SIU Votes Friday on ROTC Future

Morris Faces Press Today In Muckelroy

President Delwy W. Morris will "face the campus" today when members of Sigma Delta Chi, professional journalistic society, and SIU students seek answers to their questions. The first press conference of the nature on campus, being held in conjunction with Journalism Week, is scheduled at 5 p.m. in Muckelroy Auditorium of the Agriculture Building.

One of the topics certain to be discussed is the coming referendum on the proposed ROTC. The latter part of the program will be devoted to any questions students wish to ask. A panel composed of members of the SIU undergraduate chapter of Sigma Delta Chi will question Morris during the first half hour.

The four panelists are Fred Beyer, Walt Wanshick, Clark Edwards and Rich Cox.

Charles C. Clayton, professor of journalism and campus adviser, will serve as the moderator.

The conference will be taped by WSUI-TEV, to be shown at a later date. Area radio stations and newsmen will also cover the event.

Guest members will compete in writing a story for Friday's Daily Egyptian. The chapter hopes that the conference with Morris will be the beginning of a series conducted with campus personalities.

If students wonder just what they could ask the President at such a session they may get some idea of what their colleagues are thinking about by turning to Page 12.

In an informal poll taken on campus Wednesday students indicated they would like to ask the President questions covering a wide variety of subjects from Greek problems to the new final system.

He 'Rocks' the Big Dailies

Cervi of Rocky Mountain Journal

To Give Lovejoy Lecture Today

Publisher Eugene Cervi will deliver the annual Elijah P. Lovejoy lecture at 10 a.m. and 1 p.m. today in Shryock Auditorium.

The lecture, a highlight of Journalism Week activities on campus, is part of the regular Freshman Convocation series. Cervi was born in Centralia, Ill., in 1906 and has published Cervi's Rocky Mountain Journal in Denver for 35 years.

Howard R. Long, chairman of the Department of Journalism, says, "Cervi rocks the big dailies" of his area with his weekly publication of business, public affairs, politics, opinion and comment.

Journalism Week started Wednesday with a speech by Walter Beech, an influential leader in U.S. advertising and publishing.

At 3 p.m. today, Erik Isgren, vice president in charge of advertising for South Sales Corp., will deliver a talk in the Agriculture Seminar Room.

An informal reception will be held for Isgren and Cervi after the 3 p.m. talk.

Friday's program will include all-day meetings of the Southern Illinois Editorial Association and the Journalism Week Societies of the University Center.

At 1 p.m. Friday, the journalism awards assembly will be held in the Morris Library Auditorium. Awards will be made by Alpha Delta Sigma, Advertising Club, Journalism Students Association, Observisk, Sigma Delta Chi, the Daily Egyptian and Theta Sigma Phi.

The annual journalism banquet will be held in the University Center at 7 p.m. Friday. The banquet will be addressed by Joyce Swan, publisher of the Minneapolis Star-Tribune and a native of Crab Orchard, Ill.

Swan's topic will be "Made in Southern Illinois" in accordance with "Southern Illinois and Its Products.

The annual Journalism Alumni Recognition award will be presented to Kenneth W. Medley, associate editor of "Nation's Business," and Medley was graduated from SIU in 1947 and worked for the Star-Tribune and "Nation's Business" before joining the staff of "Nation's Business."

Two Southern Illinois Editors will receive the Master's Award for their inducting into the Southern Illinois Editors Hall of Fame.

Journal Week will close Sunday with the annual meeting and election of officers of the Journalism Alumni Association. The spring meeting of the Southern Illinois High School Press Association will be held at 10 a.m. in the Student Union, and the high school press association meeting will meet from 9 a.m. to 3:30 p.m.

THE NEW YORK BRASS QUINTET

Ensemble in 11th Year Concert Tonight to Feature New York Brass Quintet

The School of Fine Arts and the Department of Music are sponsoring a concert by the New York Brass Quintet at 8 o'clock tonight in Shryock Auditorium.

The ensemble was first organized in 1954. Since then it has made a number of recordings, taken a European tour, given more than 400 children's concerts in the East, and made films for educational television.

Its members, Robert Nagel and Robert Heinrich, trumpeters; Paul Ingraham, French horn; John Swallow, trombone and Harvey Phillips, tuba, have been individual performers in orchestras headed by such notables as Stravinsky, Casals and Bernstein.

The quintet received a grant from the Martha Baird Rockefeller Foundation, the first time such an award has been presented to a group rather than an individual.

Tonight's concert is open to the public. No admission will be charged.

Center Desk

May Have It

Out go the mukluks, in come the swim fins!

Now that spring quarter has begun, students will be losing singlets, umbrellas, and rainwear instead of the gloves and jackets of winter, according to Betty A. Baughn, student worker at the University Center information desk.

The volume of lost items is much greater in winter than in spring, Miss Baughn said.

Currently, there are over 40 lost items at the desk, ranging in variety from library cards to a baby jacket. Miss Baughn recalled that in her two years of experience at the information desk, the two most unusual items turned in were a box of fishing tackle and a canoe oar.

Lost items turned in at the information desk are kept there for two weeks, except for those of high monetary value, such as contact lenses and watches, which are immediately taken to the director's office.

When an item carries identification, the lost-and-found department makes an effort to contact the owner. This procedure is usually impossible because very few items carry identification.

After lost items are kept at the information desk for two weeks, they are taken to the Student Activities Office. Depending on the article, most items are kept for less than one year. In the past, unclaimed clothing has been donated to World Clothing Week, and payroll checks have gone to the Lions Club.

Grad Wives Club

Will Meet Monday

The SIU Graduate Wives Club will hold its next meeting at 9 p.m., Monday, April 12 in Building 128 at Southern Illinois University, Carbondale.

Nominations for the Club officers for the 1965-6 school year will be taken at this meeting, so all graduate wives are urged to attend.

The guest speaker for the evening will be Dr. Carpenter, of the Home and Family Economics Department on Campus. He will be speaking about problems of the Graduate family and also about pre-school age children.

A motorcycle driven by Allen Wishner, an SIU student, collided with a car driven by Mrs. Ruth M. Frank of Rt. 3, Carbondale, at 3:35 p.m. Monday. According to police reports, Wishner was riding south on South Illinois Avenue when Mrs. Frank pulled into the intersection of West Walnut Street and South Illinois.

The motorcycle hit a right front fender of the Frank car and was heavily damaged. Wishner was slightly injured and is being treated on an out-patient basis by the Health Services.

Altrusa Club Career Day

Set for Today

The Carbondale area Altrusa Club will sponsor the second annual Career Day for Mature Women from 1 to 3 p.m. today at the University Center.

It will be conducted in cooperation with the SIU Division of Area Services.

There will be displays representing hospital volunteer work, arts and crafts, adult education and employment services.

There will also be several booths offering information from the Anna State Hospital, the Illinois Employment Service, the SIU Division of Technical Adult Education, the Southern Illinois Arts and Crafts Guild, public assistance and Social Security.

"Any woman interested in doing something with her free time, either in volunteer capacity or for pay, is urged to take advantage of this opportunity to explore activities which might prove of interest," said A. Ramona Bigelow, Career Day Chairman.

Lazer Light: How It Works

By Rex C. Mack

Copley News Service

LAS VEGAS—The laser (pronounced like razor) is a device named from the first letters of the phrase, “Light Amplification by Stimulated Emission of Radiation.”

Despite this technical name, the laser is in reality a simple device which focuses, or concentrates, light energy. Moreover, the light energy which is concentrated is a single color.

Most everyone has, at some time or another, focused light energy by focusing light from the sun through a magnifying glass to start a fire or burn a hole in a piece of newspaper.

The secret of the laser is that it concentrates energy in a degree which was impossible before discovery of the laser, and, since the laser is a single color, the light beam is more manageable.

The first laser consisted of a cylindrical ruby crystal a couple of inches long and perhaps a half inch in diameter. An ordinary flash lamp wound in the form of a spiral around the crystal, both of which were silvered, but one end had a small hole in the silver coating. The lamp surrounding the crystal was flashed and the highly concentrated light (in this case red light) came out the end of the crystal which had the hole in the silver coating.

The laser is not magic, however, and less light came out of the hole than was expended by the flash lamp. The light which did come out was in an exceedingly narrow beam. Such a statement is made because the writers lack of impression that lasers somehow actually generate energy which, in turn, is not true.

The beam of light which comes from the crystal is, however, so narrow that the heat generated within the beam gives rise to temperatures hotter than the surface of the football of a nuclear detonation.

It is little wonder that the laser has bailed out a very significant technical achievement.

In the industrial field, the laser can be used for cutting holes in metals, certain types of welding, and in the general art of metal forming.

In the medical field, it has already been used in opera­tions, in cancer research, and may find use in cancer treatment.

In the scientific field, parts of cells can be sterilized and the general area of technology.

The laser may be particu­larly useful in very long range communications.

Klanners Are Routed From Sheet Cover-Up

By Arthur Hoppe

Once upon a time there was a nondecript Senator who wasn’t getting anywhere. But one day, in his cupus, he took an old parting ticket out of his pocket, waved it aloft in front of an audience in Wheeling, West Va., and cried:

"I have here in my hand a document containing conclusively that 87 higher-ups in the Klanners Are Routed From Sheet Cover-Up

Arthur Hoppe

Attorney General’s office are shores recognizing members of the Ku Klux Klan!

The charge created a sensation. The Attorney General issued a flat denial, but, proving the Senator was bailed him before the Unlikable Activities Committee, "Do you deny," demanded the Senator, "that on the night of October 31, 1927, I placed a bed sheet over your head, carried a hollowed-out pumpkin (which I will link up later), exerted candy and other favors from your neighbors on the threat of doing physical harm to your property?"

The Attorney General told the Fifth Amendment. The Senator called him "a Fifth Amendment Klanner" and said he was "broadening the scope of the investigation" to include Nazis, Black Muslims and the Klan.

The nation retired each night to toss and turn on lumpy mattresses under tatty sheets and scratched eyes and ears. It was a long night. The next morning scratchy-eyed, tattered and sunburned, they looked clearly. But as the Senator said, "Our comfort is a small price to pay for our freedom!"

Moral: If you investigate and investigate and investigate, eventually you’ll make everybody uncomfortable.
On April 6, 1965, the Board of Trustees of Southern Illinois University on Tuesday held a meeting at which the new program of the Army ROTC was discussed. The meeting was called to order by Professor J. H. Cave, chairman of the Board of Trustees.

A Military Policies Committee was appointed from the faculty and continued to serve as an advisory group.

The applications of the original curriculum have been made and the program has been accepted for students who undertake their first college work at Southern Illinois University (Carbondale Campus) and meet the requirements of Air Force ROTC. All students are required to be enrolled in the university full-time.

The present modified basic program in AFROTC was inaugurated in September, 1960. Three hours of course work per week and six quarters of 10 hours per week leadership laboratory are required for freshmen and sophomore men. Aeroplane Studies 3 and 4 is an elective program for juniors and seniors.

The extra-curricular activities of AFROTC have been sponsored by the Department of Administration and by AFROTC Headquarters staff of the Air Force ROTC program.

The Air Force ROTC program has been available only to the students of the Carbondale Campus. Since the beginning of the instruction program at the residence centers in East St. Louis and Alton in 1957, negotiations have been conducted with the headquarters staff of Commandant of Air Force Reserve Officers' Training Corps and the Secretary for the Air Force to extend the program to the Edwardsville Campus.

On Thursday, April 1, 1965, tentative approval was received from the Department of Defense, Defense, and Southern Illinois University that a new ROTC program for Junior and Senior men of Edwards­ ville Campus if the University should meet the request of the University Center, Thompson Town, Vocational-Technical Institute and various locations on the East St.

A Military Policies Committee appointed from the faculty recommended the implementation of the policies for the ROTC program and has continued to serve as an advisory group.

The application and agreement of the regular unit of the Air Force ROTC program on a permanent basis at Southern Illinois University must now select the type of program in ROTC to be provided at the University by the United States Air Force.

A brief historical review of the relationships between Southern Illinois University and the United States Air Force is presented for the information of students.

The Board of Trustees of Southern Illin­ ois University on Jan. 22, 1961, unanimously ap­ proved the recommendations of the members of the Board which favor on the establishment of an ROTC program at Southern Illinois University when the opportunity arises. The students must be required to participate in such an opportunity participation in the sharing of the program, and recommendations of the Board to the University to report back to the Board toward the establishment of an ROTC program.

A preliminary investigation of the interest of the various armed services in­ dicated that 85.9 per cent of the students favored the establishment of an Air Force ROTC program on a permanent basis. Approximately 82.1 per cent of the students voting approximately 80.4 per cent of the students voted in favor of the establishment of an Air Force ROTC program on a permanent basis at Southern Illinois University.

Johnson Ties Pledge of Aid to Asia
To Peace Talks Without Conditions

By Frank Cormier

BALTIMORE (AP) - President Johnson, while stating a no-retreat policy in Viet Nam, said Wednesday night the United States is ready for "unconditional discussions" aimed at a peaceful settlement. And he proposed $1 billion of American aid for Southeast Asia.

Johnson, in a major foreign policy speech, broadcast nationally by television and radio networks, for the first time again said that the United States will never be second in searching for a peaceful settlement.

"And," he emphasized, "we remain ready - with this purpose - for unconditional discussions."

The chief executive, calling for a "massive effort to improve the life of man" in Southeast Asia, expressed hope that Secretary-General U Thant of the United Nations will "use the prestige of his office and - this deep knowledge of Asia - to initiate, as soon as possible, with the countries of the area a plan for cooperation in increased development."

Johnson said that, "for our part, I will ask the Congress to join in a $1-billion American investment in this effort when it is under way."

The chief executive expressed hope also that all other industrialized countries - and he specifically mentioned the Soviet Union - "will join in this effort to replace despair with hope and terror with progress."

While encouraging talk of negotiations and economic aid for the area, Johnson reaffirmed American determination to support Viet Nam, in these words:

"We will not be defeated."

We will not grow tired. We will not withdraw, either as a result of a meaningless agreement."

"And,以此," he emphasized, "we remain ready - with this purpose - for unconditional discussions."

In talking of a possible peace settlement, Johnson warned that peace will come swiftly - but he said it will be second in searching for a peace settlement.

"Viet Nam is far from this quiet campus. We have no territory there, nor do we seek any. The war is dirty and brutal and difficult. And some 400,000 lives, including America bursting with opportunities for its future in Viet Nam's own steaming soil."

Johnson concluded: "These are the essentials of any final settlement."

The President said, "There may be many ways to this kind of peace: in discussion of negotiations with the governments concerned; in large groups or in small ones; or in the reaffirmation of old agreements or their strengthening with new ones."

Johnson said he has been asked to be more than 50 times to France and to Asia, and added, "We ran away with it - with this purpose - for unconditional discussions."

Until the war was settled, Johnson said, "We will try to keep conflict from spreading."

Stating the United States has no desire to see thousands of Asians or Americans die in battle, nor to devastate Viet Nam, he pledged: "We will use our power with restraint and with all the wisdom we can command, but we will use it."

In discussing U.S. air strikes against the Communist North, Johnson said "it became necessary to increase our response and make attacks by air" because, he said, "in recent months attacks on South Viet Nam were stepped up."

"This is not a change of purpose," he went on, "It is not a change in which we believe that purpose requires."

Soviet Jets Buzz, Fire Blanks At West German Meeting Site

BERLIN (AP) — Swarms of Soviet jet fighters roared over West Berlin, fired blank cannon ammunition and buzzed the hall where West Germany's Parliament was meeting Wednesday. They buzzed the city's airports and planes flying in the air corridors.

Republicans Alter Remapping Plan

SPRINGFIELD (AP) — Illinois Senate Republicans revamped their bill Wednesday for reapportioning the state's 24 congressional districts.

Under the measure, Democratic congressman William Dawson and Frank Annunzio of Chicago would be put into one district.

Democrats, no incumbents would be thrown together. Under the previous GOP proposal which now has been scrapped, Democratic Congressman Kenneth Gray of West Frankfort and George Shapley of Olney would have been neighbors.

Sen. Daniel Dougherty, D-Chicago, objected to Republiclians pushing for congressional redistricting at the current legislative session.

Sino-Soviet Accord Reported To Move Arms to Viet Nam

By Henry S. Bradsher

MOSCOW (AP) — Soviet weapons now are flowing across China to North Viet Nam under an agreement reached in Peking to remove Chinese obstructions, diplomatic sources said Wednesday.

When the Soviet Union began sending promised arms to Hanoi there were delays in China. The sources described them as procedural.

Talks in Peking involving the Soviet Union, Chinese and apparently also the North Vietnamese removed the difficulties, the sources said. Soviet officials refused to answer correspondents' questions about the reported obstructions. They referred only to a statement by Leonid I. Brezhnev, first secretary of the Soviet Communist party, that the necessary assistance was being sent for defense of North Viet Nam. The aid was promised in February.

Reports had said the Red Chinese refused to allow **Over the Counter** System Proposed For License Plates

SPRINGFIELD (AP) — Mobile license plate distribution centers were suggested Wednesday as the Illinois House Motor Vehicles Committee approved a $100,000 bill for centers outside Springfield and Chicago.

About 2.5 million plates are distributed annually through the existing centers.

Rep. William Pierce, D-Rockford, sponsor of the bill, said it would cost about $7.50 for each validating machine required in a center.

He said about $140,000 in postage would be saved if distribution were made over the counter instead of mailing about a million plates from existing centers.

Opposition to the proposal came from some persons who serve as fee agents for other citizens in obtaining plates.
Southern Players to Present Euripides’ ‘Trojan Women’

The cruelty and pain of war will be depicted in the Southern Players production of Euripides’ ‘The Trojan Women.’ The play is to be given at 8 p.m. April 30 through May 2 and May 4-5 in the Playhouse.

The play takes place in a cellar in Troy following the fall of the city. ‘The Trojan Women’ was Euripides’ de­liberative intention of showing war in the light of its hideous cruelty and its effects on human weakness and human pain, Sherwin Abrams, associate professor of theater and director of the play, said.

Euripides, who wrote the play in 416 B.C., was called the poet of the world’s grief. In this play he sounded the deepest depths of that grief, according to Edith Hamilton, whose translation will be used.

The title roles of the ‘Trojan Women’ will be filled by 10 players. Barbara Briscoe will be cast as Hesione. Mary Barkett as Iris, Kaeen Fleivig as Iliona, Linda Green as Iphisa, Laurian Greening as Agamemnon, Winnie Hegarty as Hector, Karen Hogan as Helen, John Lane as Menelaus, Yvonne Lynch as Theano, and Judy Sink as Thymele.

Other parts include Joanna Hogan in the role of Hecuba, Richard Wenjakke as Tal­Lythus, and Kathy Holland as Cassandra.

Maurie Ayton will play An­dromache; Richard Barton is cast as Menelaus; and Yvonne Westbrook will play Helen. Darwin Payne is in charge of the settings. Charles Zookler will handle the lighting, and Ecinl Harrison will arrange the costumes.

Baseball Season Opens Today on New Field

Vincent Gets Starter's Role Against Illinois College

SIU's baseball Salukis will inaugurate their new baseball field this afternoon when they are host to Illinois College of Jacksonville in a 2:30 p.m. contest.

Finishing touches were being added to the new diamond Wednesday afternoon, and the spacious field is ready for action.

Among the innovations are dugouts which are only partially complete. The field measures 400 feet down the lines, then longsouts to 369 feet in right and left center fields. Straight away center field is 385 feet.

Coach Glenn (Abe) Martin's veteran team is rearing to go.

"We're ready," Martin said Wednesday as he watched his team work out on the new fields. "Everything's looked good this week."

Martin has good reason to be optimistic. Seven of his starting nine for this afternoon's contest are returning regulars from last year's outstanding 21-1 team.

Journalism Students
Hear Career Advice

A man who began his illustrious career at age 15 with the wind at his back and a bitter taste of intellectual inadequacy in his mouth, related his success and that of his business to journalism students and guests at the opening session of Journalism Week Wednesday night. Walter E. Bottorf, president and publisher of Standard Rate and Data Service, also provided students with advice in pursuing journalism careers.

Among his remarks were: "Don't be afraid to be a rolling stone. Don't stay in a position until you've found the right atmosphere and inspiration that will allow you to do justice to yourself and your employer."

"After you graduate, consider entering another field for a few years. It will give you maturity and when you come back, you'll know you mean it."

In supporting his statement that a college education is the most precious thing in life, Bottorf said: "I'd give 15 years of my life if I could have gone through most of it with the comfort and pride a college education gives you."

Concerning the interest of advertising and the magazine industry in schools of journalism, Bottorf said: "Today, lines of communication between campus and the industry are heavy with two-way communication."

Following Bottorf's address at Morris Library Auditorium, George Heitz, his senior assistant, answered students' questions. In reply to a question about the general tone of computers, Heitz said:

"Compared to man or the lowly monkey in the computer, the computer is a simple idiot. If you put in garbage, you get out garbage."

Heitz was critical of college humor magazines, and even doubted their actual existence. His objection was that they have a tendency to throw darts at the administration, rather than to concern themselves with operating a magazine in a business manner.

In answering whether magazines cater to their advertisers, Heitz said he had never known a major national magazine to consciously slant its content for an advertiser. "The editor owns the advertiser nothing," he said. "He has to live within his audience, not his advertisers."

Meeting the Press

Morris to Be Queried On Facilities, Finals

Topics ranging from students' rights to "selling" the University were suggested by students asked about their planned questions for the press conference with Delyte W. Morris, SIU President. The conference will be at 3 p.m. today in Muckelroy Building and is sponsored by Sigma Delta Chi, professional journalistic society.

J.J. Jones, a junior psychology major from New York City, said that there are no Negro professors on campus.

"I want to ask him (President Morris) why this situation exists," Jones said, "and why the administration is not out looking for the 'cream of the crop' of Negro educators."

John Paul Davis, a junior from Vincennes majoring in pre-law, said his line of inquiry would be to ask why the administration does not go to enough pains to sell SIU to the students.

"Although I think it's great that the University is sold so well by the Federal government and to the industrialists, I think that it is more important to sell the students and here is where the administration misses the point," Davis said.

Ronald E. Knack, a junior majoring in journalism from Woodstock, said, "I want to ask the president if he believes that there is any chance for expansion of the present system of fraternities and sororities on campus." Knack is member of Tau Kappa Epsilon social fraternity, also wants to find out "why so much pressure is put on the Greek houses."

"The new finals system, general studies and student facilities are matters of concern for Cora L. Hilliard, a sophomore government major from Sandoval."

"I want to know if it is true that the president wasn't aware of the change in the finals system," she said.

"I also want to know if SIU students are doing genuine studies and that genuine studies are being dropped for freshmen next fall?"

"I want to know about the problem of the unproportion of the administration and facilities to the student's needs?" she asked.

"I think it's great money is spent on the new finals system, but I would like to know why there are no cutbacks in the money spent on the athletics," she said.

"I would like to know if the administration has any plans for the future of our facilities, or if SIU has any plans for the future of our facilities," she asked.

"I also want to know if there is any chance for expansion of the present system of fraternities and sororities on campus," Knack said.
