SIU to Meet Tennesse Tech Tonight

Text Service To Be Open Next Week

Textbook Service, located in the basement of Morris Library, will be open on a special schedule next week for the return of textbooks, Henry T. Stroman, manager, said.

Students returning books are to enter through the west entrance.

The service will be open Monday through Thursday from 7:30 a.m. to 4:50 p.m., and on Saturday, from 7:30 to 11:30 a.m.

The deadline for returning textbooks is noon Saturday, Dec. 19.

No changes in the procedure for obtaining textbooks will be made for next quarter.

Students must return their textbooks and pick up their fees statements, library cards and identification cards.

The service will be open Monday, Jan. 4, from 7:30 a.m. to 8:30 a.m.; Tuesday through Thursday the hours will be from 7:30-11:30 a.m., 12:30-5:30 p.m., and 6:30-9:30 p.m.

Friday it will be open 7:30-11:30 a.m. and 12:30-4:30 p.m., and Saturday 7:30-11:30 a.m.

Arena Ticket Plan Changed

The Student Council moved Thursday night to assure a more equitable way of selling tickets to future stage and show events in the SIU Arena. Under the arrangement students who buy individual tickets will now have an opportunity to buy seats as good as those bought by purchasers of block tickets.

A full statement by the Council’s Thursday night meeting can be found on Page 3 of this issue of the Arena seating into two equal parts.

On the first day of sales, block tickets will be allocated to the student body and single tickets, in numbers of six or less, will be allocated to the other.

On the second-day, however, ticket buyers may choose seats on either side, regardless of whether they buy their tickets in blocks or singly.

Students who are now in school who did not advance-register for winter quarter will have their next opportunity Jan. 6, the second day of classes.

On Jan. 9 will be the last day to register, without dean’s approval, for new registering and late-registering students.

Starring Jan. 5, a $2 late fee will go into effect, and the amount will increase $1 per day to a maximum of $5.

New and re-entering students will begin to register on Jan. 4 in the Arena and, with the exception of those participating in the following alphabetical order that day:

3:30-4:30 - Compton - T. J. Compton.
4:30-5:30 - Sloane - P. A. Sloane.
5:30-6:30 - Williams - J. E. Williams.
6:30-7:30 - Brown - J. A. Brown.

During this period, only new students will be allowed.

But Late Fees Begin Jan. 5

Foe Unbeaten In Two Games

Southern gets back into action on the home court tonight when the Salukis play unbeaten Tennesse Tech at 8 o'clock in the SIU Arena.

Bennett’s team is hoping to be able to snap a game losing streak suffered in road games. Last week’s losses to Southwest Missouri and Kansas State have evened Southern’s record at 2-2, after the Salukis had racked up big victories at home over Oklahoma State and North Dakota State.

Tonight’s opponent has picked up impressive victories this season so far, its only games so far. In its opener Tennessee Tech rolled over Southern Illinois, 98-59, followed by whipping Belmont College 67-59 Tuesday night. The Eagles are coached by Ken Sidwell who was a cagey, tumbling forward in his college days. Sidwell still holds a number of scoring records at that school.

The Eagles are led by captain Tommy Hobson a 5-foot 10 guard. Hobson is one of three starters returning from last year’s team which finished 11-11. He averaged 6.9 points a game. Besides being the spark of the Eagles’ offense, he is also a scappy competitor on defense.

Teaming with Hobson in the back court will be Steve Hays a 6-foot junior. Hobson was also a starter last year as a sophomore when he averaged eight points a game.

Rounding out the list of returning starters for the Eagles is forward Charles Wood, who is still good reboorder and was last year’s second best scorer with an average

Commercialia have changed. No longer do they just sell products, but now sell ideas and locale as well. Consider the ad that adds with their Susan Spotless and catchy slogans like: "You can’t take it with you, so why leave it lying around?" (A horrible thought, indeed.)

Or, if otherwise, consider the higher education commercialia which side view the chance of college of your choice because today's college student is torn between what is more or even more horrible thought.

A new and astounding message crossed my ears the other day in a commercial beaming from my roommate's speakers. A male glee club began by singing a few bars of a "dear old alma mater" song. Then with humming in the background and the pealing of chimes, the announcer began:

"I have, in fact, tested this on a bove listening to this genuous readers, but I rather doubt that most of them got this far in reading the article._

The Road to Health
$11.36 Penalty to Area

(Ninth of a Series)
By Judith M. Roales

Federal aid spends $11.36 more per person for hospital care in Southern Illinois than it does for the state in general. The average figure for the entire state recently was $4.50 while the figure for hospital care in this area hovered close to $16.00.

Federal aid expenditures to private physicians average $2.53 per person in Southern Illinois and $1.27 for the entire state. Obviously medical costs are much more expensive in the southern portion of the state than it is elsewhere. Why?

Why should medical expenses be higher here? There are several possible answers. The health of the area is generally poorer because of inadequate public health programs and clinics, lack of facilities, and lack of medical personnel to staff such programs. It is harder to reach a doctor in this area, because there are fewer doctors and because the families here are overburdened with patients. The actual cost of services, care and medicine is higher, because of insecurity and because of the greater demands on the time and facilities of medical staffs.

The money for medical aid comes from taxes. It can be less and it can be put to better use. If persons on federal aid were to receive care at the University medical center, cost per patient would be lower and yet the money would directly benefit the area as an investment in its future through the growth of a medical center here.

Japanese Student Combines Language, Laundry Lessons

American-style home economics education for Suzuko Mita, a home economics teacher from Japan, begins with an intensive study of English and lessons to operate a vacuum cleaner, washer and dishwasher.

Suzuko Miss, reaches home economics students at Oberlin College, Tokyo, has come to SIU to work toward the bachelor’s degree in home economics education.

Her college president, Yasuzo Shimizu, has told her she may spend two years or more here if necessary to acquire a comprehensive background in American-style home economics education.

To help defray the expenses of her studies, Miss Mita needed a part-time job, so her adviser, Anna Carol Fults, chairman of the SIU home economics education department, secured a place for her in the home of George E. Astello, professor in the College of Education. Hence, the necessity to become acquainted quickly with modern American household appliances.

So even before planning her course of study to begin at the opening of the winter quarter in January, Miss Mita personally gave Miss Mita a short-course in the operation of these devices.

Miss Fults and Miss Mita were acquainted before the Japanese teacher’s arrival here, however. Last January, Miss Fults visited Oberlin College while on a round-the-world trip, and ran in on home economics classes and went shopping with Miss Mita as a result.

Oberlin College is a suburban college, drawing students largely from rural areas around Tokyo. Both President Shimizu and his wife are graduates of Oberlin College, Oberlin, Ohio. Since in the Japanese tongue, “U” sounds like “U,” when the Japanese college was named for its president’s wife, “Oberlin” came out “Ohi­rin,” Miss Fults explained.

Miss Mita is attending SIU’s special English classes for foreign students, and hopes to be ready for regular class work in January.

Charges Dismissed Against 19 Accused in Rights Murder

MERIDIAN, Miss., (AP) — A U.S. commissioner dismissed charges Thursday against 19 white men arrested last week in connection with the midsummer slaying of three civil rights workers in Neshoba County.

Surprised by an abrupt turn in a preliminary hearing for 19 of the 21 men, the Justice Department announced it would take its case directly to a federal grand jury.

Miss Esther Carter, the federal commissioner, blocked government efforts to give testimony about an alleged confession from one of the men to the FBI charges with helping to conceive and carry out a plot to murder the trio.

"We will simply not produce any more evidence," said Robert Owen, a Justice Department attorney, after Miss Carter's ruling.

The commissioner then dismissed the charges and ordered them released, which ranged from $3,500 to $5,000 — refunded, if the FBI cleared out free men, six days after their arrest.

They included Neshoba County Sheriff Lawrence Rainey and his deputy, Cecil Price.

In a joint statement, the 14 defense attorneys claimed the commissioner's ruling showed in effect their clients' innocence.

The statement charged that the government is "playing politics with the lives of these people." The statement claimed Negro leader Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., had put "pressure" on President Johnson and FBI chief J. Edgar Hoover to get arrests.

Justice Department attorneys said they would put their evidence before a federal grand jury, where it would remain "as possible," it will be up to U.S. Dist. Judge Harold Cox at Jackson to convene a grand jury.

The 21 white men — some of them members of the Ku Klux Klan — were arrested Monday in Natchez, Mississippi.

"We will simply not produce any more evidence," said Robert Owen, a Justice Department attorney, after Miss Carter's ruling.

BATTLEFIELD CLAIMS HER THIRD SON

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) - Mrs. E. Stoneburner saw the messenger walking up the steps and knew her last son was dead.

"You can't go through it twice and not know," she said.

JOHNSON ASKS FULL RIGHTS FOR NEGROES

WASHINGTON (AP) - President Johnson called Thursday night for "nothing less than the full assimilation of more than 20 million Negroes into American life." And he said he does not agree with anyone who predicts the struggle for equality "will be marked by violence and hate."

Johnson acknowledged that the racial feeling flows from many deep resistance sources in history, the patterns of American lives, and the nature of man.

"But I believe," he said, "there are other forces - stronger because they are armed with truth - which will bring us toward our goal in peace."

These forces consist, the President said, in the sense of morality and justice written into laws and nourished in the hearts of the people.

Johnson's remarks were prepared for delivery at a community action assembly of the national Urban League, an organization which works for Negro rights and improvement. The assembly was held at the Ambassador Hotel.

TWO AFRICANS ASSAIL U.N. RESCUE MISSION

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) - Two leftist-leaning African nations Thursday accused the United States and Belgium of bias against black in sending a rescue mission to Stanleyville.

Ousman Ba, 66, Senegalese minister of Mali, told the 11-nation Security Council that those who spoke of humanitarian motives for the rescue mission were the same who "plotted the murder of Patrice Lumumba, who carried out the disappearance of Dany Hamarsjold, who countermanded the assassination of John Kennedy."

To Hear Jenkins
Baker Probe Will Not Include Sex Charges

WASHINGTON (AP) - The Senate Rules Committee has voted 5 to 4 against embarking on an investigation of sex charges in the Bobby Baker case.

Chairman B. Everett Jordan, D-N.C., announced Thursday the committee decided it has "no legal right to probe into the private conduct of individuals," and therefore it is not going to pry into the Capitol Hill adventures of a West German kiss-and-tell beauty, Jordan, releasing a "summary of all decisions" reached at a closed meeting Wednesday, also said:

1. No action was taken or proposed on the subject of investigating so-called "call girls."

2. The committee decided unanimously that Walter W. Jenkins, former aide to President Johnson, would be called for testimony "at an appropriate time."

Jenkins was excused from an immediate appearance on his doctor's plea that he has not fully recovered from "a depressive reaction of the utmost gravity."

3. Conflicting testimony by former Ambassador Matthew H. McCloskey and inquisitive man Don Bos. Reynolds, concerning an alleged illegal $25,000 kickback to the 1960 Democratic campaign fund, is being referred to the Justice Department.

The committee Democratic majority also voted to leave with the Justice Department an investigation of political contributions made by officials of the International Telephone & Telegraph Co. in 1960.
Beauties and Athletes Needed for ‘Faust’

A number of well-endowed young ladies plus several athletically inclined students of both sexes are still needed to fill roles in the upcoming Opera Workshop presentation of “Faust” Feb. 12 and 13. Students taking part in the presentation will receive from two to eight hours of credit in either Opera Workshop or physical education.

The ballet portion of the production will be under the direction of a famous dancer and choreographer, Katherine Dunham. Miss Dunham said she is still looking for a number of tall blonde girls who will show their figure and who walk well to take part in one ballet routine. For this routine she also needs a young lady, not necessarily a tall blonde, to perform a simulated strip-tease.

Other parts she wants to fill include 10 male fencers and six girl gymnasts. Two tall basketball players will be needed to toss back and forth a human head,” and Miss Dunham is looking for a hurdlle who doesn’t mind vaulting a wire fence.

“Some people have been frightened away because they think they need to be ballet dancers to participate, but I believe I can take any student who is interested and who has any rhythm and use him somewhere,” said Miss Dunham.

“We will make use of what we have,” she said. “On a campus of this size we should be able to produce the needed athletes. I hope the fencing team and gymnastics will consider it a very skillful endeavor.”

In discussing the use of athletes in a ballet production Miss Dunham said they are “very useful to the opera when worked in with the choreography. I think more use should be made of athletes because they have the ability to move.”

Students interested in auditioning for any of the parts are asked to contact Robert E. Mueller, chairman of the Department of Music, or check with the Department of Physical Education, from which department they wish to receive their credits.

Final auditions will be held by Miss Dunham on Jan. 6 and 7 and rehearsals will start immediately after that for the February performance.

“Those who like to come five nights a week will be given certain parts while there will be parts open which require attendance only two or three nights a week,” Miss Dunham said. She said students interested in this work should find the rehearsals entertaining.

“Faust has two themes,” the choreographer said. "They are the eternal struggle between good and evil in man and also the growing loneliness man inevitably feels when he has lived his life on a purely intellectual basisthus alienating himself from daily life.”

Faust is a man who is not content with people, Miss Dunham said. He grew up feeling that books and learning were our salvation, but when he grew old he realized that he had been left out.

“What he has lost,” she said, "is the capacity to feel and be moved, so he wants another chance. He gets this chance by giving himself to Mephistopheles (the devil)." In one of the major scenes Mephistopheles takes Faust on a tour of his kingdom to show him how it is run.

“Faust is horror struck at much of the evil he sees but at the same time is tempted by erotic dancers,” Miss Dunham said.

In order to make the presentation more meaningful to persons of the age group found at the University the scene of the opera has been switched from the 16th century to an early World War II prisoner of war camp.

Miss Dunham, who has just returned from Italy where she directed dance sequences for Walter Houston’s filmed version of “The Bible,” arrived at SIU last week to begin her term as artist-in-residence.

Fuller to Address Music Educators

R. Buckminster Fuller, research professor of design science, will be the keynote speaker for an Educational Media Conference of the Music Educators National Conference, to be held Monday through Friday.
To Talk Here

Gov. Otto Kerner, Sen. Paul I. Douglas and SIU President Deloyte W. Morris will be the keynote speakers at a War on Poverty Conference on Tuesday at the University Center. Registration for the conference will be from 9 a.m. to 10 a.m. The conference will begin at 10 a.m.

Public officials and civic leaders from 20 Southern Illinois counties have been invited. Other speakers will explain various features of the War on Poverty program during the day, with a special emphasis on "community action programs." The speakers are representatives of the Washington Office of Economic Opportunity and Federal and State agencies involved in the program.

A luncheon is scheduled from noon to 1:30 p.m. in the Ballroom. Tentative plans include Congressmen Melvin Price and Kenneth Gray to speak at the luncheon. Tickets for the luncheon are $2 and may be purchased at the time of registration.

Student Workers
To Fill Out Forms

Student workers have been asked to contact their supervisors and fill out a form indicating their financial and work status. This should be done immediately, a spokesman in the Student Work Office said, because the forms must be mailed to Washington, D.C., by Tuesday.

The purpose of the forms is to determine how many students would qualify under the Economic Opportunity Act, a work-study program which would qualify them for federal funds.

Student workers or work supervisors who want further information should contact the Student Work Office.

SIU Wrestlers Hopeful in Meet
With Bloomsburg State College

By Joe Cook

Southern's wrestlers take on one of the top small college teams in the country, Bloomsburg State College, Bloomsburg, Pa., in a meet at 1:30 p.m. today in the American Airlines Arena.

This will be the first of three home meets for the SIU matmen this year, who will be performing for the first time on their new $3,500 wrestling mat.

It will also be the first meet for the matmen since their impressive performances last week at the Illinois Invitational Meet at Champaign.

In that meet senior Don Devine retained his championship, which he won there the previous year in the 115 pound class.

Fellow senior Dan Divitto, who finished second last year in the 147 pound class, won his weight class this year. Sophomore George McCreery was the third winner for SIU by taking top honors in the 157 pound class.

Five other Saluki wrestlers placed in the meet. All, Lipper, a sophomore, was second in the 147 pound class; Herkert and Dan Gesky finished second in the 137 and 181 pound classes respectively.

Two other matmen, junior Harem and sophomore Terry Thomas, took third and fourth respectively in the 177 and 185 pound classes.

However, all is not well for the Saluki wrestlers as they prepare to meet Bloomsburg State College. Lipper received a broken nose in last week's competition and will be sidelined for this meet.

A number of pre-season injuries has forced wrestling coach Jim Wilkinson to forfeit the 123, 130 and 137 pound classes to Bloomsburg.

Wilkinson does plan, however, to enter Larry Baron against Bloomsburg's best wrestler, Joe Roberts in the 130 pound class. This will be an exhibition match only and will not count in the final standings.

Wilkinson will also enter another freshman Dave Pforr in the 137 pound class. Pforr will be an exhibitionist in this meet but will be eligible to join the varsity team next quarter.

To compensate for the injuries, Wilkinson will move Divitto, McCreery, Harem and Gesky one weight class higher than they normally wrestle.

This means Divitto will wrestle in the 157 pound class; McCreery, the 167 pound class; Harem, the 191 pound class; and Gesky, the heavyweight class.

This will leave Devine and Thomas to defend the 115 and 177 pound classes respectively.

Wilkinson was cheered somewhat this week when Bill Harzell, who was on the All-American wrestling squad last year and is also a two year letterman, announced his attention to rejoining the team.

Wilkinson, at this time, is still not sure whether Hartzell will be ready to compete in this meet.

Last year the Saluki grapplers beat Bloomsburg 22-16, but the only winners in that meet for Southern that won his weight class last year are Devine and Divitto.

Wilkinson is looking forward to a close exciting meet. "This should be our best home meet of the season," he said.

The fall term pledge class of SBB will be initiated into the organization at the dinner.

The speaker will be Buren C. Robbins, director of the SIU Broadcasting Service.

The Kinmen, a folk singing group, will provide entertainment at the banquet.

All honorary and active members have been invited.
