Cancelling Registrations Increase

Iranian Aid Plan Visit

The vice president for economic development, Dr. Majid Majidi, will visit with two brothers who are students at Southern. One brother, Ali Majidi, is a graduate student in economic sciences. The second, Hossein, is an undergraduate majoring in physical education. The vice president is in the United States on official business for his government. He has been meeting with U.S. officials for the past week and will arrive on campus Saturday morning.

Board Asked To Reevaluate Expansion Plan

NORMAL (AP)—Spokesmen for privately financed colleges and universities have told today a sharp second look at plans to add four new institutions to the state's rapidly expanding higher education complex. The idea of proposed changes in the state's higher education blueprint was discussed at a hearing called by the Illinois Board of Higher Education. It includes a feasibility study for new, three-year colleges which would include specialized and general college studies.

Three of the four schools would have been planned for the Chicago metropolitan area, and one would be built at Springfield.

Dr. Lloyd Bertolli, president of Illinois University, Bloomington, told the board "there is no crisis today, it is unnecessary to proceed with planning for new state-supported campuses."

Statements parallel Dr. Bertolli's position was submitted also by the Bradley University board of trustees.

THE NIGHT SHIFT—The individual reviews of applications for vehicle and unsupervised housing permits resulted in lights burning in offices processing the applications. This was the scene where a group headed by Edward F. McDowell (right), of the Alumni Office, worked on the backlog. Many University officials, including deans, were pressed into service.

Create ‘Learning Centers’

Dorm Representatives Meet With Anita Kuo

To Discuss Trends in Supervised Housing

Representatives from four private dormitories Thursday met with Anita Kuo, coordinator of off-campus housing, to clarify the direction of the supervised housing program.

Mrs. Kuo said the trend is to create "learning centers." These are facilities that provide not only housing, but also an environment that gives the student a well rounded education.

Mrs. Kuo said the program attempts to bring together students of varied backgrounds and provide extracurricular programs that "would broaden the students' educational experience."

"This is the other side of the educational coin," Mrs. Kuo said, referring to recreational and outside activities that off-campus households could provide.

"Originally, the regulations enacted by the Board of Trustees were intended to create adequate housing facilities," Mrs. Kuo said.

"If the regulations are not going to be enforced, then the Board of Trustees should remove them from the books," Mr. W. Huntinger, president of the SIU Householders Association, said.

Japanese Consul To Speak Here

"Japanese-American Relations and Problems" will be the subject of a public lecture given by a Japanese diplomat at 7:30 p.m., Oct. 11 in Purr Auditorium in University School.

Gus Bode

Gus says his best friend here has his housing problems solved. He's been drafted.
German Ad Men
School-Industry Coaction Hailed

German advertising men who visited campus-expressed wonder at the close cooperation between the academic and commercial worlds in this country.

The comment was contained in a 30-page report circulated widely in Germany, which tells about their trip to America a year ago. The party of professional advertising men was organized by Franz Greiter of Munich, At SIU their hosts were Howard
R. Long, chairman of the Department of Journalism, and Donald G. Hitleman, who heads the advertising sequence in the department.

Greiter, in one phase of the report, told of research projects developed at SIU by the students working in groups with close cooperation between the University and industry.

Klimstra Elected Commission Head
Willard Klimstra, director of the Cooperative Wildlife Research Laboratory, has been re-elected chairman of the Illinois Nature Preserves Commission.

The commission was created by the state legislature three years ago to preserve natural areas reflecting plant, animal and archaeological communities native to Illinois. An example is the Beall Woods virgin timber stand in the Wabash River bottoms near Mt. Carmel.

(Thumbnail) This is one of those all-take-no-leave films that offer something for everyone. It can be enjoyed for its exquisite color photograph of Paris and Switzerland. You will be on the edge of your seat gripped by its suspenseful story. Or you will simply laugh yourself into a charming lisp in its absolutely outrageously funny sight gags and nutty repartee. If romance is your dish, Cary Grant is the main course. To top it all is Henry Mann's first music scores—lush.

Galloping Technology Threatens Survival

By Robert M. Hutchins

The sales did not impress the Galloping Technology Department of the University of Minas Gerais termed it a "job that is not going to make big profits" and the university president, Prof. Delson Fergo, did not see it as a good investment. Lonergan believes that negotiations can settle the problem because the long-run costs of building underground parking garages appears to be less than that of constructing parking lots. Such garages also make it possible to walk to class, and not be rushed around because of the distance involved.

Approval by the board of the plans for the part of the St. Andrew Administration Building have not been made, Lonergan said, because it has been tradition that state funds will not be used to build parking buildings unless much of these structures do not serve an academic purpose.

The result is that a list of adjacent agencies, and the Illinois Academic Authority and the other a private firm, have to finance the cost of the building. State law forbids one building at a state university to be held under mortgage by two agencies at the same time, the effect is that two buildings are being built.

More Europeans Visiting Military Cemeteries

Fallen U.S. Soldiers Rest in Honor

By Thomas Nurnum
Copley News Service

PARIS -- Fresh from the farms and cities of America, more than 550,000 tourists flocked to military cemeteries on the continent that year, visiting a total of 1,565 graves of U.S. soldiers who died during World War II. The most pro-American Europeans tend to be those living in the vicinity of their military cemeteries, according to officials attached to the U.S. Embassy here.

Families of fallen GIs have scattered around Europe are well-kept, but are relatively small and unimpressive with small monuments and a few words, often in English. Several hundred temporary U.S. cemeteries are administered by the U.S. War Department and the Veterans Administration. They are said to be kept better than Arlington National Cemetery in Washington, D.C., which maintains the oldest and largest military cemeteries in the United States.

Although more Europeans tend to live far from big towns, none has ever quit. One who retired recently had been in France even since he was a factory worker. The U.S. Embassy, commander of the U.S. World War I and II cemeteries.

Because of the loneliness problem, superintendents were selected who had been raised in large families, men who had picked who had married native of the European country where they would live. All are former members of the Army Graves Registration Service. They have been trained in bookkeeping, catering. Relatives of GIs who died in battle enter the common-place Paris office for guidance about 200 times a year. Office employees show them train and bus schedules to the cemetery they wish to see, give them maps and phone the cemetery superintendent to meet them.

About 500 families of fallen GIs send checks from the United States to the Paris office with instructions to place flowers on the graves. The average family has the grave of its loved one flowered four times a year—usually on Memorial Day, Veterans Day, his birthday, and his anniversary.

Paris office has charge of 18 World War I and II cemeteries in France, Belgium, Luxemburg, England and Holland. It has 37 cemeteries in its care, which cost $8.8 million. Two cemeteries in Italy and the one in Tunisia are administered from an office in Rome.

Political Memo: Reagan In Big 'Box Office' in California

Editor's Note — One of the country's most exciting and important elections is shaping up in California. Here, a veteran political hand sizes up a key contest as a strong one. Next, Relman Morin zeroes in on the man in the other corner — Gov. Edmund G. (Pat) Brown, By Relman Morin
AP Special Correspondent

LOS ANGELES — Politically, as in his celliod days, Ronald Reagan is demonstrating that he is "Box Office." The erstwhile movie actor, now Republican candidate for California governor, is proving with his looks, the trim figure, wavy hair and pretty dumb, "a politician said. "He's been surprised."

Brown says this is the hardest of his three gubernatorial races. He won in 1958, defeating former U.S. Sen. William F. Knowland, and was re-elected in 1962, defeating former Vice President Richard M. Nixon.

"Reagan will be tougher than either of them," Brown said, "and we've turned the corner, which I think we're on the way.

A recent poll, regarded by analysts as reliable, gave Reagan an edge at this stage but showed Brown gaining. The poll gave Reagan 48 percent, Brown 41 and listed as "(don't know)," its comparable figures were Reagan 48 percent, Brown 37 and "don't know 15.

Los Angeles Mayor Samuel W. Yorty says, "If Reagan can project the image of being a moderate, I think he can win. Vice versa, if they pin the extreme right-wing label on him, program can be expanded to include a middle as we go.

This touches on Reagan's recent political history. He worked hard, speaking and fund-raising, for Sen. Barry Goldwater, the GOP presidential candidate in 1964. Reagan delivered an election-eve speech of such power that Californians are still talking about it today—even the Democrats, with a echo of that campaign, Reagan said recently in a talk to a religious group in Fresno, "We were on the losing end and we knew that our hearts is right." A Goldwater slogan of 1964 was, "In your heart you know he's right."

Reagan likes the title "a New Deal Democrat," to use his own words. Today, he accepted the label.

The wide swing in philosophy began, he says, during World War II when he was adjutant at an Air Force base. "I saw that government can operate as efficiently as a private organization," he said.

Reagan says he was one of the first to urge Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower to run for president in 1948. To be sure, Eisenhower's party affiliations were unclear at the time. But his statements on national problems at that year's middle—of-the-road.

When Eisenhower refused to run, Reagan said he was campaign for President Harry S. Truman. He said he voted for Eisenhower in 1952.

The final step in this transformation in philosophy if not in party affiliation—came with the discovery of Communist infiltration of the motion picture industry.

Then, Reagan was the president of the Screen Actors Guild. His union had been an insulin sometimes seen in movies but seldom in real life. "Basically, I was writing my autobiography—walked up to me on the street one day and spied in my face.

For three years, as he was campaigns now, people ask Reagan why he refuses to disavow his past as a movie star. He replies, "I'm not a member of the Big Three," referring to the movie stars. I don't agree with many of the things they stand for. I don't think there's a blanket reputation of a whole group of people.

At this stage of the campaign, political observers here consider the gubernatorial race neck-and-neck and, barring some wide-screen, technicolor blunder by either candidate, the election will remain that way, right down to the wire in November.
Marching Band to Play in Indiana

SIU's jazz field band, the Marching Salukis, more than 100 strong, will be the guest exhibition unit at a two-state high school marching band festival Tuesday.

The band, directed by Michael Hanes, has been invited to perform at Vincennes University, Vincennes, Ind., before high school bands of Illinois and Indiana.

Six years ago, under the direction of Donald Canedy, the band set a new pattern for field bands, setting off the military tradition in both attire and sound for dinner jackets and black Homburgs with music to march.

Hanes, now in his second year as director, trained under Canedy and has carried on the "new sound" — symphonic jazz, reminiscent of Paul Whitman and George Gershwin, moved from the concert stage to the football field.

The black, red and black-and-red plaid dinner jackets of the Marching Salukis have become widely known from appearances at sports events in the Midwest and on national television. The upper brass section wears red jacket, the lower brass and woodwinds, black, while the unique percussion unit is identifiable in plaid.

One of the most distinctive elements of the Marching Salukis, in both appearance and sound, is its "rhythm on wheels" section. SIU was the first in the entire country to put its entire 14-instrument percussion unit on drum carts, including timpani, bell lyre, cymbals, conga drum, timbales, snare drums, xylophone and other instruments as needed.

"This gives us the same resources that a concert band has," Hanes explained. "This idea is now being introduced in increasing numbers of bands," he added.

Hanes has contributed an article on SIU's "rhythm on wheels" and its drum carts for a new edition of "101 Street Beats, Cadences and Exercises for Percussion," written by Samuel A. Floyd Jr., SIU doctoral degree student in music and graduate teaching assistant for percussion.

Among the newest members of the band is a piccolo player, Colin Bishop, who arrived this fall from London, England, as a graduate student in economic geography.

Contribution to the sophistication of a Marching Salukis performance is a corps of coed baton twirlers, clad in brilliant red basic uniforms, variously adorned with black sequin boleros or red boleros, and at times complemented with white dickey and black bow tie. Red tassels adorn their white cowboy boots.

Headed by Marge Belecmas of Chicago, the twirlers include Cindy Nolan of Carbondale, Dee Parks of Metropolis, Johnny Belle Blake of Rantoul, Lynda Von Kriegsfield of Brookfield and Cheryl Mifflin of Marion.

GROUP DYNAMICS—The Sectioning Center in the University Center is a busy place, and more so when program changes are underway. This group of students clusters around one of the machines used in the process.

Cleanup Crew Busy

Broken Glass Creates Problem

Broken glass from soda bottles is a sore point with Physical Plant crew policing the campus, according to Ralph D. Carter, assistant to the superintendent of the building and grounds section of the Physical Plant. Three men police the campus each day and gather "several bushels of glass from the broken bottles" in an eight-hour period, he said.

Carter said that if bottles were thrown in trash barrels or even on the grass, broken glass would not be a problem. Unbroken bottles present no more of a problem to grounds-men than do used soda cans.

He asked that students and faculty deposit empty soda cans and other trash in the numerous green stovepipe-hat containers located throughout the campus.

'970 Killed, Wounded or Missing'

In Weekly U.S. Casualty Total

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—American offensive operations, while boosting Communist losses sharply last week, swelled U.S. casualties to a record weekly total of 970 men killed, wounded or missing, briefing officers disclosed Thursday.

The roll of American dead in five years of war rose to 6,406. Of these, 5,302 fell in combat. The Pentagon disclosed Monday that deaths from such hostile causes as accidents, drownings and disease totaled 1,108 through Sept. 17.

For the fourth time this week, weekly losses of the Americans exceeded those of the South Vietnamese. Though U.S. units involved now have 315,000 men, South Viet Nam's armed forces still list more than twice that enrollment—705,000.

Contributing much to the bloodshed was fighting between U.S., Marines of Operation Prairie and infiltrated Hanoi regulars in the northern reaches of South Viet Nam, a struggle under way since Aug. 3.

The statistics came out on a day of varied action:

—Viet Cong terrorists struck twice. A blast in front of a police station in Saigon's Chinese section killed a woman and child and wounded 13 persons. A land mine destroyed a civilian bus, killed two persons and wounded nine on a road north of Qui Nhon, a city on the central coast.

—A U.S. spokesman announced American air squadrons flew 100 missions over North Viet Nam Wednesday in the continuing effort to impede the movement of Red troops and supplies.

Pilots said they net two oil depots afire and destroyed or damaged 16 bridges, 14 barges, 11 aircraft gun positions, and a torpedo boat refuelling base.

—Field dispatches told of the seizure of two Viet Cong prison camps. U.S., forces in the area in Phu Yen Province, about 200 miles north-east of Saigon, which they said looked like the Nazis' Dachau "all over again." They freed dispatches number of the missing, 1,165.

Killed, wounded or missing, briefings officers discarded Thursday.

Prince Phillip

Showered with Propaganda

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina (AP)—Prince Philip was showered with anti-British leaflets Thursday after a shooting incident, hijacking and the hijacker had marred his visit to Argentina.

The leaflets, calling for return of the disputed Falkland—Malvinas, addressed to Argentina, apparently were thrown at workers at a big electric plant Philip visited in the morning.

The leaflets called on the British to recognize Argentine sovereignty over the two tiny islands in the South Atlantic, where Argentine extremists landed a hijacked plane Wednesday in a gesture of support for the anti-British Falklands campaign.

Phillip picked up one of the leaflets and after a quick look, threw it away.

The 18 young hijackers are still holed up at Port Stanley, capital of the British-run Falklands. The group seized a four-engine passenger plane which flew away and forced it to land on a racetrack at Port Stanley.

SAINT DOMINGO, Dominican Republic (AP)—Killer Hurricane Inez struck the Dominican Republic and neighboring Haiti with roofing force Thursday and reported from the Haitian coastal town of Jaccmel said there were many deaths from a flood tide whipped up by the storm.

Thousands were reported homeless in Haiti as the hurricane tore roofs of buildings in Port Au Prince, the capital, including that of the Haitian-American Sugar Co.

The hurricane center in Miami, Fla., said there is only a slight chance that the storm will reach the U.S. mainland.

In the Dominican Republican authorities reported a death toll of six, revising an earlier total of nine. A spokesman for the Armed Forces Ministry said the report of a drowning of three persons in Barahona turned out to be erroneous. This brought the confirmed death toll from lines to 29 before it struck Haiti.

As the storm moved westward to Haiti, torrential rains and winds up to 75 miles an hour were reported to have hit Port Au Prince. The town of Jaccmel, where the flood tide was reported, is 24 miles southwest of the capital and in 1950 had a population of 8,500.

A large number of ramshackle homes were reported unroofed or destroyed in Haiti.

There was no word from the southern Haitian peninsula along which Inez sped westward, packing winds up to 150 miles an hour.

Twenty-three of the deaths were recorded Tuesday when Inez swept the French island of Guadeloupe, Inez also left 500 injured and 10,000 homeless in its wake.

A blue, black and white flag burst open atop a flagpole at midnight signifying independence for the 576,000 citizens of the Republic of Botswana.

With the flag-raising the multi-racial state became the 38th independent African nation.

Only minutes before, the Union Jack had been hauled down as the 1st Royal Irish Fusiliers played "God Save the Queen," ending 81 years of British rule over what had been known as the protectorate of Bechuanaland.

San Francisco (AP) — Rifle-armed National Guardsmen, under orders to "shoot to kill" if attacked, kept an uneasy peace Thursday in riot-torn Negro areas of San Francisco.

A heat wave, in which the violence first exploded Tuesday after a white policeman shot and killed a Negro youth, persisted in its third searing day.

Police and military forces maintained quiet and order in the bay-bordering Hunters Point and inland Fillmore Negro districts through Wednesday night after one brief but fierce outbreak by snipers and rioters. It was quickly quelled.

Negro unemployment, which Mayor John F. Shelley called the chief reason for the disorders, drew quick official attention all the way to the White House.

These steps against the apparent motive for the Negro violence, plus the firm police and military action, raised hopes that the rioting may have run its course.

"The test is whether we have a quiet night tonight," said Maj. Gen. Paul B. Tell, field commander of the Guard forces.

But Shelley sent a plea to President Johnson for federal funds to aid the "critical unemployment situation" in the Negro area.

"If plead in the name of God and human decency for im-

Immediate emergency funds to assuage this situation," Shelley declared.

Johnson responded by ordering White House assistant Joseph A. Califano to work on Shelley's request with Labor Secretary Willard Wirtz and Sargent Shriver, director of the Office of Economic Opportunity.

The Labor Department estimated San Francisco's unemployment rate at 5 percent. The August rate for the national civilian labor force was 3.9 percent. The jobless rate for Negro males in the five-county San Francisco Bay area is triple the white rate and double for Negro women.

Nine young Negro men were wounded by police shotgun fire in the fierce flare of violence Wednesday on 3rd Street near the Bayview Community Center. Most were leg wounds and none was serious.

Johnson Meets with Governors To Discuss Inflation Problem
WASHINGTON (AP) — Eleven governors got a personal, presidential appeal Thursday to help stem the tide of inflation, and Gov. George W. Romney of Michigan said they had asked President Johnson to put what he wanted in writing.

Romney is campaigning for another term as governor and is also a top possibility for the Republican nomination to take on Johnson in 1968.

He used the White House as a forum to take some jabs at the administration. It has been far too late in recognizing the inflation problem, he told newsmen. And he said the need for action now is partly the result of "unsound economic and fiscal policies."

But he and the 10 other governors—6 Democrats and 4 Republicans all told—indicated that they definitely would go along with the President in trying to trim spending wherever possible.

Motorcycle License Proposed by Senator ZION, Ill. (AP) — State Sen. W. Russell Arrington, Evanston, said Thursday Republican legislators will propose a 1967 law for a separate driver's license for motorbikes with a special driving test.

"We believe motor bikes can be a safe and economical means of transportation," Arrington said in remarks prepared for a Lake County Republican women's workshop.

Although Southern's trash containers are predominantly filled with paper, a wide variety of objects can be found on any given day.

During the torrid heat of early summer school one container was found to contain a complete window-unit air conditioner. A disposal worker removed the air conditioner with loving hands and now uses it to keep from "wasting away" during hot weather.

James R. Davis, Physical Plant janitorial sub-foreman, recently emptied the wastepaper can of an instructor who had left for dinner following a hard day of grading final examinations. Because his desk was full of books and important papers, the instructor had placed the exams on top of his wastepaper can to get them out of his way.

When the instructor returned and discovered that the exams and their unrecorded grades were missing, a series of telephone calls indicated the probable destination of his exams.

The instructor went home, got a flashlight and his wife, and set out for the city dump.

Following a frantic search during which his wife several times threatened to leave him and go back to teaching piano, the vagabond exams were rescued.

Friday, a Physical Plant custodian removed two very frightened tiny raccoons from a trash container. Once free, they then scampered for the nearest clump of bushes.

By Leonard Boscarine

Objects ranging from freshly graded final examinations to air conditioners, to raccoons turned up in trash containers at SIU.

It's all part of seven to eight tons of unwanted material thrown out daily on campus, according to Ed Burris, who heads the firm that disposes of the campus trash.

"There's enough paper," Burris said, "to make a good section of Thompson Woods, if it could be made back into a forest."

The unwanted refuse, after being collected by the Physical Plant janitorial service, is hauled to the city dumping grounds where it is covered with dirt.

Humorist-Pianist Enjoys Playing at Southern

By Dianne Anderson

The Victor Borge of the college circuit, Henry L. Scott, was well-received at his ninth SIU appearance Thursday at the University Convocations.

"I believe that one should get a better show rather than a new one," said Scott. "I revise the show enough to keep it contemporay."

Scott has material for about two evening programs — a convocation program represents about one-half night.

The audience seemed to take a hankering to Scott, whose brand of humor includes playing the piano with a grapefruit or with gloves on.

Scott enjoyed the audience as much as they enjoyed him. "An absolutely fantastic audience," he remarked after coming offstage after the second performance.

Asked if he enjoyed playing SIU, he said, "Oh golly, yes." The freshman audiences keep getting bigger, but in his nine years of playing here Scott hasn't noticed any other appreciable difference, he said.

Scott, whose home is in Rhinebeck, N.Y., has never given a completely serious concert. He is returning upon his 20th transcontinental tour this year and left for Kingston, Ont., immediately after the convocations.

He has taught and done work in radio, screen, stage and television. He is considered a pioneer in concert humor. He heads the Henry Scott School of Modern Music in New York City and has composed pieces such as "The Little Upright Piano" and "Musical Race-track."

"I look forward to coming here," Scott said. "SIU usually opens my season," but this year SIU was third on his itinerary.

About 60 per cent of Scott's work is done on college campuses and the remainder for fund-raising benefits and in concert series.

Thursday, he played a convocation's "standard," his arrangement of "Bye, Bye Blues" as the composer wrote it, in ragtime, then in jazz, swing and finally, a combination of each.

Hand motions and dramatic pauses are a vital part of his humor. His three types of "piano students" gag uses what he calls the breather, the whistler — hummer and the sitter.

A Liberace candle-lighting ceremony preceded a fairly straight rendition of Franz Liszt's "Second Hungarian Rhapsody."

Harmon football highlights
Elimination week has arrived! Two games this week involving members of the Top 20 match undefeated against undefeated. And picking the two winners is like looking right up at the hangman’s noose. Oh well, we’ve been hung before!

5th-ranked U.C.L.A. meets Missouri, number 11, and Minnesota, ranked 13th, guns for Alabama, number 6. Corronary sufferers—go fishing! U.C.L.A. gets the nod over Missouri by five points, and the Rebs’ guns just don’t have the right kind of buckshot. Alabama by four.

Michigan State, with two victories outside the Big Ten neat, moves into league competition against Illinois. The number one team in the country is again the favorite, this time by 21 points. And Michigan, number 7, will bump North Carolina by 20.

Also in the Midwest, the 2nd-ranked Irish of Notre Dame will have things their own way, whipping Northwestern by 33 points. Nebraska, number 15 and looking higher, is a 28-point favorite over Iowa State.

Gobbling up victory number three this Saturday will be the Florida Gators, rated 4th. They’re 32-point favorites over Vanderbilt. And 6th-ranked Southern Cal will uncathet with a 24-point win over Oregon State.

Television, number 9, is favored over spent-minded Rice by nineteen. 3rd-ranked Georgia Tech will trim-Clemson by 26, and Georgia, number 8, should tame South Carolina by 15 points.

Incidentally—and in case you’ve forgotten, Tulsa, Washington, Baylor, Navy, and L.S.U. all ran into a bit of trouble last Saturday and are among the missing in the Top 20.

The Ohio State Buckeyes, ranked 14th, bump boggins with the Washington Huskies. The Big Ten races the favorite here—Ohio State will win by twelve.

Saluki Seek First Road to Victory Saturday

Winning football games away from home has not been a recently-practiced habit for the football Salukis. The last time Southern tasted victory on the road was in 1964 against Drake from the Salukis face on Saturday in Des Moines.

The Salukis will be attempting to get the winning formula they misplaced those two years ago. Drake will be the Salukis' third Missouri Valley Conference opponent in as many weeks, and Drake should be true form to be MCC teams and throw the ball often and well.

The Bulldogs have a proven combination to quarterback Ron Royer and end Manley Sarmowski. Royer's career marks are 197 completions in 370 attempts for 2,785 yards and 17 touchdowns.

Last year Sarmowski caught 40 passes for 531 yards and five touchdowns. He also kicked four field goals and converted all 26 extra points for extra point.

The Bulldogs have most of their offensive line back from last year's squad, which went 6-4. The defense is young but in the first two games, Salukis have one touchdown. This came last week against State College of Iowa. Drake's secondary was tested by only 21 points.

If the Salukis follow past form, they will give the Bulldog defensive backs more problems this week. Quarterback Wally Agnew threw 31 passes for 27 completions and 189 yards against Drake.

Three Salukis were injured this week in practice, but all are expected to be ready for action Saturday. Isaac Bennett suffered a twisted knee, John Elissarre injured his neck and John Pergamino had a finger injury. The injuries occurred during Tuesday.

Once again the Saluki Illini will be on the short end of the weight issue. Drake should start a forward wall that overpowers Illinois' defense and the offense will be a little heavier. This could be the game the Salukis that will pass often.

As an additional day for the sale of student tickets for home football games has been announced by home Kinney, Viking's Coach is Tarkenton Critic

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) - Coach Norm Van Brocklin says Fran Tarkenton is inept to scramble quarterback wouldn't make it as running back.

"Tarkenton wouldn't have been a tough enough runner," says Van Brocklin. "He holds as long as he's hit, which is a good thing because it keeps him from serious injury," Tarkenton has carried the ball all 212 times for 1,173 yards in his five National Football League seasons.

SIU Student Takes First In National Cycle Race

Rain managed to halt temporarily the running of the recent 24-Hour National Championship Motorcycle Marathon, but it failed to dampen the desire of SIU senior Larry Lindauer who drove his cycle to a first place win in the lightweight class.

Lindauer, physical education major and president of the Southern Riders Association, drove his motorcycle 483 miles. The second place finisher in the lightweight division drove 478 miles.

Winners were determined by the number of miles driven during the 24-hour period. The race began at 3 p.m. Sept. 17 and concluded at 3 p.m. Sept. 18. But rain delayed the race for five and one-half hours, so the actual running time was 18 hours and 30 minutes, Lindauer said.

Once the race started, the riders were allowed no pit stops, he said. However, riders were allowed one five-minute stop every two hours for refreshments and food plus a three-minute stop for gas when necessary. Riders were required to keep the cycle engines running at all times during the race, Lindauer said.

“So, it was really a test of the machine as well as the rider,” he said. “A rider was automatically out of the race anytime his forward motion ceased except for the authorized stops. This included killing the engine or spills or spills or anything.”

Lindauer, who has been riding cycles for 10 years, said it was easy to stay awake during the all-night race.

“You just run fast and stay scared,” he explained. “The faster you go, the more likely you are to stay awake.”

Lindauer said his speed ranged from 40 miles an hour on the straightaways to 20 m.p.h. on the hairpin curve. The race was run at the Riverdale Speedway in St. Louis. Lindauer said the course is a stock car course with modifications for the motorcycle race. For cycles, the one-half mile clay course includes a long curve, a hairpin curve, a dogleg, a jump, and the straightaway. Discussing the jump, Lindauer said that “when really pouring it out” it was possible to go eight to nine feet into the air and travel a distance of 60 to 70 feet.

Lindauer said a “good portion” of the race was run under the red flag because of the number of spills and stalls. He was one of 17 finishers in the race which had 57 starters.

Lindauer competed in the race last year, placing third. “I was really happy to win this year,” he said.

WINNER TROPHY — Larry Lindauer poses with the trophy he won for placing first in the lightweight division of the recent 24-hour National Championship Motorcycle Marathon. The SIU senior took third in the race last year.

Group Organizing For Soccer Team

A group of SIU students interested in organizing a soccer team are planning an organizational meeting at 2 p.m. Sunday.

All Moatfarian, spokesman for the group, said the meeting will be on the practice field south of the Arena. Interested persons are invited to attend.
