Our Opinions

There's No Difference

A student, led, coming home from school after a workout with the swim team, was strolling along. "Doggie line," he thought. "But it's been so hot out there."

And down at the red Canada Cross boys dropped the ball. "There's no difference," one of them said, "in the hot and the cool." But they were all warming up for the big game against the White Lightning. And the man said, "It's hot today, but it's only going to get worse."

And as the sun beat down on the field, the man knew that he was right. "There's no difference," he thought, "between the hot and the cool."

Our Fault

In the last issue of the Egyptian, there was a story about how our school has been focusing on the concept of diversity. The article was well-written and the information was accurate. However, I found one small error that I would like to point out.

In the paragraph about the diversity initiatives, there was a sentence stating that "our school has a diverse population of students." However, this statement is not entirely accurate. While our school does have a diverse student body, it is not as diverse as the article suggests.

As a point of clarification, our school's student population consists of students from various cultural backgrounds, races, and socioeconomic statuses. However, we do not have a significant number of students from diverse ethnic or racial backgrounds.

I would like to request that the student body and faculty be informed of this clarification to ensure that our school's reputation as a diverse institution is not misrepresented.

February is Month of Holidays and Birthdays

February is a month of holidays and birthdays. There are several important events that take place in February, such as President's Day, Valentine's Day, and the birthday of Martin Luther King Jr.

Each year, President's Day is celebrated on the third Monday of February to honor the nation's founding father, George Washington. It is a day to remember the significance of our country's past and to honor the contributions of our nation's leaders.

Valentine's Day, on the other hand, is a day to celebrate love and relationships. It is a time when people express their feelings for their loved ones through cards, gifts, and romantic dinners.

Martin Luther King Jr.'s birthday is celebrated on the third Monday of January, although it is observed on the third Monday of February. It is a day to honor the civil rights leader and to remember his fight for equality and justice.

Garbutt Studies Dialect of Area's Old-Timers

At a meeting of the Garbutt Historical Society, Dr. James G. melting, a noted dialectologist, presented a talk on the dialects used by the area's early settlers.

Dr. G. explained that the dialects used by the early settlers were influenced by their regional backgrounds and the languages they spoke. He noted that the dialects used by early settlers in the area were often a mix of English and other languages, such as Dutch and German.

Dr. G. also discussed the changes that occurred in the dialects over time, such as the loss of certain sounds and the adoption of new words.
