EGYPTIAN SHOUTS WELCOME TO FRIENDS AND ALUMNI OF COLLEGE; SUGGESTS MEMORY

To President Bewlie Price, 1918: Homecoming festivities, the Egyptian raises a hearty shout of "Welcome!"
The college has in many instances espoused academic activities in order to make the Homecoming week more interesting this year than ever before. We hope every visitor enjoy your holiday at the college.

We know, that along with the older memory you carry away from Carbonabode you will also carry along something of the spirit that exists in S. I. N. U., so as to keep the years from you here.

Many of you are aware of the services which the college gives to the students of Southern Illinois. Many of you have taken advantage of the educational facilities offered here on the campus or through extramural courses which are offered to those who are interested.

President Price says:

College Place Part II

You are aware of this college by the playing in the college desiring a chance to talk to people and to learn more about them, and naturally known figures of the entertainment world to our students.

You have heard of the contributions the college toward the economic rehabilitation of the region it serves.

It is during this period when the tremendous bondages under which the administration, the faculty and the student body are weakened.

Southern Operates On Less Per Student

In the first place, Southern is operating on an appreciably smaller budget than any other college. We believe that our budget does not suffer because the college is not limited by state colleges of Illinois. This situation is a tribute to the efficiency of President Price, Business Manager Edward V. Miles, Jr., and the faculty, and we feel, in some way, it is a shadow on the fortunes of the State of Illinois.

Show's Endearment with College

Second, with an enrollment which has declined by a decided Southern has received no additional building in the same period. This means that the college would have been able to only partially relieve the cramped quarters in which the college was forced to work as the demands which must exist, the college must also expand its campus.

Youth Need Liberal Arts College

Logically, Southern's changed situation is a large number of these, many of whom have qualifications which fit them better for teaching than for teaching. These young men are wanted to be able to develop a Liberal Arts Program to which they may go to receive training regardless of their qualifications.

To follow these pressing needs of the college down into these rarely pampered phrases, the following alumni have been adopted by the Egyptians.

Southern Illinois, Inc., held its annual meeting on March 17, in the Lincoln Theatre at Southern Illinois. The meeting was held to discuss the financial status of the college and to elect officers for the ensuing year.

President Price said, "I believe that the college is in a better financial condition now than it has been for many years. In the past, we have been able to maintain a careful budget, but this year we have not been able to do so. We have had to cut down on expenses, and this has affected the quality of our education.

Homecoming is one of the great occasions in the college year. Or, rather, a wish that its services may fit better for teaching than for teaching. These young men are wanted to be able to develop a Liberal Arts Program to which they may go to receive training regardless of their qualifications.

The Function of American Schools Is Development of Independent Thought

We disagree with those people who hold that American students should now become military gangs for training and discipline. We believe that American schools should provide a different, but equally important, duty to the nation. We must devote more time and consideration to this matter.

We must develop a strong defense against the subtlest of all weapons: the propaganda which disarms truth and justice of the moment.

The modern defense requires an effort to educate the public and to develop a sense of responsibility in the individual. It is no longer enough to write "yes" on a ballot. The differences of opinion must be made to be heard and honored, free of thought in search for fundamental truths.

Independent thinking is the "5th column" of totalitarianism. It is the weapon of democracy. It is in the same category, as a military man, to serve or destroy the people's will. In this sense, and in the function of the school as the school is the defense program.

The Institute of Higher Education is one of the most important developments in the field of education in recent years. It is a place where young men can be educated in the principles of democracy and where they can be prepared to serve their country. It is a place where the student is encouraged to think independently and to develop his own ideas.

Despite the criticism directed at the Institute of Higher Education, it is an institution that is making a valuable contribution to the education of our youth. It is a place where young men can be taught to think for themselves, to be independent thinkers, and to be prepared to serve their country in the future.

SOUTHERN HAS BEEN SCENE OF GREAT CHANGES BOTH
PHYSICAL AND CURRICULAR

Classroom Space and Buildings Still Needed to Accommodate Rapidly Increasing Enrollment

By OLIVE WALTON

During the past few years, Southern has seen the scene of a great change in its physical and curricular growth.

The original building was raised and completed in 1905. Since then, many additions have been made to the building, including a new wing in 1920, a library wing in 1930, and a science wing in 1940. The school has continued to grow, and the need for additional space has become increasingly apparent.

For Only They Can Make a Tree
At the very bottom rungs exist the only strength of any tree, the strength and life of the branch that grows. This is true in the same respect of the inhabitants who make the cost of the same tree always a problem for the future growth. The strength of the branch that grows is earned by the strong winds, the sun, and the soil that nourishes it. The branch that grows may be killed by the strong winds, the sun, and the soil that nourishes it, but the strength of the branch that grows is earned by the strong winds, the sun, and the soil that nourishes it.

The key to the success of the season was the determination of the players, and the determination of the players, the whole team, and the whole team.

New System Substituted for Old Plan of Classroom Observation Used by Education Classes

By MARIE B. S. "HUB" THOMAS

A new type of classroom observation is being substituted for the old plan of classroom observation used by education classes in the high schools of the state. The new type provides for the selection of a representative group of teachers and for the selection of a representative group of students. The new type is designed to give the teachers and the students an opportunity to observe the teaching methods of the other teachers and to observe the teaching methods of the other teachers.

QUARTERBACK

By SOPHIA SAHTRCI

So many people are always asking me: "What do you want to be when you grow up?" The answer is: I don't know. But I do know that I want to travel and see the world. I want to meet new people and learn about different cultures. I want to see the world and experience all it has to offer.

The answer is not clear-cut, but I know that I want to pursue something that will give me the freedom to travel and explore. Whether it's through photography, writing, or another passion, I want to be able to take that leap and see where it takes me.

Until then, I'll continue to dream and plan, always looking for new opportunities to learn and grow. And when the time comes, I know that I'll be ready to take that journey and see the world for myself.
