Supervisor Is "Scavenger With Scruples"

Thousands Saved Each Month Through Surplus Properties

By Bill Christine

Hull and Mason "Scavenger With Scruples" has been the talk of the town. The Supervisor has released his winter report that shows how much the county has saved through the Surplus Property Program. The report states that the county has saved over $1,000,000 this year alone.

The program allows schools to acquire surplus property at a discount through the Surplus Property Program. The savings have been significant with the purchase of used office furniture, appliances, and other items. The Supervisor has praised the efforts of the schools in maximizing the savings through this program.

The report also highlights the success of the county in acquiring used vehicles for public services. The vehicles have been acquired at a fraction of the cost of new vehicles, saving the county a significant amount of money.

The Supervisor has urged other departments to take advantage of the program and save money for the county. The program has been a success and will continue to be pursued in the future.

"We are proud of the accomplishments of the Surplus Property Program," said Supervisor Christine. "This program has saved the county a significant amount of money, and we will continue to work towards further savings."
Bela Varga knows the problems of freedom. He escaped from behind the Iron Curtain... and has spent the last two years in Europe trying to help others escape as well. Varga is a Hungarian, and he has dedicated his life to helping others obtain freedom. He believes that everyone has the right to be free, and he is willing to risk his own life to help others achieve this goal.

Varga's journey began when he was a young man living in Hungary. He witnessed firsthand the oppression and suffering of the people living under the rule of the communists. He knew that something had to be done, and he dedicated himself to helping others escape to freedom.

Varga's work has been crucial in helping people escape from behind the Iron Curtain. He has worked tirelessly to provide safe routes for those who want to leave their country and start a new life elsewhere. His efforts have saved countless lives, and he has become a symbol of hope for those who seek freedom.

Despite the dangers, Varga remains committed to his cause. He knows that the fight for freedom is not over, and he is determined to continue his work until every person has the right to choose their own destiny. Varga's message is clear: freedom is a fundamental human right, and everyone deserves the opportunity to live their life as they choose.

Cagers Clip Normal, Lose To Western In Thrill-Packed Games

By Jim Jordan

After clipping Illinois Normal, 81-73, in a tight packed game Friday night, 73-71, Illinois State's basketball team "made a job" finally backs them in their upset of unbeaten Western Illinois upon a 100-78 victory at State's 65th game.

In normal fashion, the result was one of the nail-biting games at the Peoria center.

In the second overtime of one of the most exciting games of the year, the Normal scored first, 72-70, and turned the ball over to Brown for a try. Thereafter, Brown hit two three-pointers as the State took a 72-63 lead with 13.2 seconds left.
