LIVING AREAS VOTE ON REORGANIZING GOVERNMENT

Considering 3-Year Contract
Southern May Send Team
Of Faculty To Viet Nam

By Linda Brooks

Southern may soon be represented by a team of faculty members in Viet Nam, according to Professor Ernest Simon, dean of the division of technical and adult education.

Simon returned from a trip to Saigon, capital of Viet Nam, where he made a preliminary survey under the auspices of the International Cooperative Administration.

The survey was to consider a three-year contract authorizing the sending of a SIU faculty team to work with the development of a technical institute in Viet Nam, Simon said.

Plans include sending a team leader and six or seven staff members to help the government establish and administer a teacher training program in the Phu Tho Polytechnical School in Saigon.

Work With Intellectuals

The team would work with native instructors in developing the curriculum, arranging the equipment, organizing and preparing teaching materials and beginning a teacher's training program. The curriculum would be aimed at vocational trade training, plus industrial subjects, home economics and commercial training.

Simon said that before any definite plans are made a govern- ment contract between the ICA and SIU to work with the Viet Nam government must be concluded. When completed, the faculty team—constituting primarily of Vocational-Technical Instructors—will make its travel plans.

Debates Shine Again

Southern's debaters sparked again last weekend at the Northern Illinois University debate tournament, compiling an impressive won-loss record in five rounds of debate in two divisions.

The affirmative team in division one of Karen Hasagan and John Burnett won one and lost four, while a negative team of Jeff Bowers and Dick Kersten won four and lost one.

Division two for novice debaters saw Art Parrish and Bob Allison compile a 3-2 record for the affirmative, and Esther Hays and Carie Beringer received a similar score on negative.

Parrish was the third highest ranked speaker in his division with 62 points, closely followed by Allison with 61.

Southern's affirmative team in division one gave Illinois Northern and Illinois Universities their only sourest.

Northwestern University won over the University Illinois in the final round of the championship division, compiling 63 to 41 votes in an audience ball.

American Airlines Interview Women

"Coffee, tea or milk?" A group of women interested in flying with American Airlines as flight stewards will be held at 7:30 p.m. Thursday in Muckelroy Auditorium.

A film will be shown at the meeting and individual interviews will be conducted Friday according to the Placement Service.

Correction

The amount of a research grant to Dr. Richard Kado, visiting zoology professor, was incorrectly reported in Friday's Egyptian. The three-year grant of $18,000 is from the National Institute of Health and for research on microsporidian parasites.

REFERENDUM AIMED AT MORE 'COORDINATION AND UNITY'

A referendum aimed at reorganizing student government in living areas will be voted on this week. Students living at Tremont Point and Woody Hall, Illinois Union, Chautauqua and Southern Acres will vote on the referendum which, if passed, will dissolve the Men’s Residence Hall Council and the Women’s Residence Hall Council, thus forming a single governing organization.

All halls council would be comprised of the presidents and vice presidents of the various living areas. Because of the large number of students living in Woody Hall, the council would be comprised of half the students on each floor.

According to Robert Madsen, a student committee sponsoring the reorganization, the new council would "bring about greater coordination and unity between the halls, and result in a much stronger council." At Thompson Point today, a second ballot will be facing residents. Vote blanks are available in Student Center, which includes a proposal to reduce the size of the TP Council from 18 (one representative from each floor) to six (one from each floor).

The polls are open from 8 this morning until 6 p.m. in Lentz Hall. Residents must present a meal ticket as identification to vote.

Need Conv Credit? Check This List

Freshmen worrying about their credits for the first time this year will be on the lookout this week. Only a small handful of credits will be accepted, according to this list.

The 1776 Unsung Hero

Though George Washington’s birthday was celebrated Wed., we are privileged to reprint the following article by Lee Jr., a Southern student. The article reached the Egyptian office after the deadline for Friday paper; we feel it is interesting enough to come entwined for the fact that it is a few days late.

While thinking of the recent holiday—the birth of George Washington—I was reminded of Hickey, a boy whom I had saved from a wolf. Though it was many years later and I had not seen him for some time, I knew that he would always be my friend.

Hickey was a boy who was afraid of wolves. He would run away from them as fast as he could. I had seen him many times, and I knew that he was a brave boy. I also knew that he was a good boy, and that he would always do the right thing.

When Washington was a boy, he had to be careful when crossing the river. Washington was a good boy, and he knew that he had to be careful when crossing the river. He was afraid of the water, and he knew that he had to be careful when crossing it.

Council Hassles, Agrees To Meet At TP

By Roger Maerzeng
City Editor

In a stormy session Thursday night, the Student Council moved to break a long-time tradition and hold this week’s meeting at Lentz Hall, a more central location, in an effort to generate more interest in student government.

The decision to meet else-where than the President’s Office came after one senator told the council that location automatically makes some students think the council is closer to the administration than the students. Although open to anyone, few students attend the weekly 7 p.m. meetings other than council members.

Selling Job Ahead

Verbatim rolling back his sleeves, Student Body President Bill Morin told the council, “We’ve been hammered from pillar to post on this campus. I’m getting tired of being on the defensive. We’ve got a good thing but it takes a selling job to convince the students.”

Morin pointed out that although the council had been consulted on “everything from segregation to cups in the Union,” most students consider it ineffectual.

One visitor, Ken Reichel, president of Delta Chi social fraternity, suggested less tact and more weas and no stands on questionable issues instead of a middle-of-the-road policy. He told council members that he would be opposed to any definite stand on issues, even though it might get “slammed,” could be the best way to build prestige.

Publicity Committee

Morin was authorized to ap-point a commission to investi-gate ways and means to pub-licize the council. He said many time students government had been behind things and the students haven’t been aware of it.

A tentative agenda for the Lentz Hall session will include: a report on an item cost survey to determine if some merchants are charging students inflated prices for some goods, reports from the library committee and journalism council; a prelim-inary check cashing report; and consideration of a speaker for Academic Honors Day.

More fiery debate developed over the council’s policy of ap-pointing commissioners “sight unseen,” on recommendation by Morin or other council members.

Foreign Students Senator John Mutoe led opposition to the policy, contending that it was pointless for the council to approve what amounted to an “amorphous blob.” He said that since the commissioners were responsible to Morin anyway, the President should simply ap-point whoever he wished with-out consulting the council.

Cheerleader Selection

In another action, it was an-nounced that a new system for choosing cheerleaders would go into effect at the end of this quarter. Candidates will apply to serve as women cheerleaders in teams, if some merchants viewed and, if approved, will work a full spring quarter before becoming active fall term.

The council will meet at the Health Service March 9 for a

Gymnastics Annihilate Illini

Saluki Depth Sparks Win

They did it! Southern Illinois gymnasts turned the tables on the mighty Illini who had beat SIU earlier in the season at Champaign by a similar margin, 65.5-63.5. Saturday was the last meeting this year between the two teams.

Coach Bill Meede's Salukis turned the tables on the mighty Illini who had beat SIU earlier in the season at Champaign by a similar margin, 65.5-63.5. Saturday was the last meeting this year between the two teams.

Southern Illinois' Ken Yardley edged the Illini in the Southeastern Conference dual meet at SIU's SIU-Edwardsville campus with a 9.05 in the 10th meet of the 11-meet season.

Yardley's 10.05 vault was the only 10 scored by either team in the meet. The Salukis scored 9.85 and the Illini 9.8.

Stanley Goodwin (2), Ken Yardley (1) and Greg Khare (1) each scored 9.95.

\[\text{NCAA's Byers Clears Vaughn For Tourney Play}\]

Charlie Vaughn will compete in the NCAA College Division basketball tournament with his Southern teammates on March 10-11, when the Salukis play at Cape Girardeau, Mo. regional.

Southern's Athletic Director Dr. Donald N. Boydston received a letter from Walter Byers, NCAA executive director, which said, in part: "I find no evidence that Vaughn, a freshman, is ineligible for the 1961 NCAA college basketball tournament.

Boydston Requests Investigation

Byers was asked by SIU's Boydston to investigate Charlie Vaughn's eligibility after Eastern Illinois University filed a protest that Vaughn played illegally during the Christmas holidays prior to the start of the second quarter. Eastern claimed that Vaughn had taken a course - in the absence and experience by "jumping the gun" - to play during this period after sitting out the first quarter because of scholastic deficiency. He shouldn't have played until the new quarter was started, it was alleged by Eastern's athletic director John Masley.

Vaughn Okayed By IAC

Before the game started, Byers asked Clifford Horton, IAC conference commissioner, when Vaughn would be eligible, if he had met his grades. Horton replied that Vaughn would regain his eligibility the day the fall term ended.

Since his ruling, Horton has been quoted as saying that apparently he (Horton) had misinterpreted the rule. So Byers was asked to rule on the subject and he wrote SIU that, "It seems to me that Southern Illinois University followed regular procedure in seeking an answer to this question from IAC Commissioner Clifford Horton."

Thus Vaughn will play in the NCAA college cage tourney.

\[\text{IM Championship Game Postponed}\]

The intramural all-school basketball championship game will be played this Saturday afternoon. The game had been announced for last Saturday but due to lack of gym space and ties in many of the divisions the game was postponed.

In games played last week to decide division championships, Sigma Pi defeated Kappa Alpha Psi, 53-49. Leading the Sig Pi's to the fraternity championship were two former New Athens high school stars, Jim Woods and Ron Newman. Woods wound up scoring with 19 points and Newman chipped in 12. Ken Farmer and Ernie Wheelwright were high scorers for Kappa Alpha Psi, each getting 13 points.

In the MRH league the Happenings downed Dowdell LL 58-33, behind the 20 point scoring of Fred Kuhn. Bob Stackard was the leading scorer for Dowdell LL with 16 points.

In the off-campus league there was a dispute between scorers in the game between the Partner and the Untouchables. In the totalizing of the individual points the Bats were ahead, but in totaling up the running score, the Untouchables were ahead. A meeting of IM officials, the team managers, and the scorekeepers was held Monday morning to decide the winner. The results were not known by press time.

Aquatess Practice 'Shoes'

Mermaids Spend Long Hours In Liquid For Festival

The shrill sound of a whistle several times a week brings a score or more of dripping mermaids reluctantly out of the University School Pool.

The mermaids are known as the Aquatess, girls synchronized swimming group, which is presently comprised of 27 lovely members.

Even though traces of winter are in the air, the Aquatess are already getting ready for their annual Spring Festival water show in May.

Practice makes perfect, and to prove it the swimmers hit the water three times a week throughout the year. When spring term begins and the show is just around the corner, practice is stepped-up to five nights a week. They work hard.

"You have to like something before you are willing to practice five nights a week at it," commented Brenda Zeh, senior from Fairbury and vice president of the group.

Last week the Aquatess took time out to select a theme for this year's Spring Festival performance. They decided to center the show around the idea of shoes with individual numbers probably having such titles as the "Red Shoes Ballet," "High Button Shoes," and maybe even "Tennis Shoes." The girls offered many good ideas that promise to develop into numbers both funny and lovely.

Committees are being organized to provide theme music, decorations, costumes, and all the other preparations that go into making their show a top spring attraction.

December Demonstration

Last December the Aquatess gave a short demonstration here at the volleyball clinic sponsored by the women's physical education department for students in Illinois high schools. Organized for the past seven years, the Aquatess have extensive practice and tryouts for new members each fall. Membership has grown from 13 at the time the group was first started to the present 27 members.

Aquatess president is Nancy Pierson and the group's sponsor is Virginia Young, physical education instructor for women.

Lawrence Story Depicted In Movie Tonight

"Interrupted Melody," a movie based on the life of Marge Lawrence, opera star and currently a research professor of music at SIU, will be shown at the Varsity Theatre tonight and Wednesday.

The film, taken from the book of the same name, depicts the fabulous career of the dramatic soprano and stars Glenn Ford and Eleanor Parker.

The gifted star, after being struck by polio at the height of her career, staged a dramatic and inspiring return to fame. "Interrupted Melody," the story of this career, is an autobiography.

The winter term final examinations will begin on March 13.

The spring quarter officially begins with night classes on March 27.

FOR VARIETY SHOW

Seventeenth acts will go through their paces this week in preparation for the 16th annual Theta Xi Variety Show, Southern's student-studded winter talent show.

The first half of the program will buzz through dresses rehearsed at night and the second half will practice tomorrow night, both in Shryock Auditorium. The full ensemble will receive a final grooming Thursday night after the off opening night. The shows will be presented Friday and Saturday nights.

Bob Bob, versatile comedian of KMOX, St. Louis, is scheduled to arrive on campus Friday night. The "Man of a Thousand Voices" will be master of ceremonies for the two shows, each to be held in Shryock Auditorium, beginning at 8 p.m.

Tickets are on sale in the Student Union for $1 each. All seats reserved. If all tickets are not sold in advance, they will be on sale at the door each night.

The Theta Xi show was started in 1949 by Kappa Delta Alphas, now known as Theta Xi, social fraternity for men. The first show was an all-school presentation of student talent founded primarily as a means of creating more student interest in the days when students streamed for home on weekends.

Good response from the "all show prompted Kappa Delta Alphas to try for the 1951 show and thus it became an annual event. The 1949 and 1952 shows were the "road" shows of the Theta Xi短暂 as they hit the road for southern Illinois towns, following campus presentations.

The huge traveling trophy, awarded to the winning group act, was first retained by Sigma Tau Gamma in 1951. A group must win the trophy three times in order to retain possession.

Kappa Epilson has the trophy this year. KMOX has for the past five years provided a master of ceremonies for the show, through the combined efforts of KMOX staff members Bob Hyland and Paul Douglas.

Competing groups are: Sigma Sigma Sigma, Delta Chi, Alpha Kappa Alpha, Sigma Kappa, Phi Kappa Tau, Sigma Pi, Tau Kappa Epilson, Alpha Gamma Delta and the Newman Club.

Individuals vying for the two trophies will be: Kathy Kimmel, the Alpha Gamma Delta pledge, Jan Gudde and Phil Dougherty; Lee Dobbs, Ralph Clardy, Bill Norvell, the Kappa Epilson and Millie Ledbetter.

Experimental Program
Plan 'A' To Expand

The experimental Plan A program for selected bright students will accept about 30 more students into its ranks this fall, according to E. Claude Colemann, professor of English and director of the program.

The curriculum will also be expanded to meet the needs of upper-class students already enrolled.

Sophomores are studying Greek, Roman and Hebrew cultures this year, while freshmen are examining education and science. Next year, juniors added to the program will study 20th century Asia, Africa and Latin America.

Plan A Described
Coleman described Plan A as "an experiment in higher education for superior students with the aim of finding the best techniques suited to teaching them."

However, Plan A is striving for a curriculum rather than a program in an attempt to prevent isolation of these students, according to the director. Student reaction has been highly favorable, he declared, because in a less formal atmosphere they've learned that the professor "isn't omniscient."

Faculty Enthusiastic

In an effort to dispense with routine assignments and exams, faculty reaction has been equally enthusiastic, with professors discovering new techniques in a less rigid classroom procedure similar to a discussion period. Two professors are assigned to each discussion group of 10 students. There are three groups meeting this quarter, each Tuesday evening in the Plan A House on South Thompson Street.

"LOVE IN REVERSE"
They met. His heart leapt. "I love you," he cried.
"Me, too, boy," she cried.
"You're backing me up," he cried, "are you a girl of expensive tastes?"
"No, boy," she cried, "I am a girl of simple tastes."
"Good," he cried, "for my crust father sends me an allowance business that we're exactly not as we could not.
Money does not matter to me," she cried. "My tastes are simple. My wants are few. Just take me riding in a new, yellow convertible and I am content."
"Goodbye," he cried, and ran away as fast as his shifty little legs could carry him, for he had no convertible, nor the money to buy one, nor the means to get the money, short of picking up his ups by the ankles and shaking him till his wallet fell out.
He knew he must forget this girl but, lying on his pail at the dome, whimpering and mourning, he knew he could not.
At last she came to him: though he did not have the money to buy a convertible, perhaps he had enough to rent one. Hope rose, he rushed at once to an automobile rental company and rented a yellow convertible for $10 down plus $4 a mile, and with many a laugh and a cheer drove away to pick up the girl.

"What is my dearest, she cried alarmed.
"Oh, goody," she said when she saw the car. "This suit my simple tastes to a 'T'. Come, let us speed over rolling highways and through bobby dells."
And away they drove. All that day and night they drove and finally, tired but happy, they parked high on a windmill hill. "Marlboro!" he said.
"Yes, yam," she said.
They lit up. They puffed with deep contentment. "You know," he said, "you are like a Marlboro—mild and fresh and relaxing."
"But there is a big difference between Marlboro and me," she said, "because I do not have a Selecticate filter nor do I come in soft pack or flip-top box."
They laughed. They kissed. "What is it, my dear," she cried, alarmed.
"Look at the speedometer," he said. "We have driven 200 miles and this car costs 100 a mile and I have only 30 left!"
"That's exactly enough," she said.
"Yam," he said, "but we still have to drive home."
They fell into a profound gloom. He started the motor and backed out of the parking place.
"You look," she said. "The speedometer doesn't move when you're backing up."
He looked. It was true. "Eurika," he cried. "That solves my problem. I will drive home in reverse. Then no one will register on the speedometer and I will have enough money to pay!"
"I think that's a marvelous idea," she said, and she was right. Because today our hero is in the county jail where food, clothes and lodging are provided free of charge and his allowance is piling up so fast that he will have enough money to take his girl riding again as soon as he is released.
