3-7-1988

The Daily Egyptian, March 07, 1988

Daily Egyptian Staff

Follow this and additional works at: http://opensiuc.lib.siu.edu/de_March1988
Volume 74, Issue 112

Recommended Citation

This Article is brought to you for free and open access by the Daily Egyptian 1988 at OpenSIUC. It has been accepted for inclusion in March 1988 by an authorized administrator of OpenSIUC. For more information, please contact opensiuc@lib.siu.edu.
By Holly J. Corrington
Staff Writer

The controversy over the use of "collegiality" as a criteria in the selection of tenure recipients soon will get discussion time. In October, 1987, the executive council of the Faculty Senate and three representatives of the Graduate Council voted to conduct special meetings with the faculty of individual colleges to examine the role, if any, of collegiality in the tenure selection process.

The senate has asked individual colleges to schedule faculty meetings this semester to begin the initial phase of discussion on collegiality.

A letter from Elaine Aiden, president of the Faculty Senate, stated that the meetings were designed to promote faculty consideration of the issue, facilitate discussion, and prompt them to consider the different perspectives, favorable and unfavorable, on the place of collegiality in the tenure process.

November, music professor William Hammond charged that he was denied tenure on the basis of personal, rather than professional considerations by the five-member School of Music Promotion and Tenure Committee.

Following the committee's rejection of Hammond's request for tenure, the University's Judicial Review Board and the Board of Trustees refused the case. Hammond has sued the Board of Trustees in federal court claiming his right to due process was not protected.

The case generated widespread concern among supporters of speedingboat radar. Hammond's alleged lack of collegiality, as a reason for denying him tenure.

Acting reality
Nicole Chappin, left, and Darren Slanthouse, both freshmen in theater, rehearse a scene from "Kids in the Dark." Story on Page 7.

Simon predicting: 'Nomination mine'
By Dana DeBeaumont
Staff Writer

Sen. Paul Simon says there will be no clear choice for the Democratic nomination for president, but says he will earn the nomination at the delegate convention in Atlanta July 18 in a second round of voting.

"We're going to have a very unusual convention," Simon said. "No one is going to have a majority on the first ballot. Then when you start looking at who might be the second choice for a lot of people, who is first choice for someone else, it becomes very clear that Paul Simon is someone that can pick up a great many votes from other candidates in a variety of ways."

Organizations like the National Education Association, a teachers' union, which will have 300 to 600 delegates at the convention, will want someone who is a leader in education, Simon said at his Illinois campaign kick-off rally Friday in Marion.

He says as president he would reverse college loans, and grants and target illiteracy. "My job is to find the troublemakers, train them and there are no boundaries. We used to have one, there are no Dick Daleys left anywhere in the nation -- so it is going to be a very fluid situation."

Simon asked the ap

Marijuana-legalization backers want to be RSO
By John Mohlor
Staff Writer

The Southern Illinois chapter of the National Organization for the Reform of Marijuana Laws, which seeks to have marijuana legalized, has had success attracting members, co-director Mark Besner, junior in sociology, said.

"We're just starting to rock," Besner said. "We don't have a list of membership per se." Besner said.

Sixty people demonstrated support at a rally on the steps of Shryock Auditorium Feb. 28, co-director Matt McDonough said.

NORML is meeting with at least 15 representatives from the dormitory Wednesdays night to elect support for the organization and is working to achieve recognized student organization status, MCDonough said.

He said the organization has collected between 800 and 1,000 signatures in a petition drive to measure local interest in the group.

National NORML director Jon Gettman said: "The idea is decentralization. This is a grassroots social movement. We just coordinate small groups to work together." "My job is to find the troubleshooters, train them and

Iranians fire on U.S. helicopters

MANAMA, Bahrain (UPI) — Two U.S. helicopters came under three minutes of heavy machine-gun fire Sunday from suspected Iranian gunners on an oil platform and several boats in the central Persian Gulf, U.S. officials said.

The helicopters took evasive action to escape the heavy cross fire of shells and did not return fire, said Cmdr. James McTigue, the captain of the USS Sapsaree. The helicopters were not struck by the gunfire. "The helicopters were more concerned with escaping," McTigue told reporters. "They were in a position where they had fire coming from several directions at once."

The Pentagon confirmed the report but had no additional details.

The attack was the first on American helicopters in the Persian Gulf since Christmas Eve, when Iranian speedboats fired on a U.S. helicopter that swooped in to aid a Libyan tanker during what appeared to be an Iranian attack.

The attack against the two U.S. helicopters came one day after the USS John F. Kennedy, a nuclear-powered carrier, opened fire on what appeared on radar to be speedboats racing toward one of the secret barge bases the Navy has used to support escort and mineweeping operations in the Persian Gulf.

The United States placed 11 tanks on Kuwait, a sup-

Gus says it's high time students took a stand on something.

See SIMON, Page 6

See NORML, Page 5

See ATTACK, Page 5

See NORML, Page 5

See ATTACK, Page 5
Most Americans want the federal government to execute without trial. Waldheim is resisting calls to clarify several points during his visit to the United States next week, according to a summary of the closed Cabinet meeting released by the Government Press Office.

Ten killed, 30 injured in race car accident

According to CHEA, Argentina (UPI) — At least 10 people were killed and 30 more were injured Sunday when a race car veered out of control and crashed into a crowd of spectators during a race in Neopolice, 318 miles southeast of Buenos Aires. Witnesses told police that car No. 4 driven by Edgardo Caparros veered out of its lane and into the crowd at a speed estimated at 150 mph.

Three suspected of bombing missile are shot

GIBRALTAR (UPI) — Security forces Sunday shot to death three suspected terrorists on a bombing mission in Gibraltar, the British Crown Colony perched on a rock at the foot of Spain, authorities said. Police later discovered a car-bomb parked 500 yards from the Governor’s residence and attempted to deac- tivate the explosives, said government spokesman Ronald Sinden.

Waldheim admits he knew about interrogation

LONDON (UPI) — Austrian President Kurt Waldheim, under fire for his World War II service in the German army, admitted in a television interview Sunday he knew about interrogations of six captured British commandos — later alleged to be killers — in exchange for five captured Nazis told police that car No. 4 driven by Edgardo Caparros veered out of its lane and into the crowd at a speed estimated at 150 mph.

Three suspected of bombing missile are shot

GIBRALTAR (UPI) — Security forces Sunday shot to death three suspected terrorists on a bombing mission in Gibraltar, the British Crown Colony perched on a rock at the foot of Spain, authorities said. Police later discovered a car-bomb parked 500 yards from the Governor’s residence and attempted to deac- tivate the explosives, said government spokesman Ronald Sinden.

Waldheim admits he knew about interrogation

LONDON (UPI) — Austrian President Kurt Waldheim, under fire for his World War II service in the German army, admitted in a television interview Sunday he knew about interrogations of six captured British commandos — later alleged to be killers — in exchange for five captured Nazis told police that car No. 4 driven by Edgardo Caparros veered out of its lane and into the crowd at a speed estimated at 150 mph.

Experts denounce new AIDS study’s claims

NEW YORK (UPI) — Experts Sunday denounced a new Masters and Johnson study warning of twice as many heterosexual AIDS carriers as previously estimated and proclaiming the deadly virus can be transmitted by kissing and innocent intimate contact. The report, to be released at a news conference Monday by the well-known sex researchers Dr. William Masters and Virginia Johnson, also called for mandatory testing for the virus causing acquired immune deficiency syndrome.

Man offers reward in woman’s alleged attack

HOPATCIONG, N.J. (UPI) — A businessman Sunday offered a $10,000 reward in an alleged racial attack on a black woman, saying he wanted to quell what could become a string of "copycats" crimes that began in New York late last year. Brad Houtzig he offered the reward in the alleged Feb. 8 attack on Hillsgard Smith, 36, of Newton.

Police try to slow gang activity, arrest 270

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — A police task force of 200 officers, seeking to reduce rampant gang violence in South Los Angeles, arrested 270 suspects on charges ranging from jaywalking to murder. It is the first in a weeklong sweep of the area. Gang activity went unabated in other parts of the city where at least one teenager was killed in a drive-by shooting and three others were wounded in a street fight.

Survey: Most Americans like benefits, dislike costs

CHICAGO (UPI) — Most Americans want the federal government to establish a health care system guaranteeing necessary medical care for one and all — but few seem willing to pay for it. A survey being released this week illuminates yet again the peculiar American tendency to expect something for nothing. In education, welfare and the deficit, the public demands their government do something, just so long as that thing is not raising taxes.
Blues saxophonist comes home after 40-year absence

By Richard Nunez
Entertainment Editor

A.C. Reed is coming home. Reed, a Carbondale resident during the early 1940s, and his band the Spark Pluggs, will return to Carbondale for a performance 11 p.m. Wednesday in Galway's.

"I hung around there (Carbondale) for a couple of months then went back to Chicago to study music," Reed said in a telephone interview from his home in Chicago. "My mother and father died in that town."

Reed is a saxophonist who has supported such artists as Albert Collins, Buddy Guy, Earl Hooker, the Rolling Stones and Eric Clapton. For years, Reed has backed up other performers while fame and fortune eluded him.

"I'm just a sideman with brains," he said.

After more than 40 years in the business, critics finally are recognizing Reed as a legendary blues saxophonist. Reed received the W.C. Handy Award as "Blues Singer of the Year" in the '80s, and also received critical acclaim for his latest album, "I'm in the Wrong Business," his latest album.

Reed was a student at the Conservatory of Music in the late 1940s. He backed along with many of the blues greats, including Muddy Waters, Joe "T-Bone" Walker, Hooker and Collins after he left the conservatory.

"I'm in the Wrong Business," and his previous one, "Take These Blues and Shove 'Em," are testimonials to his resentment at being ignored as a serious blues musician. And Reed is serious when he says he hates music.

"You play for years and you don't get justice, you get tired," he said. "I'll probably retire after my next album."

Reed said if does retire he it will be in Carbondale, which he considers his home.

"I'll come home to Carbondale and fix up the house."
Day of Action II
a waste of energy

IF YOU'RE PLANNING to go to Springfield for that great 1960s revival, Day of Action II, don't bother — there are better ways to fight for a tax increase.

Indeed, undeniably needs a tax increase for higher education and students should be at the forefront of the fight. But today's students have been shown they are unable to incite enough enthusiasm among themselves to make a show of power and unity of any significance.

The most obvious illustration of student apathy is the Day of Action. Despite considerable buildup and publicity, last semester's pilgrimage to the state capitol fizzled and had no real impact on legislators.

Perhaps the small size of the demonstration (only 236 protesters out of the state's student population of about 166,000 at public universities showed) caused it to be so lame. But it also may have had something to do with the fact that the demonstrators acted more like Girl Scouts on a tour of a cookie factory than like a bunch of angry students.

In short, it is highly unlikely that another demonstration in Springfield, or anywhere else, will have any impact on whether a tax hike is passed. There is one simple reason that legislators don't listen to students — because students don't vote.

If legislators knew that all 166,000-plus students in Illinois were going to vote in the next election — and that they were going to pay careful attention to which legislators voted for the tax hike and which voted against it — then the tax increase would have a much greater chance of passing.

For those of you who do vote, one way to make legislators know you are in favor of the tax hike is to write them letters and visit them in their offices, pointing out that you plan to vote in the next election.

As it is, the undergraduate student organization should turn down any funding request by the organizers of the Day of Action. There are many other groups on campus that could use the money much more productively.

In addition, the University administration should try to involve students in a productive fight for a tax increase. Parents and special interest groups that would benefit from the tax hike also should be enlisted.

It will take a massive effort on the part of students and the University administration to get the tax hike passed. But if they go about it right, which means not wasting their time on such silliness as the Day of Action II, it is possible.

Letters

Hogan is doing the best she can

I would like to comment in reference to David Calhoun's letter to Merilyn Hogan. (March 1) Obviously, Dave has spent some time collecting data on the parking lot, but this survey and his comments were unnecessary.

Every semester there are many letters to the editor showing disagreement with the parking policy. I enjoy reading these, often chuckling about knowing that I always arrive early enough to get a parking space. As a matter of fact, I don't even have a sticker and I get what I consider an excellent spot right off campus.

Our university takes in a lot of money. We have highly paid professionals looking out for our best interests. I'm sure Merilyn Hogan is a well-paid university employee. I am also confident that she is managing her parking lots the best way possible. Obviously, in spite of all the letters of disagreement, she sees no reason to make a change. She must believe there is no reason to use any of the University's money to deal with a problem that doesn't exist.

So Dave, I have a few questions for you. You've been here four years; you've seen all the letters; you've also seen no change in the parking situation. So why can't you add it all up and figure out that our University parking is the best that it can be?

H! Merilyn Hogan is doing the best she can. Why can't you and all the other dissenters understand that our University does not do it necessarily to oblige many students' requests. Did you ever think even though so many of you disagree with the parking policy that Merilyn Hogan is acting in the students' best interest? — Mark Nelson, sociology

Save BAS program; give Tripp tenure

Does anyone hear the cries of the people who are concerned about the future of Black American Studies?

In the past few weeks many have expressed their concern about the reinstatement of the BAS courses to the general education curriculum. So far only vague responses or no responses at all have been received by those asking why.

It is apparent to me that students are concerned about the education available to them in the BAS courses. If we as Afro-American individuals are to be educated about our heritage, then how can we be educated without Afro-American history?

It is also a big concern that no change in the parking situation. So why can't you add it all up and figure out that our University parking is the best that it can be?

H! Merilyn Hogan is doing the best she can. Why can't you and all the other dissenters understand that our University does not do it necessarily to oblige many students' requests. Did you ever think even though so many of you disagree with the parking policy that Merilyn Hogan is acting in the students' best interest? — Mark Nelson, sociology

Save BAS program; give Tripp tenure

Does anyone hear the cries of the people who are concerned about the future of Black American Studies?

In the past few weeks many have expressed their concern about the reinstatement of the BAS courses to the general education curriculum. So far only vague responses or no responses at all have been received by those asking why.

It is apparent to me that students are concerned about the education available to them in the BAS courses. If we as Afro-American individuals are to be educated about our heritage, then how can we be educated without Afro-American history?

It is also a big concern that no change in the parking situation. So why can't you add it all up and figure out that our University parking is the best that it can be?

H! Merilyn Hogan is doing the best she can. Why can't you and all the other dissenters understand that our University does not do it necessarily to oblige many students' requests. Did you ever think even though so many of you disagree with the parking policy that Merilyn Hogan is acting in the students' best interest? — Mark Nelson, sociology
NORM, from Page 1

"Once it's legalized it will be under government control. It's easier to get pot than beer when you're underage."

-Matt McDonough

said that small amounts of marijuana are legal in Alaska, and a group in Oregon is at ten to refer to a referendum on legalization for the state tonight.

Gettman criticized Nancy Reagan's statement last week that "casual drug use is an accomplice to murder as an inexcusable, off-the-mark rhetoric."

"Her efforts are sincere I'm in favor of drug education and programs encouraging drug use by students," he said. "Overall, I think the administration's policy is a failure. It's a sham. It's not working and it takes away from education.

"THE NEXT administration has a real problem on its hands, but I'm afraid it will be operational.

McDonough said the First Lady's statement symbolized the vagueness of the anti-drug movement by lumping users of marijuana, heroin, cocaine, and aspirin together as "casual drug users."

"People have the right to make a decision about drugs, and to influence state laws," he said. "Instead of U.S. representatives, it's the secretary of education!"

"Prohibitions didn't work before and it won't work now," McDonough said. "Once it's legalized it will be under government control. It's easier to get pot than beer when you're underage."

McDONOUGH SAID marijuana legalization would generate $7 billion annually in taxes and save billions more spent on the national anti-drug war. "That money could be put into an educational campaign and advertising against the real drugs heroin and cocaine," he said. "Marijuana legalization would take $60 billion from organized crime."

"When you take $60 billion out of any industry, it will put a dent in the market," McDonough said. He said regular users constitute one in every six voters.

ATTACK, from Page 1

ordered the craft to steer clear of the area, the U.S. Defense Department reported in a statement.

The speedboats continued on course toward the battle area, fired warning shots and then opened fire on the craft with a combination of machine-gun fire directed to the vessels. . . . The vessels.

U.S. officials said the guided missile frigate searched the area July 28 for the Peruvian Gulf after the incident but failed to locate the craft with a powerful 76mm deck gun, the statement said.

U.S. officials said the guided missile frigate searched the area the previous day for the

Peruvian Gulf after the incident but failed to locate the craft with a powerful 76mm deck gun, the statement said.

Roosevelt incident was the first involving the two barge bases in the Persian Gulf since attacks on two oil tankers in February.

The barges are used to supply stores and provide bases for helicopters and patrol boats used by special operations teams. They reportedly are armed with shoulder-fired Stinger anti-aircraft missiles.

"The crew observed heavy machine-gun fire directed to the helicopters," the commander said. "The fire was directed at several unlit by boats in the area.

"One helicopter landed safely on the decks of their ships after the three-mi-ute, 750,000-pound blast of gunfire from the unidentified oil platform and the platform's machine guns."

One, an SH-60B helicopter capable of reaching speeds of

250 knots, was based on the

Simpson. U.S. officials refused to give the exact location of platform but said it was not in the war area of responsibility of the U.S.-registered Kuwaiti tanker

Simpson. One, an SH-60B helicopter capable of reaching speeds of

250 knots, was based on the

Simpson. U.S. officials refused to give the exact location of platform but said it was not in the war area of responsibility of the U.S.-registered Kuwaiti tanker

Simpson. One, an SH-60B helicopter capable of reaching speeds of

250 knots, was based on the

Simpson. U.S. officials refused to give the exact location of platform but said it was not in the war area of responsibility of the U.S.-registered Kuwaiti tanker

Simpson. One, an SH-60B helicopter capable of reaching speeds of

250 knots, was based on the

Simpson. U.S. officials refused to give the exact location of platform but said it was not in the war area of responsibility of the U.S.-registered Kuwaiti tanker

Simpson. One, an SH-60B helicopter capable of reaching speeds of

250 knots, was based on the

Simpson. U.S. officials refused to give the exact location of platform but said it was not in the war area of responsibility of the U.S.-registered Kuwaiti tanker

Simpson. One, an SH-60B helicopter capable of reaching speeds of

250 knots, was based on the

Simpson. U.S. officials refused to give the exact location of platform but said it was not in the war area of responsibility of the U.S.-registered Kuwaiti tanker

Simpson. One, an SH-60B helicopter capable of reaching speeds of

250 knots, was based on the

Simpson. U.S. officials refused to give the exact location of platform but said it was not in the war area of responsibility of the U.S.-registered Kuwaiti tanker

Simpson. One, an SH-60B helicopter capable of reaching speeds of

250 knots, was based on the

Simpson. U.S. officials refused to give the exact location of platform but said it was not in the war area of responsibility of the U.S.-registered Kuwaiti tanker

Simpson. One, an SH-60B helicopter capable of reaching speeds of

250 knots, was based on the

Simpson. U.S. officials refused to give the exact location of platform but said it was not in the war area of responsibility of the U.S.-registered Kuwaiti tanker

Simpson. One, an SH-60B helicopter capable of reaching speeds of

250 knots, was based on the

Simpson. U.S. officials refused to give the exact location of platform but said it was not in the war area of responsibility of the U.S.-registered Kuwaiti tanker

Simpson. One, an SH-60B helicopter capable of reaching speeds of

250 knots, was based on the

Simpson. U.S. officials refused to give the exact location of platform but said it was not in the war area of responsibility of the U.S.-registered Kuwaiti tanker

SIMON, from Page 1

10-year-old prefers Simon over Rambo

By Dana DeBeaumont

A 10-year-old boy stood starry-eyed against a wall in the Marion Holiday Inn and smiled as Sen. Simon told him in front of 300 supporters, "you're my hero.

Simon said he spotted Rob Wood of Sharonville as he was greeting supporters at an Illinois campaign off Friday. Wood held a handmade sign at the rally that had the names of Rambo, Reagan, O'Neill and North crossed out and in big letters "Paul Simon you are my hero.

"There is just no question that there are people out there who want this government to care once again and dream once again -- that there are people out there who want this school to work a little harder," said Illinois campaign coordinator, said Simon's Illinois campaign, which will include very little TV and some radio, will be a blitkrieg. Simon will attend meetings and knock on doors in at least five towns a day.

Dyrekopp told Howard Flanagan, a retired man from Herrin, dressed in faded overalls, a flannel shirt and red ball cap slipped Robin $100 bill.

"There's not a better man that ever lived," Flanagan, who has known Simon for 10 years, said. "He's perfect as a president and we need him as president. I wish I could give him more."
"Kids in the Dark" is realistic, controversial

By Richard Nunez

"Kids in the Dark" is controversial, maybe the most controversial play ever to be performed on campus.

Based on a true story, the play is a group of teenage friends, one of whom murders another. The murder is then kept a secret by the rest of the group.

The play is loaded with violence, profanity and feigned drug use, all of which are quite entertaining. The actors do a wonderful job of portraying the teenagers. Each character is familiar and acts in a manner typical of the behavior of many teenagers. The cast is able to create these characters without ever falling into stereotypes.

"We tried to stay away from basic stereotypes and get behavior as it does, including the effects of drug use, a violence, a music, and strained family relationships, but the show never attempts to resolve these issues."

The play is similar to the movie "The River's Edge," in which a young man murders his girlfriend and shows her body to his friends, who then try to keep it secret. The actors do a wonderful job of portraying the teenagers. Each character is familiar and acts in a manner typical of the behavior of many teenagers. The cast is able to create these characters without ever falling into stereotypes.

"We tried to stay away from basic stereotypes and get behavior as it does, including the effects of drug use, a violence, a music, and strained family relationships, but the show never attempts to resolve these issues."

Mendelsohn deliberately showed away from stereotyping his character and does a good job of portraying Ronnie as a frightened young man who shows signs of deep emotional pain. Green said.

"One of the problems of the kids is inarticulateness," Green said. "They relate to violence, music, drugs.

"One of the problems of the kids is inarticulateness," Green said. "They relate to violence, music, drugs.

"The actors do a wonderful job of portraying the teenagers. Each character is familiar and acts in a manner typical of the behavior of many teenagers. The cast is able to create these characters without ever falling into stereotypes.

"We tried to stay away from basic stereotypes and get behavior as it does, including the effects of drug use, a violence, a music, and strained family relationships, but the show never attempts to resolve these issues."
Today's Puzzle

Puzzle answers are on Page 12.

Let us show you our beautiful collection of contemporary wedding stationary. You can select your complete paper trousseau from a wide variety of styles in every price range.

Leah B. Imprints
Boring sq. - 205 E. Main
Carbondale - (618)457-0135

SPC Promotions

Needs committee members to help plan Springfest publicity. Especially those interested in promoting the Safety campaign and individual events. Information meeting Tuesday 3:30pm at SPC Office 3rd Floor Student Center. For more information call Dana at 536-3393

NOW AT
Kentucky Fried Chicken

THE $1.99

SUPER SAVER SPECIAL

Enjoy our Super Saver Special today.

Right now at Kentucky Fried Chicken get our Super Saver Special for just $1.99.

You get:
- 2 pieces of chicken
- Corn
- 2 Potatoes
- Buttermilk Biscuit
- Gravy

Kentucky Fried Chicken
We Do Chicken Right.

Illinois-Anna, Carbondale, Chester, Murphysboro, Missouri-Perryville, Potosi & St. Genevieve

SOUTHERN ILLINOIS
Latin America Solidarity Committee will show "The Secret Government: Constitution in Crisis" at 3 p.m. today in Fearer 1132.

SOCIETY FOR THE ADVANCEMENT OF MANAGEMENT will meet at 8:15 tonight in Center Activity Room A.

SPC Promotions

Needs committee members to help plan Springfest publicity. Especially those interested in promoting the Safety campaign and individual events. Information meeting Tuesday 3:30pm at SPC Office 3rd Floor Student Center. For more information call Dana at 536-3393

NOW AT
Kentucky Fried Chicken

THE $1.99

SUPER SAVER SPECIAL

Enjoy our Super Saver Special today.

Right now at Kentucky Fried Chicken get our Super Saver Special for just $1.99.

You get:
- 2 pieces of chicken
- Corn
- 2 Potatoes
- Buttermilk Biscuit
- Gravy

Kentucky Fried Chicken
We Do Chicken Right.

Illinois-Anna, Carbondale, Chester, Murphysboro, Missouri-Perryville, Potosi & St. Genevieve

Briefs

SOUTHERN ILLINOIS
Latin America Solidarity Committee will show "The Secret Government: Constitution in Crisis" at 3 p.m. today in Fearer 1132.

SOCIETY FOR THE ADVANCEMENT OF MANAGEMENT will meet at 8:15 tonight in Center Activity Room A.

SPC Promotions

Needs committee members to help plan Springfest publicity. Especially those interested in promoting the Safety campaign and individual events. Information meeting Tuesday 3:30pm at SPC Office 3rd Floor Student Center. For more information call Dana at 536-3393

NOW AT
Kentucky Fried Chicken

THE $1.99

SUPER SAVER SPECIAL

Enjoy our Super Saver Special today.

Right now at Kentucky Fried Chicken get our Super Saver Special for just $1.99.

You get:
- 2 pieces of chicken
- Corn
- 2 Potatoes
- Buttermilk Biscuit
- Gravy

Kentucky Fried Chicken
We Do Chicken Right.

Illinois-Anna, Carbondale, Chester, Murphysboro, Missouri-Perryville, Potosi & St. Genevieve
"Vice Versa" survives tired story line

By Phyllis Coon

Though it uses the almost cliched plot line of two people changing places for a while, "Vice Versa" survives with some very effective humor.

Like other movies that use this plot line, it is filled with special-effect images of the parent and child changing sizes to fit into each other's body.

Film Review

"Vice Versa" is an enjoyable movie, full of laughs that overshadow the unimaginative story line. It may, however, have been released too soon after last fall's "Like Father Like Son," which had a similar plot.

Judge Reinhold stars as Marshall Seymour, a young executive on the way up, and Fred Savage plays Reinhold's son, Charlie.

Reinhold has become stereotyped as an airheaded, ditzy male by "Stripes," "Fast Times at Ridgemont High," "Ruthless People," and "Beverly Hills Cop I and II." But Reinhold's ability to stumble and whine into the mind of a rambunctious 11-year-old also makes for a funny movie.

Swoosie Kurtz, who plays an international con artist, also stars.

The father-son switch is brought about on a business trip to Thailand when Marshall unknowingly is used to smuggle a magical Tibetan skull into the United States.

Marshall, who had intended to bring a vase back with him, discovers that he instead has the skull. Kurtz has the vase and schedules a meeting with Marshall to switch the two artifacts.

But before the switch can take place, Marshall and Charlie, frustrated with their own lives and wishing they were each other, actually do trade places with the help of the skull.

After the switch, Charlie (new played by Judge Reinhold) is thrilled with his added height and weight. But Marshall (Fred Savage) has a different opinion, saying, "It's a Freudian nightmare!"

As Charlie, Reinhold portrays a child's outlook to a T, complete with a short attention span and an awe of the adult world — including an awe of his father's girlfriend Sam (Corrine Bohrer).

As Marshall struggles to adjust to the daily routine of an 11-year-old's school day and his son tries to fill his father's shoes as vice president of a department store, they realize the headaches and pressures the other is under.

They realize just how unfairly they have been treating each other.
Nixon: Candidates must have strong foreign policy

London (UPI) - Former President Richard Nixon, in a newspaper column Sunday, forecast the outcome of the "Super Tuesday" primaries and warned presidential hopefuls they cannot win the election if they advocate a weak policy.

Nixon also said the next American president would have to deal carefully with Soviet leader Mikhail Gorbachev.

"Mikhail Gorbachev is by far the best Soviet leader since Stalin," Nixon said in a column for the Sunday Times newspaper. "A strong American president will have his hands full dealing with him. A weak one won't decide the outcome of American foreign policy." Nixon said Dukakis and Gephardt "made a good shot" at winning a nomination, but they still will have to watch out for undeclared candidates who might be drafted in the event of a deadlock during the July convention.

"Super Tuesday will not decide the Republican and Democratic nominations, but it will reduce the field of possible nominees to two from each party.

"The less of every post-war American election, except"

Richard Nixon

Advice sessions for retirees set

Representatives from the State Universities Retirement System will be available for retirement counseling April 26, 27, and 28. Larry K Johnson of Personnel Services said the private, 20-minute counseling sessions will provide employees with dollar estimates of their pensions.

Employees planning to retire during the next two years may make an appointment by calling Personnel Benefits at 653-5334.

Footloose

Abraham Shabalin, senior in electrical engineering, plays with his pit bull Annamay Sunday afternoon.
Singer puts history in music

Stories in songs tell people's lives and hopes

By Dana Schulte
Staff Writer

Charlie King is a singing historian whose songs reflect the political, social and personal traumas and joys of the last twenty years.

"My music is very much rooted in my own experience of living in America," King said. "His songs retell stories that are normally forgotten by reporters and historians, he added.

King will perform at 8 p.m. Thursday in the Student Center Auditorium.

"We're interested only in entertainment," he said. "It forced me to sing about things I thought were important in an entertaining way.

Because his music was expressing to me," he said. "I feel real lucky to have work that is both meaningful and satisfying, and that I can make a moderate living at," King said.

Singing about politics, social and personal traumas are nothing unique, he said. "People have always used politics to describe their roots."

But King has known a time when his music wasn't so desirable. "Music has gone through a period of time where it was not popular to address political and social issues in music," King said. "We're coming out of that now.

Examples of political and social music of the 1960s come from groups like 12-14 and singer Paul Simon, most especially in his "Graceland" album.

"They just take old songs and add new words," King said.

Boy in fair condition following attack by trained bear in mall

MANSFIELD, Ohio (UPI) — A 2-year-old boy was in fair condition at a hospital Sunday after being mauled by one of four dancing bears performing in a show and as "Goldilocks and the Three Bears" routine at a shopping mall, police said.

Kevin Kuhn suffered cuts on his face and head and lost part of his right index finger after he was mauled with a 350-pound bear after the owner, Walter Naghtin Jr., 54, of Northbrook, Ill., turned away from the animal, Mansfield police dispatcher Betty Hart said.

The boy, from nearby Galion, was taken to Mansfield General Hospital and later flown to Children's Hospital in Columbus, 45 miles south of Mansfield.

Anne Munk, nursing supervisor at Children's, said the boy was showing improvement Sunday after reconstruction surgery was performed on his face.

A bystander, Alene Gross, 47, of Mansfield, was credited with情人ing the boy's life when he jumped over a fence, grabbed the bear and began beating the back of the bear to divert the animal's attention, Hart said.

"I heard some commotion, people screaming and the trainers calling the bear's name off, telling her, 'No, don't, don't,'" Gross said Sunday.

Gross said he moved closer to see what was going on and didn't notice the younger between the bear's paws until the animal moved its head.

"I jumped the fence, went in and grabbed one of the training stools. Then I started hitting the bear," Gross said. After the incident, Gross said he sat and "drank a chocolate and relaxed" and thought how he could have responded sooner.

Walter Naghtin Jr., 20, said the bear wrestled the bear off the child and suffered a minor cut to his left hand, officials said.

The bear, named "Puffy" and one of four performing bears called the "Goldilocks Dance Troupe," was taken to an unnamed site in Richland County.
Falling donations cause layoffs at Jimmy Swaggart Ministries

BATON ROUGE, La. (UPI) — The revelation of television evangelist Jimmy Swaggart's sexual misconduct has reduced contributions to his ministry to the extent that 100 employees have been laid off and construction at the complex has been halted.

Some officials explained the cutback as belt-tightening, but others admitted the scandal enveloping Swaggart is hitting the evangelical empire's pocketbook.

Directors of Jimmy Swaggart Ministries Friday laid off 100 workers and stopped construction at the Baton Rouge complex, including a sprawling dormitory to house students enrolled at the bible college that bears Swaggart's name.

"Obviously these layoffs are due to what transpired," ministry spokesman Gus Weill said. "We're not looking for an alibi to tug the lid.

Some insiders played down the layoffs as "something we usually do anyway during the slow time of the year," although they said that Swaggart's recent confession of sexual sin partly is responsible for the cutbacks.

Well said he did not know how far donations have dropped since the disclosures, but said construction will not resume until donations do. "These steps are being taken as a prudent precaution to avoid an evaluation of public support for the activities of Jimmy Swaggart Ministries," he said.

Swaggart Ministries, one of the city's largest employers, maintains a staff of 1,200 to 1,500 people.

"Jimmy Swaggart Ministries is probably the only growth industry that has existed in this area's very depressed economy in recent years," a Baton Rouge business owner said.

One Swaggart board member said the decision to stop construction and lay off workers was "just belt-tightening measures, precautions in the face of an uncertain situation."

Contributions totaled about $100,000 a day last year, according to the organization's estimates.

Man kills 1 in shooting at church

EMPORIA, Kan. (UPI) — A man opened fire at random with a semi-automatic pistol in a campus church during Sunday morning services, killing one person and wounding four others before being subdued by churchgoers who responded, police said.

Police Chief Larry Boreenkamp said the neatly dressed gunman, said to be of Oriental descent and in his late 20s or early 30s, walked into Calvary Baptist Church during morning services and began firing randomly without a word.

The gunman was subdued by churchgoers after wounding five people. One of whom was dead on arrival at Newman Hospital. The other four victims were reported in good to stable condition.

Neither the gunman nor his victims were immediately identified.

"The man entered and began firing without saying a word," Boreenkamp said at an afternoon news conference.

"Five people were shot and one was killed. While he was reloading, he was overpowered by members of the congregation.

"There was no particular target. The individual just began firing random shots," the chief added. "It's just too early in the investigation to say about a motive. There is a great deal of background work that will have to be done."

Police said it appeared the gunman left California last week and arrived Sunday morning in Emporia, located off the Kansas Turnpike about 100 miles southwest of Kansas City.

A104

Physical education

My first time tutoring was a night to remember. My student was something called Bone Crusher Reed, a 6'6" defensive tackle for the football team. I had the shock of my life when he answered his dorm room door. He was about six foot seven...in diameter. And when he shook my hand, I thought I'd never get it back.

So there I was, face-to-face with the big man on campus, wondering how I was going to relate American Literature to The Hulk.

But then he pulled out a can of Orange Cappuccino. I was shocked! Could it be that this tough-jock liked its delicate taste? And when Bone Crusher brought out the bone china, I was beyond belief.

Reading the expression on my face, he said, "What can I say? I like it. The Cafe Francais is pretty good, too." Well, who's going to argue, I thought. As we sipped our Orange Cappuccino, I discovered that Billy Jo loves reading novels; his only problem was poetry. So I gave him tips on reading Emily Dickinson, and he gave me a copy of Ann Beattie's "Falling in Place."

All I could think was, Dad's never going to believe this!
Dole gets farmers’ support

Former agriculture leaders, senator rallying support

By Edward Rege Staff Writer

Two former U.S. agriculture secretaries who are running for governor in Arkansas, Arkansas Republican Dole and Arkansas Democrat Butz, said they have been meeting almost daily in recent weeks in South Carolina’s GOP primary with finance,” Butz said. “I was quoted as saying that they would have to be discussed with the farmers in the state. They said that agriculture would be a priority in a Dole administration.

"IF IN ANY SECTOR OF THE American economy you want to grow it, you remove the possibility of success beyond mediocrity,” Butz said. "We want a farm program that is dynamic, feasible and has opportunity for ambitious and efficient.""
MEADOW RIDGE IS Surprisingly Affordable
From $170 per person
Brand New 3 & 4 Bedroom Conveniences located.
Next to school, on Wall & Campus.
Extras include: Washer/Dryer. Heat Pump. Dishwasher
CALL TODAY 457-3321
You can't afford not to call!!

NEW TOWNHOUSE APARTMENTS
309 W. College
One block from campus
$259.00
509 S. Rawlings
$259.00
519 S. Rawlings
$259.00

FOR MORE INFORMATION CALL 529-5084

Alpine Apartments
300 W. College
One block from campus
$259.00

At Royal Rents we have a full-time professional maintenance staff and a 24 hour emergency phone number to assist you with your rental program anytime. On top of our excellent maintenance service we offer our college community new, comfortable housing. Come check out our low summer rates.

Royal Rents
501 E. College
457-4422

Busting Out At The Seams?
It's Time For A Yard Sale
3 Lines for 2 days... Just $4.60
Adve rate Thursday and Friday of any week and receive a special rate plus...
3 FREE Yard Sale Signs
Your ad will appear under a special "3 Line" section in our classified section. This column will be clipped by eager bargain hunters in search of that special treasure...
Sunglasses

Try our new all soft lens. It has no sugar...

It has no colors...
It has no fading...
It has no sodium...
It has no chafing.

There's no taste...
It's not acidic...
...and there's no artificial flavoring or coloring.

PUNCHER 12 AND 13 bdrm. mobile home. Classified 218-991-3520

CARDBOARD FOR RENT, for sale, for trade, for sale, 50/cd. Classified 2-931-8167

ROOMMATES WANTED, 1 bedroom, 520-222-7243, 1 bedroom

Dundee
QUICK COUNTRY LODGING
2 bdrm., all utilities paid for incl. water, heat, and electricity. 520-222-7243

BASMENT APARTMENT WANTED, 3 bedroom.

HELP WANTED
SECRETARY/TYPIST, $250 to $300, available immediately. 520-222-7243

ROOMS FOR RENT

222 1/2 S. 벡 주

SPRINGFIELD MOBILE HOMES

ROOMS FOR RENT

SUNSET HOME

HOW TO ORDER A CONTINUOUS FLOW AIR CONDITIONER

801-620-3500

Daily Egyptian

Applications are being accepted for Daily Egyptian news and publishing positions. 1985. An undetermined number of John will be open for standard student editor positions. The challenge of working for one of the newspapers. Applications are

A grammar and writing test for applicants will be given in room 184C (the news lab) at these times and dates.

1. 6 p.m., Wednesday, March 23
2. 8 p.m., Thursday, March 24

Application forms will be available at the editor or may be obtained from the DE managing editor's office, room 1487. (DE news lab.) Application Deadline: Thurs., Mar. 24. You do not have to be a Journalism major.

Daily Egyptian

Student Work Positions Available

- Must have ACT on file

- 5 hours daily

- Position begins April 4

- Office Assistant

- Performs office tasks and duties

- Position begins April 18

Applications Available Now at the Daily Egyptian Business Office, Rm. 1253, Communications Building

Application Deadline: Fri., March 25

Daily Egyptian, March 2, 1988, Page 13
Intramural basketball
run good show for crowd

Slaff Writer

SINOU

SINOU, from Page 20

Runners end indoor season with no qualifiers

By Stephanie Wood

Intramural basketball
run good show for crowd

Slaff Writer

NCAA Championships this weekend.

SINOU,

be at Sinou.

step into her

grow as a runner.

with filling the vacancy left by

All-Stars play

see (the end) as positive. I can just do what fits (or me. I

A team, while graduate

Simonson

"I'm going to try to qualify for the marathon for Greece (for 1988 Olympics)."

—Vivian Sinou

Teammate Jane

Schumacher, "I think it (Sinou's absence) will hurt us some, but Lisa Judacik is doing really well."

Sinou will continue to train and run road races to prepare for the Pittsburgh Marathon May 1.

"I'm not going to do a lot of track races this year," Sinou said. "I'm going to basically train for the 10,000. I'm going to try to qualify for the marathon for Greece (for 1988 Olympics).

"I'm not sure if I can move up that much," she said. "I'm taking it one step at a time."

Sinou will compete with the Greek team for two months in the summer on the European circuit. She also will run in the Greek nationals.

"Regardless if I qualify for the Olympics or not, I am going to go to Greece," Sinou said.

Team, 2 swimmers qualify for NCAA

The swimming and diving teams qualified two swimmers and one relay team for the NCAA Championships this weekend.

The Region Eight Championships continued Sunday at the Recreation Center's pool. Lee Cary qualified in the 100-meter breaststroke with a time of 56.13 seconds. Karen Melstry joined teammate Lori Res as a qualifier in the 100 butterfly with a time of 55.76. The women's 200-freestyle relay team of Res, J. Michael Dunn, Harvey Welch, dean of Student Life, and J. Michael Dunn, director of Intramural Sports, were 26.2-mile race came in all

Foreigners dominated the race with the top male and female finisher from Mexico

and the second-place runners

from South Africa and Belgium.

Martin Mondragon, running for a spot on the Mexican Olympic team, bettered his personal best time by 12 minutes and won in 2:10:19.

champions. Open

Los Angeles (U.P.) — A blind woman and her guide dog, two teams of "human centipedes," and a man driving a beach ball were among the roughly 17,000

runners who were being handful of world-class athletes

in Sunday's Los Angeles Marathon.

Runners in the third annual 26.2-mile race in all shapes, sizes and costumes.

One man wore a Superman outfit and another was dressed as a taco and balanced a bottle of champagne on a silver tray.

The course was dotted with delicieux singers, ranging from mariachi to a James Brown look-alike and the real Fabian.

Earning some of the biggest cheers from spectators lining the race route was Mariva Lindgren, an 81-year-old.

Although she complained about some cramps at the 13-mile mark, Lindgren finished the race in 5 hours and 40 minutes. In the midst of her run, she offered this advice to other runners: "Start it early and push it slowly."

Foreigners dominated the

race with the top male and female finisher from Mexico

and the second-place runners

from South Africa and Belgium.

Martin Mondragon, running for a spot on the Mexican Olympic team, bettered his personal best time by 12 minutes and won in 2:10:19.

champions. Open

Los Angeles (U.P.) — A blind woman and her guide dog, two teams of "human centipedes," and a man driving a beach ball were among the roughly 17,000

runners who were being handful of world-class athletes

in Sunday's Los Angeles Marathon.

Runners in the third annual 26.2-mile race in all shapes, sizes and costumes.

One man wore a Superman outfit and another was dressed as a taco and balanced a bottle of champagne on a silver tray.

The course was dotted with
delicieux singers, ranging from mariachi to a James Brown look-alike and the real Fabian.

Earning some of the biggest

cheers from spectators lining the race route was Mariva Lindgren, an 81-year-old.

Although she complained about some cramps at the 13-mile mark, Lindgren finished the race in 5 hours and 40 minutes. In the midst of her run, she offered this advice to other runners: "Start it early and push it slowly."

Foreigners dominated the

race with the top male and female finisher from Mexico

and the second-place runners

from South Africa and Belgium.

Martin Mondragon, running for a spot on the Mexican Olympic team, bettered his personal best time by 12 minutes and won in 2:10:19.

champions. Open

Los Angeles (U.P.) — A blind woman and her guide dog, two teams of "human centipedes," and a man driving a beach ball were among the roughly 17,000

runners who were being handful of world-class athletes

in Sunday's Los Angeles Marathon.

Runners in the third annual 26.2-mile race in all shapes, sizes and costumes.

One man wore a Superman outfit and another was dressed as a taco and balanced a bottle of champagne on a silver tray.

The course was dotted with
delicieux singers, ranging from mariachi to a James Brown look-alike and the real Fabian.

Earning some of the biggest

cheers from spectators lining the race route was Mariva Lindgren, an 81-year-old.

Although she complained about some cramps at the 13-mile mark, Lindgren finished the race in 5 hours and 40 minutes. In the midst of her run, she offered this advice to other runners: "Start it early and push it slowly."

Foreigners dominated the

race with the top male and female finisher from Mexico

and the second-place runners

from South Africa and Belgium.

Martin Mondragon, running for a spot on the Mexican Olympic team, bettered his personal best time by 12 minutes and won in 2:10:19.

champions. Open

Los Angeles (U.P.) — A blind woman and her guide dog, two teams of "human centipedes," and a man driving a beach ball were among the roughly 17,000

runners who were being handful of world-class athletes

in Sunday's Los Angeles Marathon.

Runners in the third annual 26.2-mile race in all shapes, sizes and costumes.

One man wore a Superman outfit and another was dressed as a taco and balanced a bottle of champagne on a silver tray.

The course was dotted with
delicieux singers, ranging from mariachi to a James Brown look-alike and the real Fabian.

Earning some of the biggest

cheers from spectators lining the race route was Mariva Lindgren, an 81-year-old.

Although she complained about some cramps at the 13-mile mark, Lindgren finished the race in 5 hours and 40 minutes. In the midst of her run, she offered this advice to other runners: "Start it early and push it slowly."

Foreigners dominated the

race with the top male and female finisher from Mexico

and the second-place runners

from South Africa and Belgium.

Martin Mondragon, running for a spot on the Mexican Olympic team, bettered his personal best time by 12

minutes and won in 2:10:19.
Zenith Data Systems Invites You To An Open House.

Tuesday, March 8
10:00am-4:00pm
Student Center, Illinois Room

eazy pc bundle
$829.00 Special student price
E2-2 Dual Drives + Panasonic Printer + Cable

Be up and Running immediately
The eazy pc is designed for people who want a powerful, affordable personal computer that is extremely easy to use. As you plug it in, it is just like a TV. Once you learn the system, it tells you in plain English exactly what to do.

The eazy pc is perfect for experienced PC users or first timers. Whether you are running a business, in college, or helping your kids with schoolwork, the eazy pc has the power to run today's top software.

The eazy pc features:
- IBM compatible 16 bit microprocessor 768 kHz
- 512K RAM expandable to 640K with options
- Eight high quality keyboards
- 14.4K baud page printer monochrome CRT monitor attached to base unit
- Parallel I/O Port Interface
- Boot from internal 1.44 megabyte 5.25 inch floppy disk drive
- Includes MS-DOS, MS-DOS Manager, GW-BASIC

For more information contact:
Tony Brown
Disk Enterprises
Personal Computer Services
6944 Indianapolis Blvd. Hammond, IN 46324
Main Office (219) 845-8895
OUTSIDE IN: 800-654-0895 or 800-654-0895
Mark Holubec-ZDS Student Rep.
529-4961

Prices good thru March 31, 1988
We're also opening the door to special savings on these other exciting Zenith Personal Computers...

For Zenith Computers, contact your student advisor or visit your local Zenith dealer. Prices subject to change without notice.

Daily Egyptian, March 7, 1988, Page 17
LOSS, from Page 20

player (11 was) the second game in a row when he had gotten into foul trouble. Miller missed his third foul with 8:24 left in the first half.

"It was a situation that I probably wouldn't have had three fouls," Miller said. "My intensity level's probably been a little bit too high."

Salus Randi House tried to compensate for Miller's in-game performance. He scored a game-high 33 points. Creighton countered by hitting a team-record 12 three-pointers.

Despite trailing Creighton for the game's first five minutes, the Salukis were in a position to win. Miller said along the bench he told a layup to give the Salukis their first lead, 87-85, with one minute remaining.

Creighton forward Matt Roggenburk answered with a 3-pointer from 18 feet to give the Bluejays an 87-86 lead with 31 seconds left. Creighton 74, Illinois State 66

Hersey sets 3 MVC records in Braves' 1st-round victory

By Troy Taylor

Hersey was a round-up of the other games Saturday in the first round of the Missouri Valley Conference tournament in Peoria.

Bradley, Illinois State 74 — Hersey Hawkins set three MVC tournament record and broke Oscar Robertson's single-season mark of 1,061 points.

Hawkins scored 41 points, breaking former Indiana State forward Larry Bird's 1978 record of 39.

Hawkins also made all 17 of his free throws, breaking Illinois State's William Anderson's record of 16 free throws and tying Anderson's record of 17 free-throw attempts.

"He (Hawkins) was absolutely sensational," Bradley coach Stan Beck said.

Lake Jackson and Paul Wilson each had 13 points for Bradley.

Indiana State (17-21) was led by Joe Griffin with 13 and Sasha Radunovich with 12.

"Give Indiana State coach Ron Greene credit," Albeck said. "Each time he's played us he's come up with a different gimmick defense to try and slow us down.

Wichita State 74, Tulsa 66 — Tracy Moore was six of nine on three-point goals, an MVC tournament record, but not even his game-high 36-performance was enough to lift Tulsa to victory.

"Toward the last five minutes, we got mentally tired and we broke down," Moore said.

Moore, a 6-foott-4 senior guard, averaged 20.8 points per game this season.

"Tracy Moore has had a great career," Tulsa coach J.D. Barnett said. "He's become a complete player. He's carried the team all through the year. He's never been selfish.

Wichita State was led by Dwight Preylo with 18 points, Joe Griffin with 13 and Sasha Radunovich with 12.

Wichita State (18-4) made 11 of 18 three-point field goals.

"We were tentative early," Wichita State coach Eddie Fogler said. "But once we got relaxed we made some crucial three-pointers.

Illinois State 72, Drake 66 — Tony Hudfeld scored 16 of his 18 points in first half to give Illinois State a 43-26 halftime lead.

Jeff Harris had 16 points, Jarred Coleman 13 and Cliff Peoples 10 for the Redbirds.

"There is a willingness to blend in," Illinois State coach Bob D'Amico said. "We get a little bit here and a little bit there from each of the players.

For Drake (14-14), Eric Berger and Curse Stackey each had 11 points.

Four Bulldogs finished with four fouls. "Our inexperience played an important part in the game," Drake coach Gary Garner said. "They got us in foul trouble.

Illinois State was 28 of 31 from the free-throw line for 90.3 percent. The Redbirds, a 69.9 percent free-throw shooting team this season, shot 75 of 84 (89.2 percent) against Drake this season on free throws.
Coaches praise Braves, Hawkins

By Troy Taylor
Staff Writer

PEORIA — Bradley has the admiration of everybody here it seems. Even former Bradley assistant coach Ron Greene couldn’t resist throwing praise Bradley’s way.

"From my perspective," Greene said, "Bradley is in the same category as Oklahoma and Nevada Las Vegas." Before Indiana State’s game Saturday with Bradley, Greene even got Braves’ star Hersey Hawkins to autograph a tournament program for his son.

"He’s the heart and soul of their club," said Greene, the Missouri Valley’s winningest active coach.

Creighton coach Tony Barone said that playing the Braves "wasn’t going to worry about because

"We’re going to try to play our game," Barone added.

However, Barone, a former Bradley assistant, said he wasn’t going to worry about playing the Braves. "I’m going home, have a pizza, drink eight or ten beers, and go to bed."" offer any apologies. He has had a fantastic career. But it would have been nice if he went out with a bang.

TEAM, from Page 20

Middleton’s backcourt partner, Kat Nurnberger, also had a below-average performance. Nurnberger, known for his cool head down the stretch, suffered two momentary lapses of reason.

With four minutes remaining, he threw a lobpop pass that was intercepted by Creighton’s Porter Moser.

With less than two minutes left, the Salukis had a chance to take the lead after Creighton’s Chad Gallagher threw away a pass. Trailing 89-86, Nurnberger ran the ball up the floor and immediately launched a three-pointer, which missed.

Together, the Salukis’ "Dynamic Duo" combined for 40 points. However, the spark they usually supplied was missing.

Perhaps the play which typified the Salukis’ season occurred with two seconds left.

With the Salukis trailing, Randy House was to miss his remaining free throw. But he couldn’t even aim on purpose, which erased the slim chance of another Saluki miracle.

With the eyes of the entire conference focused on the tournament, the Salukis missed an opportunity to show how they scrapped, scratched, and clawed to a first-division finish for the first time in 10 years. They had a chance to play among the big boys.

Instead, SIU-C will be bumped with Drake, Tulsa and Indiana State for another year.

REDBIRDS, from Page 20

They play a great defense," Illinois State was led by Jeff Harris with 17 points.

In the Bradley victory, Hersey Hawkins scored 36 points and had nine rebounds.

Nothing Creighton did could stop Hawkins.

"There is just not anybody in America who’s getting the numbers he’s getting," Bradley coach Stan Albeck said.

---

In the Bradley victory, Dr.). uiis defeated Indiana State 78-76 in the second game.

Eastern and Illinois State will play at 9 p.m. Wednesday at Horton in the tournament final. The winner gets an automatic bid to the NCAA tournament.

Other notes:

—Bradley’s Hawkins is 76 points from breaking Oscar Robertson’s conference career-scoring record of 2,973 points. Robertson, who played three years at Cincinnati, received a plaque at halftime of the Bradley-Indiana State game from Peoria radio station WMBD, honoring him as the all-time leading scorer.

—Attendance for the evening session Saturday was 9,793.

—Twice in the first half of the Tulsa-Wichita State game Saturday, players from the opposing teams came close to having a scuffle.

—We need to be aggressive," Wichita State coach Eddie Fogler said, "We’ve always held the kids that I don’t want any cheap shots.

"It’s tough the officials handled it well," Fogler said. "I also want to compliment both benches because they didn’t get out onto the court.

Eastern, ISU in GCAC final

Illinois State beat Drake 56-54 in the first round of the Gateway Conference tournament at the Horton Field House in Normal.

The game was tied at 54 with 36 seconds remaining when Char Gowin had an assist, steal and two free throws to win the game.

Tom Tanner was the leading scorer with 10 points.

Eastern Illinois defeated Indiana State 78-76 in the second game.

Financial Aid Information

April 1 Deadline

April 1 is quickly approaching! Those students who complete and mail their 1988-89 ACT/Family Financial Statement (ACT/FFS) before April 1, 1988 will receive priority consideration for the SIUC Campus-Based Aid Programs which include:

Supplemental Educational Opportunity Grant
Student-to-Student Grant
Perkins Loans
College Work-Study

The ACT/FFS will also allow students to be considered for:

 Pell Grant
ISSC Monetary Award
Guaranteed Student Loan
Student Work Program

ACT/FFS forms are available at:

Student Work & Financial Assistance, Woody Hall, B Wing, Third Floor
Paid for by the Office of Student Work & Financial Assistance

Daily Egyptian, March 7, 1988, Page 19
PEORIA — Illinois State will be Bradley's contender in the Missouri Valley Conference championship round at 8:37 p.m. Sunday.

Bradley crushed Creighton, 106-77, in the semifinal round Sunday, and Illinois State defeated Wichita State 95-61.

In Wichita State lore, Sunday's game will be remembered as a time the Shockers had six cracks at the basket and came up empty. With a minute to go in the game, Wichita State shot six consecutive three-point attempts. On each consecutive miss, Wichita State tracked down the rebounds only to throw up another miss.

"It was a tough game to lose," Wichita State coach Eddie Fogler said. "Illinois State is an easy team to prepare for because you know what they are going to do, but they are tough to play because they play to their strengths.

The Salukis, who have built a reputation for their hustle and desire, did not wake up until the game was eight minutes old. By that time the alarm clock went off, Creighton already had an 11-point lead.

Just as the Salukis pulled within two, Steve Middleton committed a dumb foul to give him three and a place on the bench with 2:24 left in the first half.

Steve Middleton did not play like Steve Middleton. Handcuffed by foul trouble, he at times even looked awkward.

He did manage to score 16 points in the second half but never was able to take control of this game like he had so many others.

It would have been great if the fans in Carver Arena could have witnessed a vintage Middleton performance. After all, Bradley's Hersey Hawkins isn't the only player capable of giving a dazzling performance.

Instead, the fans saw a sub-par game from Middleton, although they probably didn't even realize Middleton needed a rest.

Sinou ends SIU-C career with six records

By Stephanie Wood

Vivian Sinou's career ended this weekend when she missed qualifying for the national indoor track championships in the 3,000-meter run by 23 seconds.

She is ineligible for the 1988 outdoor season.

However, the end of Sinou's career is considered the beginning of a new era for SIU-C women's track. Sinou, who holds six school track and field records, has brought distance running to a new level for the Salukis.

Women runners end indoor season

Página 18

"Vivian certainly more the beginning of an era," Coach Del DeNoon said. "Her high level of competitiveness has brought people along." She said, "A lot has to be said about her dedication and acrobatics. She was important to our program and its growth. We're recruiting, we're talking to a better level of distance runners."

Sinou's records at SIU-C include: 1,000-meter run, 2 minutes, 57.38 seconds; 1,500-meter run, 4:28.96; mile run, 5:53.18; 3,000-meter run, 9:42.70; two-mile run, 10:43.55; and the mile run, 4:50.88.

Sinou also swam a standout in cross country for the Salukis. "I feel much better as a cross country runner even though I hold records in track," she said.

See SINOU, Page 18