Low Enrollment Reduces Senate Budget

Activity Fee Fund Suffers 10% Drop

Activity fee allocations to various student government organs, projects, and services have suffered a 10 percent cut as a result of decreased enrollment at SIU during fall and winter quarters.

The Wednesday's Campus Senate meeting, student body president Bob Drinan said SIU enrollment had fallen about nine percent short of the expected figure.

Consequently, activity fees normally allotted for campus organizations and services were correspondingly reduced.

Total funds given to the student government groups amounted to $30,765 before the 10 percent adjustment was made, according to the Itemized budget sheet.

After the adjustment $27,668 remained in the roll of which more than $10,000 has already been spent, and $1,945 remains in the various student government accounts for the rest of the academic year.

Student government and U-M-I administration worked out one budget last spring but discovered that it would not be large enough for the 1966-67 year.

The SIU Board of Trustees later approved a budget which reevaluated student government needs in light of decreased enrollment.

Ability, Dedication Place Meade First

Without question, Bill Meade is the best gymnastics coach in the nation. His two NCAA championships in three years and 53 dual-meet wins without a loss add to that.

Bill Meade is a man who just happens to be the best gymnastics coach in the nation. Having a great coach is an asset to any team.

In Georgia, as in most states, the political climate is liberal and Republicans are scarce. However, Coach Bill Meade, as a Republican, is a needed edge.

Coach Meade has a previous government experience and his political views are liberal. His scores were held down because of the bandaged car. The state's educational system has been trimmed higher education appropriations.

We support him in this move, as all, what's good for 20 Mile Team Borax must be good for Georgia.

Reagan has done what a generation of philosophers of Barry Goldwater's stage, broadened his base of support. This administration will serve as a model of the benefits a state receives under conservative leadership. The world can now see some of the philosophies of Barry Goldwater realized.

As the brain trust moves out of California in search of money, all of the highly technical industries located there are bound to respond and applaud the governor's policies by moving their smoke-producing plants east of the Rockies. Think of the clean air Los Angeles will enjoy.

As Reagan is writing the final chapter of Death Valley Days in California, we can't help but chuckle and realize how well he is prepared for his task.

Gov. Reagan Says System Needs Change

Ronald Reagan, star of stage, screen, television and one of the greatest song and dance acts ever to pop out of the hills of Southern California, plans to adjust the technical industries by tightening higher education appropriations.

U. S. Hazy on Chinese Unrest

Riots have raged in Shanghai, China's largest city. Bloody fighting has turned the streets of Nanking, China's third largest city, vividly crimson. Even farmers on China's Chusan Islands southeast of Shanghai are reported to have joined the wave of protest against Mao Tse-tung's Red Guard crackdown on dissidents, and the situation in a score of other Chinese cities is a matter of deep concern to Americans.

The world knows about these momentous events in China. The people of the hills of Southern California should find itself in a clean air Los Angeles will enjoy.

"Sex Equality of Faculty at Issue"

By Jenkis Lloyd Jones (General Features Corp.)

On New Year's Day in the village of Vrindaban, not far from New Delhi, Ilie flickered on a Hindi holy man, one Mehr Chand Pahajua. He had fasted for nearly 50 days in protest to the killing of many. The Indian government tried to keep the death a secret lest it trigger renewed rioting.

When Plato suggested that a government of philosophers might be the best government of all he had never seen the Indians. For India has it, Practically all Indians who are not idiots are philosophers. In no other country in the world do they value more than the word of their holy man, his soul and his quest for the good life. And in no other country do they come up with such impossible answers.

Generally, Indians regard westerners as people of no consequence, and they are a challenge even to the through India without getting The Lequeure, Often it is delivered graciously and even with a bit of personal humor. The Indians may be poor in goods, but he is rich in spirit. With most of the world's power, particularly the U.S.A., the reverse is true. Therefore it is not altogether unfitting that the materially wealthy but ethically naked Americans give some of their substance in return for excellent advice from the materially poor but ethically endearing Indians.

The trouble is that even the Americans are about to run through their wheat surplus. Just as the Indian population officially crossed the 500 million mark this fall, Washington issued the bad news that grants of American grains or "sales" of it for blocked currency will have to be sharply cut in the future. The day is preserved in India to produce its own food, or (2) manufacture goods that will fill the duties exchange necessary to buy food, or (3) starve.

It would be a liberal to say that the Indian government and even the corruption- ridden Congress Party do not have a pretty clear picture of these grim alternatives. But it is questionable whether they can organize the Indian people for any degree of success.

Unlike Indians, the Japanese, who are willing to junk any traditional belief that has apparently been proven wrong or that interferes with efficiency, immediately accept responsibility and worship the fantastic. The Indian is not a man in antiquity, perhaps stemming from totem pole places assigned by each successive wave of invaders. The enlightened Indian has abstracted their traditions for the present. But mind patterns are deep. Only a few years ago it was solemnly believed that, while a Nayar would not delire a Brahmin unless he touched him, a Tiyan would pollute the Brahmin if he came within five yards of him, and a Pulayan would pollute him at 96 paces.

Happily, in this day of trains, trams and movies, it is rare to keep your pace. The caste/ system is certainly weakened. But it is still there, particularly in rural India where 75 per cent of the Indian population lives. Under the doctrine of "karma" which teaches that any apparently undeserved good or bad fortune is a reward or punishment for behavior in previous incarnations there is a great social stagnation.

For a country that sets itself up as a moral arbiter and lectures American incessantly about their bigotry and war-mongering, India is full of peculiar paradoxes. About 500,000 people were killed in the religious commotions upon which the "Deccan" of Pakistan, bloody lullaboy conflict in the Punjab, have not only caused a lot of damage but have been a setback to the "self-determination" of peoples stands at the top of Indian foreign policy. Yet when the 75- per cent Moslem population of Kashmir said they would fight to the last brick, India sent a peace mission to Pakistan, which was crushed in.

The Indians are still beating the dead horse of separate states and even the corruption- ridden Congress Party do not have a pretty clear picture of these grim alternatives. But it is questionable whether they can organize the Indian people for any degree of success.

As the Off-Campus Housing Office completes its work on each of the facilities, the following three results will occur:

Military Facilities Cutback
Announced by McNamara

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara announced Thursday 94 military bases or facilities in the United States that he hopes to close, and elsewhere would be shut down or merged in the next few years, including the deactivation of all 14 Army Reserve headquarters.

The defense chief told a news conference the cutbacks would result in annual savings of $47.4 million and eliminate a total of 4,358 jobs, about half of them now held by civilians.

McNamara said 33 bases would be trimmed or eliminated in the United States, with a total savings of more than $38 million a year. He added that $9 million additional yearly would be saved by reducing or doing away with operations in six overseas bases.

McNamara described the new cutbacks, sixth in a series that began in 1961, as being "completely in accord with combat readiness and support of our operations in Southeast Asia."

McNamara told newsmen that since 1961 the Defense Department has cut back or eliminated 878 operations and 205,000 civilian jobs. He said the total savings in connection with these cutbacks, including the one announced Thursday, would be about $1.5 billion annually.

He added, in response to a question, that new base openings had not been keeping pace with the shutdowns and the Defense Department was operating substantially fewer installations than in 1961.

McNamara said the elimination of the Reserve headquarters would continue a process of streamlining and centralizations that had begun last year.

"The remaining functions will be transferred to the continental Army commanders on a phased basis over the next two years," he said.

Soviet Magazine Blasts LBJ; Dims Hope of Missile Pact

MOSCOW (AP) — A Soviet magazine attack Thursday on President Johnson encouraged diplomatic speculation that the Kremlin will spurn U.S. efforts for a freeze on building antiballistic missile systems.

Denouncing Johnson's appeal to slow the arms race, the editor of the magazine "Abroad" said what the Soviet Union seeks is disarmament, and not control over armaments.

Control is purely an American concept, wrote editor Daniil F. Kraminov, and one that the Soviet always has opposed, The U.S. view is that

"Plenty of money to finance your new home" GUARANTEED
SAIGON, South Vietnam (AP) — The week that opened the war’s biggest offensive, Operation Cedar Falls, has brought the largest weekly casually toll among American servicemen in Vietnam. The U.S. Command said Thursday 1,194 were listed 1,194 as killed, wounded or missing in action Jan. 8 through 14.

The breakdown: 1,444 dead, 1,044 wounded 6 missing.

In all, 373 of the allies perished. A U.S. spokesman said 1,176 Viet Cong and North Vietnamese were killed, double the total of the previous week, Jan. 1-7.

American newcomers — described as an equal mix of support and combat units — swelled U.S. ranks in Vietnam to 388,000. This was a net increase of 3,000 through last Saturday night.

Combat troops and airmen carried on:

— U.S. infantry and armorred units, pressed ahead with Operation Cedar Falls in the Iron Triangle north of Saigon. The action has been marked throughout, like most of the new year’s campaigning, by scattered skirmishes rather than major battles. About 30,000 U.S. and Vietnamese have been committed there.

— B52 bombers, staging their 13th raid in support of the drive, churned up Communist fortifications 20 miles northwest of Saigon, at the upper edge of the triangle. A spokesman said their bombs tore up 15 buildings, 325 feet of trenches, 59 bunkers and three tunnels.

— Less definite results showed up from the incendiary raid the eight-engine jets staged Wednesday to strip cover from the Viet Cong in a 30-square-mile sector of the jungles east of the Iron Triangle. The spokesman said the fire bombs burned out several spots, but seemed ineffective where they landed in the thickest tangles of trees, vines and brush.

— Sections of the two railroads linking Red China with North Vietnam were targets of U.S. Air Force Thunderchiefs Wednesday. Pilots said they heavily damaged two marshaling yards 41 and 45 miles northwest of Hanoi on one of the lines and destroyed two bridges, 20 and 40 miles northeast of Hanoi, on the other.

Navy pilots, concentrating on supply vessels, said they destroyed or damaged 38 cargo junks and barges. In all 109 missions were flown above the border that day, Hanoi’s story that two planes were shot down Wednesday went unconfirmed.

North Vietnam’s news agency declared three planes were shot down Thursday. That claim was ignored by American authorities in Saigon.

A Hanoi broadcast charged “a number of civilians” were killed in raids Saturday, Sunday and Wednesday on “the industrial city of Viet Tri.” There was no comment from American authorities.

— Standard reference works 1st Viet Tri as a lumbering and trading town on the Hanoi-Kuning railroad 30 miles northwest of Hanoi.

In Saigon, Barry Goldwater said “the bombing restricitions on Hanoi are going to have to be altered if we are to be successful in stepping up and winning the war.” American visitors have confirmed Communist reports that there has been damage within the Red capital.

Three Draft Exam Dates
Set in Spring

The Selective Service college qualification test will be given in Muckleroy Auditorium on March 11 and March 31, and in Furr Auditorium on April 8.

Applications for the test may be obtained from any Selective Service board, or from the Registrar's Office, Enrollment Center. An application must be submitted to Educational Testing Service, Princeton, N.J., and postmarked no later than Feb. 15. The applicant will then receive a certificate of registration designating the time and place to report for testing.

Completed testing materials will be returned to ETS for calculation and the results will be directly to the appropriate draft board. Test results are never released on campus.

Carole Cornell, Selective Service coordinator on campus, said the test is not mandatory and it may not be taken twice. Individual Selective Service boards may use the test results as a supplementary factor in determining draft classifications.

SIU Library Noted For Joyce Works

An authority on James Joyce lists Morris Library among the four top collections of manuscript materials by or concerning this noted novelist. Volume 2 and 3 of "James Joyce Letters," edited by Richard Ellmann, professor of English at Northwestern University, have recently been published by Viking Press. Ellmann, in his preface to Volume 2, stated, "At Cornell University, Yale University, the University of Buffalo and Southern Illinois University, where most of Joyce's correspondence is now deposited, I must mention the extraordinary patience and skill with which my requests have been met."

He expressed appreciation to a number of individuals for their assistance including "at the Southern Illinois University Library, Alan Cohm, himself a Joyce scholar, and Ralph W. Rambue, curator of Rare Books."

Leonard to Address Unitarian Fellowship

J. Joseph Leonard, assistant professor of English, will speak to the Unitarian Fellowship of Carbondale at 10:30 a.m. Sunday. His topic is "Imaginations of Negro." During the past year and a half on leave from the SIU Department of English, Leonard worked at the Staff Development Center, in Kaduna, Northern Nigeria as an English language specialist.

The Unitarian Fellowship Meeting House is situated at 301 W. Elm St.

Since the operation of the self-instruction center is still on an experimental basis, instructional fees are not charged, he explained. Pencils, notebooks and paper are supplied by the students. Students are also liable for any damage to the materials, Denzel added.

Facilities at the center will accommodate 20 students at a time. Students may use the facilities in their spare time or may be referred to the center by faculty members, the Student Affairs Office, or the academic advisers.

More than 300 students used the facilities and about 3,500 visits were made during fall quarter to the self-instruction center in the Communications Building, according to Harry Dendel, instructor in educational psychology and guidance.

The self-instruction center, which has been in operation since spring quarter 1966, is located in Room 112 in the Communications Building. Hours are from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. Monday through Friday. It's trade-in time for tired old myths.

Like the one about business. Especially big business. That is beyond the rugged individualist's wildest dreams to enter this holy of holies because he'll lose something that's very sacred—like his independence.

Sure, it can happen. If a guy or gal wants to hide, or just get by, or not accept responsibility, or challenges.

We're not omniscient enough or stupid enough to speak for all business, but at a company like Western Electric, bright ideas are not only welcome, they are encouraged. And no door is out. Create a little stir, go ahead, upset an old applecart (we replace shibboleths at a terrific pace—we have to as manufacturing and supply unit of the Bell System—in order to provide your Bell telephone company with equipment it needs to serve you.)

There's an excitement in business. True, we're in it to make a profit, but working to find new and better ways to make things that help people communicate is very rewarding and satisfying. Did you ever hear these magic words of Oliver Wendell Holmes? "Never trust a generality—not even this one."

That's how we feel about the generality that claims you'll just become a little cog in a company like Western Electric. You might, of course, but if you consider yourself an individual now, odds are 10 to 1 you'll keep your individuality. And cherish it. And watch it grow. Even at Big, Big Western Electric. You know, that's the only way we'd want you to feel. If you feel like coming in with us.

‘Diggers’ Salvaging Relics

SIU archaeologists have just completed one project and have several more under way or soon to be completed, according to Matthew H. Hill, university curator of North American archaeology.

Completed recently was the Carlyle River Project in Clinton County. Carl Cutruff, SIU graduate student, was in charge of salvaging relics from archaeological sites that will be covered with water when the reservoir is completed.

Another salvaging project is now taking place in the Rend Lake area near Benton. It has been progressing for four summers and will be completed this summer.

Hill said that although “nothing spectacular” has been discovered in these projects many small details of Indian history in Illinois have been filled in. Some objects from pre-Indian times, however, have been found dating back to 5000 B.C.

The salvaging of sites on the lower Kaskaskia River will start this summer. These sites will be destroyed when a river channelization project gets under way.

A continuing project is that of searching sites along the paths of new federal highways. All of these projects are financially supported by the National Park Service.

‘Free Driver Class For Adults Slated’

A non-credit adult evening course in driver improvement will be offered by SIU’s Division of Technical and Adult Education.

Registration and first class of the course, instructed by Sgt. Lendall Rockwell of the Illinois State Police, will be at 7 p.m. Jan. 31 in Room 102 of the Home Economics Building.

Classes will meet from 7 to 9 p.m. Tuesdays for four weeks. There is no tuition, but a materials fee of $1 will be charged.

The course is designed to teach the student to drive defensively—to avoid trouble before he drives into it. It emphasizes learning to recognize signs of the mistakes other drivers are making, and how the motorist can avoid the mistakes himself.

The instructor is traffic safety officer for District 13 of the Illinois State Police.

Big Night Slated for Gymnast Fans

The biggest night of the season prior to the two NCAA championship meets is on tap for area gymnast fans tonight. The men’s team will compete against Michigan State beginning at 7:30 and the women will follow with their first dual meet against the Oklahoma Twisters. Both men’s Coach Bill Meade and women’s Coach Herb Vogel are expecting their toughest meets to date.

Vogel said the competition coming to the Arena tonight will be the best both teams will face all year. He said his girls have “never faced as tough a challenge as they face tonight in the Twisters, who are one of the outstanding clubs in the nation.”

Vogel said he “may be putting everything on the line” when his girls compete in the balance beam. This is the strong event for both squads. Vogel is counting heavily upon the performance of Donna Schaeffer, the team’s most valuable performer in 1966, in the all-around, floor exercise and the uneven bars. Miss Schaeffer has been recovering from injuries for some time and is in the spotlight because of the absence of Judy Willis, Nancy Smith, Sue Roger and Gail Daley because of injuries and national all-around champion Irene Dunham, who resigned from the team after her recent marriage.

Miss Schaeffer will be competing against Oklahoma’s Debbie Bailey, who was a member of the last World Game team and holds a 4-1 record in national competition. Also figuring big in Vogel’s plans are Mary Ellen Toth, Linda Scott, Jo Shoshimoto and Janis Dunham.

Miss Toth turned in her finest performance to date in last Saturday’s winning team effort at Louisville. Miss Scott turned in a strong showing in the Kennedy Memorial Meet last December by winning the all-around.

Vogel will feel his injury problem most in the uneven bars competition, which has been the team’s strong point in the past. Last year against Oklahoma, Southern took three of the top four spots, but the girls who captured these positions are all sidelined, according to Vogel, he has “rebutled this event from the ground up.”

He, however, is confident that the team has put in a good week of practice, four

In Effort to Find Strongest Team for Each Event

Meade juggles lineup for Spartans

SIU Gymnastics Coach Bill Meade said one long-expected change in store for the Michigan State team that will invade Salukiland tonight. Meade, undaunted by the Southland Manheim Invitational at the Kelber in the floor exercise in place of Larry Lindauer, Al Alexander in the long vault of Ron Harrett and Wayne Borkowski in the rings in place of Tom Seward.

"I am trying to experiment to find the strongest team per event and it is better to experiment in the meet tough rather than eat it in the easy meets," said Meade.

Meade has been working with Mike Dale, Harbd, the trampoline star who has a broken thumb, Hard will compete on the trampoline tonight. Meade hopes Hardt will come on strong, given some time off, but tonight, Hardt managed a score of 9.05 against the Cyclones last Saturday in his first appearance with his cast.

The Saluki team leader, if a team leader can be found on a team with so many individual outstanding stands, appears to be Fred Dennis. Dennis has taken over the all-around job, at least whileRick Tucker is injured, and battled Mike Jacki, ranked one of the nation's better all-around performers. A "star" in the long vault in the Salukiland still in the Iowa State meet. Jacki won the all-around battle of scores 38.53-35.20 which indicates that Dennis is nearly ready to be a rugged individual performer. The meet, which will be held tonight on the Arena floor, will begin at 7:30 p.m. It will be followed by the SIU women's gymnastics program. Oklahoma Twisters at approximately 9:30 p.m. The meet will be on sale at the doors.

The Spartans have won 15 dual meets in a row, the last time they lost one was in February of 1965 to SIU. The Salukis registered a 73-47 victory that time.

Michigan State finished last season with a perfect 8-0 record, second in the Big Ten. Ten men will be in the NCAA. For the second week in a row Coach Meade's Salukis will be facing the top five in the NCAA last season, Iowa State, who the Salukis lost last year, finished fourth in the NCAA.
CARBONDALE (AP) — Southern Illinois University's basketball squad, largely home-grown and possessed of no more than average size and speed — "but we like to think we're quick" — was almost unanimously top-ranked this week in the Associated Press small-college poll. Conquerors of two 1966 national champions in running up a 1-0 record so far this season, the Salukis were one choice of 17 of the 18 experts voting in the poll. The remaining first-place vote went to Kentucky Wesleyan, 52-51 loser Monday to SIU. The poll was based, however, only on games through last Saturday.

The Salukis, playing a disciplined pattern offense — their coach, Jack Hartman, played under Hank Iba at Oklahoma State — and a tight defense, won with a 6-7 senior from Trenton, III., Johnson will not win many Boerwers, his coaches say, "but he's quick — quick hands, quick moves." He averages 8.6 points.

Southern has one proven star — Walt Frazier of Atlanta, Ga., a Little All-America of two years ago who had to sit out a year of ineligibility. The 6-3 guard is averaging 16.7.

Frazier and Chuck Benson, a 6-4 sophomore who fills in at center or forward, came to Southern in defense on offers based on a letter from a personal friend of Hartman (The friend had seen them play high school basketball in Atlanta. Neither had been unduly harassed by college scouts, an SIU spokesman said.

Roger Beckford, 6-foot senior from Belleville, III., rounds out the list of Salukis who see most of the action. He was a starter early in the season.

In this week's poll, Southern Illinois got 179 points of a possible 280, and second-place Kentucky Wesleyan got 149.

The Top Ten, with first-place votes in parentheses, season records through games of Saturday and total points:

1. SIU (17) 9-2 179
2. Ky. Wesleyan (10) 9-0 149
3. Cheyney State 14-0 115
4. Akron 10-1 109
5. Grambling 10-3 99
6. Tennessee State 10-4 87
7. Indiana State 11-2 56
8. San Diego State 12-2 49
9. Pan American 10-5 44

Clay Seeks Draft Appeal Reopening

LOUISVILLE (AP) — Heavyweight champion Cassius Clay's draft case will be reopened, the Associated Press learned Thursday.

An informed source said official from Clay's camp opened the case in response to Clay's appeal for exemption on grounds he is a Black Muslim minister.

Local Board 47 rejected such an appeal on Jan. 12 and the champion's New York attorney, Hayden Covington, immediately asked for reconsideration.
