Postpone Summer Term One Week

There have been several inquiries concerning the schedule for the summer session. At the May 20, 1951, meeting of the University Council, it was voted to try the plan of having a week's vacation between the spring and summer terms for a two-year period.

Thus, the 1952 summer session will accordingly begin June 16 instead of June 9 and will end Aug. 9 instead of Aug. 2. Commencement will be held on Friday, Aug. 8.

Students To Apply for Selective Service Test

All eligible students who intend to take the Selective Service College Qualification Test in 1952 should file applications at once for the April 24 administration. Selective Service National Headquarters have advised that up to 10 students will be selected for the test and that the selection will be completed by mid-May.

An application and a bulletin of information may be obtained at any Selective Service local board. Following instructions in the bulletin, the student should fill out his application immediately and mail it in the special envelope provided. Applications must be postmarked no later than midnight, March 31, 1952. Early filing will be beneficial to the student's advantage.

Results will be reported to the student's Selective Service local board of jurisdiction for use in considering his deferment as a student, according to Educational Testing Service, which prepares and administers the College Qualification Test.

Little Theatre To Present 'Medea' As Spring Play

Little Theatre's spring play, "Medea," will be given Thursday, May 22, in Shryock auditorium, according to Dr. Archibald McLeod, director.

The play, written by Euripides, is a Greek playwright in the fifth century B.C., has been a favorite play for women audiences. It is a story of passion and emotion, concerning a very super-human dramatic character, Medea.

SIU's dramatic will use an adaptation of the play by Robin Jeffers, who wrote the title role for actress Judith Anderson.

The action centers around the marriage of Medea to Jason, (the same Jason who searched for the golden fleece) his subsequent desertion of her for Creon's daughter, Medea's killing of her own two sons in her rage.

According to Dr. McLeod, "Medea" is a very difficult play, which few college theatres would attempt to produce. "I realize the difficulties but believe the students should have a chance to do something heavy. There is talent here to do a good job," concluded McLeod.

For the play is not yet complete and the entire cast will be announced at a later date.

Time Out

Do you ever go to class prepared to listen to an hour-long lecture and then become pleasantly surprised when your instructor goes off on a tangent about some idea or project that has just occurred to him? Before long, members of the class start volunteering opinions and experiences of their own and almost before you know it, the period has ended. You go out of class feeling that while you may not have learned much about the assigned lesson, you have learned a lot about the other members of the class and their attitudes and ideas.

It is the expression and interchange of ideas between classmates, between fellow workers, between statesmen, and even on a more abstract level, between nations, that makes for a better understanding of the problems, needs and ambitions of each.

Today—right now—we need as much as ever to examine our attitudes and especially our motives toward so-called other races and creeds. Do we have tolerance? If so, how do we practice it—in the refuge of words alone, or by our actions?

Next week is national Brotherhood Week, sponsored each year by the National Conference of Christians and Jews, Inc. on an effort to get us to stop and evaluate for ourselves our interpretation of the word “brotherhood” and to make practical application of this meaning in our relations with others.

The word “brotherhood” has many interpretations as there are individuals—and each of them different. To the so-called American, the word may signify standing shoulder to shoulder with millions of other Americans against all outside or foreign influence. To a faculty worker it may mean a unit formed to stand up for his rights against unfair management. To a student, it may be a stand for an ideal and a way of life which he has chosen and in danger of being continued, entirely unobtainable.

Since Brotherhood Week is to be observed next week, a committee has been set up here at Southern, sponsored by the Student Council, and several events, such as a dinner and an assembly, are being planned. Organizations have been asked to invite speakers to their regular meetings for talks on some of the aspects of brotherhood.

In addition to these plans, we think that it would be worthwhile for each class and instructor to take ten or fifteen minutes during the week for an informal discussion of the meaning of “brotherhood” to them, and its possible applications.

She pointed out that such an effort prove to be a larger drawing card for the Homecoming celebration and also to increase the work of the committee. She asked that Council members discuss this plan with various organizations and individuals and state their reactions at the next meeting.

W. C. McDaniel discussed the proposed adoption of the semester plan for Southern. It was decided that arguments for and against the plans from the students' points should be drawn up and given the necessary publicity so that students could vote on the proposal at the spring term registration.

Bradley Among Ten Foes Schedule For SIU Baseball Team

Southern's baseball team will play a 19-game schedule, including nine home games, next season, Coach Glenn (Abe) Martin has announced.

The season gets under way April 5 with a game at Arkansas State. Prior to that, the Salukis will play six-game tour of the south, with games against Southeast Louisiana at Lafayette, Loyola of the South at New Orleans, Mississippi State at Clinton and Louisiana State at Baton Rouge. The tour will last from March 10-15.

Students will have a chance to see doubleheaders with Central Michigan, Southern and Eastern, and single games with Washington U., Mt. St. Mary and Arkansas State.

A new opponent on this year's schedule is Bradley University, whom the Salukis play at Peoria, May 31, last of their last game of the year.

The schedule:

April 5—Arkansas State, away.
April 8—Washington U., home.
April 9—Mt. St. Mary, away.
May 3—Southern Illinois, home.
May 4—Illinois Normal, away.
May 16—Eastern Illinois, home.
May 20—Eastern Illinois, away.

SIU Seeks Second Place From Normal Saturday

Southern will be out to recapture second place in the IIAAC tomorrow when the Salukis travel to Illinois State Normal.

Normal, who beat Western last Saturday 72-67, now holds second place with a record of six wins and three losses. Southern is in third with six wins and four defeats.

The Salukis will be trying to avenge an earlier loss to the Redbirds. Normal edged out Southern in a game here Feb. 2, 65-63. That was the first time Southern had been beaten on its home court this year.

Normal is the only conference team, besides unbeaten Eastern that Southern hasn't defeated at least once this year. Western, the other team to beat Southern in conference play, was mowed down in a return match with the Salukis, 67-6.

THE GAME WITH Normal is the only conference tilt still left on Southern's schedule. A home game with Michigan Normal was postponed early in the season but as yet no date has been agreed upon to make up the game.

Harvey Welch, Southern's top scoring guard, is still an uncertain starter for the Normal game. Welch, who has an injured finger, missed the first game with the Redbirds. He also was out of the Western tilt and appears only briefly in the last minute of the game with Eastern.

WELCH, DESPITE the fact he has missed three conference tilts, is still Southern's leading scorer in league play. He has scored 104 points, an average of 13.1 per game.

Forward Bob Nickolaus is averaging 9.4 points per conference game and Forward Ray Ripplemeyer is averaging 9.1. Ripplemeyer, who is second to Welch in total points scored with 91, has a .415 shooting percentage in league play.

Southern's next home game, and the only one left unless Michigan Normal is rescheduled, will be Wednesday, Feb. 20, against Washington U. of St. Louis. After that, the Salukis have two road tilts at Beloit, Wis., Feb. 23, and at Siena, New York, March 1.
