Seven Groups to Sing at Nightly Concerts

At Hospital Nativity Scene Till Christmas

The traditional Nativity scene that was constructed in the front lawn of Homer_Hos­

last weekend will ring with the sounds of holiday music from now until Christmas.

Seven community music groups will provide the singing from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m. at nightly concerts.

Opening night ceremonies Monday featured the University High School Choir. Other groups scheduled to appear during the remaining nine days until Christmas are the Lakeland Baptist Church Choir, Thursday; Assembly of God Choir, Friday; First Methodist Youth Choir; Sunday; and the New Zion Baptist Church Chapel Choir, Monday.

The French Club of University

High School and Phi Mu Alpha Sinfonia Brass Choir from the Student Center Department, Music have been scheduled to perform, but dates have not been set.

The Nativity scene is constructed each year to express holiday goodwill to passers­ by on Route 61.

The scene features life­ sized manger scenes dressed in Biblical costumes and live animals in the stable. During the day, recorded Christmas music is played through speakers placed on the yard next to the scene.

The most popular groups who participated in the construction of the scene Saturday are Roger

L. Kieffling, Keith W. Howland, Larry Doanam, Earne!:';: M. Meismer, Jay M. Phenicie,

SIU personnel involved in the different phases of construction and scheduling of the project are Ralph B. Bedwell, Tony W. Blas, The Rev. Jer­

Poverty Conference Meeting Here

A War on Poverty Conference will be held today at the University Center.

Keynote speakers will in­ Paul H. Douglas and President Delyte W. Morris.

Registration for the conference will be from 9 a.m. to 10 a.m. The conference will begin at 10 o'clock.

Other speakers, representing the Washington Office of Economic Opportunity and federal and state agencies in the program will be present.

They will explain various features of the War on Poverty program during the day, with a special emphasis on "community action programs."

A luncheon is scheduled for 1:30 in the ballroom. Tentative plans call for Rep. Melvin Price and Kenneth Gray to speak at the luncheon.

Charles C. Jackson, administrative director of the Illinois Office of Economic Opportunity, will close the program.

Public officials and civic leaders from 20 Southern Illinois counties have been invited to attend today's meeting.

Luncheon tickets are $2 and may be purchased at the time of registration. Faculty and staff members may reserve tickets by calling 2-3464.

Credit Allowed
SIU Offering 12 Courses
In Religion for Next Term

Twelve fully accredited religious courses for SIU students will be offered in the term by the religious foundations associated with SIU. Students will be able to register for the courses through regular University channels.

College of Liberal Arts and Sciences faculty members will serve as liaison with the foundations and approve the courses to be accepted for credit.

The Baptist Foundation, the Student Christian Foundation, the Episcopal Foundation, the Lutheran Foundation and the Reformed Foundation are taking part in the program.

The religious courses in the winter term include:

- "Personalities of the Old Testament," three credit hours.
- "Analysis of Divine Belief," two credit hours.
- "History of Religion," three credit hours.
- "Introduction to the History of Christianity," three credit hours.
- "Theology of the Sacraments," three credit hours.
- "Hymnology," three credit hours.
- "Theology of the Sacraments," three credit hours.

No formal auditions will be held, according to the music master. Students interested in singing with the chorus should attend the first rehearsal at 7 p.m. on Jan. 6. No prior appearance need by needed.

Opera Workshop Needs Choir
Of 60 for 'Faust' Production

A chorus of 60 students will be needed to take part in Southern's production of "Faust," Robert W. Kingsbury, chorus master for the opera, announced this week. The chorus will be split evenly between men and women. The Opera workshop program will be presented at SIU at about three performances during February.

Students need not have previous musical training to take part in the chorus, said Kingsbury. Two hours University credit will be given each member of the group which will rehearse from 7 to 9:30 each Wednesday evening from the first week in January through the February performances.

"The chorus will not meet after the performances," Kingsbury pointed out; therefore, students will receive the credit while only having to work about half the term. No formal auditions will be held, according to the music master. Students interested in singing with the chorus should attend the first rehearsal at 7 p.m. on Jan. 6. No prior appearance need by needed.

The Rush of Life

Christmas, like any other season, will rush upon us quickly and then just as quickly be gone. Through life we are running like trackmen, we are as streamlined as we can be, and only if we turn our heads to catch a breath.

The streamlining of things makes distances shorter because the passage of time is less noticed. Even the names on the sign posts are shortened: "Silo M'boro and throughout So. Ill. now." The time is short, and Meaning is lost in the rush.

Swan Song

It is with a certain degree of sadness, that any college senior will be gone. Twice a day in school as the last of those days drift away, Here at last is lost in the rush.

For the past six months we have served as editor of the Daily Egyptian. Here some of the things gone past must be reviewed. We value the experience; we cherish the friendships made. We regret the mistakes made.

Through life we will see 60 or 70 Christmas trees, if we are lucky. All of them will be run to, and all will be run from. Then we will run out of breath. Here at last is a time of giving. So the last Christmas day, we will see the New Year with less its own right White knows the war, and for the Great overseas war, he is lost in the rush.

It is facrory. We have done our part. A Learning Experience

In the same article Robert W. MacVicar, vice president for academic affairs was quoted: "It will allow teachers to go over exams with students so they will be able to learn from the exam, not just get their grade cards on which a grade is given.

Door to Nuclear Force Unity
Is Open to France, Rusk Says

By Joseph H. Dyman

PARIS (AP) — Secretary of State Dean Rusk told President Charles de Gaulle Monday that the door would always be open to France in any allied nuclear command.

In the course of what was called a "long "friendly and frank" discussion in the Elysee Palace presidential offices, the secretary told De Gaulle the United States has no desire to isolate France with proposals for an allied multilateral Nuclear Force—M.I.F. or similar ideas. France opposes such a project and has refused to take part in preliminary studies.

Rusk told newsmen that he has assured De Gaulle—who insists on building his own purely French nuclear arm—that arrangements now under study with Britain, West Germany and other NATO countries are deliberately being kept flexible so that France can join, too, whenever she wants.

New top-level meetings are tentatively planned among the allies early in the coming year. In connection with the American project for a fleet of nuclear vessels armed with Polaris missiles under American control, the British scheme for a wider NATO nuclear command, and any other way to control Western nuclear armament. Rusk's assurance came in a detailed exchange on Europe's postwar development in which Rusk and De Gaulle sat forth their differing views without attempting to reach any agreement.

The De Gaulle-Rusk conversation ran more than an hour and a half—well beyond the scheduled time—and focused on changes and probably evolution of Western Europe in the immediate and long-range future. American sources described the meeting as "very interesting and cordial" despite the well-known differences between the United States and France on nuclear policy with in the North Atlantic Treaty Organization and, in fact, on NATO itself as an institution.

On the sidelines, meanwhile, the British and French foreign ministers agreed that a meeting should take place between British Prime Minister Harold Wilson and De Gaulle. No date for the meeting was set.

Rusk and other Western foreign ministers are in Paris for a ministerial meeting of NATO nations today.

On the security side, French Defense Minister Gerhard Schroeder met later for more than an hour with Rusk in the American Embassy, and voiced some support for the new British proposals on a NATO nuclear command.

William Bendix

Dies of Pneumonia

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Actor William Bendix, whose rough, gruff manner marked a maraschino heart, died Monday. He was best known as the poverty stricken father in television's "Life of Riley."

The end came Monday at Good Samaritan Hospital, where he had been listed in critical condition for several days with lobar pneumonia. At his bedside were his wife of 37 years, Therese, 58, and daughters, Suzanne, 20, and Lorraine, 30.

Bendix was a rarity, a star. He was the only son of a star, Jack Bendix, who became a star.

No Strikes Set By Railroads

CHICAGO (AP)—Three unions representing train and traveling public Monday their Christmas gifts are delivery holiday trips without any labor setback that may be upset by a railroad strike. We have no intention of calling a work stoppage during the holiday season," Joseph Ramsey, president of the International Association of Machinists, told newsmen. Ramsey spoke at the U.S. District Court House where Judge Joseph Sam Perry heard testimony in a suit brought by railroads to the sheet metal workers and the electrical workers from striking.

"We don't want to inconvenience public," Ramsey said. He added that the strike-free period would include New Year's Day and possibly a day or two more.

Testimony taken in the hearing indicated the two parties were not far apart on wage demands. As he assessed the hearing until today, Judge Perry took note of this and said: "Maybe the railroads and unions could get together in the Christmas spirit and settle the whole kit and kaboodle."

Neither side indicated it would accept the suggestion. Union witnesses testified that on May 31, 1963, they demanded an increase of 1.3 cents an hour which would raise their basic pay from $2.74 to $3.15 an hour. They also asked for a 3.2 per cent increase in each of the next two years. This later was reduced to 36 cents in negotiations.
Navy Coach’s Status Still Up in Air

ANAPOLIS, Md. (AP) — Navy athletic officials emerged from a two-hour meeting Monday with Wayne Hardin’s status as football coach still up in the air.

Capts. William S. Buskell, athletic director, said after the meeting of the academy’s Athletic Board of Control that deliberations on Hardin’s contract are incomplete.

Beer Will Be Sold At Oberlin College

OBERLIN, O. (AP) — Beer will soon be available in the rathskeller of Oberlin College — no far from where the Women’s Christian Temperance Union was started in 1874.

It will be the first time in the 132-year history of the school that beer has ever been allowed on campus, let alone sold there. No alcoholic beverage is sold anywhere in town.

Faculty members yesterday approved the sale of 3.2 beer. In the nineteenth century, the school banned such “strong and unnecessary drinks” as tea and coffee.

U.N. Policy Detractors Support Congolese Rebels, U.S. Says

By Max Herrelen

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The United States declared Monday that many of the countries criticizing U.S. Congo policy are openly engaged in supplying military aid to the Congolese rebels.

The U.S. views were laid before the U.N. Security Council by Ambassador Joseph R. Stevenson, who deployed the inspection of “black racism” into the Congo debate and protested against what he called “irresponsible, insulting and repugnant language” used by some speakers.

Stevenson defended the U.S.

Belgian intervention on behalf of Americans and others held as hostages by the rebel government of Christopher Gbembe as a purely humanitarian operation. He noted that critics had failed to express any interest in the threats of Gbembe to kill the hostages.

“We have no apologies to make to any state appearing before this council,” Stevenson said. “We are proud of our part in saving human lives imperiled by the civil war in the Congo.”

The council was debating charges of aggression brought against the United States and Belgium by 22 countries, 18 of them African. Stevenson said that some of these countries and others as far away as Moscow and Peking were aiding the rebels in violation of U.N. resolutions.

Stevenson ticked off the names of Algeria, Ghana, Sudan, Red China, the Soviet Union, Congo-Brazzaville and Burundi specifically as countries openly supporting Gbembe. Almost all the African countries condemning military aid from sources outside Africa actually were receiving this type of aid, he said.

FORD MOTOR COMPANY BUILDS A TOUGH ONE

IT SWIMS

Ford Motor Company’s new military truck floats. Air-inflated seals and internal air pressure keep the body and mechanical components dry. Its water speed is 2.5 mph.

IT CLIMBS STEPS

Climbing over a 27-inch high step or negotiating a 60% grade when fully loaded is no problem for this Ford vehicle. Proof that it can go over rough cross-country terrain.

IN FACT, THE ARMY’S NEW TRUCK GOES ALMOST ANYWHERE

Early in 1963, Ford Motor Company received a contract from the U.S. Army to design and develop a 5-ton cargo truck for use in tactical military operations. Before the end of that year, the first test unit had been designed and built.

This new vehicle, called the XM656 cargo truck, was sent to the Aberdeen Proving Ground for 40,000 miles of testing — twice the required mileage. Acceptance of the vehicle was based on road conditions that might be found anywhere in the world: swamps, deserts, sand, hilly back country, highways. During the test, the truck carried a 10,000-lb. payload and, half the time, towed a 13,000-lb. load. Outstanding characteristics of the truck’s design are its flexibility, improved cross-country mobility, light weight, reduced need for maintenance and a multidisc power plant that will run on anything from diesel oil to gasoline.

This is only one of many exciting new developments at Ford Motor Company. From manufacturing to marketing, we are finding better ways to do things. Career opportunities at Ford Motor Company have never been better. Schedule an interview with our representative to find one just right for you.

GETTING AN ASSIST FROM DAUGHTER — Henry Schleuning, 50 years old, is a freshman at SIU. Seated is daughter Carol, his academic adviser. Looking on is another daughter, Gail, a sophomore. Schleuning quit a job near Chicago to follow his daughters to Southern and enter college.

Daughter is GS Adviser
Father of 2 Coeds at SIU
Enrolled Here as Freshman

An SIU coed who used to get help from her father in doing her high school homework, now is helping him with his college courses. This unusual arrangement involves Henry Schleuning, a 50-year-old freshman, who quit his job in Chicago and moved here to enter SIU in September, and his daughter Carol, a striking blonde who is working on her master's degree in English.

Schleuning, who had done engineering design work in Cook and Du Page Counties for 30 years, resigned his job with Chicago Aerial Industries at Barrington and followed two of his daughters to Southern. He plans to graduate in industrial education and become a teacher, but for about two years he will have to take the General Studies curriculum along with other freshmen and sophomores. And that's where one of his daughters comes into the picture.

Carol came to SIU in 1959 as a freshman, deciding to enroll here because she wanted to go south and because SIU suited her needs better than some other schools. She became a drum majorette with the SIU Saluki band in 1959 and was head twirler from 1960 to 1962. Then in 1963 sister Gail, now a sophomore, enrolled here.

Schleuning, who had been residing in the suburban area around Brookfield and Villa Park in Du Page County, talked things over with his wife, Renata, and they decided to follow the girls to SIU, where Henry could begin college as a freshman. He preregistered, then moved in September to Carbondale. To keep some money coming in, Mrs. Schleuning got a stenographic job in the Department of Elementary Education. A native of Dayton, Ohio, where he was graduated from Stivers High School in 1932, Schleuning said he always had wanted to go to college. "Now that the children are getting along well, I decided to make a try, and hope I can make it in four years," he said.

Southern in scoring as they emerged into the lead to stay. And 11 of them was truly the lull before the storm as far as the Iowans were concerned. President Morris said that the student body grows larger, and with the ban on student automobiles, the University had to assume a responsibility for adequate recreation facilities. For Iowa, center Craig Knepper was high man with 12 points. He was followed by forwards Jerry McCalley and Jim Vodesch with eight each. Both teams did some cold-shooting in the game as Southern made only 28 of 85 attempts for a percentage of 33 per cent. The fact that Iowa did some poor shooting should not obscure the fact that the Salukis played another fine defensive game. The Panthers' 48-point total was one of the lowest in years scored by an opponent. The stout defense also was credited by Southerns as they stole the ball, blocked shots or knocked down passes 20 times in the game.

assistant to the vice president for area services, said that the fee increase "would make possible sorely needed developments" in such facilities. But the University did not want to create a dollar barrier to higher education and wished to keep tuition as reasonable as possible. While the University in the hot second half. John Frazier pulled down 10 rebounds and Johnson put in 20 attempts from the field and Johnson was next with seven. Salukis and Ralph Johnson paced the game. The first half was close all the way as neither team could build up a margin of more than 10. The contest was tied four times before McNiel hit a free throw and a 20-foot jumper to put Southern in the lead to stay, 11-8, with six minutes gone, but the Salukis couldn't hit for any accuracy to get a comfortable lead over the stubborn Panthers. Sophomore Walt Frazier and Ralph Johnson paced the Salukis in the first half as Frazier pulled down 10 rebounds and Johnson put up eight points on three field goals and two free throws.

The Salukis looked like a totally different team when they came out for the start of the second half. The offensive punch which was noticeably missing in the first half came to life in the early moments of the second half as coach Jack Hartman's five built up a comfortable 52-28 lead after only seven minutes. Coach Hartman once again cleared the bench Saturday night as all 13 men who suited up saw action. And 11 of them entered the scoring column. McNiel and Ramsey led Southern in scoring as they each got 14 points. Ramsey got all but two of his points in the hot second half. Johnson and Dave Lee were tied for third place in the scoring with 10 points each; Frazier was next with seven.

Tankmen Top Evansville

SIU swimmers, winning nine of eleven events, easily swam past Evansville College Saturday.

The only events Southern did not win were the 200-yard individual and 400-yard freestyle relay.

The swims were conducted at the SIU Sports Center.

For the first time in recent SIU basketball history, the Salukis won't be playing in a holiday cage tournament this Christmas.

According to Coach Jack Hartman, Southern was considered for the annual Arizona State tourny, but the tour­ nestment opens this week and con­ flicts with SIU's final exam period.

The Salukis will return to action Jan. 6 when they meet Washington University of St. Louis in the SIU Arena.

SIU's harrowing defense continued to hold a spell over its basketball foes in the new Arena last Friday and Saturday.

For the third and fourth time this season, the defense­ minded Salukis held the opposition to less than 35 points in a ball game—the latest achievement a 72-53 decision over Tennessee Tech here Friday and a 67-48 win over the State College of Iowa the following night.

The Salukis, who have lost to Kansas State and Southwest Missouri, have held their opponents to an average of 68.1 points per game for the first six contests.

Southern's two sophomore starters—forward Walt Frasier and center Ralph Johnson—played superb basketball both offensively and de­ fensively last weekend.

Frazier, considered one of the best all-around basketball players ever at SIU, tallied a career and game high of 23 points against Tennessee Tech and followed with seven points and a game high of 14 rebounds against State College of Iowa.

Frazier of Atlanta, Ga., also led the team in rebounding against Tech with eight.

Johnson, a 6'7 native of Trenton, scored 10 points in each of the weekend games and pulled down a total of 17 rebounds.

Both players displayed a lot of talent and veteran poise and are being counted on to contribute much to the Saluki attack this season.

George McNeill, junior guard from St. Louis, continues to lead the Salukis in scoring after six games.
