Report Disclaims Campaign Worker's Harassment Charge

Police harassment was disclaimed by Chief of Police Jack Hazel after his investigation of a charge by Mrs. Wayne Muth, a campaign worker for the Keene-Kirk-Nelson slate.

Mrs. Muth charged that about 5:15 p.m. on April 2, a city patrol car followed her car in an improper fashion through an abnormal circuitous route which suggested to her that the police officer(s) were aware that she was campaigning and that his act of following her was politically motivated.

Mrs. Muth also charged that the officer improperly ticketed her for exceeding the speed limit on Freeman Street, near Winkler School.

Chief Hazel was instructed by the City Council to investigate, and his report was submitted to the Council. In his report, he stated that a resident of 420 W. McDonald and secretary to Mrs. Muth, had passed his house slowly.

'No Progress' Reported on Vehicle Study

Little progress has been made since last spring when the Parking and Safety Committee on the student body, faculty, and administration on the campus elections were defeated after debate. One would have required a change in the Campus Senate constitution in order for the elections to be held by the end of March. The other was to set the date for elections.

The Senate voted to allocate $25 for prize money in the annual spring festival, "went to a committee to urge the University to construct additional courts.

Art Displayed in Iowa

Carolyn Gassan Plochman, Carbondale artist, is showing a group of her most recent paintings at the new Laura Mueller Art Gallery and Museum in Muscatine, Iowa.

At the close of the Iowa showing April 30, the exhibition will be shipped to Milwaukee, Wis., for a special showing there.

Executive in Residence Named

SRI, which has artists in residence and a diploma in residence, will have its first executive in residence. He is William T. Brady, chairman of the Advisory Committee of the Corn Products Board of Directors. He will visit SRI from April 17 to 28 as the first executive in residence, Robert S. Hancock, dean of the School of Business, announced.

This series of residence programs is designed to give graduate students and faculty the opportunity to participate in seminars and conferences with distinguished leaders in their respective fields. Emphasis will be placed on the responsibilities of business in modern society and the role of business in the national and international economy, Hancock said.

Development of the series is also a response to the increasing need for educators and businessmen to work together to develop social, political, and economic guidelines for industry on the contemporary international scene, he continued.

Brady, a native of nearby Anna, was the board chairman and chief executive officer of the Corn Products Co., one of the largest food manufacturing and food distributing companies in the world. Through his work with Corn Products, he has played a significant role in helping to solve the problems of human nutrition and agricultural productivity, Hancock said.

He is now a member of the President’s Public Advisory Committee for Trade Negotiations, a member of the Advisory Committee of the President’s Food for Peace Council, a member of the University of Illinois Foundation, and director of the Beta Laboratories in residence, Robert E. Oates, dean of the School of Business, said Brady will visit SRI from April 17 to 28 as the first executive in residence, Robert E. Oates, dean of the School of Business, said.

During his stay, Brady will speak at the Honors Recognition Program to be held at Davis Auditorium at 10 a.m. April 19 for business undergraduate students on the dean’s list.

CANCELED CLASSES NUMEROUS

Class cancellations for spring term have been numerous because of an overestimation of SRI enrollment for the 1966-67 school year, according to David Snyder, SRI director of registration.

Snyder said students now enrolled in classes that have been cancelled should officially drop them before April 22, the deadline for dropping classes.

Snyder said the projected enrollment for SRI this year was 19,000 and each department scheduled its classes in anticipation of this number. Only about 17,700 students have enrolled at SRI and over 200 classes have been cancelled, according to Snyder, and his staff will have to reenroll students to meet enrollment requirements for spring term.

Requirements for class enrollment at SRI this year follow the 15-hour credit rule. Under this policy all 100 and 200 level courses must have at least 15 students in each section. All 300 and 400 level courses must have at least 10 students in each section, and all 500 level courses must have at least five students.

Letters to the Editor

Where's Bobby?

To the editor:

I am a student who was taken in by the Drinan Rebellion. It was an experience that I think, perhaps, not the one that many of you have had, but it was the majority, fell for promises made by the administration. I should like to see some evidence that Drinan's campaign promises. The election I have seen nothing but lies. I was certainly not impressed with the computer I have heard from Bobby since August. Most rumors must have been absolutely false. The majority, for example, has accepted an administrative vice president job at the Edwardsville campus. Wherever he is hiding he can come out; there's a state law against vigilante lynching, so be safe, he should be.

I for one demand a change. Is the office of student body president the moment the title doesn't merit capital letters?" A new office should be opened only by the office of the University President? I wonder, I wonder what ever happened to real student leaders like Bard Grosse and Ray Lenz who have already proven through the campus senate that they know there is a student body in this University, I would like to see some evidence that a new office should be opened only by the office of the University President.

Dale D. Turvey

Action Protested

To the editor:

I am a member of our second generation which will be the last college generation. While the administration was taking away my right to have a motorcycle and live where I want to live, Bob Drinan was saving your goals. I can't take a side until the students remove the barricade and I get a sameline of their opinion, I must bend with their will. If only LBJ was so sensitive to public opinion. No anybody seen or heard from Bobby since August? One rumor has it that someone tells him he didn't win. Nobody says he has accepted an administrative vice president job at the Edwardsville campus. Wherever he is hiding he can come out; there's a state law against vigilante lynching, so be safe, he should be.

I for one demand a change. Is the office of student body president the moment the title doesn't merit capital letters? A new office should be opened only by the office of the University President? I have taken it upon myself to eliminate any conflicting opinions by simply threatening to expel or hold students' registrations. This line of reasoning varies greatly from the arbitrary means of the university and schools are supposed to be run on. This attitude would be fine in an appropriate country but it hardly belongs or fits at Southern Illinois University.

Broadly Editorial

Postmaster General O'Brien's proposal to change the structure of the Post Office Department from an Executive department to a Government corporation is sensible as it is bold.

We do not believe the Post Office can or should be operated without subsidy from tax funds, but the way in which a subsidized service is organized certainly cannot be improved.
Students Voice Opinions on Policies

About the Story

The Daily Egyptian recently assigned about 25 staff members to do a series of interviews with SIU students concerning their complaints about the University. Among the complaints, the following suggestions were made that they would offer to improve the situation.

Admissions requirements should be much stricter, teaching by graduate students should be limited, and advisement and sectioning should be further streamlined, General Studies requires more emphasis should be placed on major fields.

That is the consensus of approximately 130 students interviewed. Jean Smith, a junior from Benton who is majoring in physics and anthropology, said Bill Gossett, a senior from Charleston who is majoring in mathematics.

"It is ridiculous for Southern to have a small college status in athletics, because we have the capability of raising money over and over to compete with them," according to Bill Gossett, a senior from Charleston who is majoring in mathematics.

"Athletics might not be that important but you generally connect a school with its athletics, people associate athletics naturally think of a small college in the Sports Are not able to give enough of their time to their coursework, students and said Jeff Smith, a junior from Benton who is majoring in mathematics.

"The number of students and is also likely to become university division in basketball. So, the Arena is just becoming too small, with a lack of seats and ticket facilities," said William Borah, a junior from Fairfield majoring in chemistry. "We need a larger, newer Arena to be used for important events.

Kent Bigler, a sophomore from Wood River majoring in mathematics, said "For our small College, we need an outdoor track and a new swimming pool. We also advocates that Southern belong to an athletic conference, perhaps a newly formed league.

Other students stated that new facilities for intercollegiate athletics could double as intramural courts and fields. Currently there are few athletic facilities, and many students who are poor teachers should be dropped from teaching.

Dan Kaufman, a senior from El Paso, Ill, who is majoring in accounting, thinks Southern does not have a good academic reputation. "We get bad grades, many people who are not really conscientious about fulfilling an obligation toward a degree, he stated.

"We are admitting to many low-quality students, which gives the University a bad name, southern has some fine departments, but you would never convince people of that because of our reputation," commented Dan Kaufman in a joke from Quinn majoring in aviation technology.

General Studies is a common topic of discussion among several students. I think the University could be improved by not exactly having a General Studies program, but having similar requirements with a wider range of courses from which a student could fulfill requirements with courses related in telling the student what he needs, rather than giving him a long list of courses he may or may not need.

Housing should be changed, many of the students felt. "I feel that some arrangement, whether it is an addition to or movement to off-campus housing. If a student's parents express to the University their willingness to move to off-campus housing, he should be allowed to follow his desire," stated William Blanchard, a junior from Mattoon majoring in management.

Curtis Hall, an unsatisfied student from Chicago who majored in English, said the immature student live in supervised housing if that is wish of the parents.

The University's "in loco parentis" policy was slammed by some students. Michael Scoop, a sophomore from St. Louis majoring in psychology, believes that "in loco parentis" has caused problems for everyone concerned.

Curtis Hall thinks the policy is "completely impractical and unrealizable and can only "kill ourselves" and create confusion for everyone concerned.

Several students disagreed with the above views. Many students stated that they seems to be more of a problem, said Kathy Donahue, a junior from Chicago.

Three male students wanted to "improve" the rules and regulations. "Our biggest complaint is that our athletics program is too hard, said several said they were confused about many University policies and wanted some comprehensive way to inform students about them. Students showed that they seem to be ill-informed by recommending measures which are being implemented or planned by the University.

A few others wanted stricter women's hours or more restriction, on student housing. Two students remarked that their athletics program seems to be for junior and senior women and those over 21.

No Place to Cook
Fishermen Give Lake Their Catch
SIU fishermen are probing to be capable anglers, but what to do with the catch is another story.

According to various reports, both the fish are "really biting" at the Lake-on-the-Campus, but the smell of fresh cooked fish isn't too prevalent around campus.

Charlene Cohen, a freshman from New York, said that fish around the lake. But there is one major problem, and that is what to do with the fish after he catches them.

Cohen lives at Thompson Point where it is nearly impossible to catch a fish. "There is nothing left to do but throw the fish back into the lake," said Cohen.

This "tossing back" seems to be the practice of many students who fish at the lake.

Robert A. Eisen, a senior from Chicago, said he either throws the fish back or gives them away.

Steve Novy, a freshman from Woodstock, said: "I have too warm a heart to kill an innocent fish and feel live is precious."

Steve Cohen, a freshman from New York, said: "I have been fishing for three times, and I have been fishing this quarter. Nolan's prize fish was a 15-inch bass."

Various Jobs Available for June Grad

Graduating soon? According to Heral C. Largen, assistant director of Placement Services, job opportunities for SIU graduates "remain excellent.

Job openings range from elementary and secondary school teachers to liquor and tobacco tax inspectors, from business personnel to museum workers. Students whose college years have educated them as naturals may be increased in positions in a botanical garden. Education, agriculture, or management majors may be interested in taking as a charge of an elementary school-owned farm in Battle Creek, Mich.

REPORT DISCLAIMS HARASSMENT

Defense Questions Murder Witness

PEORIA (AP)—Tiny Corazon Amurao, who has identified Richard Speck as the slayer of eight nurses, held firmly to her story Thursday under an hour and 24 minutes of cross-examination.

Gerard W. Getry, who is defending Speck on charges of murdering the young women, dissolved into an earlier identification of Speck and raised questions about men who called at the nurses' townhouse living quarters and whether the doors were locked.

The interrogation touched on parts of the testimony Miss Amurao gave Wednesday about the murder. The exacted hours of July 14, 1966 in the victims' dormitory on Chicago's South Side, and referred to the investigation that followed. Miss Amurao was the sole survivor.

A few times, when the questions may have seemed repetitious to Miss Amurao, her voice rose and her words came out at the rapid-fire speed of a woman who is ready to argue.

A crowd that filled the spectator seats in the Circuit Court chamber—leaving others standing outside—also saw a slender, red-haired girl who might have been victim No. 9.

Miss Tammy Sioudoff, a nurse who lived in a nurse's dormitory at 231 E. 100th St., Chicago, told the jury she got hungry while talking to a boyfriend at 12:15 a.m., July 14. Leaving him holding the telephone, she went to what was to become the house of death at 2319 E. 100th St. to get some bread, she testified.

She said she rang the back doorbell but nobody responded. She also said the curtains in the kitchen windows stirred, indicating the window was open. Miss Sioudoff then went to another nurses' home at 2311 E. 100th St. In her quest for food, Miss Amurao, in her appearance as the state's star witness Wednesday, said Speck was in the house at 11 p.m., July 13. She also related that while Speck held the girls captive upstairs, she heard a doorbell ring downstairs.

Speck, she said, ordered Miss Amurao and another nurse, Miss Merlita Gargulio, at gunpoint to go downstairs. "I opened the front door and there was nobody," Miss Amurao testified.

Getty questioned Miss Amurao Thursday about her identification of Speck in the infirmary of Chicago's House of Correction—the city jail—on July 19.

Panama Canal Traffic in March Sets Record

PA'NAMA (AP)—A record for traffic in a single month through the Panama Canal was established in March when 1,469 ocean-going vessels transited. The figure topped by 44 the previous high mark set in March 1965 and brought the daily average to a record high of 37.5 vessels of 3,000 net tons.

Abrams to Aid Westmoreland

WASHINGTON (AP) — Gen. Creighton W. Abrams Jr., who used to lead tanks into battle with the cry "Attack! Attack! Attack!" is being sent to Vietnam as second in command of the Army's ground forces, according to a move announced Thursday from the legendary Gen. William C. Westmoreland.

President Johnson announced Abrams' assignment Thursday as deputy to Gen. William C. Westmoreland, both White House and Pentagon officials said there is no move afoot for Abrams to replace Westmoreland as top commander in Vietnam, an Abrams, who conferred with Johnson at the White House, told reporters to expect to see Westmoreland's helper, carrying out a variety of chores "pretty much across the board."

Now 52, stocky and graying, Abrams is a combat veteran whose aggressiveness in World War II won a rare salute from the legendary Gen. George S. Patton.

"I'm supposed to be the best tank commander in the army," said Patton. "But I have one peer—Abrams."

His face reflects the tough qualities this new carrier Abrams from way down in his West Point class—185th to four-star rank in the Army. At West Point he was a classmate of Westmoreland, who is his 4-star senior by about a month.

His looks—together with his toughminded, economy of speech, and liking for big long cigars—are reminiscent of the Air Force's retired chief of staff, Gen. Curtis E. LeMay. For most of the past five years, Abrams has moved through a variety of staff jobs in the Pentagon. He has been Army vice chief of staff since September, 1965.

The White House said Lt. Gen. Ralph E. Haines will succeed Abrams as vice chief of staff, Lt. Gen. Malcolm C. Bonwhal, now commander of the 3rd Corps at Ft. Hood, Tex., will be nominated for promotion to full general.

Abrams returned only Wednesday from his third inspection trip to Vietnam. "Each time I've come back with a stronger feeling of confidence," he told newsmen. "I've come back with a stronger feeling of confidence," he told newsmen. "I believe the forces level, in Vietnam is "about right" in the light of the type of operations being conducted there."

His assignment to the No. 2 command spot in Vietnam is in line with Johnson's statement of last month that he intends to strengthen the military command there.

As part of the reshuffling, Lt. Gen. Bruce Palmer was sent to Vietnam as commander of field force Two. Westmoreland's former deputy, Lt. Gen. John Howard, is being reassigned as deputy U.S. Army commander in Europe.

House Ethics Committee Formed

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House finally is going to have a permanent Ethics Committee, but when and how it will go into action is uncertain.

Creation of the committee was made definite Thursday when the Rules Committee\n
Technicians Join AFTRA Strike

NEW YORK (AP) — The American Federation of Television and Radio Artists won growing support Thursday for their nine-day strike against the three biggest networks, styled as a general move by the group to win recognition as a union by the networks.

AFTRA's banishment from the networks, as well as its general lack of recognition, is reminiscent of the Air Force vice chief of staff job that Abrams holds.

"About all we've ever had left," said one technician. "It's the only way to get a job, really."

The resolution to create the committee as a permanent group was given a name — Committee on Standards of Official Conduct — and said it should be composed of six Democrats and six Republicans to be chosen by their colleagues.

But its limited jurisdiction in proposing standards of official conduct for House members and employees and its lack of enforcement power when it should make a report, whatever standards are recommended, was limited by the Rules Committee and approved by the House.

Pursuantly, the new committee's jurisdiction will be limited, and its work will be proliminary work is completed.

SIU Book Awarded Excellence Seal

A forthcoming publication of the SIU Press has been awarded the Seal of Excellence of the Center for Editions of American Authors of the Modern Language Association of America.

The Seal, which certifies that the manuscript has been prepared in accordance with the standards set by the Center, will appear on the copyright page of "The Collected Works of John Dewey, 1882-96, Vol. II: Psychology," which will be released in December.

The Dewey volume is the first non-literary work ever to be so honored, according to Vernon A. Sternberg, SIU Press director. It is the result of cooperative research on Dewey publications at SIU and is the first volume in a projected five-volume series on the famed educator's works.

The editorial board for the publication is comprised of Zo Ann Boyden, textual editor; George Aydelotte, S. Morriss Eames and Lewis G. Merz, all of SIU; Frederick Bowers, consulting to textual editor; University of Virginia Press, and Joe E. Burnett, University of Illinois.

City Plan Commission Okays Quadrangles Swimming Pool

The Carbondale Planning Commission passed motions Wednesday night approving construction of a swimming pool at the Wall Street Quadrangles and expansion of the originally planned construction of Lewis Park Meadows development project.

The Quadrangles will be granted a request to construct a private swimming pool, to be used only by residents of the off-campus dormitory. The Quadrangles management must, however, submit a new master plan for future construction before proceeding with construction.

The Lewis Park Meadows development was granted an additional eight acres north of Grand Avenue and east of Wall Street for construction of commercial projects. The developers cited the need for such expansion because of a projected plan for more dormitory space that originally planned for and present zoning regulations calling for high density residential development in the area directly south of Lewis Park.

Senator Gilbert Discusses Cycle Kill

By Richard Liven

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. — He spent much of his time at the committee meeting, getting back to the hotel past mid-night. One source described him as "working himself to death.

Yet there he sat, early the next morning, in the red leather chair at his desk on the floor of the Senate Chamber in Springfield. John Gilbert, Democratic senator from Carbondale, was answering questions in the Daily Egyptian on everything from motorcycles to medical schools.

"The bill will provide for separate road tests for motorcycles and motorcars," Gilbert said, referring to Senate Bill 100. The Republicans control both houses of the legislature but Gilbert, a freshman senator for more than a decade, and his opinion carries some weight.

About the possibility of SIU's getting a medical school, Gilbert said, "There is presented by a committee studying the possibility of having a medical school in the southern part of the state."

He said that the committee wants to see if it would be more feasible to enlarge University of Illinois medical schools or to study the possibility of establishing a new school in the southern part of the state. Gilbert remarked, "To say that one case is the law. If a student does not maintain a legal residence anyplace else, and has established a legal residence in Carbondale, then he remains a legal resident of Carbondale until he establishes residence somewhere else.

"Cost of the controversy," Gilbert added, "comes from a failure to realize what the law is.

But Gilbert shocked his listeners. "When I was in law school," he said, "I was a man of 27 not a boy of 21 and I still voted in my home town.

Gilbert was asked if the students should have voice in the administration of SIU. He said, "The students shouldn't run the school."

But he did say that he favors a system whereby student representatives could meet regularly with administration officials and have a voice in the decisions that would affect them.

In response to another question the senator said that the student representatives could meet regularly with administration officials and have a voice in the decisions that would affect them. He said, "If the junior college program is finished there will be about 30 of them. He added that at the present time there is a need for at least four more junior colleges in the state.

Student Organists To Present Recital At 8 p.m. Tuesday

The American Guild of Organists will present a student recital on Tuesday at 8 p.m. in Shryock Auditorium.

Performers are the Leonard Hollmann, presenting Hymne "Action de Grace" to Deum," by Jean Langlais; Richard Bauch, presenting Hymne "Te Deum," by J. S. Bach; Norbert Krausz, Sonata II, Opus 26, Grave and Adagio, by Felix Mendelssohn; Sue Dickson, Prelude in E Flat Major, by Bach; Stephen Hamilton, Prayer from Christ ascending towards His Father (from the First Organ symphony), by Louis Vienne. Curtis Price will present a violin recital at 8 p.m. April 19 in Davis Auditorium, the Male Chorus Club, conducted by Bruce Howland, will perform at 8 p.m. April 20 in Shryock Auditorium.

Baseball Team Plays Memphis State Today

The Saluki baseball team, sporting a season's record of 4-6, will be in Memphis, Tenn., today and Saturday for a three-game series with Memphis State and University. Memphis State has a record of 6-4-6 thus far. The Tigers have been hitting the ball pretty well this season but their pitching has left something to be desired.

Their best two pitchers, John Ross and Art Akins, were both bombed in their last pitching outings. The Tiger pitching still has been slammed by Quincy College, 13-0; Arkansas State, 14-0; and by Northwestern, 10-3.

The Tigers have had a little bit of hitting themselves as a turnabout 15-6 victory over Northwestern indicates.

Coach Joe Iuzz, after winning six of seven home games last weekend, is expected to start Don Kirkland and Skip Pitlock the first two games. Howard Nickerson will likely get the starting nod for the tail end of the doubleheader Saturday.

Kirkland has slipped through his first five appearances this season without a defeat and has an earned run average of 1.9. Pitlock is also undefeated for the season with a record of 4-0 and his earned run average is 2.45. Nickerson has posted a record of 3-0 and has an almost unbelievable earned run average of 0.96 for 18 innings.

Meanwhile, the Tiger pitching staff will have to work around the "ritious wonders" turned "Saluki sluggers". Southern has posted a .280 team batting average through the first 15 games this season to surprise the Lions.

Leading the Saluki offensive attack is Dwight Clark, the Saluki 205-pound first baseman. Clark has a batting average of .401 and has driven in 12 runs this season. Barry O'Sullivan is not far behind Clark with a .385 batting average.

O'Sullivan's hitting is becoming more important recently, especially with the injury of Paul Paveich—the regular center fielder. Lutz will probably start O'Sullivan in left field, Nick Solis in center field and either Jim Dykes or Jerry Evans in right field for the opener.

Football Staff Signs 28 More Prep Players

An additional 28 high school football players have signed letters of intent to enroll next year at SIU, according to an announcement by Coach Ellis Rainberger.

Healing the group of signees are 10 Illinois high school players who have received all-state recognition and a pair of Missouri prep all-staters.

The list of Illinois all-state signers includes Steve Hawn, quarterback, Pittsfield; Bob Brainard, halfback, Dixon; Tony Doherty, linebacker, Quincy; Tom Dunia, fullback, Clifton Central; Jeff Haake, fullback, Ottawa; Jim Nonne­man, halfback, Springfield; John Norris, end, Quincy; Neil Storm, fullback, Shelbyville; John Polson, quarterback, East Peoria and Robert Mor­ris, tackle, Marquette.

The two Missouri all-staters are Rick Pierman from Bikmore and Craig Will­helm from C.B.C. High School in St. Louis.

Vogel Rates 1967 Championships Best Yet

By Tom Wood

The 1967 version of the Women's Collegiate Gymnastics Championships promises to be the best one yet, according to SIU coach Herb Vogel. Vogel feels his team has a strong chance of winning its fourth consecutive crown, but that the competition will also be better than at any time in the past.

"A change in scoring techniques will make the meet much more equitable this year," Vogel said. "Now only the top four scorers for each team will be given points toward team scoring. In the past all of the top ten qualifiers received points. Therefore, if SIU placed six girls in the top ten, it would get points for all six."

Vogel said that although his team is well balanced, he does not expect that the new scoring system will necessarily be a handicap.

The Salukis will be without the services of Linda Scott, who is suffering from a pulled muscle. She is rated as the strongest SIU performer on the balance beam.

However, Gail Daley, Canada's Athlete of the Year in 1966 and the defending vaulting champion in the collegiate meet, will be in good enough shape to participate in the all around and Vogel feels her spirit and desire are so high that she stands a chance of winning the title. Miss Daley suffered a severe knee injury last year in the World Games trials and has been out much of this year.

Vogel said, "Gail should do well in just about every event, with the possible exception of vaulting. She is not sure how her knee will hold up under the extra strain of vaulting, but she feels good and has even got butterflies over this meet. She wants this one a little more than any other I think."

Vogel also given Donna Schaeznier and Joanna Hoshino good chances in the all around and feels that Southern should be able to qualify three or four girls in every event. Vogel also had a tip on others to watch in the all around competition. "Jamie Spears and Linda Metheny will be the big contenders, along with Schaeznier and Hoshino, for the all around title, Metheny hasn't got a weak event. She has held titles in every event as well as the all around. She is a seasoned veteran and the pressure will be nothing new to her."

Why does Vogel feel that this year's meet will be the best in history? "There will be a lot of outstanding competitors here and the team competition promises to be closer than ever before. Conference is tougher than ever and Kent State is bringing in a strong, well balanced team into their first year of Collegiate Championship competition. Many of the kids from these schools have experience in top flight international competition," Vogel answered.

Foreign Students Bolster Southern's Tennis Teams

SIU's tennis teams have been helped out in past years by several top notch players who were foreign students. One of the first such players to lead the Salukis was Lance Lumonden who has played on the Jamaican Davis Cup Team.

This season the Salukis have five players on the team from countries other than the United States. Three of these hold down places on the varsity and are current on the University's roster. Jose Villarette of Manila in the Philippine Islands, is the Saluki No. 2 man. The No. 3 position is held down by Al Pena who comes to SIU from Bogota, Columbia. The No. 4 man in Coach Lefevre's lineup is Johnny Yang who is also from Manila.

"There aren't really that many foreign tennis players in the United States—it is just that the ones who come over are so outstanding that you hear about them," said Lefevre.

"Universities in other countries are crowded and difficult to get into. The top tennis players, as well as athletes in other sports are sought after by American universities which will even offer full NCAA scholarships in an effort to get them," commented Lefevre.
