Holiday Agenda Goes Into Effect on Saturday

SIU will begin its Christmas vacation schedule the end of this week, with most buildings and offices remaining open on a limited basis to take care of the few dozen students remaining during the break.

Most students remaining here over the vacation will help with the between-terms clean-up and maintenance. Others, primarily from foreign countries, will be returning to their halls at noon, Jan. 3.

Students remaining here may apply for housing at Thompson Point before Saturday. There will be no charge.

Meals will not be provided at the area.

The University Center will be open part time over the vacation to give students a place to eat and entertain themselves. The entire building will be closed on Sunday, on Dec. 25, 26 and 27, and on Jan. 1 and 2.

The Roman Room cafeteria will be open from 7 a.m. until 3:30 p.m. On Dec. 21, 22 and 23 a portion of the dining room will be open from 9 a.m. until 3:30 p.m. It will be closed Dec. 24, on Dec. 28, 29 and 30 it will be open from 7 a.m. until 6:45 p.m. It will be closed Dec. 31. On Jan. 1 it will be open from 7 a.m. until 2 p.m. and from 4 to 7 p.m.

The University Center will be open Dec. 25, 26, 27, 28, 29 and 30 and on those days mentioned circulation service will be offered.

During the experimental period, after 5 p.m., only the library's south doors will be open.

Hams during which University offices will be open have not been announced.

How the World Almost Missed ‘The Night Before Christmas’

By Ric Cox

A Sunday school teacher once asked if someone in the class would volunteer to recite the Christmas story. Thereupon a young lad stood up and began to recite:

"Twas the night before Christmas, when all through the house,
Not a creature was stirring, not even a mouse.

"Thanks to the persistent efforts of the Church, we have yet to go so far as to adopt the poem as the official Christmas story, but, as the above incident shows, the poem has been most influential in shaping the concept of Christmas in the minds of children.

"Yet this poetic sacrilege, if we can call it that, can hardly be blamed on its author. For Clement Clarke Moore was reluctant even to accept credit for his poem.

"The December, 1827, issue of The N.Y. Evening Post says that Moore had written the poem in 1822 as a Christmas present for his children and was offended by the appearance of derision, for in 1822 it was unheard of that a dissertation on Greek and Hebrew should be found in a schoolboy's composition.

"In the following year, he sent the poem to the Troy Sentinel, a local newspaper.

"The poem was printed, without the author's name, in the poem in print, as he had not intended it for the public.

"This reluctance can probably be attributed to his fear of ridicule, for in 1822 it was quite unheard of that a distinguished professor of Greek and Hebrew should be found in a schoolboy's composition.

"Though his devotion was to a study of the classics, Moore employed his leisure in writing verse, not for profit or publication, but to "lighten his severer labors and amuse his children and friends."

"It was with this purpose in mind that Moore, sitting before his fireplace on Christmas Eve of 1822, penned the words of the now-famous poem.

"When he read the poem to his children the next day, they were delighted. But even more delighted was the daughter of a Troy, N.Y., bishop, who was visiting the family.

"She was so struck by the poem that she took it home to her pigeonhole where Moore had thrown it and copied it in her album. In the fall of the next year, she sent the verse to the Troy Sentinel, a local newspaper.

"The poem was printed, without the author's name, in the Dec. 23 issue. From the newspaper it found its way to the

"The reason Rao wanted to visit the SIU campus was to see the book publishing program, which is focused on publishing in the Telugu language.

"Rao has been touring the United States since last September on a special grant from the State Department to study book publishing and distribution in the country.

"Rao's firm publishes mostly textbooks for high schools and colleges.

"Books are published in three languages. Because of the number of different tongues spoken in India, English is the common language used for the printed page.

"There is a growing need for the rapid distribution of books in India, he said. The population is primarily rural in southern India and this makes it hard for the people readily to purchase reading material.

"India is ranked as one of the five top nations in book publishing, but is far behind in book sales, Rao said.

"One new method Rao's company has started to use in book publishing is the Home Library Plan, which makes it easier for people in rural areas to purchase reading material.

"Rao's state of Telugu has a population of 35 million with a literacy rate of 23 per cent.

"The Franklin Book Publishing Program, Agency for International Development, is the only book publishing program in the nation to observe publishing techniques.

Who Lit Fire For Santa?

Over the river and to the woods, to grandmother's house we go.

Ker-splash. The ice too thin and all hands got wet for the rest of the trip through the woods. Lost the horse and sleigh, too. Please buy a car, daddy, like the rest of the people.

'Twas the night before Christmas and all through the house.

Nobody was stirring. They'd all beat it south for Christmas to soak up some sun in the Bahamas.

Jingle bell, jingle bells...

Somebody turn off those blasted bells. They're driving me crazy.

When on the roof there arose such a clatter.

Get those clumsy reindeer off my roof. Use the patio if you insist in breaking into my house.

Silent night, holy night.

Get back to bed, you brats; Santa ain't here yet.

'Tis the season to be jolly.

This is the bank calling. Your checking account is overdrawn and you'd better get down here with the gelt.

Boy, it's sure easy to spot your heap in the parking lot, Richy, with all those Dodge Coronets around it.

You really know how to hurt a guy!

Johnson Transfers VTI Property to SIU

The Vocational Technical Institute campus near Carterville has been transferred officially from the federal government to Southern Illinois University by an authorization from President Lyndon B. Johnson.

The 138 acres, which once was the site of the Illinois Ordnance plant, has been leased by the university until now. Now that SIU has acquired the property it will be able to start construction of permanent buildings. A $2 million permanent building item was included in the $36.4 million capital improvements budget request for 1965-67 approved by the SIU Board of Trustees last Saturday.

Got a second? Lend an ear. Dodge's all new, hot new Coronet 500 has got an awful lot going for it (besides your girl). For instance: buckets and backup lights, full carpeting and a console, spinners and a padded dash—all standard equipment. More? Much! Like an engine lineup that would make any car squeal for joy: 273, 318, 361, 383 or 426 cubic inches. Like a lean and hungry look. And like a low, low price tag—Coronet costs less than any full-size Dodge in years. We can't hope to make you a believer with an ad, so we'd like to extend an invitation—come and see the 1965 Coronet 500 at your nearest Dodge dealer's. Bring your girl along... it makes for a cheap date.
WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress, if it wants to, probably can block the Pentagon's plans to merge the Army Reserve into the National Guard, a defense official has conceded. He called it a knotty legal question.

Load protests from Congress, especially members of the Armed Services Committee, have been aimed mainly at Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara announcing his plan without first asking formal permission of Congress. Objection to the details may come as the details become known.

These points emerged from comments by defense officials:

— The reorganization will be a slow process. The list of units to be retained won't be ready before February. Takeover by the Guard of Reserve units should be accomplished in a year. The goal is to complete the revolutionary reshuffle of citizen soldiers in 16 months.

— The eight high-priority Guard divisions will be reorganized so that a state that now has three brigades of a division might have just one. The other two would be assigned to other states.

— Youths who are required to be in the Reserve after serving on active duty would no longer be required to drill weekly with a unit. If they choose not to join a Guard unit they would go into a pool but still subject to being called up. They could be required to take two weeks of summer active duty training as unit fillers.

This would apply to those who enter the six months active-duty Reserve program, those drafted for two years and those who enlist for three years. Each program has a six-year total military obligation.

Among the unanswered questions was what will happen to the college ROTC training program which over the years has produced officers for the reserves.

Labor Unions, Steel Firms Begin Talks

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Labor contract negotiations vital to the nation's economy have opened between the United Steelworkers Union and the basic steel industry.

The formal start bargaining came Tuesday after an exchange of statements in which both sides criticized the other.

A total of some 300 unions and management representatives were participating in the U.S. Steel negotiations alone.

Both sides agreed to start bargaining in advance of Jan. 1 when the USW formally plans to reopen the contract.

The significance of the Jan. 1 date is that some 250,000 members in basic steel would be free to strike 120 days later—May 1—if no agreement is reached.

The initial talks were concerned primarily with local plant problems such as grievance procedures, production work by shop foremen, and the farming out of production jobs.

President Johnson has expressed the hope that a settlement can be achieved which would not prompt the industry to hike prices and get off possible price spirals in other industries.

Sen. Kennedy Leaves Hospital

BOSTON (AP) — It's out of the hospital and home with his family for Christmas for Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., who is planning to walk outdoors today for the first time in six months.

Kennedy is leaving the New England Baptist Hospital to fly today to Palm Beach, Fla., with his wife, Joan, and their two children, Kara, 5, and Edward Jr., 3.

He is to leave the hospital exactly 180 days after the airplane crash in Southampton last June 19 in which his back was broken. So were three ribs and he suffered cuts, bruises and internal injuries.

Doctors say he is all healed now, though he will have to wear a back brace for a while.

Kennedy has been practicing for that trip the last couple of weeks after he was moved out of an orthopedic treatment bed in which he had been strapped to his hospital bed.

There were a few tentative steps in his hospital room, short walks on an adjoining corridor a week ago to greet, surprise, his father, former Ambassador Joseph P. Kennedy when he emerged from an elevator for a visit.

Saluki Gymnasts to Compete In East-West Championships

SIU gymnasts, with their dual meet victory streak momentarily rearing its head at 20, will be contending in the East-West Championships Dec. 29-30 at Taos, Ariz.

Although the team's championship won't be at stake in this meet, individual honors will be up for grabs. The Saluki gymnasts completely dominated last year's meet, winning five of the seven events.

Bill Wolf was the big man for the Salukis. He captured all-around honors as well as first on the parallel and high bars and second on the rings.

A little-known sophomore and an incomparable freshman also made their appearance felt at the meet.

Brett Williams was the sophomore, and he took first in the tumbling event. The freshman, Frank Schmitz, captured first place on the trampoline.

Schmitz has already proven his value to coach Bill Meade's gymnasts this year. He was instrumental in the Salukis' victory over the University of Denver last weekend.

In that meet Schmitz finished first in both the free exercise and the trampoline and took second in the long horse. William william has been used sparingly by Meade this year because of a knee injury. He has looked impressive on the trampoline, something hitherto tried in the Denver meet. Meade hopes to use him in the free exercise in this meet.

Meade will use Mike Boegel on the bars again, and Jim Cook on the rings. Schmitz will return to defend his trampoline championship and will also work the free exercise and the long horse. Larry Lindauer will be Meade's all-around performer.

Since this is an open meet, two-thirds of Meade's freshmen along with assistant coach Rusty Mitchell will perform in the meet. Dennis will work the rings, and Larry Kusmarch will perform on the bars. Hardie will be competing against Schmitz on the trampoline.

Impressive Newcomers

Cagers Head Home
With 4-2 Record

Southern's basketball team can head home for the holidays this week feeling confident about their play in the first six games of the season. Last weekend's visiting over Tennessee Tech and State College of Iowa gave the Salukis a 4-2 record.

This is quite an improvement over last year's trip which had a record of 0-4 going in the Christmas break. And if the two games we lost could have ended with seven minutes to go, the Salukis would be undefeated. Southwestern Missouri and Kansas State came back to win on rallies.

The Salukis have been very impressive in winning all four games at home, and have out-classed the opponents in almost all respects. Probably the biggest win was the victory over highly-ranked Oklahoma State 78-55. In this one the Salukis broke through the Cowboys' defense and beat them at their own game.

Good depth and fine play have been partially responsible for Southern's success so far this year. Coach Jack Harriman has been able to go to his bench for help when he needed it. In fact, three of the players who had been used as reserves earlier have now moved up in starting berths.

One of them is forward Walt Fraizer. The 6-5 sophomore won a starting assignment in the Kansas State game and came through by leading the Salukis with 17 points and 17 rebounds. His highest scoring game so far was Friday night against Tennessee Tech when he scored 23 points and led the team with eight rebounds. He is now the third leading scorer with 68 points, and is tied with another new starter, Ralph Johnson, for the team lead in rebounds with 46.

Johnson moved into the starting five last week when center Boyd O'Neal came down with the flu. The 6-7 sophomore has become one of the favorites with the fans for his hustle. His play last weekend when he scored 20 points and pulled down 17 rebounds gives him a good shot at future starting spots.

The other new starter last week is Bill Lacy. The six-foot guard, transferred here from St. Louis U., has come through as the fourth leading scorer with 42 points.

George McNeill is still the leading scorer for the season with 63 points for an average of 10.5 per game. The 6-3 junior has made 35 of 71 field goal attempts and has been even hotter at the foul line with 23 free throws in 27 tries.

He is followed in scoring by Joe Ramsey who retained his spot as the second highest scorer. The 6-5 senior from Sandoval has 72 points so far, and is being pressed hard for second highest spot by Frazier who now has 68 points.

Saluki Frosh Team Downed By Paducah in Close Game

Southern's freshman basketball team lost its season opener 63-59 to Paducah Junior College cagers Friday night.

It was a close one all the way as the Indians held onto a slim lead to take the victory. Paducah led 51-29 at the half, and could never build up enough of a margin to feel comfortable. The victory was the third in four games for the Indians who had the advantage of three previous games' experience over the Saluki yearlings.

Larry Underwood paced Southern's scorers with 14 points. The 6-2 guard from Murphyboro was followed by Bobby Jackson, another guard, who had 13 points. The pair also tied for the lead in rebounds with nine each.

Forward Jay Wescott of Belleville came in third in scoring as he hit for 10 points. Bob Vannerson of Paducah was high man for the game with 17 points. He was also followed in scoring for the Indians by Eugene Jones with 12 points. The frosh will be out for revenge this weekend when they travel to play in the Paducah Tournament on Saturday.
