 1921. For several years he had made his home with his daughter, Miss Gertrude Hull, member of the faculty of one of the big high schools of Milwaukee, Wisconsin.

Prof. Hull was reared on a farm very near Salem, Ill. He obtained a good common school education, and in 1877, entered the State Normal School at Normal, Ill., and graduated in 1879. He taught in Salem and in 1885 became a member of the faculty of the Normal School. He later held the superintendency of the Bloomington City Schools. He also served as the County Superintendent of McLean County. He edited the "Schoolmaster", an educational journal which is still published under another name.

In 1876 he became superintendent of the Training School of the Southern Illinois Normal University at Carbondale. At that time he was the only member of the faculty that had normal training. He had given special attention to Pedagogy and Psychology and taught those subjects in addition to his work in the Training School. He also for many years acted as registrar.

Dr. Hull was exacting of those who came into his classes. At the time, and was showing his age considerably many thought him too severe, but before he left Carbondale in 1892, he those who came to have great respect, formed strong friendships, and had for his knowledge and skill grew to few enemies. He was a consistent leader of the strongest students, and the Christian, and a gentleman of rare worth in the community. His two daughters, Gertrude and Bertha, were his constant companions and were a source of great comfort to him in the later years of his life. They accompanied the remains to Carbondale for interment, and were guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Clements while in the city.

Funeral services were held in the Presbyterian Church, Rev. Landis in charge. Dr. D. B. Parkinson made a very appropriate address in which he spoke in praise of his friend and co-worker.
