The University of Illinois’ Board of Trustees has awarded a contract for the construction of a new building to provide Ventilation of New Military Building.

The new building is expected to be a major improvement to the University’s facilities, providing much-needed space for academic and administrative purposes. The construction is scheduled to begin immediately, and full occupancy is expected within the next six months.

In other news, the University has announced the appointment of several new faculty members, including Jack Laskoff, a professor of government and politics, and Linda T. Sullivan, a professor of economics.

The University also has received a large donation from the state of Illinois, which will be used to construct a new building on the campus.

In related news, the Board of Trustees has announced plans to increase tuition for the next academic year, citing the need for additional funds to support the university’s operations.

The Board has also approved a budget for the upcoming fiscal year, which includes funding for new faculty positions and the construction of new facilities.

Overall, the University is facing a number of challenges, including increasing tuition costs and the ongoing need for new facilities and equipment. The Board of Trustees is committed to finding ways to address these challenges and ensure the continued success of the University.

The full text of the Board’s report on these and other matters can be found on the University’s website.

SIU Faculty Salaries Rate With U of I, Vassar

SIU faculty salary scales rate in the same class as University of Illinois, Ohio State University, Vassar, Cergan, Illinois Institute of Technology and Brooklyn Poly.

According to recent listings in Jack A.A.U.P. Bulletin, Southern's compensation scales are in the top 10 per cent of reporting institutions showing highest weighted percentage increases in average compensation for all ranks, 1966-67, as compared with 1959-60.

The AAUP, American Association of University Professors, compiles a listing of salary studies reported by various universities. However, no two such salary studies are quite the same. There are different definitions of teaching faculty members, different yearly bases for computation, different ranks and categories, different exclusions, and different forms in salary tables.

The AAUP study differs from others in the comparatively large number of exclusions. It lists only those persons, regardless of rank, whose primary duty is academic instruction. Average nine-months salary by rank: Professors, $11,905; Associate Professors, $7,578; Instructors, $5,960, Lecturers, $3,050, with an overall for all ranks of $6,209.

Minimum nine-months salary by rank: Professors, $5,770; Associate Professors, $2,700; Instructors, $1,960; and Lecturers, $4,750.

What Patriotism Is

What is patriotism? I'll tell you a few things that it certainly is not. It's not those home-sick pans that turn a longtimer in a foreign land into a painfully sweet thoughts of home upon hearing "America The Beautiful." Neither is it that grand feeling of intense pride when one sees the soldiers march; nor the unbridled tears that spew when the flag goes by. These emotions are good, but only emotional.

Patriotism is not just an emotion. It is a real and logical part of our lives—like family and friends, it is an integral part of our identities. It is defined as the outward form of an inner commitment, a very public statement of a personal belief. It is hard to acknowledge its importance in building a democratic atmosphere.

This is obviously not a new problem but one that has plagued the United States for many years. Again this semester only a very few of the new students will actually participate in student government. Nevertheless, it often appears to be the unspoken priority of student government, who is first to voice his complaint against a student government project. Not only is this a particular trait, but it is also quite likely that he will be the first to move into organized opposition. This is the greatly overworked student leader, it is now time that the students at Indiana University (Southern Ill.) realize that there is something lacking here at Mine, and are willing to work for improvement is the necessary innovation.

The students of any institution possess an unused power which could change the educational environment tremendously. When the students realize this, and learn to utilize it effectually and constructively, we can make great progress in increasing the quality level. This committee may be the answer here at Mine.

"Careful Planning Increases Efficiency"

"By careful planning anyone can increase his efficiency and participate in more activities," states John McCarty, Southern Illinois University lecturer in psychology, and Her­rin civic leader.

McCarty is one who practices what he preaches, as he is engaged in several local activities as well as being employed by the University and the State of Illi­nois.

Herrin Native

McCarty is one of three chair­men for the Illinois Civil Service Commission. The Dyer County Herrin native was appointed to this position by Governor Otto Kerner on March 1, 1961. His term expires March 1, 1967. Before be­ing appointed chairman of the Commission, McCarty served as secretary for the Advisory Board to the Department's Personnel.

The "Civil Service Program has three major divisions," says Mc­Carthy. "The Hearing Division, where the reviewing is carried on, the Classification Division, where the reviewing takes place, and the Appointments Division, where the filing takes place," he said. The office for the Civil Service Commission is located in Spring­field.

"We have a lot of cases to read with many more in progress, but we also have a good staff that helps," commented McCarty. The Chairman of the Civil Service must meet at least once a month to approve de­cisions.

At SIU Five Years

McCarty has been on the SIU staff in the field of psychology for the past five years. At present he is reading the psychology sec­tion in the after­noon.

McCarty said he found the field of psychology very interest­ing and rewarding.

John McCarty—An Active Man

"There doesn't seem to be enough hours in the day, but I guess I'm just a go­getter," said Mc­Carthy, as he reviewed the differ­ent activities and activities he is engaged in.

McCarty was elected to the Herrin City Council last spring, from Ward 1. He is also on the Civil Service Commission. His position as a member of the Council places him on the Water Commission, Police and Firemen Commission, and the Finance Commission.

"The Council now has the pow­er of appointments for the City employees," stated McCarty. The power of appointments is vested in the Mayor's hands.

Adapts New Plans

"We were finally able to get the Illinois Municipal Retirement plan in Herrin," McCarty said. "Employees should be able to re­side with some security," he de­clared.

"Society has been good to us, giving us an education, and oth­er modern conveniences of life." McCarty said, in explaining the reasons he is serving on the City Council. "We have a re­sponsibility to return some of these favors," he said. "More jobs for more people is the pro­gram we are attempting to create in Southern Illinois," McCarty ex­plained.

McCarty graduated from Her­rin Township High School in 1942, he entered the Navy. He served three years in the Pacific, Civil Service Commission. The Hornet was involved in 11 major battles during the war.

Brief Writing Career

During his last year of his service in the Navy, McCarty took up box­ing, a sport he continues at South­ern Illinois University.

McCarty enrolled at Southern Illinois University in the fall of 1946.

He is a member of the Alpha Sigma Phi fraternity. His major is in psychology.

The Hornet went 11 to 1 with the University of Kentucky during the 1947–48 season, and the Hornet is 11–5 this season.

John McCarty

McCarty was the lightweight weight fighter. McCarty also taught in the Golden Gloves for two years, and had a brief career as a professional.

McCarty received his B. A. degree from Southern in Econ­omics, and a Master's degree from Southern in Psychology. He also has an additional year of study at Loyola University of Chicago in Psychology, and an extra year at SIU in the same field.

Author of "Rolling the Plead, Boys"— "The Many Lives of Dollar Diller," etc.

UNITED WE STAND

The entire academic world is agog over the success of the Associated Colleges Plan—ACP, for short. I mean, you go to any campus in the country these days and you see students and faculty dancing on the green, blowing penny whistles, grabbing each other by the elbows and yelling, "About that ACP Plan—how 'bout it?"

And who can blame them? The ACP is a plan not only simply brilliant, but also brilliantly simple. All it is, is a loose regional federation of small colleges. Let's say, for example, that in a given region we have a group of small colleges, each with its own academic specialty. Small College No. 1 is the best in language department; Small College No. 2, let's say, has a fine music department; No. 3 has a fine music department; etc., etc.

Well, sir, under the ACP those various colleges federate. A student in any one of the colleges can take courses in the special­ity of any of the other colleges—and here is the beauty part—he will receive credit for the course at his home college. Thus he enjoys all the advantages of a big university without losing the cozy comforts of a small college.

Well sir, you can see what a good idea the ACP is. I respect­fully submit, however, that just because a thing is a good is no rea­son not to try to make it better. Like, for instance, Marlboro Cigarettes. Marlboro were good from the very beginning, and people could not quickly and easily smoke. But did the managers of Marlboro say, "Oh, we've got it made. Let's relax"? Well, sir, if that's what you think, you don't know the makers! They did not relax. They took their good Marlboro and kept improving them. They improved the filter, improved the blend, improved the pack. They mass-produced and developed knowledge, until today Marlboro is just about the most admirable cigarette you can put a match to. There are, in fact, some people who find Marlboro so admirable they can't bear to put a match to them. They just sit there with a single Marlboro in hand and admire it for the ten years on end. Marlboro are a course deeply beloved by—all except E. Rennie Signall, the sales manager.

But I digress. The ACP, I say, is good but it can be better. Why should the plan be confined to small colleges? Why should it be limited to a limited region of any colleges and universities, big and small, wherever they are?

Let's start with a federation. Let's call it the "Bigger Associated Colleges To Encourage Higher Intellectual Activitiy"—BACTERIA, for short!
Student Housing Is Many Thing In Carbondale

In ten years, enrollment at the Carbondale campus has more than doubled. One of the main problems in American education has been the need for housing facilities.

When more than ten thousand students leave the city each year, there is a need for housing accommodations that are spacious, well maintained, and affordable, as is the case in Carbondale.

The housing situation in Carbondale is not without its problems. Some 20% of the SIU students, according to Mrs. John H. Reynolds, supervisor of off-campus housing, either must go elsewhere to find housing which will meet the minimum standards of the University, or are unable to find housing which will meet the requirements of the University. Some property owners take advantage of the situation and charge excessive rent for rooms that should not be recognized by students at all. Yet, we should not permit the action of a few people to disrupt the housing conditions of the people in Carbondale who have opened their homes to students to be commended.

The problem is not new. Even when the housing situation is not as bad, the student will find himself priced out of first class living facilities. There will always be a market for something cheaper.

For the student with a bachelors degree, or at its best, it is new, sleek, and comfortable.

Who Has the $20 Check?

O' 58,664 checks totaling $25,189.98 cashed by the Burson's Ob- fice between May 15, 1961 and March 1, 1962, one check in the amount of $20 remains uncashed.

Ninety checks, or thirty-two hundredths of one percent of the total cashed and forty-one 'undred- er' of one percent of the 21,986 personal checks cashed, were re- turned during the period. Eighty- nine of the ninety were made good.
The $20 check represents less than four thousandths of one percent of the total monetary value of the checks cashed and less than seven thousand of one percent of the $31,727.93 worth of personal checks cashed.

Checks other than personal cashed by the Burson since the service was started following a suggestion made by the Student Council, total- ed $1,914 worth $14,570.
Average monetary value of per- sonal checks cashed was $1.47, of negotiable, $50.81.

Search’ Design To Be Discussed

"The Search 'Second Section' will be the subject of the next meeting of the SHU English Club, March 1 at 9:30 p.m. in the Illinois Dining Room. The meeting will take up the cover design and format arrange- ment of the second edition of "The Search," and also discussion of the poems and short stories of Southern students. New material will be added. All students who are interested are urged to attend.

Don't Miss Test

This does not mean, however, that a student may decide to miss this scheduled end period examination. He is ex- pected to make it up during this period. The make-up exam is to be used only by a student whose per- formance has been approved by his academic dean.

A student who must miss a fi- nal examination may not take an exam before the time scheduled for the class session ordinarily start.

Following are the details on ex- ams not covered by the regular exam season.

Examinations for one and two-hour classes will begin two hours and ten minutes later than the time stated on the exam schedule. Exams will run for one hour. For example, a 9 a.m. class carrying two hours credit will have its examination from 11:00 to 12:00 a.m.

A four-hour class which meets for two hours twice a week will hold its examination at the end and ten minutes later, at 10:00 a.m. four days and for two hours.

Examination schedule for three, four and five-hour credit classes will be the same as on the exam schedule, and will run for two hours.

In the event a student misses a final examination and did not make prior arrangements to take the make-up exam, a "W," followed by a tentative grade, with a "12," indicating the number of weeks attended, will be placed upon the transcript for the course by the Registrar, according to the regis- trator.

A "W" grade must be comptile for the second semester of the quarter involved; otherwise, it will remain as an incomplete grade.

Three examinations are scheduled for those night students who are employed during the day and ten minutes later, at 10:00 a.m. for all regular exams. The de- partments carrying these special exam peri- ods for such students.

Big Time Team, Big Time Schedule

Equal Success For SIU Track Team

"The secret of a 'big-time' track team," according to South ern's Coach Lew Hartzog, "is a 'big-time' schedule."

After checking SIU's 1962 schedule, it may be assumed that Southern has hopes of moving in that direction.

The Salukis, although still lacking top-notch strength in several events, will be facing a classy card this season which opens April 7 with participation in the Texas Relays. Big names and top players from Southern is also slated to enter the Drake, Kansas and California Relays, in addition to the Central first-class opponent that's doing the beating.

Indicating that he didn't expect the Salukis to post top-impressive record a season while competing against many of the finest track teams in the country, Hartzog, nevertheless, was emphatic in stating, "We hope to learn something of teaching by going against them this year and plan to do some teaching of our own next season."

Weak In Dashes

"We'll be weak in the short dashes and hurdle events," Hartzog added, "but we should be exceptionally strong in the middle and long distance events as well as several field events."

In addition to participating around the country in the top relay meets, the Salukis will be performing at home four times this season. Fans will get a preview of the 1962 squad, and also of what they may expect in the future, March 31 when Southern's freshmen will challenge the varsity squad members.

The Salukis will also host their own AAU championship meet Friday, April 13, and entertain Big Eight Conference powerhouse Kansas and Oklahoma in Saturday night meets, May 5 and 12, respectively.

And with National AAU 800-yard champion Jim Dupree on its roster, along with a few other prominent performers, Southern also expects to be represented in this year's NCAA and AAU championship meets at Eugene, Ore., and Walnut, Calif.

Ph. D. Candidates

The Teacher Education examination and Miller Analogy test for Ph. D. candidates in Education will be given March 31. All applicants for the degree should obtain an application for this test from the college major department. Registration closes March 19.

COACH LEW HARTZOG pins up a tentative schedule on a United States map. Hartzog's charges will be traveling all over the country next year to compete in big time track meets.

College and Interstate Conference meets and will host its own AAU meet as well as challenge Oklahoma and Kansas in dual affairs.

"It's only natural that stand out high school athletes want to attend a college that has a stand out schedule," Hartzog said.

"And that's exactly what we hope to be able to provide for them here at Southern. I firmly believe that our schedule this season will be the best recruiting aid I could possibly have."

Hartzog, a native of Texas who came to Southern in the fall of 1960 after spending three years at Northeast Louisiana State College, has attracted considerable acclaim as being one of the nation's top recruiters of track and field talent. However, he denies that there is any so-called secret or mystery in his success that he might have in this respect.

It's The Law

"I'm just like every other coach on SIU's staff," Hartzog said. "I don't mind too much getting beat just as long as it's a
Inter-campus Basketball, Ping Pong Meet Set

According to Norman Shouers, instructor in physical education, who is directing the sports day, the day's events will begin after a luncheon in the Alton student union cafeteria for participating students and faculty members.

Alton-East St. Louis intramural bowling finals will begin at 2:30 p.m. at Bowl Haven lanes near the university's Alton center. Following this event, the scene will shift to East Junior High School gymnasium, where runner-up intramural basketball teams from Carbondale and Edwardsville will meet in a play-off game at 3:30 p.m.

This is under way, table tennis finals between East St. Louis and Alton center students will begin in another part of the gymnasium at 3:30 p.m.

A novel basketball game between teams made up of faculty and staff members from Carbondale and Edwardsville has been planned for 4:00 p.m. Finals in the intramural basketball free throw competition between Alton and East St. Louis will start at 5:15 p.m. At the same time, Shouers said, individual teams for teams at the two centers will get under way.

Salukis Rank High In IIAc Scoring

Although SIU's cagers haven't placed anyone at the top of the individual scoring sheets in IIAc competition this season, they still lead the pack in team results.

Prior to the week-end games, in which Dave Heness, Rod Linder, and Mike Logan, were among the top 10 players in the various scoring and rebound categories. Linder was the all-time high scorer in the category that really counts —averaging 79 points per game. Linder's 3-10 guard from Centralia, trailled his team-mate by three-tenths of a point.

Helping Heness keep his slim edge over Linder is his accuracy from the field. Heness has pumped 57 shots through the hoop for a .500 average and picked up 33 rebounds.

Linder pumped in 36 field goals and picked up 30 points, shooting him .750 percent at the free throw line, in average 33.4 points a game. Linder was the only Saluki to place in the top 10 at the free throw line.

Ed Spilas, Southern's 6-4 junior who alternates at forward and center, was ranked sixth in conference rebounds last week.

Spilas has been grabbing 18 rebounds a game. He also beat the .500 mark in accuracy from the field by dropping 42 of 79 shots through the net for a .535 percentage.

Comparative statistics on the league's play shows SIU leading in the category that really counts —averaging 79 points per game. The team also leads the rest of the IIAc teams in the area of free throws as the players have scored on 42 percent of their foul line shots.

Win Finale

SIU's women varsity swimming team toured Franklin, Galesburg, 46-52 last week to end their season with a 1-4 record.

the first 12 min inutes yard freestyle, in his best time of the season at Central Michigan Friday. It was not an easy time for the Saluki. The score was 11 times and the lead changed hands 11 times. It was 27-27 at the halfway point and Southern did not move away from the Ohio Staterels until eight point splashes going into the final six minutes of play.

Ed Spil scored 18 points, David Henson, Jim Giudicelli and Ed Gilham 10 each as the Salukis held off 200-yard freestyle with a time of 62.3. The event was previously won by Andrew Epperson and Walt Rodgers in 1962. The time in the 400-yard freestyle set a new NCAA record and led by Ed Spil.

The first entire half found the teams within four points of each other. The lead changed hands 11 times and neither team ever led by more than three points through the first 12 minutes of the last half. The Tide turned when Van Dyke, who had scored 30 points, picked up his fourth foul and went to the sidelines temporarily with his team leading 62-41.

SUU scored 21 points in the 3rd quarter: Henson, Giudicelli, Gilham and Henson set a new NCAA record in the 200-yard freestyle with a time of 1:45.3. The old mark of 3:36.3 previously was held by Petrov.

Petrov’s time of 1:43.2 betters the National Collegiate swimmers record of 2:53.2. The record held by Petrov’s was set in 1962. The 60-point lead by Southern in the season with a 2-0 record. Cincinnati sports a 7-0 record with the only loss being to rival Indiana.

Despite losing the meet, South- ern’s veteran coach Ralph Casey was happy with his boys showing as well as the meet. "We did well and get beat you have to expect that," he said.

It was by far our best performance," Casey continued. "I’m surprised we played as well as we did. The final score showed the tremendous effort we put forward."

Casey had nothing but praise for Larry Aronson who was out- touched in a drive for second place in both the breast stroke. Cincinnati’s Bill Edwards narrowly lapped Larry at the finish. Aronson’s time of 2:33.5 was his best of the season.

Ballatro, Southern’s captain, turned in his best time of the season but again it was only third best as Cincinnati took the first two places.

It was the last dual meet for SUU’s five seniors — Ray Coca, Claude Epperson, Bruce Roman, Rodgers and Baltimore.

The Men’s Swimming team will next attend the NCAA championships in March. The Salukis will then turn their attention to more local and regional meets.

The Intercollegiate Conference championships will be held at the University of Missouri in Columbia, Missouri, next weekend.
SIU Professor Saves Wert Composition

The name may mean nothing to most people, but to a dedicated handful of students and faculty at the University, Giaches de Wert ranks among the greatest composers of the 16th century. Trouble is, until Carol MacClelland came along, Wert's music was almost as lost to culture as the Flemish singer and composer himself was lost to the world of living.

Now, thanks to the diligent research of Dr. MacClelland, students hearing Wert's compositions for the first time are discovering the whitewashed fact that Wert's music has been lost and found in the years since A third effort for the University's Digital Libraries program has been undertaken, this time under the sponsorship of the Southern Illinois University Press.

crusiglia recital
Soprano Jane Cruiglia will give a senior recital Thursday (March 28) at 8 p.m. in the Student Union Auditorium. The recital is given by students in partial fulfillment of the requirements for the degree and in partial fulfillment of the requirements for the degree in music education. She will be accompanied by Bong Ho Cho in ten instruments.

miss cruiglia will sing selections from Montez, Bach, Handel, Wolf, Arensky, Leonardova, Warlock, and Badcock.

Miss Cruiglia will sing Handel's "Messiah" in which Professor John Wharton of the music department accompanies her with a violin obligato.
