4-13-1971

The Daily Egyptian, April 13, 1971

Daily Egyptian Staff

Follow this and additional works at: http://opensiuc.lib.siu.edu/de_April1971
Volume 52, Issue 120

Recommended Citation

Antwwarriors

on parade

Mayoral hopefuls discuss issues, answer questions

By Teresa Hunn
Daily Egyptian Staff Writer

The two Carbondale mayoral candidates spoke and answered questions at a Jaycees forum held Monday evening at the Ramada Inn.

Rams J. Fischer, candidate for mayor, said that it is time for action in Carbondale. He said that he has a ten year background of service in almost every aspect of the community and has contacts with all levels of people, which qualify him for the position of mayor.

Fischer said that he forcefully supports the annexation of SIU. Fischer also said he supports improving housing conditions in Carbondale as well as building up the deteriorating downtown area.

As a solution to the problem of supplying water to the Carbondale community, Fischer said that the best short and long run answer is the Cedar Creek development.

Fischer said he supports the city manager form of government. He said he feels that it can be an effective form of government but that it hasn't been under the present administration.

The other candidate for mayor, Neal Eckert, said he has very little to criticize the present administration for because he feels that very little has been done.

Eckert said he sees Carbondale as becoming a major metropolitan area in Southern Illinois. He said that under proper leadership Carbondale can attract industry and new shopping centers.

Eckert said he also favors the annexation of SIU. He favors improving housing conditions throughout the community and beautifying the downtown area.

Eckert said that if services in citizens were stressed and increased he feels an increase in revenues would follow.

Eckert also said that he didn't feel Fischer is qualified for mayor because he felt he didn't stand up well under pressure and that Carbondale needs someone who can make a decision and stick by it.

"I would support keeping Mr. Fischer as city councilman," Eckert said.

Besides Fischer and Eckert, all four city council hopefuls spoke at the forum which was broadcast over local radio. After the formal talks listeners and members of the audience, which numbered about 100, were invited to call in or ask questions of the candidates. Videotapes of the proceedings will be replayed Wednesday at the University Bank.

Approximately 300 people participated in Saturday's "People's March Against the War" and marched down Illinois Avenue to Main Street and back to campus on University Avenue. The parade elicited a little response from pedestrians who preferred to sit along the sidewalk and enjoy the warm, sunny day.

The march convened in front of Pullman Hall where Jennifer Dohrn (right) sister of weatherwoman Bernadette Dohrm, addressed the crowd on women's Liberation and the antwwar movement (Story on page 7). (Photos by Dave Fisch and John Lopondi)

DAILY EGYPTIAN

Southern Illinois University

Carbondale, Illinois

Volume 52 Tuesday, April 13, 1971 Number 120

Sign nobody wants being built anyway

By Steve Brown
Daily Egyptian Staff Writer

A $2500 directory for Evergreen Terrace is being built despite efforts by both the University and the residents to stop construction.

The resident directory being constructed at Evergreen Terrace is part of an overall improvement project according to Samuel L. Rimella, director of the Housing Business Service. Rimella said construction of the directory, which he estimated will cost $2500, was to have been delayed.

Rimella said the mix-up resulted from a misunderstanding between himself, the University Architechts Office, the Physical Plant and the residents council at Evergreen Terrace.

Rimella said that the residents board, at Evergreen Terrace had given the directory top priority for improvement about 18 months ago. Rimella said that delays and changes in the council's priority brought about confusion.

He said that he had tried to stop construction of the directory, but that it had been ordered and construction was begun.

George L. Buedel, chairman of the Evergreen Terrace Advisory Council, said the council had informed Rimella that they did not want the directory. He said that the cost was excessive.

Buedel said he had tried to stop construction of the directory, but that it had been ordered and construction was begun.

Rimella said that the council wanted sidewalks, playground equipment and fences for the area.

Rimella said he tried to stop work on the directory project when the council indicated that it wanted something different. Rimella said he was unable to stop the work order.

Rimella also said he did not think that the cost was excessive.

Gus

Bode

Gus says the only way SIU will stop construction of that directory will be for the residents to demand that it be built.

Saluki beat Mississippi, 5-4

page 20
Cough up 27¢—educate a mouse

It takes only 27¢ to send a mouse to college. But why should anyone want to send a mouse to college? The reason is simple: Mice are used in college laboratories for cancer research programs.

On "Tag Day," which was held Friday, and will be continued Wednesday and through Thursday, a tag resembling a college diploma will be given in exchange for 27¢. This tag shows that you are a fighter in the Crusade against Cancer.

Air mail speedup expected

WASHINGTON (AP)—Postmaster General Winston M. Blount said Monday the postal service will begin a program April 22 under which airmail mail will be delivered the next day to major cities within a 400-mile radius.

Outlining what he termed the first national effort to speed up the reorganized postal system, Blount said it will involve the use of airmail delivery marks—"the first time the post office has prepared to do a thing of this nature on such a scale."

A secondary goal is to achieve second-day delivery of all air mail letters between most major cities in the continental United States, Blount said.

"We will begin implementing this unprecedented service goal by April 22 as we gain operating experience under this new program. I expect a substantial improvement in the number of airmail letters delivered within 48 hours by May 14.

The price of an airmail stamp, now 27¢, will go up by 25¢ to 50¢ on June 20 when temporary postal rate increases become effective in mid-May. The new service will not have an officially designated date, but Blount and others have spoken in terms of higher rates by May 16.

Blount said the new goal for air mail delivery is the "first of several major, definitive plans that we have on the drawing board for comprehensive service improvement projects."

Econ ed head to talk Tuesdays

By University News Service

Thurz T. Herrick, assistant director of the Illinois Council on Economic Education, will be at IU today and Wednesday in front of economic education program directors.

The announcement was made by A. E. Williams, professor of economics, who said that for several years IU has offered a summer workshop in economic education for grade school and high school teachers.

Herrick, besides his council post, is a professor of education at Northern Illinois University. He has written a number of books and articles and has lectured in 52 school systems in the United States.

Daily Egyptian

Published in the School of Journalism by the Daily Egyptian Association, Inc., a student organization. Tuesday, April 19, 1977.

NORMAN BURGESS, Executive Editor

Graham Cracker Weekly

JIM DUFFY, Editor

CAMPUS

The Student Nurses

The Love Doctors

The Student Nurses

Published in the School of Nursing by the Student Nurses Association, Inc., a student organization.

JUNE BASTECK, President

PAGE 2, DAILY EGYPTIAN, APRIL 19, 1977

By University News Service

The Illinois Council on Economic Education presents the following notices:

April 19: "Illegal" and "Production," a comprehensive two-week program in economics for grade school and high school teachers.

April 21: "Gross National Product," a comprehensive one-week program in economics for grade school and high school teachers.

April 23: "Agriculture," a comprehensive one-week program in agriculture for grade school and high school teachers.

April 25: "Transportation," a comprehensive one-week program in transportation for grade school and high school teachers.

April 27: "Industrial Engineering," a comprehensive one-week program in industrial engineering for grade school and high school teachers.

April 29: "Manufacturing," a comprehensive one-week program in manufacturing for grade school and high school teachers.

April 30: "Retailing," a comprehensive one-week program in retailing for grade school and high school teachers.

May 1: "Tourism," a comprehensive one-week program in tourism for grade school and high school teachers.

May 2: "Tourism," a comprehensive one-week program in tourism for grade school and high school teachers.

May 3: "Tourism," a comprehensive one-week program in tourism for grade school and high school teachers.

May 4: "Tourism," a comprehensive one-week program in tourism for grade school and high school teachers.

May 5: "Tourism," a comprehensive one-week program in tourism for grade school and high school teachers.

May 6: "Tourism," a comprehensive one-week program in tourism for grade school and high school teachers.

May 7: "Tourism," a comprehensive one-week program in tourism for grade school and high school teachers.

May 8: "Tourism," a comprehensive one-week program in tourism for grade school and high school teachers.

May 9: "Tourism," a comprehensive one-week program in tourism for grade school and high school teachers.

May 10: "Tourism," a comprehensive one-week program in tourism for grade school and high school teachers.

May 11: "Tourism," a comprehensive one-week program in tourism for grade school and high school teachers.

May 12: "Tourism," a comprehensive one-week program in tourism for grade school and high school teachers.

May 13: "Tourism," a comprehensive one-week program in tourism for grade school and high school teachers.

May 14: "Tourism," a comprehensive one-week program in tourism for grade school and high school teachers.

May 15: "Tourism," a comprehensive one-week program in tourism for grade school and high school teachers.

May 16: "Tourism," a comprehensive one-week program in tourism for grade school and high school teachers.

May 17: "Tourism," a comprehensive one-week program in tourism for grade school and high school teachers.

May 18: "Tourism," a comprehensive one-week program in tourism for grade school and high school teachers.

May 19: "Tourism," a comprehensive one-week program in tourism for grade school and high school teachers.

May 20: "Tourism," a comprehensive one-week program in tourism for grade school and high school teachers.

May 21: "Tourism," a comprehensive one-week program in tourism for grade school and high school teachers.

May 22: "Tourism," a comprehensive one-week program in tourism for grade school and high school teachers.

May 23: "Tourism," a comprehensive one-week program in tourism for grade school and high school teachers.

May 24: "Tourism," a comprehensive one-week program in tourism for grade school and high school teachers.

May 25: "Tourism," a comprehensive one-week program in tourism for grade school and high school teachers.

May 26: "Tourism," a comprehensive one-week program in tourism for grade school and high school teachers.

May 27: "Tourism," a comprehensive one-week program in tourism for grade school and high school teachers.

May 28: "Tourism," a comprehensive one-week program in tourism for grade school and high school teachers.

May 29: "Tourism," a comprehensive one-week program in tourism for grade school and high school teachers.

May 30: "Tourism," a comprehensive one-week program in tourism for grade school and high school teachers.

May 31: "Tourism," a comprehensive one-week program in tourism for grade school and high school teachers.
Paul Simon, Edwin Diamond

Journalism speakers slated

Speakers by noted critic Edwin Diamond and Lt. Gov. Paul Simon highlight the annual SIU School of Journalism Week Wednesday.

Diamond, critic-at-large for the six Washington Post-SiouxStyle radio and television stations, will deliver the annual Elijah P. Lovejoy Lecture in Journalism at 8 a.m. Wednesday in Missouri Library Auditorium.

The lecture is open to the public.

Diamond worked for Newsweek 12 years, five years as science editor and seven as an editor of the back of the magazine, which involved supervising Newsweek's coverage of education, science, medicine, the press, television, life and leisure, arts, books, movies, religion and theater.

He previously worked for the Chicago American and the International News Service in Chicago and Washington, D.C., and has authored several books.

The Lovejoy lecture is held in memory of the press Civil War Allen

II, editor who was killed, by a mob in 1837.

Simon will address the Southern Illinois Editorial Association Banquet at 7 p.m. Friday in the University Center Ballrooms and will speak on "Politics and the Press."

Tickets to the banquet are $11 a piece.

Other Journalism Week activities will include an address by Carlton Zecher, vice president for client services of Leo Burnett Co., Chicago, at 10 a.m. Thursday in Missouri Library Auditorium.

Zecher, who will speak on "Political Advertising," worked as a volunteer in Adlai Stevenson II's campaign last fall.

On Friday the Journalism Week activities will be combined with the daylong meeting of the Student Senate.

William Allen, one of the three new members on the SIU Board of Trustees, will be speaker at a noon luncheon in the University Center.

Allen is secretary of information for the Illinois Agricultural Association.

From 2 to 4 p.m. Friday a flag raising ceremony and a tour of the new SIU law school will be offered.

 Didn't die alone

INDIANAPOLIS — Herbert Wirth, who spent over 40 years tramping from door to door in Indiana selling shoe insoles and dish clothes, always feared he would be found when he died.

But over 1,000 persons were at his grave site after he died of a heart attack aged 70, in a supermarket.

Abortion statistics near

30,000 in New York

NEW YORK — A total of 30,000 women received abortions in New York City in the first six months of the state's liberalized abortion law.

The number of live births during the period was 178,000.

Office to assist

SIU law school

By University News Services

An office has been established at SIU to expedite legal education program development for the University's law school which tentatively is scheduled to open in the fall of 1972.

Main function of the office will be to gather data necessary for the writing of a formal proposal for the law school and for the approval of the Illinois Board of Higher Education, according to Robert H. Dreher, associate professor in the SIU Center for the Study of Crime, Detrums and Corrections.

Dreher, an attorney, has been assigned to write the proposal, which may take three months.

Assisting Dreher in operation of the office are Mrs. Reginald Davis, former SIU Health Service employee and wife of one of SIU's two ombudsman, George Cramer, doctoral degree student in government and Ronald Daily, graduate student in psychology.
Letters to the Editor

Escalator exemplifies waste of tax money

To the Daily Egyptian:

I wish to add some more ways tax money is wasted: an escalator in the Union so the Pepsi students don't have to walk, lights left on in buildings at night, shining steel book holders beside every book of every subject, and in all departments. How many non-discriminated people could receive their education with this money? Which will prevail? Scholarships and needed facilities or escalators and lights? More laying of concrete so the Pepsi children don't have to get their feet wet?

Perhaps I should add a couple of thoughts. If today's subdivisions are built without walks, people have to use cars. If a building is built without windows, people have to use electric lights. When great changes as a result of overpopulation or whatever occur, how dependent will the Pepsi generation be?

Boozevogues provide jobs. Perhaps the economic problem is more than mismanagement of monetary and fiscal policy. Perhaps we need to explore our resources faster to provide jobs for an ever expanding population. Perhaps we have surpassed the point where social costs of a higher standard of living for the rich exceeds social benefit. We can have our escalators, for the government can give us nothing for nothing by "enhancing the ecology of the beautiful Kaskaskia river with a $9.8 million ditch so barges can float cheaper power to you and me."

Dave Hoover
Sophomore
General Studies

SIU ought to attract top flight entertainers

To the Daily Egyptian:

I as well as many other students to whom I have spoken feel that there is a definite lack of top flight entertainment coming to SIU. Why should a major university with 23,000 students be不来top rock bands with a faculty like the Arena that seats 10,000 people? Second-rate acts such as the Guess Who, Lou Rawls and Richie Havens certainly reflect the conservativeness tastes and money layouts of whoever makes the choices. These conservative ventures usually will bring poor results both in ticket sales and in the music presented as experienced already this past fall.

What SIU needs is a good promoter who has the guts to bring such bands as Chicago, The Moody Blues, Ravi Shanker or the Miami Years After just once. If you act on a few such acts, I believe, would be supported by the students even if it meant paying up to five or six dollars.

The successful concerts that St. Louis University or the University of Illinois have presented, including The Rolling Stones, Sly and the Family Stone, Sha-na-na and Brewer & Shipley, should set an example of the kind of program that could generate extra funds to bring top bands to SIU rather than having to travel to St. Louis or Champaign to see them.

Mark Cerny
Sophomore
Radio and Television

Ex-officer discusses abolition of IFC

To the Daily Egyptian:

I just feel that I can't let Darrell Abern's comments (April 2 editorial) about the abolition of the IFC slip by without noting in my two cents worth. I don't think the average Independent can begin to realize the problems faced by the fraternities and sororities on this campus. They are (particularly the fraternities) struggling for their very existence. It doesn't seem to be such a dire struggle now, but the end can't be too far away if they start taking out their frustrations on a hapless IFC.

I guess the fraternities are suffering from an over-done of selfish apathy like many students at this institution. Each house is too busy building its own image and trying to beat out other houses rather than working for the whole system where the most good can be done.

There were six of us from the various houses who attended an IFC survival conference in Dallas. Yes, this last quarter. There were confronted with a case study in which the University Senate required the IFC to justify its existence or be abolished. The U. Senate cited such failings as 1) violation of university alcohol policy, 2) lack of responsibility, understanding of community projects, 3) students hospitalized by having, 4) discrimination on the basis of race and sex, 5) one-ball selection of membership.

I can't justify these charges for every house here at SIU, but from what I saw and heard the Greek system at SIU is light years ahead of many other schools on the road to reform and relevance in today's society.

So we came back all fired up to take the apathy out of IFC, to get it relevant to the needs of fraternity to restructure the IFC to make it more effective. And the houses voted 112 to abolish the IFC two weeks after we got back. I wonder how long it will take for other IFC's at other universities to catch up to the progress of SIU-IFC when they finally abolish their IFC's. And I wonder if they will think of some better reasons than "lack of relevance" "it never does anything" "the meetings are a pain." This brings me to a quote from the survival conference: "You IFC is only as strong as it's individual members." And I guess if all governing councils had the foresight of the SIU-IFC then we wouldn't have a lot of bureaucracy that we do today. I can think of one group that should take a cue from the SIU-IFC the SIU Student Senate.

Charles White
Ex-president Interfraternity Council

Segregated meetings are getting a little old

To the Daily Egyptian:

Having quickly returned from the Black Student Union meeting the evening of April 7, I became disillusioned in black people. I was kindly asked to leave. I am white. Rearing whites from black meetings or vice versa clearly shows the cultural lag our country faces today. If brotherhood is to begin, now is the time to get together. I hope future meetings of any ethnic group are not segregated to a chosen few. It's time people unite and quit playing these silly social games. Don't you think it's getting a little old?

John Mars
Junior Journalism

Correction

In a letter to the editor printed last Friday, "Washington protests gain local support," the signatures should have been followed by the identification, "Committee on Tsao-yu Tai, Concerned Chinese Students and Faculty Members, Southern Illinois University, a newly formed group, C. H. Song, W. S. Yang and S. H. H. Lin, who signed the letter for the committee, are chairman and vice chairman, respectively. The omission was an editorial oversight.

Daily Egyptian

Opinion and Commentary

EDITORIALS - The Daily Egyptian encourages free discussion of current issues through editorials and letters. This page contains the opinions of the editors, signed and sent in by members of the student news staff and by students enrolled in journalism courses and represent opinions of the authors only.

LETTERS - Readers are invited to express their opinions in letters which must be signed with name, classification and major, or faculty rank, address and telephone number. Letters should be typewritten, and their editors are prepared to request the return of all words. Letters, of no more than 200 words, are subject to deletions and are used to make their points in terms of issues rather than personalities. Acceptance for publication will depend upon the limitations of space and the timeliness and relevance of the material. Unsigned letters will not be accepted, and authorship of all letters must be verified by the Daily Egyptian. It is the response area for letters. Letters and replies to letters should be sent to the opinion editor.

As a part of the opinion page, this page includes editorials and articles reprinted from other publications, syndicated columns and articles, and reprints or op-ed articles published locally.
actions and issues

senate plan would change

egyptian's newsroom setup

editor's note: This roundup of news and comments on actions and issues in the student Senate is presented each week by Daily Egyptian staff writer Chuck Hutchcraft as an extra look at what's going on in student government.

by chuck hutchcraft

daily egyptian staff writer

last week student government's public information director Bob Carr presented the Student Senate with an experimental proposal (ExProp) designed to create more student involvement in the Daily Egyptian's news gathering operation.

the senate endorsed the proposal because it wants more student control in this branch of the "establishment"—the pig press, the yellow tabled of SIU.

in presenting the proposal, Carr, a former staff writer for the paper, said the Daily Egyptian's news gathering operation would be greatly facilitated by such a measure.

well, here is an explanation of the proposal, as clear and objective manner as possible, and the workings of the Daily Egyptian as it is at the present.

the proposal says, "the Daily Egyptian has attained the reputation of being one of the finest university news gathering operations in the United States. The complaints directed at the Daily Egyptian are minimal."

the proposal would affect only the Daily Egyptian's newsroom—the people who gather, write and edit the news.

it would reconstruct the present setup into a series of editors, at the top being the editor selection board, which would select the paper's various editors on a year to year basis.

this board would be composed of students and faculty with a heavy academic concentration in journalism, but it would also include persons from other academic areas. the director of the School of Journalism would sit as an ex-officio member on the board.

the board could also act as a liaison between the chancellor's office and the newsroom.

under this board, the editor-in-chief, the executive editor and the news editor, all undergraduates majoring in journalism.

the editor-in-chief would supervise the entire news operation. he would be in charge of the paper's editorial policy, and he would also serve as the paper's policy representative.

the executive editor would be in charge of implementing the editorial policy. he would also coordinate the editorial pages. working with this editor would be a staff of two persons whose concern would be in-depth articles and production of editorials.

the news editor would coordinate the paper's news gathering operation on a day to day operation of the paper. he would make news coverage and photo assignments and would coordinate the news flow between the editors.

these best editors would be concerned with the news gathering, while other editors assigned in his assigned area—campus, city, state, sports, copy and make-up—are carried out by writers working under them.

all the editor positions mentioned so far would be paid positions. certain staff members working with the best editors would also be paid.

the daily Egyptian's present setup consists of 20 student members, which includes three copy editors, one page make-up editor, an editor in charge of the editorial page, one editor who is responsible for news assignments, and five photographers.

working with this staff are three graduate students who read and proof news copy.

the Daily Egyptian incorporates the work of students in an editing class, Journalism 301, who edit news copy and write the paper's headlines. it also uses work done by student photographers. mass lined news writing and editorial writing courses.

at the top is the managing editor, a faculty member, who advises, makes editorial decisions and works on many of the paper's operations himself.

students complain that this paper is in the hands of the "establishment" and, therefore, is controlled by it. they also charge that our paper do not adequately serve the students' interests or adequately cover student and university community.

the final decision of the Daily Egyptian rest in the hands of the School of Journalism's director, who was authorized by then SIU president Delo Y. W. Morris, to create a more professional in quality as possible, to serve the University community—students, faculty and administration or the "establishment."

all that can be said is that the Daily Egyptian, as do most newspapers, has an interest in the com- munity and the community it serves—and the truth. but like most operations in this place, it is operated by humans who are subject to human mistakes.

the innocent bystander will jed garoover retire at 304?

by arthur hopp

chronicle features

hi, there, tee-vee fans. hold on to your hats 'cause off we go on a brand new adventure serial—jed garoover, crime fighter!

it's the exciting, thrilling story of how jed garoover carries on his one-man crusade against America's enemies with unrelenting vigor—even though he's 104 years old.

as we join jed today he's in his humble 20-room suite of offices atop the Washington Monument confering with his young secretary, Lotus Lane. she's only 96.

jed: all right, Miss Lane, let me have your daily report on the evil doings of America's greatest enemies.

Miss Lane (reading from a list): Well, chief, first of all, one of your agents stubbed his toe while pursuing a bank robber and in his pain exclaimed, according to sworn affidavits by three fellow agents, "Good Garoover!"

jed: (shocked): That's a clear case of taking my name in vain. To Bose with him! will these young whippersnappers in my Bureau never learn the discipline required to preserve our cherished American freedoms? What will the American people say, Miss Lane? there's Congress, Chief. It seems Jed (thoughtfully): Ah, yes, it's budget time again. Issued new orders to all staff members to consult all matters of conspir- aacy so that our friends in Congress will understand these increased appropriations as usual. Let's see, in recent years we've discovered the Old Red Conspiracy, the New Black Conspiracy, and the Young White Conspiracy. Hmmmm, what about a Yellow Conspiracy this year to brighten things up? (looking at his calendar) Miss Lane: Yes, Chief. But there's something else afoot Miss Lane: (complacently): anything for my dear friends in Congress. What is it?

Miss Lane (hastily): Your resignation, Chief.

Jed: (stunned): You mean there are actually enemies of America in Congress? This is the worst conspiracy I ever heard of!

Miss Lane: They say, Chief—forget them. they know not what they do—that you're too old.

jed: Too old? why? i don't feel a day over a hundred. i can still batter down a door with my club just as always. watch. (he8 toe8 around the room, marches up to the door, and hits the window which, for some unknown reason, doesn't break.) don't stand there, Miss Lane, pick me up.

Miss Lane: (picking him up): oh, Chief, i'm worried.

Jed: (grumpy): Don't worry, Miss Lane. i can still shoot as straight as ever. i'll get these dirty rats who would destroy America by getting me to retire. Toss me my trusty pastel, Miss Lane. i'll show them. i'm as young as ever.

Miss Lane: (happily): oh, Chief, i just knew you will. (she gives him his broads\tate and broadsword.)

Jed: (wistfully): Well, don't just stand there, Miss Lane, pick me up again.

will Jed Garoover retire while still in the prime of his second century? Will the Good Lord quit making green grass up? will we have to turn to another next time, for the furama! the adventures of our popular 104-year-old Crime Fighter. And, now, a word from Gerald.

Daily Egyptian April 12, 1971, Page 8

"He can't call the FBI—that is the FBI!"
"If I could get my hands on my first grade teacher now, I'd break her chalk."

It all began in the first grade.
But don't blame your first-grade teacher. It wasn't her fault. It was the system she had to teach.
The old 'run Spot, run' method.
You had to read it out loud. Word by word. And that is the way it was until you became a second grader.
Where your teacher asked you to read silently.
But you couldn't do it.
You probably stopped reading out loud. But you still said every word to yourself.
If you're an average reader, you're probably reading that way now.
Which means you read only as fast as you talk.
About 250 to 300 words a minute.
And that's not fast enough any more.
Not when the average student has approximately 8 hours of required reading for every day of classes.
And since the amount of time in a day isn't about to decrease, your reading speed will have to.
In order to handle it all.
The Evelyn Wood Reading Dynamics course can help.
With training, you'll be able to see groups of words. To read between 1,000 and 3,000 words per minute. Depending on how difficult the material is.
At any rate, we guarantee to at least triple your reading speed, or we'll refund your entire tuition. (96.4% of everyone who takes the course accomplishes this.)

So don't waste time thinking about whom to blame. Come take a free introductory speed reading lesson. We'll increase your reading speed on the spot.
It takes about an hour to find out how you can reduce your study time by 50% or more.
And it ought to be worth an hour of your time.
To save thousands.

Evelyn Wood
Reading Dynamics
Some of our best friends were slow readers.

FREE INTRODUCTORY LESSON

Today          Tuesday       April 13       3:00 or 6:30 or 8:00
Tomorrow       Wednesday     April 14       3:00 or 6:30 or 8:00
Or             Thursday      April 15       3:00 or 6:30 or 8:00

at The Newman Center - Washington & Grand
One marcher arrested

Antiwar rally stirs little excitement

By Marthe Spalding
Daily Egyptian Staff Writer

A "People’s March Against the War" anti-war rally held Saturday generated little excitement, with only 300 people participating. The ceremonies were sponsored by the Women’s Liberation Front and the Southern Illinois Peace Coalition (SIPC).

James Decker, a member of Women’s Liberation and sister of Weatherman Helen Decker, addressed the rally held on the lawn of Public Administration Hall.

One arrest was made during the parade. Floyd J. O'Brien was arrested and charged with disorderly conduct. O'Brien was apprehended in front of an unmarked police car and refused to move.

O'Brien was released on $25 bond and was to appear in court in Murphysboro on Monday. O'Brien is not registered as an SIU student.

The march began in front of the University Center at 1 p.m. and proceeded across the overpass to the Brush Tower-University Park area. Marchers chanted "Off AID" and "Off the Sexual Center" referencing the recent student protest. Members of Women’s Liberation were at the forefront of the march, comprising a banner proclaiming "Revolutionary Women Say Off AID."

Survival workshop planned

A series of survival workshops for black students at SIU is being planned by James King of the Rehabilitation Institute.

King, who is a Community Affairs Specialist, said that students interested in participating in the workshops, which will deal with academic, economic or personal problems, are asked to come to the Rehabilitation Institute at 801 S. Elizabeth St. any time this week.

King said the workshops will be devoted to discussions of the students’ various problems. King said after the initial discussions that professionals will be contacted to assist in solving the problems.

"The professionals from relevant fields will be brought in to help students develop plans for surviving," King said.

King said he will be assisted by Abdul Wash in coordinating the workshops.

The workshops and discussions will continue through the spring semester.

Students who are interested in the program are asked to call the Rehabilitation Institute at 693-5944.

Richie Havens

IN CONCERT
SIU ARENA
Sunday
April 18, 8 p.m.

Special Guest
Star
NED

TICKET LOCATIONS

Panney’s
SIU Arena Office
Sav-Mart
VTI Student Center
Tempe
University Center
Information Desk

Ticket Prices
SIU Students $3.00 $3.50
General Public $3.00 $3.50 $4.00

Still plenty of good seats available at all prices

Student discount tickets may be purchased at the University Center or the SIU Arena Ticket Office upon presentation of SIU Student ID & paid spring 77 statement.
NEW JUST ARRIVED

Crosby, Stills, Nash and Young
LIVE double set
"FOUR WAY STREET"

CONTAINS:
"On the Way Home" "OHIO"
"Teach Your Children" "49 Bye Byes"
"Pre-Road Downs" "America's Children"
"Cowgirl in the Sand" "Triad"
"Long Time Comm' in" "Southern Man"
"Right Between the Eyes" "Carry On"
"Find the Cost of Freedom"
"Love the One You're With"
"Chicago All Along the Lee Shore"
"Don't Let It Bring You Down"

complete lyrics inside

CROSBY, STILLS, NASH, YOUNG
"4 Way Street"

IT'S HERE! REALLY!
Campus and area activities listed for Tuesday

Baseball: SIU vs. Minnesota, 3 p.m., Mykie's Field, University Athletic Complex

Crab Orchard Kennel Club: meet, 4 p.m., University Center, Ballroom C

Food Films Show: agriculture films noted for photography, 8 a.m., Pulliam 410, Pulliam gym, 8-10 a.m.

Lecture and Entertainment Committee will host science doctoral program undergraduate lecture, 4:50 p.m., north tennis court

Intramurals: softball managers meeting (Coaches) 4:30 p.m., Necker 1-440

Alpha Gamma Eau: coffee hour, 5-30-30 a.m., Agriculture Seminar Room

Psychology clinical-conference, 1-3 p.m., Agriculture Seminar Room

Psychological counseling, 9-11 a.m., Student Affairs Office

Television broadcast: "Vietnam Veterans Against the War," 9-11 a.m., University Center Activity Room

Soccer Club practices: 4-30-30 p.m., soccer field

Free School: "Format Radio," 7 p.m., Building 520A, Room 118

Soccer Club practices: 4-30-30 p.m., soccer field

Free School: "Format Radio," 7 p.m., Building 520A, Room 118

A National Student Scholars Conference, sponsored by the Black Student Union (BSU), in conjunction with the Student Foundation of Illinois, will be held Friday and Saturday at the BSU, announced Monday.

The purpose of the conference is to bring together black student organizations from across the country to discuss the question of black survival, a spokesman for the BSU said.

Representatives of the black community who plan to participate in the program, he said, will be announced shortly.

The meeting of three university students with Governor Richard B. Ogilvie in discussions on the subject of black survival has been canceled and rescheduled for 7 p.m. Thursday.

Ogilvie was to meet Friday with students representing three state universities, including SIU, and the chairman of the Illinois Board of Higher Education's Student advisory Committee.

According to Tom Busch, graduate assistant in the Office of Student Relations representing SIU, Ogilvie agreed to the meeting as he could clarify the intent of his budget message presented earlier this year.

Student Advisory Committee chairman Brian Jackson requested the meeting.

Author raps Playboy philosophy

By Rev. Lee Truman, Daily News Service

Christianity and hedonism comprise the present day clash of philosophies, says Burrows Down, philosophy professor and author.

Down has just completed a two-year study of what he calls the chief exponent of the cult of the love of pleasure, which is Hugh Hefner's Playboy magazine.

"Twenty million people read the monthly magazine "Playboy," said Down, "which has become a pace setter in the philosophical and cultural revolution that we call the '60s.""

The philosopher of Hugh Hefner, as he explains in his book, The Philosophy of Hugh Hefner, is a kind of expert on the philosophical framework of the thoughts and activities of the men when they use terms which are familiar in our own vocabulary and understanding and the wholly new and different meanings they bring to bear on the events of the times.

The third result of this study is to present a character sketch of the man who is the author of the majority of the articles published in that magazine.

The Philosophy of Hugh Hefner was published by Random House and is the first book to be written about the man who has made the Playboy magazine the most popular magazine in the world.

BSU to host unity meeting

The meeting of three university students with Gov. Richard B. Ogilvie in discussions on the subject of black survival has been canceled and rescheduled for 7 p.m. Thursday.

Ogilvie was to meet Friday with students representing three state universities, including SIU, and the chairman of the Illinois Board of Higher Education's Student advisory Committee.

According to Tom Busch, graduate assistant in the Office of Student Relations representing SIU, Ogilvie agreed to the meeting as he could clarify the intent of his budget message presented earlier this year.

Student Advisory Committee chairman Brian Jackson requested the meeting.

Soccer Club practices: 4-30-30 p.m., soccer field

Free School: "Format Radio," 7 p.m., Building 520A, Room 118

A National Student Scholars Conference, sponsored by the Black Student Union (BSU), in conjunction with the Student Foundation of Illinois, will be held Friday and Saturday at the BSU, announced Monday.

The purpose of the conference is to bring together black student organizations from across the country to discuss the question of black survival, a spokesman for the BSU said.

Representatives of the black community who plan to participate in the program, he said, will be announced shortly.

The meeting of three university students with Governor Richard B. Ogilvie in discussions on the subject of black survival has been canceled and rescheduled for 7 p.m. Thursday.

Ogilvie was to meet Friday with students representing three state universities, including SIU, and the chairman of the Illinois Board of Higher Education's Student advisory Committee.

According to Tom Busch, graduate assistant in the Office of Student Relations representing SIU, Ogilvie agreed to the meeting as he could clarify the intent of his budget message presented earlier this year.

Student Advisory Committee chairman Brian Jackson requested the meeting.

Ephphath will be placed on the concept of the black student on the intellectual arm of the struggle, he continued.

Regeneration will begin Friday at the Third World Music Center 222 W. Washington St. A general assembly at 6 p.m. in the Tradgord Hall at University Park will follow.

Two films, "War in Cairo" and "War in Vietnam," will be shown at 5 p.m. Saturday at the Newman Center, Busse will leave for Cairo following the shows.

The purpose of the Cairo trip will be to celebrate the second anniversary of the economic boycott in Cairo, the BSU said.

BSU to host unity meeting

The meeting of three university students with Gov. Richard B. Ogilvie in discussions on the subject of black survival has been canceled and rescheduled for 7 p.m. Thursday.

Ogilvie was to meet Friday with students representing three state universities, including SIU, and the chairman of the Illinois Board of Higher Education's Student advisory Committee.

According to Tom Busch, graduate assistant in the Office of Student Relations representing SIU, Ogilvie agreed to the meeting as he could clarify the intent of his budget message presented earlier this year.

Student Advisory Committee chairman Brian Jackson requested the meeting.

Soccer Club practices: 4-30-30 p.m., soccer field

Free School: "Format Radio," 7 p.m., Building 520A, Room 118

A National Student Scholars Conference, sponsored by the Black Student Union (BSU), in conjunction with the Student Foundation of Illinois, will be held Friday and Saturday at the BSU, announced Monday.

The purpose of the conference is to bring together black student organizations from across the country to discuss the question of black survival, a spokesman for the BSU said.

Representatives of the black community who plan to participate in the program, he said, will be announced shortly.

The meeting of three university students with Gov. Richard B. Ogilvie in discussions on the subject of black survival has been canceled and rescheduled for 7 p.m. Thursday.

Ogilvie was to meet Friday with students representing three state universities, including SIU, and the chairman of the Illinois Board of Higher Education's Student advisory Committee.

According to Tom Busch, graduate assistant in the Office of Student Relations representing SIU, Ogilvie agreed to the meeting as he could clarify the intent of his budget message presented earlier this year.

Student Advisory Committee chairman Brian Jackson requested the meeting.

Soccer Club practices: 4-30-30 p.m., soccer field

Free School: "Format Radio," 7 p.m., Building 520A, Room 118

A National Student Scholars Conference, sponsored by the Black Student Union (BSU), in conjunction with the Student Foundation of Illinois, will be held Friday and Saturday at the BSU, announced Monday.

The purpose of the conference is to bring together black student organizations from across the country to discuss the question of black survival, a spokesman for the BSU said.

Representatives of the black community who plan to participate in the program, he said, will be announced shortly.

The meeting of three university students with Gov. Richard B. Ogilvie in discussions on the subject of black survival has been canceled and rescheduled for 7 p.m. Thursday.

Ogilvie was to meet Friday with students representing three state universities, including SIU, and the chairman of the Illinois Board of Higher Education's Student advisory Committee.

According to Tom Busch, graduate assistant in the Office of Student Relations representing SIU, Ogilvie agreed to the meeting as he could clarify the intent of his budget message presented earlier this year.

Student Advisory Committee chairman Brian Jackson requested the meeting.

Soccer Club practices: 4-30-30 p.m., soccer field

Free School: "Format Radio," 7 p.m., Building 520A, Room 118

A National Student Scholars Conference, sponsored by the Black Student Union (BSU), in conjunction with the Student Foundation of Illinois, will be held Friday and Saturday at the BSU, announced Monday.

The purpose of the conference is to bring together black student organizations from across the country to discuss the question of black survival, a spokesman for the BSU said.

Representatives of the black community who plan to participate in the program, he said, will be announced shortly.

The meeting of three university students with Gov. Richard B. Ogilvie in discussions on the subject of black survival has been canceled and rescheduled for 7 p.m. Thursday.

Ogilvie was to meet Friday with students representing three state universities, including SIU, and the chairman of the Illinois Board of Higher Education's Student advisory Committee.

According to Tom Busch, graduate assistant in the Office of Student Relations representing SIU, Ogilvie agreed to the meeting as he could clarify the intent of his budget message presented earlier this year.

Student Advisory Committee chairman Brian Jackson requested the meeting.
Dayan plan rejected by Egyptians

By The Associated Press

Egyptian officials turned down Monday a suggestion by Israeli Defense Minister Moshe Dayan to withdraw Israeli troops from the Sinai Canal, under a permanent ceasefire and agreement that no spot or Egyptian would cross the canal.

The Egyptians insisted their forces must occupy positions on the Israeli side of the canal.

Egypt will accept nothing less, officials in Cairo said. "We have nothing to add. One position has been clarified by President Anwar Sadat's statement of April 2. Sadat, in his statement, demanded the partial withdrawal of Israeli forces from the Sinai Peninsula as the first step toward the re-establishing all Egyptian territory occupied since 1967. Sadat said he would then reopen the canal.

Sadat also said Egypt would promptly cross the waterway to assume its national duties as Israel withdraws.

This view is so forth his idea Sunday at a news conference in Tel Aviv, said any partial pullback must lead to the comprehensive settlement for which we are working.

Authoritative sources in Cairo described Dayan's suggestion as a partial settlement which Egypt has always rejected. Egypt cannot accept anything less than total settlement, they said.

Cairo emphasizes that requires Israeli evacuation of all occupied areas, including territory in Syria and Jordan. It also requires restoration of "Palestinian rights" as an essential settlement of the refugee problem—something which has eluded world statesmen for years.

Dayan apparently envisaged some sort of demilitarized strip to be patrolled by international forces.

Sadat, who has said April will be Egypt's "month of decision," said his war, made in Cairo Monday, with heads of state from Sadat and Syria in a "minimum" of Tripartite charter states.

Strongly supported Sadat's of Libya, the fourth member of the Tripartite charter, bowed out of the sessions without explanation at the last minute and, instead, dispatched two members of Libya's Revolutionary Council, Nay Badar, Sallah, and Nay Abdel, Mansour, Eid.

The Tripartite charter was negotiated and signed a year ago by the late President Gamal Abdel Nasser with Libya and Sadat. It envisages the eventual confederation of member states.

The chiefs of state hope to consult on policies in case current peace efforts collapse.

They are also examining the situation in Jordan where the army reported a pre-dawn guerrilla attack Monday on two northern villages in which commandos used rockets and artillery breech guns.

One guerrilla leader was captured and there were no army losses, a military spokesman reported. The clash was not reported by the com-

The new fighting breaks out after eight days of negotiations to seek bargains with his country's security, and guerrilla leader Yasser Arafat, the man would stand firm against alleged government at-

Mean while, a house-to-house search for arms continued in Amman.

Jordan's capital, under a heavy rainstorm. Security forces cordoned the northern section of the city, evicted by the guerrillas over the weekend.

In Tel Aviv, the Israeli press focused on reports Moscow has given, to Middle East, reportedly埃及 the world's fastest fighter-pilots.

The acquisition of the Slavic Soviet warplanes is not likely to make President Sadat any more formidable in his dealings with Israel, said the Daily Haaretz, one of the commentaries.

It added that "Washington cannot remain indifferent either" because the papers said, the MIG29 supply will affect the U.S. military posture in the Middle East.

In Washington, a State Department spokesman said the United States is keeping a careful check on the increased Soviet arms shipments to Egypt in order to determine their effect on the military balance between Egypt and Israel.

IBHE to consider request

The Illinois Board of Higher Education (IBHE) will consider a request Thursday to reorganize and redesignate the SIU School of Technology.

The SIU Board of Trustees passed the proposal Oct. 9, to change the name of the School of Technology to the School of Engineering and Technology.

The IBHE meeting in Springfield also will hear a report by IBHE executive director James B. Haney, who on the public hearings that were held recently on the proposal Master Plan Phase III.

As approved by the SIU Board, the request now before the IBHE for the School of Technology does not entail any change in programs, activities or personnel. It asks that the redesignated School be divided into five departments: Electrical Sciences and Systems Engineering, Engineering Mechanics and Materials, Occupational Education, Technology, and Environmental Engineering.

Hudlyman's report will offer a review of the 11 public hearings that were held throughout the state during March. The report includes summaries of statements made by various advisory committees to the IBHE on the master plan.

BONAPARTE'S

RETAIL

AMBOY

BRAKE

DUKES

BONAPARTE'S

BRAKE

AMBOY

DUKES

BRAKE

WHERE ARE THE PRICES RIGHT?

GRAND A med EGGS 3 DOZ. 100c

PORK RIBS 3 LB 49c

GLAZED HAAS 3 PKGS 39c

HAWAIIAN PUNCH 46 OZ 33c

KORN VALLEY BACON 3 LB 29c

BARBECUE CHICKENS 99c

HEAD LETTUCE EA 19c

CHARMINE 4 ROLL 39c

TEXAS ORANGES 49c

MACARONI SALAD PT 25c

IN OUR DEI

GRILL

3 OZ 100c

LOW FAT

DONUTS $1.00

TISSUE 39c

PORK 59c

ORANGES 5 LB

LOW FAT

COUPON

VEGETABLES

with this coupon $5.00 purchase or more

Page 10. Daily Egyptian, April 13, 1971
Air Force uses blockbusters on NVN troops

SAIGON (AP) — U.S. planes are dropping 75-ton blockbusters on North Vietnamese towns as a show of force.

The raid on small towns near the border of Laos, Cambodia and South Vietnam, was announced on Friday. The attack was timed to coincide with the 30th anniversary of the tet offensive.

The military said the raid was in response to North Vietnamese troops crossing into South Vietnam.

The raids are part of a larger strategy to disrupt North Vietnamese supply lines.

The Air Force said they would continue until the North Vietnamese cease their attacks on South Vietnam.

SIU professor wins Candid.tel

A SIU professor has won the prestigious Candid.tel award for his contribution to the field of computer science.

The professor's research focuses on artificial intelligence and machine learning.

His work has been widely recognized and his paper was included in the list of top ten papers in the field.

The award was presented at the annual conference in San Francisco, where he delivered a keynote speech.

Pong pongo power

The U.S. team tours China

The U.S. men's national table tennis team arrived in China on Saturday.

They will participate in a tournament and a series of matches over the next week.

The team is made up of some of the best players in the world and is expected to perform well.

SIU professor wins school board position

A SIU professor has been elected to the school board.

The professor, who is known for his expertise in education, will join the board members in June.

The board selects the superintendent and oversees the district's finances.

Candidates will talk to council

Eight candidates for the city council will be speaking at the city hall tonight.

The candidates will be divided into two groups and will have a total of 10 minutes to speak.

The city council meets every first and third Monday of the month.

Post-Easter SALE

Stationary Sale

2/$100

Also see our sale of gift items and SIU Souvenirs

AT 710 Book and Supply Store
710 South Illinois

World Film Premiere

Buckminster Fuller on Space Shuttle Earth

The world premiere of the movie "Buckminster Fuller on Space Shuttle Earth" will be held at the Shroyer Auditorium on Friday, April 16.

The movie features the work of Buckminster Fuller, the famous inventor and designer.

Tickets for the premiere are available at the Central Ticket Office at the door.

SPONSORED BY COMMITTEE FOR THE FUTURE

Daily Egyptian, April 13, 1971, Page 11
$1 million grant aimed at jobless Vietnam vets

WASHINGTON (AP) - Continuing the nation's 'Vietnam syndrome' of help, President Nixon announced Monday a $1 million grant to attract disadvantaged veterans to expanded GI bill education benefits.

Nixon said the Office of Economic Opportunity program is aimed at veterans who are not benefiting from the GI bill.

"We owe these men a debt of gratitude for their service but we also owe them something more," the President said.

The growing fact is that unemployment among Vietnam-era veterans still is significantly greater than it is among non-veterans in the same age bracket.

The program administered for the OEO by the National League of Cities and the U.S. Conference of Mayors under a $1,696,755 OEO grant is to start in low-income and blue-collar neighborhoods in 10 cities as a demonstration basis.

Details were spelled out by government officials and veterans involved in the program after an hour-long meeting with the President.

Former infantry Lt. Robert Penn, a Negro who already has been trying to attract disadvantaged veterans to GI bill benefits in his hometown of Buffalo, N.Y., said the primary beneficiaries of the GI bill benefits, but many are not taking advantage of them and often don't know about them.

James F. Osten Jr., head of a group for Vietnam veterans created by the President last October, said 300,000 veterans now are unenrolled.

"We owe these men a debt of gratitude for their service but we also owe them something more," the President said.

The program administered for the OEO by the National League of Cities and the U.S. Conference of Mayors under a $1,696,755 OEO grant is to start in low-income and blue-collar neighborhoods in 10 cities as a demonstration basis.

Details were spelled out by government officials and veterans involved in the program after an hour-long meeting with the President.

Former infantry Lt. Robert Penn, a Negro who already has been trying to attract disadvantaged veterans to GI bill benefits in his hometown of Buffalo, N.Y., said the primary beneficiaries of the GI bill benefits, but many are not taking advantage of them and often don't know about them.

James F. Osten Jr., head of a group for Vietnam veterans created by the President last October, said 300,000 veterans now are unenrolled.

Recyclying topic of EnAct meet

The feasibility of recycling metal, glass and paper at 91 will be discussed by Students for Environmental Action (EnAct) at 8 p.m. Wednesday in Activity Room II in the University Center.

Ray Leon, EnAct adviser, said the group will also hold a general business meeting.

CFUT to meet

Wednesday

The Carbondale Federation of University Teachers, a recently organized chapter of the American Federation of Teachers (AFT), will meet at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday in Lawrence 221, according to Jonathan Selden, temporary president.

Selden said the group will discuss membership eligibility and issues the group might want to take up in the future.

Autistic children topic of speech

Dr. Ivan Lovaas, professor of psychology at the University of California at Los Angeles and staff psychologist at the UCLA Psychology Clinic, will speak on "Recent Developments in the Behavioral Treatment of Autistic Children." He will speak at 8 p.m. Friday in Davis Auditorium.

Lovaas, who has more than 30 publications in various languages in his credit, has lectured at universities in Sweden, Denmark, England, Germany and Iran. He has received world wide acclaim for his work with autistic, schizophrenic and retarded children.

Vehicle washer lowers prices

WALLOPS ISLAND, Va. To wash the cars and trucks at the National Aeronautics and Space Administration's Wallops Station, it used to take 458 man hours and $1,096. With the purchase of a commercial washer for $2,000, the time spent in picking dishes hands was reduced to 210 man hours a year. The first year's savings were $518 and 24 days. Afterwards, a savings of $518 was projected.
Film stars' homes not as lavish now

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP) - The donation by the late Harold Lloyd of his Beverly Hills mansion for public use will give Americans a chance to see the lavish style in which film figures have lived. It is a style that is fast disappearing.

Lloyd's place is a French Renaissance palace. In its heyday it was staffed by 38 servants. It is surrounded by 15 landscaped acres reflecting the center's interests: nine-hole golf course, handball court, 100-foot waterfall, Olympic-size swimming pool and 900-foot racetrack. Movie stars once vied with each other for grandness of living quarters. No more. With rare exceptions, today's film personalities are eschewing the monumental house with plaques of servants. The lifestyle of the stars has undergone a thorough change.

Burt Lancaster is an example. "I'm a rich man - I could live very comfortably for the next 10 years without working," he says. But in times like these when the film business is in such bad shape, you feel you should cut down on expenses.

I realized I was living in a house that required five servants and was for $70,000 a year too many, so...

ROME still dirty after clean up

ROME - A six-week campaign to clean up the Eternal City ended Monday. And the city is still desperate dirty.

Officials blanketed Rome with posters urging cleanliness. The trash boxes everyone kept on throwing on the streets read "Rome is also yours. Keep it clean.

All mail processed in the city was postmarked with the slogan, "Newspaper boxes and telephones trumpetted it.

The Romans didn't change. And more than 100,000 visitors descended on the city for the Easter weekend, leaving behind their litter for this last day of the campaign.

But the afternoon newspaper Piazza Sera. The cleanliness of a city depends on the character of its population.

But Romans are incorrigible and...traditional litters. They start the New Year by dumping anything they want to dispense with - pots and pans, socks or furniture - out of the window. They carry on in the same spirit the remainder of the year. Bus riders drop their tickets the moment they get off. Children hurl confetti at carnivals. Demonstrators of all hues filled the huge piazzas with...
Murder a la Hitchcock

‘New Leaf:’ amalgam of Fields, Grant

By Dennis Koneczny
Speed Reader

While Matthew looks like a handsome

Even when he’s not playing a bookish, like the time he enjoyed the

imposed role of the narcissistic marine dot in “The Frenzy” or the unrepentant thief

against whom the ungorshen wife lager Stevens in “A Couple, and then

sat somewhat in awe wondering

how a guy who looked like that,

and the nerve to step out on a wife who looked like that, could understandably, be driven to such extreme lengths after a few tortured years in suburbia with Doris, but a guy with a face like a dyspeptic bloodhound had to be crazy to find around on

Gin

His 1968 Academy Award

winning performance as astute lawyer Wysipajew Willie Ganger in "The Fortune Cookie" seems to have seemed Matthew as a representative face.

Shifty-eyed and

hang-dog of visage

as an actor, Matthew skillfully beds his brother-in-law, Jack Lemmon, in a week brace of illness prior to that,

and then proceeded to lose everybody in sight. It was a tour de force that seemed to sum up all that is emotionally and physically glamorous

about middle-American’s principle preoccupation greed.

With Good Grades. Matthew was unlikely that Matthew was writing,

trying to play

Henry Graham, the

marvelously long-winded

character he suddenly finds himself

poverty stricken

in rebellion. "A New Leaf" now at the

Sahuk Cinema

Armed with Miss May’s

refraining from literate script and guided by her solid, if same to the truth, the writer

Matthew's narrative

seems in bringing the whole business

out to his full advantage in the direct descendant of Ichabod Crane out of Judy Canova’s

and served him

uncomprehending,

amalgam of W.C. Fields at his morose-brooding best, and then

in a maddeningly

cold, with a wildly

of the long-ago

Grant-Katherine Hepburn-Ida Lupino’s "screwball connection of the 3r, but with an added ingredient, the gentle art of murder in a Hitchcock.

Matthew’s Henry dearly

loves being rich. “All I am or ever was is rich, he ought to mention the throws of regal despair,” and that is all I ever wished to be determined not to give up a way of life. Henry decides on the only course of action open to a respectable woman-hating gentleman like himself. He will marry a wealthy woman and, after standing it as long as he can, dispose of her.

With only a scant few days to save his good name and credit rating,

Matthew makes wise and wells his beautiful Miss May on a superunderplayed performance.

a monumental kind of an

become given to spilling her tea cup and

and table fried with an abomination called a Megan David

Malaga Center onto the expense rugs of her shoes. She is the type woman as Henry observes healthily,

who has to be vacuums every time she cooks.

The rest of the proceedings turn unpredictable. Henry’s bungling attacks at the perfect murder is failed when he comes to the recognition that although he is no more grown accustomed to her.

Supporting performances are, as

"Variety" likes to say, uniformly fine, with some outstanding turns supplied by George Rose as Grerry’s corrupting old gentleman’s gentleman and comic-romantic adviser and Jack

Western as Miss May’s charing actor who is so distraught at the repeating maudles that he tries to talk her out of it while walking her down the aisle.

The acting honors belong mostly to

Matthew as he deftly slips in and out of the Fields-Grant paradigm as well.

As Fields he accedes a snobbish

b GST of harboring erotic designs ago her expensive rug, because and finally threatens to shush Miss

May’s shuffling servants and engages in a somewhat disturbing confrontation with the classic Fields archetype of a crowd battering a child. Sadly that last bit. Whereas Fields would have topped things off with a descend on little movers’-nooking

of incense and lemonade and at pressed to slug the brood, Matthew because the little girls hadn’t of being a Nazi because she has a

German name.

Doing Grant, Matthew turns in the film’s comic highlight as he maestros-tries to extricate Miss May from the honey-moon nightmares she has managed to put on backwards.

Chicago Sun Times movie critic

Roger Ebert reports that Miss May’s

is planning legal action against

Paramount pictures for cutting two murders from the finished print.

This may be one of the rare times that style cuts made against the will of the director have enhanced the final product. It is difficult to say, of course, without seeing the missing footage, but the added spe-tre of real murders, no matter how tastefully done, might have tipped

this lightweight outing completely off balance.

Meetings established to discuss the aged

More than 1,000 persons appointed by

Gov. Robert B. Ogilvie will attend an open regional conference on aging, according to Mrs. Lee Williams, executive director of the Governor’s Committee for Senior Citizens.

There will be a conference in each of the Illinois Department of Public

Aid’s four state regions, including the one in the Cook County region, on April 15 to discuss the needs of the aged, which is scheduled to begin April 11.

Delegates from the Carbonado area will attend the Region V conference at 9 a.m. on April 30 at the Ramada Inn in Marquette.

There will be 116 delegates representing 16 counties at the Region V conference, according to

Florian Butler, executive director of the Region V Illinois Department of Public Aid

Aid.

The delegates will attend workshops and

Layer, faculty to discuss AID

The Carbonado Faculty Council will meet at 2 p.m. Tuesday in the Upland Center and Chancellor

Robert G. Layer to discuss the recent budget cuts. The faculty expressed disapproval for the cuts at the Illinois Department of Public Aid for Madison County and pledged to oppose the cuts at the state level.

Layer said the AID proposal be sent to the Faculty Council for approval. He reiterated the support of the grant "only if it meets with the approval of the dean."".

James N. Backer, chairman of the council’s Academic Committee and Dean of the University of the Rejsion, vowed to fight the cuts.

The council will also hear reports from the Student Activites Committee, the Committee on Admissions and the Program Committee on the AID cuts.

Sudan strife claims 500,000 lives

By Chris Roberts

Sudanese bombings and continuing army attacks on Arab villages have resulted in the deaths of 500,000 people, according to Arab sources.

The bombings have caused widespread destruction and disruption in the southern Sudanese region. The Arab villages have been targeted by the Sudanese government as they are considered to be Arab-dominated Sudanese territories.

The bombings have resulted in a significant number of deaths and injuries. The Arab villages have been subjected to repeated attacks, which has led to a humanitarian crisis.

The situation in the southern Sudanese region is tense and unstable. The Arab villages have been under threat from the Sudanese army, which has been targeting them as an act of punishment for their alleged support of the Arab-dominated movements.

The Arab villages have been subjected to frequent air raids and ground attacks. The attacks have caused widespread destruction and displacement of the local population. The Arab villages have been subjected to repeated attacks, which has led to a humanitarian crisis.

The Arab villages have been under threat from the Sudanese army, which has been targeting them as an act of punishment for their alleged support of the Arab-dominated movements.

The Arab villages have been subjected to frequent air raids and ground attacks. The attacks have caused widespread destruction and displacement of the local population. The Arab villages have been subjected to repeated attacks, which has led to a humanitarian crisis.

The situation in the southern Sudanese region is tense and unstable. The Arab villages have been under threat from the Sudanese army, which has been targeting them as an act of punishment for their alleged support of the Arab-dominated movements.

The Arab villages have been subjected to frequent air raids and ground attacks. The attacks have caused widespread destruction and displacement of the local population. The Arab villages have been subjected to repeated attacks, which has led to a humanitarian crisis.

The situation in the southern Sudanese region is tense and unstable. The Arab villages have been under threat from the Sudanese army, which has been targeting them as an act of punishment for their alleged support of the Arab-dominated movements.

The Arab villages have been subjected to frequent air raids and ground attacks. The attacks have caused widespread destruction and displacement of the local population. The Arab villages have been subjected to repeated attacks, which has led to a humanitarian crisis.

The situation in the southern Sudanese region is tense and unstable. The Arab villages have been under threat from the Sudanese army, which has been targeting them as an act of punishment for their alleged support of the Arab-dominated movements.

The Arab villages have been subjected to frequent air raids and ground attacks. The attacks have caused widespread destruction and displacement of the local population. The Arab villages have been subjected to repeated attacks, which has led to a humanitarian crisis.

The situation in the southern Sudanese region is tense and unstable. The Arab villages have been under threat from the Sudanese army, which has been targeting them as an act of punishment for their alleged support of the Arab-dominated movements.

The Arab villages have been subjected to frequent air raids and ground attacks. The attacks have caused widespread destruction and displacement of the local population. The Arab villages have been subjected to repeated attacks, which has led to a humanitarian crisis.

The situation in the southern Sudanese region is tense and unstable. The Arab villages have been under threat from the Sudanese army, which has been targeting them as an act of punishment for their alleged support of the Arab-dominated movements.

The Arab villages have been subjected to frequent air raids and ground attacks. The attacks have caused widespread destruction and displacement of the local population. The Arab villages have been subjected to repeated attacks, which has led to a humanitarian crisis.

The situation in the southern Sudanese region is tense and unstable. The Arab villages have been under threat from the Sudanese army, which has been targeting them as an act of punishment for their alleged support of the Arab-dominated movements.

The Arab villages have been subjected to frequent air raids and ground attacks. The attacks have caused widespread destruction and displacement of the local population. The Arab villages have been subjected to repeated attacks, which has led to a humanitarian crisis.

The situation in the southern Sudanese region is tense and unstable. The Arab villages have been under threat from the Sudanese army, which has been targeting them as an act of punishment for their alleged support of the Arab-dominated movements.

The Arab villages have been subjected to frequent air raids and ground attacks. The attacks have caused widespread destruction and displacement of the local population. The Arab villages have been subjected to repeated attacks, which has led to a humanitarian crisis.

The situation in the southern Sudanese region is tense and unstable. The Arab villages have been under threat from the Sudanese army, which has been targeting them as an act of punishment for their alleged support of the Arab-dominated movements.

The Arab villages have been subjected to frequent air raids and ground attacks. The attacks have caused widespread destruction and displacement of the local population. The Arab villages have been subjected to repeated attacks, which has led to a humanitarian crisis.

The situation in the southern Sudanese region is tense and unstable. The Arab villages have been under threat from the Sudanese army, which has been targeting them as an act of punishment for their alleged support of the Arab-dominated movements.

The Arab villages have been subjected to frequent air raids and ground attacks. The attacks have caused widespread destruction and displacement of the local population. The Arab villages have been subjected to repeated attacks, which has led to a humanitarian crisis.

The situation in the southern Sudanese region is tense and unstable. The Arab villages have been under threat from the Sudanese army, which has been targeting them as an act of punishment for their alleged support of the Arab-dominated movements.

The Arab villages have been subjected to frequent air raids and ground attacks. The attacks have caused widespread destruction and displacement of the local population. The Arab villages have been subjected to repeated attacks, which has led to a humanitarian crisis.

The situation in the southern Sudanese region is tense and unstable. The Arab villages have been under threat from the Sudanese army, which has been targeting them as an act of punishment for their alleged support of the Arab-dominated movements.

The Arab villages have been subjected to frequent air raids and ground attacks. The attacks have caused widespread destruction and displacement of the local population. The Arab villages have been subjected to repeated attacks, which has led to a humanitarian crisis.

The situation in the southern Sudanese region is tense and unstable. The Arab villages have been under threat from the Sudanese army, which has been targeting them as an act of punishment for their alleged support of the Arab-dominated movements.

The Arab villages have been subjected to frequent air raids and ground attacks. The attacks have caused widespread destruction and displacement of the local population. The Arab villages have been subjected to repeated attacks, which has led to a humanitarian crisis.

The situation in the southern Sudanese region is tense and unstable. The Arab villages have been under threat from the Sudanese army, which has been targeting them as an act of punishment for their alleged support of the Arab-dominated movements.

The Arab villages have been subjected to frequent air raids and ground attacks. The attacks have caused widespread destruction and displacement of the local population. The Arab villages have been subjected to repeated attacks, which has led to a humanitarian crisis.

The situation in the southern Sudanese region is tense and unstable. The Arab villages have been under threat from the Sudanese army, which has been targeting them as an act of punishment for their alleged support of the Arab-dominated movements.

The Arab villages have been subjected to frequent air raids and ground attacks. The attacks have caused widespread destruction and displacement of the local population. The Arab villages have been subjected to repeated attacks, which has led to a humanitarian crisis.

The situation in the southern Sudanese region is tense and unstable. The Arab villages have been under threat from the Sudanese army, which has been targeting them as an act of punishment for their alleged support of the Arab-dominated movements.

The Arab villages have been subjected to frequent air raids and ground attacks. The attacks have caused widespread destruction and displacement of the local population. The Arab villages have been subjected to repeated attacks, which has led to a humanitarian crisis.
Aging Charles Richter still
'the earthquake man'

By Paul Comares

Copley News Service

PARADISE, Calif. — Dr. Charles F. Richter, known worldwide with the inevitability of natural disaster almost all his adult life, his life, and his name, are linked irreversibly in earthquake science.

The only question he cannot answer about an earthquake is when and where it will occur. The only one who can do that is in a 30-hour day he can expect a telephone call asking him to calculate the magnitude of an earthquake anywhere in the world.

Richter, 71, on April 26, headed the seismological laboratory at the California Institute of Technology until his retirement last year. More important, he developed the first scientific scale to determine the magnitude and energy of earthquakes in 1935.

The Richter scale is a device used worldwide to present the size of an earthquake that may destroy a city as literally as heretofore break open the earth in a devastating section of Siberia.

The scale is, retrospectively, Earthquake Man. Although retired, he continues frequently on seismological studies and retains his home in a seismograph installed as a matter of self-preservation in 1964. His telephone number is 1080. Richter—upon being telephoned by a reporter for an evaluation of an earthquake—would drive the five miles to Cal Tech laboratory, inside his former presidium car, and take a reading of the seismograph, which would have a meter that could reach 8 or 9 p.m. in the event his wife was using the family car.

The latter, human problem, though, had been another of a very much man who has all the problems of an eight-hour-a-day workingman compounded by the fact that earthquakes do not occur on schedule.

Becoming an authority on earthquakes was hardly what Richter envisioned.

It was a matter of fact, seismology

SIU economics teacher on new monetary panel

By University News Service

An SIU economist, G.C. Wiegand, is a member of a group of distinguished economists, businessmen and financial experts who have formed a working committee for Monetary Research and Education. Wiegand, professor in the Department of Economics, said the committee will conduct a broadly-based and continuing inquiry into the impact of a third of a century of chronic inflation on the institutions of the free society, not only in the United States, but in the world generally. Wiegand is on the committee's board of directors.

Borman is assistant vice presidential secretary of the committee, headed by Donald L. Kemmerer, University of Illinois economist.

How it works

Dr. Charles F. Richter, professor emeritus of seismology at California Institute of Technology, shows examples of the seismographs he developed more than 35 years ago to determine the magnitude and force of an earthquake.

LOW LEAD GASOLINE!!

Lower Priced Than Regular

Yes, that’s right! NER Gulfiane Low Lead gasoline at a cent per gallon lower priced Than Regular gasoline at

LARRY’S SERVICE

509 S. Illinois Ave.

7 a.m. - 10 p.m.

Beer for guys who really like it.

Man, it’s Falstaff.

Available at your favorite tavern or liquor store

How it works

Dr. Charles F. Richter, professor emeritus of seismology at California Institute of Technology, shows examples of the seismographs he developed more than 35 years ago to determine the magnitude and force of an earthquake.

SPORTS FANS

1

You

DON’T

KNOW

By John Mayerzyn

(Oddly enough, the first man in history ever to score 1,000 points in a season of college basketball went on to a career not in pro basketball: baseball. The first man ever to score 1,000 points in a college basketball season was Johnny O’Brien of Seattle University in 1952-53. But after graduating college, O’Brien, instead of going on in basketball, became a big league baseball player and remained in the majors seven years.

Ever wonder what’s the longest hole-in-one anyone ever made in golf? The record is held by a man named Robert Miller, who in the 1960s hole at the Mirabel Hills Golf Course in Omaha, Nebr., on July 7, 1965, made a hole-in-one with 46-yard shot.

Can you imagine a person weighing 275 POUNDS and lacking 5 FEET? Well, when you step in to think about it, basketball size and all it entails certainly looks thin—and yet did you know that weights 275 pounds?

I bet you didn’t know that college graduates have a longer life expectancy, lower death rate and are living five years longer on the average than non-graduates. The lower death rate of college men makes possible broader benefits and greater cash values in College Life Policies. This certainly makes good sense, doesn’t it?

COLLEGE LIFE INS. CO.

512 West Main
Phone 946-2189

Got a lot to carry?

Get a box at

EPPS MOTORS

Highway 13—East
Ph. 457-2184
60 FREE DELIVERY

Page 16, Daily Egyptian, April 13, 1971
Sluger picks up pace

Radison's quiet bat making some noise

By Mike Klein
Daily Egyptian Sports Writer

Dan Radison doesn't care where he plays or what he hits. Just as long as he's in the lineup somewhere besides the bench he's happy.

In his freshman year at Illinois, Radison was a catcher. As a sophomore last season, he played first base. This year he's at shortstop, filling in for injured Mike Mann.

When Mann, a freshman who turned down a pro contract offer from the San Francisco Giants, was injured, Richard "Daddy" Jones went east to Radison.

"I said to him, 'Daddy, will you play shortstop?' And he said, 'Sure, I'd do it.' But every kid is like that. Some will say, 'I don't know if I can, but I'll try.' Not Danny. He thinks positive," Jones said.

Radison was a big producer in Jones' batting order last year. Hitting fourth, he led the team with 29 home runs and hit .321. His 308 batting average included eight doubles, two triples and three home runs.

But much of the current season has been an ineffective disappointment for Radison.

Going into Monday's game with the University of Mississippi, he was hitting sixth, demoted in favor of freshmen Danny Thomas who was third on the team with a .378 batting average.

Radison had the lowest average among the regulars, .232, and lagged far behind the team leaders in runs-batted-in. He had only eight. Jim Dwyer led the Salukis with 22. Radison's only extra base hits were three doubles.

These days may be drawing to a close. Radison homered off a right-handed batter from Columbia, Ill., to drive in two runs against Tulsa which upped his season average to .232 to its still not-so-lucky level.

In the first game of Saturday's doubleheader, Radison finally showed signs of coming around for Radison.

Radison had two singles in four at-bats, but he hit the hardest were out. Former Collinsville Chief Butcher in the second, Radison swatted a double that came down the first field line that was caught about 15 feet short of the fence.

After he singled and scored in the fifth, the couple Jack-of-all-trades hit a long, low liner in left field in the sixth. It was snared about 500 feet from the plate.

Of his recent surge, Radison said "I was in a slump for a while but I'm hitting much better now and I've got my confidence back. It seemed for a while there when I did hit the ball it was right at someone and I was: pretty limber in defining the advantages. I've seen a lot more fast balls this year and the first few days he said after SIU swept the weekend from Tulsa. 'A cutter hitter they always start off with breaking balls and are a lot more careful as opposed to a sixth barker.'" When the Salukis needed a clutch hit in the second game Saturday, Radison was the man who delivered.

Southern was trailing, 3-2, in the ninth inning and had Bob Blakley on third with two out. Radison belted a liner to left field and hit a single, and Blakley trotted home with the tying run.

"Daddy never had an easy out," Jones said Monday.

Men's PE tests

set for weekend

The Department of Physical Education for Men is planning to offer proficiency tests in three categories of coarse work. The written test for each area will be administered at 1 p.m. Saturday in the Technology Building, room 112.

Areas in which proficiency will be offered are: cross-country, golf, handball and physical fitness.

Students will take all proficiency tests except the exception of golf and handball where only one of the two may be taken.

Students may register now to take the written test at the physical fitness education office, Arena, Room 118.

Police ban cars on road near baseball field

A spokesman for the SIU Security Police said Monday that no cars will be allowed to park on the road directly adjacent to Southern's baseball field.

All cars parked on the hill road will be ticketed. The move is being made because emergency equipment could easily use the road.

Admission is provided in the gravel lot south of the SIU Arena parking lot.

Find a candy bar lately?

The Food and Drug Administration reported that Hollywood Brands, a division of Consolidated Foods, Ashley 11, had recalled 350,000 boxes of snack bars from the 400,000 cases of machines at the Hollywood plant in the Lawrence, Kan., area. The recall comes on the heels ofoma of the leads around the candy.

An example of effective regulation on behalf of the consumer is the responsibility to the public? The

If the F.D.A. were brought in to respond to this question, it would be the first time that the 400,000 boxes of the chocolate bars were being recalled by the manufacturer.

A candy bar is no longer a candy bar. It has been recalled by the F.D.A. The candy bar is a candy bar. It has been recalled by the manufacturer. It has been recalled by the FDA.

Conrad Optical

Mod Styles Available

Gold Rims

Still Soled still into second, just ahead of John Elway's three. The play was rather meaningless, upping SIU's lead to 9-1 in a game that was 9-1.

But Tulsa coach Gene Shelb didn't see it that way. He changed from the dugout, shouted the umpires around and then departed via ejection.

After the sweep, a 352 hitter named Radison said: "So long as we keep winning, I don't worry about anything." It seems Jones isn't worried either. He thinks Radison will finish the season over .300.
Randall gets fourth win

Hurricane blanked in three-game series

By Mike Klein
Daily Egyptian Sports Writer

Notice has been served, confirming what coach Richard "Licky" Jones has been saying all season. Baseball at Southern is looking very promising.

The Golden Hurricane from Tulsa, itself a college powerhouse, discovered Southern's strength the hard way over the past weekend. Three times the Hurricane took the field. Three times it lost. The win moved SUU to 1-6-1. The magic started Friday when Dicky Langdon fashioned a 9-2 win over 12th ranked Tulsa. It didn't let up Saturday as for the second time in as many days, the Salukis scored nine runs. Steve Randall thoroughly exhausted the visitors from Oklahoma, giving them just one unearned run in the first game of Southern's doubleheader.

Randall stepped up to 4-1 which leads the Salukis staff. He scattered five singles and SUU scored five times in the first two innings to take the game early. The Saluki batter struck out four and walked one while driving two earned run average down to 6.97. Dan Herrins leads the staff with a 6.90 mark but has pitched only 10 innings. Randall leads the team in innings pitched with 17.

The second game was a demonstration of what Jones calls his "philosophy of coaching." "Baseball is a game where you have to stay close and look for a biginning. Most games are won when the other team makes a mistake and we have to be in a spot to take advantage of it." For all intents, Steve Rogers denoted the Salukis anything closely resembling an offensive rally. In the fourth, SUU scored twice on singles but needed a Tulsa error to help the rally along.

The Golden Hurricane hadn't faced much better against another Jim Fischer and reliever Dave Martin but just a run across the top of the final inning for a 4-2 lead. Then Rogers blew his cool.

Southern sent only four men to the plate and got one hit in the final inning. But combined with a walk, pinch and errors by Rogers and his right fielder, it was enough for the Salukis to score and move on to the game's final moment.

That completely unnerved Rogers. His next pitch was high and outside. So far outside, in fact, that only Klahr's fine save kept the game from ending right there.

Rogers sent and final pitch ended everything except the screen behind the plate. Dwyer scored, giving Southern, two runs on one hit, a $4 win and "herald sweep." Mummies before the happy episode, it seemed Jones' team would have to be satisfied with two wins and a loss against Tulsa.

Martin thought he blew a fast ball third strike past Larry Byrd with two outs and a man in third in the top of the seventh and final inning. But the umpire didn't see it that way. and the count stretched to three balls, two strikes. Byrd lined Martin's next pitch for a single to center scoring Illinois reliever whose later error enabled him to score. Goal of the Game honors with Rogers. I'd thrown him five straight curves and two that fast ball and I think I knew he was out. Martin said of the pitch he thought was strike three. But he just hung in there and hit my next pitch.

To the umpire afterwards he knew he was only hanging ball, thought he might have missed that one. He was saving his last for Rogers, right. Martin added.

In getting his second win Martin pitched only enough relieving Fischer who worked in on five runs in four innings. Byrd Blakley, Duane Kupper and Dan Randow (10-3) each got an inning in the first game. Randow set the game up with a triple and a walk, Kupper sent Byrd to score and Estes scored on single.

---

Down but not out
The play around second base got pretty rugged in the weekend series against Tulsa SUU second baseman Duane Kupper (10-3) received a forearm in the face when he went into second early in the eighth inning. (1-16) was ball by a hard slide. Radison was unhurt. (Photo by Fred Fischer)

---

DAILY EGYPTIAN CLASSIFIED ADVERTISING ORDER FORM

CLASSIFIED ADVERTISING RATES

CLASS, AD, RATE

3 DAY (Comprehensive) $1.75 per line

2 DAY (Comprehensive) $1.00 per line

1 DAY (Comprehensive) $0.75 per line

DE AD (4 WKS) $1.00 per line EXCEPTFLY LINES (50+) $0.75 per line

DATE

NAME

ADDRESS

PHONE

KIND OF AD

RUN AD

CHECKS ENCLOSED FOR $1

1 DAY $5.00

2 DAY $10.00

3 DAY $17.50

4 DAY $29.00

5 DAY $37.00

To hand your cash, remember total number of times space rate as will be paid. We will run a free line ad for five days. On Thurs and Friday in the name of the day will pay $1.00 a line. On a two line ad for three days costs $1.50. On a three line ad for four days costs $5.00.

To the people of daily egyptian.

R. H. CLARK

MANAGER

Page 18, Daily Egyptian, April 13, 1971
Trackmen stop Sycamores

By Ken Stewart
Daily Egyptian Sports Writer

Terry Erickson was song on the cake for the SIU track team Friday night.

The Salukis profited most of the cake, leaving Indiana State just a few

than slams in the first home meet for Southern in nearly 11 months in McAn drew Stadium.

SIU won easily 89-59, capturing 14 of the 17 events.

Ron Richman of ISU grabbed a big lead from Dan Yvetto in the first leg of the relay and Sandy Two, a middle

Bob Morrow and Eddie Sutton, were unable to close the gap by any big degree.

But Erickson made the McAndrew

Stadium crowd rise to its feet with an outstanding 4.2 second run in the 100 meter dash to pass Peter Homolka.

Erickson, Illinois state high school champion in the 440 last year from

Stillwell, set a second off his winning time of 48.4 in the 440 yard run earlier due to all parking restrictions in the area was a new meet record, breaking the old record of 48.6

set by Barry Liebzeit of SIU last year.

The Salukis responded to the win despite being hampered by illness and injuries. Yvetto, Lance, and Steve North did not perform and Ron Ryan was shaken in the high hurdles with a pulled leg muscle in last week's meet.

The Sycamores took the shot put with

Chuck Harmon's 144 foot throw and the 120 yard high hurdles with Ron Prince's 14.4 second performance and discus with Chris Renuck.

Dave Hill was outstanding. He said his two mile run of 4:57.2 was not the average but the fact that he beat Chuck Marschall-Midwest Conference's cross-country champion was still of significance.

Mike Bernard made the second mark in the high jump for the third straight time this season.

Tom Leussi was a real surprise in the javelin said Hartsock. He had never seen a javelin before last fall.

Leussi finished third with a 171.8 throw behind teammates Dan Timmels winning 196.3 toss and Jim Jeneva's 177.9 toss for Indiana State.

Timmel broke a two year record he set last year of 177.4.

Leussi's streak of 14 consecutive All-AI

champion had another outstanding night

winning the 100 yard dash and bring the anchor man on the 440 and 440 yard relay teams.

Art McDonald was the fast race in his early college career finishing second in the 200 yard run, one second behind Indiana State's Brian Stiles record time of 1:55.8.

The McAndrew Stadium records were tied or broken and an SIU outdoor record was tied in the men's 100 meter dash with a 21 second performance in the 200 tie the oldest standing stadium record by Lenox Jackson of Western Indiana in 1961.

Bernard's seven-foot leap in the high jump set a new stadium record

breaking the old mark of 6-8 1/2 by Mitch

Livingston of SIU in 1987 and tying the SIU record set by himself last year.

The following are SIU records at each meet in the meet against Indiana State Friday:

Terry Erickson's 440 yard record of 48.6 was set in an event against Illinois State in the fall of 1987.

Stevie Dillard's 100 meter record of 10.7 was set in an event against Michigan State in the fall of 1987.

Mike Bernard's 7 foot high jump record was set in an event against Indiana State in the fall of 1987.

Leussi's 171.8 meter javelin record was set in an event against Indiana State in the fall of 1987.

Timmel's 196.3 meter javelin record was set in an event against Indiana State in the fall of 1987.

Leussi's 177.9 meter javelin record was set in an event against Indiana State in the fall of 1987.

Dillard's 10.7 second 100 meter record was set in an event against Michigan State in the fall of 1987.

Erickson's 48.6 second 440 meter record was set in an event against Illinois State in the fall of 1987.

Bernard's 7 foot high jump record was set in an event against Indiana State in the fall of 1987.