Dean to lobby legislature for funds

Keith Sanders, dean of the College of Education and Fine Arts, is being sent to Springfield for the remainder of the session to lobby for more funding for higher education.

The move is part of a joint effort by the 12 state universities in Illinois, the Illinois Board of Higher Education and the Illinois Board of Education to increase funding for state education at all levels through a state income tax increase.

"There was agreement among system heads that it is the one person in the state who could do the job and do it well," Chancellor Lawrence K. Pettit said Monday, announcing Sanders's assignment.

Sanders served as the university's lobbyist from 1980 to 1983. He was instrumental in getting the state to implement a temporary tax increase in 1983, which helped SIU stay "competitive with peer institutions," Pettit said.

He also was a member of the SIU-C Alumni Association Board of Directors from 1970 to 1974 and was association president in 1978. One of the functions of the association is to solicit donations from alumni.

Illinois universities are betting on Sanders's ability to lessen the Legislature's purse strings. Pettit noted Illinois

Reagan says 'We're not finished yet'

WASHINGTON (UPI) - Ronald Reagan, insisting "we're not finished yet," invited Congress Monday to work with him in his final year as president to create policies needed to guarantee a legacy of prosperity, peace and freedom.

"We are strong, prosperous, at peace and we are free," Reagan told a joint session of Congress and a nationwide audience.

"This is the state of our union, and if we will work together this year, I believe we can give a future president and a future Congress the chance to make that prosperity, that peace, that freedom, not just the state of our union, but the state of our world."

As he trumpeted a resurgence of political and economic freedom, the twin goals of his conservative revolution, Reagan sought to build a force to be reckoned with in the twilight of a "pragmatism in the state that will one day be reckoned with in the twilight of a cold war revolution."

Reagan stressed cooperation and bipartisanism in the lame-duck year of his administration, reaching out to a conservative revolution to the right of him who will be searching for a "strong, prosperous, at peace and free union, and nationally broadcast audience."

"We're not finished yet," Reagan said Monday, appealing to his supporters to continue the battle that will look forward to his place in history, Reagan said.

The search for missing University student Ricky Johnson was suspended Monday afternoon because of cold weather.

Johnson, 19, has been missing since Saturday, when his canoe capsized in the Big Muddy River near Murphysboro.

The cold front that entered the area Monday made it impossible to continue the search on a full-scale basis and until the front passes, search efforts will be minimal, Murphysboro police said.

Conditions on the river, which is 10 feet above normal and choppier than usual, also have hampered the search.

Full-scale search efforts will resume in a couple of days, when the cold front is expected to pass, police said.

Johnson, a forestry student, was canoeing with a friend along a stretch of the river between old and new routes 131 in Murphysboro when their canoe tipped over in the icy waters. He is presumed drowned, police said.

Mike O'Neill, of the Jackson County Conservation Department, points out an abnormality in the river bottom that was revealed by a sonar fish locator that is being used in an attempt to locate the body of a drowning victim in the Big Muddy River.

Gunman gets seven year sentence

By John Mohler
Staff Writer

Assault charges have been dropped against a Carbondale man who was shot after he handed over his gun to a police officer.

However, the man, Terry Lee Jones, was sentenced to seven years in prison for violating his probation by possessing a firearm, prosecuting attorney Michael Nieskes said Monday.

Nieskes said the assault charges were dismissed Jan. 17 in favor of giving Jones, 24, of Carbondale Mobile Home Park, the maximum sentence for the felony probation violation.

Jones was convicted in 1986 of burglary and carrying a concealed weapon. He was sentenced to two years probation. Under the terms of the probation, Jones was prohibited from carrying a weapon.

Jones was hospitalized Oct. 8 after a Carbondale police officer shot him after Jones allegedly refused to surrender a gun. Jones was holding to another man's chin. The incident occurred outside the Cadillac Lounge in the 300 block of North Washington St. According to court records, when Officer James A. Temple ordered Jones to drop the gun, Jones walked across the street to Carter's garage. Jones raised his gun and Temple fired five shots in response, the records said.

Jones was admitted to Carbondale Memorial Hospital with bullet wounds to the lower
Prosecutor’s body found hours after his kidnapping

MEDELLIN, Colombia (UPI) — Police found the bullet-riddled body of Attorney General Carlos Hoyos Jimenez Monday just hours after suspected drug traffickers kidnapped him and killed two of his bodyguards, authorities said. Mayoral candidate Andres Pastrana, who was abducted eight days earlier, was rescued earlier by police searching for Hoyos, an arch foe of the Colombian cocaine cartel.

Philippine official’s son killed during election

MANILA, Philippines — Gunmen killed a city official’s son Monday during delayed local elections in five provinces where thousands of troops backed by helicopter gunships and World War II-era planes were deployed to contain widespread violence. Government and military officials reported scattered cases of vote-buying, “flying voters” who tried to vote more than once and the discovery of fake ballot boxes, but said the massive military buildup succeeded in holding violence to a minimum.

Accused Nazi criminal’s trial begins in Israel

JERUSALEM (UPI) — An Israeli prosecutor began summonsing of the case against accused Nazi war criminal John Denneigung Monday, relating chilling accounts of the Treblinka death camp where 850,000 people died in 1942 and 1943. The former Ohio autoworker is accused under Israel’s Genocide Law of crimes against humanity and the Jewish people for allegedly using a whip and sword to herd prisoners into the gas chambers of the camp in Nazi-occupied Poland. If convicted, he could be hanged.

New president of Suriname ends military rule

PARAMARIBO, Suriname (UPI) — Hindu businessman Ranchesh Shankar became the new president of Suriname Monday, ending nearly eight years of military rule in the troubled South American nation with a call for improved relations with the Netherlands and the United States. Shankar, 46, was sworn in as the former Dutch colony’s fourth president.

Ortega offers concessions in letter to Reagan

WASHINGTON (UPI) — In a conciliatory letter, Nicaraguan leader Daniel Ortega told President Reagan too many Nicaraguan people have died in the 5-year-old Contra war, and offered a series of security-related concessions as an inducement for more effective bilateral talks. Ortega offered to negotiate limits in the size of Nicaragua’s armed forces, to remove all foreign military advisors, to ban foreign military bases in Nicaragua, and to prevent its use as a staging base for leftist insurgencies in the region.

Soviets visit classified U.S. nuclear grounds

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (UPI) — Soviet scientists traveled 65 miles by bus Monday to the classified Nevada Test Site, the U.S. nuclear proving grounds, to begin a five-day visit aimed at working out procedures to verify each nation’s underground nuclear weapons tests. The 20-member Soviet delegation arrived in Las Vegas late Sunday as part of a reciprocal agreement reached during last month’s Washington summit between President Reagan and Soviet leader Mikhail Gorbachev.

Policeman’s funeral leads to racism dispute

DALLAS (UPI) — A white police officer killed by a black vagrant on a downtown street symbolizes a division between police accused of racism and a City Council blamed for fostering hatred toward police, participants said Monday. Leaders of the Dallas Police Association met Monday to discuss asking Mayor Annette Strauss and three Council members — two blacks and one Hispanic — not to attend Tuesday morning’s memorial service for slain Officer John Chase.

Valid signatures could force a Mecham recall

PHOENIX (UPI) — Arizona Secretary of State Rose Mofford announced Monday she has verified more than enough signatures to force a recall and said she would call a new election unless Gov. Evan Mecham resigns in five days. Mofford, Democrat who would become governor if Mecham resigns, said she would notify the Republican governor on Tuesday that 301,032 signatures were valid, well above the 216,746 needed to force a new election. An election initiative has been set for May 17, with an official announcement expected Feb. 1 if Mecham does not resign.
Marine gets honorable discharge

QUANTICO, Va. (UPI) - A former Moscow embassy guard who was convicted and demoted for his role in last year's sex-for-secrets scandal has been honorably discharged from the Marine Corps, a military spokesman said Monday.

Sgt. Robert Stufflebeam was joined in his discharge by 29 percent of Michigan's Democratic voters - compared to Simon with 5 percent - are accurate and merely reflect name recognition, not popularity.

"I think we're looking strictly at name recognition," Simon said once the voters went in action, winning primaries and caucuses, they likely candidate to be elected from state house members...

Bureaucratic trap must be abolished

FORMER SIU-C PRESIDENT Albert Somit's proposal to restructure the Illinois higher education system is a good idea.

Somit's plan would get rid of unneeded bureaucratic bodies and unite universities with similar goals.

Under the plan, the cumbersome system of four governing bodies would be replaced with a dual system. The state's major research universities of Illinois-Champaign-Urbana, U of Chicago, SIU-C, and Northern Illinois University, would be headed by one board and the remaining universities would be under another.

THE FOUR MAJOR research institutions would be called the State University of Illinois system.

Any move to get rid of unneeded bureaucratic agencies would be a nice change in Illinois, which has, by far, the most governmental bodies of any state. Somit figures the change would save $4 million per year in bureaucratic costs alone.

Many Illinois educational officials, most notably SIU Chancellor Lawrence Pettit, have opposed the plan. Pettit, of course, is among the bureaucrats who stand to lose their jobs if the plan were implemented. The two SIU campuses would not be under the same system, and no longer would need a chancellor's office.

Pettit argued that SIU-C would be relegated to the status of a minor state university to the U of I system. But this is exactly what SIU-C has for the last 20 years. The Illinois Board of Higher Education consistently gives the U of I system much more funding than any other state universities.

In 1986, for example, the U of I system received $8,780 per student. The SIU system was second with $4,800 per student. While it is clear that the U of I is one of the nation's top public research universities, this does not mean that Illinois cannot have other great public universities. The California public university system, upon which the plan is based, has a number of first-rate public universities, thanks in part to the fiscal equity brought about by the system's structure.

In ORDER FOR any state university other than the U of I to develop into, or maintain its status as a first-rate institution, state funding must become more balanced. Under Somit's plan, the state would recognize which universities have the potential to move up to the level of the U of I and would make fiscal decisions accordingly.

Unfortunately, the bureaucrats who have the power to influence a decision for this plan, such as the IHBE and officials like Pettit, are the same ones who would be out of work if it were implemented. Thus, it seems highly unlikely that the state legislature will consider a change.

AS IT IS, the Illinois higher education system is stuck in a bureaucratic labyrinth of self-interest. Until the state's legislators stop trying to protect their own jobs and begin doing what is best for Illinois, the state may never find the excitement it needs.

Queetable Quotes

"They're not bad kids. They're just like yours or mine or anyone else's could be. Once in a while they get a little rowdy." — A Greensburg,-area cook, on the teens-angry incited by assault and manslaughter in the Howard Beach, N.Y., case.

"He was an absolute smash. He sang with a good baritone voice, chowned with the other acts and delivered jokes on the best of the best, including his拿alies that's a shining image. While the Inouye foray, along with numerous others, again has tarnished Congress's less than shining image. While the members of the Senate and House talk a lot in public about cutting spending and eliminating waste, once behind closed doors they lock up a million here and a million there.

"The practice is so time-honored that members of Congress boast of the goodies they bring to their states — and perhaps that is part of their job."

Booby Trap by Steve Gerstel

International Herald Tribune

In the numerous weeks that pass for a brief holiday on the congressional calendar, a good number of the scattered vacationers were caught with their fingers in the marmalade. In the hectic days before adjournment of last year's session, only the very major elements of the huge government wide spending bill made the headlines.

It was only later that the smaller boodlebugs came to light. Although many in the Senate and House dipped into the spending pool on behalf of their states and districts, the most glaring example of "pork" belongs to Sen. Daniel Inouye, D-Hawaii. Inouye's caper probably is a classic of its genre.

The Hawaii senator slotted into the money bill, which totaled more than $600 billion, a pauper-like $8 million for purposes that have little to do with the United States and absolutely nothing to do with Hawaii. This money, passed over the vigorous objection of the State Department, which frowns on earmarking money, will be used to help build schools for Saharan Jews in France. Yes, that's correct.

Inouye has been less than voluble in explaining his actions but there seems to be no argument that one of the people actively involved in helping those Saharan Jews is also a gentleman friend of Inouye's political campaigns.

The Inouye foray, along with numerous others, again has tarnished Congress's less than shining image. While the members of the Senate and House talk a lot in public about cutting spending and eliminating waste, once behind closed doors they lock up a million here and a million there.

"The practice is so time-honored that members of Congress boast of the goodies they bring to their states — and perhaps that is part of their job."

Sen. Bennett Johnston, D-La., for example, put out a seven-page news release just to make sure no one at home could forget how important his successes are to Louisiana.

Inouye caper assists Saharan Jews

By STEVE GERSTEL

"...the most glaring example of "pork" belongs to Sen. Daniel Inouye, D-Hawaii."

Adelman, former director of the U.S. Arms Control and Disarmament Agency, as an ideologue who regarded his greatest accomplishent to be "shooting down arms-control proposals." It was revealed several paragraphs later that Adelman wrote that his greatest accomplishment was "a voiding "arms-control schemes" that would have harmed U.S. interests." Anderson translated this to mean that Adelman was not only in arms control in general, clearly demonstrating how statements can be taken out of context.

Perhaps this would be the conclusion of someone who believes that arms-control agreements inherently are good and never harm U.S. interests. President Reagan proposed the notion that nuclear disarmament and peaceful relations somehow have a cause-effect relationship by signing arms-control agreements without achieving any commitments. From the Soviets on regional conflicts and human rights abuses, Reagan's goal of eliminating all nuclear weapons may be feasible, but it should not be pre-eminent. Our primary goal should be avoiding war, conventional or nuclear.

Reagan stresses common sense in reforming education system

WASHINGTON (UPI) - President Reagan said Monday night education reform is like "paying off a debt," and a stronger curriculum makes "the effort worthwhile." He also praised his new popular kid in America's schools.

A new emphasis on educational excellence in his State of the Union address before Congress, suggesting that misplaced priorities have led to educational decline, was recently revealed in the nation's schools. "We all know the sorry story of the '80s, when we replaced an obsession with dollars with a commitment to quality, and test scores started to go up," Reagan said.

"There is a lesson here that we all should write on the blackboard a hundred times - in a child's education, money never makes the plain basics like discipline, hard work and yes, competition," Reagan said. After denying the educational system is underfunded but rather "under-productive, under-accountable, and over-regulated," the Education Department budget for fiscal year 1988 is $4.78 billion, although the administration requested only $4.1 billion. At all educational levels, about $210 billion is being spent during fiscal 1987-88.

Among the reforms suggested, Reagan said the teaching profession should be open to all qualified candidates, "not just those with "good college degrees." He said good teachers should be rewarded with merit pay and the nation's school curriculum should stress the basics like math, English, science and history.

Educational quality has been a key issue for several years, prompted by a controversial 1983 report by the National Commission on Excellence in Education.

Demos say U.S. should face facts

WASHINGTON (UPI) - Democratic congressional leaders said Monday President Reagan's "strongly worded" message in his upbeat assessment of the nation's economic health and record budget and trade deficits and warned Americans of a "false sense of fiscal irresponsibility and economic weakness."

The leaders also said Reagan, in his last year in office, has not acknowledged that legacy through tougher trade laws, better education, job training programs and sensibly pay-as-you-go budgets.

"We have come to the end of an era," Byrd said in the Democrats' videotaped response, broadcast after Reagan's annual speech to a joint session of Congress. "The 'feels-good' slogans have gone out of fashion. The dark side of the Reagan years has only begun to loom.

"We have finally come for us to face the hard truth that once gave us our self-reliance and world leadership," Byrd said. "Hard work is no longer the job and in the classroom. Pay as you go - no free lunches, no raining down from the bills due. Helping those in need - but not those who need to work.

Byrd was careful to praise Reagan's previous years, and acknowledged his popularity as "a man who can touch the nation's humor - and make us feel better than we deserve."

In his remarks, Wright urged Reagan to work with Democrats to tackle the nation's economic problems and keep its foreign policy on a steady course.

Realities of DUI are not a party

By Joe Baker

Wellness Center

Work hard and play hard. You've put a lot of effort into getting into school and staying there, and, in general, you consider yourself a responsible person. But remember, like some of your fellow students, your life could change overnight due to a poor judgment about drinking.

Take for example this rather typical scene. You and several friends decide to meet downtown for a few drinks after exams to celebrate. With little sleep for the past three to four days, and with very little food in your system, the several beers you drink produce a strong effect. After a couple hours of talking and drinking, you volunteer to drive everyone over to your favorite restaurant to eat. On the way, the police stop you because your driving is impaired, and you are requested to take a breathalyzer.

In Illinois, anyone who drives a motor vehicle is deemed by law to have given consent for chemical testing of blood or breath for the purpose of determining alcohol or drugs in the body when suspected of DUI. A refusal to take a breathalyzer test will result in an automatic 6-month suspension of your driver’s license for a first DUI arrest. The test indicates whether your blood alcohol level is greater than 0.10 percent, the legal definition of intoxication. This will mean serious trouble and an unanticipated large expenditure of money that you probably don’t even have. Just what can you expect to happen?

The arresting officer will write you a traffic ticket for DUI and a misdemeanor in Illinois. You'll be required either to pay $300 cash, $100 and a valid driver's license, or be transported to see a judge the next day (or the following Monday if it’s a weekend). In court, a judge will set bond if you have not already posted the required amount. He will determine your next court date, which will be about a month later.

Your name and DUI arrest will appear in the newspaper and, if you are arrested by Campus Police, the incident will be reported to Student Life for possible further disciplinary action. An evaluation to assess the extent of your alcohol problem will be required by the court. Compliance with recommendations for treatment will be mandatory.

According to Greg Ertle, assistant state's attorney for traffic offenses in Jackson County, most first-time DUI offenders’ licenses are automatically suspended for 90 days, and upon conviction, they can lose their license for an additional 12 months and receive a reminder for up to two years. In addition, an average $600 fine will be imposed. Court costs including fine, alcohol evaluation and attorney fees will bring the total cost to approximately $1500-$2000.

A second DUI arrest within five years will result in an automatic revocation of your driver’s license, and your automobile insurance company will be notified. Insurance rates for people who have lost their licenses due to DUI’s are very expensive because of the high risks involved. Even with very high deductible amounts, yearly insurance premiums can run as much as $1000 per year or more for full coverage if you're in the 20 to 30 year age bracket. All in all, a DUI conviction will cost you a pretty hefty sum of money, a suspension of your driver’s license and a period of court supervision – a high price to pay for one evening's bad judgment!

DUI security police report they made 66 DUI arrests in 1986 and 52 from January to September 1987. Current trends in law enforcement and the courts point to a considerably less permissive attitude toward alcohol-related crimes than in the past decade – particularly toward DUI. Most local and national observers believe that trend will continue during the next few years with enforcement getting tougher and penalties becoming harsher.

Don’t get caught in the DUI trap. Drinking and driving kills more college students than any other single cause of death. At the very least, getting caught drinking and driving will cost you lots of money and cause a lot of hassle. If you drink, don’t drive.

To Your Health is produced in conjunction with the Wellness Center.

Honor society offers new award

The Honor Society of Phi Kappa Phi has established a new program to recognize superior scholarly achievements by SIU-C faculty and staff members.

One or two persons will be honored each year and the first recipient will be recognized on April 9 at the spring initiation ceremony.

The recipient will receive a certificate, a Phi Kappa Phi medallion to be worn at appropriate times such as commencement ceremonies and complimentary Phi Kappa Phi dues for one year.

The University chapter will accept nominations from academic deans, University vice presidents, and the president.

Nomination materials include a letter of nomination, three letters of recommendation, and a current curriculum vita.

For more information, contact the chapter’s president-elect, Professor Philip K. Davis in the department of civil engineering.

Phi Kappa Phi is a national-wide honor society. Last year 226 SIU-C students were accepted.
NOTICE FROM STUDENT WORK AND FINANCIAL ASSISTANCE.
ALL UNDERGRADUATE STUDENTS MUST COMPLY WITH THE FOLLOWING SATISFACTORY PROGRESS POLICY IN ORDER TO RECEIVE FINANCIAL ASSISTANCE.

SATISFACTORY PROGRESS POLICY
FOR UNDERGRADUATE STUDENTS AT SOUTHERN ILLINOIS UNIVERSITY AT CARBONDALE

The Federal Government, the States, and Southern Illinois University at Carbondale have invested large sums of money in order to provide financially needy students the opportunity to attain a post-secondary education. Financial aid recipients are responsible for using the funds provided in an acceptable manner. Therefore, a student who wishes to benefit from the receipt of financial aid funds must maintain "satisfactory progress" as defined in this policy.

AUTHORITY
The Higher Education Act of 1965 as amended and the final regulations set forth by the Department of Education in 34 CFR 667 require that institutions of higher education establish reasonable standards of "satisfactory progress." A student who does not meet these standards is not eligible to receive federally funded financial aid. Southern Illinois University at Carbondale shall make these standards applicable to all state and institutional aid programs for the purpose of maintaining a consistent and reasonable financial aid policy.

SATISFACTORY PROGRESS STANDARDS
Southern Illinois University at Carbondale requires that a student be making "satisfactory progress" toward a degree if the student wishes to receive financial aid funds. A student is making "satisfactory progress" toward a degree if he/she is successfully meeting two basic academic standards. First, a student must complete a reasonable number of credit hours toward a degree each academic year. Second, a student must maintain a scholastic standing, derived from grades, that allows for continued enrollment at the University under current academic guidelines. The following parameters will be used to define these two basic academic standards:

2) Grades: A student must remain in compliance with the University's policy concerning scholastic standing, grades, and grade point average as defined under the topic "Grading, Scholastic Regulations, and Credit" in the current Undergraduate Catalog Bulletin. A student who is on Scholastic Suspension is not maintaining "satisfactory progress." A student who is scholastically suspended may be readmitted under Scholastic Probation status by the appropriate academic dean and remain eligible for financial aid. Each student's scholastic standing will be monitored after each academic year of attendance. Each term of at least half-time attendance shall be included in the annual review whether or not the student received financial aid for the term. The following model shall be used to determine if each student is meeting this requirement of "satisfactory progress."

NOTIFICATIONS OF TERMINATION
It shall be the responsibility of the Office of Student Work and Financial Assistance to publish this policy and to notify by letter any student who is no longer eligible to receive financial aid funds. Said notice shall be addressed to the student's most current home address on file with the University. IT SHALL BE THE RESPONSIBILITY OF THE STUDENT TO INFORM THE UNIVERSITY OF A CORRECT HOME ADDRESS AT ALL TIMES. Student's academic deans shall receive copies of all notice letters.

REINSTATEMENT
Students will have their eligibility to receive financial aid reinstated when they have reached the level of satisfactory progress required of them by this policy. They may achieve this status by the completion of incomplete grades, correction of incorrect grades, and by earning more than the required number of completed hours for a term or terms without the benefit of financial aid.

APPEALS
Any student who cannot meet the grades requirement or the cumulative credit hours completion requirement, shall have an opportunity to appeal in writing to explain "mitigating circumstances." The appeal should be sent to the Financial Aid Advisory Committee within 10 days of the notice of termination. The Financial Aid Advisory Committee will review the "mitigating circumstances" documented in the appeal and provide a written decision within 20 days after receipt of the appeal.

Men’s gymnastics team loses dual meet at Ohio

By Stephanie Wood
Staff Writer

The men’s gymnastics team had one first-place finish in its first dual meet of the season. The Salukis, 6-1, lost to Ohio State Friday, 280-60 to 262-30. The Buckeyes moved to 2-0.

Saluki junior Brent Reed was the team’s highest scorer in three events, with a 9.55 on the pommel horse, 8.85 on the parallel bars and 9.5 on the high bar. He scored 54.25 in the all-around competition.

Sophomore Scott Belanger paced the Salukis in the floor exercise with an 8.85. “I look for Brent, me, Marcus (Mulholland), and Scott to become more consistent as the season continues,” Gilelmi said.

Freshman Greg Zeiders turned in a personal best all-around performance with a score of 52.25.

Hockey club faces Chargers tonight

The SUU Wild Dogs hockey club will take on the Evansville Chargers at 8 tonight at Swonder Ice Rink in Evansville, Ind.

The Dogs will play the Evansville Horizon 8 p.m. Thursday also at Swonder. A third period goal by newcomer Mike Pabor led the club to a 4-3 victory against the Chargers last Friday. “We played fair, just good enough to win,” captain Scott Boehrnsaid.

Recreation program offers activities for the disabled

By Jeff Grieser
Staff Writer

Wheelchair basketball, swimming and bowling are being offered by the Disabled Student Recreation Program this semester. Other events include billiards, Eight-ball, table tennis and track and field. Workshops, films and Byte Fest programs and center-sponsored trips also are offered.

Graduate assistant Kathie Kurtz, who coordinates the activities, said students disabled or not, can take part in the program. Kurtz said, “Just show up,” she said. Some upcoming events include a ski trip to the St. Louis area. A variety of equipment for disabled athletes is available for checkout through the office of Disabled Student Recreation. For details, call Kurtz at 536-5531.

Deadlines near for intramurals

Deadline to join the Recreation Center’s intramural table tennis team is today. Competition starts Feb. 1.

Men’s basketball will accept entries through Thursday, with a captain’s meeting set for 4:30 p.m. Games start Feb. 1. Racquetball and wallyball will close entries Feb. 2. Both begin games Feb. 4. Entry into team handball ends Feb. 4, with a captain’s meeting set for 4 p.m. Hot Shot basketball entries are closed.

For details, call 536-5531.

Swim team members make some noise during Saturday's meet. The men's swim team is ranked No. 16 nationally.

The chants and cheers for the men's swim team reverberated off the concrete walls of the Recreation Center natatorium since 1977, when the Salukis finished 16th in the NCAA.

Nowadays, Coach Doug Ingram's unit is making noise beyond its home facility, boasting a No. 16 national ranking and a 7-4 record.

When it comes down to the wire, as it did Saturday against Cincinnati, the Salukis call upon the nation's best 400-yard freestyle relay team to keep the winning going.

But when it comes to receiving the print and broadcast recognition the team deserves, it's left...

From the Press Box

Troy Taylor

...because "I've got some goals that are pretty lofty."

Ingram has his sights set on finishing among the final eight at the national championships, with the 400-yard freestylers leading the way.

"We are so young," Ingram said. "It's going to take those guys to be leaders to step up against the best of the country." On Saturday the relay team was Jeff Coetz, David Morovitz, Sean Morrissey and Nagy. When the Salukis set the season's best time of 2:05.08 against Santa Clara at the Can Pac, the Men's Swimming

"They are class individuals, in and out of the water," Ingram said. "They have a lot of character." After getting high-altitude training in Colorado Springs, Colo., in early January, the Salukis are concentrating on weight training. Players, especially the freestylers setting the pace, the team's extra work could pay off with more success in April in Indianapolis at the NCAA finals.

That would really be something to shout about.

Swimmer Harri Garmendia had a time of 1:48.02 in the 200-yard butterfly event Saturday.

MVC honors two players

Jarrod Coleman of Illinois State and San Roas of Drake were named Missouri Valley Conference co-Players of the Week on Monday.

Coleman, a sophomore forward, scored 42 points, grabbed 16 rebounds and blocked two shots in Illinois State home win against Indiana State and SIU-C.

Roek, a sophomore forward, scored 29 points and had 23 rebounds in Drake home victory against Tulsa and Wichita State.

Transfer looking forward to SIU-C

"I was really just playing a role down there because they had (three) seniors (at forward). But it was just a nightmare there because I wanted to show what I could do."
