Recognize Peking, Douglas Urges

Says U.S. Can’t Pretend
Red China Doesn’t Exist

The United States, instead of fighting with Red China, should recognize her in the United States, William O. Douglas, associate justice of the U.S.
Supreme Court, told SIU audiences Thursday.

"We can’t continue pretending that Red China doesn’t exist," Douglas asserted.

Douglas spoke at the 10 a.m. and 1 p.m. Freeman Conversations in Shryock Auditine.

He acknowledged that his views of world problems were "difficult to define," especially the State Department.

He told the two packed rooms that Red China, unlike Russia, is not a mature country. Industrially she is a day where Russia was in 1941, and politically she promotes crass and instability wherever she can and continually urges violent, quick action against the average man, but to Douglas, who has traveled through Asia, the Far East, predicted that Red China’s population will reach one billion by 1980. He said that it is unlikely that she will be able to feed them all and, as a result, there will be a movement of people from Red China during our lifetime, Red China’s real problem, Douglas noted, is that she is unable to modernize fast enough to keep up with her population growth.

Nevertheless, he feels that newspapers and magazines have misled the public in retaining on conditions in Red China.

"Red China, contrary to press reports, is not as stared or as weak as you think," he said.

He cautioned that our State Department’s inability to understand Asian history could make the situation in Southeast Asia worse than it is.

"White armies in Asia will only solidify the Asian countries against the West," he warned.

It left alone, Douglas argued, Asian countries would develop into a sovereign independent of Red China.

He cited India to back up his point.

"India’s experiment in Democracy is working; you’d love it here," he added.

Sheru, Douglas said, was involved in a political rather than a violent approach to democracy. By remaining neutral, he was able to receive aid from both sides. That is the “best way,” he added.

The white-haired, ruddy jurist made these points about other areas of Southeast Asia:

"Nationalism" China’s dream of a million Chinese doctors could never be accomplished without the aid of U.S. men and women.

—Viet Nam should be unified

The justice didn’t wear a robe, or carry a gavel, and he wasn’t solemn.

Instead, he wore a blue suit with a flashy red tie and carried a packet of notes when he addressed the Freeman Concussions Thursday.

His facial color resembled that of Vice President Hubert Humphrey—pinker-red like a brand-new sunbonnet—but wrinkled like an old shoe.

In stature William O. Douglas, associate justice of the Supreme Court of the United States, is a little larger than the average man, but to shoulder his job, a person would have to be big.

Douglas states his opinions in a voice that has a definite resonance, but not an irritatning gravel quality. When he talks, he hesitates very few sentences to make sure of what he is going to say.

Then, he comes forth with an answer, much as if he would when making a court decision.

The justice is a widely known world traveler and outdoorman. He is interested in the conditions of the peoples in other countries.

When asked about all his varied activities such as mountain climbing and wading through drawn criticism from people because he is a Supreme Court justice, Douglas answered, "I pay the same taxes you do and I vote like you and I participate in things like any other citizen would."" There's no law that says I can't," he continued.

The only thing people say anything about his various activities is when members of the press ask him if people ever criticize him, he said.

Douglas, who thinks 90 percent of the members of the press are a closed mind, didn't stop long to talk to the Daily Egyptian reporter.
He did say however, as a parting comment, that he didn't have political aspirations and that he doesn’t enjoy making political arguments or situations.

He may not have any political ambitions, but he has been active enough to run a government by himself.

Douglas received his L.L.B. degree from Columbia University in 1925, and has received several honorary degrees.

He was appointed to the Supreme Court in 1939, and early in his career he missed the Press.

Training of Student Advisers
For Organizations Planned

A program to train student advisers to organizations on the SIU campus is planned by the Student Activities
Office.

The program would involve students who are currently officers of such organizations and whose terms are expiring this year, according to John L., Turner, graduate assistant in the Student Activities
Office.

The program is called "brand new." Its purpose is to provide a student counterpart of a faculty adviser, he explained.

Ideally, the prospective students to be present or vice president of an organization this year, Lad-
lam said the program would involve a group meeting several evenings this quarter for a discussion of the role of the adviser to an organization.

Any campus departmental club or organization, or groups with special interests, or organizations for special events such as Spring Festival or Homecoming, would be examples of groups for whom the program is intended, Ladlam said.

Applications are available at the information desk of the University Center and should be returned by April 28, Lad-
lam said.
Work Office Giving Summer Job Interviews

Summer job interviews for the Cooperative Work Program are being conducted at the Student Work Office now until May 1.

Juniors and seniors majoring in chemistry, sophomores and above interested in business and related fields, and those in engineering or mechanical design are urged by work office recruiters to come in for an interview and possible referral.

Currently, four companies have sent letters containing job information and requirements, intending to train students interested in alternating academic study each quarter with salaried experience in a related field. This is the primary purpose of the Student Work Program.

The companies are concerned with job location and type, and requirements are:

Montgomery Ward of Centralia and Murphy, wants juniors and above in business and allied fields to work as retail management trainees. A "C" average is required.

Shell Oil in Wood River, Ill., seeks chemistry majors for "strictly lab training work." A 4.0 minimum grade average is desired.

Alton Box Board Co. of Alton is interested in sophomores and upperclassmen for a career in the paper industry who can work effectively with people. The summer work is in the quality control of paper samples. They manufacture heavy equipment. At least a "C" average is desired.

Jim Handley, a 1964 graduate of SIU in marketing, is now employed full-time by Alton Box Board as their chief personnel man. He assumed duties there last July after a two-year apprenticeship in Alton.

Today's Weather

Generally fair and a little warmer. High 65 to 70. According to the SIU Climatology Laboratory, the record for this date was 87 set in 1924 and the low was 25 set in both 1928 and 1962.

FIRST TICKET—Mrs. Delyte W. Morris receives ticket to the style show luncheon, "Garden Fantasy," to be presented by the Associates of ROTC Ladies Club at Summer Session at 1 p.m. April 24 in the University Center Ballroom. Making presentation to the wife of the S.D. president are Mrs. Judy Smith (center), chairwoman of the ticket committee, and Mrs. Condrance Highsmith.

Receiving Dock For Library Set

Construction of a new receiving dock on the west side of Morris Library should begin sometime this month, Ferri S. Randall, head librarian of the Carbondale Campus, has said.

Randall said the new dock is necessary because the present dock, located on the east side of the building, is too small and is inaccessible to large trucks. Tractor trailer trucks are forbidden to drive down the sidewalk because a steam tunnel lies underneath it.

The west side of the library is a natural location for the new dock, Randall said, because trucks can drive right up to the building.

A portion of the west wall, north of the west doors, will be knocked out at basement level to accommodate the receiving dock, Randall added. Large shipments of books will be received at the new dock. Shipments for the textbook Service will also be received there.

Mail will be received at the old dock.

It will be dusty and noisy in the west end of the building when construction begins, Randall warned. "But," he added, "when it is completed it will be a big improvement."

Old Man River Keeps Rolling Toward Record Flood Crest

By The Associated Press

Thousands of weary flood volunteers battled swirling waters of the rampaging Mississippi River on Thursday as it neared a record crest.

Out of their banks more than a mile in Minnesota—now getting the brunt of the spring flooding—the muddy waters of the Mississippi, with tributary streams, engulfed sections of Wisconsin, Illinois, Iowa and North Dakota.

The raging floodwaters—with the worst yet to come—drove additional hundreds of families from their homes Thursday, swelling the thousands evacuated earlier.

Twelve deaths have been attributed to the floods thus far—in Minnesota and two in Wisconsin—and damage has been estimated at more than $20 million in Minnesota alone.

The Mississippi is expected to reach a crest of 37 feet, highest in history, at St. Paul on Saturday. This is 13 feet above flood stage.

The Weather Bureau reported the Mississippi was above flood level Thursday at all but two or three gauging stations from Aitkin, Minn., to Caruthersville, Mo.

The order was issued at the request of Henderson County authorities, who are concerned over the rapidly rising waters of the river.

June Start Sought On Rend Lake

BENTON, Ill. (AP) — Sponsors of Rend Lake said today they hope to see construction start in June on an intercity water system. The anticipated start would precede initial work on two subimportant dams.

But officials of the Rend Lake Conservancy District said work on a third dam for the water system must be preceded by meetings of area mayors to determine water rates to be charged participating communities.

The government approved a $12.3 million loan Tuesday for construction of a small dam on the Big Muddy River and a water treatment facility.

230 U.S. and Vietnamese Planes Devastate Viet Cong Stronghold in Largest Attack Yet

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) - The biggest U.S.-Vietnamese air raid of the war tore up a Viet Cong stronghold in jungles near the Cambodian frontier Thursday and walled the sky with smoke and flames. The Red headquarters area was reported left in ruins.

A flight of 230 planes joined in a dawn-to-dusk attack on a Communist zone of about seven square miles in Tay Ninh province, northwest of Saigon.

Half a dozen secondary explosions during the methodical bombing and strafing suggested the demolition of Viet Cong ammunition caches.

For the first time, U.S. Navy planes took part in a combined air operation. Shastri Asks End To Raids on North

NEW DELHI, India (AP) - Prime Minister Lal Bahadur Shastri said Thursday night the United States should stop bombing North Viet Nam during efforts to start negotiations on the crisis.

"The prospects of negotiation at this stage seem to be dim," he said in an exclusive interview with The Associated Press.

"I feel very strongly that the bombing should be stopped to help create an atmosphere for talks," he said.

Shastri noted that President Johnson had accepted the peace talks proposal of India and 16 other nonaligned countries. He added that Hanoi had imposed conditions.

In a sidelight, a Vietnamese firing squad executed a Viet Cong terrorist seized from the carriers Coral Sea and Midway, they teamed up with U.S. Army, Air Force and Marine aircraft and South Vietnamese fighter-bombers in a strike that a U.S. spokesman said seemed to be one of the more productive.

If you've been sitting tight waiting for just your kind of car, with just your kind of power, at just your kind of price—wait no longer!

Chevrolet. It's a bigger, more beautiful car this year. Which is why that handsome silhouette could be mistaken for costing a thousand—even two thousand—dollars more.

Chevelle. This one's got lively power, a softer ride—and remarkable room atop a highly maneuverable wheelbase. No wonder it's today's favorite mid-size car.

Chevy II. No car so trim has a price so moderate. But thrifty it is, with money-saving devices that adjust themselves and a long-lived exhaust system.

Corvair. Ask any '65 Corvair owner how it feels to drive a car with such easy steering, tenacious traction and responsive rear-engine power. And be ready to do lots of listening.

Freshman Gymnasts To Compete in Nashville

How good are Bill Meade's group of freshman gymnasts? Is it true that some of them could have broken into the lineup this season if they had been eligible?

These are a couple of questions that will be answered this weekend when the freshmen and the varsity team go to Nashville, Tenn., to participate in the United States Gymnastics Federation Open Meet. Although no team title will be up for grabs and the conference championship will already have been determined, the meet will be valuable for the many young gymnasts who make up the growing pool of talent at SIU. With the talented team of seniors working out all year, it will be a natural progression to see some of the younger members competing this weekend.

The meet will be divided into two classes, the all-around and the Class A group. The five women from Southern's national champion team, Donna Schaeffer, Gail Daley, Irene Haworth, Janis Dunham and Mary Ellen Toth will be entered in the elite group and the Class A group. Besides her two specialties, Miss Wills will work vaulting and free exercise.

Although no team title will be answered this weekend, some of the fresh- men will compete against bim in side exercise. Jack Hultz, rings, and long horse; Joe Poliziano, rings and parallel bars; Ron Hartley, parallel bars and Dale Hardt and Skip Ray, trampoline. Rick Tucker and Larry Lindauer will both work all-around along with acting coach, Rusty Mitchell.

Brian Hardt and Tom Seward, two varsity members who didn't compete much this year, will also be competing in this meet. Hardt will work trampoline and Seward will work rings.

Seek Individual Awards

Southern's Woman Gymnasts To Compete in Weekend Meet

Southern's women's gymnastics team will be going after some individual awards this weekend when they travel to Nashville, Tenn., to compete in the United States Gymnastics Federation Open Meet for Women.

The meet will be divided into two classes, the all-around and the Class A group. The five women from Southern's national champion team, Donna Schaeffer, Gail Daley, Irene Haworth, Janis Dunham and Mary Ellen Toth will be entered in the elite group and all will be working all-around. Judy Wills, currently a senior at University School and already the world's tumbling and trampoline champion, will also be entered in the elite group. Besides her two specialties, Miss Wills will work vaulting and free exercise.

Judy Dunham and Nancy Smith, two other seniors from University School, will also be entered in the elite group. Miss Dunham will be an all-around performer and Miss Smith will work her speciality, the trampoline.

Four other women, who are not as far along as the varsity girls will compete in the Class A group.

They are Sherry Kosek, Cynthia Vogler, Marilyn Tripp and Jean Stanley. All will work all-around. In addition to her all-around duties Miss Kosek will work vaulting and trampoline.

Young to Re-Enact Loomis' Test of Wireless in 1866

The balcony originally occupied by SIU in the ground-breaking ceremonies for the new 17-story dorm in University Park is now in use by Otto B. Young, director of Atomic and Nuclear Research at SIU, as he tries to duplicate an experiment performed by Mahlon Loomis in 1866.

According to Young, the demonstration is designed to verify the results of Loomis and will help to give Loomis the rightful recognition as the discoverer of wireless communication.

Young is trying to perform this demonstration in the next few days. Winds forced a postponement recently.

Salukis' Chances Good in Kansas Relays

Its do or die and one little misstep and - you're through at Lawrence, Kan., this afternoon, where SIU's talented track squad opens competition in the 40th annual Kansas Relays.

The best of the 'national' track and field stars are on the northeastern Kansas city of 32,000 for the second leg of Midland's grand circuit. The first stop was the Texas Relays April 2 and 3, and the final leg will be at the Drake Relays next weekend.

Randy Matson, the Texas A. & M. strongman, who set a record in the shot put last week at the Texas Relays April 2 and 3, leads a star-studded SIU squad.

Coach Lew Harzog's sprint medley quartet of Gary Carr, Jerry Hendrich, Robin Coventry and Bill Cornell was rated the early week favorite in the race which consists of two 220's, a 440 and an 880.

But as race time draws in, the picture has changed as SIU anchor man Bill Cornell is still suffering the after affects of a sore throat and isn't expected to be at his peak.

With the two-time All-American in razor-sharp form at the Texas Relays, SIU came from behind to win in a record setting 3:19.4.

But the rest of the field was right on the Salukis' heels and the same is expected to be true afternoon, providing Cornell is able to go. The race time at 2:30 with Nebraska, Oklahoma, Baylor, Abilene Christian and Missouri along with the Salukis scheduled to go to the blocks.

The Salukis are really hard to say. Just what the Salukis can be is really hard to say, because they haven't had a good performance for the year.

All three have run the events, they've had some misfortune, dropped baton, injury, etc. But the team's ability still remains a question mark although it did win the event at the Florida Relays.

SIU will also have entries in the open 400-meter hurdles, the high jump, the triple jump, and the javelin. Herb Walker will be competing in the hurdles at 3:45 today with Tom Ashman going in the high jump, Jerry Cotton in the triple jump, and Joe Beachell in the javelin Saturday.

Breeding to Compete

Crab Orchard Kennel Club to Hold Dog Show Here Saturday

The Crab Orchard Kennel Club will sponsor competition among 624 entries of 74 breeds of dogs beginning at 9 a.m. Saturday in the Arena. A total of $1,000 will be given in prizes for superior animals. All of the entries will compete for titles in their individual breeds and an award will be given for the "Best in the Show." President DeLyle W. Morris will present this award.

Student Collides With Police Car

A Security Police car, driven by Sgt. Amos H. Cottonton of the SIU Security Police, collided with a car driven by Nelson W. Harrison, a student from Shanwick, at 4 p.m. Wednesday. Harrison, who was driving on North Thompson Street, told police his vision was blocked by a line of cars on Mill Street. He said he pulled into the traffic after someone signaled that the road was clear.

Recognize Peking, Douglas Suggests

(Continued from Page 1) and that Ho Chi Minh wants a neutral nation, not one dominated by Red China. Indonesia "presents staggering problems to the United States because it has the third largest Communist party in the world." Douglas said one way to stem the spread of Communism in the area is to develop a common market, led by Japan. A common market would raise the standard of living, he argued, and perhaps lead to industrialization. Arms from the outside won't save Asia, Douglas declared. If it is to be saved, "Asians will have to save it themselves," he said.
