Center Shows Arts, Crafts

Some 800 top-rated industrial education projects by Illinois high school students will be exhibited at the University of Illinois' 44th Annual Art Fair, opening Friday, May 15, and running through Saturday, May 16.

The projects are the top ones judged by a five-person panel of judges from five regional centers held earlier this spring.

The display categories will include crafts, metals, graphic arts, drafting, electrical and woods.

In addition to the regular projects, industrial firms will display some of their latest equipment.

An industrial firm will award the winner of the 1894-1895-1897 machinery metals projects and his instructor an expense allowance plus trips to New York's World's Fair.

The displays will be open to the public from 10 a.m. to 10 p.m. Friday and Saturday.

The show is free. Refreshments will be served at the Industrial Education banquet.

Chances of the campus will be available for interest.

2 Students Honored By Phi Beta Kappa

The Illinois Beta Association of Phi Beta Kappa will make identical awards to SUN's two top student scholars in liberal arts and sciences this year.

Edith Krappe, assistant professor of English and a spokesman for the group, said the awards will be given to Caryl Ann Klingberg Lyons and AIMIN. She said.

Further it was announced that the award would go to Ann Purr of the Illinois Beta Association of Phi Beta Kappa. The group's actions were announced to all students at the University of Illinois at Carbondale.

Additional information is available on the offices of the Director of Student Services.

Mrs. Lyons, an English major, completed her course work in December and has been teaching at Cahokia High School since. Mrs. Lyons, a sociology major, plans to work in Christian education.

6 Day Final Exam Period Set; Complete Schedule On Page 8

Six days of final examinations have been scheduled for June 5 through 10 at SUN.

The complete schedule is listed on the front page of today's Daily Egenian.

The final examination period extends on a Thursday and ends on Wednesday, June 9.

Examinations for one and two-credit hour courses will be given during the last regularly-scheduled class period prior to the formal final examination period, according to the announcement accompanying the schedule.

Three, four and five-credit hour courses will meet for finals in accordance with the schedule on Page 8.

A student who has more than three examinations in one day may petition his academic dean for permission to take an examination during the make-up period on the last day. A student who has two examinations scheduled at one time is requested to petition his dean for making up one.

The full general information on examinations is carried in the last page of the micrographographed schedule.

'Student Opens Tonight In Southern Playhouse

In 8 Performances Set Through May 23

William Shakespeare once again takes the campus spotlight as the Southern Playhouse honors the Elizabethan playwright's 400th anniversary with a presentation of "Richard III."

Eight full-length performances open at 8 o'clock tonight at the Southern Playhouse.

Dennis Ford and 20 SUN performers invited on a Caribbean tour of U.S. directors based this spring will portray the lead role of Richard, III.

Immel was director and organizer of the student presentation. "Richard III," also titled "The Devil's Son in Love," which was presented earlier this year.

"Richard III" is a quasi-historical account of the evil deeds of the ruthless monarch who ruled England in the 15th century. Many of the incidents have been exaggerated by Shakespeare's story, according to Mr. Bob Stenzel, an associate professor of theater.

The action-filled stage will feature not only full-scale battle scenes and sword-duels, but an actual stabbing of a victim in full view of the audience.

The commander in charge of the battle scenes is direction Chris Purr, acting dean of the School of Communications.

Assisting Moc will be Charles Zaremba, technical director; Darrell Fay, scene designer; and Mrs. Eilen Hardin, costume designer.

2,600 Sophomores To Take Five-Day Achievement Tests

The Testing Center will administer the Sophomore Testing Program May 19 through 23. The tests comprise an annual program that is required of all full-time sophomores.

It will involve 2,600 SUN sophomores.

The examination will be offered at nine different times during the week. Each sophomore should receive a letter indicating the time he has been scheduled to complete the test.

Any full-time sophomores who fail to receive a letter regarding the program should contact the Testing Center for assignment.

The program consists of a battery of achievement tests which cover the areas of literature, fine arts, history and social studies, mathematics and science. The tests are nationally standardized and enable the individual to compare his performance with a national group of sophomores.

This summer, each student will be sent the results of his performance. These results will assist the student in selecting courses and preparing for college, according to the school's office.

Mr. Purr, an English major, completed her course work in December and has been teaching at Cahokia High School since. Mrs. Purr, a sociology major, plans to work in Christian education.

"FLIGHT FROM ASHIA"

A production of the Illinois University Theatre.

We'd like to say some nice things about America's young adult drivers

And we think we've got good reason! Last January, we selected twenty 18- and 19-year-old young men and women through the Junior Achievement program to drive our team of Chevrolets in the Mobil Economy Run, April 3-5. It was the first time any ad of All-About-Sports students were entered on drivers with limited experience in this exciting competition.

We brought these young adults--most of them college students, some from the business world--to Arecida, California, in late February. For six weeks, our expert instructors trained them in the skills of economy driving.

Then, on April 2, they set off on the Run, 1,843 miles from Los Angeles to New York. We were going against the grain, it took high proficiency to win the Mobil Economy Run, Competition is tough. Why did we rely on drivers with such limited experience?

Chevrolet wanted to give the Chevy Teen Team a chance to prove in front of the nation that they and the 6.5 million licensed drivers in their age bracket are safe, sane people behind the wheel. To foil this, we offered a sponsored chase.

The Corvair, Chevy II, Chevelles and Chevrolets driven by the Chevy Teen Team in the Mobil Economy Run did remarkably well compared with the class winners in overall miles-per-gallon figures. The final results are a tribute to the high degree of driving skill displayed by the Chevy Teen Team representing the youth of America.

No wonder we're proud of America's young adult drivers. We couldn't have a better reason.

McNamara Says War Must Be Stepped Up

WASHINGTON -- Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara said Thursday the United States must expand its commitments in South Vietnam to meet a marked step-up in terrorist attacks by Communist guerrillas.

McNamara, who returned from Saigon Thursday morning, conferred at the White House with President Johnson and then held a news conference at which he said the United States may have to send additional uniformed personnel to South Vietnam. Flanked by Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, McNamara said American military and economic aid will be increased. And, he said, "It may be necessary to send additional U.S. personnel" on training missions.

McNamara said he would be meeting again with Johnson today and Saturday. The defense secretary said the Viet Cong guerrillas have "increased very substantially" their terrorist attacks on the rural populace in South Vietnam.

McNamara said it was "absolutely essential" that the anti-Communist government of South Vietnam counter these attacks.

Senate Leaders in Agreement On Amendments to Rights Bill

WASHINGTON -- Senate leaders now face the task of winning support for a group of compromise amendments aimed at cracking the long civil rights stalemate.

Key Republicans and Democratic senators agreed on the compromise package Wednesday at their sixth meeting with Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy.

The next step will be an effort by the leaders Tuesday to sell the proposed changes to their rank-and-file members at party caucuses. The big question is whether the amendments, which restrict the scope of the House bill, will make it possible to win over enough senators to invoke cloture and thus shut off the Southern oratory that has been blocking action on the bill.

Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois appears to have the tougher task since he conceded he must produce 25 of the 33 Republican votes if cloture is to be achieved.

Food Supplies Going to Cuba Are Restricted

WASHINGTON -- The Commerce Department has ordered a further decrease of food and medicines to Cuba. Under existing orders, these were the only two categories of goods which could be shipped to the Communist-dominated island without specific government permission.

The department now will require a specific license for the sale of goods and medicines as well as another item. The only exception will be gift packages.

"This is not an embargo," a department spokesman said. "We merely want to put these things under surveillance." Under the license requirement, a U.S. businessman who wants to sell goods to Cuba would have to formally request and obtain approval of the sale by the department.

The action follows a pattern similar to that taken a few weeks ago when the Cuban government sought to buy $2 million worth of lard from the United States and ship it through Canadian traders. At that time, the Commerce Department issued an order requiring specific authority to ship lard to Cuba.

The United States since October 1960 has banned exports to Cuba of all items except food and medicine.

Seminar to Feature

Latin Institute Head

"Academic Freedom in Latin America" will be dis­cussed by Albert Bork, direct­or of the Latin American Institute at SIU’s Sunday seminar.

Bork said his talk will indi­cate that the role of the stu­dent in Latin American coun­tries is different than that of his American counterparts. Below the border, university students are more involved in the political life of their country and their influence on government can readily be seen, Bork said.

The seminar will be held at 8:30 p.m. in Room D of the University Center. In other weekend fare for students, Cinema Classics will present a fantasy about a boy’s nightmare. The screening will be held at 8:30 p.m. in the Auditorium.

Editorial

Heavy-Handed Approach

One of the characters in the musical Camelot sings about how to handle a woman. He might have added that dealing with the college press also requires tact and patience. An incident on the campus of Oakland University in Michi­gan last week is a good example.

The campus newspaper was suspended by the administration in a dispute over whether to print results of a campus sex survey. Its editor was fired. All copies of an issue editorially critical of the suspension were destroyed.

Oakland officials apparently were dubious about the validity of the survey, if campus bull sessions are any criterion, they probably had reason to be skeptical. But how much did the heavy-handed approach accomplish? The press carried the story coast to coast. Townsmen no doubt remain more firmly convinced than ever that Terribly Things go on Out There At The University. After all the fuss, no one yet knows whether standards at Oakland differ from those on other campuses.

Replacing the original with a scientific survey would have accomplished more. Such a survey probably won’t show Oakland students to be much different from college­ans nationally, and its pub­lication would settle many rumors than it would raise.

Malaysian Observes Vocational Training

Chin Pin Seng, vice principal of the Technical Teachers' Training College of Kuala Lumpur, Malaysia, in visiting SIU while on a month-long tour of the United States, revealed that during his present position, he has been a lecturer on mathematics and sciences at the Malaysian Teachers College, and is past assistant controller of examinations in the Malaysian Ministry of Education. Along with his present job, Chin is also the senior education officer of the Ministry of Education.

His tour of the United States centers around his job at the Teachers Technical Training College, which is organized under the Ministry of Education. The college provides training for teachers in industrial arts and crafts, with a special emphasis on teaching the technical aspects of these subjects to secondary school students.
