175 Students Expected to Go To Peace March

More than 175 SIU students are expected to board buses bound for the Anti-Vietnam march in Washington, D.C., Oct. 21.

That was the view expressed by student William Moffett, provisional chairman of the Southern Illinois Peace Committee, following a meeting Monday night.

The group is dedicated to fostering constructive activities to end United States involvement in Vietnam.

Moffett said the buses will be paid for by a similar group at Washington University in St. Louis. He added that the group, a division of the National Mobilization Committee, had also offered financial support for the venture.

The chartered buses reserved for SIU students will leave St. Louis on Thursday evening, Oct. 19 and return Saturday evening.

A car pool will transport SIU students to St. Louis. It is hoped that approximately 200,000 students from U.S. colleges and universities will participate in the war protest.

Governor Otto Kerner Monday night issued a clear challenge to the white people of America to face up to the economic and social problems of the underprivileged people of their country.

In his address here before the Illinois Association of School Administration, the outspoken chief of state made it clear that his view of the findings of the Kerner Commission to which he was appointed by President Johnson points toward the “bigotry and prejudice of white people towards those living in poverty-stricken areas.” He said that “the white people are unaware of the conditions that exist in their areas.”

“Thus the big problem is to educate the people of the white communities,” he said.

He cited his appointment to head the Kerner Commission as the most challenging job he has ever faced. “It’s a suicidal mission,” he said. “I plan on getting into the soul of man through this report which I hope to be both stunning and shocking,” he said.

“Everyone is satisfied with what they have and ready to condemn the Negro who is on Public Aid,” he said. “Little do we know what it is like to be poverty-stricken,” he added.

Kerner went on to emphasize several times that education is the main solution to the unemployment problem and struggle for civil and human rights.

He pointed out that one of the biggest problems today is that too many students are pushed through high school and receive their diplomas without actually becoming educated.

The governor cited industrial officials who “are upset over the education students are receiving.”

He exclaimed that “I did not come here tonight to put you (school officials) on the back for what a fine job you are doing but rather to offer you the challenge in education which exists for all of us.”

Kerner proposed that various types of educational programs be started to help those people living in poverty areas.

“People in poverty are growing by leaps and bounds,” he said. “They may some day be the majority of the population.”

The governor went on to vehemently question whether “the high expenditures in education are really doing the job. I feel as much or more responsible than you,” he said.

He stated that motivated as a big problem among those people living in the poverty-stricken areas. As one student remarked, “Why should I stay in school when my ancestors couldn’t get anywhere?”

Told the receptive audience of school administrators and officials that “if you want a challenge, then stay in education. If you don’t then get out of the area challenge is becoming greater.”

WAF Director to Talk At Journalism Luncheon

The director of the Womens Air Force (WAF) will speak as the Theta Sigma Phi, national fraternity for women, in Juneau Hall, Martus Table Luncheon Nov. 11 in the Ballroom of the University Center.

“We were thrilled to learn Monday that Col. Holm will be guest speaker at our Luncheon,” said Margaret E. Perez, president of the fraternity.

“Last year our speaker was a Pulitzer Prize winner and a winner of the Lovejoy Award for Courage in Journalism.

“We are especially pleased that this military woman will be able to be on campus for the November 11 celebration of the Veterans’ Day,” said Miss Perez.

At the luncheon awards will be presented to ladies outstanding in journalism, campus, and area activities.

System to Make Early Registration Almost Mandatory

Under the new registration system to be effective winter term the provision or late registration on the fourth day of the term does not apply to all undergraduates, according to Robert A. McGrath, registrar.

"Undergraduate students currently in school who do not advance register will be unable to register for classes until the fourth day of the quarter and at that time will be assessed a $5 late fee," he said.

The purpose of this new provision is to make the almost mandatory that continuing undergraduate students advance register or if they expect to have any type of decrement schedule, McGrath said.

Daily Egyptian Editorials

Always Local To Beantown
It seems as though every year at World Series time a great human phenomenon takes place. This is the last great declaration of loyalty by the baseball fan for the season.

At this time everybody is a baseball fan and the play-play takes precedence over almost any other happening. Even people, who have not seen a game all summer are ready to align themselves with one of two choices.

It is a pretty safe operation. The field has now been narrowed down from twenty to two, and after all, they are already both winners anyway.

But what of the fan who had the courage to take his declaration early. What of the fan who says his favorite will win the pennant no matter how absurd it sounds to the odds makers.

All this has such a fan as Paul Dugas. Paul Dugas made the declaration that his team, the Boston Red Sox will win the American League pennant. Whether he was serious or not, is beside the point. Dugas was probably the only known legitimate militant supporter of the Red Sox to be heard on the campus this summer.

Dugas, an assistant director of WBBZ Radio, with the job of sports programming coordinator and a lifelong fan of the SIU School of Communications, is a native New Englander who spent much of his youth in the Bosnian area. He claims to be a good friend of many famous and not so famous Red Sox players of the past.

Throughout the summer Dugas' precious voice was the greatest rumbles of the St. Louis Cardinal and Chicago Cub and White Sox supporters that rocked the SIU campus. And it was a single voice. The courage of this lonely soul to be so seriously that Boston would win the pennant.

The American League pennant victory was the climax for Dugas. His confidence in the championship victory thrills as an thrill the he got from seeing foes of Pasqua once again the 1965 regular season pennant race finish shortly the victory of American League Baseball.

Although he is now being supported by those who are American League fans in general, Chicago Cub fans in particular, the Cardinals, underdog lovers, people wanting to be different, and people who have just been won over by the playing of good base ball, he is considered by theexample of the Red Sox fan who lived and died with them right from the beginning, and in hostile territory.

They should dust off a little spot in the back yard in dedication to such examples of true loyalty.

Letters to the Editor

Human Element Overlooked

To the Editor:

On October 3, there appeared in the Daily Egyptian an article stating that condemnation suits have been filed against certain property owners by the University so that it could "naturally expand." We urge the administration to reconsider its actions.

Why don't we tell you a little about the owners, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Ingersoll, Jr.? We think it adds a little weight to the story. Bobby and Ebydye have lived at this address for 40 years, renting an apartment and two rooms to girls. We consider ourselves fortunate to be among the girls who have lived here. We do say from personal experience that this is one of the few places in Carbondale where a student can rent room with cooking privileges for a reasonable price without having to fight mice and roaches and filth every step of the way. The situation is better understood when one considers the fact that the property is owned by the Ingersoll's.

We believe that when we tell you this house is tangible evidence of years of constant work to make a living. Under their circumstances, it has been the center of the Ingersoll's lives.

The University has offered to buy the property. The Ingersolls did not see the suit an adequate compensation. The University has now filed a suit under the eminent domain laws to remove the standing, there are no loopholes. We girls are adaptable and can utilize the space elsewhere. We are concerned though, because this is shaping up to be the melodramatic old story of being turned out of one's house and home.

As prospective editors, administrators, we feel that you are unfairly considering hardship on two property owners.

We are not convinced that, by deputizing and persecuting an individual who has already been dealt his share of blows by life, that your actions are justified in the name of progress. (To tell the truth, we fear the property might become "just" another plot of grass and trees and rocks.)

As students of Southern, we are repeatedly bombarded by the University's underdeveloped sense of self-esteem. We now begin to feel we have been rudely misled by the administrators to believe that we are the humanitarians.

Let us deprive the bandwagon as a rule. But we feel this is a question of civil rights yea, an authority that arbitrarily says "yes" or "no."

It was us today—why not you tomorrow? Well, why not?

Provisions Gag KA

The "New" Ka if it is to be actually run under the provisions approved by the Campus Senate on Wednesday will in fact be "No Ka. It would appear that: again students' rights have been taken a step backward.

In the past Ka has been a public voice, in which students' voices, their opinions, freely. Expressing opinions without fear of retaliation by the administration, draft board, or any other authority that attempts to silence persons with opinions in opposition to their own. Now with the provision in the new Ka, all articles must be identified—students may be held accountable for their opinions, which is in opposition to the whole idea of free expression of opinion.

I am sure there are many students 'like myself' who have some very definite opinions about this University, country, society, and world in general. However they are opinions and not convictions for which I am willing to be martyred. How can I express my opinions on school policy freely when I know the registration of three students was held up last week for expressing an opinion. How can I express my opinions on Viet Nam freely, knowing I might not be re-elected to the campus senate the next time I apply for nomination? Of course, why should anyone worry if free opinion will be allowed. In the new "Ka," there probably be no "New" Ka. Since no arrangements have been made for printing in this year, and next year the whole idea will be passed over.

Greek Silence

Despite Greek dissatisfaction with many of "New KA's" changes in regulations, and a "New KA" that would "prove" the "New KA" is capable of functioning. The Greek leaders, however, have not responded to the roll call.

If the Greeks are genuinely interested in shaping their own destiny, now is the time for their leadership to speak up.

Gift Barges to Form Floating Theater at '68 Sesquicentennial

The SIU Foundation announced a gift of two barges to be used for a floating theater during the Illinois Sesquicentennial in 1968 and during SIU's Centennial which starts the following year.

Donor of the barges is the A. L. Mechling Barge Lines, Joliet.

Arrangements for the gift and its operation were worked out several weeks ago at a Springfield meeting between Mechling, state and SIU officials, according to Kenneth R. Miller, foundation executive director.

The two barges will be welded together to form a floating platform on which a fully-equipped theater will be constructed, Miller said. The SIU theater department will use the floating theater for the presentation of touring plays up and down Illinois waterways.

Miller announced the scholarship fund in memory of the late Mrs. Daisy Powell of Vienna, wife of Illinois Secretary of State Paul Powell, has reached $12,000, the largest memorial fund created at SIU. Two awards—one to a boy, the other to a girl—will be made annually. The grants are for political science students who need financial assistance.

A second scholarship fund was announced that in memory of the late Mrs. Minnie Mae Pitkin, wife of history professor William A. Pitkin, Mrs. Pitkin was administrative assistant to University President Delyte W. Morris, will be endowed with a gift of $62,500.

The SIU Foundation announced a gift of two barges to be used for a floating theater during the Illinois Sesquicentennial in 1968 and during SIU's Centennial which starts the following year.

This fund will provide an annual scholarship for a high ranking junior, senior or graduate student working in home economics.

In other business, the Foundation board accepted as a gift the books and papers of Mordecai Gorellk, research professor of theater at SIU and former Broadway and film stage scene designer. These materials, appraised at $62,500, will go to the University library.

Several new research projects and inventions by University faculty members have been assigned to the foundation for patent or copyright protection and public sale on royalty payment to the investigator, Miller reported to the board.

Writer Pearl Buck to Talk At Convocations Thursday

Nobel prize winner Pearl S. Buck will address 10 a.m. and 1 p.m. University convocations Thursday, Oct. 12. Author and humanitarian, Pearl Buck was reared by her American missionary parents in China, the background of most of her works. Perhaps her best-known novel is "The Good Earth," published in 1931. For a record-breaking 21 months it stood on the American list of best sellers, won the Pulitzer Prize, was translated into more than 30 languages and was the basis of a play and film which were made. "Some," sequel to "The Good Earth," was published in 1932. "A House Divided" appeared in 1935, and at the same time the entire trilogy was brought within the covers of a single volume under the title, "House of Earth." Other books include "The Patriot," "Dragon Seed," "The Promise," and "The Living Reed."

In 1938 she received the Nobel Prize for Literature, first American woman to be so honored.

Welcome House, Inc. an adoption agency which finds permanent homes and parents for children of mixed Asian-American blood, was founded by Mrs. Buck in 1949.

Employee Insurance Enrollment Opens

An open enrollment period for University employee life insurance, which waives the usually required proof of insurability, has been extended by the Personnel Office effective for the period beginning November 1 and ending December 1. During this period, full time employees both faculty and staff, who are not now members of the employee life insurance plan, may join the program without completing the usual forms, according to Frank Hartranft, director of personnel.

The continuation, employees already participating in the program may increase the amount of their present coverage without proof of insurability. The maximum liability under the new rates will be $25,000, an increase from the $15,000 limit in effect before.

Under terms of the insurance program, employees must only verify yearly salary in excess of $15,000 to qualify for the maximum liability during this period.

The open enrollment plan, which was just started last year, allows for waiving the usual insurance forms, a spokesman for the Personnel Office said.

“At other times of the year, employees who have been here long enough and wish to join the insurance program are required to fill out the lengthy forms."

Premium rates assessed monthly unit of $5,000 liability, run from $.40 for those employees 22 years of age and older, to a maximum of $14.05 for those employees 67 years old or over.

Complete details on premium rates and eligibility may be obtained from the Personnel Office, 805 S. Elizabeth St., phone, 3-5354.

Jewish Marriage Collection

Library to Exhibit Contracts

A rare collection of Jewish Marriage Contracts—each a work of art—will be exhibited at the Rare Book Room of the Morris Library.

The exhibition, on a one-year tour of the United States sponsored by the Smithsonian Institution, is presented by SIU. The opening has been timed to coincide with the Jewish “Days of Awe,” which started with Jewish New Year, Rosh Hashanah, Sept. 27, and ends with Yom Kippur, the Day or Days of Atonement, Oct. 13 and 14, according to Fred Schmid, Museum curator of exhibits.

The 29 marriage contracts to be shown are from the collection of Prof. Cecil Rooth of Jerusalem and representative of the finest examples of the Ketubah (plural Ketuboth) from Italy, the Orient, India, and Northern Europe.

The term Ketubah literally implies writing, Schmid explains, and the document, which embodies the reciprocal obligations between bride and groom, is an integral part of the Jewish marriage ceremony. In due time, the practice grew up of presenting these documents in a manner which visually expressed the happiness of the occasion.

From the Renaissance period on, wealthy Jewish families of Italy vied with each other in producing artistic Ketuboth. Miniatures or scenes relating to a Biblical personality whose name was borne by the bride or groom often figure as a principal feature. Often there is a miniature of the city of Jerusalem. Sometimes the traditional family coat of arms is embodied in the decoration.

One notable specimen of folk art from Tiberias in Palestine, is that of the Abulafia family, which was responsible for the restoration of that ancient city from its ruins two centuries ago. The specimens from Cochin in South India have a special interest because of their rarity as relics of this ancient and vanished community.

The public is invited to visit the exhibition without charge. Visitors hours are 8:30 a.m. to 12:30 p.m., and 1:30 to 5 p.m. Monday through Friday.

Three weekend activities, including a folk sing at Lake-on-the-Campus Beach, have been scheduled through the Student Activities Center.

The folk sing will be held Friday evening at the beach. Music will be furnished by the Campus Folk Art Society. In case of bad weather, it will be held in the lounge of the Communications Building.

Friday is the deadline for signing up in the Student Activities Center for a bike hike-picnic to Riverside Park in Murphysboro.

The cost of the bike hike will be 50 cents per person. Refreshments will be furnished. Students should use their own bike if possible; however, bikes are also available at the Lake-on-the-Campus boathouse.

He has previously exhibited widely, including showings of his work at the Philadelphia Museum of Art, the Library of Congress, the Collectors Gallery at Chicago, the Pennsylvania Academy of Fine Arts and the University of Washington, and is represented in more than a dozen collections including the Library of Congress and Yale University Art Gallery.

WASHINGTON (AP) -- The Johnson administration has strung the last bit of sensitive nerve in its tussle with Congress over highway aid programs.

A spokesman for the Manned Spacecraft Center said that the first manned Apollo flight will come no earlier than July, 1968. In New Hampshire the highways are the only effective means of transport now available to the War Department, as the 500-mile system of roads and trails is in a state of disrepair.

For Civil Rights Case

All-White Jury Chosen

MERIDIAN, Miss. (AP)—An all-white jury, seven women and five men, was picked Monday for the trial of a sheriffs deputy in a Ku Klux Klan leader and 16 other men charged with conspiracy in the deaths of three civil rights workers in 1964.

Attorneys needed only four hours to settle on a jury from a 50-member panel that included 17 Negroes and 33 whites. The government prepared to present first testimony during the late afternoon.

U.S. Dist. Judge Harold Cox, a call, 65-year-old jurist, indicated the trial would last less than 10 days.

Cox refused to delay the trial of one of the men, Frank 2. Herndon, who was confined to Anderson Hospital here suffering from a herniated esophagus. He ordered Herndon brought to the afternoon session, and Herndon appeared wearing pajamas and house robe.

The judge broke off the 50-member panel of prospects from the main venire of 250. He had earlier excused 11 prospects, including a Negro woman who said she had participated in a civil rights march.

Justice Department attorney Robert Hauberg immediately singled out one man as a former member of the White Knights of the Ku Klux Klan. The man admitted he attended two Klan meetings in 1964, but maintained he could be fair and impartial as a juror. He was not selected.

Court Will Review Draft Card Burning

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court stepped squarely Monday into one aspect of the national debate over Vietnam by agreeing to decide whether jailing draft card burners violated their constitutional freedom.

Also amid a stack of orders was one opening the way for the prompt jailing of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. under a contempt-of-court sentence.

Rolling up their sleeves for what now appears to be a momentous year, the justices agreed at their first business session since June to decide whether:

Truck Strike Negotiations Convened

PITTSBURGH (AP) — A triangular meeting to end the violent right-state steel haulers strike convened Monday. One official said he thought a solution could be found within two days.

Gov. Raymond P. Shafer of Pennsylvania warned there must be a stop to the “campaign of terror” no matter who issued the injunction, has the power to bar Southern states from prosecuting Civil rights demonstrators under state anti­tipicketing laws.

These and other controversial cases were among hundreds of appeals submitted while the court was in summer recess.

Most appeals were rejected, including that of Dr. King who was seeking to avoid serving a five-day jail sentence for demonstrating in Birmingham in 1963 in violation of an Alabama court order. Conviction of King and seven other Negro minstrels was affirmed by the high court, 5 to 4, last June.

Circuit Judge W. A. Jenkins, who issued the injunction, has since been succeeded by Judge William C. Barber, who said he will have no comment until receiving the Supreme Court’s full order. It is left to Barber to decide when and if to jail King and the others.

Lectures in Yugoslavia
Eames Notes Nations Differ In Communism Interpretation

"There is an extreme dislike for the Soviet Union among the people of Yugoslavia," according to S. Morris Eames, associate professor of philosophy at SIU.

Eames, a guest lecturer at the Karcula summer school in Yugoslavia during the past year, said the people of Yugoslavia were following the Marxist movement at present, but have a different interpretation of communism than do the people of the Soviet Union.

There are great differences between all the Communist countries of the world, Eames said. "They all aren't following the lead of Russia or China as many people believe."

Teachers to Hear Counts Lecture

George Counts, distinguished visiting professor of education, will be the guest speaker at the closing banquet of the Midwest Association of College Teachers of Physical Education for Women, to be held at Welsh's Lick, Ind., Oct. 19-21.

Since 1960, Illinois has shown a gain of $210,847 in appropriations of state tax funds for operating expenses. This figure does not include appropriations for buildings and other capital purposes.

The report also shows that state support of higher education has more than tripled in the past eight years.

The figures show a rise from $1.4 billion in 1959-60 to $4.4 billion this year. The report, however, stresses that greater efforts will be needed to keep up with the demands of higher education.

Chambers said that looking at the record of this year and of the preceding eight years, the public must have confidence in the wisdom and good intent of university and college governing boards. He feels that great increases in public investment in higher education will continue through the 1970's without hardship because some of the gains come automatically from economic growth without changes in taxation.

Oblisk Receives First Class Mark

The 1967 Obelisk has been judged "First Class" by the Associated Collegiate Press for yearbooks in the divisions of universities with over 15,000 enrollment. The Obelisk received 6,865 points. 7,100 points were needed for the highest rating of "All-American."

The Obelisk has received five All-American and three first class ratings since 1960.

"Staff members for the '67 Obelisk were: Terry Myrta, Pears, editor; Roland Gill, Flora, associate editor for layout; Laura Chovanec, Henderson, Ky., business manager; Shirley Rohr, Mimi Sandifer, Rose Asimino Gill, and Gary Blackburn, associate editors."

Do you buy a shirt or a label?

The members of the show had parked their cars on College Street while attending the party. Someone broke into the car and stole an attache case containing the money and documents.

Carbondale's Mayor David Keene and Director of Safety Richard Wilhelm worked Saturday night and Sunday obtaining substitute documents for the two South American performers.

They supplied the performers with notarized proof of their loss which they could use until they obtained copies of the originals.

If you're looking for a short-sleeved oxford shirt with a button-down collar, that's what you buy. After you've checked the label, because a good label guarantees a good shirt. It means the shirt is rolled and pleated in the right places. And it's styled to last.

The label on this short-sleeved button-down says "Cumbrae" Oxford, it tells you the shirt is Perma-iron so it won't wrinkle.

SIU will be the site Nov. 5-8 of one of 12 nationwide regional workshops on use of newer media in instruction, to be conducted by the American Association of Colleges for Teacher Education.

John R. Verduin, coordinator of teacher education in the College of Education, said the program of instruction, called "Media Workshop in Teacher Education," was developed by the AACTE under contract with the U.S. Office of Education.

Verduin, who is handling arrangements with Andrew Morce of the SIU Extension Services, said participants are being invited from colleges and universities in Illinois and from parts of Indiana and Kentucky. He estimated that 20 institutions would send two participants each to the workshop.

"We are bringing the workshop to Southern Illinois University to provide a selected group of college teachers an opportunity to participate in an intensive learning experience involving selected teacher education techniques and the use of newer media in instruction," Verduin said.

Quarterback Spot Proves Salukis’ Downfall

By George Kneemeyer

Saluki football Coach Dick Towers leaned back in his chair, scratched his head, tapped his pencil on the table in front of him, and proceeded to talk why the Salukis are losing.

"Quarterback is our number one problem," he mused. "This isn't due to our pass protection, which has been good, but is due to our inexperience at quarterback, and their lack of good judgment."

The quarterbacks Towers was talking about are Barry Stine and Tim Kelly. Their inexperience at the quarterback slot was responsible for four intercepted passes in Saturday's loss to East Carolina, 21-8.

As a result of the four interceptions, and a total of nine in the first four games of the season, Towers announced that he would give Jim McKay, who has thrown only one pass all year, a chance at the quarterback slot in the game against Dayton this Saturday.

McKay's only pass thrown was a completion good for 12 yards.

McKay has been used very sparingly at quarterback, since Towers was trying to bring either Stine or Kelly around to take over the top quarterbacking role. Neither has taken command, which paved the way for McKay as a possible starter at quarterback.

"In the fall practice, McKay was the least impressive of the three candidates for quarterback," Towers said. "And practice is all you have to go on at the start of a season."

The interceptions in the East Carolina game "made us (Salukis) leave our game plan." The first interception came near the end of the first half when there was no score. The Salukis were inside the Pirate 45 yard line, when a pass from Stine was intercepted by an East Carolina defender and returned for a touchdown.

Towers pointed out that from that point on, the Salukis had to go to the air in an effort to score, since East Carolina was concentrating on the Salukis' ground game.

"The quarterbacks were on orders not to throw a pass unless it was called from the bench," Towers said. "We wouldn't have thrown if we hadn't been behind."

The head coach said that "we played well—possibly our best game of the season, but East Carolina just played better."

One of the Salukis who played well, almost above expectations, was Hill Williams. In his first game of the season after missing three games following an appendectomy, Williams rushed for 103 yards in 22 carries. The whole Saluki rushing attack totaled 155 yards.

The quarterbacking spot completed only five of 15 passes, good for 71 yards.

"If it wouldn't have been for the 17 pass play of the game, which Kelly threw for a touchdown, we would have had just as many interceptions (four) as we had completions," Towers said.

The last play of the game was a 25 yard pass from Kelly to tight end John Quillian, which accounted for the only Saluki touchdown. Southern then converted the two point play, which accounted for the Salukis' eight points.

Southern gave up 298 yards through rushing and passing to East Carolina, with 237 of the yards coming via the Pirate ground game.

Soccer Club Smashes Southeast Missouri, 3-0

By David Palermo

SIU's International Soccer Club ran an undetermined string to eight matches with a 3-0 drubbing of St. Louis University on Saturday at Missouri State on the St. Louis field Saturday.

The match, much more of a sideshow than the score would indicate, was neatly summarized by visiting Southern Missouri's "faceless" player, "I'm sure that the Missouri team didn't want to lose."

Roughing penalties were seemingly called against Missouri as they failed to threaten Southern's defense. The first penalty resulted in a pushing incident between a Missouri player and SIU right half Paul Cleito, with

Frazier Could Enter Ring Tounrney

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Unbeaten Joe Frazier is considering an invitation to replace the injured Oscar Bonavena in the elimination tournament which will determine a new world heavyweight boxing champion.

Frazier's manager, Yancey Durham, disclosed Friday that he has been asked by a sports promoter Mike Malitz to step in for Bonavena if the Argentine lightweight does not respond to treatment of a back injury.

However, it was reported from Buenos Aires that Bonavena was scheduled training Wednesday after a four month layoff to rest his back. Dr. Robert Palacio, the Argentine's physician who first suggested a cast, now says one will not be necessary.

Durham spoke at formal signifying ceremonies for Frazier's Oct. 17 scheduled 10-round bout in Philadelphia against Tony Doyle of Salt Lake City, He said he told Malitz, who had said he would have to avoid the outcome of the Frazier-Doyle bout and the last 10 rounds of the elimination series between Jerry Quarry of Los Angeles and former heavyweight champion Floyd Patterson, "I told Malitz that we might replace Bonavena if we could choose two of the remaining three survivors against whom we would fight, the money was right and we could decide the time and place," Durham said.

Durham, who turned down a chance to go into the tournament at its inception, said if Quarry beat Patterson, he would ask for Thad Spencer and Quarry in that order, with Jimmy Ellis getting the first shot at the new champ.

If Patterson beats Quarry then Dormans Ellis and Patterson with Spencer the third period to determine the new champ.

21 shots, and took the scoring lead last night, in the third period defensive mixup.

Center half Dickie Coke capped the scoring for SIU with a successful penalty kick late in the final quarter.

Despite the moving of Cleito to midfield spot, leaving the SIU defense a man shorter than in the St. Louis match, Southeast Missouri failed to crack through for a goal. "Actual shots were almost nil," said SIU goalie Wally Halama.

In last Wednesday's match, St. Louis took 21 shots, and hit only four.

Beattie praised the SIU defense. "Our defensive backs are as good as anyone around," he said.

Statistics stand behind Beattie. In the first eight matches SIU has played since the club's beginning last year, the Salukis have outscored their opponents 33-10.

The soccer club's next game will be at 2:00 p.m. Saturday against Notre Dame at South Bend, Ind.
‘Gentleman Jim’ Sends Series Back to Boston

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Gentleman Jim Lonborg rescued the staggering Boston Red Sox with a three-hit, 2-2 tiebreaking victory over the St. Louis Cardinals Monday, 3-1 and sent the World Series back to Boston for at least a sixth game Wednesday night.

Freshman Footballers Win, 28-14

SIU’s freshman football team won its first game of the season Monday, defeating Southeast Missouri’s junior varsity 28-14.

The victory evened the Saluki’s record at 1-1. They lost their opener to the same Southeast team 13-12 last week.

The Missourians scored first in the opening quarter on a 12-yard pass reception by Clarence Finley. The conversion kicked wide.

The Salukis matched Southeast’s score with a five-yard run by Frank Gilcrest, Warren Rice’s placement, the first of four for the offensive center, gaver the Red Sox the lead at 7-6.

The second period touchdowns, a nine-yard run by quarterback Tom Wiaz and a 35-yard punt return by Eric King followed by Rice’s conversions, gave the Salukis a 21-6 halftime lead.

The scoring was closed out by a pair of touchdowns in the final period. Ron Waltz went five yards for the southeast score and Andy Rosen took a pass for the two-point conversion.

King intercepted a pass and carried it 25 yards for the final Saluki touchdown.
