The textbook service reports that there still are 1,061 delinquent students holding 1,387 textbooks for the winter term.

The total value of these textbooks is estimated at approximately $42,544.34, an average of $38.60 per student.

Students who fail to return these books will be assessed the full list price plus a $1 penalty by the Bursar.

All textbooks returned are handled through the Bursar's office. The student is restricted from registering, paying fees or picking up a pay check, if he is employed by the university, until he returns the books and pays the penalties.

Textbook service said that before students pay for a "late" book they should make sure that the book has not been returned to the Textbook service.

"Those students wishing to buy their textbooks are urged not to wait until the last week of classes to do so. It is advisable to buy them as soon as possible, thus eliminating the extra work for the Textbook service and the students," said Heine Sromon, manager of the textbook service.

Graduate students who elect to purchase all books used or required for courses are granted an extra 10% discount on the original cost of the books.

Professor James J. Macgregor, a land economist with the Commonwealth Forestry Institute at Oxford University, will give a public lecture to take part in two seminars at SIU May 28 and 29.

Professor Macgregor, a noted European land economist, will lecture on forestry and agricultural use in the United States and Europe at 7:30 a.m. on May 28 in the Agriculture seminar room.

His first seminar, on political economy of agriculture and forestry, will be at 10 a.m. that same day in the same room. At 10 a.m. May 29, Professor Macgregor will take part in a seminar on the problems of adjustment for reduced agricultural and forestry in the Common Market. The School of Business and Economics and the Agriculture Department are jointly sponsoring the seminars.

Professor Macgregor will sit Yale, Harvard, New York and the University of California as well as SIU.

Some $200 was collected at the Campus Chest drive which raised $2,900.

The group donating the largest amount of money was Southern Hills, with a total amount of $40.

The auction held last Friday, May 4, in the Roman Room of the University center, drew in nearly $1200.

Cassidy Named Most Popular Professor

THOMAS CASSIDY, lecturer in English, has recently announced additional funds surrounding the loudy twenty Miss Southern talent contest. He was named the Most Popular Professor on campus by students voting in this week's general elections. The award was sponsored by the Spring Festival assembly in McAndrew Stadium.

Dr. Claude E. Coleman, head of Plan A, yesterday introduced 2,000 students to the world of "serendipity.

Coleman defined the word as "looking for one thing and finding another."

He told the Spring Festival Assembly audience in McAndrew Stadium that "Columbus" adventure on the high seas is the classic example of serendipity.

"He sought a passage to India, found a new hemisphere,”

According to Coleman, "Columbus sailed a straight line from the Azores, changing his course only once and then by a few degrees to the left."

To Coleman, the American ship of state follows no such easy course.

"Our ship of state tacks to the left and veers sharply to the right and clearly has no sure harbor," he said.

"Sometimes it seems, like a wanderer, to go in great circles and come back after long years to the same un­ happy place."

Citing some of the world’s conflicts — the arms race, nuclear testing, summit conferences — Coleman said that "perhaps out of all these desperate blue­ dering confusion, one of these days we will blunder into the right formula for a stable and peaceful society."

"We need another fortunate accident, another instance of serendipity," he said.

According to Coleman, serendipity can also be applied in the academic world.

"Students often go to college for one reason and remain for another. When they spend most of every day playing pinball, they plainly do not know where they are," he said.

"Only in the perspective of years do any of us know where we have been and then not for sure."

SAIGON, South Viet Nam -- Communist gunfire has wounded two American flyers and hit four U.S. Army and Marine helicopters as Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara toured South Viet Nam's sprawling guerrilla war zones.

Three of 24 helicopters were hit by guerrilla fire from foxholes and huts as the helicopters carried out support missions and airlifted Vietnamesi infantrymen. Only one helicopter was forced to land, but reserve Vietnamese troops were landed from other copers and they stood guard while repairs were made.

The fighting took place in the southern tip of the country on Wednesday and Thursday.

McNamara, with note book and maps in hand, visited American military advisors at training camps and villages in an area about 300 miles northeast of Saigon.

MOSCOW -- Premier Khrushchev claimed Thursday no American rockets have ever hit the moon, although he did not mention by name Ranger IV which the United States announced hit the far side of the moon April 26.

ALGIERS -- Secret Army Organization gunmen slaughtered nine Moslem women in Thursday's campaign of terror. The knife killing of two European women at Bida, blamed on Moslem s, led security officials to fear new fury from the secret army attacks on the veiled, white-robed Moslem women.

KARLSRUHE, Germany -- The West German Supreme Court Thursday sentenced Harold N. Borger, an American, to 30 months in prison for giving the Communists defense secrets, that he gleaned from American service personnel he befriended.

WASHINGTON -- Dwight D. Eisenhower Thursday warned against the expansion of presidential power. Eisenhower said President Kennedy is asking too much power to cut income taxes, to start public works rolling and "to regiment all agriculture." The former president was in Washington for a periodic health checkup.

WASHINGTON -- Secretary of Welfare Abraham Ribicoff has called for the American Medical Association to quit "hurling silly charges" at him and "make up its mind about the doctors' revolt in New Jersey."

WASHINGTON -- The House Space Committee allled $116 million from the administration's budget for space exploration in the coming year, approving a total of $3.67 billion. Major cut came in the Nova program for development of booster rocket to land a man on the moon.

WASHINGTON -- Space agency officials say the U.S. nuclear test series won't conflict with Astronaut Malcolm Scott Carpenter's space flight if he makes the trip in May or early June as planned. However, the high-altitude nuclear tests planned for late June and July will have priority over Project Mercury.

Nuclear shots in the peephole series are being exploded the atmosphere and the radiation from them is remaining far below the path of a orbiting Mercury craft.

NEWBURGH, New York -- Charges, that the National Broadcasting Company paid label fees to set a weeping role on a nationally televised documentary of Newburgh's welfare crackdown were voiced by the city manager who has a tape recording of which the laborer admitted he was paid and rehearsed.

Newhouse said the laborer has signed an affidavit repudiating the recording. NBC further stated that after the program "Battle of Newburgh," a star member gave the laborer $5 out of sympathy.

The welfare crackdown plan, which stirred national wide controversy would have cut off aid to unwed mother and would have required able-bodied men to work 40 hours a week for the city.

WASHINGTON -- President Kennedy personally announced Thursday to hundreds of foreign students attending Washington area colleges that Mrs. Kennedy is in be with a cold.

The First Lady was scheduled to accompany her husband in greeting the students at a garden party in the south grounds of the White House.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. -- Vice L. Smith, Robinson newspaper publisher, was Thursday re-elected as chairman of the Republican State Central Committee for a four-year term.

Babe Ruth’s Batting Average Takes An Electronic Beating

By Ernie Heltsley

Babe Ruth is hitting only .200 nowadays!

He went for 5 in a mythical game played at the computing center recently, but his team still won 10-3. Ruth of course, had help from great players such as Stan Musial, Hank Greenberg, and Joe DiMaggio.

You can play baseball, blackjack, Chinese ring puzzle, tic-tac-toe and a question and answer game on the IBM 1620 digital computer. And you may also listen to music from rock’ n’ roll to Beethoven on the IBM 1401 machine, says William F. Blosse, manager of the computer center.

Some games, played as exercises in programming techniques, are created by SU people and others come from the program library made up of a collection from IBM users throughout the country.

The baseball game is played by first feeding IBM cards of information into the reader machine. When the computer machine receives the information, you pick your team, and the computer picks the opponents. The computer then reads your team's card and the computer's card and compares the results, and feeds the results back to you.

We held food hopes of being able today to congratulate the student body for some sort of grand turn-out in the campus elections Monday and Tuesday. But the total vote of 2,124 cast by SIU's 9,870 students can hardly be called anything short of poor. That's only 21.5 percent out of 10,000 possible votes. That's is more than a shame that all didn't.

On the brighter side, 317 more votes were cast this year over last, and there were big improvements in certain areas. Total one with total enrollment figures, the election this year saw a three percent increase in student voting. 1,034 graduate students cast 21.5 percent of the total vote. Class of 1962 accounted for only 19 votes; this year, 1,154 cast 111.

(Incrementing graduate student figures from those non-supporters are the first to blame for student government sometimes not being as effective as we would and should like be. Voting, as must be constantly noted, is a basic responsibility in any sort of democratic government.

But the elections this year were an improvement over last year's, and for that we should and we hasten to add our thanks and appreciation to the members of student government who worked quite hard toward making the election a success. With the two days of voting opportunity and the many polling places available, every student surely had the chance to vote. It was more than a shame that all didn't.

SIU Vs. Western Illinois In Weekend IIAC Series

SIU's league leading baseball team travels to Western Illinois this weekend for a three game interstate conference series that could push the Salukis farther in front of the second place Central Michigan.

Coach Glenn Martin's Salukis sport a 6-1 interstate conference record while Central Michigan is in second place with a 7-4 slate. SIU stands 12-11 for the season including six straight victories.

Western Illinois is in last place of the conference but Martin warns, "they're always tough at home and we'll have to guard against an upset."

If Southern's baseball team wins at Western it will be the first time that a SIU team has won at Macomb. Both Southern's football and basketball lost its games to the Western Leathernecks.

Pitching for Southern in the series will be the usual lineup of Harry Gurley, Larry Tucker and Jim Woods. Gurley is expected to pitch today's opener. Tucker probably will hurl tomorrow's nightcap.

Southern in scoring 23 runs in three games against Eastern Illinois, snapped a season-long hitting slump which had enabled only Bob Hardcastle to own a .300 hitting average. Hardcastle soon may be joined by teammates Mel Patton, John Settel and Duke Sutton.

In other conference action around the league second place Central Michigan travels to Eastern Illinois, and Eastern Illinois journeys to Northern Illinois to fight it out for third place in the race. Fifth place Illinois State is idle in conference action.

New Basketball Coach Started Out As A Professional Football Player

SIU's new basketball coach started out to be a professional football coach.

In fact, Jack Hartman is the only professional football player that SIU has ever had. Hartman played quarterback on a Canadian professional football team for one year before changing his mind.

"I gave up professional football because it was too rough and too much travel," Hartman told "The Egyptian" in a telephone interview from his Coffeyville (Kan.) home.

"It took me away from my family too often so I decided to begin coaching."

Hartman had lettered in basketball two years at Oklahoma State before he was selected as coach of the North team in the annual junior college All-Star game and twice was selected as coach of the West squad in the All-American high school East-West game.

Hartman journeyed to Illinois State and won Mississippi Valley schools.

"I consider this a tremendous opportunity and a real compliment," Hartman said. "I feel SIU has tremendous potential and that the basketball job here offers a real challenge with obstacles."

At Coffeyville, he compiled a record of 130-46 in his seven years and is anxiously looking forward to coming back to SIU. He is not a stranger to Illinois.

"He has been coming back all season to recruit his players. Some of my best boys have come from Illinois," Hartman told "The Egyptian." "I hope to bring some of my better boys back with me."

Hartman was chosen three times to coach the North team in the annual junior college All-Star game and twice was selected as coach of the West squad in the All-American high school East-West game. Hartman is a graduate of Oklahoma State where he was an outstanding quarterback and won Missouri Valley conference honors at quarterback.

"He was an outstanding basketball player," Hartman is married and has three daughters.

HARRY GURLEY

Hartman has been described as a defensive minded coach with an exciting fast-breaking offense. With his fast break offense, he should fit with SIU's basketball team of last season that also concentrated on the fast break.

He has been considered for several years as one of the better junior college coaches in America and received the endorsement of some leading coaches in the country, including three from Missouri Valley schools.

At Coffeyville, he compiled a record of 130-46 in his seven years and is anxiously looking forward to coming back to SIU. He is not a stranger to Illinois.

"He has been coming back all season to recruit his players. Some of my best boys have come from Illinois," Hartman told "The Egyptian." "I hope to bring some of my better boys back with me."

Hartman was chosen three times to coach the North team in the annual junior college All-Star game and twice was selected as coach of the West squad in the All-American high school East-West game.
Track Team In Final Home Appearance Sat.

The SIU track team makes its final home appearance of the 1962 season Saturday night when Big Eight conference member Oklahoma State calls at McAndrew Stadium for a 7:30 p.m. meet.

Oklahoma State is another of the nation's top track teams and are favored to beat the Salukis. But SIU coach Lew Hartzog feels his boys have a much better chance against Oklahoma State than they did against Kansas.

Tennis Team
In Three-Way Indiana Meet

SIU joins Western Michigan at Notre Dame this weekend for a triangular tennis meet in South Bend, Ind. Coach Dick LeFevre's men are fresh from a 6-2 win over St. Louis University.

Western Michigan has been tough in recent years and LeFevre anticipates some trouble against Western Michigan. Notre Dame is also formidable but do not present as much of a challenge as the Western Michigan.

Pacho Castillo and John Geremich have been the individual standouts for the Salukis in recent meets.

Golf Team Defeats
Evansville, 15-0

SIU won its 14th golf match of the season Wednesday at Evansville by blanking Evansville College, 15-0. It was the Salukis third straight win.

The Salukis next match is scheduled for Monday when they travel to St. Louis for a match with the Washington University Bears.

Coach Lynn Holder was well-pleased with his boys scores in the recent match. "The boys are getting down in the low 70's where they will have to be if we are to win the conference championship," he said.

Bill Barnett and Leon McNair both shot a 71, one above par. Jim Place shot a 72, while other Saluki scores were Gene Carello with a 74 and Roy Gish with a 77.

Hartzog was well-pleased with performances turned in by his squad against Kansas in the 73-57 loss.

"We still can do better and we're hoping to slice a couple of seconds and add a few feet in several events before next week's conference meet."

Bill Cornell's 4:02.8 effort in the mile has been accepted as one of the finest all-time performances by a SIU runner. His win over Kansas' Bill Dotson was the feature of last week's meet and Cornell's mere scheduled participation Saturday is expected to draw another record crowd.

Having lowered his best previous mile effort by 5.6 seconds, Cornell now figures to be a serious threat to smashing the four-minute mark every time he competes.

His chief competition this week is expected to come from teammate Brian Turner, who turned in a 4:03.4 effort against Kansas, and Oklahoma State's Dan Metcalfe who is capable of pulling an upset over Southern's duo.

National AAU half-mile champ, Jim Dupree is also expected to face stiff opposition from the Cowboys Billy Stone. Stone was timed last season at 1:50.4 in the Big Eight Conference championships but Hartzog says he is capable of going much faster than that.

In last week's meet with Kansas Jim Stewart's winning time in the 220-yard dash was a new SIU record. Stewart's time of 21.3 seconds bettered the old record by one-hundredth of a second set by Charles Struss in 1936 and Eugene Payton in 1937.

Also in a freshmen postal card track meet with Kansas, SIU's outstanding shot putter George Woods set a new stadium record with a toss of 55 feet eight and 3/4 inches.
