To build or not to build? That's the question. SIU students will be asked to help decide the issue next week, when they vote for or against a proposed recommendation to increase student fees to provide a new Student Health Service Clinic and Co-Recreation Building. A referendum vote is scheduled to be conducted by the Student Senate next Wednesday, Jan. 26.

Counsel representatives David Davis and Ken Bobowick, who are in charge of the campus balloting, are aiming to have at the polls, "We're hoping for a large representation,"

Increase Here Is 12 Per Cent

SIU Registration Is 18,247 for Winter Term; 12,707 Enrolled on Carbondale Campus

SIU student enrollment totals 18,247 this term, a registration office spokesman said today. This is an increase of 1,873 students above last winter's total.

Most of this student population boom has taken place on the Carbondale campus, Loren Young, assistant supervisor at the registration office, said today.

About 954 more students are in school on the Carbondale campus this winter than last year. Total registration last year was 16,374 for the winter quarter. The new enrollment shows an 11.4 per cent increase.

Usually the enrollment drops after the fall term but now an enrollment leveling policy put into effect two years ago provides Illinois residents, who are in the lower third of their high school graduating class, an extra $51 for the beginning of the fall term to 5,540 this quarter.

The Carbondale campus Know-University Display to Open

The annual "Know Your University" exhibit is scheduled to be on display in the University Center Ballroom Sunday, Jan. 26. There will be a total of 51 displays.

The exhibit is to acquaint the University complex with the duties and responsibilities of the many units of Southern Illinois and their relationships and interactions with each other.

The exhibit in 1964 has been expanded for three days instead of two. Last year, more than 3,500 people attended and viewed the exhibits on display.

Joe Taylor Elected President Of Inter-Fraternity Council

Joe Taylor, vice president of Theta Xi social fraternity, was recently elected president of the Inter-Fraternity Council.

Taylor, a junior from Carbondale, was formerly Theta Xi representative to the council. He has been active in campus and fraternity affairs for the past year.

His main objective during the term in office is to "build a better relationship between the independents and the Greek system."

One of members elected were Sherman Horring, public relations chairman; Dave Weltes, recording secretary; Doug Hollar, treasurer; and Byron Taylor was the fraternities' choice for Greek Week co-chairman.

MSU Campus Fence Greased To Foil Walkers' Shortcut

Grease is being used to head off pedestrian intrusions at Michigan State University at East Lansing.

"It's being applied to a low fence which proved to be but a minor hurdle to students hurrying off to class via one of their favorite shortcuts," MSU's State News reported.

They seem to be concerned over foot traffic caused by trucks. Their first solution was a fence about four feet high. The safety device was ignored last term as consistently as the trucks had been. The fence was cut down or climbed over numerous times, obviously detesting its purpose," MSU's State News reported.

"This term the food store managers have again attempted to prevent accidents by greasing the fence with grease," the Spartans were informed.

"Cat hands, ripped or grease-covered clothing may identify students who persist in ignoring a safety device."

SIU Rifle Team Places 3rd of 29
In Match by Mail

The SIU Air Force ROTC rifle team has won third place in a show-by-mail match with 29 universities throughout the country.

Each seven man team shot the targets at its home university and sent them to Ohio State University for compilation of the scores.

The winning team was East Tennessee State University with 1,540 points; second was the University of Georgia with 1,336, and Southern had 1,327.

Taking first and sixth for individual shooting were Charles V. Green, Det. Capt. Jon D. O'Donnell of Southern. They completed with more than 200 marksmen, and will receive medals.

Crime Center Will Study Penitentiary

A team of criminal corrections experts are conducting a job study of personnel at the Missouri Penitentiary, Jefferson City.

Myrl N. Alexander, director of the SIU Crime, Delinquency and Corrections, said he and other members of the center staff were asked to make the study by Missouri Gov. John Mahone.

He said the team will personnel division training and utilization at the prison. Among other things, the study will examine whether the guard force is properly organized and whether work classifications are adequate.

The study is being made under a reciprocal agreement between the Missouri prison and the SIU center. Students and penal officials from other states have been under a U.S. Agency for International Development program frequently with deferential duty as part of their training.

The SIU portion is the product of a request from a Missouri legislative commission for additional information on operation of the prison. The commission is headed by Rep. Peter J.J. Rabbit of St. Louis County.

Crime center staff members making the study, in addition to Alexander, will include Assistant Director Benedick Frank, Robert J. Brooks and Buck Blum.

WASHINGTON -- President Johnson forecast Monday a speed-up of prosperity in 1964, propelled by tax reduction and cutting at last into the stubbornly high-unemployment rate.

National output will total a stunning $623 billion to break all records for sustained growth, the President told Congress in his annual economic message.

But Congress can shatter the glowing picture, he said, if the lawmakers fail to enact the $11-billion tax cut—"not in one or two or three months, but now," and, "not in diluted, but in strengthened form."

"Without the tax cut, our sights would have to be set $10 to $15 billion lower—and dashed expectations could turn expansion into recession," Johnson said.

He hailed an inflationary storm signal as well, the first from the White House in five years of nearly stable living costs. Recent price boosts underline costs. Recent price boosts underscore continuing, Walter W. Heller. The council's report, sent to Congress along with Johnson's message, said industries having sharp-productivity gains should pass part of the benefits on to consumers. A hint that the auto industry is prosperous enough to cut some prices was dropped by the chairman of the President's Council of Economic Advisers, Walter W. Heller. The council's report, sent to Congress along with Johnson's message, said industries having sharp-productivity gains should pass part of the benefits on to consumers.

To calm congressional fears of a ballooning deficit if tax rates are cut, the President promised that his budget message Tuesday will combine "efficiency with expansion, frugality with compassion."

The last phrase was a slap at what is known as the quality stabilization bill, pending in Congress. It would let manufacturers set minimum retail prices for their products.

Ohio Democratic Convention
Stymied on Glenn Senate Race

COLUMBUS, Ohio—Ohio's Glenn, Jr., first Democratic primary-prim­ary convention in nearly 44 years, began Monday with scores of candidates filing nominating petitions for state and district offices. Two of the top contenders of the GOP-governor's nomina­tion -- Secretary of State Charles F. Carpenter and Charles Percy of Kenilworth, proposed their petitions in person.

The list of candidates was reduced from recent years because no petitions were submitted by Illinois House candidates. The legislature is in the process of trying to work out plans for bypassing the primary and nominating state representatives by party conventions for the all-large election in November.

LONDON -- Troops in Tan­ganyika mutinied twice Monday.

The British destroyer sped to the former East African colony as the situation appeared to be growing worse.

Demanding more pay and better living conditions, several hundred troops seized their British officers at a barracks five miles north of the capital of Dar es Salaam.

Then they roared into Dar es Salaam in trucks brandishing automatic weapons, captured vital installations and for a time were said to have held moderate President Julius Nyerere.

Twelve hours later, Nyerere, who was on the radio, announced that he had intervened and the mutiny was over. Commonwealth Secretary Duncan Sandys arose in the House of Commons in London and said the troopers had broken out once more and may have taken control of the capital's airport. In the situation again deteriorating, Sandys said the destroyer Rhyll with a com­pany of British riflemen had been ordered in and was now offshore to protect the 5,000 British nationals in Tangany­ika.

The former British colony of Zanzibar, only 22 miles off the coast of Tanganyika, was taken over Jan. 12 by leftist-inclined African nationalists.

Gus Bode...
It was a quiet morning as the breakfast table of Mr. and Mrs. Student. Just as Mrs. Student began to pour her husband's second cup of coffee, she decided that this was the moment to tell him the happy news.

He flunked a test yesterday, the car won't start in the snow, there's a term paper due the last of the week, the kitchen drains leak, Buy maybe this will cheer him up.

"When Junior comes next August," she began.

"When Junior comes next August," she began.

He jumped up, Knocked over the coffee on his term paper, burned his arm on the roaster.

"But you think you have problems now, just wait. Having a baby in this modern world, is nor enrolled in any family and twice so for student couples.

Families in which the hus- band or wife, or both, are trying to get that degree usually lack the financial security of their well established friends in the business world. And although Junior of Sixt, as the case may be, soon becomes a big $500 tax deduction, pregnancy and birth are expensive.

Miss Mary Delmastro, a Student Nurse not only has to work at Southern during the fall quarter of 1963, she has to work half time full time students carrying 12 hours or more. So the expenses of having a child pose a potential problem to approximately 12 per cent of Southern's student population.

Just what are the expenses involved?

FAMILY PORTRAT—David and Jackie Stagart proudly pose with their new daughter, Mary Lisa. She was born Dec. 26. The Stagarts are one of many SU married students couples who have faced the high cost of having a baby. (Photo by Ed Delmastro)

They break down into three broad categories: The doctor bill, which includes his charges for pre-natal care, the delivery and a six-week check-up after the birth; the charges for medication and laboratory tests; and the hospital bill.

When a student suspects that she may be expecting, she may go to the University Health Service for the preliminary tests. However, after this, the Health Service usually recommends that the patient select a physician, either her family doctor or a local physician who she can see him for further care.

There are several reasons for this, according to Dr. Richard V. Lee, director of the Health Service. The Health Service is not equipped to handle any large number of pregnancy cases and has no facilities for delivery.

Also, in the last weeks or months of pregnancy, the girl usually is not enrolled in classes. So technically, i.e. is not then a student entitled to the care of University physicians.

But possibly most impor- tant, no girl should know the doctor who will deliver the baby. She should visit the same doctor at all possible during the pregnancy so that she will learn to be at ease with him and have confidence in his ability as her doctor.

Ways of choosing vary among doctors, but the total figures do not change much. Some charge a flat rate. The first office visit is usually around $10 and following ones are $5 each. The doctors recommend office visits once a month until the last four weeks of pregnancy, then they suggest visits twice a week. This adds up to about $50 for office visits.

To this, the doctor adds his fee for the actual delivery of the baby. In some cases he reduces the fee for students with no insurance. The charge is in the neighborhood of $75 to $100. (But remember when you pray for a little boy, he costs $10 extra—to pay for circumcision.)

There is also a charge for one office visit six weeks after the delivery. At this time, both the mother and the child are examined and the child's immunization shots are started.

Some doctors charge a flat rate which includes all these expenses in one figure. But however the charge is made, it is usually between $150 and $200 for a normal pregnancy. Medical complication also result in financial complications and higher charges. Many doctors do make allowance for the fact that the parents are students.

No More Musical Chairs

The game of bicyclists' musical chairs — pick up a loose bicycle, ride to the next class across campus and abandon it — would be one casualty if Southern Illinois University were to adopt a bicycle code like Michigan State University's.

The Michigan State code, summarized on this page last Thursday, might serve as a model in several aspects for the code SIU might adopt.

The MSU code required unattended bicycles to be locked and racked in specified areas. It specifically forbids parking them in shrubbery, on sidewalks, near building entrances or in vehicle parking lots.

Violators' bicycles will be impounded and may be retained until payment of a fine, the code states.

The 1963 code has operated to the MSU bicycle club has doubled, but the locking and licensing provisions have kept the theft rate below pre-code levels, the MSU public safety department reports. SIU cyclists would have a better chance of finding their bicycles where they left them, if a bicycle ordinance were adopted here.

Too, improved bicycle parking facilities would benefit cyclists if SIU were to adopt a code similar to MSU's. In order to clear parked bicycles from sidewalks, lawns and doorways they sometimes obstruct, it would be necessary to supplement the scattered racks provided now with large and convenient lots.

Letter to the Editor

Mixing of Graduate and General Studies Students

In the past we students have been subjected to a number of inconceivable classroom policies. An example was, and still is, the handling of the General Studies program. Many General Studies classes have 250 to 400 students registered, even though it is becoming increasingly evident that small classes with good student-teacher relationships are very desirable.

Now we have been introduced to a new classroom policy that can be called nothing but astute. At least one 400-level, senior college course (Economics 481) is being offered concurrently to graduate students, under graduate seniors, and also to General Studies students. Superior schools, such as Duke and Harvard, do not—or are very reluctant to—give graduate and undergraduate credit for the same course. Other large but un­supported schools, such as Illinois and Indiana, mix graduate and undergraduate students in a few courses. I know of no other school that goes to the extreme of mixing students from the Ph.D. level to the General Studies level in the same room.

The lame excuse given for this ridiculous mixture of students is that we are going through a phase-in process.

The three-year age spread and definitely detrimental to the present student.

I challenge the administration to show one sound reason for this reprehensible and definitely detrimental to the present student.

Lance Girton

Robert L. Ritter, Chairman of the Economics Department, offered this explanation:

Economics 481, a course for which four hours’ senior and graduate level credit is offered, is also available as General Studies 312 for three hours’ credit. No student is admitted who has not completed his sophomore social science requirements in General Studies. Students receiving General Studies credit for the course meet three times weekly with the instructor and are required to do less work. Students receiving 400-level general credit meet four times weekly.

The fourth lecture in the course (and approximately three credit hours’ credit) contains added material that supplements the continuity of the course is un­disturbed. Of an estimated 25 students in the course, perhaps four or five are General Studies. Ph.D. candidates and graduate students regularly halve their courses at the 500 level.

Gymnasts Whip Iowa, 72-40
For 20th Straight Victory

They just keep rolling along!

Those are some words of a famous song and you can rest assured that Southern's gymnasium team is singing that tune after the Salukis captured their 20th straight dual meet Saturday.

It was the Iowa State Cy-clopese who fell victim to SIU this time--72-40 before the largest crowd in the history of the arena.

The Salukis took six of the seven events as the trampoline was the first event that the Salukis have lost in two outings this year. Jim Selby, sixth place finisher in last year's NCAA meet, took the trampoline competition as expected, but not before coach Gill Meade pulled something that was not expected.

Because of Southern's weakness on the tramp, Meade team's contention in giving up more points than he had to by using just one entry. In a surprise move, Steve Pasternak, a side horse man by trade, was pressed into service. Competing for the first time on the springs, Pasternak finished fourth and picked up two points. John Probeck, who is only other entrant, took third and added three more big points.

All other events went as expected with co-captain Rusty Mitchell picking up three for SIU in a spectacular 68 in the tumbling event. Meade had nothing but praise for Mitchell as the West Covina, Calif., star turned in his best performance in the tumbling event in two years.

Midwest All-Stars Trounced By SIU Women Gymnasts

The Midwest All-Stars were without the services of its top two performers Friday night as the Southern Illinois Women’s Gymnastic Club swept every event to win its second meet of the year. The final score (91-119) didn’t indicate it, but competition was keen as a capacity home crowd watched some of the best women gymnasts in the Midwest.

Linda Metheny, ranked fourth in the pre-Olympic trials, and Mary Ellen Torb, the current Midwest Free Exercise champion and bronze medal winner in the All-Around competition both in the Midwest Championship and the 1964 USGF National Championship, did not make appearances Friday night. Their loss was obviously felt by the All-Stars, enabling the Southern Illinois Club to pull away from their opponents.

Gail Daley paced the winners with a first in the vaulting and a blue ribbon in the All-Around competition.

Janis Dunham edged teammate Daley on the balance beam while Miss Daley had to take a back seat in free exercise to teammate Donna Schenzer.

Balance beam—1-Janis Dunham, SI-9.26; 2-Daley, SI-9.2; 3-Hannah, SI-8.9; 4-Quinn, MW-8.8; 5-Totto, MW-8.8.
