Marketing Management Units To Merge Into One Department

Business Dean Says Shift Parallels National Trend

The Departments of Marketing and Management in the School of Business are being combined into a single unit to be known as the Department of Business Administration. Head of the department, Dr. H. Rehn, dean of the School of Business, notified his faculty members of the change in a recently circulated memorandum.

Garnett to Speak On T. E. Lawrence

Sir Thomas Lawrence, popularly known as "Lawrence of Arabia," will be the lecture topic of David Garnett, an English author currently in residence on the SIU campus. The lecture is tonight in Main Library Auditorium.

The editor of Lawrence's letters, Garnett, will deliver the second in a series of 12 lectures on the public figure. "Author of many books, Garnett is probably best known in this country for his latest volume, "Two Years in Egypt.""

The series of lectures is sponsored by the SIU Department of English.

SIU Pilots Patrolling Fire Area

Two SIU students are making regular fire patrol flights over the Shawnee National Forest area in Southern Illinois.

They are Stanley E. Newman, a sophomore from Louisville, Ill., and Al L. Goodwin, a junior from Harrisburg. Both are in the School of Business.

Newman said they average flying approximately 10 a day and have been flying about five days a week.

"And we've spotted plenty of fires," he said.

As an airborne fire watchman in the Shawnee National Forest, Goodwin works for the government, which is under contract to the federal government to provide air patrols.

Both students have been flying fire patrols since Oct. 1, Newman said. But activity has picked up considerably since drought conditions in the southern part of the state have increased.

When a fire is spotted from a patrol aircraft, a special frequency radio is used to contact fire control centers at four towns in the Shawnee National Forest. The towns are Murphysboro, Jonesboro, Elizabethville and Vienna.

Flights are scheduled at the time when humidity is low and fire potential high. The Forest Service of the U. S. Department of Agriculture sends the daily reports of fire potential. Newman said he learned to fly after coming to SIU two years ago. He said Goodwin had some previous experience before enrolling here.

Parents Activities Start at 8 Friday

A weekend of activities to honor parents of SIU students will begin Friday with an appearance of the Chad Mitchell Trio at 8 p.m. in the Arena.

Door Council Urges That Housing Office Reduce Overassignment Quota by Half

The Residence Halls Council has recommended to the Housing Office that in the future the overassignment quota be cut in half, from 10 per cent to five per cent.

Sugestion for Future

The Residence Halls Council has recommended to the Housing Office that in the future the overassignment quota be cut in half, from 10 per cent to five per cent. Suggestions have also been made that overassigned residents be notified in writing before they sign their contracts and that they be reimbursed if they are required to live in temporary quarters more than two weeks. The proposals, drawn up by a special committee, have been forwarded to J. Albin Yokie, coordinator of housing, and James Beem, president of the council.

Yokie declined to comment on the proposals Wednesday, saying that he had not received his copy of the proposal.

No student shall be required to share his room with over-assigned students if he has agreed in writing to accept the conditions specifically stated in his contract.

75 Resident Fellows Are Sought

The Housing Office today announced procedures for applying for positions for the 1965-66 academic year. Seventy-five positions are available, approximately half of them in the new University Park.

Applicants are now available at the Housing Office, along with information on the qualifications and re-conditions of the positions. These applications must be returned to the Housing Office no later than Dec. 19.

Residents fellows must be seniors or graduate students who have a grade point average of 3.5 or better. In addition, they must be socially and emotionally mature.

Determination of the qualifications will be made at a series of screenings beginning Jan. 9. During the first screening period, applicants will appear before boards established by area heads. Each board will see about one-fourth of the applicants. A committee will evaluate board findings. Acceptable applicants will then be notified of their rejection or competitive acceptance.

A second screening, during which applicants are judged in various social situations, will be held between Jan. 25 and Feb. 6. Area heads will submit to the Housing Office the names of the applicants accepted, along with competitive dates. Final selection will be made by the office of Student Affairs by Feb. 25.

Those selected as resident fellows must take Higher Education 402 during the spring quarter, 1965. During their period of service, they will not be allowed to hold any other employment, whether assistant-ship or student job.

Resident fellows receive one-hour per week in residence, which is equivalent to approximately $900 to $950 per year. The period of service begins one week before the opening of fall quarter classes and ends one day after commencement.

Gus Bode

Gus says when the Office of Student Affairs bans motor scooters he'll be ready to go with his pogo stick.
Computer Dates, Pole Climbing
All a Part of U.S. College

Throughout the world, college students have a certain amount of notoriety for being mischievous, constantly on the lookout for something different to do.

At SIU, one of the favorite pastimes is painting the "ole girl" and the "ole separator" that rests in front of Old Main. Other students get their "ticks" by cutting queen con­testant pictures off posters. However, with all its going on elsewhere, the authorities at Northern Illinois University, DeKalb, according to the Northern Star, recently criticized students for climbing the high tree on the campus.

Insulted by the authorities, who were convinced that a student would fall off a tree and get hurt, the "schoo gang" decided to climb something bigger and something.

The object of the students' nocturnal prowling turned to a construction site near the campus, where the students 196-foot high boom on a work crane.

At the University of Texas in Austin, the Daily Texan reports: game.

Another story from the University of Texas concerns the monopoly on student (or faculty) antics. Here are some of the stories.

A chemistry professor at The University of Texas last week, upon blowing up the chemistry building, reached to the top of the highest landmark in town, the Old Main Tower, for powder. He then ordered his students to fetch a new door lock.

The patient professor, who had an early morning class, had to climb to the top of the tower to change the lock on the doors and distribute new keys.

The student, who was an editor of the student newspaper, had been seen climbing a building. However, he was never arrested. The new door locks were installed the next day without the instructor receiving his shiny new keys.

One of the restrictions of the party is that no glass shall be brought inside the building. The exception is that liquor in glasses except in the form of liquor in glasses except in the form of liquor in glasses is allowed. The exception is that liquor in glasses except in the form of liquor in glasses is allowed.

One of the restrictions of the party is that no glass shall be brought inside the building. The exception is that liquor in glasses except in the form of liquor in glasses is allowed. The exception is that liquor in glasses except in the form of liquor in glasses is allowed.

The group enables student members to make friends, try new activities and become acquainted with other women.

The party theme is "Let's Get Acquainted.

Mrs. Robert Ashworth is in charge of the program. She will be assisted by Mrs. John Ford, Mrs. William Quick, Mrs. Lawrence Intravaia, and Mrs. David Luck, Mrs. Douglas Carter and Mrs. Leo Aspinwall, chairman and members.

The SIU Newcomers Club is planning a party at 8 tonight in the Family Living Lounge of the Home Economics building.

The party theme is "Let's Get Acquainted.

Mrs. Robert Ashworth is in charge of the program. She will be assisted by Mrs. John Ford, Mrs. William Quick, Mrs. Lawrence Intravaia, and Mrs. David Luck, Mrs. Douglas Carter and Mrs. Leo Aspinwall, chairman and members.

The SIU Newcomers Club Schedules Party

The SIU Newcomers Club is planning a party at 8 tonight in the Family Living Lounge of the Home Economics building.

The party theme is "Let's Get Acquainted.

Mrs. Robert Ashworth is in charge of the program. She will be assisted by Mrs. John Ford, Mrs. William Quick, Mrs. Lawrence Intravaia, and Mrs. David Luck, Mrs. Douglas Carter and Mrs. Leo Aspinwall, chairman and members.

The SIU Newcomers Club is planning a party at 8 tonight in the Family Living Lounge of the Home Economics building.

The party theme is "Let's Get Acquainted.

Mrs. Robert Ashworth is in charge of the program. She will be assisted by Mrs. John Ford, Mrs. William Quick, Mrs. Lawrence Intravaia, and Mrs. David Luck, Mrs. Douglas Carter and Mrs. Leo Aspinwall, chairman and members.

The SIU Newcomers Club is planning a party at 8 tonight in the Family Living Lounge of the Home Economics building.

The party theme is "Let's Get Acquainted.

Mrs. Robert Ashworth is in charge of the program. She will be assisted by Mrs. John Ford, Mrs. William Quick, Mrs. Lawrence Intravaia, and Mrs. David Luck, Mrs. Douglas Carter and Mrs. Leo Aspinwall, chairman and members.

The SIU Newcomers Club is planning a party at 8 tonight in the Family Living Lounge of the Home Economics building.

The party theme is "Let's Get Acquainted.

Mrs. Robert Ashworth is in charge of the program. She will be assisted by Mrs. John Ford, Mrs. William Quick, Mrs. Lawrence Intravaia, and Mrs. David Luck, Mrs. Douglas Carter and Mrs. Leo Aspinwall, chairman and members.

The SIU Newcomers Club is planning a party at 8 tonight in the Family Living Lounge of the Home Economics building.

The party theme is "Let's Get Acquainted.

Mrs. Robert Ashworth is in charge of the program. She will be assisted by Mrs. John Ford, Mrs. William Quick, Mrs. Lawrence Intravaia, and Mrs. David Luck, Mrs. Douglas Carter and Mrs. Leo Aspinwall, chairman and members.

The SIU Newcomers Club is planning a party at 8 tonight in the Family Living Lounge of the Home Economics building.

The party theme is "Let's Get Acquainted.

Mrs. Robert Ashworth is in charge of the program. She will be assisted by Mrs. John Ford, Mrs. William Quick, Mrs. Lawrence Intravaia, and Mrs. David Luck, Mrs. Douglas Carter and Mrs. Leo Aspinwall, chairman and members.

The SIU Newcomers Club is planning a party at 8 tonight in the Family Living Lounge of the Home Economics building.

The party theme is "Let's Get Acquainted.

Mrs. Robert Ashworth is in charge of the program. She will be assisted by Mrs. John Ford, Mrs. William Quick, Mrs. Lawrence Intravaia, and Mrs. David Luck, Mrs. Douglas Carter and Mrs. Leo Aspinwall, chairman and members.
Activities

Interpreter’s Theater,
Alpha Zeta Will Meet

Alpha Zeta meets at 10 a.m. in the Agriculture Seminar Room.

Inter-Varsity Christian Fellowship meets at 11 a.m. in Room B, University Center.

Interpreter’s Theater meets at 1 p.m. in the Martin Library Auditorium and at 6:30 p.m. at the Studio Theatre.

The Women’s Recreation Association Hockey Team meets at 4 p.m. on the Park Street Field.

A Modern Dance Club will meet at 4 p.m. in the small gymnasium.

The Student Non-Violent Freedom Committee meets at 7 p.m. in Room D, University Center.

The University Women’s new-comers Club will meet at 8 p.m. in the Family Living Economics Building.

The University Special Program Board Educations

Lawn Spray Puts Cyclists

In Fog, Makes Coeds Scurry

This is dedicated to the controller of the built-in lawn sprayer north of the Agriculture Building.

This person evidently comes to work about 8 a.m. daily. When the lawn requires water, he (or she?) heads for the valve and proceeds to turn same.

The results are often interesting.

The spray system is underground, and only the spray head comes up for the grass. One hardly notices them—unimportant until turned on.

This can be startling. The spray heads to watch are those and two seconds later the sidewalk.

Observe the pedestrians who are scurrying to make their way.

Symphony to Play

In Shryock Tonight

The University Little Symphony, under the direction of William A. Bensheimer, will present a concert at 8 p.m. today in Shryock Auditorium.

Selections include folk songs, religious chanted Christmas carols and village dance music, all by Liselot, Samuel Floyd will conduct.

Other numbers are “Pavan Pour Une Infante Debutante” by Ravel, Eugene Hass conductor; Concert Piece for Bassoon and Strings by Phillips; Lawrence Ingravia soloist; and Symphony No. 104 in D Major (“London”) by Haydn.

Ag Econ Group Plans Anna Trip

The Agricultural Economics Club is planning a shopping expedition in Anna this Saturday to attend a Kiwanis Club dinner meeting and to tour two local industries, the Bunsy Bread Bakery and the Florsheim Shoe factory.

A $2 fee, which will include the dinner, may be paid to any member of the club or at the Department of Agriculture Industries office. A bus will leave the Agriculture Building at 3 p.m. and return about 9:30 p.m. Interested persons are invited to take part.

Radio to Feature

Three Composers

Bruch, Stravinsky and Debussy will be the featured composers on Concert Hall at 3:30 p.m. on WSIU Radio.

Other highlights:

10 a.m. Story Behind the Theater: “The Casting Director and the Agent.”
12:45 p.m. Page Two: Editorials from leading American newspapers.
2:30 p.m. Flashbacks in History.
5:30 p.m. News Report.

8:30 p.m. Concert Festival; The 1963 Budapest Music Weeks Festival with the Hungarian State Orchestra.

11 p.m. Moonlight Serenade.

\\

ON CAMPUS!

Imported gifts

The Museum Shop

Altgeld Hall, Open 9 - 5

The news is knit...new weaves, new textures, new colors...wonderfully wearable...wonderfully practical for your active life...your leisure hours...choose our knitting for this fall.

DIAMOND BILLS

Budget Terms
Free ABC Booklets
On Diamond Buying
INCOMPARABLE price
watch, jewelry.
slaved
reconditioning

2 - 5 Day SERVICE

Lungwitz Jewelers

ACROSS FROM CAMPUS
SHOPPING CENTER
411 S. Illinois

LITTLE MAN ON CAMPUS

HENDERSON WASN'T ACCUTED TO WELL AS HAVING TEACH YOUR SECTIONS OF REMEDIAL ENGLISH.

 Northwest Passage 'Featured

On WSIU Television Tonight

Spencer Tracy, Robert Young and Walter Brennan star in “Northwest Passage” at 8:30 p.m. on WSIU-TV. This is a historical film of the tragic adventures of an expedition searching for a passage to the Northwes.

Other program highlights are:

5 p.m. What’s New: Grizzly bears

7:30 p.m. Bold Journey: Auto races

Glee Club to Sing

At Convocations

The Male Glee Club of SIU will perform at both the 10 o'clock and 1 o'clock Freshman Convocations today.

The group, directed by Robert Killian, will sing pieces ranging from Bach’s “Mighty Fortress” to a Kirk arrangement of “This is a Little Wheel-a-Turnin’”.

Two members of the group will perform solos. Doug Holgrove, singing “F’ll,” and Larry Huggenborn, singing “Danny Boy.”

A minstrel medley including “Swanne,” “Rufus Ran, Johnson Brown” and “Waitin” for the Robert E. Lee” will move the concert to a faster pace.

Other numbers on the program include “Twilight on the Trail,” “Little Lita Jane,” “Schubert’s "Lieber” and "Die Nacht.

Today's Paper

The news is knit...new weaves, new textures, new colors...wonderfully wearable...wonderfully practical for your active life...your leisure hours...choose our knitting for this fall.

The book I want

for the fashion-conscious cord

711 South University Avenue

Page 3
Letters to the Editor

Jazz Trio Deserved A Better Audience

The Mitchell-Ruff trio was great -- the students who at tended last Thursday morning's performance were terrible!

Whenever an audience at tends a performance by musicians--or any other entertainers--they are doing more than just looking and listening. They are entering into an un written and age-old contract

'Jumping at U. of I.'

Real Sophisticated

-I Like Eyeshadow

I wouldn't want to call this letter a letter, but more like a comment that--it's merely a point of view. The context of this view is this: The campus-wide attitude crystallized in your editor ial says entitled "Jumping at U. of I.," implies a level of sophistication, for SUU students which stops at the level of eyeshadow and button-down collars.

Of course there ought to be a pride here. In most cases it is quite justified. But shouldn't there also be a sense of humor. You are all so disagreeably at Craig Macintosh's cartoon should also like the comics of their own! Come on, don't you see? Mr. Mac's cartoon was just plain and simple, straight and honest, funny?

For me, I would much rather like this cartoon to the inconsiderate stillness of being so formal and stuffy, yet so quiet when fighting. Golly, guys, smile.

Dick Barton

OK, it was funny. Ho, ho, ho.

Activities Make Complete Man

--And Student

In reference to Mr. Mc Collum's letter of Nov. 3, it is only logical to ask how he can expect to gain full his education from books! In order to learn that you must be an incomplete individual. One who will have little or nothing to offer the society in which he or she may choose to live.

I would like to draw Mr. McCollum's attention to your editorial comments in the upper right hand corner of the page of the Daily Egyptian which held Mr. McCollum's letter.

Apathy is like a cancer! It begins in some small hidden area and grows with amazing speed.

Martin Jacobs

Ivy Towers Troubled

Modern College Presidency Is To Place for Educator

By Robert M. Hutchins

Several correspondents have attacked me for remarking that a good man could accept a university presidency if he is ignorant and that, if he knew what a university presidency was like and still took the job, he could not be good.

Some of my friends have stopped to a personal argu ment that they have pointed out that when I became a university president, I new exactly what the job was like. There fore, I must have been a bad man.

The argument, though offensive, is correct. My father was a college president. When I became one, I had been an officer of Yale for many years, and I had been an "interim," in a manner of speaking, for a university presidency most of my life. I had seen what my father was up against, and I was familiar with the most intimate problems of the president of Yale.

But I was a bad man. Without listing the full panoply of my vices, I may refer to the one most pertinent here, which was vanity; I believed the reason why my father and the president of Yale fared no better was that they were not as bright as I was.

I am not driven to ex aggerate my own abilities, and so I could not see that the one most pertinent here, which was, as a matter of fact, far higher than mine. These problems were inher ent in the job, and they made the job impossible.

The principal problem derives from the public mis-conception of a university college or university is that the excellent standards that result from it. A college or university is important only in the way in which it differs from a business corporation, that is, because it generates education and scholarship. A university president should appraise all his time on education and scholarship. Actually he spends the time like other business executives and is judged like them by his balance and his public relations.

All this was bad enough 35 years ago, when I became a university president. It was worse 10 years ago, when I folded up, what was left of my balance and public relations. I had walked into a world which I implied a level of sophisticated, for SUU students which stops at the level of eyeshadow and button-down collars.

Of course there ought to be a pride here. In most cases it is quite justified. But shouldn't there also be a sense of humor. You are all so disagreeably at Craig Macintosh's cartoon should also like the comics of their own! Come on, don't you see? Mr. Mac's cartoon was just plain and simple, straight and honest, funny?

For me, I would much rather like this cartoon to the inconsiderate stillness of being so formal and stuffy, yet so quiet when fighting. Golly, guys, smile.

Dick Barton

OK, it was funny. Ho, ho, ho.

Activities Make Complete Man

--And Student

In reference to Mr. Mc Collum's letter of Nov. 3, it is only logical to ask how he can expect to gain full his education from books! In order to learn that you must be an incomplete individual. One who will have little or nothing to offer the society in which he or she may choose to live.

I would like to draw Mr. McCollum's attention to your editorial comments in the upper right hand corner of the page of the Daily Egyptian which held Mr. McCollum's letter.

Apathy is like a cancer! It begins in some small hidden area and grows with amazing speed.

Martin Jacobs

Ivy Towers Troubled

Modern College Presidency Is To Place for Educator

By Robert M. Hutchins

Several correspondents have attacked me for remarking that a good man could accept a university presidency if he is ignorant and that, if he knew what a university presidency was like and still took the job, he could not be good.

Some of my friends have stopped to a personal argu ment that they have pointed out that when I became a university president, I new exactly what the job was like. There fore, I must have been a bad man.

The argument, though offensive, is correct. My father was a college president. When I became one, I had been an officer of Yale for many years, and I had been an "interim," in a manner of speaking, for a university presidency most of my life. I had seen what my father was up against, and I was familiar with the most intimate problems of the president of Yale.

But I was a bad man. Without listing the full panoply of my vices, I may refer to the one most pertinent here, which was vanity; I believed the reason why my father and the president of Yale fared no better was that they were not as bright as I was.

I am not driven to ex aggerate my own abilities, and so I could not see that the one most pertinent here, which was, as a matter of fact, far higher than mine. These problems were inher ent in the job, and they made the job impossible.

The principal problem derives from the public mis-conception of a university college or university is that the excellent standards that result from it. A college or university is important only in the way in which it differs from a business corporation, that is, because it generates education and scholarship. A university president should appraise all his time on education and scholarship. Actually he spends the time like other business executives and is judged like them by his balance and his public relations.

All this was bad enough 35 years ago, when I became a university president. It was worse 10 years ago, when I folded up, what was left of my balance and public relations. I had walked into a world which I...
At SIU

The Doors To Knowledge

Open Wide

Music Pours Forth From Altgeld . . .

And Old Main Looks Darkly at History . . .

At Allyn They Open on the Secrets of Art . . .

Shryock's Doors Lead to Culture and Entertainment

But All Require a Push From the Student to Be Effective
Japanese Leftists Protest Visit of Sub

SAEBO, Japan (AP) — The nuclear-powered U.S. submarine Sea Dragon, first of its kind to visit the only nation ever attacked with atomic bombs, tied up at this tense southern Japanese port today. Thousands of leftists promptly began demonstrations.

The 2,532-ton Sea Dragon anchored in the big U.S. Navy area of Sasebo harbor, where a thousand socialist demonstrators started a march against the base, guarded by 1,000 Japanese riot police, with 2,000 more waiting in reserve. Hundreds of other demonstrators poured into the city of 282,000 just 35 miles from Nagasaki, atom-bombed just before the end of World War II.

Demonstrators came on every bus and train and more were trucked in by Socialists, Communists and leftist labor unions.

The street protests and threats of a nationwide strike presented the three-day-old government of Prime Minister Sato of the three-day recreational visit.

Sato's leaders accused the government of former Prime Minister Hayato Ikeda and Sato of using the visits of nuclear-powered submarines as first step in a campaign to introduce nuclear arms into Japan.

Both U.S. and Japanese authorities have repeatedly assured the atom-fearing Japanese that the Sea Dragon does not carry nuclear weapons and that its nuclear power plant does not constitute a radiation hazard to Japanese waters.

Socialist leaders predicted they would have 10,000 demonstrators in Sasebo by early afternoon. Police estimated they would be joined by 1,500 Communists, 4,000 leftist unionists, and 800 to 1,000 members of the leftist Zengakuren students association.

Japan agreed Aug. 28 to allow U.S. nuclear submarines to dock in Sasebo and Yokosuka, another 7th Fleet port, provided the vessels carried no nuclear weapons.

The Sea Dragon is on a three-day recreational visit. Socialist and Communist leaders accused the government of former Prime Minister Hayato Ikeda and Sato of using the visits of nuclear-powered submarines as first step in a campaign to introduce nuclear arms into Japan.

Both U.S. and Japanese authorities have repeatedly assured the atom-fearing Japanese that the Sea Dragon does not carry nuclear weapons and that its nuclear power plant does not constitute a radiation hazard to Japanese waters.

Socialist leaders predicted they would have 10,000 demonstrators in Sasebo by early afternoon. Police estimated they would be joined by 1,500 Communists, 4,000 leftist unionists, and 800 to 1,000 members of the leftist Zengakuren students association.

Draft Exemption Peddlers Found in Viet Government

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—A draft scandal showed up Wednesday among flood relief, political and other problems besetting South Viet Nam.

Police sources said they uncovered a ring, involving officials in the former government of Maj. Gen. Nguyen Khanh, that has sold exemption papers to Vietnamese youths conscripted for military service against the Communist Viet Cong.

The price for avoidance of duty in the U.S.-advised army forces, they said, ranged from the equivalent of $750 to $1,500. That would be enough for peasants, but within the means of wealthy families.

Send the Folks the Daily Egyptian

IN THIS BOX, GIVE INFORMATION ABOUT THE PERSON WHO WILL RECEIVE THE PAPER

Name: ____________________________
Address: _________________________
City: __________________ Zone: ___ State: ___

Paid by: __________________________
Address: _________________________
City: __________________ Zone: ___ State: ___ 11/12

Mail Completed Coupon with Remittance to:

DAILY EGYPTIAN
Circulation Dept.
Blg. T 48
Southern Illinois University
Carbondale, Ill.

GET READY FOR SOME REAL ARM-TWISTING

Johnson, Dillon Map Repeal Of Excises

JOHNSON CITY, Tex. (AP) — President Johnson decided Wednesday to seek repeal next year of $550 million of excise taxes on retail purchases and to consider reductions in scores of other excises.

Johnson made the decision at a conference at his ranch home with Secretary of the Treasury Douglas Dillon. Later, Dillon reported on Administration tax plans at a news conference at the White House press center in Austin, 65 miles away.

Dillon said Johnson will seek repeal of all excise taxes imposed on tobacco, alcohol, jewelry, furs, luggage and handbags. Any tax now expected to produce $10 per cent of the purchase price of such goods and have been in effect since the Korean War or longer.

Dillon said Johnson wants to assess the economic outlook later in the year before making a final decision on the scope of the tax cuts, which would be expected to go into effect next July 1.

Dillon predicted that the tax cut proposals will represent a “rather easy bill to pass,” and that the administration’s biggest problem may be to persuade Congress not to increase its size.

Dillon also said he discussed with Johnson forthcoming tax proposals aimed at improving the climate for foreign investment in the United States, and at ending certain abuses by tax-exempt foundations.

With Dillon and Secretary of Commerce Luther H. Hodges, Johnson wound up the first of a series of Cabinet-level conferences to give him a sweeping post election look at domestic and foreign problems and policies. Secretary of State Dean Rusk and Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara were in Tuesday.

President and Mrs. Johnson switched to personal diplomacy today and become hosts to President-elect Gustavo Diaz Ordaz of Mexico and his wife.

Dillon and his wife flew to the LBJ Ranch from Hobe Sound, Fla., Wednesday morning and were invited to remain overnight.

Universities Group Hits ‘Tax Credit’

WASHINGTON (AP) — The annual convention of the Association of State Universities and Land Grant Colleges Wednesday expressed strong opposition to the proposed “tax credit plan” which is expected to be introduced again in the next session of Congress.

The proposed plan would permit parents to deduct from their federal tax bill a portion of the cost of tuition, room, board and fees, books and supplies, spent for their children in college.

The association says this would cost the government $1.25 billion annually in tax money “to help those who need it least.”

At a business session on the last day of the annual convention, Dr. David D. Henry, president of the University of Illinois, was elected president of the association and Elmer Ellis, president of the University of Missouri, was named chairman of the executive committee.
The Over GOP of the bared heads of quiet Madison Square, six friends marched again near the Tomb of the Unknown Mortal of three unknown men who gave the last full measure of their devotion to our nation. The remnants of their bodies, victims of hate and their graves bear mute evidence of what man's basest instincts can do to his noblest urge. The graves of friends and brothers — slain soldiers, fallen fathers and comrades marching again Wednesday in the minds of Americans where they have never before been. The Thurmond tapped the bared heads of quiet Madison Square, six friends marched again near the Tomb of the Unknown Mortal of three unknown men who gave the last full measure of their devotion to our nation. The remnants of their bodies, victims of hate and their graves bear mute evidence of what man's basest instincts can do to his noblest urge. The graves of friends and brothers — slain soldiers, fallen fathers and comrades marching again Wednesday in the minds of Americans where they have never before been.

Some Pleased, Some Angry Over GOP Campaign Surplus

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Republican party, shaken by last week's election defeat, now has a new bone of contention: Finances.

Did the party show a whopping increase or just a tiny one? If so, what will it be used for? Republicans haven't more spent on the election Republican House and Senate candidates.

These are some of the questions being asked in the minds of Americans where they have never before been. The Thurmond tapped the bared heads of quiet Madison Square, six friends marched again near the Tomb of the Unknown Mortal of three unknown men who gave the last full measure of their devotion to our nation. The remnants of their bodies, victims of hate and their graves bear mute evidence of what man's basest instincts can do to his noblest urge. The graves of friends and brothers — slain soldiers, fallen fathers and comrades marching again Wednesday in the minds of Americans where they have never before been.

Some Pleased, Some Angry Over GOP Campaign Surplus

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Republican party, shaken by last week's election defeat, now has a new bone of contention: Finances.

Did the party show a whopping increase or just a tiny one? If so, what will it be used for? Republicans haven't more spent on the election Republican House and Senate candidates.

These are some of the questions being asked in the minds of Americans where they have never before been. The Thurmond tapped the bared heads of quiet Madison Square, six friends marched again near the Tomb of the Unknown Mortal of three unknown men who gave the last full measure of their devotion to our nation. The remnants of their bodies, victims of hate and their graves bear mute evidence of what man's basest instincts can do to his noblest urge. The graves of friends and brothers — slain soldiers, fallen fathers and comrades marching again Wednesday in the minds of Americans where they have never before been.

Some Pleased, Some Angry Over GOP Campaign Surplus

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Republican party, shaken by last week's election defeat, now has a new bone of contention: Finances.

Did the party show a whopping increase or just a tiny one? If so, what will it be used for? Republicans haven't more spent on the election Republican House and Senate candidates.

These are some of the questions being asked in the minds of Americans where they have never before been. The Thurmond tapped the bared heads of quiet Madison Square, six friends marched again near the Tomb of the Unknown Mortal of three unknown men who gave the last full measure of their devotion to our nation. The remnants of their bodies, victims of hate and their graves bear mute evidence of what man's basest instincts can do to his noblest urge. The graves of friends and brothers — slain soldiers, fallen fathers and comrades marching again Wednesday in the minds of Americans where they have never before been.
His most recent jaunt, an assignment as a State Department Specialist, took him through Finland, Denmark, England, Germany, and France. His assignment lasted from Sept. 7 to Oct. 32.

Although it was the main reason for his six-week trip was to inspect various European journalism schools, Long also found time to lecture on the use of U.S. election campaign types as part of the German and Irish press. Among the students he visited were the Social Science College at Tampere, Finland, the London Polytechnique Institute and the University ofarhus in Denmark. Long also visited the Finnish-American Society in Helsinki, Finland, and members of the Kentish-Branch Institute of Journalists at Canterbury.

While in Europe, Long consulted with professional journalists and editors who were interested in improving existing programs or starting new ones. Although fascinated by the tremendous enthusiasm they showed, "he said, "the exciting thing about it is that everyone connected with journalism is deeply concerned about improving it."

He indicated that the European journalists, who have a long, hard road ahead of them, but that they are progressing steadily, and have not, as of yet, tripped there every other year since 1958, a growing interest by European journalists and educators.

Long said that despite the programs, editors and publishers in both Finland and Germany are disillusioned with their training programs.

They complain, for instance, that although the students had a two-year training course have no real educational background and those who choose to take the four-year academic curriculum receive an inadequate amount of journalism training.

The only European school that offers a journalism program comparable to accredited programs in the United States is, in Long's opinion, the Social Science College at Tampere, Finland. Even it lacks adequate equipment, the benefit of good public relations and the respect of the Establishment, he said.

Through the efforts of the University of thoroughly, however, the schools are beginning to adopt methods used in teaching journalism in colleges and universities.

"They are asking for help," Long said. "The European government is quite interested in improving their schools.

Long said he was impressed with the tremendous grasp of journalism affairs in the United States. "It was amazing at how well-informed the students are, how professional and business people are concerning events in the United States and at their keen interest in our election issues," he commented.

Commendating the European press as being responsible for this interest, Long explained that it is caused by the European's knowledge that the future of his country is tied up with the policies of the United States.

The students' command of foreign languages made a lasting impression, Long said. "Not only were they able to understand my lectures without an interpreter," he said, "but they were able to ask intelligent questions. It was a real challenge."

In Finland, for instance, students can speak three languages and the university's library contains books in five languages, Long said.

"European students, by the nature of their method of selection for higher education, are more serious minded," Long said.

His observations led to his decision to "tighten up the department" when he returned. "I don't want to frighten students away," he said, "but I do want students need more foreign language."

"After all," he said, "the responsibility of the whole world is on the shoulders of the United States."

A basic difference in European schools, Long noted, is that such a different approach is taken toward student freedom.

"They aren't concerned with what a student does outside of class," he said. "He's on his own. He can drink beer or whatever else he wants to do."

Long told of the university cafeteria he ate in at Paris: "There was no line at the line," he said, "we were served a choice -- beer or wine."

He was even more surprised when he learned that in Finland the boys and girls were living next door to each other in the dormitories.

Specialist in Indian Justice Joins Anthropology Faculty

A man who has made an intensive study of the judicial systems of the American Indian was recently appointed a professor of anthropology.

Dr. B. MacLachlan, one-time research assistant in archaeology at SIU and for the past two years on the faculty of the University of Wyoming, Laramie, has been appointed assistant professor of anthropology.

MacLachlan has written numerous articles on Indian justice, law and order and scientific publications. In 1959-1960 he served with a U.S. Public Health Service-University of New Mexico research project investigating tribal courts on the Mescalero Apache Indian Reservation.

"Indian courts are much like justice of the peace courts, which many states are now abolishing," he said. "The tribal judge is so close to the people who come before him that it is difficult for him to be objective."

MacLachlan was born in Cambridge, England, and for a graduate of the University of Chicago, having received the bachelor of arts degree with general honors and a joint bachelor's degree in social science.

He spent the summer of 1955 as a research assistant with SIU's archaeological field crew working along the Cache River. Before going to the University of Wyoming faculty in 1956, he had taught at the University of Wisconsin-Madison, the University of Chicago and Beloit College.

Hanson to Attend Montreal Meeting

Earl T. Hanson, associate professor of government, will represent SIU at the Eighth Conference on World Affairs at McGill University, Montreal, Canada, Nov. 18-21.

Subject of this year's conference is disarmament and related problems.

Hanson spent last year as an exchange teacher at International Christian University in Tokyo. His position at SIU will also filled by Prof. Song specimen Chao of the Tokyo University.

Hanson teaches a course on national security, a subject closely related to the Montreal conference topic.

Art Prof Holds Exhibit

A one-man show of works of Nicholas Vetter, associate professor of art, has opened in the Premiere Art Gallery in Springfield, Ill. The exhibit, including paintings, prints, assemblages, lithographs, will run through Nov. 30.
Children's Plays Put on Southern Players Bill

Theater students at SIU are having a special audience for three plays on the 1964-65 bill at the campus Southern Playhouse.

The plays are produced by the Department of Theater for school children of the Carbondale area. The performances are sponsored by the Carbondale chapter of the American Association of University Women for the organization's scholarship fund.

Charlotte Chorpenning's "The Indian Captive" was the first of the children's theater series. Five matinee performances were given in October. "Marlin the Magnificent," written by a 1964 master's degree graduate of SIU, James C. Abrell, is scheduled for Dec. 1-11, and "Mr. Dooley, Jr." by Rose Frank- en, is planned for Jan. 15-22.

"The Indian Captive," was directed by Richard Johnson of Pocatello, Idaho, assisted by Marian Hennet.

By Roy Franke

Newlyweds Beverly Shahan is ruling in inside the bustling monosyllables her husband Bill is uttering these days.

Shahan may be engaging in any bit of normal English small talk whenever all at once a garbled flow of strange words and phrases pour from his mouth.

"We weren't aware of the cause of the garbled verballism. After 19-year-old husband is a product of one of SIU's three language laboratories where students are taught foreign tongues by a combination of human and machine instruction.

Unlike most of the 3,000 students who have recourse annually to the modernized mechanical self-teachers, Shahan isn't trying to master one language—but four.

Having had three years of Latin in high school at Centralia, Shahan came to SIU in the fall of 1962 with the goal of becoming a foreign language instructor. Now a first-quarter junior with 56 hours of foreign language and about a 4.5 average in them, Shahan is thinking seriously about going into the ministry and possibly into missions.

The Latin major and Spanish minor credits much of his success in the language field to his instructor.

"They don't concentrate enough in the lab. If they did they would be surprised how much it would cut down their study time at home," he said.

Shahan, a technical aide in the language laboratories, explains the advantages of the labs, Shahan says only praise for what LaFontaine said.

Laboratories have become the accepted method of teaching foreign languages today, said LaFontaine. They help students hear their mistakes and thus correct them. The students realize it and therefore may spend more time than is actually required.

Two half-hour periods of lab practice a week are compulsory for first-year language students. The rate is raised to four hours a week for second-year students.

Advanced courses in any of the eight languages offered at SIU have even more advantages, said LaFontaine. Not only are the courses more sophisticated but students are given an intimacy to the language through slides coordinated with sounds of the country.

As an example, the Dominican Republic native that press conferences from the Kremlin and speeches by Fidel Castro may be heard in their original languages.

The 100 soundproof booths in Old Main and 75 in Wheeler, which might remind one of enclosed telephone booths with microphones and earphones, have been used by thousands of language students since they were installed in September 1960 and September 1962.

LaFontaine was brought to SIU to establish the labs, after initiating two of the first labs west of the Mississippi at Missouri and Utah State University. Now the $75,000 labs are in almost continual use from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m.

If LaFontaine's dreams keep materializing Shahan may soon have company as the mad mumbler.
Thirty-two musical compositions by 31 Midwest composers from nine states will be performed during the University Composers Exchange to be held on campus Friday and Saturday, according to Will Gay Bottle, associate professor of music and chairman for the event.

During the past 12 years, the composers exchange has introduced the public to a total of 389 works by 163 different composers, Bottle said. The group was organized in 1950 at Indiana's Valparaiso University. Its major purpose being to promote the presentation of work of composers on Midwest college campuses. This is the first year that SIU has been host for the festival.

The program Friday night and Saturday night will be presented by Shyrick Auditorium, Saturday's morning and afternoon performances will be given in Davis Auditorium.

Composers who works will be presented this year include:

Dean G. Howard, Bradley University, "Sonata for Cell and Piano," to be performed by William Zemans; Leon Stein, "Sonata for Solo Violin," to be performed by Barry St. John. The remaining performers are from DePaul University. Jensen is currently on leave from DePaul to work under a study grant at Stanford University.

Marilyn Ziffrin, Chicago Teachers College North, "The Little Prince Suite," will be performed by students of Thomas Zemans; Leonard Stasna, "Sonata for Solo Violin," to be performed by Barry St. John. The remaining performers are from DePaul University. Jensen is currently on leave from DePaul to work under a study grant at Stanford University.

The presentation of work of composers, Saturday's morning and afternoon performances, will be given in Davis Auditorium.

Phillips Butler, Butler University, "Circumstance Without," will be performed by Jeffrey Braham and Adam Rock.

Donald H. White, DePaul University, "Serenade (No. 6," to be performed by H. Zemans; Robert Gehring, Valparaiso University, "Massa Dixiais," and Richard Wyethor, "Magnus for Choir and Percussion," to be performed by Thomas Jalowicz, associate. The remaining performances are from DePaul University. Jensen is currently on leave from DePaul to work under a study grant at Stanford University.

Marilyn Ziffrin, Chicago Teachers College North, "The Little Prince Suite," will be performed by students of Thomas Zemans; Leon Stein, "Sonata for Solo Violin," to be performed by Barry St. John. The remaining performers are from DePaul University. Jensen is currently on leave from DePaul to work under a study grant at Stanford University.

Richard Butler, Butler University, "Circumstance Without," will be performed by Jeffrey Braham and Adam Rock.

Donald H. White, DePaul University, "Serenade (No. 6," to be performed by H. Zemans; Robert Gehring, Valparaiso University, "Massa Dixiais," and Richard Wyethor, "Magnus for Choir and Percussion," to be performed by Thomas Jalowicz, associate. The remaining performances are from DePaul University. Jensen is currently on leave from DePaul to work under a study grant at Stanford University.

The composers exchange has introduced the public to a total of 389 works by 163 different composers, Bottle said. The group was organized in 1950 at Indiana's Valparaiso University. Its major purpose being to promote the presentation of work of composers on Midwest college campuses. This is the first year that SIU has been host for the festival.

The program Friday night and Saturday night will be presented by Shyrick Auditorium, Saturday's morning and afternoon performances will be given in Davis Auditorium.

Composers who works will be presented this year include:

Dean G. Howard, Bradley University, "Sonata for Cell and Piano," to be performed by William Zemans; Leon Stein, "Sonata for Solo Violin," to be performed by Barry St. John. The remaining performers are from DePaul University. Jensen is currently on leave from DePaul to work under a study grant at Stanford University.

Marilyn Ziffrin, Chicago Teachers College North, "The Little Prince Suite," will be performed by students of Thomas Zemans; Leon Stein, "Sonata for Solo Violin," to be performed by Barry St. John. The remaining performers are from DePaul University. Jensen is currently on leave from DePaul to work under a study grant at Stanford University.

Marilyn Ziffrin, Chicago Teachers College North, "The Little Prince Suite," will be performed by students of Thomas Zemans; Leon Stein, "Sonata for Solo Violin," to be performed by Barry St. John. The remaining performers are from DePaul University. Jensen is currently on leave from DePaul to work under a study grant at Stanford University.

Richard Butler, Butler University, "Circumstance Without," will be performed by Jeffrey Braham and Adam Rock.

Donald H. White, DePaul University, "Serenade (No. 6," to be performed by H. Zemans; Robert Gehring, Valparaiso University, "Massa Dixiais," and Richard Wyethor, "Magnus for Choir and Percussion," to be performed by Thomas Jalowicz, associate. The remaining performances are from DePaul University. Jensen is currently on leave from DePaul to work under a study grant at Stanford University.

The composers exchange has introduced the public to a total of 389 works by 163 different composers, Bottle said. The group was organized in 1950 at Indiana's Valparaiso University. Its major purpose being to promote the presentation of work of composers on Midwest college campuses. This is the first year that SIU has been host for the festival.

The program Friday night and Saturday night will be presented by Shyrick Auditorium, Saturday's morning and afternoon performances will be given in Davis Auditorium.

Composers who works will be presented this year include:

Dean G. Howard, Bradley University, "Sonata for Cell and Piano," to be performed by William Zemans; Leon Stein, "Sonata for Solo Violin," to be performed by Barry St. John. The remaining performers are from DePaul University. Jensen is currently on leave from DePaul to work under a study grant at Stanford University.

Marilyn Ziffrin, Chicago Teachers College North, "The Little Prince Suite," will be performed by students of Thomas Zemans; Leon Stein, "Sonata for Solo Violin," to be performed by Barry St. John. The remaining performers are from DePaul University. Jensen is currently on leave from DePaul to work under a study grant at Stanford University.

Marilyn Ziffrin, Chicago Teachers College North, "The Little Prince Suite," will be performed by students of Thomas Zemans; Leon Stein, "Sonata for Solo Violin," to be performed by Barry St. John. The remaining performers are from DePaul University. Jensen is currently on leave from DePaul to work under a study grant at Stanford University.

Richard Butler, Butler University, "Circumstance Without," will be performed by Jeffrey Braham and Adam Rock.

Donald H. White, DePaul University, "Serenade (No. 6," to be performed by H. Zemans; Robert Gehring, Valparaiso University, "Massa Dixiais," and Richard Wyethor, "Magnus for Choir and Percussion," to be performed by Thomas Jalowicz, associate. The remaining performances are from DePaul University. Jensen is currently on leave from DePaul to work under a study grant at Stanford University.

Toledo Comes Saturday

Southern Will Try to Climb Out of 3-Game Grid Slump

Twilight is slowly appearing on the 1965 football scene. Some collegiate football teams have been successful, others have not. As far as SIU football fans are concerned, it’s been a long, hard season.

The Salukis, collared with a bleak 2-6 season’s record and a three-game losing streak, will be out to improve their record—and some season statistics—when they meet Toledo University here Saturday night.

While they don’t make much more noise than a weak firecracker in the rugged Mid-America Conference, Toledo’s Rockets pack a lot of power and are eager to better their dismal 1-7 record.

Statistically, the season has been anything but successful for Don Shroyer’s Salukis. Southern’s opponents hold an edge in every major department—except yards penalty and yards passing.

SIU’s young defense has been unable to consistently stop any serious ground game thrown at them by the opposition this season. For eight games, Saluki backs have rolled for 1,512 yards on the ground, compared with a measly 714 yards for Southern.

The Salukis also have been outscored 209 points to 115, and are on the short end in the total first downs column, 138-108.

But, thanks to the accurate passing arm of quarterback back Jim Hart, and some apparently over-aggressive football, the Salukis hold a three-game lead in passing and penalties, respectively.

Hart, a Morton Grove junior, has completed 88 of 198 passes for 1,283 yards and 12 touchdowns. His total attempts and total yards are new SIU season records.

Penalty-wise, the Salukis have been reprimanded 68 times for 708 yards, while Toledo has been penalized 64 times for 460 yards.

Rudy Phillips, an improving sophomore speedster from Decatur, continues to sparkle on offense for the Salukis.

The fleet flankerback leads the SIU squad in scoring with 47 points (six touchdowns, eight extra points and one field goal), pass receptions with 46 and total pass receiving yards gained with 390.

Rich Weber, Mattsoon, leads all Saluki backs in rushing after eight games with 377 yards in 72 carries, an average of 3.2 yards a carry. Halfback Weber also is second in passing with 20 points.

In addition to an inconsistent running game and the mounting number of penalties, Hart’s total number of passes is closely followed by an opponent as he heads for the cracker of 3-Game Grid

The Grand Touring Auto Club, Inc. will stage a gymkhana, or driving skill test, at Epps Motor Co., east of Carbondale, Sunday afternoon. The event begins at noon and will last most of the afternoon.

Although intended primarily for sports car drivers, the meet is open to the general public.

The recently-formated sports car club is planning a series of monthly events, including autocrosses and rallies. Persons interested in the organization may contact Jack P. Erwin, president, at the Daily Egyptian office, or Richard W. Reese, vice president, 207 W. Cherry St.

Membership of the club not only sports cars, Erwin said, particularly since there is often a shortage of navigators for rallies and officials at many competitive events. He stressed that although many of the events foster a keen sense of competition, the club is interested in promotion of traffic safety and sportsmanship like driving.

HELP WANTED WINTER TERM

Daily Egyptian needs carriers for delivery within Carbondale city limits.

- Hours 6:30 to 8:30 each morning, Tuesday through Saturday.
- 3.0 grade average required.
- Must be responsible, punctual, energetic.

Apply at

STUDENT WORK OFFICE

Daily Egyptian Classified Ads

Classified advertising rates 20 words or less are $1.00 per insertion; additional words five cents each; four consecutive issues for $20.00 (20 words). Payable before the deadline, which is two days prior to publication, except for Tuesday’s paper, which is one free day behind.

The Daily Egyptian does not refund money when ads are canceled.

The Daily Egyptian reserves the right to reject any advertising.

HELP WANTED FOR RENT

FOR SALE

4.00 a.m. to 6:30 p.m., Monday through Friday.

Classified advertising inserted prior to deadline.

Classifieds! Classifieds! Classifieds! Classifieds! Classifieds! Classifieds!
by the Associated Press

Wittenberg, which finished its season undefeated but did not accept participation in a bowl game, retained its No. 1 rating in the Associated Press small-college football poll.

The Tigers, from Spring­field, Ohio, have led the Top Ten since the start of the sea­son. They received 132 points, nine of 16 first-place votes and 132 points overall.

Florida had 12 first-place votes and 123 points overall, but it was dropped to No. 2 in this week’s poll.

The Top Ten, with first­place votes in parentheses, are:

1. Wittenberg (9) 132
2. Louisiana Tech (2) 106
3. Texas A&M (1) 101
4. Prairie View 75
5. Los Angeles St. (1) 66
6. Grambling 62
7. Texas A&M 52
8. Massachusetts 47
9. Minn. Concordia (1) 40
10. Arkansas State 24

ALL’S WELL — Doctors who op­erated on the arm of Yankee pit­cher Whitey Ford said he’ll be able to pitch again by next spring. Ford will be released from a Houston hospital within a week.

Meanwhile, the SEC schedule and possibly the conference status in doubt.

The decision to cut back on the SEC schedule and possibly lay the groundwork for get­ting conference games over was made when all SEC schools met in New Orleans last Saturday.

The meeting was secret and neither confirm nor deny, but was described by one SEC official as the first step in getting conference games in 1967, and extending its unbeaten streak to 29 games, longest in the country. The Tigers were tied with Texas last week.

Almost a certainty to re­ceive an invitation to one of four NCAA-sponsored small­college bowls, the Tigers un­likely to gain such a game at a special meeting Monday.

The SEC Top Ten, with first­place votes in parentheses, are:

1. Wittenberg (9) 132
2. Louisiana Tech (2) 106
3. Texas A&M (1) 101
4. Prairie View 75
5. Los Angeles St. (1) 66
6. Grambling 62
7. Texas A&M 52
8. Massachusetts 47
9. Minn. Concordia (1) 40
10. Arkansas State 24

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Eugene Grobenschmidt, Milwaukee County Board chairman, says he is in favor of a sugges­tion that the county, assured that the Braves will make their annual pilgrimage to the city for the 1967 season, consider an antitrust action against the city.

The antitrust suit was proposed Monday by Rep. Hen­ry Reuss, D-Wis., who said the league’s action in Phoe­nix, Ariz., last week “is a clear attempt at restraint of trade.”

In a unanimous decision, the league told the Braves to keep to their contract with the county to play all 1965 home games in County Sta­dium, but approved the shift of the club to Atlanta for the 1966 season.

Reuss said that “base­ball’s 42-year-old ex­emption from the antitrust laws is at an end.” He said there was no reason for the county to await possible ac­tion by the Department of Justice or the Congress be­fore initiating action.

“Chairman Emanuel Col­lier of the House Judiciary Committee has likewise ex­pressed the view that Mil­waukee County should call the antitrust laws into play,” Reuss said.

Grobenschmidt said Monday night he would confer as soon as possible with county cor­poration counsel Robert Rus­sell about such a suit.