Lenzi Calls for an End To 'Feudalism' at SIU

Student Body President Ray Lenzi has urged campus stu- dent leaders to "work for a new era and a new freedom for our students." Lenzi, addressing the Cam- pus Senate Wednesday night, characterized our students as "second-class citizens." Lenzi said that the topic of discussion at the con-clave "is a reflection of the terribly outdated guidelines and that they are undergoing rewriting subject to approval by the organizational leaders. Also present were members of the Of- fice of Student Affairs. One area of contention in- volves requirements for membership and housing. The original draft of the proposal stated that the groups must maintain 90 percent of oc- cupancy by members during two of any consecutive three-year periods and must maintain an average of 90 percent for the three years.

Kenneth Varcoe, acting co- ordinator of student affairs for the fraternities and sor- orities (official Oct. 1), said he thought this section prob- ably would be changed by the commission.

Wilbur Moulton, dean of Student Affairs, pointed out that this was the first draft of the guidelines and that they are undergoing rewriting subject to approval by the organizational leaders and other interested parties. Moulton urged anyone wanting to submit suggestions to do so within the next week. Varcoe said that the re- quirement for the three-year average would probably be dropped. He also said that a section calling for a review board may be added to this section.

This is the same review board that would consider pro- grams in the areas of rushing, pledging, integration and grades.

Varcoe said there is a pos- sibility that the "average" requirement would become retroactive for this year. One fraternity president said that under such criteria, five hous­ es on Greek Row would find it mathematically impossible to meet the 90 per cent aver­ age requirement.

Final word on the guidelines will be up to the Board of Trustees. Moulton said that the Board wants to consider this point at the October meet­ ing.

Another guideline that did not sit well with the fraterni­ ty or sorority presidents was a proposal by the commission to drop the requirement of the Inter Fraternal Council set a maximum and minimum on membership.

It is the commission's con- tinuation that this would allow none of the fraternities to gain a preponderance of membership over the others.

Lenzi said he was not happy with the "average" require­ ment, or the way the topic of discussion was handled, and that the commission was removed from their right to request suggestions from the student body.

Lenzi said that a "new freedom" in learning and liv­ing was demanded, but he said that during the meeting that the topic would be discussed further.

On Guideline Issues

Several areas of the guide­ lines for fraternities and sororities came under fire Wednesday at a meeting of the organizational offices.

Lenzi, chairman of the Commission on Fraternity and Sorority Development, presented guidelines for the campus Greek system. Lenzi said that the groups must maintain 90 percent occupancy.

The clergy would have an average of 90 percent for the three years.

Kenneth Varcoe, acting co­ ordinator of student affairs for the fraternities and sor­ orities (official Oct. 1), said he thought this section prob- ably would be changed by the commission.

Treasurer Explains University Memorial Program Structure

Often when someone connects with University dies a memorial fund or scholarship fund is set up by the family.

Frequently there is some confusion on the part of the other members of the University community as to what this fund is used for and how it is established.

Robert Gallegly, treasurer for both the University and the SIU Foundation, said his office is contacted by the family wishing to establish such a fund in the memory of the deceased.

Business Student Council Petitions Available Monday

Petition forms for nominations for School of Business Student Council posts will be available Monday in Room 114 of the General Classrooms Building, according to Darrel Vandermeulen, council president.

Voting, which will elect candidates for eight at-large seats on the council, will be held from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. Friday, Oct. 6, in the General Classrooms Building lobby.

Candidates, who must have 25 signatures of undergraduates to be on the ballot, must be business majors. Voting will be open to all undergraduates enrolled in the School of Business.

The council will have its representatives, Vandermeulen said. Eight already have been chosen as representatives of organizations.

The group will elect officers at a later date this fall.

Treasurer Explains University Memorial Program Structure

Contributions are sent to the foundation in lieu of flowers for the deceased and the treasurer's office deposits the money in the name of the fund to be established.

After a reasonable time has passed and most of the contributions have been received, the treasurer meets with the family.

Gallegly said the family is told how much was collected and counsels the family as to the possible avenues for using the funds.

Generally the family selects some student program or research project to which the deceased devoted much of his time and energy and either a grant or scholarship is offered to deserving persons connected with the specific field or interest, Gallegly said.

Growth Is Problem

The need for sidewalks on South Wall Street was made obvious by the death of two SIU students last Friday night. Many pedestrians who have experienced close calls while walking in the street will testify that this need has been obvious for quite awhile. Pedestrians, however, are not alone. Harold Hill, of the Carbondale Building, Zoning, and Housing Office, said that the project to build sidewalks along the section of Wall in question had been approved three months ago, and that it is considered "top priority." Sidewalks will be built in conjunction with a larger project to widen Wall Street between Louis Lane and Snider Street.

In discussion of Carbondale's present lack of sidewalks along Wall, it might be realized that the foot traffic on that street was not a major problem until the completion of the Wall Street Quadrangles two years ago and the completion of East University Avenue one year ago. During that time, some new sidewalks have appeared and some dirt roads have become pavement.

None of this will bring back Friday's victim, but any blame which could be placed on the city must go to Carbondale's unwieldy growth rather than to ignorance or aloofness on the part of its governmental officials.

Ronald Gillette

C of C for Progress?

The Carbondale Chamber of Commerce has once again stepped into traffic matters with opposition to progress.

In the past the Chamber has termed Rt. 13 an "limited access" highway, conveniently ignoring the many turnoffs to places of business.

Now the Chamber opposes a plan to make Main Street-Rt. 13 one-way, with Walnut Street planned as a bus lane. Chamber executive director Harry Weeks called the proposal a "stop-gap" measure.

Maybe so, Mr. Weeks, but where were you when Walnut Street was being widened months ago? Why didn't you speak out in time to change plans? It's well past time to plug the gap.

The downtown traffic situation east-west is desperate. Coupling in those directions, similar to the north-south count in operations would be a brilliant direction.

Direct access routes to SIU, as proposed by Weeks, should not be constructed in place of the east-west count, but in addition to it.

Any fears of loss of business to downtown stores because of the couple should have been dealt with years ago, when the area became outdated and crowded and when shopping centers and huge discount stores first came to Carbondale.

Today the foremost problem to the city as a whole is traffic congestion. A move to combat it, such as a couple, should be concentrated on the side streets. Our east-west count is on the side of Mayor Keene and those in the east-west county.

Draft-Dodgers Find Life Hard

By Herb Greer

A small but steadily increasing number of young Americans have begun to seek refuge in Britain to avoid service in the United States armed forces in Vietnam.

Johnny L. is one of them. He is 24, a tall, lean, swarthy boy from Texas. He dresses roughly and wears a bushy mustache and a scruffy short beard.

After a 1-A classification, he used every trick he could think of to keep ahead of draft boards in Texas and New York until last November, with nothing left but induction, desertion, or running, he flew to Brussels. From Belgium he drifted to Copenhagen and thence to London. Loans, hand-outs and occasional odd jobs have supported him. Whatever happens, he says, he will not go back to America, where he faces five years' imprisonment and a heavy fine.

Howard G., frail, rather nervous and bright-eyed, is a playwright, a graduate of the University of California, aged 25. His work was performed at the university and he was encouraged by Christopher Isherwood. Instead of outright refusal to be drafted, he chose the course of signing up while still an undergraduate. He has a nervous breakdown, and when his unit was sent to the Watts riots he refused to go. He failed to secure medical discharge, but was transferred to the inactive reserves.

He settled for a time in the west of Ireland and then came to London. He is living on savings and loans and technically he is still in the reserves. One order to report for active service by air was rescinded, but he is still on call and sooner or later he will have to go. He feels that if he stays in the service that happens he will, like Johnny L., have to face the prison.

Mark P. is a rhetoric and several one-way streets, including one with increased prices, in the sound and fury of joining this or that automobile "rebellen." As a considerable rise in prices has been announced, the new car buyers reserve to have heard added safety features contribute as much to the total cost as the asceticism of the future-standards will be all the harder to put through. Through future standards, there are some good means measures created in the '68 models although one important device--the "seatbelt"--that prevents the "second collision" has not been added.

He says that his "life does not sound like the '67's, etc.

Monetary Issues

Confuse Everyone

By Carl W. Ritter

Copley News Service

If the man on the street is confused by the latest monetary developments and what they mean, it's because the International Monetary Conference this week at Rio de Janeiro was attended by the representative of a rather sophisticated company.

Consider two statements by Mrs. Janet Hays, the American ambassador to Latin America, who made a speech for the International Monetary Fund.

One refers to "a new international monetary asset" to be created.

The other says "It is significant that the plan does not call for a new international monetary asset."

The confusion is intended to facilitate the financing of world commerce and enable more prosperous and healthier economic growth. Its institution means a look beyond the "world's monetary reserves," in effect supplementing the "gold dollar" and sterling in official coffers.

The IMF's approval of IMF governors meeting at Rio, after which the plan in treaty form will be sent to national legislatures for final approval, is estimated to become effective in late 1969.

If the United States continues to maintain a substantial balance of payments deficits, the plan may not become operational for about three years into the 1970's.
Pianist-Humorist H.L. Scott Keeps Audience Laughing

“Honeydew melons play the piano better than grapefruits,” said Henry L. Scott, noted musician-comedian at the convocation coffee hour Thursday. Mr. Scott had just made his tenth appearance at SIU. He has appeared at the convocation series for seven consecutive years.

This was the fourth appearance in his latest tour. He has performed for audiences at Georgia Tech, Texas A&M, West Point Military Academy, Air Force Academy and the University of Texas. He has also made two appearances at Carnegie Hall in New York.

He said that the growth of SIU was amazing. When he first appeared here, SIU had only 5,000 students. This concert, he explained especially because of the attention and reaction to Jerry’s “Hungarian Rhapsody.” He added that most students stay away from publicized classical concerts.

He writes his own material and tries to change it enough to keep it up with modern trends. He said during the show, “This is my own arrangement,... This announcement lets me leave out all the hard parts.” His honeydew melon number was called “Chopin in the Citrus Belt.” He usually uses grapefruits for this act, “but,” he said, “for two months of the year, they are just too small to use.”

The audience laughed at his unusual hand movements. His impressions of the classical pianist and his imitation of Liberace kept the audience laughing. He gave his impressions of the three types of pianists that he has observed: the breather, the whistler-hummer and the sitters.

Scott’s wife travels with him on most of the tours. She says that she usually plays chauffeur when they drive. Scott added that because of his heavy schedule and the distances he has to cover, he sometimes flies.

Traffic Deaths
In State Rise
Six Per Cent

State traffic fatalities for the first half of September 1967, are up six per cent over the same period in 1966, according to a provisional report released by the Division of Highways and the State Highway Police.

There were 112 fatalities in the first half of September. The figure for the same period in 1966 was 106 traffic deaths, the report said.

Francis S. Lorenz, Illinois public works director, pointed out that there were 63 persons killed in 41 traffic accidents involving collisions between two or more vehicles. Of those killed six were in accidents involving motorcycles.

The remaining fatalities for the state were a result of single vehicle accidents. Among these deaths 12 were pedestrians, including two fatalities in Carbondale last Friday night, Jack Hanel, Carbondale chief of police, said they were the first fatalities in the city since May 10, 1966.

U.S. Peace Initiative Advocated by France

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. - Foreign Minister Maurice Couve de Murville renewed Thursday his government's call for a "decisive initiative" from the United States toward the "cruelest and destructive" war in Vietnam.

He suggested in a policy address to the U.N. General Assembly that such an initiative might be an unconditional cessation of the U.S. bombing that is "ravaging North Vietnam."

"No one would approve of such a decision more than the French," he said, "and first because it would put an end to the suffering of many Vietnamese."

But he added that "this indeed would probably be a first step" to peace negotiations. He said Paris had declared several times since last January that "discussions could be envisaged" if the bombing were halted.

France was the second U.S. ally in as many days to call for an end to the bombing of North Vietnam. But the government of President Charles de Gaulle has long been critical of American policy in Southeast Asia and the Couve de Murville statement was no surprise.

Canadian Foreign Secretary Paul Martin told the 122-nation assembly Wednesday that any efforts to open negotiations between the two sides were "doomed to failure unless the bombing is stopped."

Mr. Martin contendd that "the only imaginable settlement" in Vietnam "is to return to the Geneva Agreements of 1954."

This would involve, he said, evacuation of all foreign forces and a pledge against their return and a ban on any outside interference in Vietnamese commitment to a policy of strict neutrality.

The provisions, he added, should be embodied in a treaty to which the great powers and all other countries directly involved would be bound.

With these conditions fulfilled, he said, the Vietnamese should be left to settle their own affairs "in full freedom and to their own responsibility, regardless of the regime that they might think fit to adopt."

Couve de Murville said it would be "quite illogical" to ask the United Nations to try to end the war, noting that the effective functioning of the world organization depended on "the concerned action of the main powers."

Buddhists March in Saigon
Protesting Religious Charter

SAIGON (AP) - More than 1,000 Buddhist monks and nuns marched throughout Saigon Thursday in protest against a new charter that recognizes a rival Buddhist congregation as the mother church in Vietnam.

The march was the largest antigovernment demonstration in more than a year. The marchers demanded that Chief of State Nguyen Van Thieu rescind the charter.

Among leaders of the march was Thich Van Nen, who conducted Buddhist rioting in the spring of 1966 in an unsuccessful attempt to overthrow the military regime of Thieu and Premier Nguyen Cao Ky.

The Buddhist marchers stretched three blocks. Police made no attempt to stop them. Their banners carried slogans such as, "Gen. Thieu does not deserve the nation's leadership."

Thieu signed the new charter last July and the militant Buddhists have been agitating against it ever since. They claim their letters to Thieu have gone unanswered and the demonstration was the only way to present their demands to Thieu, who is also the president.

Although they consider the charter their main grievance against the government of Thieu and Ky, who were recently elected president and vice president in the Sept. 3 election, they have joined others who charge that the election was rigged.

About 500 college students met at their Student Union headquarters Wednesday night, shouting anti-American and anti-election slogans. "Down with the American Imperialism," they yelled repeatedly. "Down with the rigged elections. Yankee go home."

2 U.S. Fighters Reported
Shot Down Over Haiphong

SAIGON (AP) - American air squadrons based in Thailand reported Wednesday they shot down over North Vietnam again Thursday and a broadcast dispatch from Haiphong, who reported hit repeatedly by Navy fliers recently, was among the targets. It declared two U.S. planes were shot down over that port.

American authorities had no immediate comment.

A Haiphong city committee­man, Pham Gia Tuan, complained in a statement relayed abroad by North Vietnam's official news agency that the raiders in the past have sometimes hit the heavily populated heart of the city.

Tuan declared 600 houses, three schools, three hospitals, and "many" other establishments have been damaged or destroyed. He offered no comment on the effectiveness of the American campaign, aimed largely against bridges to prevent trains and trucks from moving into the countryside the war supplies that ships bring to the city.

While gun duels, patrol clashes and occasional open battles bleed Communist strength in the South, U.S. combat losses in Vietnam are expected to top the 100,000 mark this week.

The roll of American casualties in nearly seven years of war, as updated Thursday to last Saturday midnight, lists 99,133 men -11,493 killed, 84,887 wounded and 753 missing or captured. The American military convoy has been above 1,000 for months.

Introducing the '68 Obelisk...
the college yearbook with class

That's right... real class. Last year's Obelisk had 464 pages of it. Pages that let you watch the University grow, and give you the lowdown on all the departments, and a ton of pictures and captions that will bring back the "old days" when you are that way. Now off with a a new Obelisk. Bring a little to friends back home. (They might be a little envious, but hey, anyway.) And for checking out dolls at TP (or the guys at the Phi Kappa Tau house), it's invaluable. You'll find all kinds of handy uses for your Obelisk. You don't even have to try to sell, be sure to order yours today from the guy at the Obelisk table. And it'll cost you only two bucks.

Disasters Top Issue: Reagan

PEORIA, Ill. (AP) - Gov. Ronald Reagan of California said Thursday the outbreak of disasters in the cities probably overshadows the Vietnam war as the top issue in the country.

At an airport news conference, Reagan said the war "is definitely an issue but I'm not sure it's No. 1." "It's lack of law and order and crime in our streets," he said.

Reagan, en route to dedicate a library at his alma mater, Eureka College, said there was no political significance to his Illinois visit.

In response to questions, he repeatedly denied he would seek the Republican presidential nomination or that he was interested in running for vice president.

Asked what he thought of a hearse headed by Gov. Nelson Rockefeller of New York and himself in the second spot, Reagan declared, "I'm not interested in that, I'm not a candidate."

Asked who he felt is closest to getting the GOP presidential nod, Reagan said polls show that former vice president Richard Nixon "has the biggest handle on the bat right now."

Reagan added, "There is a credibility gap. I don't think we have been kept informed and this certainly ought to be an issue in next year's election if my party is on the ball."

He said, "We should be heeding the advice of our military leaders more."

"The problem is to end the war as quickly as possible and I don't mean by putting our tail between our legs and getting out. This would mean a waste of an awful lot of American boys' lives."

The California governor said his trips to Illinois, South Carolina and Wisconsin this week represented chores that he was doing for his party. "There's a smell of victory in the air," he asserted.

Friday, he heads south for a night speech at Columbia, S.C. On Saturday, he will address Republicans in Milwaukee, Wis.

This is Reagan's first national tour.

Disaster Areas Set On LBJ Texas Tour

HARLINGEN, Tex. (AP) - President Johnson declared 24 South Texas counties a major disaster area Thursday after making a dramatic tour of the flood-and-hurricane devastated area by plane, helicopter and school bus.

Overall damage in the stricken area has been estimated in excess of $1 billion. Johnson told a news conference here that damage to public facilities alone was more that $30 million. A total of 54 persons died in the storm and floods.

Meanwhile, the crest of the great flood spawned along the Rio Grande, its tributaries and man-made diversion channels appeared to have passed this battered, usually sparkling, city of 41,000.

Brownsville and Matamoros, Mexico, near the Rio Grande's mouth, bracketed for the floodwaters' rise expected there.

The President flew into Harlingen Air Force Base at 4:29 p.m., CDT, went by school bus to a high school gymnasium where 2,500 refugees are lodged and thence by helicopter to Rio Grande City 200 miles upriver.

Everywhere he went, the tall President bent down to shake hands and offer words of encouragement to mothers, old men and children. "Keep your chin up," the President said. "This may pull us all closer together. Help is coming."

He left Harlingen at 7:38 p.m. for the LBJ Ranch near Johnson City in Texas' picturesque Hill Country west of Austin.

Reagan disagreed with a charge by a fellow Republican, Sen. Thurston Morton of Kentucky, that President Johnson has been "brainwashed" by U.S. military and defense industry leaders on the conduct of the war.

"It's hard for me to believe the President has been brainwashed by the military when the evidence is that their advice has been constantly ignored," he said.

History Books Given to SIU

The Chamber of Deputies of the Mexican Congress has presented an eight-volume set of books on Mexican constitutional history and the government of Mexico to SIU's Morris Library.

Entitled "Rights of the Mexican People—Mexico as Seen Through Its Constitutions," the books were prepared by a commission of prominent historians and lawyers for the lower house of the Mexican Congress. It was part of the celebration of the 100th anniversary of the triumph of constitutional government of the country under Benito Juarez over Emperor Maximilian of Austria.

The books were presented to Ralph E. McCoy, director of University Libraries, through Albert W. Bork, director of the Latin American Institute at SIU. Alfredo Martinez Dominguez, chairman of the Committee on the publication, sent a set of the work to Bork for delivery to Morris Library.

Bork said that the work was a history of the constitutions of 1824, 1857 and 1917. Bork also said, "There is a careful analysis of each clause in the present (1917) constitution and a comparison with those of the chief countries of the world."

Bow Hunters Can't Carry Sidearms, State Conservation Director Says

Springfield, Ill.—“Don’t carry a firearm if you are deer hunting with a bow,” advises William T. Lodge, director of the Illinois Department of Conservation. “Sometimes a bow hunter will pack a sidearm while he is in the field after whitetails and this practice is unlawful,” Lodge stated.

The bow season for deer is divided into two portions. The first begins on Oct. 1 and ends on Nov. 6. The second portion begins on Nov. 16 and ends on Dec. 31.

The entire state is open for deer hunting, but archers must obtain permission from the landowner to hunt on private property. A $5 bow hunting permit is necessary unless the archer is hunting on farm land where he resides. In that case a free permit is issued.

All hunters must wear their signed permit upon their backs while in the field.

A long bow of at least 40 inches in length and standard broadhead arrows must be used. Hunting hours are from one-half hour before sunset. A hunter may kill only one deer during any calendar year.

Archers must report their kills to the conservation officer in the county where the deer was taken or the Department of Conservation within 48 hours.

Pioneer Craft Show

Oct. 7-8

When the Illinois State Museum in 1964 staged an Illinois pioneer craft show there was little realization, according to Milton D. Thompson, museum director, that it would be followed by similar and bigger shows at historic sites.

On Oct. 7 and 8, for the second year, the restored Clayville Tavern, 12 miles west of Springfield on highway 125 near Pleasant Plains, will be the scene of a craft show and festival.

The event is being sponsored by the Sangamon County Historical Society and its former president, Dr. Emmet F. Pearson, and Mrs. Pearson. Staff members of the Illinois State Museum have worked closely with historical details. Five acres have been reserved for parking spaces. The crafts festival this year offers visitors an opportunity to relive much of the historic past in demonstrations of old-fashioned hand and home crafts common to pioneer Illinois in an authentic setting.

Pennant Contestants Start Preparations for World Series

By The Associated Press

The Detroit Tigers have had thousands of badges made up which say, Tigers World Series.

The Minnesota Twins already are hanging out World Series signs in the Metropolitan Stadium. The Chicago White Sox are spending about $50,000 sprucing up Comiskey Park and hiring offices to handle the volume of mail.

At Boston, the Red Sox are building a special platform for a World Series band. The four clubs involved in the tight American League baseball race are taking no chances about being caught short-handed when, if one of them lands in the World Series with the St. Louis Cardinals of the National League.

None of them, however, is spending a great deal of money. There is a certain amount of caution on all four fronts.

Bakken Wins NFL Honors As Player of the Week

NEW YORK (AP) — Jim Bakken, St. Louis Cardinal veteran of seven National Football League campaigns, has a long way to go to match the field goal kicking feats of all-time great Lou Groza, but it'll be a long time before he forgets Sunday Sept. 24, 1967.

It was on that date the former Wisconsin star set an American record by kicking seven field goals and adding an extra point in tailying all except six of the total's 28 points in the 28-14 victory over Pittsburgh.

For his feat, Bakken was chosen Wednesday by The Associated Press as the NFL's Offensive Player of the Week.

Bakken kicked field goals of 18, 24, 33, 29, 32, 24 and 23 yards, five of them into a stiff wind. "But I almost missed No. 1," said Bakken. "I knew about the record and looked up as I kicked," Bakken added an extra point.

Bakken's 1967 season included a league record for most field goals attempted, nine. He missed two, one from 50 yards and the other from 45.

The seven field goals broke the one-game record of six set last year by Garo Yepremian of Detroit, the soccer-style kicking specialist from Cyprus. The record for attempted field goals for one game was eight made by Yepremian in the Detroit-Minnesota game last Nov. 13 and veteran Lou Michaels while with Pittsburgh in a 1962 game against St. Louis.

The record for most field goals in a lifetime is the 223 held by Lou Groza of Cleveland.

October 15 Deadline Set for Tennis Meet

Rain Forces Title Bout Postponement

NEW YORK (AP) - Rain forced a one-day postpone­ment of Thursday night's scheduled world middleweight title fight at Shea Stadium be­tween champion Nino Benve­nuti of Italy and ex-champ Emile Griffith of New York.

The 15-round match was re­scheduled for tonight at 10 p.m. EDT although the weather forecast said there was an 80 per cent chance of continued rain.

If there is a second post­ponement the rematch will be held Saturday afternoon at 4 p.m. because the field must be made ready for the New York Jets' football opener Sunday.

Both fighters must weigh in again today at 11 a.m. At Thursday's late morning weigh-in, Benvenuti just made the class limit of 160 pounds and Griffith came in at 155 pounds, his heaviest for a championship match.

FOR SIU's cross-country team each successive week is like jumping out of the frying pan into the fire. The Salukis have faced two tough distance squads already this season, opening with a loss to Miami of Ohio on the SIU course and losing the next week to a strong DePaul team.

Now Southern returns home to face Kansas State, the de­fending United States Track and Field Federation Champ­ion and last year's NCAA runner-up.

Despite the Wildcat's prestige, Southern's Oscar Moore has to be considered the man to beat. Moore has broken several course records in his initial two starts.

Moore, the greatest long-distance man in SIU history, erased three records at De­Paul last weekend. He toured the five-mile Washington Park course in 25:59.9. He was also clocked at 14:14 for three miles and 19:14 for four miles.

Coach Lew Hartzog said, "Oscar is in fantastic shape.

Orioles Rehire Bauer for '68

BALTIMORE (AP) - The Baltimore Orioles announced Thursday that Hank Bauer will continue as manager next sea­son, ending a guessing game over whether he would be fired for the downfall of the 1966 baseball champions.

Bauer was signed after last season for a contract through 1968 at $50,000 a year.

The Orioles presently are in seventh place, 16 1/2 games out of first place.

Harriers Meet Tough Kansas State Saturday

He broke those three records over the University of Chi­cago's course and there have been some pretty salty times run there."

"One, the former four-mile mark, was particularly im­pressive. It was set by Loy­ola's Tom O'Hara when he won the national championship."

The SIU-Kansas State meet will be run over a three-mi­le course southeast of the base­ball field.

"This is the distance Kans­as State requested," Hartzog said, "They run their confer­ence meets at the same dis­tance, I'm afraid it will be a disadvantage for us to run the shorter distance."
