Chamber Group Plans Housing, Vehicle Study

At the request of SIU president Ross, the Carbondale Chamber of Commerce has formed a committee to meet with the housing and motor vehicle rules in particular as they affect the community.

The committee will hold an organizational meeting at 7:30 p.m. in the Chamber Building. According to the appointments of the committee, Sidney R. Schoen, the public is not invited but press will be represented at the meeting.

Chamber President Bernard Ross said the main purpose of the committee is "to determine if there are any inequities in the administration of University sponsored motor vehicle regulations." Although specific plans for the committee were not determined until tonight's meeting, Ross said the group does plan to issue questionnaires to students, faculty members, local merchant and employers.

Ross feels that the Chamber can make an independent, improvement.

Beer License
Applicant Told Too Near SIU

A Carbondale liquor advisor in a recommendation of a beer license to a restauranterator was given at the SIU campus.

The Stirlin Room, located in the Easategae Shopping Center, does not meet state regulations of being more than 1,500 feet away from the nearest classroom or laboratory of a state university, according to the committee.

Three beer license issuances were recommended to the group. They were the Hickory Log restaurant in the University Center, the country store, and the Laflage Inn Pizzaria, to be constructed on Rt. 13 west, and Bens' Crepe restaurant, on north Washington St.

Final approval of the application must come from the City Council.

The bill specified that the Housing Office would also provide the funds necessary to hire student workers for the positions.

The student inspectors would also accompany the Housing Office team and would make separate evaluations of the housing inspected, according to the mandate.

A proposal suggesting a complete reorganization of the campus judiciary system was referred to the senate rules and committee coordination committee.

The Senate Committee Chairman Richard Karr announced that Playboy magazine would be made available for sale next week at the Information Desk in the University Center.

He also announced the dismissal of two Campus Senators for failure to attend meetings. Carol Harper, west; non-dorm, and Karl Maille, commuter, were dismissed for missing three senate meetings, Karr said. The senate-by-laws state that a senator cannot miss more than two meetings.

Ticket Sales Slated Monday
For SIU Homecoming Show

Tickets for the Homecoming stage show, headlining Johnny Rivers, will go on sale at 9 a.m. Monday, according to the information desk in the University Center.

Half of the tickets will be reserved for block University address of from eight to 50 tickets, according to Bard Groesse, chairman of the homecoming committee.

Anyone wishing to purchase tickets in blocks of over 50 tickets should pick up a special application at the Student Activities Office. The applications must be turned in to the offices of the University, Privacy. Those asking permission will be notified Friday afternoon or Saturday if the application is accepted.

Three hundred tickets have been set aside for faculty and staff members with a limit of four tickets per person.

Police Check on Student Missing

Since Late Sunday

An SIU senior majoring in government has been reported missing. He was last seen by his parents Sunday evening.

Jerome Compel, 22, has been driven by his parents to the 19th Street station of the Illinois Central Railroad in Chicago. His parents left him at 11:15 p.m. He was to take the midnight train to Carbondale.

The train arrived in Carbondale at 6:30 a.m. Monday. Charles Blajak, who shares an apartment with Compel at 320 W. Walnut, said he was at the station to meet Compel, but his roommate was not on the train.

Compel had been in Chicago to celebrate his birthday with his family. Dlajak said.

Chicago police, the campus Security Police, hospitals, the Health Service, and mortuaries have been checked. Compel's parents, his fiancee, and friends have no knowledge of his whereabouts.

der fire as a community-founded organization.

They also told the dean that anyone in the group advocating illegal activities did so as an individual.

William Moffett, provost, said that "we can appreciate any questions people may have concerning our organization."

"But we think that we have now clarified all the issues of our structure and can get down to the business of why we organized," he added.

Moffett announced that Sunday night the SIPC will sponsor a "silent walk to mourn those who have died in Vietnam."

The walk, scheduled to begin at 2 p.m. in front of Morris Library, will begin a week of Student Government sponsored study on the United States involvement in Vietnam.

Participants will walk two abreast from the library to the sidewalk paralleling Illinois Avenue until reaching Main Street. They will return to the University via the same route.

Clergymen of all faiths have been invited to participate in the walk.

An announcement of the walk was made at a meeting of the Carbondale City Council Tuesday night. Moffett says he has been assured of a parade permit by Richard Wilhelmy, director of public safety.

Peace Group Gets Official Recognition

The Southern Illinois Peace Committee Wednesday received official recognition from both the University and the Student Government.

Wilbur Moulton, dean of students, said he approved the final certification papers Wednesday afternoon.

Certification signatures had been secured earlier Wednesday from Richard D. Karr, chairman of the Student Senate, and Tony Glosecki, director of student activities.

SIPC representatives reportedly assured Moulton the group was not affiliated with the National Mobilization Committee which has been un-

Free School Funds
Conditionally Cleared

The Campus Senate was told Wednesday night that Free School is now free to continue operations conditionally.

East-Side Non Dorm Senator Gary Kroch, chairman of the senate committee established to investigate Free School, said the committee now have access to its funds and SIU will not have to file for approval each time access is needed.

Student Body President Ray Lenz announced last week that Dean of Students Wilbur Moulton cut off Free School's funds pending an administrative investigation into the program.

Kroch said Moulton has given Free School a license to operate over Free School until any questions concerning its merit to the academic community were answered.

The senate also voted to accept responsibility for the publication of a new student opinion magazine, the magazine would be made available for sale next week at the Information Desk in the University Center.

Water Supply to Be Increased

City Council Won't Tolerate Junk Yards

By George M. Killenberg

Carbondale's City Council has made it clear that it would not tolerate the existence of junk yards outside the city limits.

They should do everything we can to keep junk yards out of the city," Councilman Frank Kirk said Tuesday night and his fellow council members agreed.

The Council's solid stand against junk yards came during discussions of two bills. The first bill was the McCaslin Salvage Yard to continue to store scrap metal, provided it tidied up the storage area.

In a written report to the Council, the planning commission said that the city change the existing zoning ordinance to allow open storage in industrial areas with a provision that a "screening fence" surround the storage area.

"Changing the zoning laws won't solve anything," said Mayor Dave Keene. "We don't want it screened, we want the scrap metal business to steel salable.

Kirk said he was willing to allow Pollack a year to make the conversion, but he emphasized that there should be "no fudging on the ordinance and no change in the ordinance."

In other business, the Council approved a request by Carbondale Superintendents of Water, James Mayhugh, to increase the city's water supply by two million gallons daily.

Mayhugh told the Council that the present daily consumption of four million gallons is the maximum the city's one operating water pump can handle.

In order to increase the city's scrap water supply "from" Crab Orchard Lake, the city's second water pump must be put in operation.

According to Hazel there were cigarettes found in the same coffee grinder where the marijuana was cooked, but there has been no report received on the cigarettes.

Hearing has been set for Oct. 18, in Circuit Court at Murphysboro, according to a spokesperson for Jackson County state's Attorney, Richard E. Richman.

Carbondale and SIU Security Police and an investigator from the Jackson County state's attorney's office participated in the raid.

Richman said a search warrant was issued after the girl's mother asked police to help find her daughter.

The Council told Mayhugh to collect bids on activation of the second pump. Mayhugh estimates the cost of the project will be around $3,000 and $5,000.

Mayhugh pointed out to the Council that the two million additional gallons daily the second pump would provide is only "a short term solution" to water shortage problems.

"The city must proceed with plans to construct an adequate water supply of its own," Mayhugh said.

"With the present water demand, it is imperative that the city approach all possible means to supply water to continue present city growth," he said. "A ban on water use is a key factor in discouraging new industry, commercial and residential development."

Today is Chris' Day

To the Editor:

It may come as a surprise to some, but today is a holiday, Columbus Day, and although this does not mean a great deal to most people—as they have to go to work anyway—it should have special significance to college students.

You are probably asking yourself, "But who are the people who celebrate this?" Well, just think about it for a minute.

Christopher Columbus has to be the most cock-eyed, turned-around, and thoroughly misguided explorer who ever walked on land, and it is his holiday. Do these qualities bring to mind any of the seekers of knowledge that you have met lately?

Columbus was, to begin with, totally misplaced. Being born in Italy, booted from Portugal, and driven through France he finally scored with Isabella of Spain. Although she is remembered relating to this amorous escapade, it is known that:

átoms beckoned the young enthusiast to sail to the end of the world, as he wished. This somewhat fitting coincidence.

Chris began making preparations for the voyage, which was a job. Recruiting sailors was harder than landing a professor into an A, for the local yokels had all become so enthusiastic about the idea of sailing over the rainbow with "of crazy Chris".

Yet his sparking determination and awe-inspiring daring appealed to both the men and women of adventure who roamed the world. Banded together in this fearless vision, they determined to carve out a great leas that was to carry them to a new and better world.

Columbus' expedition was treacherous. Columbus' many years of navigational training (better than the average man) paid off more than once, as he masterfully guided the Nina, Pinta, and Santa Maria clear of ramming one another.

After 21 days of battling against the winds, each day took a toll on weather, the morale of the crew reached a low ebb. Surely, they could have turned back now and gone home, but what an idea ever! New ground that was treacherous. Columbus' many years of navigational training (better than the average man) paid off more than once, as he masterfully guided the Nina, Pinta, and Santa Maria clear of ramming one another.

But it finally happened. A flock of birds was sighted off the port bow. Columbus sprang to his feet and issued the command that was to alter the course of humanevents.

"Follow the birds," he yelled, and the whole expedition shifted to a southerly course.

And a successful course it was, as Columbus was soon to land at a group of small islands not too far from the southern coast of North America. Of course, that he had established a western pathway to the Orient and that he called the West Indies, he duly named the native Indians, and the American tradition was established.

How unlike Columbus are you? Wandering about a strange place in search of something that you cannot really put your finger on, and probably will never find, you frequently feel you may go over the deep end any day.

This Columbus Day should mean more to college students than it does to most people. For of Chris Columbus' dreams, the most confused and bewildered sometimes managed to "lock-out."

Brazilian School Head
To Visit SIU Friday

Alao de Queiroz Araujo, president of the Federal University of Espirito Santo, Brazil, and his wife, Araujo will visit SIU Friday through Sunday, Dr. and Mrs. Araujo are visiting the United States on the international visitors program, jointly sponsored by the U.S. Agency for International Development and the Bureau of Educational and Cultural Affairs of the State Department.

The Federal University of Espirito Santo at Vitória was organized six years ago, from the existing schools of Law, Engineering, Philosophy, Dentistry, Economics, Fine Arts and Physical Education. Current enrollment totals 2,260. It is expected to have 10,000 students within the next five years, according to Charles Eker, assistant director of the Latin American Institute at SIU, who served as the chief executive officer at the Brazil-U.S. Institute, 1959-66. The institute is a locally sponsored, independent organization for educational and cultural exchange programs between the two countries.

Confronted with the problems of university expansion, Dr. Araujo hopes to borrow experiences from SIU, which is considered one of the fastest growing universities in the U.S. He will meet Dean Oliver J. Caldwell of the SIU international Services Division to discuss the possibilities of faculty and student exchanges between the two institutions. He also is interested in the system of the work-study opportunities for students, which has been successfully used at SIU.

He will discuss curricula problems with Robert W. MacVicar, SIU vice president for academic affairs.

SIU Library Receives
Papers from Gorelik

Theatrical and personal papers of Mordecai Gorelik, SIU research professor of theater and former Broadway and Hollywood scene designer, have been presented to the SIU library.

A recent appraisal by two bibliophiles estimated the value of the collection at $62,500, according to Ralph E. McCoy, director of libraries.

"The depth of the material is most impressive and will prove to be a very rich mine for future students of the drama of this century," the appraisers wrote. "The personal papers and photographs covering virtually your entire life will be of inestimable value to students of your career."

Gorelik had previously presented to the theater department his original stage designs covering more than 35 years' of professional work. These designs are now in a traveling exhibit which has been shown widely in the U.S. and Canada.

Gorelik now is in Australia conducting research in that country's theater arts, under a Hayes-Fulbright grant in a project sponsored by the University of New South Wales.
Unemployment Rate Increases

WASHINGTON (AP) -- The nation's unemployment rate rose to 5.0 percent in September, the Labor Department announced Wednesday. The rate, which was last reported at 4.3 percent, is slightly lower than the 5.1 percent rate last September.

Rising unemployment was one of the most significant economic indicators last month. It was also the first time the unemployment rate for Negro men was lower than the over-all national rate.

The combination of jobless rates -- including women and teenagers -- remained at 7.7 percent, or more than double the over-all 3.6 percent figure for all white workers. The total number of unemployed was 2,895,000, slightly below the August seasonally adjusted figure but some 180,000 higher than expected in September. The bureau attributes the figures according to normal seasonal expectations.

The total employment figure of 74.6 million in September was up 1.4 million from a year earlier, the bureau said, even though agricultural jobs continued a long term decline of 250,000 over the year.

The bureau also reported the average hourly pay rose 3 cents to $2.70. This was 10 cents an hour more than a year ago.

Postal Rates, Pay Raised

WASHINGTON (AP) -- The House passed a bill raising postal rates and the salaries of federal employees Wednesday night after narrowly rejecting Republican efforts to eliminate costly second and third year pay raises.

The roll call vote was 318 to 89.

Pope Seeks Opinions on Birth Control

VATICAN CITY (AP) -- Pope Paul has asked bishops to seek opinions on birth control from bishops at the Roman Catholic synod, informed sources at the Vatican said Wednesday.

The synod met as the bishops had been told informally that the pope was accepting written opinions on the issue, one of the most controversial in the Church.

In a related development, it was announced that the pontiff would start private individual and group meetings Wednesday with synod members representing national and regional conferences of bishops.

The official reasons given for the meetings were that the pope wanted to show his esteem for the bishops and follow their activities as closely as possible.

But clerical informants point out that the meetings would provide an excellent opportunity for the pope to discuss important issues like birth control face to face with the bishops.

New Assistant To Automate Library Work

The automation librarian is a person who acts as a trouble-shooter in the library system and advises on new equipment.

The man who recently received this title and position is Dwain Glenn, a 1967 graduate of the University of Denver Graduate School of Library Science.

With a mathematical background and an interest in library science, Glenn comes to SIU in an attempt to automate the library system.

Glenn will investigate a number of library systems to adapt the best system for SIU's needs.

Glenn's first assignment at SIU is "one of the country's section of Morris Library. He will create an up-to-date listing of all periodicals presently on file in the library with a possible wide variety of up-dated periodicals on hand.

The new system will help students know what periodicals are available. It will be completely worked out in Library Work of all periodicals present, and Glenn will investigate a system to adapt the best system for SIU's needs.

Glenn will work with both the Carbondale campus and Edwardsville campus library systems.

He said no drastic changes will occur at either campus, but an attempt will be made to eliminate man-y facets of the present library systems.

Wilson Appointed Visiting Professor

Kendrick A. Wilson, for 21 years director of the Omaha Playhouse, Omaha, Neb., has been appointed visiting professor of theater at Southern Illinois University for 1967-68. The appointment is by Archibald McLeod, theater department chairman.

Wilson, whom McLeod termed "one of the country's leading community theater directors," will work on campus and direct some of the department's productions. During the winter quarter he will conduct a seminar on community theater.

Keene to Speak in Carbondale Sunday

The public is invited to hear Carbondale Mayor David H. Keene's address entitled "The History and Importance of the Carbondale Unitarian Fellowship" this Sunday, October 15th. The program is scheduled to start at 10:30 a.m.

The public is also invited to participate in the coffee and socializing following the talk. The Carbondale Fellowship Meeting Hall is located at University and Elm.
Within the drab, gray stone walls which enclose the maze of cubicles that several hundred on-campus SIU students call home, one room emerges from all others—the laboratory, workshop and humble abode of the dorm's Simon Legree; the Resident Fellow. The room is easy to find, the symbol represents an individual, a person who has been trained to make residence hall life a little more enjoyable and behind the gleam of this symbol, something that gives the room its significance. The Resident Fellow. The typical catastrophe is the Fire Department. The Resident Fellow, is always there when things go into the orderly running of the crazy life in a college dormitory. Personal data sheets, room inventory forms, health and accident reports, incident reports, reports of fires and fire drills, late passes and overnight permits (for women) and weekly reports are just a few of the activities the RF uses to fill his spare time. Then there is always class work. But when the paper work is finished, the RF can always look forward to a house, floor, or staff meeting.

Dorm's Simon Legree
Resident Fellow Leads Many-Sided Life

By Daniel Van Atta

The RF is the guy who is always there when things are beginning to swing," says one student, "and he's usually closing down the action."

The RF's point of view, however, is slightly different. Pat Johnson, a junior from Van- dalia, the first second year of a Resident Fellow in Neely Hall, said many residents have a negative attitude toward residence hall living.

"The roughest part of the job," she said, "is dealing with the individual who takes the whole idea of residence halls negatively. I've found that many students believe you are there to take something away from them."

"Therefore, we try to get them to understand that we have a positive purpose rather than a negative one. If we can convince them of this, things seem to run pretty smoothly."

Sheldon Pavel, a graduate student from Philadelphia, and an RF at University Park, is also in favor of taking positive action.

"I derive the most pleasure from this job in merely being able to work with residents, individually and collectively," he said. "We want to make the residence halls experience as meaningful and creative as possible."

The total picture of the Resident Fellow has many sides, and most of the details are painted into the background—out of sight of most students. Probably the most enjoyable part of being a Resident Fellow is the humor side.

"An RF has to have a sense of humor," said Pavel. "Cause how else could he take a resident down to Sidney-Dudey at midnight, or conduct dorm meetings in an empty room? And there's nothing that makes you feel more helpless than having a head cold and nasal congestion when you think there is beer in the dorm."

Few residents realize the behind-the-scenes work that goes into the orderly running of the crazy life in a college dormitory. Personal data sheets, room inventory forms, health and accident reports, incident reports, reports of fires and fire drills, late passes and overnight permits (for women) and weekly reports are just a few of the activities the RF uses to fill his spare time. Then there is always class work. But when the paper work is finished, the RF can always look forward to a house, floor, or staff meeting.

Each week every RF has the opportunity to serve a duty night. The store of possible adventures awaiting any RF on duty is Babbergastening. Yet this storehouse of knowledge is prepared to handle everything from fires to riots.

The typical catastrophe is alleviated by a quick call to the Resident Counselor and the loud cry of "Fire! Fire! Fire!"

For SIU Angel Flight

The SIU Harper Squadron of Angel Flight will hold its annual rush Saturday from 8 p.m. to 1 p.m. in the Woody Hall lounge. Applications can be obtained at the University Center information desk, Wheeler Hall, or from any Angel Flight member.

A coke hour is also planned on Sunday at 7:30 p.m., in the University Center ballroom.

Council Hears
Lot of Clicks

Eight photographers, at least a half dozen high school reporters and three SIU reporters made up a milling, clicking, film-winding audience for the Carbondale City Council meeting Tuesday night.

Every person who stood during the meeting or even acted as if they wanted to stand had their picture taken. More press action could not have been expected if President Johnson had attended the meeting.

Seems there was a good reason for the photographers. They had an assignment due for a 350 level press photography class due today.

The assignment was to take a picture of a speaker and they did that, and then some. They snapped wideangle shots, closeups, shots from their seats, from the back of the room, front of the room and sides of the room.

From what little has happened there must have been some mighty puzzled photographers when they tried to recall the schedule or source of theEvtisn. If they had to, the function of Angel Flight is primarily to serve as an auxiliary group to the ROTC Arnold Air Society. There are many other activities, too. Members act as hostesses for the Arnold Air Society events, participate in such projects such as Homecoming, and Spring Festival.

They also perform as singers and dancers throughout the area, as well as appearing on radio, on television and at Air Force bases throughout the country.

For the past two years, SIU's Angel Flight chapter has held the position of area headquarters.

The new officers of Angel Flight are: Velda Smith, commander; Susan Parris, executive officer; Susan Hunter, operations officer; Jackie Walters, administrative services officer; Mary K. Moore, comptroller; Marilyn Chamness, informations officer; Sherry Browning, materials officer; Pam Hudgens, pledge trainer; Carolyn Robide, project; and Jackie Casper, historian.

The group's adviser is Captain H.A. Stoby.

There are about 70 SIU women who are presently members of the SIU chapter of Angel Flight.

BOSTON (AP)—The fighting Boston Red Sox, the team that brought the World Series Wednesday by brushing off the St. Louis Cardinal pinch hitter again, included four home runs, to win 8-4 in a wild, slugfest battle.

 Rico Petrocelli hit two into the screen atop the Green Monster wall in left field and Carl Yastrzemski and Reggie Smith drove balls to right field for the Red Sox. Lou Brock hammered a two-run 440-foot blast for the Cards.

 A record total of 11 pitchers, eight by the crooked Cardinals, were used by the two clubs, setting up a dream game duel for Thursday's seventh game between Bos- ton's Jim Lonborg and St. Louis Bob Gibson, both two- game winners.

 Ten Red Sox went to bat in an amazing seventh-inning rally by the desperate Red Sox, who had seen their 4-2 lead melt away on Brock's tremendous homer off John Briles. Brock's blast, the third by a Red Sox hitter in the game, gave the Cards a 4-3 lead over, four runs had scored on Joe Foy's double, five singles and a sacrifice fly.

 During the unbelievable inning, Brock made an unassisted lead-off trap for Foy that went for a double, driving in the tying run. Shortstop Darrell Marshel broke the wrong way on a doubleplay ball that bounced through for a single by George Scott and Mike Smith's fly ball falling for Brock, Curt Flood and Max- vil for another single.

 This was a complete switch in a series that has been dominated by the fine pitching of Lonborg and Gibson. At the end of the long, sunny, windy afternoon, the unlikely long-ball thrower threw the longest home run of the day.

 Although St. Louis starter Dick Hughes went into the Series record books as the only pitcher ever to give up three home runs in one inning (the fourth), Red Lamey, the fourth of the long, thin line of Card pitchers, was charged with the defeat.

 Trailing 3-1 after the fourth game and faced an uphill battle that only three clubs have accomplished, the Boston League champions have fought back to leave matters in the hands of Lonborg, the handsome, articulate ace.

 Petrocelli, hitting only .071 with one hit in 14 at bats in the first five games, hammered a home run down the left field line about 315 from the plate in the second and slugged a Hughes' pitch into the wall in center left, a 360-foot smash, in the fourth inning.

 After the home run explosion by Yastrzemski, Smith and Petrocelli in the fourth routed Hughes and appeared to have put the game beyond reach, the Cards bounced back to tie in the top of the seventh on Brock's clot.

Edwardsville Gets Intercollegiate Athletics

By John Durbin
Intercollegiate athletics on the Edwardsville campus, a dream that has taken shape, has quickly become a reality with the introduction of a soccer program.

According to Harry Gallatin, assistant of the dean of men, soccer was only one facet of an overall proposal on intercollegiate athletics submitted to President Morris for approval by the Board of Trustees.

Basketball, baseball, golf and the other sports mentioned in the proposal as possibilities were included.

In addition to the overall proposal which was drawn up in early October, Gallatin said, Clark must have a specific detailed proposal listing justifications as to why the sport is to enter intercollegiate competition.

The key, it appears, is proper justifications and facilities provided by the Board of Trustees.

The intercollegiate proposal grew out of a study conducted by the Student Senate on sports club activities. According to Gallatin, "The plan drawn up for sports clubs receiving financial support, those required for intercollegiate competition.

The freshmen soccer teams will be housed in temporary quarters until the new buildings are occupied.

The freshmen Salukis intercollegiate vacation, which appeared as to why the sport is to be included in the NCAA officially doing business in the NCAA. "We have already applied to the NCAA, in regards to our soccer program," said Gallatin.

Specific proposals for baseball and golf have not been made as yet. But it appears that facilities and coaching are in the works already.

Roy Lee, former St. Louis University basketball coach, who joined the physical education faculty during the summer quarter, will undoubtedly take the same position at Edwardsville if the proposal is passed.

According to Gallatin, "It's time to get the physical education faculty, looks like the logical candidate for the position as coach."
Problems are nothing new to Dick Towers. Even though the 1967 football season hasn't reached the halfway mark, the SU coach is up to his collar in them and the next three weekends don't appear to offer any silver linings right now.

Dayton, Saturday's foe, is the first opponent on the toughest three-week schedule any Saluki team has faced here in a long while. The Flyers are a rugged ground-based offense, which claims with a big, tough defense and one of the best secondaries anywhere.

"Their offense features a real strong running game, much the same as we'd like ours to be," Towers said. "They have fine speed and a strong fullback in 240-pound Mike Wilson.

The speed comes from halfbacks Mel Taylor and Bob Madden, 183-pound seniors. Quarterback Jerry Bishop, 6-1 and 210, is a drop-back passer.

The line is anchored by tackles Dan Kranarczyk and Dan Andrick. They tip the scales at 245 and 275-pounds. These two are big reasons why the running game is a successful one.

The defensive front wall is just as big as its offensive counterpart, but it's the defensive backfield that may pose the biggest problem to the Salukis. Several professional scouts have told Towers and his aids that the trio of Pete Richardson, Don Ragan and Theron Sumpter is among the best secondary units in the land.

Richardson is on the pro-moist wanted list.

Towers admits his No. 1 problem is finding a passing game to complement the running attack. The Salukis ball carriers have been hampered all season by an ineffective aerial attack and things will get worse for them until one of the three signal callers.

Finley Wants Oakland Move

CHICAGO (AP) -- Charles O. Finley said Wednesday he has decided that Oakland, Calif., is where he wants to shift his Kansas City American Basketball League franchise for 1968 and added "I am hopeful the league owners will grant me approval."

"The other owners were informed by letter from me today of my intentions," Finley said. "It will take six votes in addition to our own to carry it. I'm not sure I've got them.

I have talked it over with only three or four owners. I have no guarantee or assurance at all. I'm just hopeful."

Finley said he and the owners will meet in Chicago next Wednesday and that "I am hopeful the whole thing can be settled in that one day... I think it can."

Chamberlain Signs 76ers Contract

PHILADELPHIA (AP) -- Wilt Chamberlain, apparently the biggest star to sign with the Philadelphia 76ers of the National Basketball Association for a reported $250,000, believed to be the highest salary ever paid an athlete.

The Associated Press learned the 7-foot-1 Chamberlain ended his stubborn holdout during a weekend negotiating session at the home of 76ers owner Irv Kosloff. The unprecedented pact for one year, and includes a set-up whereby the player will be paid over a period of years for tax-saving purposes.

Jack Ramsay, general manager of the 76ers, confirmed Chamberlain apparently had reached agreement. Ramsay said the contract was sitting on his desk waiting for the player to come in and sign it. Chamberlain apparently had come to a decision in the past week, according to Ramsay.

Ramsay said the 76ers expected Wilt Monday, and now hoped he would show Tuesday in time for the team's game against the Boston Celtics at Wilkes-Barre, Pa. The 76ers will take Wilt's bag with his playing equipment to the game.

Chamberlain, who has become a basketball legend in his time, has been negotiating his 1966-67 contract with Kosloff for several months. In hammering out his rich contract, Chamberlain claimed he had been released last year by Kosloff from the reserve clause which binds a player to a club for an additional year. He talked with several teams in the new American Basketball League.

The 31-year-old Chamberlain will go to the Eastern title over the Celtics and eventual NBA championship over San Francisco, will be starting his ninth season in the league.

Golf Tourney Today

The Intramural hole-in-one golf tournament to be held east of McKendree Stadium today will be from 4-6 p.m. instead of the time previously reported.

Hodges Named Mets' Pilot

BOSTON (AP)--Gil Hodges, one-time star first baseman of the Brooklyn Dodgers, gave up his job as manager of the Washington Senators Wednesday to go home and manage the New York Mets, Hodges, who has lived in Brooklyn since 1948, received a three-year contract from the Mets which he called "the best contract I've ever had in baseball." He succeeds Wes Westrum, who resigned shortly before the end of the season.

For allowing New York to talk with Hodges and therefore convincing him to give up the one year he had left on his Washington contract, the Senators will receive a substantial amount of cash and a player to be named later from the Mets' current 45-man roster.
