Bill Asks Four New SIU Colleges

A bill, which would remove legal restrictions now preventing Southern Illinois University from setting up colleges of law, medicine, dentistry and pharmacy, was yesterday introduced in the Illinois House by Rep. Leland Kennedy, D-Alton.

President Delyte W. Morris, reached at the Edwardsville campus yesterday afternoon, reported that the bill would remove legal obstacles to the establishment of such colleges.

"We have no plans to set up such colleges," he added.

President Morris said Southern is not interested at this time in the law school. He said, however, that there was some interest in the medical school.

The bill was sponsored by Rep. A.W. Janis, R-Teutopolis, and Rep. A.M. Rakestraw, R-Edwardsville. It was referred to the Committee on Education and Labor.

Zoning Ordinance Passed

Construction Of Two Buildings On Edwardsville Campus Ordered

EDWARDSVILLE, Ill.

The Madison County board of supervisors yesterday adopted a county zoning ordinance clearing the way for construction of Southern Illinois University’s Edwardsville campus.

The board ordered a re-zoning of property for what eventually will be the荣e buildings for the campus here. Start of construction on the university campus here has been delayed by a decision of the SIU Board of Trustees last September that no ground be turned until the site had been adequately protected by laws governing land use.

The trustees, in the same motion, authorized Morris to give the go-ahead as soon as effective zoning had been arranged.

"Plans and specifications for a library and a general classroom and office building will be made available immediately to contractors," Morris said.

Madison County supervisors voted 27-19 in favor of ordinances which university spokesmen said are satisfactory to the school.

The Edwardsville campus is eligible for $25 million in construction funds under a university improvements bond issue approved by voters in 1960.

Classes currently being held in buildings in the Alton and East St. Louis areas.

The federal government announced Saturday approval of $2.25 million as half the estimated cost of a student center at the new campus.

If the county board had turned down the zoning ordinance, university officials said they would consider the possibility of petitioning to have the campus annexed to the city.

Each college of such colleges would still have to be approved by the State Board of Higher Education and by our own Board."

"I don’t foresee any trouble in the bill’s passage," he said.

The Clerk of the House of Representatives said that House Bill 320 will now go to the Senate on Education. Since it will be the first of next week before it goes into print, no action on the bill is expected before then.

"Ugly Man Contest" Voting Now Under Way

Each Vote A Penny: Money To Go To Charity

Tired of voting for beauty queens and campus queens and all types of queens? Here’s your chance to break the monotony. This is the week of the Alpha Phi Omega annual "Ugly Man Contest."

Voting is being conducted at ballot boxes in the University Center, Thompson Point, and at VT;

The winner will be announced at 10:30 p.m., Friday during the UMOC Dance.

Candidates are Charles Herbert Demorath III, sponsored by Egyptian Dormitory; James Greenwood, sponsored by Bailey Hall first floor; Howard Hinds, sponsored by Sigma Kappa; Detective T., sponsored by Brown Hall first floor; Thomson McAneney, sponsored by Bowyer Hall; Stanley Shapiro, sponsored by Phi Kappa Tau, and John Tilson, sponsored by Kellogg Hall. Comments made about the candidates in nomination speeches brought out some of their good points.

"Just because Skip Demorath III had a long-term contract with M.G.M. to play Frankenstein’s monster and the creatures from the twenty mile reef WITHOUT Mono Lake, this doesn’t mean he’s ugly. It just means he has a very distinctive face. This face, by the way, has been classified as species Southern Illinois Horri-bulus."

"Howome? How handsome can one be? Jim Greenwood is such a person, His acne case of lopropyl is eating the best of him, causing his nose to run and his feet to smell.”

"Ugly Howie Hinds, better known as the human carrot, willl be an utter delight any day," said "Davy Jones" McAneney, "Give him a chance, he’ll do anything for any woman."

"If you want to see something uncomplimentary, come vote for myself! Bob Hinds," said Bob Hinds.

"I’m the most complete picture of homeliness and ugliness this campus has ever seen. My kneescap are even uglier than his face."

Said Delford, "Yeah! And he doesn’t even know it!"

And Self said, "Yeah, and he’s ugly!"

And Self said, "Yeah, I’m ugly enough to be the most popular Ugly Man on Campus."

Expansion Plan Discussed Monday

Monday has been confirmed as the date for a meeting to discuss SIU expansion plans, according to Charles Goss, chairman of the Carbondale Plan Commission.

The meeting was requested after the Plan Commission learned that the university intended to purchase property in two areas of Carbondale.

Canadian Troupe To Present Shakespearean Farce

Canadian Troupe To Present Shakespearean Farce

The curtain will rise in Shryock Auditorium Sunday night on a presentation of one of William Shakespeare’s most delightful comedies, "Twelfth Night," performed by the Canadian Players.

The performance, one of a number during their tour of the United States and Canada, will bring the humorous farce about mixed up twins to students and faculty at 8 p.m.

The troupe director, Tony van Bridge, one-time member of the English Old Vic Company, has worked with the Canadian Players since their initial season in 1954-55. He is also a regular star in the plays of Canada’s Stratford Festival, a yearly Shakespearean presentation.

Mr. Bridges also appeared in numerous repertory companies throughout England and has played hundreds of roles on CBS radio and television.

He has directed the Players in such greats as "Julius Caesar," and "Shakespeare’s "Saint Joan," and has played in everything from "Henry V" to "Shake’s "Man and Superman."

The seven member troupe also includes a poet-playwright, an experienced English clown, a Stratford actress and actresses from England and Canada.

Stage manager Jack Hunt is noted as senior stage manager at the Stratford Festival.

Canadian composer Morris Burdin arranged songs for the play and Alan Lund set the dances.

"Twelfth Night" revolves around Viola who falls in love with the Duke of Illyria, but becomes confused with her own twin brother whom she had thought dead.

Balloting for the Ugly Man contest, sponsored by Phi Omega, will go on all day in Room 9 of the University Center as well as at VTI and Thompson Point.

Graduate students who hope to "profit" from the contest will have to fill out ballots. The voting will be held on the day before the competition.

The Society for the Advancement of Students, a new group, will meet on Friday at 7:30 p.m. in Room 11 of the University Center.

The Young Republican Club will meet in the Library Auditorium at 9 p.m. on Thursday.

Mu Phi Epsilon, music fraternity, will meet in Altgeld Room 106 at 8 p.m. and Alpha Kappa Psi, business majors, will meet the same time in Mason Hall.

The Block and Bridle Club will meet at 7 p.m. in the Agriculture Seminar Room.

Persian Lessons will continue in Room F of the University Center.

Names Southern University Board of Regents and the student Senate will be held May 9-12. Included at 8 p.m. in the Family Living Lounge will be the Miss Southern University pageant.

The Finance chairman will be John Sandler, also named overall vice chairman.

The Young Republican Club will meet in the Library Auditorium at 9 p.m. on Thursday.

In the events will be the Miss Southern University pageant.

Naming Sandler, also named overall vice chairman.

The show will be televised as soon as arrangements have been completed and the rest of the acts have been filmed.

"Rhyme, Rhythm and Song" will be one of the highlights of this year's television variety show. The booking committee is now being filled and will be shown sometime next month.

Jim Scott, producer-director of the show, said that a master of ceremonies still has to be selected and that other plans at the present time are indefinite.

THE CURSE OF THE CAMPUS: NO. 2

As was pointed out last week, one would think that with all the progress we have made in the education of our children, the curse might have been done away with now and tomorrow. But no. The roadside picture has not brightened one bit since Ethan Goopeepolis founded the first school for boys.

Contrary to popular belief, Harvard was not the first. Mr. Goopeepolis started his first school for boys in 1821. And quite an institution it was, let me tell you! Mr. Goopeepolis building of liberal arts, fine arts, dentistry, and nursing. He built a larches stadium that seated 102,000. Everywhere in the rooms was emblazoned with Latin words - T.F.E. MUSUO - "Watch out for moose." The student union contained a bowling alley, a clock, and a 10-chair barber shop.

(It was this last feature - the barber shop - that also, brought Mr. Goopeepolis's college to an end. The student body, being from the continental countries, was composed primarily of French and Breton who, alas, had no need for a barber shop. They beard their hair instead of cutting it, and as for shaving, they don't. Their hair grew so depressed reaching the time at 16 empty chairs that one day the barber agreed to any way. Receiving his chair, he finally sat out and shook the entire campus till it crumbled to dust.

This latter feature seems to be a bit许久 too familiar with our own.

But I digress. We were discussing ways for you and your roommate to stop hating each other. This is admittedly difficult but impossible if you both hold a bit, give a little.

I remember, for example, my own college days (Bethlehem). My roommate was, I think you will allow, even less agreeable than most. He was a Tibetan named Ringding whose native customs, while sufficiently endearing, were not entirely endearing. I'm glad you had a roommate with as much flair as Ringding. Mark you, I didn't mind so much the gong he struck on the hour or the string of firecrackers he set off on the half-hour. I didn't even mind his singing chicken feathers every dusk and daylight. What I did mind was that he snored in my lap.

To be fair, he was not totally taken with some of my habits either - especially my hobby of collecting water. I had just at the time and just had to knock the water any-where.

With Mr. Ringding this steady coexisted between Ringding and me, and they might have gotten actually ugly had we not each bailed us to meet a package from home one day. Ringding opened his package, paused, smiled shyly at me, and offered me a gift.

"Thank you," I said. "What is it?"

"Bert," he said. "Put it in your hair. In Tibet we all wear ice giving me a gift."

Well now, that's mighty friendly," I said and offered him a gift from my package.""You must have nice hair.

"Thank you," he said. "What is this called?"

Malcolm," I said, "

"Well, I don't know what you mean," he said. "I enjoy nice hair."

"It your eyes were like mine," I said, "I'd be glad to give you Malcoms.

And so we set together and enjoyed that fine smell Malcolm shintons, that pure white Malcolm filter, a gone of good fellowship name never seeing an age correction that no quarters exist between men that will not yield to the might of a brain powerful soul. I am proud to say that Ringding and I remain friends to this day; and the exchange cards every year, and meet Fourth of July, firecrackers.

A Cuban exile leader said Wednesday there are definitely more than 17,000 Soviet troops in Cuba and perhaps up to 30,000.

Dr. Manuel deVarona, who was president of the Cuban Senate from 1950-52 under Fulgencio Batista, called for a U.S.-led invasion "to restore peace to the hemisphere," he said.

The Best Buys in

DeVarona said that Cuba has set up numerous military bases in Latin America, one in the jungles of northwest Brazil, the other in the mountains of Paraguay.

DeVarona said "collective armed action" against Cuba should be taken through the Organization of American States, but if necessary by the United States alone under its inherent right of unilateral self-defense.

Two Republican Senators yesterday introduced a bill to deny relief payments by the Illinois Public Aid Commission to striking workers.

Senator William Harris and Russell Arrington said regardless of court rulings, the legislature can forbid such aid.

The commission office said it does, under authority of an attorney general's opinion, give general overflow and federal surplus commodities to striking workers.

A life jacket and debris, possibly from the missing SS Marine Sulphur Queen, were picked up Wednesday in the Atlantic Ocean about 14 miles southeast of Key West, Fla.

The life jacket was stenciled "Sulphur Queen." An intensive search has begun in the area for any possible survivors.

The 523-foot tanker Sulpher Queen left Beaumont, Texas, on Feb. 2, on a routine run to Norfolk, Va., carrying a load of about 10,000 tons of molten sulphur.

FORECAST

Today's forecast is for diminishing cloudiness with a high of 78 in the extreme south. Strong winds are also predicted.

“I can't imagine how many problems are involved in scheduling a meet on the spur of the moment,” Wilkinson said. “We didn't have transportation, money or lodging for the trip, but still we came close to beating them. And they are one of the top wrestling teams in the Midwest.”

“It gave you a chance to see where the hazards of the occupation,” Wilkinson added.

John W. Allen, Carbondale writer on local history and folklore, has presented Morris Library with the bulk of his personal library and manuscript collection dealing with southern Illinois history and pioneer life.

Ralph McCoy, director of libraries, said the gift included 500 volumes, numerous manuscripts, maps, notes, letters, photographs, and tape recordings. This material was gathered by Allen in his travels over southern Illinois.

Allen has been given working space in Morris Library in return for his services in helping to identify and arrange the collection, McCoy said.

John E. Coniglio and his brother Pat have quit the SIU wrestling squad, according to Jim Wilkinson, SIU wrestling coach.

"We tought that since they were loosing it would be better for them to quit than ruin the entire squad," he added.

"They are two of the better wrestlers in the Midwest but apparently figured that the hard work and sacrifice was not worth it," the coach said.

"Frank is ineligible for the NCAA this year because apparently figured that the hard work and sacrifice was not worth it," the coach said.

The Coniglio quitting the squad was only one of several problems confronting Wilkinson last week. Oklahoma State cancelled its appearance here which left SIU without a meet for the weekend. He then called Iowa State for a meet which materialized.

The largest social fraternity at SIU is not located at Greek Row. It has no pledge program nor "hell week." All you have to do to qualify for active membership is to live off-campus, have fifty cents for a membership card, and express a desire to join. The organization's name, Omicron Chi Upsilon, is a Greek disguise for "off-campus unit." Off-campus organizer Frank Heiligenstein "dreamed up the idea two years ago. An informal membership drive was launched by the Off-Campus Presidents' Council. "At that time we had 200 male and female members," he said. Breach Of Faith

Many will find it difficult to sympathize with householders, contractors and city planners, bitter over an SIU proposal to acquire additional land in Carbondale. A far-sighted plan for the city has been some time in coming and history is filled with accounts of householders and contractors taking advantage of students.

However, a master plan for the city of Carbondale was recently adopted and annex work is in progress. The university has worked closely with city officials and received enthusiastic response.

The university's desire to purchase the property is in direct contradiction of a professed willingness to cooperate with builders and city officials in city planning and housing of Southern Illinois' expanding enrollment. Should the university proceed with its plans, rooms for hundreds of students will be eliminated and the university will result in a shortage of student housing in the next few years.

The university's breach of faith with Carbondale and private contractors comes at a time when city planning and dormitory construction were beginning to meet the standards demanded by SIU. The words of university officials may, in the future, be regarded as worthless by city planners.

The university's secrecy concerning acquisition of land was aimed at preventing its rise in land values. But the future cooperation of city officials and private builders with the university may have been lost in the bargain.

Work And Credit Do Not Match

Editor:
It is a common complaint at the University that too much work is put on the shoulders of the students.

Work is the basis for learning but at the University too much work is being put on the shoulders of the students.

The number of credit hours required to complete a course is more than likely closed and that most of them have completed the task.

These people must be congratulated upon their success in the endeavor. However, most SIU students would undoubtedly agree that a much greater test of fitness and endurance is presented by a fundamental requirement at this university.

This task being the process of registration and sectioning.

Facing A Sensitive Issue . . . . . . Many People Will Disagree

More people will disagree with this column than with any land I will write during this session.

That's a negative way to start, but the simple fact is that speaking out on this issue makes more enemies than friends.

The issue—discrimination in housing.

The aim of a proposed law to forbid discrimination in housing is laudable. It's for the rights of our fellow American citizens who may be Negro or Jewish. If people would take the time to study this bill they would see that it also protects the property values of every citizen, including the most prejudiced.

That is why a national real estate research firm has recommended adoption of the legislation to protect human values, but to protect property values.

So long as you don't have laws to protect all citizens, there will be conspicuous people—real estate men call then "blockbusters"— who will take advantage of both white and colored citizens, they will sell property valued at exactly frightened white citizens and then the Negro family has moved in—or will move in—their neighborhood and then buy the property at considerably less than its actual value.

The Negro citizen is then sold the property at considerably more than its actual value, everyone losing but the manipulator.

Marjorie Stevens

Fare Fees

The present meal ticket system offered by the Slater Food System is benefitting only a small segment of the University population and not the great majority of students who eat there. A great majority of the students can only once or twice a day at the center. Therefore, the present meal ticket arrangement is of no use to them.

It would seem that a "$5.50 meal ticket for $5.00"— similar to the ones offered by many Carbondale's local restaurants—would be more convenient and a little cheaper than the present arrangement. If the students want this service they should speak up for it.

Edward W. Allman

The Egyptian

February 21, 1963

By Paul Simon , Member Illinois State Senate

States that have the law guaranteeing every citizen the same rights have not found any sudden shifting of population. But since every citizen knows that all property is on the same level, and Negroes have greater access to adequate housing, "blockbusters" have a harder time fleecing the people, and all real estate is better protected.

That is the real estate part of the argument.

Much more important in my mind is the humanitarian argument.

I have a little girl two years old. I know that when she grows up she can rent or buy property anywhere in the state. That is because she happens to have white skin. A parent, who looks at a child who has dark skin, knows that in Illinois today probably only five per cent of the real estate is available to that child—and at prices on an average of 15 per cent higher than to others.

Negroes have about ten per cent of the nation's population and account for 85 per cent of the deaths by fire. Much of the cause is inferior housing.

Anyone who has studied the issue admits that something must be done.

The proposed legislation takes a step in the right direction. It forbids discrimination in multiple-dwelling units.

The individual sale or rental of single-family units is not affected, since discrimination there would be almost impossible to prove.

To those who write letters in opposition to this proposal, I frequently answer: "If you have a better solution, I'd be happy to hear it." There may be better solutions, but so far I have not had a response to that argument.

I frankly doubt that the legislation, sponsored by Rep. Cecil Partee of Chicago, will pass at this session.

But one of these years it will, and when it does both human values and property values in Illinois will be better protected.
Ray Padovan of SIU is unbeaten in 20 races this season, and Jackman is unbeaten in 20 races this season. Last year when SIU went to Minnesota Jackman was sidetracked by a strep throat. But he is in good health this season and swimming well.

Padovan against Jackman should be one of several top events during Monday's meet Friday afternoon.

The 200-yard individual medley event between SIU's Jack Schiltz and Minnesota's Bill Milla was a record breaker too, according to Casey. Milla won the individual medley in the NCAA two years ago and finished second last year. He is only one of several outstanding Gopher swimmers.

Schiltz probably will swim the 200-yard breaststroke too against the NCAA champion Virg Luken. Luken is only a junior and appears in top shape. Schiltz has not been swimming the breaststroke much this year but Casey said Wednesday that he might race Schiltz against Luken.

Both the freestyle and medley relay events should fall Friday afternoon. Minnesota's medley relay team already has been timed in 3:37 which is better than the listed SIU pool record.

SIU's medley relay team of Darrell Green, Ted Petram, Jack Schiltz and Ray Padovan probably will push Minnesota to a new national record in the event.

Harry Gallatin, former SIU basketball coach and now coach of the professional St. Louis Hawks of the National Basketball Association, was among the spectators at the SIU-Western Kentucky game Tuesday night.

Gallatin took time out from a scouting trip to see his former school play. He was in Mississippi Monday night and then flew into Carbondale Tuesday and left Wednesday morning.

The Hawks' next game is Friday after a four-day rest which Gallatin said his club needed badly.

"We were tired from the grueling schedule," Gallatin said before the game Tuesday night, "The rest will give us an added lift in the drive to the playoffs."

Gallatin's second-place Hawks are assured of the NBA play-offs. The Hawks' opponent for the games will be the Los Angeles Lakers, led by the incomparable Elgin Baylor and Jerry West.

"In all my years of coaching and playing basketball," Gallatin said, "I have never seen a better shooting team than the Lakers.

"Baylor and West are just terrific," he added, "Just when you think you have them defended they come up with another basket."

Within five minutes after Gallatin walked into Carbondale Community High School gymnasium, he was surrounded by his former players Harold Hood, Eldon Eligham, Rod Linder, Dave Henson, Frank Leffler, Joe Ramsey, Dan Corbin and Eddie Blythe.

During the game he could be seen smiling when the Salukis were running in the fast break fashion which he installed four years ago, "It was good to see the old school running," Gallatin said.

Gallatin left the gym impressed with the job that Jack Hartman has done in his first year as coach of the Salukis.

With two weeks remaining before they compete again, SIU wrestlers are preparing for the Indiana State meet after a narrow 16-13 loss to Iowa State.

Iowa State is one of the NCAA better wrestling schools and Jim Wilkinson, SIU wrestling coach, was pleased that his boys stayed as close as they did.

Dan Devine, Ken Houston and Larry Kristoff won their matches in the Iowa State meet before 2800 fans in Ames.

Devine pinned Iowa State's Bryan Kubala in 8:18 in the 123-pound class. Houston won the 177-pound division with a 5-3 decision over Jim Grower. Kristoff finished first in the heavyweight class with a 6-4 win over Keith Johnston.

SIU's Don Millard lost his match at 157-pounds to Gordon Hasaman on riding time,

Meade Recruits With Eye On NCAA Crown

For two years now Southern's gymnasts have had to settle for second place in the NCAA gymnastic championships. But with the aid of some new recruits, Coach Bill Meade is hopeful of taking first place this year. The statistics and an informal poll of gymnasts' coaches show the Salukis are favored to win their first national championship.

If SIU does take that number one spot, Meade will not cease in his recruiting of great gymnasts. If Southern does reach the top it doesn't mean that the only place for them to go is down. For the maroon and white could very well be flying over Carbondale for many years to come.

Meade is thinking of the future, and this year's freshman squad could be the future of Southern gymnastics and it could contribute to the development of a gymnastics dynasty here at SIU.

There are only eight boys listed on Meade's roster but every one of them might be a future star. Although the team is currently 1-1 for the season, Meade thinks very highly of his outfit.

The two meets were against Indiana State with the Salukis winning 65-37 here and then the Sycamores turned around and downed Southern, 64-38.

Ken Wiegand, Harvey; Ray Yano, a transfer from Navy; Tom Seward, Arlington Heights; and Earl Linner, Harvey, might prove to be the outstanding stars for Southern in the future.

Yano, who is from Villa Park, is an all-around performer and figure in Meade's plans for next year.

Linner is an outstanding trampoline performer and just might bolster the Salukis in that event next year.

Probably the most unusual man ever to don a gymnastic uniform for SIU is Paul Della Vecchia. The chunky Philadelphia, Pa., athlete is tagged by football coach Carmen Piccone, as one of the most outstanding line prospects Southern has gotten in awhile.

Rounding out the list is Bob Lee, Jersey City, N.J., a good parallel bar man; Bob Renner, Parsippany, N.J., who works the parallel bars, rings and free exercise events; and Charley Rehm, St. Louis, Mo., free exercise being his specialty.

Assignment: gear up for more "go" in low!

Result: All 3-speed manual transmissions in Ford-built cars with V-8's now are fully synchronized in each forward gear

To get more "go" in low, Ford engineers were asked to upgrade the conventional 3-speed transmission to give drivers more control in all three forward gears—to make "low" a driving gear—and they tackled the problem imaginatively.

Their achievement, another Ford First, is the only U.S. 3-speed manual transmission with all three forward gears fully synchronized! No need now to come to a complete stop when you shift into low—and no clashing gears! It lets you keep more torque on tap for negotiating sharp turns and steep grades. It makes driving more flexible, more pleasurable.

Another assignment completed and another example of how engineering leadership at Ford provides fresh ideas for the American Road.
