Morris Stresses Today's ROTC Poll

Open House At VTI May Draw 2,000

Some 2,000 persons are expected to attend the fourth annual open house today and Saturday at SIU's Vocational-Technical Institute, Marvis R. Hill, acting director of VTI, said advanced registrations have been received from a number of high schools in the area.

Each of the 26 major fields of study will have displays and demonstrations to acquaint the visitors with their work, Hill said.

The open house activities run from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. today and from 9 a.m. until noon on Saturday. Guided tours will be conducted.

AFROTC Polls Taken Today

Students and faculty members are expected today in an opinion poll to be used by the University in its consideration of whether to encourage ROTC to an elective program.

The polls will be open from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m.

Students will need an Activity Card or fee statement is required to vote.

Polling places will be in Region I, on the first floor in front of Old Main and Woody Hall, at the Student Center, Lenz Hall and Small Group Housing.

All undergraduates and graduate students are eligible to vote. A current activity card or fee statement is required to vote.

The poll is considered the change because they have been offered the opportunity to extend ROTC to the Edwardsville campus if both campuses were changed into elective programs.

If the program goes voluntary, the campus may not offer both a four-year and a two-year program, while Edwardsville will have a two-year program.

Self-Sectioning Plan Set for Fall

Seniors and graduate students will have registration dates for the 1965 fall quarter rather than holding a session in the Sectioning Center.

According to Robert A. McGrath, registrar, it is hoped that this change will reduce the amount of time students need to register and that it will permit more rapid sectioning of other students.

The change in procedure is an experimental one and the results of fall registration will determine whether this system will continue or be modified in future quarters.

The registration procedure for seniors and graduate students will be essentially the same as it has been in the past except when they reach the Sectioning Center, they will be directed to an area in the south end of the center where they will consult with a master schedule, showing which classes are open, and will complete their number 2 and 3 cards, indicating the section number of the classes for which they are registering.

Advisers are being asked to write "senior" to the right of their name when they sign the number 3 cards to make sure only seniors and graduate students are using the system.

McGrath indicated he hoped that a rather fundamental change in the registration system may be accomplished by the time students advance register for the 1965 spring quarter which should help with the time in registering.

McGrath said that "Student Council representation has been assisting in the study and will continue to do so in the future."
CASTING FOR 'FIREBUGS' TO START WITH NEXT WEEK'S TRYOUTS

Casting for the SIU production of the play "The Firebugs" will begin with tryouts Tuesday and Wednesday at the Southern Playhouse at 7:30 p.m. Roles are open to everyone on the campus.

SIU's production of the play will be directed and designed by Moredecai Gorelik, research professor of theater, who also did the translation of the play. Gorelik directed a production of the play last December at California State College in Los Angeles. While teaching at California State, Gorelik was the principal speaker at the Southern California district conference of the American Educational Theater Association.

"The Firebugs" has had more than 50 American productions to date. It is a play remarkable for its theatricalism and its sardonic humor, Gorelik said.

The Swiss author of the play, Max Frisch, is from a country that has managed to keep itself out of two world wars and the existing Cold War. This perhaps makes him able to look with some detachment upon the spectacle of middle-class behavior in countries threatening each other with nuclear incineration, he added.

The bourgeois citizen faces with this terror either closes his eyes in hopes that it will go away, or puts himself in the hands of the fire-happy incendiaries, with results that are not surprising, Gorelik said.

A new theater to be built in a shopping center addition was granted an exception to zoning ordinances Wednesday night by the Carbondale City Planning Commission.

The theater will be located at the shopping center planned at the extension of East Walnut and Wall Streets.

The planning group also approved zoning exceptions in three other cases. They are expansion at the Cousin Fred store. located on East Main St., for storage and loading areas, provided adequate parking areas be designated; an addition to the suburban business area of Ralph Gray, located at 1202 W. Main St.; and a three-office addition, in a separate building, to the Robinson Construction Co., at 666 E. Main St.

In other business, three new members were appointed to the Planning Commission: Glen Zillmer, Bill Groves and C.J. Nelson. The group also heard meeting reports for mile-and-a-half zoning.

Dionysus vs. ROTC

The fourth objective of the AFAPD program, as stated in the Guide to, in “to arouse in the student the desire to become an officer of the Air Force.” It seems that ROTC has acquired a General Studies program to broaden the views of students. In addition to help male students to attend high schools and encourage them to take part in it that encourages a single career.

For those who seek a military career, there are military schools. For those who seek an open-ended social life, there are also educational and social opportunities. The majority of these opportunities arise from the widespread interest in the social opportunities that they probably resemble Hopalong Cassidy, Bob Dylan, and Joan Baez.

Individuality and eccentricity are thus sacrificed. It seems to me that people described and dressed like some of SIU’s Student Centers: people all over this campus and other campuses across the nation, realize that all these men and women are conforming to the object that they are striving to achieve — nonconformity.

Whether they are campaigning for U.S. withdrawal from Vietnam, ripping for the Negro (a cause I firmly believe in), or any other noble movements, I will not listen to them. No one can be persuaded by persons who are interested in the members of the Student Center’s Union, and I believe that little or none of their activities will be beneficial or sincere by their appearance.

Two or three weeks ago while walking through the University Center I saw three people whose presence at Student Centers on the tracks. There, to my right, was Ringo Starr, Gabby Hayes (looking rather young for his days), and a very enthusiastic John Lennon — though obviously a world figure — I did not recognize, I rushed into my room and found out that these famous persons were seeking out certain anagrams for my little sister. Working my way through the courtyard by the students around the celebrations, I discovered my efforts to no avail; for the three people were students of the Student Peace Union. My excitement wilted and was replaced by a combination of amazement and mild scorn. Before there were two college students trying — perhaps out of a desire to be understood, or to be accepted by their peers. They probably resembled Hopalong Cassidy, Bob Dylan, and Joan Baez.

Peking Turns Thumbs Down
On Johnson's Asia Peace Plan

WASHINGTON (AP) - President Johnson won wide applause around the non-Communist world Thursday for his Southeast Asia peace offer, but a ringing rejection came from one of the most important quarters—Red China.

Peking's thumbs-down was expected. It had been predicted by U.N. Ambassador Adlai E. Stevenson at a Cabinet meeting shortly before word of the Chinese broadcast denunciation arrived on news wires.

Stevenson, talking with newsmen after the White House session, held out hope that the Soviet Union would give a more "thoughtful" response. He declined to forecast North Viet Nam's reply—generally regarded as crucial at this stage.

Other White House sources said Johnson, scanning the international horizon for Communist reaction, does not believe the Reds are ready for Viet Nam peace talk when U.S. officials said that while the Soviet leadership continued to denounce U.S. activities in Viet Nam, the Johnson offer was published in the government-controlled Soviet press. They said it was published also in Hanoi, which has opposed negotiations bitterly. But Johnson went ahead with his two-pronged peace campaign announced in his Baltimore speech Wednesday night while Washington diplomacy gave the Communists more time to consider.

The President offered to engage in "unconditional discussion" with interested governments looking toward a Viet Nam peace settlement. He also proposed a $1-billion U.S. contribution to economic development of Southeast Asia, whether the war ends or not.

The President also proposed that U.N. Secretary-General U Thant launch the plan.

Right-to-Vote Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — House members at work on President Johnson's right-to-vote bill rejected Thursday a proposal that would have limited its coverage to counties with big Negro populations.

Such a limitation would exempt sections of Virginia from the bill's terms. It still is part of the revised voting rights legislation accepted by the Senate Judiciary Committee, which also is considering the measure and is under instructions to report its version of the bill to the Senate on Friday.

House Passes Medicare Plan, Senate Action Expected in June

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House passed Thursday night a $56 million bill to provide hospitalization and optional medical benefits for the elderly and boost Social Security retirement payments.

The measure now goes to the Senate, which may act on it until June.

Final House action followed rejection, 236-191, of a proposed Republican substitute. The GOP measure was similar to the administration bill but lacked the element of increased payroll taxes for hospitalization.

The bill would make the greatest single change in the Social Security system since it was enacted in 1965, directly benefiting some 20 million persons and raising payroll taxes for most workers and their employers.

By writing a health benefit into the Social Security retirement plan, it would climax efforts dating back to 1942 and especially intensified during the past eight years when "medicare" became a fighting word in congressional committee rooms.

Tall Right-Hander Warms Up For Baseball Pitching Chores

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson warmed up a bit in the bright sunshine Thursday and promised to help open the American League baseball season.

As usual, he will get into when the Senators open up against the Boston Red Sox at D.C. Stadium Monday.

Observing a tradition of many years, the ceremony, started by his late father-in-law Clark Griffith-league President Joe Cronin visited the White House to present a season pass to the President.

The ceremony was held on the lawn outside Johnson's office. It was a warm, sunny day.

A reporter asked the traditional citichge question, "bow's your arm?"

"It's like the sunshine," Johnson said, then bent his right arm and flexed his arm a few times, then let fly a line drive pitch last spring in his first start as President.

Constitutional Amendments Filed with Illinois Legislature

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP) — Two constitutional amendments to allow a flat rate state income tax and remove the state school superintendent as an elective office were filed Thursday in the Illinois Legislature.

The amendment for revising the revenue article would authorize a one per cent flat rate income levy that could be raised to a top of 5 per cent with voter approval.

Shaughnessy to Face Big Test
In 2-Mile Race With Olympian

If the track is fast, records could be blown to the four winds this afternoon at McAndrew Stadium. SIU’s onrushing track team plays host to DePaul University, the Chicago Track Club and the Saluki Track Club in a 2:30 meet.

The Chicago Club is expected to bring about 12 competitors. DePaul will send only two.

The appearance will be the first of the season for Coach Lew Harrington’s squad on the McAndrew oval. Stadiums across the country have been the Saluki’s home for the past two months.

The team has competed in more than 10 meets on foreign tracks, to prepare for its rugged schedule, most of which is yet to come.

This afternoon’s meet should be a preview of the future. Almost everyone in the Saluki camp will be in action. Led by distance runners, Dan Shaughnessy and Oscar Moore, sprinters, Dwane Tryer, DePaul will send only two.

Shaughnessy to the Canadian endurance runner who went undefeated during the cross-country season and won the U.S. Track and Field Federation’s 10,000 meter race. But Shaughnessy hasn’t met anyone of Moore’s capability in the past two months. Moore was one of the three United States entries in the 5,000-meter race in the 1964 Olympics in Tokyo.

SIU’s mile relay team of Robin Coventry, Bill Cornell, Jerry Fendrich and Gary Carr promises also to draw its share of attention. The team has been among the top mile relay entries in almost all the meets this season.

Last week it blazed off a 3:10.1 in the Big Texas Relays at Austin, to take third. A similar performance this afternoon would smash the SIU stadium record by more than three seconds.

Two time All-American Bill Cornell is also in top form. The senior team captain from Alton has compiled a 25-1 record. The top performer for the Salukis this spring has been Bill Muehleman. The husky senior from Alton has compiled a 6-0-1 record and also leads the team with a 76 average.

Captain John Krueger also carries a winning record, 4-1-2, into the meet. Jerry Kibby, Tom Muehleman, John Pfeiffer and Leon McNair complete the SIU lineup.
