Evansville Bus To Take 180

To Game

The Student Activities Office is sponsoring free bus service next Sunday to the SIU-Evansville basketball game in Evansville.

The first 180 students to register at the Activities Office in the University Center will get to make the trip. Pat Micken, student body president, said:

"Students making the trip will have to buy their own tickets to the basketball game after reaching Evansville. Micken said 180 seats are being reserved in Evansville for students who make the trip."

Buses will leave the University Center at 5 p.m. Wednesday and make the trip to Evansville nonstop. Students need to eat dinner before boarding the buses, Micken said.

He pointed out that women students who sign up for the trip will get a gift at the departure that if they include their living quarters on the sheet when they register.

Ticket Sales Set

At 7 a.m. on Nov. 18, the student body president said, the sales will begin.

The Sick, Limping Knock on Vacant House

To Find Health Service Hasn't Moved Yet

Despite the fact that the SIU Health Service is not scheduled to be relocated until mid-February, a number of students have come stumbling to the planned site, sick, limping, or bleeding, in the wee hours of the morning, seeking medical attention.

The Health Service is still operating in the old location, Washington and Park streets, east of the Illinois Central Railroad tracks. Next month the service will be moved to Building I5 in Small Group Housing.

Mrs. Austin, assistant in the Small Group Housing Office told the Daily Egyptian that would-be patients have been coming to the new-vacated former independent dormitory in I5 both day and night seeking treatment.

She said some have walked long distances to get to where they are now in the home of the Health Service, only to find that they have been misled. Others have come by taxi, thus wasting faces by making an out-of-the-way trip.

At night, Mrs. Austin said, there is still a resident fellow in I5, who has been frequently awakened by persons looking for the "new office of the Health Service." During the day, she said, they frequently wander around the Small Group Housing area looking for the service which isn't there yet. Not finding it, they generally wind up in the Small Group Housing Office, where they are informed that they are at the wrong end of the campus.

University architects are studying plans for alterations of the building to house the Health Service. No date has been set for beginning work on the building or for moving to the new locations.

1. Clark Davis, special assistant to the vice president for student and area service, said he is not sure when SIU-Metro hopes to have its own health center.

2. The health service currently has no assignment in the new location.

3. The Health Service will be in the new home by Feb. 15.

Saluki Cagers Hope to Stay Unbeaten in Arena Games

A dog-and-cat battle is shaping up tonight when the Salukis take on up-set-minded Kentucky Wesleyan at 8 o'clock in the Arena.

The Panthers, who have a reputation for taking on bigger schools, will be out to restore their reputation tonight against Evansville and in no case. Kentucky Wesleyan Wednesday night.

Salukis, meanwhile, will be trying to get back on the winning track after losing to Wichefs earlier this week. The Salukis have won six of their first nine contests and hope to make it seven in a row at the Arena. The Panthers however, have a chance tonight in scoring back over the .500 mark after their loss to Evansville. Wesleyan is now 5-3 for the season.

3 Plays Scheduled for Premieres;
Written, Directed by SU Students

Three one-act plays written and directed by SU students will be presented at 8 tonight in the Southern Playhouse. The plays, which will be getting their premiere performances, are "We're All Going Home," by Leni Colyer, a student majoring in theater; "A Little Matter of We" by Max Golightly, graduate student in theater; and "Love Is a Four-Letter Word" by Christopher Jones, also a theater graduate student.

The settings of the plays range from a state mental hospital to a Victorian living room.

"We're All Going Home," directed by John Farrell, theater graduate student, introduces a female patient is a state mental hospital whose life centers completely on the inmates of her ward. Forced to sever all emotional ties with her patients, she is driven to a course of action resulting in a disastrous conclusion.

In the cast are Edith Ray, John Hock, Karen Fleisvig, Christine Crowe, Clifford Shaw and Donna McBride. Other players are Joanna Ho-ghan, Marilyn Koch, Bobbi Montrose and Carl Hanson. The setting is designed by Larry Wiles.

"A Little Matter of We" fabulously examines the staid face of provolive movements the villagers believe she is a witch. With her exquisitely modulated and bold In love with this creature of the Woods who has long out lived its usefulness, "Love Is a FourLetter Word" looks at the relations between two women who share an apartment. The performance is directed and written by SU students.

A long line of soldiers stands in the snow. Some are raw recruits; others, hardened veterans of battle. Their faces are ashen and withering about-faces. From the left, as the Wing Commander Arleigh "Red Blood" Halsey, leading a small bulldog of a dog on a leash. He carries federal subsidy.

'Why those lousy, stinking rats. They won't get away with this," was his maxim.

"We'll detour Southern Illinois tonight and snuff them out, I'll need to know the size of my forces. First Squadron Leader, what is your strength?"

"Three-hundred dollars in federal subsidy, sir."

"In manpower, stupid."

"Twelve men, sir."

"Have they cliché practice?"

They've memorized 'I shall return' and 'Praise the Lord and pass the ammunition,' sir.

"Good. And how are they in Air Force tradition? Cadet, who is the Force's most decorated hero?"

"Errol Flynn, sir. I saw him dump six Messerschmitts before he even reached the Channel. Then Olivia De Haviland is in this cafe, sir."

"Lt. Bootlick, shoot this cadet out."

"You bet, sir."

The cadet raises his hand to stop them. "Sir, before I take some lousy dead "Red Blood," could I tell me why ROTC is mandatory to a non-violent English major who will teach after graduation?"

"Fortunes of war, cadet."

Scene: Office of the president. The rank crumbles as the men fall to the ground and begin to dig in. Lt. Kamikaze, in charge of bookkeeping, stands. "Mr. Callous, something arrests the Wing Commander. What is your strength?"

"Red Blood" strength?"

"Twelve, sir."

"Good. Let's see how they are in Air Force tradition. Cadet, who is the Force's most decorated hero?"

"Errol Flynn, sir. I saw him dump six Messerschmitts before he even reached the Channel. Then Olivia De Haviland is in this cafe," said Kamikaze.

That's ridiculous! - I don't pay you to tell me how to do my job. You know our motto: 'Low overhead, in and out of the hole. Never give a sucker an even break.'"

"But the conductors have promised to honor the picket lines."

"What are conductors?"

"Employees who maintain order and serve the passengers."

"Do we have any of those, Scapegoat?"

"I really don't know, sir."

"What do these brats need sandwiches for, anyway?"

Oh, the railroad runs through the middle of the house, the railroad runs through the middle of the house . . ."

These words are from the chorus of a song popular a few years back, but they describe a situation familiar to anyone who calls Cardonale home.

A typical day in Cardonale finds drivers waiting impatiently for crossing gates to lift; the frequent sound of air horns and the rumbling of heavy cars filters through windows interrupting classroom lectures; and frustrated motorists seek another route across the tracks because a lone railroad car straddles Walnut Street. A person directly involved in these situations is not to forget that the railroad's first obligation is the efficient and rapid transfer of passengers from city to city. Unfortunately, the railroad has also forgotten its duty.

Nothing is so annoying after returning to Cardonale on the IC's fastest runs (4 hours, Chicago to Cardonale) as having to wait a full hour, just two blocks from the Cardonale depot, not being able to see the IC sign or receive the IC signal, or look at the IC clock.

Civil War Etchings, Photos Exhibited in Morris Library

Two exhibits of Civil War significance will be on display, in Morris Library until the end of January.

Twenty etchings by Edwin Forbes, depicting "Life Studies of the Great War" are exhibited in the first floor corridor of the library. The etchings graphically communicate the feelings of the troops in the line—the advance cavalry screen, the mowed patrol, cavalry charges uphill, pickets watching as a party of former slaves go through the Federal lines.

The other exhibit, located in the Rare Book Room, is composed of photographs from Alexander Gardner's "Photographic Sketchbook of the War," which appeared in 1866. Gardner, who worked with Matthew B. Brady, famous early American photographer, supposedly photographed well-known Civil War pictures which appear under Brady's name.

Both exhibits are from the collection of James S. Schorr of New York City, who was honored at a reception in the library's new American Heritage Room S.

The occasion was the publication of "Behind the Guns," the history of Battery L, 2nd Regiment, Illinois Light Artillery, by the University Press. The manuscript from which the book was published is owned by Schorr.

Chemistry Text Returns Sought

The SIU Textbook Service is urging students who have been dropped from CGH (chemistry) to return their textbooks as soon as possible. Several of the U1 sections were mistakenly overfilled for the winter term and a number of students have been dropped.

The text is "Elements of General Chemistry" by Halum, as Mr. Dooley Jr.," the final play of the current children's theater series sponsored by the Department of Theater and the Carbondale chapter of the American Association of University Women.

WALTER SCHMID

Schmid Receives Grant Renewal

Walter E. Schmid, assistant professor of botany, has received a research grant renewal from the U.S. Atomic Energy Commission to support continuation of a three-year study of the physiology of ion transport.

Schmid began the project, which is concerned with micronutrient elements such as zinc in both excised and intact plants, under a $25,600 research award from the AEC a year ago.

A native of Philadelphia, Schmid received his Ph.D. degree from the University of Wisconsin in 1961. He did a year of post doctoral work at the University of California, Davis, and joined the SIU faculty in 1962.

Schmid and Larry Haw, graduate research associate from Mt. Carmel, will present a paper on the study at a scientific meeting beginning Feb. 1 in Dallas, Texas.

Wills to Address Perry County Group

Walter J. Wills, professor of agricultural industries, will speak at the annual meeting of the Perry County Soil and Water Conservation District Saturday. The meeting opens at 6:30 p.m. in the District No. 1 school east of Pinckneyville.

He will speak about his observations of agriculture and conservation practices in western Europe. Wills spent three months in 1963 studying agricultural cooperatives and marketing in Europe for Academic Affairs, if they haven't received one.

Research and Development Unit Of Army Reserve Is Activated

A United States Army Reserve Research and Development Unit recently has been activated on campus.

A notice currently is being circulated to faculty and staff who are interested, or who have graduate students interested in joining the unit or applying for an Army Reserve commission.

The unit is open to members of all the Armed Forces Reserve components. Although enlisted reservists may not join the unit, they may, if qualified, apply for commissioned status.

An effort is being made to record the Reserve status of University personnel. Reservists are asked to circle one of the questionnaires from the Office of the Vice President.

Johnson Asks For $3.38 Billion For Foreign Aid Programs

WASHINGTON AP—President Johnson asked Congress Thursday for $3.38 billion for foreign aid next year, the lowest such administration request since the massive U.S. program began after World War II.

In stressing economies along with the need for economic-military assistance to "those who would be free abroad," Johnson hopes to get congressional approval without the deep money cuts imposed by the lawmakers in some past years.

However, in a special 3,500 word aid message, the President left the way open for further money requests later this year "if situations should arise which require additional amounts" of U.S. assistance to advance vital U.S. interests.

Specifically, in earmarking more than $500 million for Red-pressed South Viet Nam and Laos in the fiscal year starting July 1, Johnson asked for an open-ended money authorization for Viet Nam aid. This would allow him to go to Congress directly for additional appropriations for the antiguerrilla campaign without first getting authorizing legislation.

The aid program faces an uncertain future at legislative hands this year. Last year, Johnson sought $5.3 billion and got $3.25 billion, a comparatively modest reduction. The record aid allocation request was $8.5 billion in 1952, and Congress has sometimes looked off more than a billion.

Rep. Otto Passman, D-La., the most persistent and effective trimmer of foreign aid funds, didn't issue any sweeping criticism of the President's proposals, as he has done frequently in the past.

Instead, Passman, chairman of the House Appropriations subcommittee which shapes the fund provisions, said the program "cannot be evaluated until we can ascertain whether or not there will be a request for more money for the International Development Association and similar agencies."

Sen. J. W. Fullbright, D-Ark., the Senate Foreign Relations chairman who has guided many aid bills to enactment, also said this week: "I see no reason for substituting some phases of the program and say he could not take the lead in passing another bill unless several objections are met."

Hunting Lodge Figures In Stratton Trial

CHICAGO AP—The government prosecuting former Gov. William Stratton of Illinois on income tax evasion charges, Thursday went into costs incurred by the former Republican leader for building a hunting lodge in 1958 near the state capital.

The long procession of witnesses testifying about Stratton's spending while he was governor is designed, prosecutors said, to show that Stratton's income from 1957-1960 was $53,956 more than he reported.

PRESIDENT JOHNSON Viet Troops Assault Reds

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — An attack by 1,200 Vietnamese soldiers on a Viet Cong concentration 140 miles southwest of Saigon Thursday resulted in 11 Communists killed and 12 captured prisoners.

Helicopters flew the Vietnamese into the Soc Trang area for an assault on estimated 800 Communist guerrillas. Reports said the Viet Cong did not stand and fight, and were fleeing.

President Signs First Bill of New Congress

WASHINGTON AP—President Johnson signed into law Thursday the first bill to come to him from the new Congress, a measure pushing back the date for submitting his budget and economic report to the Senate and House.

In the normal course, the President is required to send the budget to Congress by Jan. 20. But because of preinaugural activities and the inauguration of Johnson on Jan. 20, Congress extended the date for the budget to Jan. 25 and for the economic report to Jan. 28.

Spring Fashions to Show 'Change, Not Revolution'

U.S. Air Strikes On Reds Revealed

WASHINGTON AP—Occasional secret combat operations have been revealed by U.S. aircraft against Communist supply lines running through Laos into South Viet Nam for several months.

The operations reportedly stepped up slightly and given tighter organization and clearer purpose following policy talks here in December among President Johnson, Ambassador Maxwell D. Tayor, Secretary of State Dean Rusk and Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamar.

Officials believe the bombing attacks carried out by such planes as the T-33, Super Saber and the F-105 Thunderchief probably have served to stiffen enemy morale and keep some supplies from North Viet Nam to Communist guerrilla forces fighting the U.S.-supported government in South Viet Nam.

In the rugged, mountainous areas of Laos, through which the "Ho Chi Minh" trail runs, air attacks can have only limited effective.

But, they do make it harder for key bridge, tying a temporary Communist camp or blocking the road for short periods of time.

The other major purpose is to try to serve notice to the North Vietnamese Reds and the Chinese Communists that the United States does not intend to pull out of Viet Nam and may broaden the war if Communist operations against the South go on.

In other words, the Johnson administration seems to be hesitantly to first step toward broadening the conflict without any commitment to take any additional move. Officials say there is "no escalation" in this case since the territory of Communist North Viet Nam is not involved.

Kohler, Gromyko

To Meet Today

HOLDCOW (AP)—U.S. Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge, who said earlier he expected to hold discussions here on December 29, extended to Friday an invitation to Soviet leaders to visit America, meets Foreign Ministers Andrei Gromyko today.

An embassy spokesman said the meeting was scheduled at Kohler's request, he declined to say what Kohler was to talk about, but such a meeting was considered normal upon an envoy's return from consultations.

Baker Probe Will Call Jenkins

WASHINGTON AP — The Senate’s Bobby Baker investi­gators have alerted former White House aide Walter W. Jenkins that he will be called to testify shortly after Presi­dent Johnson’s inauguration. L. P. McLendon, Senate Rules Committee special counsel, told newsmen the committee plans to resume hearings during the week following the Jan. 20 in­auguration. He said he tele­phoned Jenkins that a subpoena will be issued for him to appear for questioning sometime that week.

Jenkins, who was Johnson’s Chamberlain Says He May Retire

SAN FRANCISCO AP—Wilt Chamberlain said Thursday that he’s thinking about retir­ing at the end of the current basketball season despite the trade that sent him from San Francisco to Philadelphia. The star 7-foot-1 center said that he tried to talk Philadelphia co-owner Bill Richman out of making the deal. Richman had Edward Chamberlain’s personal lawyer.

“I told him he made a bad deal,” Richman said, “because I’m not sure how long I’ll play,” Chamberlain said.

Richman, back in his Phil­adelphia law office from St. Louis where he announced the trade, didn’t appear perturbed about Chamberlain’s com­ments, and insisted he was thinking only of “right now—and winning.”

Topside for 25 years, re­sponded to request last October in the midst of the presidential election campaign after dis­closure he twice had been arrested on morals charges. After a closed meeting last Dec. 7, Chairman B. Everett Jordan, D-N.C., announced the Rules Committee had decided unanimously to subpoena Jenkins “at an appropriate time.”

Sukarno Suggests UN Investigation

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP) — President Sukarno suggested Thursday that an Asian group or the United Nations investigate whether Sarawak and Sabah want to remain in Malaysia. He prom­ised to abide by the decision, “I am for a peaceful solu­tion of the Malaysian issue,” he told reporters, “But let us investigate the real feel­ings of the people of North Kalimantan”—the Indonesian name for Sarawak and Sabah. It was the second concilia­tory statement by Sukarno in two days. On Wednesday he said in an interview that In­donesia did not plan to attack anyone but would resist if at­tacked.

Reporters asked Sukarno if he would accept a second in­vestigation by a U.N. mission now that he has withdrawn from the United Nations.

House Republicans Vote Arends
Another Term as Minority Whip

WASHINGTON AP — House Republicans Thursday kept Sen. Strom Thurmond, R-S.C., in the Armed Services Committee, one of the two major committees he served on as a Democrat, but took him off the other one.

The South Carolinaan, who switched from the Democratic to the Republican party in the last presidential campaign, had asked to stay also on his other committee, Commerce. But the GOP Committee on Committees instead assigned him to banking.

Ford discounted an ideo­logical split in the declimated Republican ranks. Ford took Halleck out of office in a campaign of giving the party a "new image" in the wake of the heavy election losses. Freelinguyen, 45, is a member of the Wednesday Club, made up of about 20 of the most liberal House Rep­ublicans. Arends, 69, is an old line conservative and was and early backer of Barry Goldwater for the Republican presidential nomination.

Ford said it was his view that Arends past record as whip and old ties of friend­ship were the persuasive factors.

Arends insisted that his re­election was “certainly not a slap at Jerry Ford. I intend to turn my allegiance over to Jerry Ford and to help him. I don’t think you should call this a repudiation.”

“There is no blood on the floor as far as I am con­cerned,” Freelinguyen said.

Set Jan. 23 at U. School

The graduate English examination required for most graduate students at SIU is scheduled for Jan. 23, the Graduate School has announced.

The examination is scheduled from 1 to 4 p.m. Jan. 23. American students will take the examination in Furr Auditorium, and international students will be tested at Studio Theatre, University School.

2 Seminars Set On Microbiology

The Department of Microbiology is planning two seminars at 10 a.m. today in the Life Science Building.

John E. House, teaching assistant in microbiology, will discuss "DNA in Mitochondria and Its Role in Protein Synthesis," in Room 16.

Judy Page, graduate assistant in microbiology, will speak in Room 6 on the topic, "Air Ions in Health and Disease."

Effective with the fall quarter, all graduate students must take the examination before completing 24 hours of their work. It is required of all who have an undergraduate average below 3.7. American students with this average are exempt from the test provided their graduate work was started in fall 1964. International students are required to take the examination regardless of undergraduate average.

SIU students who completed English 391 (or 300 for English majors and minors), and received a grade of A or B in these courses within the past five years, will automatically fulfill the English requirement for a master's degree.

Any graduate student in doubt about the requirements for the examination may check their status with the Graduate Office.

Missing Name Found For Doyle 'Family'
The family photo of Doyle Dormitory was minus one name, as it was printed in Thursday's Daily Egyptian.

Robert J. Cates, president of the dorm, was not included in the list when the press rolled Wednesday night.

Orthodox Club to Meet

The Eastern Orthodox Club will meet at 4 p.m. Sunday in Room D of the University Center.

Any student interested in joining is invited.

JANET COX AND CHOIR DIRECTOR ROBERT KINGSBURY

Glee Club Pianist Likes Job With 'Gentlemanly' Singers

Janet Cox, graduate student in music, is now serving her second year as accompanist for the University Choir, the Chamber Choir and the Glee Club.

Miss Cox also acts as assistant director of the University Choir, aiding Robert W. Kingsbury, faculty director of all three groups.

She began her study of music at the age of 4 when she began taking piano lessons. At 5 she presented her first recital.

Being the girl in a "36-men and a girl!" unit such as the Glee Club doesn't pose any problems for her, she has only praise for the members.

"There isn't much time for frivolity at rehearsals," she says. "I couldn't have a nicer bunch of fellows to work with. They are always considerate and gentlemanly."

Before graduation as a music education major, she held an appointment as an instructional aide in music at University School. Her special field of study has been piano, under Steven Barwick, SIU pianist and professor of music.

SIU Women's Club Plans Panel Talk

The SIU division of the University Women's Club is sponsoring a new women's organization on campus, the Graduate Wives Club.

This group, now being formed, will attempt to provide for wives of graduate students cultural and social interests outside the home.

Mrs. Sue Courtis, chairman of the newly formed organization, said approximately 350 "fly-sheets" had been sent to the wives of the graduate students on campus; inviting them to join the club and meet new friends.

The club, which will be similar to the Women's Club, will meet once a month, with the group deciding on the type of activity they want.

Advisors for the club are Mrs. Mary Gray of the Newcomers' Club and Mrs. Elma Day of the Women's Club.

Pennington Will Speak At Geography Lecture

Campbell W. Pennington, professor of geography, will speak at the Geography Public Lecture at 8 p.m. Tuesday in Muckelroy Auditorium.

Pennington's topic will be "Alexander von Humboldt: The Prince of Scientific Travelers."
Vergette Gives to University
His Prize-Winning Art Piece

An SIU artist has presented one of his prize-winning pieces of ceramic sculpture to the University Galleries, Kenneth Miller, executive director of the SIU Foundation, said.

SIU Art Professor

Contributes to Book

Alice Schwartz, associate professor of art at SIU, has been published by the National Art Education Association. Miss Schwartz wrote the chapter on "Evaluating, Gradating, and Reporting Pupil Progress.

"A special sensitivity on the part of the art teacher who works with the young adolescent in the junior high school art program is necessary because of the characteristics of this age," she explained.

Nicholas Vergette, associate professor of art at SIU, has presented his "Burning Bush," flame-tipped ceramic sculpture, to the University's permanent art collection. He is shown here discussing the 6-foot piece with Jack Taylor (left), acting curator of University Galleries, and Kenneth Miller, executive director of the SIU Foundation.

Vergette, a native of England, has won numerous top awards at exhibitions since coming to SIU in 1969. His work has been exhibited in Great Britain, Holland, Finland, Switzerland, Australia, New Zealand, Canada and throughout the United States.

Meade’s Gymnasts to Meet Iowa State at 7:30 Saturday

Coach Bill Meade and his SIU gymnasts put their 28 dual meet victory on the line Saturday as the Salukis enter- in-via Iowa State University at Ames in a 7:30 p.m. meet in the Arena.

Dr. Alvin G. Green, Director of Athletics announced that the Salukis have plenty of reason to be concerned about their chances against Iowa State. Both teams competed in the Midwest Open Championship this season when the Iowa team finished third, just points behind the second place Salukis.

The Salukis and Hawkeyes will play their second dual meet this season where Meade's Gymnasts to Meet Iowa State.

The trials will bring some of the best trampoline artists in the country to Southern with the current men's champion Danny Millaman, of the University of California at Los Angeles, and the current women's champion Judy Wills of Southern.

The University of Michigan, which finished second to Millaman last year, will also be competing in the trials.

The men's entries include Frank Schmitz, Dale Hardt, Hutch Dvorak and Brent Williams. The SIU women's team will be represented by Miss Wills and Nancy Smith. Although all the entries are in yet, it appears that two of the above six male entries will be representing the U.S.G.F. in London.

Schmitz, who is expected to give Miller his toughest competition, has already defeated him twice this season in the East-West Gymnastics Meet and in the Western Clinic Individual Gymnastics Championships, both of which were held in Tucson, Ariz.

However, Schmitz has defeated Erwin, the No. 2 man, once and won over him once this season.

Millman, Erwin and Schmitz are the early favorites, but are expected to get strong competition from Hardt, Dvorak and Williams.

Hardt, only a freshman, has been finishing on the heels of Schmitz at the meets he has been allowed to participate in. Dvorak and Williams have been making great improvements on the trampoline and both figures to be close to the top.

As for the female entries, Miss Wills will have her strongest competition from teammate Miss Smith.

SIU wrestlers Compete Tonight in Four-Way Meet in Oklahoma

SIU wrestlers got back into action tonight as they travel to Oxford, Ohio, where they will compete against Indiana State, Cincinnati and the host Miami of Ohio in a quadrangular meet.

Southern will have a newcomer to the lineup, lightweight chuck Koreska, a sophomore from Evansville, Ind. He will replace Dan Gesky, who is still suffering from a knee injury.

To strengthen his lineup Coach Jim Wilkinson is making several changes. As it stands now Wilkinson will move Dan O’Vito, George McCreeby, Bob Herbert and Alf Haerem down one weight class. This means that O’Vito will wrestle at 147, McCreeby at 157, Herbert at 167 and Haerem at 177.

The remainder of the lineup will consist of Jim Devine at 123, Larry Baron at 130 and Dave Pfohr at 137.

Wilkinson looks for a wide open meet with three teams having a chance to win. Besides his own team he lists Indiana State and Miami of Ohio in the mix.

Miami of Ohio and Indiana both had impressive records last year, Indiana 13-1 and Indiana State 10-4 and both appeared to be loaded with talent this year.

The wrestlers' next opponent will be Oklahoma State, the top team in the country.

Hutcheson Dvorak will be one of six SIU gymnasts competing in the United States Gymnastics Federation trials.

Six Salukis to Enter Trials Here

To Go World Trampoline Meet

Six SIU gymnasts will be competing in the United States Gymnastics Federation trials for the second World Trampoline Championship Jan. 27 in the Arena.

The two top man and woman performers at this event will represent the U.S.G.F. Jan. 30 in London, the site of this year’s World’s Trampoline Championship.

The trials will bring some of the best trampoline artists in the country to Southern with the current men’s champion Danny Millaman, of the University of California at Los Angeles, and the current women’s champion Judy Wills of Southern.

The remainder of the lineup will consist of Jim Devine at 123, Larry Baron at 130 and Dave Pfohr at 137.

Nebraska's Cornhuskers invade Cardonald and the University School Pool tonight at 7:30, hoping to upset the aging Salukis.

The Nebraskans bring a 1-1 record into the meet, having defeated Kansas but losing to Iowa in a three-way meet Saturday. The visitors aren't expecting any miracles against the Salukis tonight, though.

"It should be our tightest duel," said Nebraskan captain Tom Chambers earlier this week. The Cornhuskers lost only three men from last year's squad, but seven team, but all were fairly good.

Missing from the team that Saluki coach Ralph Newman lost last year, are co-captains Bill Fowles and Bill Henry and Keefe Hodg, Big Eight record-holder in the 50-yard freestyle.

Two doubtful swimmers for the Salukis in distance events Alom McAmow, who, like Miles, has been great practice this week to rest. The tall junior from Miami, Fla., may be an exception to any rule if he's healthy tonight.

Last week in the Big Ten Relays he anchored the Salukis' 2,000-yard free style relay team with his career's second best time for the 500-455.7. The clocking is only two seconds below his school record which he set in a preliminary heat in last year's NCAA championships.

An added attraction to tonight's activities will be a special exhibition race by poten tial-rich Salukis freshman Ed Morsotti. The St. Louis native, who has already crashed former SIU great Ray Pad pany's 50 and 100-yard freestyle record will be out to demolish the 100-yard freestyle record tonight. But the Salukis will especially miss Lodwig who won two individual events and set a pool record in the 50-yard freestyle.

Frank and Chambers should also find stiff competition in the 200-yard individual medley in which the Salukis are expected to swim Don Mers and Rich Evertz, a pair of sophomores from St. Louis. Frank holds the Nebraska school record of 2:10.2 and Chambers has a 2:13.3 time for the distance. But both

Chosen Coaches of Year in Tie Vote

By the Associated Press

CHICAGO—One coach who went all the way, one who missed by two minutes and another who ranks as a real throw-back have been named the Coaches of the Year by the American Football Coaches Association.

"I'm delighted," said Notre Dame coach Ara Parseghian, who had to share the award with Arkansas' Frank Broyles when the balloting ended in a tie.

Outgoing president of the association, Len Casanova of Oregon, said the vote was "oddly" close.

"One ended in a tie, Broyles led on one and Parseghian led on another," he said. "So we got in a certified public accountant and he said it was a tie."

Clarence Stasavich of East Carolina College, one of only a handful of coaches still teaching the single wing, was named the small-college Coach of the Year.

"Of all the awards, this has to be the most pleasant—to be selected by your colleagues," said Parseghian, who previously had been named Coach of the Year by the Football Writers Association.

"No," said Parseghian in answer to a question, "I don't see anything wrong with the dual award. I think it's very fair. Look at it this way—Frank went all the way and I just missed by two minutes."

Parseghian, lured from Northwestern to rebuild Notre Dame's sagging football fortunes, surprised the football world and delighted the legion of Irish alumni by winning his first nine games.

Then, ranked No. 1 in the nation, Notre Dame was upset by Southern California 20-17, Southern Cal coming from behind in the last two minutes. Broyles led Arkansas to its first undefeated season in history, including a 14-13 edge over mighty Texas—the defending national champion—and closed out an 11-0 season with a Cotton Bowl triumph over Nebraska.

"Our teams are a lot alike," Parseghian said of Notre Dame and Arkansas. "You've got to have the offense, the defense, the bench, a quarterback and some luck. We had 'em."

Stasavich, 51, compiled a 9-1 record at East Carolina, retaining as always the single wing. He said he was one of only five head coaches in the country still teaching the formation.

"I see nothing wrong with it—8-7 works for me," he said.

Wilt Chamberlain
Wilt Chamberlain Gets Week's Rest

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Wilt Chamberlain, traded to the Philadelphia 76ers for three players and an undisclosed amount of cash, won't report here until Thursday, when he'll face his old mates, the San Francisco Warriors.

Chamberlain, the highest paid player in the National Basketball Association, was dealt to the 76ers for Paul Neumann, a veteran arf, substitute center Connie Dierking, and Lee Shaffer, who retired this season in a pay dispute with the 76ers' owners.

Coach Dolph Schayes of the 76ers said owners Ike Richman and Irv Kosloff gave the 7-foot, 1-inch super-star a week off to rest. Chamberlain has been playing with a face mask protecting a broken nose, and earlier in the season missed three or four weeks because of a stomach ailment.

3 Illinois Junior Colleges in Top 20

DODGE CITY, Kan. (AP) — Three Illinois junior colleges ranked among the top 20 in the first basketball coaches' poll of the season in the National Junior College Athletic Association.

The coaches voted Wilson Junior College of Chicago, with a 16-0 record, in sixth place; Joliet College, 10-0, in 13th place; and Centralia, 8-2-1, in Pek.

Dodge City, 11-0 and the 1964 national champion, topped the list, followed by Moberly, Mo., 9-1, and New York City Community College at Brooklyn, 11-0.
