Experiment Won’t Affect Students Now

The SIU Wind Instrument Clinic to be held Jan. 18 at Altgeld Hall is expected to draw more than 100 instrumental music directors from the grade and high schools of southern Illinois to the campus for that day.

William Betterton and Melvin Siener will represent Southern Illinois.

Registration will begin at 8 a.m. and the music department chairman, Robert Mueller, will welcome the visitors at 9.

Throughout the day there will be lecture-demonstrations and panels for the visiting directors. Speakers from the SIU faculty will include William Bortinner, director, and Charles Tavel of the University.

The program will be held in Shryock Auditorium at 4 p.m., featuring the Faculty Brass Quintet, the faculty Woodwind Quintet and the Brass Choir.

The events will close with a Dutch treat dinner.

Seminar to Hear South African

T.J. Dennis Fair, professor of geography, will give a discussion tonight at the geography seminar. He will speak on "The Approach to Planning." The seminar will be held in the Agriculture building at 8 p.m.

Fair is visiting SIU from his home in South Africa, where he taught at the University of Witwatersrand.

Abbott Rabbits Win Dome Race

The Russians may have been the first to claim a crown, but they have lost their chance to enter the dome race.

The dome of the SIU Arena has been officially conquered. Residents of the second floor of Abbott Hall placed their toppling flag tag Sunday evening--at the top of the snow-covered dome.

Theta Xi Seeks Show Talent

Applications for the 17th annual Theta Xi Variety Show are now available. They can be picked up at the University Center information desk and at Xi House, 114 Small Group Housing.

The deadline for submitting applications is Jan. 31.

Interpreters' Cast Announced

For ‘A Thruber Carnival’

The cast for the SIU Interpreters’ Theater production of “A Thruber Carnival” was announced yesterday by Gerry Shriver, director.

It will be staged in 8 p.m. performances Feb. 2, 3 and 4 in Davis Auditorium of the Waebah Education Building.

Members of the cast are: Barbara Bennett, Jeanette Dothager, Joanna Pegar, Marilyn Koch, Linda Martin, Mary Randall, April Smith, Merle Am Stahlberg, Tom Bohn, Ken Bloomenthal, Vance Fulkeron, Mar Coliglith, Pint Mickleberg, Howard Streifford, Wally Sterling, Steve Stevenson, William Verekka and Dave Maloy.

Helping Shriver will be Jay Grabbe, associate director; Sharon Hooper, assistant director and ticket sales; and Leroy Miles, assistant.

Sponsor is Mrs. Marian Klein (1922), who is visiting from New York.

Law Talk Friday

Dean Russell Sullivan of the University of Illinois Law School, will address the SIU Pre-Law Club Friday, from 1 to 3 p.m.

Sullivan will talk on possible careers for SIU graduates. Any students desiring to speak personally with Sullivan, may do so by making private appointments through the department of government.

Novelist Nin to Narrate Films

Anna Nin, novelist and lecturer, will narrate three films of screenwriter Ian Hugo at 8 p.m. Thursday in the Morris Library Auditorium.

“Drama, poetry and other east, Jorge” of New York City will be presented for the public’s enjoyment. The three films to be shown are Hugo’s “Jazz of Lights,” “Bills of Atlantis and Gondola Eye.”

Miss Nin came to the U.S. from Paris when she was nine, she still considers herself an international writer.

Her books, which have attracted quite a bit of interest, display a type of “literary surrealism.”

Rabbits Conquer

Your Abbott Rabbits pose atop the dome of the SIU Arena after they conquered the structure.

The Thompson Point climbers were forced to reconquer the dome, however, when workmen removed the flag Monday. On their second expedition, early Tuesday morning, they raised two flags: one Abbott 2nd and “Baldwin Runners.”

The Rabbits, as the Abbott residents are called, generously shared the honor with the girls of Baldwin, who would have made the journey had they not had 6-C locks.

Five Rabbits, including an Egyptian photographer, trudged through the snow over 50 a.m. Tuesday and scaled ladders to the top of the 72-foot dome.

Fellow residents of Thompson Point were informed of the feat via bulletin.

A bulletin appeared at 10 yesterday morning. “Workmen must be hard up for towels because they’ve taken our flag again. We would be glad to furnish them towels,” the announcement continued. “If they just leave our flags alone.”

The flags had been removed again.

Pacific Cruise to Take Talleys to Mild Climate

At least one person at SIU will use Carlyndale's recent winter weather to his best advantage—as a yardstick. By the time the blustery winds of February are blowing together another snow storm for this area, C. Horton Talley, dean of School of Communications, will be well on his way to milder Pacific lands.

But just to be sure that the dean will appreciate the change in climate, C. Horton Talley has arranged a cold shoulder send-off, comprising one of Southern Illinois. Talley's trip, which is the combination of a partial sabbatical leave and long-delayed vacation, calls for three months of extensive travel.

The University regards travel as an important means of broadening one's background knowledge. It considers personal communication with new peoples and observation of new places as major means of enriching one's life.

Talley hopes to accomplish these objectives in part during his coming journey through parts of the world he has not seen before. And while the cultural and educational value of the trip belong to his sabbatical leave, the strictly tourist value belongs to his vacation.

The trip is actually an ocean cruise in southern waters, and most of the month of March and April will be spent on board the P & O Orient Lines' Steamship spicesky.

Dean and Mrs. Talley will board ship at Long Beach, Calif. on Feb. 13. The first stop will be Honolulu, May 3, and the ship will be made at 18 other ports before the Crossway returns to Long Beach on May 7.

During a 13-day visit in the British Isles, Talley plans to study the theater of London and Dublin. Other stops include three days in Sydney, Australia; over night stops in Hvar and Dubrovnik, Croatia, and Bombay, India; and a day each in Naples, Lisbon, Nassau, Balboa and Acapulco.

As the ship enters the east end of the Suez Canal, the Talley's will leave for a side trip to Cairo, Egypt. They will board again at Port Said, Christian Moe, assistant dean of the School of Communications, will act as dean during Talley's absence.

Performance of Lukas Foss’ ‘Echo’
To Climax Composer’s Visit Here

The Music Department will present the Columbia University Group for Contemporary Music in a concert at 9 p.m. Thursday at Davis Auditorium in the Wham Education Building.

The performance will climax the week of seminars, workshops and lectures of visiting composer Lukas Foss. His “Echo” will be featured on the program.

The Columbia Group is a professional organization of musicians devoted to the performance of contemporary music. The artists appearing for this concert are Arthur Bloom, clarinet; Raymond Desroches, percussion; Jose Huertas, horn; Carol Kerwin, oboe; Harvey Sollberger, flute; Charles Wuorinen, piano.

The program will include music for flute and piano by Sollberger and Boulez; music for solo piano by Wurinhen, music for flute and tape by Davidovsky; the sonatas for Oboe and Piano by Wolfe, and “Echo” by Foss. The Foss work was premiered by the Columbia Group. “Echo” is scored for clarinet, cello, piano, and a large battery of percussion.

Kuhfuss and Kolmer Receive Agriculture Service Awards

William J. Kuhfuss, president of the Illinois Agricultural Association, and Lee R. Kolmer, associate professor of extension research at Iowa State University, have been cited by the SIU Agriculture Student Advisory Council for outstanding contributions to agriculture and the SIU School of Agriculture.

Certificate presentations were made Saturday evening at the annual SIU All-Agriculture Banquet in the University Center, attended by more than 200 agriculture students, faculty members and alumni.

Kuhfuss was cited for his contributions as an agriculture leader and Kolmer for his achievements as an alumnus of the SIU School of Agriculture. Both were the direct speakers.

Kuhfuss has been president of the I.A.A. since 1958, in addition to leadership positions in farm bureau and affiliated companies, he has been active in local school and church affairs. He is a partner with his brother, Alvin, in operating the 880-acre Kuhfuss Farm near Mackinaw.

Kolmer, a native of Waterloo, was a 1952 SIU graduate in agriculture. He joined the agriculture department faculty at SIU in 1954 after receiving his doctorate in agronomy at the University of Illinois.

A year and a half later he took a research position at Iowa State where he has continued to serve.

100 Students Try Two-term Enrolling

Jack Graham, admissions coordinator, said recently that more students will take advantage last fall of the double advisement system, by which students preregister simultaneously for two terms.

Those who have participated may pick up No. 2 cards and authorization cards in the Advisement Center beginning Jan. 10, 1964.

Graham said he is hopeful that more students will take advantage of the double advisement system next year. Those who have not participated in the system thus far will be unable to do so this year, since at least a term's notice is necessary in making scheduling known.

Satisfying human relationships can make a big difference between success and failure in college. Whether it's a roommate, a professor, a group project or family, you want to get along well with them. We are learning a lot about this through our study of Christian Science textbook, Science and Health by Mary Baker Eddy. You can, too. We invite you to come to our meetings, to show how we are working out our problems through applying the truths of Christian Science.

Uncle Tom, Race Diplomats And the Struggle for Dignity

By DAILY EGYPTIAN

January 15, 1964

ON CHINA AND CUBA, by Albert D. Hirschberg, Idaho State, Pocatello, Idaho, where the author insists that he is not a community where Negroes can operate smoothly with the white community, he himself comes closest to having "made it" in terms of these values. As Thompson points out, the leadership of Negro leaders in the Negro community and the Negro community and the Negro community and the Negro community; a leadership that is largely alienated from its own lower-class base, is simply a misfit;

The race leader, of course, is a white counterpart who is most media aware. On both sides of the race line, occupations of these leaders are drawn from the upper-middle class. Uncle Tom, the appropriate white counterpart for the Negro community, is the point-minded segregationist. Both the white community and the Negro community and the Negro community; and as, a result, tend to share a common universe of values. Or, in Thompson's words, "the racial leader will view his own group through the glasses of the larger community because he himself comes closest to having "made it" in terms of these values. As Thompson points out, the leadership of Negro leaders in the Negro community and the Negro community and the Negro community; a leadership that is largely alienated from its own lower-class base, is simply a misfit;
Saluki Cagers Change Like Weather, Hope To Regain Confidence by Beating Miners

The saying goes in southern Illinois, "If you want the weather changed, just stick around for awhile."

Well Southern's basketball team has been acting like the weather of late, playing as hot as a June day one night and then falling like the thermometer did Monday night.

The Salukis made almost a complete reversal from last Friday night's rout of Missouri Miners to Monday night's lone at Kentucky Wesleyan. SIU could do no wrong against the Miners as Jack Hartman's Gymnastics to Face Midwest All-Stars

Top women gymnasts from three states—Illinois, Michigan and Wisconsin — will combine their talents here Friday night in an effort to upset the recently formed Southern Illinois Women's Gymnastics Club.

Leaving the Midwest All-Stars will be Linda Metheeny, a member of the University of Illinois team which was defeated by the Carbondale club recently Mary Ellen Toth, 18-year-old from Milich, product who captured the floor exercise title in the Midwest Open this season, Michigan State University's Sally Noble, who last year was selected as "Miss National Gymnastics Clinic," and Ruth Ann Inskip, Evansville, who holds many state titles.

To Kick the Habit or Not to, THAT is the BIG Question

By John Mahasen

She finished reading the report of the government's panel on cigarette smoking. Slowly, she took one last drag on her cigarette; she looked at the glowing tip, turned her wrist to study the other side of the glowing ash, glanced at the ash tray and back at the cigarette.

She made her decision. She ground out the weed and pondered her future.

This was an SIU coed Saturday afternoon. She had a heavy date that evening and surely part of the conversation would turn to the report of the government's panel to evaluate cigarette smoking.

Her course was clear. She must, once and for all, rid herself of this habit. But which way to turn?

One need not kick tobacco entirely, the report indicated. There were pipes—cigars—Copenhagen.

She pondered these alternatives. She pulled out her compact and admired her piquant face and long blond locks in its small mirror. She tried to visualize herself as a pipe smoker.

SIU Film on New Penitentiary

Shown to Officials at Marion

"Design for Correction," a movie covering the new U.S. penitentiary at Marion from planning to completion, was premiered Saturday at the prison where it was shown to prison officials.

The movie, made by SIU Film Productions in cooperation with the U.S. Department of Justice and the Bureau of Prisons, is a documentary on the concept, design and construction of the $10-million institution. Frank R. Paine is the producer.

The Marion penitentiary is the first new federal prison built in the United States since that at Terre Haute, Ind., almost 25 years ago. Designed as a maximum security institution, it exemplifies some of the most modern concepts in correctional institution planning.

Myrl E. Alexander, former assistant director of the federal prison bureau and now director of the SIU Center for the Study of Crime, Delinquency and Corrections, was instrumental in planning the Marion installation.

Paine said Alexander, as well as prison bureau officials, worked closely with him and the film production staff in making the 20-minute documentary.

The film was produced entirely by SIU Film Productions staff members, headed by Paine, Donald Staples, director of the script, Jerome Cocking was cameraman, assisted by Howard Cotton. The script was read by Leon Bennett, instructor in the SIU English Department.

Musical background used throughout the film was written by Ingolf Dahl, prominent contemporary composer, and played by a brass ensemble from the SIU Music Department.

Two Guernseys Produce 10,000 Pounds of Milk

Two registered Guernsey cows in the Dairy Center at SIU recently gave more than 10,000 pounds of milk of official DHIA production records, according to the American Guernsey Cattle Club, Peterborough, N.H.

One four-year-old cow, named Missourian Sara­ bella, produced 10,690 pounds of milk and 589 pounds of fat in a 305-day test period on twice daily milkings.

Southern Solitaire Dew Drop, a junior three year old Guernsey produced 10,940 pounds of milk and 41 pounds of fat in 305 days.

Guernsey are one of three breeds of purebred dairy cattle maintained by Southern Illinois University School of Agriculture for teaching and research purposes. The others are Hol­ steins and Jerseys.
