Off-Campus Host Night Scheduled

(Twelve off-campus residence halls will be hosts at the third annual Host House Night at 8 o'clock Sunday.)

The idea of Host House Night, according to Mrs. Anita Kuo, supervisor of off-campus housing, was started three years ago to enable students in small houses to gather for an evening and share experiences and ideas.

"We want to instill a feeling of unity into the somewhat isolated student. "The evening is reserved for the meeting of these two groups in a mutual exchange of ideas," said Mrs. Kuo.

The 12 host houses are Logan Hall, 511 S. Logan; University City, Egypit dorm, 310 S. University; Washington Square Dorm, 701 S. Washington; Washington Jewel Box, 606 S. University; La Casa, 308 W. Cherry; 615 hundred Freeman Dorm, 400 W. Freeman; Wilson Manor, 708 W. Free­man; La Casa Manana, 504 W. Mill; Co-Ed's Corner, 800 S. Fruit. Elizabeth House, 505 W. Main, and Hamilton House, 506 N. Marion.

Council Rejects Poll Complaint

The Student Council voted Thursday night to take no action on a complaint that, because it was not held at the time specified by the student government constitution, this week's election shall be declared invalid.

A group of off-campus students had sought to have the Student Council vote for a Wednesday election because it was held too soon.

Bill Walton, spokesman for the group, said that according to the constitution, a study hall is to be held in the last two weeks before an election. He said that Wednesday, four days before the beginning of the third week of the month, made the election invalid, the student government constitution.

The Council however voted to accept report of Election Commissioner Raythis and to take no action on the allegation.

Ex-State Department Official

To Talk on Population Problem

Dr. Leona Baumgartner, former assistant secretary of states under the Truman Four Program of the State Department, and public health specialist with the International Conference on Population Problems Around the World, will be in Rooster 151 of Lawson Hall Thursday.

Dr. Baumgartner, a professor of preventive medicine at Cornell University, will speak here under the auspices of the Department of Geography.

She is currently helping to organize a White House conference on population problems which is scheduled for November in Washington.

A native of Chicago, Dr. Baumgartner received a B. and M.S. degrees from the University of Kansas, and graduate work as a Rockefeller research fellow at the Kaiser Wilhelm Institute in Munich, and received her Ph.D. and M.D. from Yale. Since then Dr. Baumgartner has served at various colleges and universities. She was with the New York City Health Department from 1947 to 1950, and was commissioner of health for New York City from 1956 to 1962.

In 1945, she was adviser on child health to the French ministry of health, and was adviser to the Indian minister of health in 1955. She was a member of the official exchange mission to the USSR in 1955, and a member of the National Advisory Council to the Peace Corps.

Dr. Baumgartner has been awarded the American Public Health Association's Albert Lasker Award, the nation's highest public health honor.

Tradition and Turmoil in Southeast Asia

To Be Discussed at Two-Day Conference

"A Close Look at Southeast Asia: Tradition and Turmoill," in the theme of a conference to be held tonight and Saturday in Morris Library Auditorium.

Featured speaker will be Bernard Fall, professor of political science at Howard University, Washington, D.C. Several local faculty members will also take part in the program.

Fall, an authority on Viet Nam, spent part of the summer in that country and will give his evaluation of the situation there.

A French citizen, he has attended the Lycees of Nice, and Cannes, Parisia University, Munich University and the University of Maryland, Germany. In 1952 he received the master of arts degree from Syracuse University.

He earned his doctorate from Syracuse University in 1955, after attending the School of Advanced Inter­national Studies, John Hopkins University.

He has held research and teaching positions in several countries.

Fall's other travels have included Indochina, Thailand, Malay, Laos, Cambodia and Australia.

His major address will be at 8 p.m. today, followed by question period and reception.

Voting Booth Right Disregarded

Students representing 26 off-campus living areas have signed a petition protesting the closing of the voting booth on Wednesday.

According to the petition, the students claim they were denied their rights to have polling places provided for their living areas. Specifically, the complaint originated from one area.

William K. Walton, resident counselor at University City Dormitory, 602 E. College St., and spokesman for the petition­ ing group, said his living area had contacted George J. Paluch, student body president, about securing an election booth.

Paluch said he would try to get a booth set up at the off-campus location, but was later notified by his election commissioner, Howard Benson, that he couldn't legally establish such a voting booth on campus, Walton said.

Paluch said he was advised that the group would have to appear before the Student Council and ask for the establishment of the booth. How­ ever, the off-campus group was not notified of this until the morning before the elec­tion.

At that time, it was too late to appear before the Council, and the off-campus group had no way to secure a ballot box.

The off-campus group is also complaining of dis­ arrangement of the conduct of the election. Among the complaints are:

The polling places were scheduled to be open at 9 a.m., however several were not. Approximately 50 off-campus students were trans­ ported to the polling booth in front of Old Main, only to find the booth unmanned according to Walton and Robert Loy, University City resident coun­ selor.

The booth was not opened until 9:40 a.m., according to

Gus Bode

The conference will be open to all students and faculty members.

The conference is sponsored by the International Relations Club and the Asian Studies Committee.

Moses Alpan, graduate student in government, is confer­ence chairman.

We're Cheering! Now What?

If there was one encouraging aspect to the football game (7–0) against Lincoln University last week, it was the support and loyalty of our students. Most of them through their presence at University Cup, before the Saluki offense rewarded them with a fourth-period touchdown.

Letters to the Editor

I write in response to T. V. Tischauer's letter of the Oct. 14, dated to "Dear Editor" of the Daily Egyptian, the rational news media would be provided with an opportunity of being right-wing plots. I had thought, until then, that I read that that attractive, "It is could would do surprise me. I believe that my narrator by Mr. Tischauer's venture into the land of nonsense and you're going to bait the fence rewarded them with a (DAILY EGYPTIAN) letter of the (Thurs.) does not have to go about casting aspersions in the dark, I would like to sur¬ render myself as that bumbler reporting who covered the meeting. I believe Mr. Tischauer's letter of the "teach-in" was reported as being pro-withdrawal from Viet Nam. He believed this to be a misquote born out of my ignorance of current affairs, and I think it is my ignorance of better judgment. He is on course, the season is relatively young, and there is one modest goal in the beginning. In the past, students have been blamed for showing in¬ difference at football games. But the increased vocal sup¬ port I have seen that says things that indicate that we do care about the game.

A good performance against Drake University Saturday bodes well for the students that the play are cared for.

Wild Ones' Contribute, Too

Your recent editorial justifying Carbondale's motorcycle tax omitted several considerations. You seemingly imply that cyclists are para¬ sites on Carbondale's economy, or at least contributing nothing. You correctly maintain that student cyclists contribute to traffic problems, but you fail to recognize that any amount of the cyclists' money finds its way into the halls of Carbondale.

Many pay exorbitant prices for Carbondale housing and food, many cycles are purchased at unreasonably high prices. Student pay gasoline and other taxes used by federal, state and local governments to build and maintain roads. Many students bat, on streets and traffic facili¬

Our 200-pound 'Juggernauts'

I believe that a protest is in order over the recent motorcycle tax resolution adopted by the Carbondale City Council. First, how was the $3.50 fee arrived at? Second, is this a justified action? I personal¬ dly don't think so. Motorcycles cause all the "wear and tear" on the streets and traffic facilities of Carbondale. This is a ridiculous claim—how can an automobile which weighs about 200 lbs. cause any appreciable wear on a well-maintained street or highway, when more, just what has been done for the use of the streets. State and local governments to build and maintain roads. Traffic control problems created by the motorists are in just poor shape now as when I came here five years ago. I ask the residential students for their money for this purpose riding bicycles in Carbondale—residents or not—pay the tax also? After all, they wouldn't want your fellows to think you a bit strange! But remember— whenever you turn your larynx you must try not to griff it. A wide open mouth with hand at the side is the preferred position. This enables everyone to hear the complete acoustical for¬

Firstly, it is important that only those with chronic bron¬

Of course, you might not try to conceal this glamous raps of yours, but that is no reason to forsake a good bed to attend the concert. Many students on this cam¬ tions ticket. Now it is generally known that most married students are not what's called "willing" which the University, therefore, make some provision for the married student to be allowed to purchase a term's athletic pass for his (or her) husband) at a nominal cost?

Carbondale will surely do for the use of the streets. Students feed parking meters—one bike per meter, of course! Yes, "Christmas comes in September." McCurdy, Neumann Join Department of Forestry

Two new faculty members have joined the SIU Department of Forestry this year.

W. D. McCurdy spent five years as a research forester in outdoor recreation at the U.S. Forest Service.

F. Philip Neumann came here from Duke University where he is completing work on his Ph.D. in forest ecology.

McCurdy, an assistant professor, is doing research and teaching in forest recreation and park management.

He earned his bachelor's and master's degrees in Grand's Opening

Delayed by Rain

Grand Avenue will be open between University Avenue and Campus Drive within the next month, John F. H. Lomerger, associate university architect, said. The grading and black-topping will take about three weeks if it does not rain, said W. Dalton, construction superintendent of general improvement, said. Cost is $9,000.

A light rain, Lomerger explained, holds up work for three to five days on filled ground. On ground that is not filled, rain stops work for one day. Most of the roads on campus, including Grand Avenue, are filled. Hills must be cut through, while low spots are filled in to balance out.

Wetness is more of a barrier to road construction than cold temperatures, Lomerger said. During the winter the surface crust may be frozen for 10-day spells, but this crust can usually be broken through.

Klimstra Speaks At Symposium

W. D. Klimstra, director of the SIU Cooperative Wildlife Research Laboratory, was among scientists taking part Monday in a symposium at Pennsylvania State University.

Subject of the meeting was reclamation of strip-mined land. Klimstra reported to the group on wildlife management on strip-mined areas, a problem which has been studied extensively at SIU.

Wildlife research and other studies relating to strip-mined land have been conducted primarily at the Pratts Stripland Research Area, a 520-acre tract of forested land near Pinckneyville given the University in 1954 by the Truss-Trap Coal Co.

Civil War Tactics Reborn in Viet Nam War

EDITOR'S NOTE—An innovation of warfare, the "Sky Cavalry," was put to use this week for the first time. It combines armed helicopters with light infantry, reported Reporter Bob Poos, an SIU journalism graduate, rode with it for two days in the Suai Ca Valley campaign.

By Bob Poos

AN KHE, South Viet Nam (AP)—A thunderous roar of rockets and a deafening cluster of machine guns left the thick smoke of war hanging over a pass into the Suai Ca Valley.

While the hills still echoed, squads of light infantry leaped from low-flying helicopters and fanned out. They met little opposition and what they did meet they shot away so heavier U.S. infantry could move in with relative safety.

Thus started the first cavalry charge of modern warfare this week. It was accomplished by the 1st Squadron, 9th Cavalry Division.

And although this idea of helicopter cavalry tactics is new to warfare, it has an antecedent.

Col. John D. Stockton, commander of the 1st Squadron, said before the attack: "This is something like the way Gen. Phillip Sheridan used cavalry during the Civil War.

"You range out, locate the enemy and fix his position so the heavier forces can fight him.

"The main three primary missions in this campaign: to secure landing zones for the heavy infantry, throw up a picket line on the exposed left flank; keep only the road open into the valley open."

The unit accomplished its objectives but not without losses. During the first day of the Suai Ca Valley campaign, eight 1st Cavalry Division helicopters were shot up. Five of them were from the 1st Squadron.

The cavalry's foot troopers suffered some wounded and no dead.

"You can't count on guns alone to destroy the enemy," said Stockton. The 1st of the 9th went in a couple of hours before the main U.S. assault got off the ground.

Its guns/ship helicopters armed with 12 rocket pads on each side, secured the landing zones with its 6- and 10-pound rocket warheads. The four machines of the 1st Squadron raked the area.

Then Stockton barked over his radio, "Okay boys, go on in. We've been having all the fun up to now."

The gunships soared and the troop carriers dropped down, discharging their loads.

With Stockton's ship in the lead, the cavalry unit started out on its other two missions. It performed them largely through "concealment fly," shooting along at 120 knots below the tree level and darting back and forth again, all to discourage the accuracy of enemy gun fire.

To one uninitiated to this, it becomes an exercise in sustained terror.

December Draft Call Scheduled for 45,224

WASHINGTON (AP)—The military draft continued to climb sharply as the armed services asked Thursday for 45,224 draftees in December—a new high for the year.

It is the biggest request to the Selective Service System since near the end of the Korean War, when 53,000 men were inducted in uniform in May 1953.

The rising calls are in line with President Johnson's decision to build up the armed forces to deal with the conflict in Southeast Asia and keep needed strength elsewhere.

The Services now project 7,700 U.S. forces by 340,000 men, bringing the total to about three million.

The Marines, who for the first time since the Korean War resorted to the draft in the quota set a month ago, asked for 5,024 men in December, that compares to a November quota of 4,000 draftees.

The Army's share of the December quota is 40,204, compared to a request of 28,400 in November.

The Navy, which asked for 4,000 men in November—the first such call since 1956—made no request for a December quota.

The Air Force continued to ask for no draftees, confident of meeting its manpower needs with enlistments.

The Army procurement objective for enlisted men with no prior military service in December is 47,900 of which it expects 7,700 to be voluntary recruits.

The Marines are counting on 3,400 volunteers to fill out their no-prior service procurement goal of 8,474.

Thursday's announced quotas bring the total of draftees since September 1950 to 3,343,324. Quotas fall as low as 3,300 men a month in a little more than a year ago.
Violence Feared
Large-Scale Demonstrations Planned Against Viet Policy
BERKELEY, Calif. (AP)—The Berkeley police department is deeply concerned about the possibility of violence during mass protest demonstrations today of American involvement in Viet Nam.

Berkeley, a key city in two days of planned demonstrations around the nation against U.S. action in the Southeast Asian country, is expected to produce more than 5,000 demonstrators.

Berkeley Police Chief Addison H. Fording said he expects trouble when the Viet Nam Day Committee leads a procession off the University of California campus for the Oakland Army Terminal, 7 1/2 miles away. Fording said:

"We have received reliable information today that certain disruptive groups are coming to this area to participate in or oppose the march and we are deeply concerned about the possibility of violence."

Both Berkeley and neighboring Oakland, through which the march would go, denied the committee's request for parade permits.

The demonstrations and parade are scheduled to start at 7:30 p.m. The committee plans a huge "sleepout" on a vacant lot near the Oakland Army Base, staging area for soldiers going to Viet Nam.

In Berkeley, a West Coast center of activist groups against U.S. foreign policy, about 600 combat-ready National Guardsmen were ordered to report for special duty to support police if necessary.

Johnston Cook Sends Deserts
WASHINGTON (AP)—President Johnson's frequent hospital dessert—his favorite tapioca pudding—is being supplied by his long-time family cook, Zephyr Wright.

Mrs. Wright has been send¬ing up the tapioca from the White House for the past two nights, it was learned today. The White House provided her recipe as follows:

3 cups of whole milk; 5 tablespoons of tapioca; 1 egg beaten.

Mix together and let stand five minutes. Then cook until "boils up" as Mrs. Wright terms it. Remove from stove immediately and let set until completely cold. Add one tablespoon sweetener, used instead of sugar for dieting President. 1/6 teaspoon salt, 3 beaten egg whites. Despite the diet, though, Mrs. Wright prefers to add 1/2 cup of powdered sugar, or less, to make the whites stand up.

Meeting to Discuss Problems In Aiding Low-Income Groups

The American Home Economics Association will sponsor an all-day conference Saturday in Davis Auditorium in the Wham Education Building.

"Working With Low Income Families" is the theme of the conference, Anna Carol Fults, chairman of the Department of Home Economics, will preside.

Miss Fults also is chairman of the anti-poverty committee of the School of Home Economics. At a conference held last March at the University of Chicago, she was delegated to set up the SIU conference for the people in Southern Illinois.

The program will begin with coffee and registration at 9 a.m. The keynote speaker for the morning session is Miss Doris Mersdorf of Chicago. Her subject will be "Understanding Socially and Economically Deprived Families."

At 10:30 a.m., there will be a panel discussion on Community Cooperation in Working with Low Income Families. William J. Wanstreet, superintendent of the Jacksonville County Department of Public Aid, will be the discussion leader. Panel members will include home economics teachers, home advisers, personnel of the Illinois Department of Public Aid, school administrators, guidance people, ministers and representatives of the legal profession.

Lunch will be served in Room B of the University Center at noon. During the lunch hour, small discussions groups will be formed.

At 1:30 p.m., the conference will resume in Davis Auditorium. The luncheon discussion leaders will make reports.

At 2:15 p.m., Gerald Osborne, regional director of the Office of Economic Opportunity, Carbondale, will lead a panel in "Role Playing of a Community Action Committee to Combat Poverty."

Miss Fults said anyone interested in community cooperation is welcome to attend. Registration and lunch will be $2 each.

Chemists to Have Dinner, Election and Lecture

The Council of the American Chemical Society will have a dinner for all members and friends at 6:30 p.m. today in the University Center Ballroom.

Following the dinner will be an election meeting at 8 p.m.

George R. Carpenter, associate professor in the Department of Family Living of the School of Home Economics, will go to Toronto, Canada on Wednesday to attend a four-day session of the National Council on Family Relations, in Room 204 Parkinson Laboratory.

A lecture entitled "Fundamentals of the Interpretation of Proton Spectra," which is the first of a series of lectures on nuclear magnetic resonance, will be given by Roy H. Bible.

The second lecture to be given by Bible will be entitled "First-order Spin Patterns, Coupling of Protons with other Nuclei, and Non-equivalence of Protons," and will be given at 9:30 a.m. Saturday in Room 204 Parkinson Laboratory.

Plans are now being made for the Nov. 3 meeting at which Marshall Meade, from the American Chemical Society headquarters in Washington, will be in Carbondale to make the official presentation of the new charter to the Southern Illinois Section of ACS.

Approval on the formation of the Southern Illinois Section was made at the national ACS meeting in Atlantic City last month.

Roger Beyler, chairman of the Department of Chemistry, said the organization is designed to serve a growing number of professional chemists in the region.

6 Students' Troubles Range From Alcohol, IDs to Rent

Two students have been placed on disciplinary probation through the winter quarter. Four others have received reprimands from the Student Affairs Office.

Lonald Pnucinski, 19, a junior from New Jersey, has been convicted on a charge of an illegal attempt to purchase beer and was ordered to pay a $15 fine and $5 in court costs in Jackson County Circuit Court.

Pnucinski tried to use another person's identification to purchase alcohol. He has been placed on disciplinary probation through winter quarter.

A 19-year-old junior from Dixon, Ill., has been placed on disciplinary probation through winter quarter for attempting to falsify his age. He presented a falsified set of identification cards at the Photo Service in an attempt to have his school ID show that he was over 21.

Two students from New York and a student from Florida were given letters of reprimand for removal of household articles from quarters they were renting.

The removal of articles came after a rent dispute.

The students were ordered by university officials to re­ turn the articles, and a compromise was reached in the rent dispute.

Donald Moss, a 18-year-old freshman from Chicago, has received a letter of reprimands after he was convicted in Jackson County Circuit Court on a charge of public intoxication.

Moss had to spend the night in county jail and pay a fine of $15 plus $5 court costs.

Freshman Fined On Liquor Charge

James暴力, a freshman from Palatine, has been fined $25 plus $5 costs in Jackson County Circuit Court on a charge of under­ age possession of alcohol. The charge of illegal transportation of liquor was dropped.

He was placed on disciplinary probation by the University and warned that any similar incidents will result in his suspension from the University.

Attempt to Buy Alcohol Brings Fine, Probation

Robert Varecha, 18, a sophomore from Evergreen Park, was placed on disciplinary probation through the fall quarter after being convicted in Jackson County Circuit Court on a charge of illegally attempting to pur­ chase alcoholic beverages.

Varecha was fined $25 and $5 in court costs by Judge Robert Schwartz.

Two Are on Probation in False ID Case

Ronald M. Lieberman and David Guemes have been placed on disciplinary probation through winter quarter on a charge of false identification.

Lieberman had borrowed Guemes' identification in an attempt to purchase alcoholic beverages, SIU officials said.

Off-Campus Students Charge Polling Booths Were Denied Them in Wednesday Election

the resident counselors, and most of the students had to leave for 10 o'clock classes by then.

Another complaint concerning the Old Main election booth was that there were no Action Party campaign posters on the iron fence five feet away from the polling place.

Paluch, who personally opened the Old Main booth, said that he did not know the posters were there, and when he was notified of it, the posters were torn down.

Loy also claims that there were Action Party literature on the table at the election booth in the University Center.

The off-campus group is also complaining that the officials at the ballot booths were not checking student fee statements to ascertain which candidates students should be voting for.

Walton, who ran against Paluch in the election, said that he personally observed one poll official, Raymond C. Linsl, not checking fee statements in the University Center. Walton said Paluch walked off without saying anything to the official.

Paluch, upon being questioned about the incident, said that on the contrary, Walton was present when he made the point to Linsl that he should check all fee statements.

In another incident, a University City resident, William Fogel, claims that when informed by the officials conducting an election booth that he was not from University City, he was told that he couldn't vote because the only office open for off-campus residents was that of off-campus organized women's senator.

Fogel left and went to another polling place where he was allowed to vote, according to the statement.

Protests of Election Prompt Study for Off-Campus Polls

Carbondale's Student Body President George Paluch, discussing protests of Wednesday's combined senator and homecoming election, said the Student Council will study election procedures and placement of polling booths.

"The Student Council exists to serve the student body. Now that we are aware that off-campus residents want polling places, we will try to get them for the next election," Walton said. Regarding the possibility that an off-campus group may attempt to have Wednesday's election voided, Paluch noted that normal procedure had not been received by Howard Benson, election commissioner, or by the Court.

Asked about charges that he favored the Action Party, Paluch said on the statement, Loy said that the voting booth at the corner of Harwood Avenue and U.S. 51 was still open at 5:10 p.m., 10 minutes later than the designated closing time.

There was no line at this time, and no reason why the booth should still have been open, according to Loy.

Robert J. Wens, former out­ of-town senator, who was helping Paluch collect the ballot boxes at 5 p.m., Wednesday, said that the poll officials, while waiting for the boxes to be picked up, kept the poll open to give late students a chance to vote.

Walton met with University officials Thursday to discuss the petitions.

Tom Thomsen wanted challenging work

T. R. Thomsen, B.S.M.E., University of Nebraska, '58, came to Western because for several reasons. Important to him was the fact that our young engineers play vital roles right from the start. Working on challenging projects in communications, electronic switching, thin film circuitry, present microwave systems and optical sensors. Western Electric's wide variety of challenging assignments appealed to Tom, as did the idea of advanced study through full-time graduate engineering training, numerous management courses and a company-paid Tuition Reimbursement Plan.

Tom knows, too, that with thousands of experienced engineers for supervisory positions recently next two years, and he's getting the said experience necessary to qualify. Right now, Tom is developing new and improved inspection and process control techniques to reduce manufacturing costs of telephone switching equipment. Tom is sure that Western Electric is the right place for him. What about you? If you set the highest standards for yourself, enjoy a challenge, and have the qualifications, we're looking for — we want to talk to you! Opportunities for fast-moving careers exist now for electrical, mechanical and industrial engineers, and also for physical science, liberal arts and business majors. For more detailed information, get your copy of the Western Electric Career Opportunities booklet from your Placement Officer. Shoes Are Losing Out to Boots
In Fight for Year's Fashion Lead

By Pam Gleaton
Boots, once relegated by fashion experts to small children and elderly ladies and gentlemen, are now very high fashion.
Wise ones in fashion centers all over the world are saying that boots are definitely "in."
So saying, they are putting their stamp of approval on a wide variety of footwear.
For example, some of the "boots" are little more than shoe-height, while others reach almost to the knee.
Here on the SIU campus, boots were worn mostly for cold, wet, wintry days last year. In fact, a fleece lining and heavy leg covering felt especially good.
About two years ago, when "warm" boots came into style, coeds clasped them to their hearts as a comfortable and practical way to keep out the cold and wet.
Now, however, the most stylish boots offer little more warmth than a pair of shoes. They fit the foot smoothly, thus limiting the amount of lining that can be used.
The most popular ones are between 10 and 12 inches high and strongly reflect the influence of Courreges, the French dress designer who made geometric clothes so popular.
The Courreges boots, made of soft white kid leather set on a low black heel, were especially designed to wear with the short Courreges skirts and dresses or with the stove-pipe leg Courreges black suit.
The boots have almost classic lines. A zipper up the back of the boots assures a smooth fit.
Another boot style to watch is a shorter, even more fitted cousin of the Courreges boot. It is designed for wear with the stove pipe or bell-bottom slacks that are now so popular.
Slacks boots are made in a wide variety of colors and types of leather. Ideally, they should match the slacks with which they are worn.
Two other "in" looks in boots may or may not become as popular at SIU as the Courreges and slacks boots.
One style is a heavy slick fur lace-up in different lengths. These look most suitable for wearing for après ski wear or for a polar expedition.
The other style is the ultra-Courreges look for evening. These boots strongly resemble his daytime designs, but usually have open toes and scallop cutouts around the top edge.
Among the things not to wear this year are boots with three-inch heels. They are not only out of style, but are also uncomfortable and impractical for campus wear, something that cannot be said about the new styles.

STATE ALLOTTED FUEL TAX
Illinois municipalities have been allotted $4,715,065 as their share of the motor fuel tax paid into the state treasury during September.
The University's share was $9,987.

SALTY BARTEL, a sophomore from Sandoval, believes hours should be completely abolished.
"If we are old enough and responsible enough to be in college," Miss Bartel said, "we are certainly capable of deciding when we should come in at night."

According to the housing and registrar offices of the 5,043 undergraduate women students, only 2,004 live in University housing.
Eva Poulos, a second-term freshman from Westchester, liked hours as they were this summer - 11 p.m. during the week, "It's less better that way. You can stay and study a little longer at the library and also have time to have a coke before you get back into the old rut of the dorm again."
"Longer hours out would cut down on the problem of the party line," was a new concept suggested by Shirley Roden, a senior from St. Louis. "As it is," said Miss Roden, "girls have to come in at 10:30 and there is a mad rush for the phone to talk to their guys again, There just isn't enough time to get everything said before that ridiculous hour."

One freshman girl, Barbara Smith from Westchester, is quite satisfied with hours as they are, "I'll have to admit the hours here are stricter than back home," she said, "but at least they give you an excuse to come in if you don't like your diet."

THE PARTY LINE PROBLEMS; COEDS DISAGREE ABOUT CURFEW
Women's hours at Washington University, St. Louis, are 12:30 a.m. on week nights and 2 a.m. on weekends. SIU's curfew for women living in University housing is 10:30 p.m. during the week and 1 a.m. on Fridays and Saturdays. It has been said by many students that SIU's "mother-instinct" is among the most powerful among American universities. For this reason hundreds of SIU women students quietly rejoiced last spring term when a rumor was circulated that women's hours were to be liberalized.

Perhaps the female residents rejoiced too quietly, for word never got to the "right people." Mrs. Loretta K. Ott, assistant dean of student affairs, said simply, "The response to the matter was not sufficient enough to warrant a change."

Are women students really dissatisfied with hours as they stand, or do they complain simply because it is expected of them to disagree with university rules? Apparently the former is true.

In fact some girls, like Legal Eagles Aid Lovebirds; Nest Lined by Ruling

About a year ago a couple left a rather special clock at the University Center check room and when they returned it was missing.

Although it was worth only $5, it had tremendous sentimental value because it had been given to them as an engagement present.

At first the couple was told that they would have to bear the loss since the University was not responsible for missing items at the check room.

However, after investigating the matter the SIU legal office found that the University was indeed responsible for the loss.
The University paid for the lost clock and the couple allowed that they could use the money to buy a wedding present because they had since been married.

.500 Season Hinges on Drake Game

Southern will try to keep its chances for a .500 season alive Saturday night when the Salukis play Drake University here.

The Salukis go into the clash with a 1-3 record, and inview of the games left on the schedule, a victory Saturday is a virtual must if the Salukis are to break even.

Of the five teams on the schedule after the Drake game, only one has a losing record. Wichita State with a 1-3 record is the lone opponent below the .500 mark. Salil State is unbeaten in four games while Northern Michigan is 6-1, Southeast Missouri State 4-2, and Tulsa 2-2. Tulsa's losses, however, have come at the hands of third-ranked Arkansas, 20-12, and Oklahoma State, 17-14.

Drake brings a 3-1 mark and a three-game winning streak into the contest. The Bulldogs have lost only once in nine games since bowing to Southern 25-19 last year.

LEWIS HINES

Throwing aside statistics, records and headlines, the game could be fairly evenly matched because of injuries.

Drake will be playing without the services of its leading rusher and possibly a starting tackle.

The Salukis also have been getting their share of beat backs, lineups, rage and whirlpool batters. Safety Jim Condell will definitely miss the game, and fullback Hill Williams and tackle Lewis Hines are questionable starters.

Condell suffered a broken collarbone in practice this week and will be out at least three or four weeks. Hines, one of the bulwarks of the defensive line, in an injurious ankle and, Williams, a badly bruised hip.

Eugene Richards will take Condell's place in the defensive secondary, and Coach Brigall will fill in for Hines at the defensive tackle spot.

If Williams is unable to play, Coach Don Shroyer will switch Money Ritter from linebacker to fullback.

Koufax Leads Dodgers to Series Victory

MINNEAPOLIS—St. PAUL (AP)—The Los Angeles Dodgers won the 1965 World Series Thursday when Sandy Koufax fired a 2-0, three-hit shutout at the Minnesota Twins in the seventh game before a record 50,596 fans at Metropolitan Stadium.

Coming back with only two days rest after his 2-0 victory Monday at Los Angeles, Koufax finally ended the streak of home park domination in this Series. Sandy ended the game with a strikeout flourish, victims for the last two outs.

Koufax, who had won and lost in previous duels with Jim Kaat, the Twins' left-hander ace, yielded a single to Zoilo Versalles in the third, a double to rookie Frank Quilici in the fifth, and a single to Harmon Killebrew in the ninth. Lou Johnson, a much-scoring Fairly, finished off Kaat in the fourth before a man was out.

Koufax escaped from his most serious jam in the fifth on a brilliant play by Jim Gilliam. Quilici's double to the left center screen and a walk to pinch hitter Rich Rolline on a 3-2 pitch that drew protests from Koufax gave the Twins their best shot of the sunny afternoon.

Versalles rapped a hot drive down the third base line that Gilliam gloved behind the bag and was able to scramble to third base in time to force Quilici. The big home-town crowd, which had cheered Koufax when he came to bat in the top of the ninth, whopped it up for the Twins in the last inning as Killebrew singled to left with one out.

But Earl Battey struck out on three blazers and Bob Allison was downswinging for the ninth time in the Series. The Dodgers converged around the mound, alighting Koufax on the back and Manager Walter Alston, who had chosen Sandy over a rested Don Drysdale for this final game, rushed out to pump the left had that won him another world championship.

"I didn't have the curve ball at all," said Sandy in the dressing room. "I couldn't get it over. I went with the fast ball."

"My fast ball was faster in the last three or four innings than it was at the start. I didn't think it would be that way. I thought I would be tired. But I was more tired the day we won the pennant by beating Milwaukee."

Koufax pitched a four-hitter that day in beating the Braves 2-1 on the next to last day of the season.

Drysdale was warming up in the bullpen through the early innings, especially when Sandy walked Tony Oliva and Killebrew in the first after retiring the first two batters. But big Don never was needed.

Koufax remained in control all the way, striking out six in the first three innings and then hitting his time for a blazing finish.

He retired 13 men in a row at one time, until Killebrew singled in the ninth. The Twins got only two men as far as second, and none reached third.

It was the third straight National League Series victory for the Dodgers, their eighth in their last 12.
