A delegation of Spanish justice officials are here for three days as a part of an U.S. State Department tour studying American prison methods. Antonio Quintano, Chief Justice of the Supreme Court, leads the Spanish Mixed Commission of Jurisdiction. Included in the three-day study program conducted by the SIU Center for the Study of Corrections and Community Corrections will be a seminar and a two-day tour of various correctional institutions.

This program is an agreement between SIU and the Agency for International Development of the State Department. Its aim is to help foreign justice officials become familiar with American procedures in crime prevention and correction.

Also included in the SMJC are: Edwards Del No Loula, deputy chief Judge Advocate General of the Spanish Army; Colonel Antonio Lopez Blance, chief of the Spanish Naval Legal Department, Colonel Pedro Ruiz, assistant attorney-general of the Spanish Supreme Court; Antonio Campo, chief of the Attorney-General and Captain Car¬los Agudo-Calderon, deputy chief of the Spanish High General Staff.

Myrl E. Alexander, SIU CRIME, accompanied the foreign dignitaries during the three-day visit. He is assisted by two State Department interpreters.

The annual Elijah Parish Lovejoy award for courage in journalism has been presented by the SIU Department of Journalism to a 35-year-old Arkansas editor-publisher who was shot at and beaten in his efforts to bring good government to his community.

Gene Winscher, publisher of the weekly Democrat in Morrison, Ark., received the award Sunday at the opening session of the International Conference of Weekly Editors at the Pere Marquette state park near Grafton.

Dr. Howard R. Long, chairman of the Department of Journalism and secretary-treasurer of the conference, made the presentation at a Sunday afternoon ceremony where 35 miles to the southeast, the park lodge. Winscher became the seventh recipient of the award which was established by the Chicago editor who became an early martyr of a free press.

He and the other weekly editors from 10 states, Canada and England took part in a brief wreath-laying ceremony at Lovejoy's grave in Alton.

Winscher, a lanky, red-haired publisher, received the award for his four-year fight against a small-town political machine which he charged had controlled the area with an iron-fist for more than 10 years.

"I couldn't be more pleased," he told his fellow editors after receiving the award. "There isn't a whole lot of freedom of the press where Cairo is concerned, but the moment but we like to think there will be someday." Winscher recounted for his colleagues how during the Civil War his politically astute is still going on—his home has been stoned and he has been shot at and beaten by the and threatened so many times by anonymous enemies he once sent his wife and four children to live in Little Rock, 35 miles to the southwest, for their protection.

One of the first things Winscher said he learned when he arrived in Morrison four years ago was that the Democrat was that in Con­ey County, Arkansas, you don't get elected, you get selected—by political bosses, with facts to back him up. Winscher fired the first shot.

District Women's Club To Meet Here Friday

Members of the Illinois Federation of Women's Clubs, 25th district, will audition a variety of programs for the coming year during a meeting in Morris Library auditorium Friday from 10 a.m. to 2:30 p.m.

Mrs. William Hastie of Carville, district program bureau chairman, said more than 100 local club chairmen and other Women's Club members will view lecturers, musicians and other information and entertainment personnel during the meeting.

Members from the surrounding districts are also invited to the session. Some 20 persons, including SIU faculty members, fish and wildlife personnel, foreign students will present excerpts of their program offerings to the women.

Following the presentation of program material the women will be entertained at a tea in the lounge adjacent to the library auditorium.

Math Lectures Are Scheduled For This Week

The Department of Mathematics is presenting three lectures by Professor Douglas E. Qua 1 ding, chairman of the Department of Mathematics at Marquette College, England.

Today at 1:30 p.m. in the Agriculture seminar room Prof. Qua 1 ding will discuss "The Changing Pattern of English Mathematical Education.

At 7:30 p.m. tomorrow in Browne Auditorium he will speak on "The Place of Applied Mathematics in a Mathematical Education," and on Thursday, June 19, at 10 a.m. in the Agriculture seminar room, Mr. Qua 1 ding will discuss "The Theorem of the Means." The public is invited to these lectures, which are part of a series sponsored this summer by the National Science Foundation Summer Institute for Teachers of Mathematics.

FLANY DOMINGO CHU

Philippine Dance Group To Perform Wednesday

FLANY DOMINGO CHU and a group of 14 dancers will present "Glimpses of Philippine Culture Through Folk Dances and Music" at 7:30 p.m. tomorrow in Morris Library auditorium.

The program will be divided into five parts to trace Philippine culture from the early Spanish influences to current western customs and traditions.

Included will be dances of the mountain tribes depicting the earliest authentic dances of the country; Fiesta Pilipinas will demonstrate in dance the arrival of the Spaniards in the 16th Century and the introduction of western culture into Philippine life; regional variations will be a demonstration of national dances resulting from differences in customs and beliefs; dances of the moslems in Mindanao will depict the influence of Arabian, Malayan and Indonesian cultures in the Southern part of the island; rural Philippine dances will show the people of the country-side at work and play.

The program of dances were organized and interpreted by Mrs. Chu. She was graduated from Arellano University in Manila with a degree in physical education and came to SIU to work on a master's degree in secondary education.

She has worked as a graduate assistant in women's physical education and in recreation and outdoor education. At present she is studying for a specialist's certificate in the Recreation and Outdoor Education department.

Dancers in the group include Emma Arincinio, Alapac Acuna, Mamerto Ventura, Gennaro Mar 1, Barbara Robinson, Ruth Marie Craig, Mary John Vaughan, Linda Emery, Julie Ku ng, Jean Wharton, Katie Benziger, Mary Ellen Couser, and Missie Couser. Pacita Floyd and her three children, Anne, Lillian and Bernard, will be guest performers.

John S. Wharton of the music department will be the accompanist.

Thomas Page, former SIU singer, has been awarded a $3,000 fellowship by the Institute of International Education in New York to support his musical studies in Switzerland.

Page, a tenor who was a student of Marjorie Lawrence, director of the SIU Opera Workshop, was accepted by the International Workshop Center for a year’s study in Zurich, Switzerland. The $3,000 fellowship will help finance his year of study in Zurich.

Page, who was a featured singer in the Opera Workshop production of “Aida,” is appearing with the Santa Fe Opera Company this summer. He will sing several featured roles and will understudy Metropolitan Opera star George Shirley in the lead role in Puccini’s “Tosca.”

The 22-year-old singer is the youngest member of the Santa Fe Company. He is a native of Salem.

Carl Lutes To Tour Russia With Orchestra

Flutist Carl Lutes, an English lecturer at SIU, has been selected to play with a special orchestra—chori group that the U.S. State Department will send to Russia this fall in a cultural exchange bringing Moscow's famed Bolshoi Theatre Ballet to the U.S.

Lutes was chosen by Robert Shaw, conductor of the Robert Shaw Chorale who is now visiting conductor of the Cleveland Symphony, following an audition in New York. Shaw is assembling the orchestra and will tour for the tour of Russia Poland and East Berlin. Lutes will be first flutist.

A Christopher native, Lutes is first chair flutist with the St. Louis Symphony before returning to Southern, his alma mater, to teach English five years ago. He won bachelor's and master's degrees at SIU and another master's at Columbia University. Since returning to SIU he has done part time concert and orchestra work off campus as well as performing in local recitals.

He said he will request a leave-of-absence for the fall and winter term to make the trip.

SIU '62-'63 Budget Increased $391,660

An internal budget totaling $2,138,665, exclusive of Auxiliary Enterprises and restricted funds, was approved for the second half of the current biennium by the Board of Trustees.

This is an increase of $391,660 over the 1962-63 budget. Plant, $2,958,563; Restricted Funds, $2,558,983, Auxiliary Enterprises, $4,506,126, Student Activities, $398,500; and Student Aid, $200,041. "Research also receives heavy support from restricted funds.

Salaries and wages, totaling $1,445,074, account for 77 percent of the 1962-63 General Budget. This includes the $476,608 which President DeWitte W. Morris announced last month would be available for improving staff salary levels, an amount

Commenting upon portions of the annual budget President Morris cited the provision of $1,273,334 for student help on both campuses about $50,000 more than last year. The pay scale for student help will remain the same, he said, ranging from $1.80 to $1.25 per hour.

He recalled that Gov. Otto Kerner's recommendation for the university's appropriation for the biennium was slashed from a relative small amount of additional personal services money available for 1962-63 will be absorbed by continued large enrollment increases. It has been possible to recommend only modest increases in salary for members of the faculty and administrative staffs; minor increases for office workers and other civil service employees.

"The salary increases recommended in this budget will not, therefore not enhance the ability of Southern Illinois University to retain and hold good faculty members. It should be pointed out that other institutions, in general, have been increasing their salary levels faster than Southern's."

High School Musicians Lament 'Lack Of Time'

If the first Music and Youth at Southern program has a theme song it certainly isn't "Time On My Hands," the 97 high school musicians enrolled in the workshop readily agree.

"A certain time for classes, a certain time for recreation, a certain time for meals," lamented Jane Templeton, a blue-eyed teenager from Pinckneyville, who plays the bassoon in her high school orchestra.

"Imagine a strictly scheduled rest period after classes," she said with something of a puzzled expression. "Writing letters is the most strenuous activity allowed at that time."

"I didn't think I was going to like it but there are so many things I do now I'm glad I came," said Miss Templeton.

The workshop has not been ideal. Students must make use of the campus library, go bowling, and attend SIU's summer theater shows.

"One night I attended a dance held for the entire student body. We didn't have enough space to dance in. Another night the faculty entertained us with a recital. A third evening was taken up with a beach party," said Jane.

All the girls have to do this, too bad for all you get out of this," said the Pinckneyville lass.

Dinner is served at 7:00 p.m. The workshop has not been ideal for the students. They are encouraged to swim in the Lake-on-Campus and take part in archery and other supervised activities. The campus library, bowling, and attending SIU's summer theater shows have not been ideal.

Facilities in the south wing, off.

Almost 13 years ago, the university announced it would build another wing at the east end of the structure. The wing is still proposed construction.

Although begun last fall, the present renovation was scheduled to begin a year or two before.

Present plans also call for the remodeling of the south entrance of Anthony Hall. An elevated patio and a visitors' parking lot will be placed just outside the entrance.

Although assignments to the office building are unofficial according to the president's office, the emblems of several department heads are getting bigger and bigger as the September moving day nears.

Unofficially given the nod for the new offices are Area Services' several sections: Area Services, Community Development Institute, Community Development Department, Alumni Service, Information Service and Placement Service.

They will occupy the bottom three floors of the structure. There has been no decision about who gets the top floor, Rino Bianchi, administrative assistant, said.

Workmen expect to complete the renovation by Aug. 15, one said. However, the various units of Area Services won't be able to move in until just before school starts, Hart said.

When the Anthony Hall project ends, workmen may begin renovating Old Main, Hart indicated. Old Main is the next building on the list.

However, work there will proceed room by room. "It's used to much we can't close it down as we did Anthony Hall," the construction supervisor explained.

Work on revamping Shryock Auditorium, also high on the priority list, is being delayed until the new gymnasium is completed. Then the auditorium can be closed down for six to nine months, Hart said.

Summer Opera Workshop
To Give Arkansas Concert

The fifth annual Summer Opera Workshop, directed by Marjorie Lawrence, will present a concert Tuesday, July 24, at the Arlington Hotel, Hot Springs, Ark.

The workshop, held at Miss Lawrence's Harmony Hills Ranch near Hot Springs, is sponsored by the Department of Music.

Included in the performance will be works of Verdi, Saint-Saens, Mozart, Meyerbeer, Rossini, Puccini and Copland. Performing will be Gary Varnadore, Ruth Batts, Diana Long, Fred Rounsfull, Carol Lambert, Bambi Mosely, Aviva Halaban, Constance Wright, Margaret Boyden, Zella Burston, Isabelle Burton, Barbara Nemeth, Deanna Stevenson, Gene Braughton, Phil Falcone, Gene Horner, Steve Nichols, James Burton and Elder Young.

New Curriculum Planned

This fall SIU will start upon a new, expanded program in General Studies. All bachelor degree students will be required to take General Studies courses. The curriculum is divided into three levels, with the freshman level courses, composed of 39 quarter hours to be taken during the freshman year. Second-level courses, totaling 45 quarter hours, will be completed during the sophomore years. Third-level courses, totaling 48 hours, will be taken during the junior and senior years. Thus, General Studies courses taken during the freshman year as defined above is a part of the academic program for almost all students.

Several recent developments account for the trend toward General Studies programs, the most obvious being the area's explosive increase in the amount of knowledge that man has created for himself. Such an explosion of knowledge becomes doubly frightening when one realizes that the power to comprehend even a fraction of the whole and vast wealth of knowledge is to prepare students to assume responsibilities that are thrust upon them and are accepting the fact that the subject matter of the university does not exist independently of the society which supports it. Furthermore, the education of an enlightened citizen can be the prevention of such a catastrophe as can turn our times is a basic objective of higher education.

General Studies are only a part of man's education. While General Studies can certainly help a student in his choice of occupation and can contribute to his success in a given occupation, their principal objective is not to develop vocational skills. They comprise that portion of the total current curriculum which deals with the common needs of man and which assists the student to become a person in a world that increasingly demands more of all men in terms of the intellectual, spiritual, and social. One of the prime purposes of General Studies is to prepare students to assume their proper responsibilities in an ever-changing world.

Are Students Misrepresented?

If the Student Council wishes to participate in these demonstrations, then let those students be misinformed and forget the name, "Southern Illinois University." The name of a school implies that the faculty, student body, and the people of the community are in full support of the issue. Before such can be said, they must be united, and the students of the school are, or are not in favor of the issue.

If we are in favor, then let the name, "SUI," be used. But let us not hastily and falsely represent.

Let us examine ourselves with the basic issue before we decide to make a stand. Let us determine the true sentiments of all persons concerned. This can be done through the press without a wrap of vision of the entire student body. But the press can only print these articles and views if the press is allowed to maintain its original freedoms and is further allowed to present itself at all meetings of the student body.

The Student Council is elected to represent the student body, but wishes to threaten to bar the press in order that the student body may not know the true actions of the council that would misrepresent the entire student body. But the press can only print these articles and views if the press is allowed to maintain its original freedoms and is further allowed to present itself at all meetings of the student organization and activities.

The Student Council is elected to represent the student body, but wishes and threatens to bar the press in order that the student body may not know the true actions of the council that would misrepresent the student Council forget who has made and organized the present situation. If personal feelings are to be the rule of our university, then we could feel safe to know that we have slipped into the future and later rule our country. Can we forget that the future of this, and other "Free" countries, lies in the hands of the lower grades of our youth? Only if we think and act as adults will we be treated as such.

Perhaps we can justify our manners, when our manners become manly and adult. Let us assume the responsibility of honorable representation of our ideas.

Cairo Action Justified??

But the action in Cairo is wholly justified by the laws of Illinois. There is no question concerning the rights involved in this matter. If the Conservatives really believe in human rights, they should at least come out in favor of the movement in Cairo. But as yet, they have offered no expression of opinion. Are the local Conservatives honest in their statements of their position? Is their pious legalism really only a mask for their unconcern, or even prejudices?

Mr. and Mrs. Solomon Foley (Editor's Note: We seem to have misinformed. T.M.)

Rights Of Kindred

Editor: In her letter to the editor of July 10th, Miss Tyree states: "Granted that the rights of mankind are at stake, and that his may be a worthy cause." In these few words, she aptly summed up the Student Non-Violent Freedom Committee's purpose in furthering the actions of Cairo, Carbondale, and other communities. As this is Southern Illinois University not, say, Carbondale University, I feel that the SNPC should, and for the same reason the student body should, be concerned with the Cairo problem, as it is a part of Southern Illinois University.

We, too, believe that the rights of mankind are at stake, but we further believe that it is the right, nay, the duty of all men to see that people everywhere are treated as members of the human race, without fear of discrimination due to race, religion, creed or color. It is not our intention to be "rabblerousers," but instead to help people to know what is right towards mankind, and to give all people an opportunity to better themselves in this world. To do this, we feel that every individual must have and understand that he has the rights and privileges claimed in the Declaration of Independence - the equal right to life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness.

Jim Adams

Misinformed

Editor: After reading your column concerning my brother's death in Friday's paper of July 6, 1962, I am quite shocked that you would have printed a statement I never made and have it appear in your column. If Fire Chief Don Crabree told you that I made such a statement he has definitely misquoted me.

When the coroner spoke to my parents long distance, they informed me that James could swim and had won several awards as an Eagle Scout for his ability in this sport.

Overseas Forestry Specialists
Tour SIU Forest Research Center

Three overseas forestry specialists spent four days (July 10-13) at SIU last week studying the work of the Carbondale Forest Research Center, a unit of the U.S. Forest Service.

During their stay at Carbondale the trio spent one day observing teaching and research practices at the Wood Products Pilot Plant which is operated jointly by the university and the Forest Research Center to train students for employment in wood using industries and to find new uses for native hardwood timber. Here the group observed the use of modern industrial type machinery for processing rough lumber.

Another day was spent at the Research Center’s Kasawatki Experimental Forest in Hardin County to study forest management practices, log grading, and sawmill operations. Other time was spent visiting small wood using industries in the area.

15 Buildings Sold
Fifteen university buildings were sold for just under $1,000 by the property control section of the state’s department of finance.

Top price, $425, was paid for a 1 1/2 story house at 608 W. Grand. The lowest price offered was $15 for a 1/2 story building at 907 S. Illinois Ave.

One professor was added to the permanent faculty and five visiting professors were hired for periods of one year or less by the Board of Trustees at its recent meeting.

Term appointments for six visiting professors now serving on the faculty were extended.

There were 11 additions to the permanent faculty and staff, of which 6 were for the Edwardsville campus; 30 appointments for one year or less; 34 reappointments; 26 changes in assignment and 15 resignations.

Returning to the Carbondale campus and permanent faculty roster will be George Wash­ington Jewett, assistant professor of economics and doctor of education de­­­endent in the office of the assistant dean of student affairs at the University of Alaska. One professor was added to the permanent faculty and five visiting professors were offered for periods of one year or less by the Board of Trustees at a recent meeting.

Term appointments for six visiting professors now serving on the faculty were extended.

There were 11 additions to the permanent faculty and staff, of which 6 were for the Edwardsville campus; 30 appointments for year or less; 34 reappointments; 26 changes in assignment and 15 resignations.

Returning to the Carbondale campus and permanent faculty roster will be George Washington Turner, professor and vice president and professor at the University of Alaska. He will resume his former position as professor and chairman of the department of education. In addition to his Alaskan assignment, he has served as a member of the Salzburg Seminar in American Studies in Austria.

Joshua M. Dandeneau was appointed associate professor of management, replacing Richard D. Sappenfield, resigned. He has been acting assistant dean at Michigan State University and recipient of a master of education degree in industrial relations. Dandeneau will also be assistant dean at Florida State University.

Leonard Edward Kraft was appointed assistant professor of teacher training and learned Melvin L. Sieper was named assistant professor of music. Norman C. Johnson, of Syracuse, N.Y., and Howie Edelson were named assistant professors in community services. The appointment for the Edwardsville campus included four assistant professors, an instructor in architecture, and a supervisor in the office of the assistant university architect.

Five visiting professors have been listed for term appointments. They include George S. Counts, author of 38 books, who is on leave from the University of Chicago and whose book "In the Face of China" was released at the Universities of Washington, Yale, Chicago and Columbia.

Among his better known works are "The Challenge of Soviet Education," "The Senior High School Curriculum," "The Higher Education of the Soviet Union" and "The Senior High School Curriculum, " which will be served as university and visiting professor in administration and supervision.

David Fox, with degrees from the Universities of London and California, will serve as visiting professor of geography. Frederick O'Neal will be visiting professor of theater and drama during the fall quarter, replacing Archibald McLeod, on sabbatical leave. Miss Sadie Gertrude Young, formerly on the SIU faculty, will return as visiting professor of economics. She is a professor (emeritus) at Florida State University. Akira Yuasa of the University of Tokyo and formerly on Southern's staff will return for a fall quarter of special work in the Biological Research Laboratory.

Feapointed for periods of a year or less were the following visiting professors, now serving Southern's staff:

Robert I. Ashman in forestry, Clarence A. Jerdine in government, Eugene S. Lawler in administration and supervision, and Alfonso F. Myers in higher education.

Changes in assignment include Hyman H. Frank, who will serve as professor in the Center for the Study of Crime, Delinquency and Corrections. He has been on leave of absence. Mrs. Carol MacClin- ton, associate professor of music and Guenther E. Roth- enberg, assistant professor of history, will serve on research assignments in connection with Guggenheim awards.

Frank H. Thomas, assistant professor of geography, will exchange positions with Allan Patmore of Liverpool University, England.

Gene C. Turner, chief of the personnel office in the Edwardsville campus since 1959, will move to the Car- bondale campus and replace Max Sappenfield as director of personnel. Sappenfield has requested reassignment to full-time teaching.

The following are members of the SIU staff, of which 6 were for the Edwardsville campus; 30 appointments for year or less; 34 reappointments; 26 changes in assignment and 15 resignations.

Three overseas forestry specialists spent four days (July 10-13) at SIU last week studying the work of the Car- bondale Forest Research Center, a unit of the U.S. Forest Service.

The visitors were Amos S. Kamara of Monrovia, Liberia, a forest supervisor in the sales division of the Liberian Bureau of Forestry; Reuben I. Kwokolo of Kaduna, Nigeria, a senior forest supervisor in the Nigerian Ministry of Agriculture and natural resources; and Tran Trung Dinh of Saigon, Vietnam, a graduate student in the New York State University School of Forestry at Syracuse.

Kamara holds a bachelor of science degree in forestry from the University of Liberia and Kwokolo is a graduate of the Kaduna school of forestry. Kwokolo is especially interested in forest management, forest utilization and administration. He has a bachelor's degree in forestry from the College of Forestry at Los Banos, the Philippines, Dr. L. Bailey, University of Korea, will speak on "The Recent Photography" at 7:30 p.m. Thursday in Mor- ris Library Auditorium, as part of the Public Lecture Series.

Strawberry Shortcake
Won't Be On Future Menu
At One Japanese College

No strawberry shortcake in Sister Mary Tolentine's home ec class to begin in Kyoto, Japan. "Foods such as that are just not used fresh there," she said emphatically.

The mild-mannered Catholic nun who will go to Japan next spring to begin a home economic curriculum at Notre Dame Women's College, said she may have her students prepare some American dishes. But most of her teaching will be about balanced diets rather than fancy desserts.

"I can hardly wait to get there," Sister Tolentine signed winfully. "There is so much too learn—I have to start from scratch," she admitted. Yet this did not discourage her in the least. Challenged but determined, her steady eyes bespeak her decision of this "lifetime proposition."

Adult education is one phase in which the soft-spoken nun is quite interested. Japanese women need to learn how to take their places in a society which has so recently accepted them on a much higher plane than that of subordinate and subservient."

"Oh, I am so eager to get into that bloated Sister Tolentine. At times it has seemed that he education has delayed her, that it hasn't been enough. But she added apologetically that every bit had definitely helped to prepare her for this huge volunteer work.

"That is one thing that is so wonderful about SIU; so many of my courses have been tailor-made," she said.

Arkansas Editor Wins Lovejoy Award
For Battling City Political Machine

In an editorial war on the city-county machine that touched off a campaign of terror in retaliation, A competing weekly newspaper took no part.

It turned up odd facts in a township election simply by going out and interviewing voters. The announced election results showed that a candidate had won, 93-2. Yet, the first 14 voters Wirges interviewed swore that they had voted against that candidate.

He won his point but he also was savagely beaten by the $2500 pound tax assessor Wirges, who weighs 155 pounds, suffered a bruise concussion. The tax assessor got off with a $32.85 fine for assault and battery.

And he gleefully pointed out in the Democrat how the city alderman ignored the state's new sewer tax referendum and "enacted a special ordinance permitting them to spend the money anyway."

SIU-CIPS Discuss Electrical Rates

Can 93 be condensed into one? That's the electrical problem SIU and the Central Illinois Public Service Company are trying to solve.

If the CIPS firm would read one master electrical meter instead of the current 93 meters, SIU officials think they could save more than $36,000 annually.

SIU, represented by John S. Rendleman, executive director of business affairs, the John Dewey Board Meets Here

Leading educators from across the country met on campus last weekend for the annual executive board meeting of the John Dewey Society.

Dr. George Axtelle of the SIU department of education is president. Included on the agenda was a discussion of a new series of publications, plans for membership expansion and use of Society publications in local discussion groups.

The society has published 16 yearbooks, all well known in the field of education, Axtelle was co-author of the fourth yearbook. "Teachers for Democracy," published in 1940 by the D. Appleton-Century Co. The John Dewey Society, currently with a membership of about 300, "exists to promote the thoughtful study of educational problems of especial concern to the teaching profession,"
