CARBONDALE, 10: ARKANSAS AGGIES, 0

Miss Steagall on The Pacific Coast

Miss Steagall, teacher of Science of this school, spent a most interesting vacation this summer on the Pacific Coast. First, she spent three weeks on the beach at Puget Sound. Here she collected a great deal of material for our school. It was intensely interesting. What seemed her most memorable was her visit to Oregon caves, Franconia, Vancouver, British Columbia, Seattle, Tacoma and Portland. Several days were spent here on the seaside gathering material.

The most exciting part of the trip was the drive up to the Oregon caves, which rival Mammoth Cave in interest, and the drive around the rim of Crater Lake. In both areas, the automobiles seemed to be porched on the rim of the world where you could fall off and drop down several thousand feet.

The most thrilling part of the trip was the ride through Yellowstone Park. Here Miss Steagall secured a number of pictures of wild animals and the geysers formations.

The thing that pleased Miss Steagall most was to see the delightful co-operation between the state of Oregon and the United States government, in preserving natural forests and wildlife in the state of Oregon. Anyone who has driven through the inroads has seen the great lumber mills had made on the beautiful forests of the state of Washington.

Miss Steagall was greatly honored by being guest at a banquet given for the secretary of the navy, Wilbur, in Tacoma, Wash.

S. I. N. U. Downs Arkansas Aggies

In one of the hardest fought and best played games this year the Arkansas Aggies' clever array of shifters and fakers were sent home after Friday's game with the short end of a 10-0 score. The Ags had things going their way during the first few minutes of play and practically every play they attempted had a fake mixed up somewhere. However, the mixture was hardly strong enough, but had it not been for the very best kind of a defense displayed by Mac's men the Ags would have likely galloped over the Maroon goal line a few times. Line plunging scalled but little to either team and it was a game of passing and end runs all the way. The Ags always had some fake pass under their hat while Willey and Letz occupied the stellar positions in the Maroon aerial attack. Floyd's toe was responsible for 4 of the 10 points. Cabbage booted a beautiful drop kick from the 35-yard line during the third quarter. Line-up:

The Ags then hit left tackle for 15 yards, an end run and pass fails and they punt out of bounds. Maroons' bell

AMERICAN EDUCATION WEEK
(November 7-13, 1926)

All well informed citizens now appreciate the fact that American Education Week is the only week set aside each year when a concerted effort is made by the National Education Association, the American Legion, and the Bureau of Education to rivit public attention upon the possibilities of education. This week has now become a permanent institution, and the challenge has come to every individual and to every organization to participate in this progressive movement. It deals with problems so fundamental that it appeals to all the people and becomes more successful each year as parents and teachers understand that education touches the whole of life.

American Education Week is the only time in all the year when the entire nation is called upon to dedicate itself anew to the great task of universal education for citizenship and democratic living. The schools themselves have a remarkable opportunity to teach every boy and girl his responsibility, as a citizen, to help maintain a system of education which perpetuate the best in the life and ideals of the republic.

To those of us who have taught, and to all others who expect to teach, in the public schools, an understanding of the American Education Week movement should become a vital part of our professional training. Fortunately for the coming generation, the time has passed when any progressive community will retain a teacher whose interests in education do not extend beyond the four walls of the classroom. This is as it should be. Parents have a legitimate right to expect any teacher to be well-informed and to be able to discuss the outstanding problems of education as they effect our habits of living.

In another part of this paper will be found a suggested program for the proper observance of each day from November 7 to 13 inclusive. This article has been written with the hope that our four thousand readers, whether students, teachers, ministers, mayors, editors, merchants, or what not, may be stimulated to bend all efforts toward making the 1926 American Education Week the best yet.
ALUMNI NOTES

Miss Dorothy Purr spent the weekend with her parents, Prof. and Mrs. W. A. Purr. She is attending school at Indiana University, where she is a Tri Delta pledge.

Charles Gabbert writes that he is teaching at Metropolis this year. He says that he looks forward to receiving eight more months of solid enjoyment by reading the good old Egyptian.

"I read that I am to enjoy myself immensely in November. To bring homecoming to a close with the defeat of Charleston is almost too much for one day."

Just watch us get Charleston.

The Egyptian.
Carbondale, Illinois.

Lemen Wells, Editor:
I'll answer the second question first. I subscribed for the Egyptian before I came home last June. I signed one of the cards, but if it is lost, or misplaced, let me know, and I'll sign the one you sent me. I am sending a check for $1.50. I certainly enjoy Thursday morning, for that is when my Egyptian arrives.

I am teaching the sixth grade in the Oak Park building. The High School is in the same building, and I see Ralph Krupp and Herbert Davis real often. There are several S. I. N. U. former students teaching in Salem this year.

Good luck to "The Egyptian" for 1926-1927. Yours truly,

VIRGINIA TELFORD.

Miss Telford belonged to Epsilon Beta Sorority for two years. She has many friends at S. I. N. U. yet for we all knew her when she was in school and we haven't all left yet.

In its last meeting the Agora debated the following question: Resolved, That labor saving machines have been injurious to the working class. Frank Armentrout and Fred Schlegel were affirmative and Jess Grad and Hobart Slater negative speakers. The negative won unanimously. At the next meeting this question will be debated: Resolved, That a constitutional amendment should be passed giving congress control over marriage and divorce. The affirmative debaters are Phelps, Crawford and Frank Armentrout, the negative Jess Grad and Edwin Heinzeke. Some of the best Agorean debaters appear on this program. We invite you to come Monday evening at 7 o'clock.

Y. M. C. A.

The Y. M. C. A. met Tuesday in spite of the rain storm. The programs, thus far, have been so interesting that it will take more than a little rain storm like that Tuesday evening to break up the meetings. A Round Table discussion, planned by Mr. Waller, was well conducted throughout the evening. Great interest was shown by everyone, for nearly everyone took part in the discussion of some of the great problems of life. Don't forget our next meeting, Tuesday evening at 6:30, and bring someone.

One of the most unique social events of the season was the party given by the Sigma Alpha Pi fraternity last Friday night at their house on Normal avenue. The early part of the evening was devoted to cards and dancing, after which followed an interesting program which displayed the versatility of the performers. The guests learned at this time that the Sigma Alpha Pi house harbors such personnages as Daniel Websters, Houdinis and the Mayo Brothers. The clever souvenir was a scrap book which the guests filled with pictures of imaginary romances. Prizes for the most realistic book were won by Mrs. Louise Ed Williams and the most comical by Miss Belva Hunter.

The out of town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Louis Ed Williams and Bette Henasaker from West Frankfort, Mrs. Garrison from Altonville; Miss Belva Hunter from Marion; and Burtis Trees from Carterville. The chaperones were Misses Julia Jonath and Mae Trottillion of the Normal faculty.

This story is related by a person connected with the White House: One Sunday after the president had returned from church, where he had gone alone, Mrs. Coolidge inquired:

"Was the sermon good?"
"Yes," he answered.
"Was it about 'Sin.'"
"What did the minister say?"
"He was against it."
