Morris Library Acquires Major Catalog Collection

A one-hundred year history of Americans, from 1830-1930, has been purchased by Morris Library for the development of a collection of business and trade catalogs.

The collection, whose only match is a similar one owned by the Smithsonian Institute in Washington, D.C., is the first hand report of the change in American industry during the past century.

It was purchased in cooperation with the American Institute of Graphic Arts, a national body made up of graphic artists.

Entry lists in dealers' catalogs of Studebaker products were not available; they were buggies, the horse-drawn kind with named models.

Each seminar will be divided into two sessions— an afternoon talk and an evening talk. Mr. Platt's afternoon lecture will be on his recent studies in Pakistan.

At the afternoon session he will give an informal talk on geography over the last half-century and his personal experiences in geography.

The first seminar will be in the Agriculture Seminar Room, the afternoon session starting at 4 p.m. and the evening session at 8.

Dennis Fair will speak at the next seminar, which will be held Oct. 27, in the Morris Library Auditorium.

A new dimension has been added to the American election tradition known as dating.

For years the computer, some sort of a mechanical or electronic, has been used to assist in selecting a dance partner or a date.

But in fairness to Iowa State, it should be noted that each gamma got second through 10th choices, Thank God for the computer!

So all eyes will be on Ames on the night of Oct. 12, and the coming of Oct. 15 and thereafter.

At the risk of being rash these possibilities emerge:

1. (1) Through some error, the president's wife wins up as raw data for the machine and at 8:00 p.m., Oct. 12, the president—of the fresh-

2. (2) Adalbert Z. Zwiebell, freshman, four feet 10 inches, is paired with Zoraesta Q. Dusenberry, Miss Dusenberry is six feet two. The computer designed to turn the height button on this one. Z&D were the talk of the ball but the Liberty house was too busy discussing dancing dances. They are waltzing married in two weeks.

3. (3) As a matter of fact, everybody wound up talking all night long. What started out as a mixer wound up as one big floating seminar with little groups huddled to-geth her, Dizzy Gillesepte was playing the gig and he and the group flew the coop about 10:30 p.m.; nobody missed them, they had enough so much fun.

5. (5) Of particular interest is the case of the boy and girl. They had each lived in the same block all their lives. Prior to the dance they were believed to be an attribute of mutual bos-

6. (6) It was discovered that both are drag racers. The boys, they were headed for an Indiana elopement in his '54 Studebaker. The girls, they were represented by the Studebaker and musical horns.

And the Iowa State experience have application at SIU? Shall trial and error continue? As the computer was designed to turn the height button on this one. Z&D were the talk of the ball but the Liberty house was too busy discussing dancing dances. They are waltzing married in two weeks.

Noisy Nomads To Whooop With Council's Approval

A new group has been formed on campus with a name to suit the activity:

The Noisy Nomads, formerly the Rebel Rousers, will whoop it up under the auspices of the Spirit Council, promoting the Egyptian motif of SIU and the morale of students and players at sports and other events.

About 50 freshmen, men and women, are in the group. Other students with strong voices and plenty of spirit are invited to join the group meeting Saturday at 1 p.m. on the University Center patio, John Boehner, chairman of the Spirit Council, is in charge of the group.

Reserved seat tickets on the 50-yard line are still available to students who wish to become part of the SIU Card Section. Boehner said plans have been made to enlarge the section to 875 seats. Display designs will be increased from nine to 15.

Students wanting to join the Card Section may pick up tickets at the Student Government Office in the Activities Area of the University Center from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. today, Friday. These tickets are permanent seats for all home games.

Women's Gymnastic Club Holds Hopes For Olympics

There may yet be hope for the deflated side of the United States Olympic team.

A program has been initiated on an experimental basis at SIU in an attempt to improve the talent supplied to the U.S. women's team for international competition. Heading up the program is Herb Vogel, who is now a member of Southern's Health Education faculty.

Vogel has seven years of experience at Flint Michigan Junior College to give his program a sound base. His training experience resulted in several national and state gymnastics championships.

Officially, Vogel's organization will be called the Southern Illinois Women's Gymnastic Club. It already has six women enrolled.

Vogel hopes that the program will attract more women to Southern's project, which hopes to build a strong enough women's team for Olympic competition. To date, the U.S. men's teams have been consistently powerful, but the deflated side has shown little progress and has fallen victim to many other nations in both dual and Olympic contests.

Of the six members of the SIU program, three are from foreign countries. Vogel feels all can qualify for the 1964 Olympics. The foreign girls, however, will have to compete for their own countries.

One of the girls, Brigitta Gullberg, is from Sweden and two others are Canadians.

WORDS: THEIR CAUSE AND CURE

Today let us take up the study of etymology (or ontology, as it is sometimes called) which is the study of word origins (or insects, if they are sometimes called). Where are word origins (insects) to be found? Well sir, sometime by the process of evolement. The language, take, for instance, the word used in electricity: amper was named after its discoverer, the Frenchman Andre Marie Ampere (1775-1836), (which word has since been given to the German G.S. Ohm (1787-1854), and later to the British James Watt (1736-1819), and bulb after the American Fred C. Bulb (1843-1912).

There is, incidentally, quite a poignant little story about Mr. Bulb. It is said that Bulb's invention, all illumination was provided by gas, which was named after its inventor Milton T. Gas

Nursing Workshop Sessions Begin Under PHS Sponsorship

First of a series of nursing workshops sponsored by a U.S. Public Health Service grant to the Illinois League for Nursing, Inc., will be held at SIU here Oct. 15-16, Virginia Harrison, SIU director of pre-clinical nursing, has announced.

Each session is expected to attract some 100 head nurses, supervisors, directors, and assistant directors of nurses in general, psychiatric and special hospitals. Miss Harrison said.

Workshops will be held at seven different locations in the state, sponsored by the ILN in cooperation with the League's district associations.

Follow-up sessions will be held at SIU Nov. 14-15, Jan. 21-22, March 10-11, April 28-29, and May 26-27.

Mrs. Margaret Ellsworth of Elgin and Rose Marie Lautenberg of Chicago, assisted by five other full-time ILN staff members, will conduct the workshops.

Miss Harrison will give the keynote speech at the October workshop, "Providing Ex-Cellent Nursing." William J. McKeever, SIU dean of academic studies, will present the keynote speech at the afternoon session Oct. 15, on "Developing a Philosophy and Objectives." On Oct. 16, Dr. A. Watson Miller of Herrin will discuss problems that interfece with planning, providing and evaluating nursing care.

The ILN received a $103,540 grant from the Division of Nursing, U.S. Office of Education, to underwrite the workshop program. Nurses attending the workshops will receive credit for the day as well as to cover their expenses other than travel.

who, strange to tell, had been Bulb's roommate at Cal Tech! In fact, strange to tell, the third man sharing the room with Bulb and Gas was also one whose name burns bright in the annals of illumination—Walter Castle.

The three roomsmates were inseparable companions in college. After graduation all three did research in the problems of artificial light, which at this time did not exist. All America used lighted with gas and many five cent wires were, also, severely injured falling off the root.

Well sir, the three roommates—Bulb, Gas, and Candle—will be friends for many years to come. They look upon each other now, as Bulb says, so much to mind all that. First Candle invented the candle, got rich, and forgot his old friends. Then Gas invented the gas, got rich, bankrupted Candle, and forgot his old friends. Then Bulb invented the bulb, got rich, bankrupted Gas, and forgot his old friends.

Candle and Gas, later and impoverished at the ages respectively of 23 and 71, went to sea as respectively the world's eldest and second oldest lighthouse-keepers. Bulb, rich and grand, also went to sea, but he went in style—as a first-class passenger on luxury liners.

Well sir, strange to tell, all three were aboard the ill-fated Lusitania when she was sunk in the North Atlantic. And strange to tell, when they were scuttling for their lives after the shipwreck, all three clambered aboard the same dinghy! Well sir, clambered and wove their way there with pride, for they fell into each other's arms and were exalted for goodness and became fast friends all over again.

For thirty years they drifted in the dinghy, shaking hands and singing the Cal Tech rouser all the while. Then, at long last, they passed a passing line and were taken aboard. This is the alleged fact of the meal of them, which, I regret to report, were not many, because the line which picked them almost like the Tintin.

What a pity that Marlines was not invited during the lifetime of Bulb, Gas, and Candle. Had there been Marlines, these three friends, never would have grown such as they would have realized how much, despite their differences, they stood in common. I mean to say that Bulb: Bulb, gas and candle, by ear, and by electricity, and no matter how you light them, you always get a lot like—a filter, a filter, a pack of a light, a matchbook, insurance—-making Bulb a candle, and Candle—sitting back and forever petting and smile the sweet smile of friendship on all who pass.

RED'S STIRRED UP BUDDHISTS
TO AVOID DEFEAT, DIEM SAYS

President Ngo Dinh Diem declared Monday that Communist guerrillas are losing the war in South Viet Nam and that the "inescapable defeat" is "imminent.

With police enforcing tight security in downtown Saigon, the president told the opening session of the new National Assembly that Vietnamese had scored several major victories on the vital southern front. This is the Meckong River delta's longest guerrillas' stronghold.

Diem placed much emphasis in the Buddhist situation that has put a strain on relations with the United States, which is supporting the war with 15,000 military advisors and aid at the rate of $1.5 million a day.

The relations were further strained Saturday when three American newswomen were beaten and suffered the suicide of a Buddhist who burned himself to death in protest against what the Buddhists say is repression of their religion. U.S. Ambas-dor Henry Cabot Lodge sharply protested the beatings.

Diem's government repeatedly charged that the Buddhist protest movement have been infiltrated by Communists. Buddhist leaders deny this.

WASHINGTON

The limited nuclear test ban treaty was formally ratified Monday by President Kennedy, who pledged that the United States will observe it "as far as the letter and in spirit." Kennedy said the United States regards the historic pact, banning all but underground nuclear tests, as "a clear and positive commitment to the cause of man's survival."

The Senate consented to ratification by a 80-19 vote on Sept. 24, after three weeks of debate.

The United States has been observing the terms of the pact ever since it was negotiat ed in Moscow last summer by Undersecretary of State W. Averell Harriman and representatives of Great Britain and the Soviet Union.

Technically the treaty will not take effect until Thursday, when Kennedy issues a special proclamation and three original, signed copies of the agreement are placed in official depositories in Washington, Moscow and London.

More than 100 other nations have added their signatures to the treaty.

Senior Fined $15 For Trespassing

An SIU senior from Pt. Lavanderdale, Fla., was fined $15 and court costs last week after being charged by Carbondale police with trespassing.

William Barry, 24, was arrested about 12:40 a.m. Thursday at a Carbondale laundromat after he attempted to retrieve clothing left there before the building was closed.

An official of the Student Affairs Office said Barry explained that when he returned to get his clothes he found the building locked but a window open. While attempting to enter through the window, it broke, alarming neighbors, who called the police.

The student received a reprimand and has agreed to make restitution.

Victory Over Louisville Cardinals Is Shot In Arm For Saluki Eleven

First Win In Three tries

There was joy in the Carbondale football campover the weekend, and although it likely didn’t match the rabid enthusiasm in Los Angeles, it was a much-needed respite for SIU’s Saluki eleven.

Southern made good on its third try to crack the college football win column Saturday night at Louisville, completing a brilliant individual performance by sophomore halfback Rich Weber and a stringy defense to down the Cardinals 13 to 7 in their own backyard.

The victory was a most satisfying one for Head Coach Carroll Price and his staff, after their frustration in their first two trials against Evansville and Bowling Green.

Defensive maneuvers took the spotlight throughout most of the game, with all three touchdowns coming in the third period.

Each team tallied on a long kickoff return, but SIU also added the clincher on a pass interception and a scoring pass.

If there were any heroes to be pointed out when the final whistle had blown, one of them obviously was Southern’s standout halfback Weber. Weber, of Miami, Fla., electrified the 15,000 Cardinal fans by taking the second-half kickoff and flying 82 yards to pay dirt.

Bobby Hight added the point after for a 7-0 lead. The Salukis extended their margin when Rich Weber found freshman end Tom Mas- on to the Louisville 25. MacFarlane shot down the Louisville gained just 37 yards through the air, while Hart and sophomore Dave Harris accounted for 97 yards in 10 carries and put the spark in the Saluki attack that otherwise sputtered on the ground.

Dave Bolger, Chicago junior, kept Louisville in its own territory with six punts that averaged 33.5 yards. Hight tried a field goal in the first, but was foiled by a high pass.

Return, and quickly the Cards were threatening, 13-7.

Although Louisville mounted a smooth-rolling drive late in the period, the Saluki defense managed to stop them, and the Cards were forced to punt. The fourth quarter was much the same as the first half, when neither team could move consistently against the defense of the other.

Southern’s defensive unit sparkled for the first time this season. The Salukis limited the bigger Cards to only 129 yards total offense. Each team gained 92 rushing, but the Southern pass defense made the difference.

Lavolieste gained just 37 yards through the air, while Hart and sophomore Dave Harris accounted for 97 yards in 10 carries and put the spark in the Saluki attack that otherwise sputtered on the ground.

SIU Meeting:

Illinois Historians Install Chicago Editor As President

Gilbert Twiss, copy editor of the Chicago Tribune since 1932, was installed as new president of the Illinois State Historical Society at the closing session of the annual meeting here Sunday noon.

Named senior vice president is SIU's associate professor of history, William Pinakin. He was in charge of arrangements for the three-day meeting.

Charles D. Tenney, vice president of instruction and Review at SIU, spoke at the luncheon on "The Future of Southern Illinois." He closed his talk as a "reviewed and amended prediction," of what the area will look like and represent in the year 2000 A.D., calling the society's leaving home to go to the one-hundred-and-first annual meeting of the Society being held again at SIU.

With the aid of prediction material gathered from many academic departments in the University, Tenney launched his little man from the helicopter pad on top his garage, dressed in a suit of disposable plastic.

The man viewed his yearbook computer, as he flew low over the area. Small towns had been merged into continuous communities he called "largeopolis," with combined transportation faltities and diversifies small industry.

He was glad big industry was gone. The area had capitalized on its hardwood forests, location between two mighty rivers, and its friendly people.

He felt cooperation and self-study had made Southern Illinois attractive to by-product industry, retired oldsters and ambitious youngsters.

Graduate students in history, Edward Coley, Mrs. Mary Jane Hiller and Linda Hartman, gave papers on former Illinois governors, before Dean Tenney's fanciful prediction.

Inquiries Exceed Quota

For Oxford Summer Course

More than 80 inquiries from prospective students have been received concerning a SIU 1964 summer course at Oxford University, England, a third more than can be accepted, according to Douglas L. Rennie, sociology professor and one of the directors of the program.

Application blanks have been sent to all prospective applicants and screening of applications will be started in mid-December, Rennie said. Only 60 SIU students may be accepted, together with 40 from the Commonwealth of Great Britain and from universities of the continent.

The group will fly by jet from St. Louis and will have almost two weeks of travel in England and Scotland before starting studies at Oxford. Students will live at St. Hilda's College.

Post-seminar travel will take the group to Holland, West Berlin, Bavaria, Austria, Venice, Rome, the Riviera, Switzerland and Paris.

The Oxford program is being conducted through the Division of University Extension, with James Bensinger, professor of English, and Rennie in charge of arrangements.

Both will accompany the group and take part in the teaching program.
