In Japanese Student Paper

Following is an article from THE MEIHO TAL TER, the student newspaper of Meijo University, in Nagoya, Japan.

The Meijo Student News reports that the Japanese government has been very active in recent years in promoting policies that will encourage students from Meijo University to go abroad for study. Over 300 students from Meijo University have been studying abroad this year.

More than 500,000 young people are expected to study abroad this year, and the number is expected to increase significantly. The government is giving strong support to the students who go abroad for study.

Foreign students are expected to return to Japan after graduation and contribute to the development of the country. The government is also encouraging the students to continue their education in the country after graduation.

Southern Illinois Towns
In National Industry Show

A group of small Southern Illinois communities were spotlighted during the recent dealers' show at the McCormick Place Convention Center. Among the towns featured were Carbondale, Herrin, Marion and Carterville. The group presented a variety of products that are produced in these areas.

On Friday, the group showcased its products in the Modern Dance Center. Saturday featured a Business Lunch at the Herrin Country Club, where speakers discussed the economic climate and future prospects for these communities.

Sunday, the last day of the show, featured a tour of the Southern Illinois area, including stops at Carbondale, Herrin, Marion, and Carterville. The tour highlighted the natural beauty of the area and the unique attractions that each town offers.

Everyone Knows About Rain

Whether We Want It Or Not, More Rain Is Forecast

"According to the long range forecasts of the U.S. Weather Bureau, we should have more rain this summer," said Dr. Price. "The total rainfall for Southern Illinois is expected to be higher than normal."

"The rain is necessary," said Dr. Price. "It will help to renew the water supply and to grow the crops." The rain is also expected to help the forests and the wildlife.

The rain will also help to cool the temperature, said Dr. Price. "It will be a welcome relief from the hot summer weather." The rain is expected to continue into the fall, said Dr. Price. "It will be a relief to the farmers and the landowners."

Salkis stunned ties Ron Lindemans hand and 1951 Illinois (IAC) double champ — Jack — Southwestern's fourth four, with a little bit to mention now.

In the annual IAC meet last week, Southwestern's track squad tied for fourth place, the only perfect four between the 18 schools, while the IAC long jump proved true.

Here, Joe, a football fumble from Peoria, posting season, snap by a 99.9 average was the perfect IAC long jump.

Other boys posted state marks in track, but a lone one in the near mention was.
