Council Will Reconsider Athletic Program Proposals

Agreement Reached At Conference Between Council And Athletic Director

An agreement has been worked out which will permit the Student Council to reconsider the program recommendation made by the Department of Housing and with it the Department's request for funds from the Student Activity Fees.

The agreement was reached Monday night at a meeting between members of the Student Council and Donald Boydston, SIU Athletic Director.

Boydston and several Council members questioned a number of the policy declarations. "All these things are a little funny to me," Boydston said. "It looks like these are all for Ohio State University instead of us."

Chuck Novak, elections commissioner, pointed out that the policy declarations cover several areas such as scholarships that are not financed by activity fees.

Boydston said policy declaration number 12 was of value. He said upgrading the standards of food, lodging and travel for athletes on the road is of immediate importance.

The automobile accident Sunday, in which five trackmen returning from the Texas Relays were injured in evidence enough, he declared.

Visiting Oxford Professor

Gives 2 Geography Lectures

Robert P. Beckinsale, senior lecturer in Geography at Oxford University, England, and visiting professor in Geography at the University of Chicago, will give two lectures today on campus.

"Climatic Change: a Critique of Modern Theories" is the title of the 4 p.m. lecture in Room 216, Agricultural Building. At 9 p.m., Beckinsale will speak on "London and the River Thames," in the Agricultural Seminar Room.

Beckinsale received an A.B. and M.A. from London University, and a M.A. and Ph.D. at Oxford University. He is the first European to receive a doctorate in Geography at Oxford University.

Besides lecturing, Beckinsale is a professional author, who has written all or main part of ten books, among them, "Companion to Gloucesteshire," and "Land, Air and Water." The latter book, which is not published in the United States, is chosen to represent British publishing in a recent display.

TURTLES SI, HUMANS NO - The campus lake is an inviting sight to winter-wary humans. But as two learned this week, it is not safe to swim in it now, however, it's off limits to humans until next month.
Disciplinary Action:

Student Fined $50
For Ramming Light

Mack Dennie Jackman, 22, a senior from Lawrenceville, was fined $50 yesterday on the charge of leaving an accident scene. He was ordered to make restitution to the city for damages to a broken traffic light.

Jackman admitted knocking over a traffic signal at the corner of Main and Washington ton, Streets Saturday night and leaving the scene. A witness of the accident gave a description of the car to police.

Authorities quoted Jackman as saying he became excited after the accident and didn't know what to do.

University disciplinary officials said Jackman has lost his motor vehicle privilege as an undergraduate. Since he had not yet registered for spring quarter, he was not fined for having an illegal car, they said.

An 18-year-old freshman from Eldorado has been fined $50 by the University Parking Section for possession of an illegal car.

Authorities said he and a companion, a 19-year-old freshman from Fairmount, had beer in their possession at Crab Orchard Lake when investigated by officers.

Disciplinary action against the two has been delayed, officials said, until there is a requirement that they make at least 3.3 grade averages for the spring quarter.

A 21-year-old freshman from Kankakee, Leverne Hillgart, was fined $15 by Police Department officers as a result of a charge on a car for creating a disturbance at the University Center during the weekend. Authorities said the charge grew out of an argument with the night manager at the Center.

CORNERSTONE CEREMONY

International House of 606 W. Michigan St. was fined $50 by the University Parking Section for possession of an illegal car.

Cornerstone Place For International House

A cornerstone was laid at International House Monday, marking near-completion of some new concepts in off-campus housing.

Included in those witnessing the ceremony were Mrs. Anto Kuo, supervisor of off-campus housing and Mrs. Mary Wake­land, supervisor of foreign students.

The house, located at 606 West College, will house 33 students when the addition is finished, probably by the start of summer quarter.

Designated by the owner, Carl Schweinlurth primarily for the use of foreign and graduate students, it will have all single, air conditioned, rooms and will include cooking and laundry areas, a game room, a television area and a formal lounge.

Motorbike Riders

Warmed To Keep

Off Sidewalks

Following complaints that motorbikes and motorcycles are being used on the sidewalks in the Thompson Point area, Joseph Zalecki, assistant dean of student affairs, issued a reminder that students with motorbikes and motorcycles must use roads and are prohibited from sidewalks.

Zalecki also reminded students that motorbikes and motorcycles must be registered with the University. Classifications used by the State Motor Vehicle Department are used by the University, and motorcycles are subject to the same regulations as automobiles.

In regard to student needs in being granted use of a motor vehicle, the same considerations are given for a motorcycle as are given for an automobile, he said.

Athletic activities for students include:

Swimmers Fined $20 Each

Two persons who went for a swim in the nude at Lake-on-the-Campus Monday afternoon were fined $20 each by Police Magistrate Robert Schwartz yesterday on indecent exposure charges.

They were Chuck Miller, 23, a graduate student, and Tim Weast, 23, a former SIU student. Security Officer Thomas Leffler signed warrants against the pair after they were found swimming near the boathouse about 1 p.m. Monday.

West has been banned from the campus, according to University disciplinary officials, and he will be charged with trespassing if he violates the order.

Miller has been prohibited from using facilities at Lake-on-the-Campus and possible further disciplinary action against him is pending, officials said.

Ten Americans Released From Cuban Jail

MIAMI, Fla.

Nine American skin divers and an American missionary landed at Homestead Air Force Base yesterday after serving seven weeks in Cuban jails.

They were accompanied by James B. Donovan, New York lawyer, who negotiated with Cuban Prime Minister Fulgencio Batista for their release. Donovan also negotiated release of the Bay of Pigs prisoners.

The nine scuba divers were shipped back and arrived at Camagüey in an open boat Feb. 21 after two days at sea. Rev. Floyd C. Woodworth was accused of working for the Central Intelligence Agency.

The Soviet Union has told the United States the creation of a multinational nuclear force under NATO will "unleash a race to rocket-nuclear armaments," Tass reported yesterday.

TORONTO

Prime Minister John G. Diefenbaker plunged Canada into a surprise postelection crisis Tuesday by refusing to step down in the face of overwhelming and victorious Liberals to form a government.

Unless the Conservative leader reverses his decision, the country may continue in a state of uncertainty until Parliament can convene late next month.

Liberal Leader Lester B. Pearson, who stood by to take over as prime minister, acknowledged that Diefenbaker was within his constitutional rights to delay a decision.

WASHINGTON

The Senate Armed Services Committee approved today a $196-million authorization to begin immediate procurement of parts for a Nike Zeus anti-ballistic missile system.

Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara has held out against all production plans for the Nike Zeus, questioning the possibility of making it effective in the face of enemy missiles. He has supported funds for development, but the Army has urged faster action.

WASHINGTON

Columnist Jack Anderson yesterday refused to tell the House Administration Committee the name of "an anonymous congressman" who gave him information for an article titled "Congressmen Who Cheat.

He invoked the First Amendment, guaranteeing freedom of speech and the press, during a brief turbulent session. Anderson offered to give information backing up his claim, but the committee would not allow him to do so unless he named his informant.

MARION, Ill.

Picker lines that halted construction at the U.S. penitentiary at Marion were withdrawn Tuesday by striking carpenters, but the carpenters did not return to work.

The carpenters' contract expired March 31 and a 14-day walkout began. No effort was made to halt construction at area projects until picker lines were established Friday.

Other projects halted include Interstate highway bridges, three structures at Southern Illinois University and some swellings construction. Negotiators are to resume contract talks Friday in Carbondale.

SIU To Host Mid-West Regional Collegiate Judo Tournament

The SIU Judo Club will be host to the Mid-West regional collegiate Judo tournament Saturday at 7 p.m. in Men's Gym.

The tournament, which will be the largest intercollegiate meet in the mid-west, will have participants from a seven state area. The tournament will cover all judo ranks up to 3rd degree black belt.

Southern's team, will enter three black belts and twenty white and brown belts. Entered in the black belt division for SIU will be Ron Hoffman, who won first place in an open meet at Granite City, Ill., last week. Dennis Helm, who finished in fourth place in the Granite City meet, will also enter Saturday's tournament.

Other entries for the SIU club are Terrill Wescum, first in the 140-pound white belt division at Granite City, Gene Smith, third in the 160-pound white belt, and Terrill Meredith, who finished fifth at the fifth annual meet.

Several high ranking judo instructors from Japan as well as the United States, will witness the tournament here. The winners of the meet will participate in the National intercollegiate Judo Tournament.

Perry Addresses Pan Am Festival

Jesse P. Perry Jr., assistant director of agricultural sciences for the Rockefeller Foundation, will lecture at 7:30 p.m. today in the Family Living Lounge of the Home Economics Building as the 10th Annual Pan American Festival at SIU continues into its third day.

Topic of the lecture is "How Can We Make Agricultural Improvement Programs Work in Latin America?" Perry has been with the Rockefeller Foundation since 1948.

He received his master's degree at Duke University and has traveled extensively throughout Mexico, Chile, Costa Rica and Columbia.
On Taipei:
Grinnells Have No Place To Go But A Royal Suite

TAIPEI, Taiwan — An occupational hazard most travelers come to know caught up early with John E. Grinnell, vice president for operations of Southern Illinois University, and his wife. They arrived here on the second leg of a world tour only to find themselves without a place to stay through some confusion in their travel arrangements.

But unlike most tourists, the Grinnells didn’t have to do much haggling. They were promptly escorted from the airport to the Grand Hotel where they were installed in the royal suite for their 36-hour stay.

Arrangements for the accommodations in the suite generally reserved for kings and visiting presidents were made by Milton Shih, publisher of the Shin Sheng Pao Daily News, who served as a visiting professor of journalism at SIU several years ago.

During their 36 hours on the island stronghold of the Chinese Nationalists, Dr. and Mrs. Grinnell visited three national universities, Chong-chi, Taiwan and Taiwan Normal.

They also toured the Chinese historical museum and the Chinese handicraft center.

The Grinnells were guests of honor at a luncheon and two dinner parties. The luncheon was given by Mr. and Mrs. Y. P. Huang of the China Post, and the dinner parties by President Liu of the National Cheng-chi University and Mr. and Mrs. Shih.

Among the guests were Ralph Clough, American charge de affaires and ranking American diplomat on Taiwan, and Mrs. Clough, and Pardee Lowe, American cultural attache, and Mrs. Lowe.

Illegal Liqour

Geographic Society To Visit Campus

Members of the National Geographic Society of Chicago are planning to spend the weekend of April 20-21 on the Southern Illinois University Campus and at Giant City Park. Headquarters will be the Holiday Inn, in Carbondale.

Rex Karmo of the Department of Area Services said the group will have lunch at the University Center and be taken on a tour of the campus by members of the SIU Architectural Office.

W. E. Walkup, traffic manager for the Illinois Central railroad, in charge of travel arrangements for the group, said buses would take the visitors to Granite City Lodge in time for breakfast Sunday morning. They will return to Chicago on the City of New Orleans Sunday evening.

Mar Zelinskas, general manager of the Illinois Fruit Growers Exchange, said 95 per cent of the peach blossoms due to make their annual showing about this time of year, have been killed off by the severe winter weather.

He said apple blooms for visitors to the area to enjoy will be opening in five to seven days depending on the weather and might hold over for the expected National Geographic Society members to see.

The SIU Spellinking Club will meet at 9 p.m., Steve Anderson said the group will get together at the University Center Information Desk at that time.

Largely Irrelevant, Useless Busy Work

We originally intended to write this letter about a year hence when we both had obtained certain basic degrees but after reading Mr. Koerner's April 4th article on teacher training we can scarcely resist the opportunity to express our views on this provocative subject.

Next to final exams, the triannual A.A. Standards and sectioned is probably the most dreaded experience on campus.

The appearance of a stack of pasted, glazed T.B. would certainly convey the impression that the whole process is efficient, equitable and systematic. But the machinery of sectioning and grading falls sadly short of efficiency.

They are invariably supplemented by largely irrelevant and useless busy-work.

Educational Psychology proved to be a rehash of Psychology 205, complete with a number of trite, naive misunderstandings, known as "guest" lectures by students who obviously weren't too conscientious in their preparation (but given the subject matter who could blame them?).

In a 300 level survey course the students were required to read a certain curriculum in their major fields for a hypotethetical high school. Here the curriculum was a newspaper project which none of which had the slightest relationship to the reading in the same course we were given a mid-term which the instructor was unable to grade and was forced to replace by an hour's oral of a full 15 minutes of the test period. This exam came complete with a math problem thrown in just to see if we were able to work it.

Next: Some Specific Problems

1. Cost. Whenever you put people on the job because they are unqualified, rather than on the job because they are qualified, there is an expense. We are supposed to be spending millions, over a period of years, on retraining. If you turn over a workforce every four or eight years.

2. Patronage brings blood to the water. Take a man called Smith. Smith was 62 years old when he came to the University. He was working on the of one of the newspaper's most sensational stories, he reasoned, and one of the newspaper's most sensational stories is a Republican, and Smith's wife was a Democrat, but I cannot re... Can there be one subcouncil for each campus banding spoken the the cramp of people on the job because they are doing a good job; and more with them in Springfield. The 60 other states have a smaller percentage of patronage employees as we do, because it is built on patronage. We have more of the 60,000 state jobs which Illinois has, roughly a million, and our figure is hard to pin down and it may be slightly less than states which it is a tremendous figure.

3. It invites corruption. We've been offered large sums of money for jobs, and though I have never taken a penny from anyone for help in getting a job, I am sure there are those who have. People in the state capitol are expected to "kick in" a percentage of their salary to a project fund. There is no public disclosure of how much comes from that money. In most cases, it is probably used for campaigns, and political campaigns are not political in character.

4. Does't even seem to give the two parties anything.

7. Changing this structure will not be easy. This is not a dramatic issue that gets the press, it is not something that is going to bring headlines. But it is important to building better government in this state.

8. A basic change will not come in this session. It will not take place for years, but we must realize how important it is and we must support those in public office.
Baseball Team Hosts St. Joe In Double-Header Today

Fresh from two victories over St. Louis University of the Missouri Valley Conference, SIU is host this afternoon to St. Joseph's College of Rensselaer, Ind., for a doubleheader.
The first game will start at 1:30 p.m., at the Chautauqua baseball field. The second game will begin 10 minutes after completion of the first game.

John Hotz and Gene Vincent have been named as the Salukis starting pitchers for the doubleheader against the Indiana Intercollegiate Athletic Conference member, St. Joe's is always among the top teams in the conference baseball standings.

Glen Martin, SIU veteran baseball coach, was "well pleased" with the Saluki performances last weekend.

"We hit well and received strong pitching," Martin said Tuesday while preparing his team for this afternoon's games.

Last year Hotz pitched 1 1/3 innings but was not a pitcher of record. He permitted opponents nine hits and three runs in the brief appearances. He struck out nine and walked six. Hotz is a sophomore from Webster Groves, Mo.

Vincent will be making his pitching debut before the home fans. Last week against St. Louis he played right field for the Salukis.

He is an 18-year-old 5-10, 155-pound pitcher from Rockport, Ind., where he was a standout hurler.

Kristoff Wants To Wrestle With A Fishing Rod Now

Larry Kristoff, winner of the National AAU wrestling heavyweight title last week, likes to hunt and fish during the off-season.

Now that the wrestling season is over Kristoff is thinking of Crab Orchard Lake where he can relax and catch fish.

"My dad has a couple of farms near Little Grassany," Kristoff said. "I spend a lot of time out there, hunting rabbits and squirrels. In spring and summer I do a lot of fishing at Crab Orchard."

Larry also has another pretty popular hobby. "I like to eat," the 20-year-old native of Carbondale commented. "During the season I have to be careful of what and how much I eat. I always try to get one good meal in a day, including meat. My wife's a real good cook."

"Regulating my weight and what I eat is not as tough on me as it is on the smaller guys. A lot of times they have to stop eating for a couple of days so they can make weight. I weigh heavy and don't have the problem of weight," Kristoff said.

Kristoff in a graduate of Carbondale Community High School. He wrestled only three weeks in high school but finished second in the state. In college he wrestled in the heavy weight class of the AIAA championships.

"He is a natural wrestler," Jim Wilkinson, SIU wrestling coach, commented. "He does so many things naturally which takes other wrestlers years to master. He has all the moves of a good wrestler. He is going to be one of the U.S. top wrestlers in the future."

Kristoff finished second to Joe James in the Pan-American Games Trials and thus missed qualifying for the trip. He later best James in the NCAA wrestling championships.

The rest of Martin's starting lineup probably will remain the same as last week. Either Dick Burda or Dave Harris in left field, Ron Landreth at second base, John Siebel in centerfield, Jim Long at first base, Dave Leonard at shortstop, Mike Pratt catcher, Jerry Qualls at third base.

Siebel collected three hits in six times at bat last week to lead all Salukis hitters. Two of his three hits were doubles. Landreth and Long each hit home runs in the Salukis 9-0 first game victory.

Harris paced the second game 5-2 win with two hits in three trips to the plate. Both were singles.
Southern Golfers Defeat Illinois Normal, 21-3

With six men averaging one stroke under par, Southern's golf team held Illinois State Normal to just three points to down the Cardinals 21-3 at the Jackson County Golf Club Monday afternoon.

The Salukis, whose season record stands at 2-0, met the Cardinals yesterday afternoon in a 1:15 match at the Jackson County Golf Club. SIU takes to the road this afternoon, as coach Lynn Holder's golfers visit Cape Girardeau, Mo., to take on the host Indians. The Salukis have already chalked up one victory over the Cape squad last week.

Commenting on Monday's match with Normal, Holder was well pleased with the balance of his club. "It was the greatest team scoring we've ever piled up," said Holder.

John Krueger led the attack this time for the Salukis with a three under par, 69, Jim Palmer and Jerry Kirby were right behind the leader as the two golfers shot a fine one under par 71 for the match. Bob Payne, who paced the Salukis against Cape last week, continued to shoot good golf with a one over par, 73.

Al Kruse, Roy Gish and Bill Musahlem were other individual winners for SIU with 73, 74, and 77 scores respectively. Leon McNair was the only loser for the Salukis as he was beaten by a strong Jerry Diamond who shot par golf with a 72. McNair shot an 81 for the 18 holes.

Holder seemed optimistic about the remainder of his squad's season because his team has gotten off to a fast start.

The Salukis will shoot for their third victory of the season against Southeast Missouri State tomorrow afternoon at Cape.

SIU Credit Union To Mark 25th Anniversary Monday

The SIU Employees Credit Union will celebrate its 25th anniversary at a reception from 3 to 5:30 p.m., Monday in the ballroom of the University Center.

Among those taking part in the observance will be David S. McIntosh, associate professor of music, one of the charter members of the group, William Tarris of the Illinois Credit Union League and Stanley McHenry, editor of Credit Franz To Leave SIU Coaching Job

Bob Franz, SIU's line coach since 1952, announced his resignation from the University yesterday. He will leave at the end of summer term to enter private business.

Franz's intention to leave Southern were known in January when he expressed dissatisfaction with the way SIU's football scholarship program was conducted.

At that time he said SIU had a choice of three alternatives with its football program, "We can either drop football, grant better scholarships, or ask to be admitted into the Intercollegiate Athletic Conference," Franz said.

He submitted his resignation to Donald Boydston, SIU athletic director, Tuesday.

Larry Tucker, a former SIU pitcher, left Monday for Bradenton, Fla., where the U.S. baseball team is preparing for the Pan-American Games in Sao Paulo, Brazil later this month.
