PAT MARLOW, Anthony Hall, was crowned ISA sweetheart at the all-school dance Saturday night. Miss Marlow, a sophomore from Herrin, is majoring in elementary education in the College of Education. She will be entered in the race for National Independent association sweetheart at the association's convention at Kansas university. Lawrence, Kans., on March 30.

Russell Report

SIU, U of I in Favor Of Keeping Two Boards

(Editor's Note: The Russell report, a study of state tax-supported systems of higher education in Illinois, has recently been released and contains several items which, if adopted, would affect Southern.

The report was made by a group of six men headed by John Dale Russell, director of the Division of Higher Education in Washington, D.C. A survey Stevenson previously had asked that such a study be made.

The following story is given students a brief summary of the main points of this important report.

Methods of control of SIU, the four normal schools and the University of Illinois, probably is the most important point of the Russell report.

The report lists live alternatives, but emphasizes that the status quo is not an alternative because of "a widespread feeling among the leaders of the state that something has to be done to improve the coordination of the control of the state's program of higher education."

It adds that regardless of which other action is or is not taken, the state legislature this year will have to do something to provide for the succession in the membership of the Board of Trustees of Southern.

THE STATUTE ENACTED in 1949 setting up the SIU Board provides that the terms of all board members shall expire on Aug. 31, 1951. The statute, however, makes no provision for the appointment of their successors. The legislature will have to amend the present statute so as to provide for a plan of succession of the board membership.

Yearbook Distribution

Set for May: Mifflin

A. B. Mifflin, editor of the 1951 Obelisk, said yesterday that all material for the yearbook has been turned in, including both copy and pictures. He also reported that half of the book is ready for press, and that unless there be further difficulties the Obelisk would be ready for distribution the first part of May.

The Obelisk staff met in dead­line one week and two days early, thus permitting the book to be ready early in May. June 1 has always been the date set for distribution, but this year's staff is setting the goal up a month, which will allow boys who are planning to enter the service to get their books before leaving school.

MIFFLIN HAS BEEN assisted on the Obelisk by Charles Dicker­man and Jim Landolt, associate editors. Other major staff positions have been held by Jean Dillman, copy writer; Darwin Payne, layout work; Wyman Smith and Betty Mc­Laughlin, typists.

Theme of the yearbook focuses a student through four years here at Southern. It begins by introducing a new student to Southern and ends after the student has com­pleted his four years at school.

REBELLION Opens: Begin Circulating Petitions

"Southern Rebel" as a name for Southern Illinois University athletic teams increased in popularity today as a group of interested students started circulating petitions about the campus.

Climax of the minor rebellion is expected to present itself in a torch march tomorrow night, unofficial sources revealed.

University officials sensed a possible tie-up between the petitions and the theft of the official ballots last week. The group left a note signed, "A Rebel."

Carroll Boyles and Tom Sloan teamed up to win three out of four debates in the men's championship division in a debate meet at DeKalb last week.

Norman Megelf and Jake Lipe gained a four-way tie for first in the Class I division for experienced debaters.

The other Southern debate team, Carol Reed and Jo Ann Elben, won one and lost three in the general championship division.

Augustana college won top honors at the 14-school meet. Schools attending the meet included Northern Illinois, Western, Eastern, U. of I, Illinois Normal, Principia, Southern Illinois University, and St. Olaf college in Minnesota.

This week end Sloan and Boyles, along with Debate Coach A. J. Croft, will go to St. Thomas college in St. Paul, Minn., in a Northwest debate meet. Also this week end Miss Elben and Miss Reed along with Jennifer Smalley and Maxine McClellan and Dr. C. L. Talcot will go to Bloom­ington, Ind., for a debate meet.

BRYANT SPEAKER at FBI MEETING

Future Teachers of America will meet in the Little Theatre to night at 7:15. Featured on the program will be a talk by Roye Bryant, the presentation of the Charter, and a March of Time film, "The American Teacher." Magazines will be distributed and applications for membership will be given.

Marine Representative

To Interview Southern Students March 1-2

Students at Southern will have an opportunity to apply for a com­mission in the Marine Corps when Major Kenneth B. Pickel, Marine Corps Officer Procurement representative, visits here March 1 and 2.

On March 1, Pickel will interview graduates and seniors who receive their baccalaureate degree this spring, for a newly activated ten­ency officer formation course which will be conducted at Parris Island, S. C.

Graduates of the course will be commissioned in the Marine Corps.

MAJOR KENNETH B. PICKEL

Reserve as second lieutenants and lieutenants in five Marine Corps Schools, Quantico, Va., for a five-month basic officers course.

Men between the ages of 20 and 27 are eligible for the course.

GRADUATES AND SENIORS who are interested in this program should contact Roye Bryant, director of the Placement service to arrange individual interviews.

On March 2, two meetings will be held one in the morning and one in the afternoon, for male stu­dents interested in the Platoon Leaders class and female students interested in the Women's Office Training Course. Students enrolled in the latter two will be permitted to complete their educations before being assigned to active duty.

These programs are designed primarily for college sophomores and juniors. Applicants accepted for the PLC and WOTC programs will be required to attend two six-week intensive courses, and receive their degrees, before being com­missioned.

AFTER THESE MEETINGS Major Pickel will hold individual interviews with applicants. Male students should arrange for these interviews through Bob Ebbering, assistant to the dean of men. Women applicants should obtain inter­view information at the dead of men's office.

Major Pickel will return to Sou­thern again in the latter part of March for further interviews appli­cants and have them take the necessary physical examination.
A Disappointing Appointment

We were somewhat shocked and very much disappointed last week to find that Bill Davis, former head of the Weekend Social committee, had been named president of the new Social Senate.

Immediately we began to wonder about the security of the Social Senate. Why do we doubt the leadership of Davis?

Let's go back to December. The following is part of a letter sent by Davis to President D. W. Morris on Dec. 29:

"THE EGYPTIAN on Dec. 15 erroneously reported that the Weekend Social committee had disbanded. As Mark Twain said about his rumored death, "The reports are exaggerated.'" The WSC has temporarily discontinued its activities until such time as the committee feels that it can overcome the many obstacles placed in its path.

"No resignation has been sent to the Student Council. No member of the Weekend Social committee has stated that it has resigned. Obviously the Egyptian, as well as the Council, obtained its information from sources which were not well-informed, and jumped to conclusions."

WHERE DID THE EGYPTIAN get its "inaccurate" information? We got it in an interview with Bill Davis, who told us it was true that the WSC had disbanded.

It was only two weeks later when the same Bill Davis sent the three-page single spaced letter to Dr. Morris. In the letter he attacked the Student Council, the Greeks, the I.S.A., the physical plant, the administration, and the Egyptian for lack of cooperation.

This alone was enough to convince us that Davis was not the person to head any committee at Southern—even if it was the Committee of Wrong Information.

We wrote an editorial condemning Davis' reversal at the time, but decided not to run it because we disliked personal attacks if they can be avoided. (Also we had reason to believe that Davis did not write the letter, although he did sign it.)

Instead we wrote to the Student Council explaining our views.

LATER THE COUNCIL appointed Davis as a delegate at large to the Social Senate—a position which sounded hollow. Then last week came the booming announcement that Davis had been named president of the Social Senate—an organization which is basically good.

If Davis claims that the WSC is still in existence, then he is president of both organizations. We think he should resign from the presidency of one of these organizations—or better than that—resign from both.

It's too bad that good intentions of Davis to serve Southern, but we earnestly feel that if the new Social Senate is a success, it will be in spite of and not because of Bill Davis' leadership. B. H.

Museum Conducts Area Research

Southern's museum is attempting to obtain records and surface collections from all known Indian sites in Southern Illinois, according to Dr. J. Charles Kelly, director.

"Archaeological research in Southern Illinois is not new," Kelly said. "Cyrus Thomas, founder of the SIU museum, was one of the pioneers of archaeology in the Mississippi River valley. More recent is Morroe Maxwell, and later Irvin Peithman have investigated the history of the area."

Kelly stated that the archaeologist will be able to learn much from the history of Southern Illinois and the cultural development of the land.

Archaeological work so far shows a number of Indian groups occupied Southern Illinois. The last of the great cultures of the region was that of the Mississippi people, who built great temple-like mounds were large scale farmers, and had religion and many arts and crafts imported from Mexico.

SLOAN TO SERVE AS STYLE SHOW MANAGER

Tom Sloan, senior from West Franklin, and Student Council president will be master of ceremonies for the fourth annual Junior Women's Chamber of Commerce style show at the Varsity Theatre, March 15. Proceeds of the show will go to the American Cancer Society.

To Each His Own

Printers of the Egyptian are critically short of newsprint. In an effort to help conserve as much newsprint as possible, the Egyptian has cut the number of papers printed each week. There are still enough papers for all students—but only one each.

Disappointed with the Egyptian's coverage of campus news, some offices and departments on campus have been in the habit of picking up a bunch of Egyptians. Unless these papers are carefully distributed, this practice should be discontinued.

We ask your cooperation to make it possible for every student to be assured of getting his Egyptian. B. H.

Have you voted in the Egyptian poll of weekly vs. semi-weekly? We need your support to help us produce a better paper. If you haven't voted yet, clip out the ballot in last week's Egyptian and drop it in the letters to the editor box today.

Our Opinions...
Dr. Morris' Charge to Graduates Wins Award

"A Charge to the Graduates," a commencement address presented at Southern by its president, Dr. Dwayne W. Morris, has been selected for fourth place by the Freedoms foundation. The Freedoms foundation, located at Valley Forge, is dedicated to the fundamental principle that freedom belongs to all people, and that only by the thoughts and acts of their everyday lives can the American people preserve and extend their freedom. To this end, the Foundation committee, M.R.M.

Lynch To Speak at SCF Program Tonight

Third in a series of programs "What We Believe," will be presented at the Student Christian foundation tonight at 6:30. The subject to be discussed will be "What the Evangelical and Reformed Church Believes.

Rev. W. E. Lynch, pastor of the Zion E. R. church of Marion, and a member of the SCF board of trustees, will be the speaker.

to the present council on higher education to exercise coordinating functions over the six institutions.

2. Continue the present three boards with modifications of their authority.

3. Create a single agency, to be known as the state board for higher education, to exercise certain limited coordinating powers.

4. Create a single central agency which might be known as the Board of Regents, for higher education for the direct control of all state tax-supported higher education.

To do, create a single state board of education to control all public education--elementary, secondary, vocational, and higher.

Both Southern and the U. of I. seem to prefer the second alternative, but neither have come out fully in favor of a certain alternative.

MODIFICATIONS SUGGESTED under the present plan 2, which would retain the present three boards, include the following:

1. Remove institutions of higher education from the jurisdiction of the State Code Department of Registration and Education.

2. Set up a single merit system for non-academic personnel in all the state institutions of higher education.

3. Finally remove the state teachers colleges and SIU from the supervision of the State Architect's office. In the past Southern's building program has been slowed considerably by having to work through the architect's office.

4. Change the method of selecting members of the Board of Trustees at the U. of I. (U. of I. President Stoddard has objected to this modification.)

The state legislature, as yet, has taken no action on the Russell report.

Western Whips Maroons In Final Loop Tilt, 71-51

While Eastern was busy seeing up a conference championship with all 84-51 victory over Illinois Normal, the Southern Maroons dropped their final conference game of the season to Western at Macomb last Saturday, 71-51. The loss gave the Maroons a .500 percentage in conference play, and dropped them to a final fifth place in the IAAC.

TOM MILLIKIN was sitting through the game, but still managed to lead the Southern cagers with 15 points. Following the game, Millikin was taken to a local hospital, where he received penicillin shots. He was reported to be feeling better Monday morning.

The local men were to play. Culver-Stockton Monday evening on their extended road trip. They close the cage season at Bloomington on March 3 with another battle with Illinois Wesleyan.

Against Western, Southern trailed all the way, from the opening whistle. They had their worst first half of the season, and were behind, 31-14 at halftime. While they scored 17 in the second period, they couldn't make up the deficit, as Western was busy piling up its points.

THERE IS BUT one conference game remaining in the loop, that being Eastern's battle with North- ern Illinois. Eastern has already clinched a conference championship, as the Panthers won both games against the Wolverines this year.

Arrowhead Forest Monday, Millikin announced a second attempt to de- ficit his team in the Little Nine conference. Wesleyan previously defeated Southern during the Christmas holiday this year at Carbondale, 62-56.

HOWEVER, Wesleyan has slid down the ratings to both Wheaton and Millikin. Both teams, which the Maroons have defeated, had one of their two nights of the sea- son. They met last Saturday, but the game was played in the home court, however, so winning from Wesleyan in Bloomington might be a difficult matter.

Of the remaining five Little Nine teams, there are two strong and two of equal strengths. The five are, in order of strength, Millikin, Western, Wesleyan, Mullins and Evanston. Each of these teams have four or five skilled players, and their teams are able to outmaneuver the opposition for the Southern Wichmann, E. St. Louis, and Stan- ton.

The Maroons dropped their final conference game of the season 71-51. Millikin, Pinckneyville, Bob Wichmann, E. St. Louis, and Stanton were all strong performers for the team. This trio has played in nearly every Maroon contest this season.

FOLLOWING the third year preliminaries when Millikin was out of the lineup, Millikin was able to return to the court. However, Millikin has not been able to play in the Little Nine conference. Millikin previously defeated Southern during the Christmas holiday this year at Carbondale, 62-56.

Wesleyan Is For This Saturday In Season's Final Game

Illinois Wesleyan will provide the golfer this year, tomorrow afternoon in room 201 of the men's gym at 3 p.m., coach Lynn Holder announced early last week.

Golfers To Meet In Gym Tomorrow

There will be an important meet for all boys interested in playing golf this spring, tomorrow afternoon in room 201 of the men's gym at 3 p.m., coach Lynn Holder announced early last week.

Bridges To Teach Red Cross Course

The department of Health Education at Southern Illinois University will conduct a course in Red Cross First Aid beginning March 10. Frank Bridges of the SJH Health staff will be the instructor.

A non-credit course, the work will be offered to all persons except students, and will meet from 7 to 9 p.m. four times weekly. In cases where credit is desired a fee of $1.50 per person is charged. First Aid American Red Cross Card will be awarded for successful completion of the course.

The course will include treatment of shock, dressings and bandages, wounds and their causes, artificial respiration, poisons, injuries to bones, joints, and muscles, injuries due to extreme heat and cold, and transportation of the in-jured.

Cagers Could Have Great Team In 1952 But For Uncle Sam

By Jim Turpin

If the present draft situation continues, the Maroons will be looking in the near future and the majority of players are able to remain in school, the potentialities of the Southern Illinois University basketball team for next season would be great.

Only one senior, Ernie Bo-
nett, named co-captain, will be lost by graduation. Coach Lynn Holder would have a team capable of winning the 1951-52 season.

Tom Millikin, Pinckneyville, Bob Wichmann, E. St. Louis, and Stanton were all strong performers for the team. This trio has played in nearly every Maroon contest this season.

FOLLOWING the third year preliminaries when Millikin was out of the lineup, Millikin was able to return to the court. However, Millikin has not been able to play in the Little Nine conference. Millikin previously defeated Southern during the Christmas holiday this year at Carbondale, 62-56.

WESLIGN in the 130 lb. class, Charlie Cuttell, was pinned by Nguyist of Augustana in a preliminary match. Jack Stout wrestled his usual 137 and worked his way to the semi-finals by outpointing Johnson of Augustana by a 5-4 score. He was then pinned by red-headed Don Anderson from Navy Pier. Stout led in the second period by a 3-1 score until, in the closing minutes of the period, An- derson capitalized on a mistake and won the match on a pin.

Nick Veremis was beaten in his preliminary match by Maagis, he won a 39-38 decision over the Maroons. In the 137 lb. class, was also eliminated in the preliminaries when Millikin was pinned by Tausig from Wheaton. Again it was Navy Pier versus Southern Illinois when Southern's 177 pound- er Phil Bruce grappled with Joslin. Again, it was Navy Pier that came out on top when Joslin won a 6-4 decision.

NEXT SATURDAY the men's team will journey to Bloomington, where they will compete in the conference meet.
