Southern will soon have more living quarters for married students. Apparent low bids totaling $1,746,960 have been submitted for construction of nine two-story family apartment buildings.

The new units will boost the number of Southern Hills apartments by 144. A total of 128 families are presently being housed in eight buildings completed last year on the site on the east fringe of campus.

The Mid-Continent University in Harrisburg submitted an apparent low general construction bid of $1,007,000.

Arrangements have been set to establish a two-year membership has been set to establish a three-year membership clause. Past years have had no community. The Festival Quartet, five-year old chamber music group composed of Cynthia Behr, Linda Paulina Gutierrez, Claudia Costello, Kathy Cline, Carolyn Dixon, Lu Evans, Judy Finley, Ethel Fletcher, Pam Gilbert, Rosalie Haas, Tricia Hobman, Carolie Lybarger, Judy Margolis, Peggy Maxter, Phyllis Racina, Judy Scranton, Ann Sarina, Kay Teague, Judy Vier, Sue Weber, Sue Walters and Kay Woodruff.

Design Department Hopes To Expand

Southern's design department is negotiating with Nigerian government officials, the U.S. State Department and other agencies for establishment of an African Design Research Institute.

Harold Cohen, department chairman, said the Nigerian Institute would be the first such project of an SIU-based International Organization.

Cohen said one of the basic aims of the organization would be to create self-supporting design institutes in Nigeria and other parts of the world, and help them use “the industrial know-how” of the world at their disposal. It would begin after solving problems relating to education, housing and feeding their citizenry.

The interchange between the SIU design department and Nigeria has first priority in the overall plan. Cohen has proposed that five to 10 Nigerian students be exchanged with graduate-level design students at SIU.

A small research team would comprise the first exchange unit. It would include education, design and other aspects at one of the Nigerian technical institutions.

Cohen explained that the proposal follows long-range aims of SIU's own design development program, which are “reorienting the use of our industrial wealth for the purpose of solving those parts of the world’s problems that can be aided by man’s physical reconstruction of his inherent wealth through the use of his intellectual and industrial know-how.”

The Festival Quartet is the first S Tudent Union Community Concert attraction Wednesday.

The concert, at 8 p.m. in Shryock Auditorium, will be open to OCA members and SIU students after regular membership has been seated. The Quartet formed after the members played together informally at the Aspen Festival in Colorado. Vocalists are Mark Meyer, Collins and an alto. The group dedicates itself to the rarely heard piano quartet music of Mozart, Beethoven, Brahms, Mendelssohn, Schumann and Strauss.

25 'Angels' Will Be Initiated

Twenty-five pledges will be granted official acceptance into Angel Flight tonight, at the organization’s banquet to be held at Engel’s Restaurant. They will be presented with Air Force Wings indicating full-fledged membership in the choir group.

Two current candidates for the honor will be in the wings to receive entrance to the group at a Feb. 7 meeting of Angel Flight. Gineyan Gutierrez and Jane Sudler.

The fall pledges include Cynthia Batten, Linda Paulina Gutierrez, Claudia Costello, Kathy Cline, Carolyn Dixon, Lu Evans, Judy Finley, Ethel Fletcher, Pam Gilbert, Rosalie Haas, Tricia Hobman, Carolie Lybarger, Judy Margolis, Peggy Maxter, Phyllis Racina, Judy Scranton, Ann Sarina, Kay Teague, Judy Vier, Sue Weber, Sue Walters and Kay Woodruff.

New Senator Elected Thursday

A special mid-year election will be held Thursday to replace Marie Hatchcraft, of campus women's organized housing senator, who recently resigned her post.

Petitions for the senatorial post are available at the Student Government Office in the Student Union and should be submitted by Monday, March 1, for the April 5 elections committee meeting, says committee spokesman Craig Prater.

The April 5 meeting will be Monday with voting from 9 a.m. to 6 p.m. Thursday at the Student Union Center. Petition signatures must include at least 50% of the votes, such as an activity card.

TRAFFIC JAM

Even a ballet dancer would have had a tough time carrying a cup of coffee through this nearly solid wall of people in the Student Union Wednesday. Without spilling a drop, at least. Any black nerve juice that survived the goulash would have had to be drunk on the "run." Though, since prospects of finding a place to sit were nil. The time photo taken, was of course, between 10 and 11 a.m. (Photo by Kent Zimmermen).
On Paths...

Three big, shiny sidewalks are being placed on campus. The walks are costing some $12,500.

They are being constructed for several reasons. First, as an added convenience for the Southern's ever-increasing campus population. Second, SIU's "trail-blazers" have indicated by repeated talks over what was a beautiful park-like campus—grage—that they desired another short cut. (These azaleas have conveniently appeared in front of the new $4,000,000 Morris Library and the huge lawn behind the Alyn building.)

A concrete and blacktop sidewalk for both man and cycle now sprawls like a giant octopus over what could be a beautiful campus—if the occupants could keep their big feet where they belong—on the sidewalks.

Last week a huge new walk was unwrapped from the library parking lot to the library over what was once a trail-blazer's path. Within several hours, two new paths were cut across the unpaved portion still remaining. Are we allergic to walks?

Students at many other schools (including some of our brothers up north) certainly take more between campus walks. Why? They are apparently proud of their campus.

The University, apparently frustrated with the wandering SIUers, has two apparent solutions to the increasing problem. The first is a set of silver-colored chains. The second? Another walk will be constructed in front of University School and behind Woody Hall as soon as weather permits.

Calling The 'SCPA'

Maybe Southern is going to the dogs and then again maybe it isn't.

In any case, all but a few dogs have been barred from campus buildings thanks to a bulletin issued early this month by T. W. Abbott, acting dean of academic affairs.

To many people including this editor, such action was not only drastic but a step in the right direction in light of the crowded conditions along these cold days.

Abbott put the bulletin about "those animals" at times disturbing and even sampling some of the University employees, why, who do they think they're kidding?

Can there be anything at all known that dogs is man's best friend and would never stop to sampling anyone unless he were deliberately—yes, you guessed it—hunting a Saluki from any corner, so why pick on other dogs what I'm wanting to know?

It is to the credit of the University to say that they, at least, understand dogs and permit them to roam about their dormitories when everyone else ostracizes them.

This is not to say that dogs can be seen sacked out on couches in the main floor lounges of Woody, and a confidential source has informed this editor that dogs have been seen on the upper corridors.

Who can say if dogs continue to be driven from offices, classrooms and laboratories, and they will not eventually all migrate to the above named dormitory, or wherever they may find shelter and sanctuary?

It is almost needless to point out that such a state of dogdom in the cold days would be a sorry reflection indeed on all concerned.

Write Disagrees With Editor

Dear editor,

Your Civil War editorial Tuesday Jan. 17, was good, but some, what naive. While American racial problems are tragic, confusing your criticisms to "the South" is hardly facing up to the issue.

So we of the North say the Negro is free? The situation in the Chicago suburb of Deerfield and investigation by the SIU Student Council into discriminatory practices in Carbondale hardly confirm this.

True, peoples of the world must feel greatly disillusioned about the United States, we should observe our racial discrimination. They may also wonder thousands of needy people in southern Illinois and other sections of our nation must get along on a meager handout of surplus food when our newly-elected president had control of interest, to reduce to more than $10 million to dispose of.

And they might find it hard to understand the concern of some American young people over their "right" to operate their thousand-dollar apartments, when masses of the world's people have never had a home.

In the 100 years since the Civil War, discrimination against the Negro has never been confined to the South. One of the worst race riots in history occurred in East St. Louis in 1917. Hundreds of Americans, both Negro and white, were killed in a racial war in Chicago, Washington, D.C. and more than 20 cities in the United States in 1919.

President's Truman's Committee on Civil Rights reported in 1947 "that violations exist in all sections of the country" and called the situation in Washington, D.C. "inadmissible."

The Negro should not be handicapped because he is born a Negro any more than the color of a person's hair or a laborer should be handicapped because he is not the son of a wealthy industrialist.

Isn't it time we all began accepting responsibility for these problems instead of blaming others? It is unfortunate for one in a position of leadership to refer to the "nonwillingness" of a particular people while ignoring the guilt of a whole society.

“just washed my beard and I can’t do a thing with it.”

Thought for the day: God gave us imagination to compensate for what we aren’t, and a sense of humor to compensate for what we are.

The Lad said Saturday night that some of the dressing rooms—including those in well-known clubs—lend much dignity to Shroy-ock’s dressing chambers.

Jimmy Arnold described one dressing room in Texas which featured a large cracker in the center. Another on the East Coast was minus one door and a dressing room in Indiana was several blocks from the Auditorium. So, as the Fourth Lads say, Southern's dress room is quite comfortable compared to others.

This happened.

A guy was going into all kinds of explanatory preliminaries in connection with telling his girl something nice. As he skillfully glibbed in that dramatic ending, he said, "Now, after looking at all the angles. The quiet one, this time used by the guy's otorial romancing, said, "And I guess you've looked at all the curves, too."

He was stopped cold.

Craftsmanship Display In Library

A special exhibit of craftsmanship and artwork of exotic, mysterious India is currently on display at Morris Library.

The display, sponsored by the International Relations Club, has been set up to commemorate the 10th anniversary of the founding of the Republic of India.

From profusely ornamented woodcarvings to brilliantly colored silk sarons, the display contains many examples of curios and art forms.

Delicately carved ivory from Delhi, intricate basketry from Allahabad and even a model of the Taj Mahal emphasize the romance and color of India.

Most of the articles on display belong to Dr. Alex Reed of the department of animal industries and his wife. They spent two years in the province of Allahabad, India, on the Fulbright exchange plan.

Khalid R. Rahman, spokesman for the Indian students, urges the public to attend.

Floods of Fear

Three Okinawan journalists will arrive here Sunday to begin a six-week study under auspices of the Department of the Army at SIU's department of journalism.

A special program for provincial journalism is being prepared for the visitors, according to Dr. Howard R. Lang, chairman who said other University departments will cooperate in their training.

Their program will include daily discussion sessions, field trips to the state legislature, to rural communities and elsewhere, and a final week of work with a southern Illinois newspaper.

Those scheduled to take part in the program, first of its kind at Southern, are Ambu Tokuda, assistant editor and chief of the Ryukyu Shimpo; Shuko Yamashita, reporter for the Okinawa Times, and Kanshin Shimoji, legislative reporter for the Shimpo Shimpo. They will be accompanied by an interpreter.

Off-Campus Kegels Tied

The Tuesday night Indie Bowling League ended in a three-way tie for first place in the first half of the season.

The Off-Campus kegels finished the first stanza with Southern Dorm, Mour-Don's and the 69ers dead-tied for the top honors. A rollout for first place will be held soon. Meanwhile second half season activities are under way.

In last week’s play, Southern Dorm split with the Youth Choir to slide into a first place tie with the 69ers, who were idle. Mour-Don’s won two points from Dietz by forfeit. Other action found the Hideaway taking all four points from the Newman Club. Top individual performance for the evening was by SIU’s Ron Sidling with a 537 series.

Final first half standings:
- Team W L Pts.
- Southern Dorm 11 7 15
- Mour-Don’s 11 7 15
- 69ers 11 7 15
- Youth Choir 10 13 12
- Hideaway 9 9 13
- Newman Club 6 12 7
- Dietz 5 13

Women’s Basketball Tomorrow

Women’s intramural basketball competition began Monday night with three games. Johnson Co-op defeated Steaggall Hall, 14-3, in the first game. The Colonial House was beaten by Southern Dorm, 20-15 in the second contest. The third are 20 teams in the league. Four games are scheduled for Tuesday evening, featuring both women’s dorms and sororities.

The girls’ varsity basketball team has been practicing at the Union College tandem hall at 2 p.m. The second team will play at 1 p.m. Admission is free.

Saluki Gymnasts Meet Minnesotta

Minnesota’s Golden Gophers host Southern’s Salukis tomorrow afternoon in a gymnastic meet. Coach Bill Meade’s Salukis topped the Gophers last year and this season’s meet will start at 1 p.m. Admission is $1.40 in the main gym and $1.25 in the student gym.

Chemistry Hangs On To Indee Lead

The chemistry department retained its lead in the Monday night Indee Bowling League despite rolling its lowest series of the event.

The first half of the season champion chemist edged Doyle Dunn, 2394-2382. Doyle salvaged one point for the evening by winning the final game. Roger Beller of the chem dept. and Howard Simpson of Doyle were high men with 435 and 451, respectively.

Bailey Hall slipped past the Jolli Rogers, 2386-2358, to hold on to the runnerup spot. Bailey’s Neil Eber- cild bowled a 513 series, sparked by a 203 game, Dick Sieg and Hoffman toppled the Jolli Rogers with 410, respectively. In other action the Alphas split with the American Chemical Society and Brandon took two games from the Newman Club. The standings:

Just Off the Campus Grounds
Readers of the Daily Left, the University of Southern Illinois daily, were hit Friday with a shock of news.

A former member of Beta Xi, she began losing her sight at a young age in high school and eventually became totally blind.

After attending the School for the Blind at Jacksonville, in 1953-54, she became nationally known for her brilliant translations and was in demand as a speaker because of her pretty voice and speaking ability.

In 1957, while attending SIU, she wrote a book titled, "A Little Answer," Miss Vick died in 1942 at the age of 28.

Peggy Joyce Youmann, freshman from Mascoutah, has been named this year's recipient of the June Vick Memorial Scholarship.

To raise funds for this scholarship, the Beta Xi chapter of Theta Sigma Phi, professional women's club, will present a play at Lenta Hall Saturday, Saturday, Saturday.

Tickets may be purchased at the Alley Fly Shop on South Illinois Avenue, or from any chapter member.

Since Miss Vick's death, the chapter annually awards a scholarship in her name to a deserving freshman or sophomore girl. The recipient must maintain a 4.0 average.

"Thrift of Her Life"

1960 Military Ball Queen
"Still Can't Believe It"

By Linda Brooks

"I still can't believe it!" exclaimed pretty Miss Connie McGinnis, retiring Military Ball Queen, "and I don't think I ever will.

Miss McGinnis was referring to, undoubtedly, the most exciting night of her life—the night she was proclaimed Queen of the 1960 Military Ball.

Explaining why she feels that is "one of the biggest thrills of her life," she said, "You know, they say 'Queen for a Day' or 'receive crown and that's the end.'

But this isn't true of Military Ball Queen, according to Miss McGinnis.

The "wonderful treatment" of the BTC has never let her forget the honor she received. In addition to attending drills, Miss McGinnis assisted at Awards Day last Spring when a military parade was held and outstanding cadets received ribbons as special recognition.

This she termed quite an honor and called it the "biggest thrill I've ever had." When asked if this was bigger than receiving the crown last February, she replied, "Oh, no! That was bigger yet!"

Recently, Miss McGinnis was informed that a gown specially made for her and given by the BTC department had arrived. Bestowed every year to retiring Military Ball Queen, Miss McGinnis has been anxiously awaiting its arrival.

She will wear the full length jeweled gown this year's Military Ball, Feb. 4, when she will crown the 1961 queen. Each queen also receives a trophy and a bouquet of red roses.

The name Connie McGinnis is not an unknown one around the SIU campus. Her bubbly personality and warm friendly smile are known by many students and faculty.

As a freshman, the SIU coed was a finalist in the Miss Freshman contest, ran for freshman class president, received the title of Miss Southern Acres at VTI and was a finalist in the Miss Southern contest. Last year, as a sophomore, Miss McGinnis represented all residence halls for homecoming attendant.

A junior from Pittsfield, the retiring queen is majoring in marketing. Contradicting what many believe is the future of those in the market field, she commented, "No, I don't want to be the head of a transportation firm—I want to be a fashion buyer."

With this last quip, Miss McGinnis expressed cherry jubilee line and scurried off to another one of her many appointments.

June Vick was an honor graduate of SIU, and was graduated in 1941 with a bachelor's degree in education.

A two-week salute to "Asia and the Arts" will make up Southern Illinois University's sixth annual Fine Arts Festival next month.

The Festival will open Feb. 12 with four art exhibits, a concert by Japanese musician Kinio Cho and a folk dance program by the Israeli Harkaika Dancers.

Lectures by Chinese artist David Kwon and Japanese painter Matsumi Kanemitsu; a concert by the Corolla Goya and Matteo dance troupe; a presentation by Hoeppner's "King David" oratorio by the Southern Illinois Oratorio Society; a Chinese play, "Dream of the Red Chamber," and Asian variety and costume shows will also be featured.

Exhibits scheduled include Japanese prints, the Chinese art collection of BUU Botanist William Marbury; paintings by Kanemitsu and Cheng Shiang Kuo, Chinese graduate art student at SIU whose father is a prominent San Francisco artist; Burmese embroidery; Asian jewelry; and Japanese advertising art.

A Japanese object/art-loaned by SIU faculty members will be shown both on the campus and in downtown Carbondale store windows.

All Festival programs will be free and open to the public.
Union Negotiations

The usual slate of events is on the Student Union's weekend calendar. Highlights of the weekend is the "New Look" on Friday night which features a floor show at 10:15.

Nominations
For Lovejoy Award Begin

Nominations are being accepted for the sixth annual Elijah Parish Lovejoy award for courage in journalism, to be awarded at a meeting of the International Conference of Weekly Newspaper Editors here in July.

Last year's Lovejoy Award, given annually by SIU's journalism department, went to Hazel Branch Smith, editor of the Lexington Min., Ad-Vertiser who waged a six-year fight against economic boycotts, pressure groups and faced personal intimida-

Nominations are based on events occurring in the year 1960, and may be made by anyone who has knowledge of weekly editors in the United States who faced up to pressures in the treatment of local issues during the year.

Nominations should be sent to Dr. H. R. Long, chairman, department of journalism, SIU.

Transportation
Institute Offers
First Course

SIU's newly established Transportation Institute will offer its first course for personnel of the large and towing industry on March 7-8 in cooperation with the Division of Technical and Adult Education.

Col. A. R. MacMillan, professor of transportation and director of the Institute, said the course was designed to provide management and personnel personnel concerned with federal laws applying to water carriers, and with financing purchase of towboats, barges and other equipment.

One of the principal instructors will be an authority on admiralty law. Other topics to be discussed include "Benefit of Preferred Ship Mortgages," and "Protective Aspect of Federal Law.

The course will also delve into future legislation, future federal control, and "Your Role in the National Interest," MacMillan said.

Cost of the two-day course is $50, which includes housing, meals, banquet, and conference supplies. Interested individuals and firms are invited to write to the Transportation Institute, SIU for additional information.

THE EGYPTIAN, JANUARY 27, 1961
Fifteen women were initiated in DELTA ZETA sorority Sunday evening at the sorority house. The new actives are Elizabeth Bradley, June Cavalin, Rita Jean Cawley, Janie Couter, Janyce Miller, Betty Moss and Joan Kraus. Miss Moss received the scholarship award. Her grade point average on her standing was 5 point. June Carillin was chosen outstanding pledge.

Sara Allen and her trio played for the initiation dance at the chapter house Saturday night.

The walking blood bank recently established by TAU KAPPA EPSILON got under way Friday. Bill McCullough will be called at Douglas Hospital to donate blood for a patient.

Elections were held at the Tobe house and Al Lasater was elected vice president. Also elected were Jerry Ferguson, secretary, Jerry Warrall, pledge trainer and Bob Dunn, sergeant at arms. Tom Wallin and Tom Lang were named rush co-chairmen. Jim Lemons will assist Jerry Candulti, house manager.

Dale Allison, Kim Ashley, Ed Carl, Bob Hall, Dave Harris, Wayne Norris, Joe O'Dell, Mel Patton, John Pendant, Randy Roberts, Rob Sanders and Dave Snyder have been initiated into SIGMA PI.

Open house will be held at SIGMA PHI'S sorority next month. Bobby Lacy has been chosen chairman for the event.

The pledges of Tri Sigma and Phi Kappa Tau got together for an exchange party Sunday. The event is held in planning a party with Sigma Tau Gamma Sunday evening.

Nine new Tri Sigma initiates from Bradley University were guests at the local chapter's last weekend. National Traveling Counselor Barbara Lyons roomed with the new pledges.

Tri Sigma Marga Moore is serving as Inter-Greek representative for the Alumni Dedication Committee for the University Center to dedicated this spring.

The brothers of PHI SIGMA KAPPA have added seven men to their chapter. The initiates are Phillip Le Faux, Steve McGhee, Kenneth Ewington, Michael Warren, James Smith, Bruce Wheatly and Stan 억.

The semi-annual election of officers was held at the Phi Sigma Kappa house and Dennis Withers was elected president of the fraternity. David Kusnich was vice president and Roger Turner is secretary. Douglas Edmonds will serve as recording secretary and Dave Moon as inductor. Sentinel is Les Sintay.

A rush dinner is planned for Sunday evening at the chapter house.
