Election Fills Three Faculty Council Posts

Three Carbondale faculty members have been elected to fill vacancies on the Provisional Faculty Council. They are Robert A. Harper, liberal arts and sciences sector; Herbert L. Fink, fine arts sector; and Frank Konishi, home economics, technology, nursing and library sector.

Gordon C. Biles of the Edwardsville campus was elected for the education sector. The Provisional Faculty Council will continue to function as the educational policy arm of the University faculty until the structure of a new Faculty Senate has been approved and implemented, an announcement from the Office of the President said.

The Faculty Council Study Committee will meet at 9:30 Saturday morning in the president's office at Carbondale. The committee will attend to its organizational details and adjourn in time for the Graduate Faculty meeting at 10:30.

In other action Robert D. Faner, chairman of the Department of English, was elected as an at-large representative to the University Council. He will represent the Carbondale campus.

Herbert H. Rosenenthal, professor of social sciences at Edwardsville, was elected to serve as at-large representative from that campus.

'Please!' Is Hint For Coin Cup

"Please!" the sign pleads. The sign is fixed to a pole that stands in the middle of Thompson Woods; on top of the pole is a cup. A look in the cup reveals a few pennies.

"Just be collecting for something," you say as you drop in a penny or two. "Wanna what I don't know, so you think as you walk away.

If you donated to this or one of some 28 other "collection boxes" on campus Wednesday, you have made a donation to the Design Department.

The money won't go for machine guns for our advisors in Viet Nam or for the Peace Corps, or for the Student Council has been appropriating Committee. The money will go to prove that a person can design a device or campaign to collect pennies without saying a donation is wanted or where it is destined for.

By John Matheson

It was this way, officer... You'd better make it good, buddy, because I've heard most everything in my 34 years on this campus beat.

Well, officer, I was rounding this bend on Campus Drive and I saw this tree in the road... You saw what in the road? 'This tree.'

Here, buddy, blow up this alloon, and stick your arm so I can get a blood sample.

"No, there was this tree in the road. It was mounted on a big flat-bed truck, and..." This gets better as you go on.

"Yes, I can prove it to you. I was following a motorcycle and all of a sudden, this dog darted out. I had been checking this tree, see..."

You mean the tree on the road? "Of course I mean the tree on the road. The dog seemed to believe there was this tree on the road. He was checking it out, like I told you. I knew you told me, Proceed; the leaves are falling. So when the dog left the tree, the motorcycle rider swerved to miss the dog. When he did, the rider ran into a branch of the tree and he flipped..."

The dog or the motorcycle rider?

"The bike rider, I think he was distracted, he seemed to be picking bugs wings out of his mouth at the time."

"Bugs from the tree?"

"No, I don't know where the bugs came from. Anyhow, he swerved and I had to do something, I couldn't swerve to the right because I would have hit the dog, I thought I would try to miss the motorcycle, so I swerved..."

"That's where the tree comes in."

The tree in the road? "Yes. I guess they were moving it from a place where there are too many trees, so they put it on this truck, see, and were hauling it around the campus, looking for a place that had the shorts on trees."

Shorts on trees? Is this a clothesline story?"No, you've got me wrong again. I meant they were toting this tree to a treeless place on campus so its roots would sponge up some of the water and there wouldn't be so much mud."

So you hit this tree on the road? "Now you've got it, I really creamed it. But it was a choice of hitting the bike rider, the dog or the tree, and I figured the tree was the best bet for winter weather really sets in. University officials say construction on all major projects is on or above schedule and shouldn't be set back by cold weather."

The Road to Health

What We Have Now

(Eighth of a Series)

By Judith M. Rosles

Just as the doctor's quickly scrawled prescription takes account of the existing bodily defenses and concentrates on building up health or- ganism, so, too, the medical school at Southern would build on foundation courses and not immediately be rid of them.

Hence, the vision of nurses, and Southern's nursing program needs a hospital in which to apprehend the newest in hospital therapy. The School of Home Economics outlines distinctions who could intern here, and the medical secretaries and phys- ical paralectors in VTQ degrees could receive practical experience and possibly em- ployment after graduation.

Time and Winning and Losing

Sometimes you win, sometimes you lose. Sometimes you do both at the same time, if winning means being free from grief in another.

Each student has only so much time, and this time must be careful in deciding just how he can best allocate to each of his activities. Thus we often see that, for the sake of maintaining a campus ac- tivity and still pay proper attention to his studies faces a problem. It helps if he is involved in his extra-curricular activities, classes are neglected.

Very few students are able to excel in both the academic and the extra-curricular areas. Most of those who are not more than well-
SIU-Trained Nurses Lessen Shortage in Southern Illinois

Twenty nurses who have been graduated from the degree program in nursing at SIU have considerably lessened the shortage of nurses in Southern Illinois, according to Virginia Harrison, coordinator of pre-clinical nursing.

The decisions on the committee's future action were taken at a four-hour closed meeting session. They were announced by Sen. John Sherman Cooper, R-Ky., who said he did so reluctantly?

Jordan, as chairman, had told newsmen he planned to issue a statement today detailing what the committee decided behind closed doors, but Cooper beat him to it. The Kentuckian did so, he said, because Jordan had indicated to newsmen that all members, including Cooper, were happy with the decisions.

Cooper, the only Republican who opposed, said he defin­itely was not happy because he had been voted down on all motions except one. In all, five questions were discussed and acted on, he said.

Soviet Budget Cut Hits Military Funds

BERKELEY, Calif. (AP) - Jubilant rebel students at the University of California held a noon rally Wednesday to celebrate "victory" inobstructing faculty backing of their sit-in battle against restrictions on political activity.

"Magnificent," said Mario Savio, leader of the Free Speech Movement, after the faculty Academic Senate adopted 84-15 a resolution recommending that the students be given most of what they have been demanding through four massive sit-in demonstrations. Savio, speaking at times with emotion, told his rally audience of 2,500, "We have arrived at a point where we have to be responsible.

University President Clark Kerr declined comment. The university's Board of Regents will meet Dec. 18 in Los Angeles to consider the 1,200-member faculty group's proposal which includes: Freedom to advocate on the campus any off-campus cause whether it is legal or not; Freedom from campus discipline for off-campus political activity.

Happiness: What Does It Mean?

To Charlie It's a Warm Puppy

What does happiness mean to you?

Is it a "H" in chemistry? Or is it your laying down after a hard day's work and going to bed without looking at the television screen for an hour to prepare yourself for the next day?

If you're like Charlie Brown, it's a warm puppy. Perhaps you have heard of the word "happiness"? Happiness is a state of being comfortable, content, and satisfied with one's life. It is a state of feeling joy and satisfaction.

Busy Weekend of Varsity Sports Slated
Matmen, Gymnasts, Cagers, Swimmers to See Action

The SIU Arena and the University School Pool will be the scenes of a busy weekend of varsity sports competition as the wrestling, gymnastics, basketball, and swimming teams go into action Friday and Saturday.

Wrestling coach Jim Wilkinson and his grapplers will start the weekend action when they tangle with Bloomsburg State College, one of the top small college wrestling teams in the country, at 1:30 p.m. Friday.

Don Devine, Dan Divito and George McGroarty, who scored impressive victories over their opponents in last week's Bluebonnet Invitational at Champaign, will lead the matmen.

Gymnastic coach Bill Meade and his defending NCAA championship team will next take the Arena floor when they meet the University of Denver at 4:00 p.m. Denver will be out to break the Saluki gymnasts' 27 dual meet victory streak and also avenge last season's loss to the Salukis, who stopped their 34-event winning streak of dual meets.

The gymnastic meet which is scheduled to end by 5:15 p.m. will allow Tom McLaughlin and Fred Holub's freshman cagers just enough time to warm up for the first game of the season against Paducah Junior College at 5:45 p.m. in the Arena.

Coach Jack Hartman and his varsity cagers will next take the court and try to keep their winning ways at home when Southern meets Tennessee Tech at 8:00 p.m. Saturday's action will find the pace blackened somewhat with only the SIU swimmers and the varsity cagers slated to see action.

Coach Ralph Casey's tankmen will start their meet against Evansville College at 1:00 p.m. in the University School Pool. It will be the swimmers' first regularly scheduled dual meet of the season.

The varsity cagers will close out the busy weekend with the last home basketball contest of the quarter as they host State College of Iowa in an 8:00 p.m. game in the Arena.

SIU Arena Chosen as a Site For High School Tournament

The SIU Arena will be the site for one of the sectionals in the 1963 Illinois high school basketball championship, as well as a first-round game in the tournament.

It was among the locations named Wednesday by the Illinois High School Association. John D. Meen, principal of University School, will manage both the sectional and the first-round game.

District play at 44 sites will be held Feb. 22-26. Survivors will join regional competition, March 1-5, at 60 centers. No district tournaments will be held for regionals assigned to 16 centers.

Sectional play is scheduled March 10-12 at 15 centers, including Alhambra Heights, Carbondale, DuQuoin, DuKirk, Harrisburg, Harvey, Hinkle, Jacksonville, LaSalle, Macomb, Olney, Peoria Woodruff, Rock Island, Urbana and Wood River.

On March 16, first-round play for 10 teams will be held at eight centers, including Aurora East, Carbondale, Evanston, Northwestern University, Macomb Western, Moline, Normal, Olney, and Peoria Western Bradley University.

The two-day championship windshield at Champaign will be held March 19-20.

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — Ken Venturi, who made one of golf’s greatest comebacks with a victory in the U.S. Open, has been named Player of the Year by the Professional Golfers Association.

But a tourney he cares about 20 months more important than the U.S. Open was the Olympic Games for which Venturi qualified.

“I have always wanted to play in the Olympics,” Venturi said at the annual banquets of the PGA.

Bobby Green, tagged as a Fields medalist by the American Golf Classic and the American Golf Digest, is way down the track for a West End 1,500-meter relay in the Eastern Conference.

If Venturi had not been voted the Player of the Year, he said, “These people, sometimes like the critics of so-called big business, usually base their criticism on the fact that the game is big rather than the fact that it is getting more popular.

“If there is overemphasis, and I don’t believe there is, it is on the dollars needed to pay for new stadiums, to foot the bill for other sports, and to meet the increasing costs of holding a big squad.”

“With the exception of the Olympic Games, I would come to these events and make no money.”

Laurie Proves Award
At Hall of Fame Inductions

NEW YORK (AP) — Donald B. Laurie, a one-time Prince to All-American and chair man of the board of Quaker Oats, has called for an end to de-emphasis of college football after receiving the Foundation and Hall of Fame’s Gold Medal award.

“Too often we hear from the critics of the game that there is too much emphasis on football.” Laurie said in his acceptance speech at the $50-a-plate affair.

“These people, somewhat like the critics of so-called big business, usually base their criticism on the fact that the game is big rather than the fact that it is getting more popular.

“If there is overemphasis, and I don’t believe there is, it is on the dollars needed to pay for new stadiums, to foot the bill for other sports, and to meet the increasing costs of holding a big squad.”

“I would come to these events and make no money.”
