- The ongoing legal proceedings.
- The Board reviewed the performance of the current president.

The Board then adjourned to the regular meeting.

The new Board of Trustees will assume their duties on January 1, 2023.

The Board of Trustees is committed to ensuring the success of Southern Illinois University Carbondale and its students.

The Board is especially pleased with the campus safety improvements that have been made in recent years.

The Board thanks all members of the university community for their support and look forward to working with you in the future.

The Board invites all members of the university community to attend the next meeting of the Board of Trustees.

The Board also encourages members of the university community to provide feedback and suggestions for the improvement of the university.

The Board is committed to making Southern Illinois University Carbondale a leader in higher education and to serving the needs of our students and the community.

The Board is looking forward to its next meeting on January 1, 2023.
Blue Monday

Everyday is “Blue Monday.” These “blue” rooms are in the basement of Old Main and are available to anyone.

No more than twenty students can use each room at one time, so if a room is empty, it may be used by all. There are six rooms in total, and they are available on a first-come, first-served basis.

The rooms are equipped with chairs, tables, and other furniture, and they are air-conditioned. They are ideal for studying, working, or just relaxing.

Blue Monday is a special day for students to find a quiet space to study or hang out with friends.

Campus Pan American Week: Festivities to Begin April 14

April 14 signals the beginning of the third annual Pan American Week at Eastern. This week-long event is designed to celebrate the culture, history, and accomplishments of the Pan American countries.

The week will feature a variety of events, including cultural performances, food tastings, and educational workshops. Visitors will have the opportunity to learn about the rich and diverse cultures of the Pan American world.

The week will culminate with a grand finale event on April 18, which will include a parade, a不理表演, and a large-scale festival. This event is expected to attract thousands of attendees from across the region.

The Pan American Week organizing committee is grateful for the support and contributions of the community, and they encourage everyone to participate in the festivities.

Playhouses & Palaces: As a part of the Pan American Week, the campus will host a series of plays and musicals that reflect the cultural diversity of the region.

You can book your tickets now: students can use the special code PAMERICANWEEK to get a 10% discount on selected performances.

CROWDED CONDITIONS

In the halls of Old Main, the demand for study space is at an all-time high. With the increased number of students on campus, finding a quiet place to study or work can be challenging.

The administration is aware of the issue and is working on solutions to improve the situation. In the meantime, students are encouraged to utilize all available resources, such as the Blue Monday rooms and study lounges.

We hope that these events will provide a platform for students to engage with the Pan American community and learn about the cultures and achievements of the region.
Winter Final Exam Schedule Released, Teens Begin March 14

Several interested members of the Senior Class and faculty have announced that the Winter Final Exam Schedule will begin on Monday, March 14. These exams will last for five minutes and may be taken at any time during the day. Each student may take one exam only between 2:00 and 5:00 p.m., subject to the seating arrangements for each class. The final exam must be taken between the 2nd and 4th day of the study period.

A special note must be made regarding the seating arrangements for these finals. All students are seated alphabetically, starting with the name of the first student in attendance. Students who are late will be seated immediately after the first student in attendance. The last student in attendance will be seated immediately after the final student in attendance.

INTRAMURALS

By Warren Talley

Basketball players from the four intramural leagues will have their division playoffs this week. The intramural leagues have been divided into two sections, each with a 4-1 record in the division. The winner of the division title will advance to the finals, where the underdog will face the top seed in the championship game.

The opening round will begin Monday night, with the top seed facing the number two seed in the championship game. The division champion will be crowned on Tuesday night.
