Maroons Battle Sesser to 6-6; Deadlock

Normal Outplays Visitors but 'Fails' to Deliver Winning Punch

Pounding the Sesser Athletics back upon their goal line time after time in the final period of play the Maroons were unable to deliver the punch that would have sent across the winning score and consequently were forced to accept a 6 to 6 tie as the results of their maiden game played here Friday. The play of both teams was seriously handicapped by a muddy and slippery field. Inexperience, a wet ball and insecure footing were the contributing causes of numerous fumbles on the side of the Maroons.

The game early revolted itself into a punting duel. The erratic defense of both teams at periods of strength failed to give way to any onslaughts and exchange of punts featured the play. The final period saw the Maroons open up with a desperate offensive in their efforts to score the winning touchdown. Time after time they hammered the Sesser line back to the visitor's goal line only to be held for downs or to fumble the ball. With their backs against their own goal line Sesser punted out of danger only to have the same performance repeated.

The Maroons play typical of a maiden game, was ragged and showed their inexperience. In spots they were brilliant and show great promise of development. Lack of interference and the failure of the line to open holes was perhaps the outstanding weakness of the team.

Individually a number of the players shone as stars. Johnson's 46-yard run on a forward pass in the final period was the feature play of the game. Blair's end running always looked up substantial gains and marked him as one of the team's best offensive backs. Lamer at full, showed power and speed in line plunging. C. Cox, McVitt and Captain Fischer starred on the line. Anderson's kicking and his return of punts added to the security of the Maroons goal.

The Maroons scored their lone touchdown in the first half of the initial quarter. Confining their tactics to simple plays then marched from midfield to the goal line by means of off tackle squashes and center plunges, and K. Blair plunged over for the score.

Sesser obtained their score in the final few minutes of the last quarter when they broke through the Maroon defense to block Anderson's kick and recovered the ball on the 7-yard line. Attempts on the Normal line were fruitless. A bullet pass to McKnight on the goal line was completed and Sesser scored. Their try for goal by drop kicking was blocked.

The game by quarters:

First Quarter
Anderson kicked off for the Maroons and Sesser put the ball in play on their own 36-yard line. Sesser fumbled and Normal recovered only to lose the ball; on a fumble on Sesser's 26-yard line. Sesser failed to gain and punred out of bounds on their 40-yard line. The Maroons began a sweeping offensive and marched the intervening distance for a touchdown.

Second Quarter
During the greater part of the second period the teams fought in midfield first one side in possession of the ball and then the other. Punts were frequent and neither team made a substantial gain. K. Blair's recovery of a fumble back of the line of scrimmage and a consequent run of 15 yards electrified the crowd momentarily. Following a recovery of a fumble Sesser backed the Maroons up deep in their own territory with a long punt and a 15-yard penalty arrowed them back to their own 26-yard line. Anderson essayed to punt out of danger, but Sesser blocked his kick and on a subsequent play shot a pass to left end for the touchdown. Half. Maroons 6. Sesser 6.

Lee replaced Blair. Patterson replaced C. Cox. Sesser failed to gain following the kick off and punished out of midfield. Normal was penalized for slowing the game and Anderson punished 35 yards to Sesser. Hills completed a pass for 15 yards. Victors, tackles and fumbles threw Sesser for a 9-yard loss. "Bad" Doan completed a pass for 12 yards.

THE RADIATOR

We shall endeavor in the Radiator Column to Radiate the wit and wisdom of our faculty members and the student body in general. It is hoped that THE EGYPTIAN readers will experience real fruition in all that finds a place here.

Thoughts of Home Coming
By Seven Representatives, S. I. N. U. Students and Faculty Members.

Breathes there the student, with loyalty so dead, who never to himself hath said, "This is my own, my native school!"
Whose heart has ne'er within him burned,
When school news in his EGYPTIAN he hath learned From wandering o'er its new and old pages.
If such there breathe, go mark him well,
For him no HOME-COMING raptures swell.

The ever present interest on the part of the alumni of any school is said to be a great asset. As our homecoming season develops and maintains such an interest, therefore let us make a start on "HOME-COMING."
The HOME-COMING last year was great. Something had been arranged so that all were pleased. This year let's have 1906 home-comers and entice in them so well they will come each year hereafter. Let Cape Girardeau be the only disappointed ones on the campus.
The popularity of S. I. N. U. football teams, and her sportsmanship has spread far and wide. This year the team is to play the Home-Coming game of three colleges, representing two states. Of course the main arranged event of the three days celebration is the game with Cape. Do you remember that game back in 1905? Are you do. Did we win? Be here this year and help the team and the school put it across.

Why Come Back for Home-Coming?
1. To see your old classmates.
2. To greet your former teachers.
3. To meet the present students.
4. To renew former acquaintances.

FIRST YEAR MEETING
The First Year held their second meeting October 10 in Prof. Smith's room. The attendance was forty-seven. There were many nominees for the Home Coming Committee. Those elected were Lethia McLaughlin and Ethel McVey. There was also elected a committee for a boys basketball team-Caleb Jordan. The team will be organized next meeting.

5. To see that "Old Sweetheart of Mine."
6. To show your wives and children "your" school.
7. To see how your Alma Mater has grown.
8. To help root for the White and Orange.
9. To revive the old school spirit.
10. To go away with a feeling of pride in your Alma Mater.

Southern Illinois is the only section of the state with personality enough to be known far and wide by a name. The people who have lived within the magic confines of Egypt are never able to get away from the lure that draws them back home. The Carbondale normal is Egypt's big school, and Home-Coming here means more than anywhere else in our great state. Whole hearted hospitality is characteristic of Egyptians, and these banquets that have been made in celebrating Home-Coming are sure to lead to the best affair of the kind celebrated in any school anywhere. Last year we had a great Home-Coming. This year we have two days for Home-Coming, the 9th and 10th of November and we do not want to see an absent face in the ranks of the old guards. As in all Home-Comings the football game with Cape will be the big feature for the majority, but the other features, such as the Alumni Banquet, the Dance, can not fail to arouse attention and interest. The program is to be diversified enough to attract everyone regardless of I tea and dislikes.

To make this year's Home-Coming a huge success requires the active support of every member of the faculty and student body. By a locust and help to see to it that in the year's Home-Comings shall be an example for those in the years to come. Our motto should be 2 B's—Bigger and Better.

The Lover
The wind shall be my fan—
The turf shall be my bed—
The stars shall be my candless
To flicker over my head
And while the days are scarlet,
And while the skies are blue.
These shall be enough for me,
If I just, have you.

The Y. W. C. A. will hold its meeting Tuesday night at 6:30 in the Association Hall. All girls are invited to come out. It will be the meeting that was postponed week before last—a forum discussion on what the Y. W. C. A. ought to mean to a college girl. Come prepared to answer such questions as: What did you expect to get out of a college education? Do you think you are getting it? Is there anything you are not getting from it that could be supplied from another course.

If you want anything, give us your want ad.

APROPOS FOOTBALL

The recent snappy chapel stunt in which a drive was made for the sale of season tickets should have been sufficient to induce every member of the student body to give his support to OUR football team.

There should be no lagging enthusiasm when it comes to the matter of supporting our various athletic teams. The athletic teams are made up of students. To have a winning team, the morale of its members must be kept at high pitch. When the student body does not respond with the degree of earnestness and devotion necessary to inject the fighting spirit, the team’s morale drops. When the student body yields for victory and indicts by its attendance that it wants victory, they are likely to get it.

Get together and make the football season the occasion for general jubilation since it is the opening of the athletic events which mark the college year. Football is fast gaining ground as America’s greatest game. Its appeal is universal. Whether or not you are particularly interested, come to the athletic field and witness the many thrills of a most popular game. At the same time you will be instrumental in creating a proper college atmosphere and, above all, you will show the “boys” that, win or lose, they have your support.

What do you think of your class or your organization leaving a lasting memorial on the campus?

It requires a lot of material to print “The Egyptian.” You know things of interest that we should have. Please drop any articles at the office door.

STAND BY YOUR TEAM

“If you think your team’s the best, tell ‘em so.
If you’d have them lead the rest.
Help them grow.
When there’s anything to do,
Let the fellows count on you.
You’ll feel b’fly when it’s through;
Don’t you know?
If you want, to make a hit,
Get a name.
If the other fellow’s it,
Who’s to blame?
When there’s a game played in your town,
Help your team win victory’s crown;
Tell and smile—but never crow,
That’s the game.
If you’re used to giving knocks,
Change your styles;
Throw boy scouts instead of rocks.
For a while;
Let the other fellow rest,
Shun him as you would a ghost.
Meet his hammer with a boast
And a smile.
When a stranger from afar comes along,
Tell him just how fine they are—at make it strong.
Needn’t matter, needn’t stuff.
Tell the truth for that’s enough;
Join the boosters—that’s the stuff.
We belong.”

Better be happy, now while you can;
you may be rich some day and can’t.

SENIOR MEETING

A meeting of the Senior class was held in the Socratic Hall Tuesday at the chapel hour to plan for a class party in the near future. No definite date could be decided upon so it was left to a committee to arrange for a ball, and announced later the time.

A committee was also appointed to arrange some sort of entertainment for the Senior’s part of the program to be given Friday night of the Homecoming.

The President very urgently requested the members to place their orders for rings, pins and sweater before the week had ended. It is to be hoped that none will neglect this matter as they may experience vain regrets when they view the other Senior “decked” out in their new “regalia” for Solomon in all his glory will not have felt on what producer than the newly "he-jeweled, be-sweatered Senior.

The appointment's committee did remarkably well in placing the seniors last year. Some of the data was not in for the former issues of this paper. Some of the seniors did not intend to teach or attend school therefore no complete record is known of their work. The following is a final list of appointments and of those who will not teach or attend school.

Eva Gore, McClure, Primary.
Roy Clem, West Frankfort, Departmental.
Max Lollar, Royston, Principal.
Wanda Wilson, Madison, Ill., Elementary.
Florence Woodside, West Frankfort, Eighth grade department.
Ruby Reno, Rural school, Jackson County.
Carroll Moore, Will not teach.
Paul Doolittle, Will study pharmacy.
A. L. Shelton, Entered business.
I. W. Shepston, Entered business.

An old boy is a man who believes he knows better than some old maid weaver's worker how to raise his own children.

Deacon Boggs was looking very grim. You see, he prayed to the Lord to deliver him from temptation when he went to the city, and the Lord did.

A delightful evening was spent by the Juniors on October 11 at 6:30 p.m. A happy crowd of them met in front of the main gate, and then walked to a woods west of the campus for a bonfire roast. Two big bonfires were built, and "loads" of weeners and marshmallows were roasted. Of course pickles were also there.

After having filled themselves with good things, the group gathered in a circle about the fire and sang, told jokes and stories, and yelled. At about 8:00 o'clock the group broke up, and the first Junior party was over. Will it be the last? Ask any junior.

The opening of the hard road leading to Marion recalls to mind the muddy, miry, detour we encountered in entering the city and the congested traffic there and makes one think of a parody on Maud Muller.

"Maud Muller on a summer's day
Raked the meadow sweet with hay,
But we Egyptians raked the mud
From off our feanders, heed and hush.
The Judge did grumble over his mug,
We grumbled over the long hard tag
Of pulling through that awful clay,
And around the cars stuck by the way.

HOME COMING—Friday and Saturday, November 8 and 10.

The Student Council held its first meeting Tuesday at chapel hour in Miss Baldwin's room. Mr. Warren explained the purpose and work of the Student Council to the members. Glenn Fishel then took charge as president. The management and future of the College Book Store was discussed. The Student Council is "up and coming" now, and is all ready for business.

YOUR FRIENDS will be here for HOME COMING. Are you coming?

The Agricultural Club held its annual watermelon feast at the State Farm Wednesday night. The crowd assembled at late twilight and before them lay one hundred and fifty choice watermelons, which had previously been quartered, and were ready to be eaten. When President Booker gave the command, "commence eating" about five hundred watermelon friends wormed their way up to the tables and were each provided with a quarter melon. The feasters declared that they were matchless in quality and soon returned for a second helping.

When the gormandizing bout was staged, only three could be found who had not been filled to overflowing. They were each provided with an enormous melon and the bout was on. The shouts of the spectators only tended to make the gormandizers more voracious, until the time limit closed the contest. The purse was one dollar and fifty cents.

The object of this feast was for its social effect, and to afford the boys and girls an hour of recreation so that they might to some extent forget the toilsome grid of the day's work.

That's been one of the big ideas behind this store for a good many years. Our whole merchandising policy is built around it.

We sell them on a very small margin of profit—a margin so small that merchants everywhere wonder how we do it.

But there's no secret about it. The big values bring us a very large volume of business. We pay our store expenses by a little profit on each of many sales rather than by a large profit on a few.

And in so doing we keep the price of really good clothes down within the reach of all.

JOHNSON, VANCIL, TAYLOR CO.
POEMS WORTH REMEMBERING

By Rudyard Kipling

If you can keep your head when all about you
Are losing theirs and blaming it on you;
If you can trust yourself when all men doubt you,
But make allowance for their doubting too;
If you can wait and not be tired by waiting,
Or being lied about, don't die; In lies,
Or being hated, don't give way to hating;
And yet don't look too good, nor talk too wise.

If you can dream—and not make dreams your master;
If you can think—and not make thoughts your aim;
If you can meet with triumph and disaster
And treat those two imposters just the same;
If you can bear to hear the truth you've spoken
Twisted by knaves, to make a trap for fools;
Or watch the things you gave your life to broken
And stoop and build them up with worn-out tools;

If you can make head or tail of all your winnings
And risk it on one turn of pitch and toss
And lose, and start again at your beginnings
And never breathe a word about your affairs;
If you can force your heart and nerve and sinew
To serve your turn long after they are gone,
And so hold on when there is nothing left with you,
Except the will which says to them "Hold on."

If you can talk with crowds and keep your virtue,
Or walk with kings nor lose the common touch;
If neither foes nor loving friends can hurt you,
And only leave you in your网站地图 with your own society;
If you can fill with one look the room
With astray seconds full of distance run;
Yours is the earth and everything that's in it.
And which is more—you will be a man, my son.

On Bouncing Women

WOMEN are like Rubber BALLS.
Some are HARD to make
An IMPRESSION on.
Others are NOT.

But a man often finds
That a woman who
Is easy to SQUEEZE
Is hard to BOUNCE.
And if, finally,
He throws her DOWN
For good, she BURSTS into TEARS.

Then, if he is
A "NICE" man,
He picks her up
And plays with her.
But a BRUTE
Leaves her—FLAT.

If one man

gets a woman DOWN,

You may be sure

She will "HIT UP"

COAXING YOU TO SMILE

Her Intentions

Mrs. Biltins met Mary Smit, whom she had recommended to a neighbor for a situation.

"How are you getting on at your new place?" asked Mrs. Biltins. "Very well, thank you," was the reply.

"I am glad to hear it," remarked Mrs. Biltins. "Your employer is very rich, you know, and you can't do too much for her."

"I don't mean, ma'am," replied Mary.

Mistaken Identity

The following story about an absent-minded Bishop is being whispered around in ecclesiastical circles: At the end of a very tiring day he was conducting a confirmation service, at which there was a large number of candidates.

The last candidate to come up was an old man with a perfectly bald head. This Bishop placed his hand upon his head in the usual manner, but in the most unusual manner was heard to exclaim as he did so: "I declare that stone to be well and truly laid."

Mother Knew

The young man who had been calling so frequently on Helen came at last to see Helen's father.

"It's a mere formality, I know, sir," he said. "His asking for your daughter's hand, but we thought it would be pleasing to you if you were observed in the usual way."

Helen's father stiffened.

"And may I inquire," he asked, "why suggested that asking my consent to Helen's marriage was a mere formality?"

"Yes, sir," replied the young man. "It was Helen's mother."

Playing Safe

The dear old lady entered the drug store and looked doubtfully at the youthful clerk behind the counter.

"I suppose," she said, "you are a properly qualified druggist?"

"Yes, madam."

Knights and Nights

"Knighthood," he said, "is quite a complicated subject. Very few people understand the various types of knighthood, their significance and so forth. A young lady once said to a gentleman: 'What are the Knights of the Bath?'"

"Why, the young gentleman answered, 'why, Saturday nights, of course'."

Dawning of Light

The skipper was examining an ambitious gob who wanted to be a gunner's mate.

"How much does a six-pound shell weigh?"

"I don't know," the gob confessed.

"Well, what time does the 12 o'clock train leave?"

"Twelve o'clock."

"All right, then, how much does a six-pound shell weigh?"

"Ah," said the youthful mariner, a great light dawning on him, "is pounds."

A New Meaning

Brother Rufus Abraham, who had been pastor of a colored church for several years, had lately fallen under suspicion. Some of the worthy brethren accused him of using the Sunday collection for purposes not related to the cause of a religious institution. Finally the matter was taken to court. Brother Abraham was called on to testify.

"Mr. Abraham, how long have you been pastor of that church?" questioned the attorney. Rufus' fleshy brow wrinkled as he pondered over and over again.

"Well, your honor, I reckon I been pastors' there about eight years."

The Way We Feel About It

Long Shot: "Why don't Jack and Laura make up?"

Halene: "They like to, but unfortunately they can't remember what they quarreled about."

Dwight: "My train goes in fifteen minutes. Can you not give me one ray of hope before I leave forever?"

Dorothy Furr: "To—that clock is half an hour fast."

Gathiel Penee: (cross eyed) bowing with courtly grace at Fraternity Dance: "May I have the pleasure of this dance?"

Two wall flowers answered with one voice: "With pleasure."

"You have passed all your examinations?"

"Certainly."

"You've never poisoned anyone by mistake?"

"Not to my knowledge."

She heaved a sigh of relief.

"Very well, then, you can give me a nickel's worth of cough drops."

"Very well."

Freshman: "Two cuffs and a collar."

"She: A penny for your thoughts."

He: Mr. Staylate, "I was thinking of going."

Her father at the head of the stairs: "Give him a dollar, Viola, it's worth it."
