Voting Set April 8
To Replace Quail

Residents of Small Group Housing will vote April 8 to fill the vacancy left by the resignation of Robert Quall, senator of men's Small Group Housing.

Petitions for the office are available at the information desk at the University Center, according to Fred Rauch, elections commission chairman. Polls will be open at Small Group Housing from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Rally Scheduled
By Rights Group
At Center Patio

The Student Nonviolent Freedom Committee will hold a civil rights rally Thursday at the University Center patio, capped with a silent procession to the Post Office, Wendell O'Neal, SNFC chairman, said there would be speakingupafter the 4 p.m. Thursday. From the center, the rally will move to the Post Office where letters urging passage of the civil rights bill currently being debated in the U.S. Senate would be sent to Sen. Everett Dirksen, R-Ill., and Sen. Paul Douglas, D-Ill.

O'Neal urged those sympathetic to the cause to write letters to the senators asking that they vote for the bill as is, specifically the equal accommodations and equal employment opportunities sections.

Some of the National Student and two members of the Nonviolent Committee spent the spring break on a swing through existing campus at hopes of stimulating interest in the civil rights movement.

The group reportedly received several commitments.

Question: Is this man...

a. an alligator shoe salesman describing his latest model to a prospective customer
b. basically composed of india ink and therefore no danger
c. on edge awaiting the arrival of Mike Siporin's book

---

SIU Takes National Gymnast Title

* * *

Voting Set April 8
To Replace Quail

Residents of Small Group Housing will vote April 8 to fill the vacancy left by the resignation of Robert Quall, senator of men's Small Group Housing.

Petitions for the office are available at the information desk at the University Center, according to Fred Rauch, elections commission chairman. Polls will be open at Small Group Housing from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Rally Scheduled
By Rights Group
At Center Patio

The Student Nonviolent Freedom Committee will hold a civil rights rally Thursday at the University Center patio, capped with a silent procession to the Post Office, Wendell O'Neal, SNFC chairman, said there would be speaking up after the 4 p.m. Thursday. From the center, the rally will move to the Post Office where letters urging passage of the civil rights bill currently being debated in the U.S. Senate would be sent to Sen. Everett Dirksen, R-Ill., and Sen. Paul Douglas, D-Ill.

O'Neal urged those sympathetic to the cause to write letters to the senators asking that they vote for the bill as is, specifically the equal accommodations and equal employment opportunities sections.

Some of the National Student and two members of the Nonviolent Committee spent the spring break on a swing through existing campus at hopes of stimulating interest in the civil rights movement.

The group reportedly received several commitments.

---

SOUTHERN ILLINOIS UNIVERSITY

Carbondale, Illinois Tuesday, March 31, 1964

Volume 45 Number 112

DAILY EGYPTIAN

Happiness at Last — Coach Bill Meade flashes a victory sign as he arrives in Carbondale with the nation's No. 1 gymnastics team. In an estimated one hundred SIU students greeted the team as it arrived early Monday morning. Coach Meade's squad had placed second in each of the past three events of the national competition. (Photo by Ken Farnesworth)

FANS MEET CHAMPS

Now We're Number 1, Exclaims Coed; Elation Over Victory Pervades Campus

Southern's gymnastics team returned home Sunday night as the national champs after finishing first in the NCAA meet at Los Angeles last weekend.

After being a favorite in past years, the Salukis finally brought home the first place trophy this year. Many loyal fans turned out to greet the team on their return to Southern Illinois Airport.

But how does the general student body feel about the new national champs?

"A deserving team deserves to win," said Byron Pappas, a sophomore from Fairfield. "They should have received a bigger trophy for such an honor."

"It is true that Southern has been working for three years for them to win," said Pat Malinaki, a senior from Chicago.

"I think it is wonderful that someone did something to put them on the map," said Gilbert Daniels, a junior from Salem.

Jim Shute, a junior from Aurora, said, "I think it was a good exhibition of teamwork, and after finishing in second place for the last three years it couldn't have gone to a more deserving team."

Luci Pappas, a sophomore from Fairfield, said, "It is a great contribution to our school and it is an honor to have such an outstanding team at SIU."

Allen Palmer, a senior majoring in English, said simply: "They deserved to win."

"Sensational. Now we're number one. Everybody knew we had a chance and now we did it," said Marty Pflanz, a junior from St. Louis.

"I don't know too much about it, but I think it's good for the school and the men themselves," said Rich Holtz, a student from St. Louis.

"It is a great thing to happen to SIU," said Ronnie Newell, a freshman from Cairo. "It shows that we can compete with teams from major universities and beat them."

"It is great publicity for the school," said Ray Carter, a freshman from Chicago. "The more we build up our reputation, the easier it will be to get good gymnastic prospects for future teams."

"It's good for the school, I think. I watched them this year and they really impressed me. I didn't know if they could take first place or not, but I'm sure glad they did," said Dean Taylor, a sophomore from Hoops.

"I know we were going, but I didn't know they had won. I think we should have been better informed on the outcome," said Ohio, a freshman from Hoopeston, remarked. "The student spirit should have been behind them more."

Ludlow Hallman, 'Figaro' Star
To Sing With Sante Fe Opera

Ludlow Hallman, who sang the role of the Count in the SIU production of "The Marriage of Figaro," has been signed to sing with the Santa Fe Opera Company this summer.

Hallman, a 22-year-old graduate student from Dayton, Ohio, is a vocal student of Margerie Lawrence, SIU Opera Workshop Director.

At Santa Fe, he will sing the role of Marco in "Gianni Schicchi" and the customs officer in "La Boheme."

He also will serve as standby for the role of the count in "The Marriage of Figaro," Moralez in "Carmen" and Schaunard in "La Boheme."

"In addition I will do a lot of chorus work and probably appear in almost every production," Hallman said.

Hallman, a baritone, will appear with the St. Louis Symphony this Sunday at 3 p.m., in Kiel Auditorium. The appearance is his reward for winning the Louis Symphony's "Young Artist" competition this year.
ON-CAMPUS

Job Interview

MONDAY, MARCH 30:

STERLING, ILLINOIS, PUBLIC SCHOOLS: Seeking elementary teachers, plus high English, math, and science; also seeking senior high teachers.

GENESEO, ILLINOIS, PUBLIC SCHOOLS: Seeking
junior high math and science, girls’ p.e., and general science teachers; high school boys’ p.e., and commerce teachers,

TUESDAY, MARCH 31:

WAUKESHA, ILLINOIS PUBLIC SCHOOLS: Seeking elementary and special education school teachers,

ROCKFORD, MICHIGAN, PUBLIC SCHOOLS: Seeking elementary teachers; junior high communication skills, science and math, Spanish and Latin teachers; and high school
math and speech teacher,

O’FALLON, MISSOURI, PUBLIC SCHOOLS: Seeking elementary teachers, plus junior high general science and industrial arts teachers,

WEDNESDAY, APRIL 1:

DANVILLE, ILLINOIS, PUBLIC SCHOOLS: Seeking elementary school teachers; junior high language needs: communicative arts, English, math, business education, Latin, chemistry, and guidance teachers.

URBANA, ILLINOIS, PUBLIC SCHOOLS: Seeking elementary and major junior high departmental teachers; high school business education, math, Spanish, and guidance teachers. Also elementary EMH,

DECatur, ILLINOIS, PUBLIC SCHOOLS: Seeking
elementary school teachers,

PALOS PARK, ILLINOIS, PUBLIC SCHOOLS: Seeking
elementary teachers; junior high continental, Spanish, modern math, general science, and Band and chorus teachers,

The Davis Report:

A proposal for the revision of the by-laws and articles of incorporation controlling the operation of SIU has been submitted to all faculty members for study.

Golfers to Face
Missouri at 10

Southern’s golfers closed their present homestand in the early morning against the University of Missouri at 10 a.m. at the Crab Orchard Golf Club.

Coach Lynn will call on a line-up similar to that led by seniors Gene Cartullo, Jim Place and John Krueger, in the Big Ten tourney. The Tvanized University team will have a good chance to be a factor in the first and final round of the Missouri tourney.

The draft is designed to review and condense the documents known as the By-Laws and Statutes of the Board of Trustees.

It outlines the full range of University procedures and rules governing such matters as academic work, student behavior, and the full range of operation and administration of SIU.

The University Council
obtain the services of Provost
Harry Davis of the State University of Iowa to assist the council in the revision and approval

Early drafts were suggested by the University Council, Faculty Council and the Graduately. As the basis of the Provost Davis has now preparing his final draft.

It will be subject to further review by these councils, and in addition, every member of the faculty has been invited to the three special faculty meetings for the revision of the Provost’s document.

The meetings for members of the Council of the University will be held April 7, 8, and 9,
and for the Edgewater,
faculty on April 13 and 14.

The April 7 meeting is scheduled to run from 9 a.m. to 1 a.m. in Ballroom B of the University Center.

The Council has had an opportunity to review all the documents and produce a final set of recom­ mentations for the Board Council, and for the final department, the

DAMON ALEXANDER

SIU Center to Host

Prison Educators

Educational programs in correctional institutions will be explored at a luncheon at SIU today with area correctional officials as guests.

Mr. E. Alexander, director of the SIU Center for the Study of Crime, Delinquency and Corrections, will head a discussion on the education program conducted by Southern Illinois State Penitentiary at Meredosia.

Guests will be Warden Roland
Randolph and Leslie Lines, educational director, Monard;
Warden John T. Willingham and Francis Ranger, educational director; Marion federal prison; Holiza McKnight, Warden Illinois State Penitentiary at Vican, and Donald Harper, director of the Union
Forest State Boys Camp, Jo­nnoscob.

SIU faculty members who have been instrumental in the Menard extension program also will attend the monday luncheon, to be held in the University Center Mississippi Room and sealed by the criminology center.

For the Finest in Food and Service...

PIPER’S PARKWAY RESTAURANT
2029 S. Illinois Ave.

Downtown on Rt. 51
OPEN 11 a.m. to 9 p.m.

MEAL – TICKET SALE
Reg. On Sale SAVE

13 – $5.50 MEAL TICKETS $7.50 $0.00 $2.50
6 – $5.50 MEAL TICKETS $12.00 $2.50 $6.00
2 – $5.50 MEAL TICKETS $11.00 $0.00 $2.50
1 – $5.50 MEAL TICKETS $5.50 $0.00 $0.00

“IRENE”

Dressed in white

Campus Florist
607 S. 4th

457-6600

207 W. Walnut

COX’S CENTRAL BARBER SHOP

HAIRCUT $1.50

– Get the best

TAMAROA, ILLINOIS, PUBLIC SCHOOLS: Seeking teaching professionals.

COLUMBIA, ILLINOIS, PUBLIC SCHOOLS: Seeking elementary and EMH teachers; also need junior high English teachers.

SOCIAL SECURITY ADMINISTRATION, Chicago: Seeking business and liberal arts seniors for claims administrator trainee program, and other administrative positions.

TEXAS GAS TRANSMISSION CORPORATION,
Owensboro, Ky: Seeking accountants.

GEO. S. OLIVE & COMPANY, Evansville:
CFA firm seeks accounting seniors,
and also juniors for internship program.

PEORIA, ILLINOIS, PUBLIC SCHOOLS: Seeking
elementary school teachers,

FRIDAY, APRIL 3:

THE CHEMICAL ABSTRACTS SERVICE,
Columbus, Ohio: Seeking chemists and mathematicians for information retrieval, editing, indexing, nomenclature, research in documentation and corporate assignments. Also some summer positions available for seniors going on to graduate school.

ALLIED CHEMICAL & DYE CORPORATION,
New York: Seeking candidates for various corporate assignments in a variety of capacities.

PROCER & GAMBLE COMPANY, St.
Louis: Seeking single, male seniors for field advertising traveling assignments.

ARTHUR, ILLINOIS, PUBLIC SCHOOLS:
Seeking elementary school teachers,

PEKIN, ILLINOIS, PUBLIC SCHOOLS:
Seeking
elementary and speech correction school teachers; also high school math and science teacher,

AUBURN, ILLINOIS, PUBLIC SCHOOLS:
Seeking elementary teachers, and EMH;
High school needs librarian and English teacher.
‘Great Decisions’ Tries to Add Depth to Complex U.S. Issues

"Great Decisions," a series which attempts to add depth will be shown on WSIU-TV at 8 p.m. Other highlights are:

4 p.m.
Operation: Alphabet.

4:30 p.m.
Industry on Parade.

5 p.m.
"Celebrated Coin Collectors." The classifications of different types of coin collections -- commemorative, proof, national, featured on "What's New."

7 p.m.
Concert -- Toni Intravaia. Dances will be seen in place of the Big Picture.

Casting Continues
For Elizabeth Port

Additional tryouts for the part of Queen Elizabeth in the Shakespeare play "Richard III" will be held at 4 p.m. Wednesday in the Southern Playhouse.

It was also announced that additional men are needed to play the parts of soldiers for the play to be given May 15 through 23 as part of SUU's observance of the 400th anniversary of the birth of Shakespeare.

Students interested in any of the available parts should contact Dr. Christian Moe at the Communications office.

Criminger to Lead Taped Radio Show

Forum, a half-hour SUU taped radio show, will be conducted by Fred Criminger, director of Tape Network, at 7:30 p.m. today on WSIU Radio.

Other highlights today are:

12:45 p.m.
This Week in the U.N., summary of the happenings in the U.N.

2 p.m.
Retrospect - musical, features and news of past years.

3:30 p.m.
Concert Hall.
The Case of the Lifted Quote

For a month now, letter writers have debated The Case of the Lifted Quote. Did a certain English instructor ever disgrace his profession by his uncompromising plagiarism of a student’s paragraph which concealed a quote upon the page? The editor of English post Percy Shelley? If we were a jury, we would acquit. Taken out of context such a quote hardly conveys the best advantage.

It’s also true that what might have won raves from Shelley’s 19th Century fans need not be what a freshman composition instructor expects in 1964. Too, Shelley’s reputation hardly can be expected to stand everything he wrote, umbrella-fashion even from an English instructor. Even great artists should be allowed the luxury of an ill-turned phrase or two. This is especially true with a quote from his prose, rather than the poetry where Shelley made his reputation.

The discussion does point up the fine line between, however, the out-on-a-limb feeling any attempt at written expression inspires in so many students. A theme is enough to frighten all but the most stout-hearted, and a term paper to panic indeed. A large share of the blame, must fall on these students’ earlier training—of the mechanics of grammar and punctuation to the niceties of written self-expression. By the time they reach college, any benefits they derive from composition courses are limited.

Perhaps a solution would be to train a new race of teachers, better armed to battle the mysteries of the language from the first-grade classroom upward. Until we produce such teachers, students will be in no way the beneficiaries of the efforts of Shelley or other writers as their own.

Why Not Have Break at Easter?

I address this question to the Administration in hopes of receiving a copy to a question that is in the minds of many SIU students: Why didn’t we?

Finally, it is located in the southeast part of the campus, where strong southeast winds, which would probably accompany severe weather, would make it even harder to hear from on campus.

The whistle to be blown, it would have to be recognized and definitely monitored to do any good. The current system cannot be relied upon to meet this demand.

As a solution to this problem I suggest that the University consider mounting the siren, or better yet a new, stronger one. (I know that many students set off the efforts of Shelley or other writers as their own.)

Why have we mere mortals of the press and the American people been slow to accord Robert E. Smith the recognition which concealed a quote upon the page. The editor of English post Percy Shelley? If we were a jury, we would acquit. Taken out of context such a quote hardly conveys the best advantage. It’s also true that what might have won raves from Shelley’s 19th Century fans need not be what a freshman composition instructor expects in 1964. Too, Shelley’s reputation hardly can be expected to stand everything he wrote, umbrella-fashion even from an English instructor. Even great artists should be allowed the luxury of an ill-turned phrase or two. This is especially true with a quote from his prose, rather than the poetry where Shelley made his reputation.

The discussion does point up the fine line between the out-on-a-limb feeling any attempt at written expression inspires in so many students. A theme is enough to frighten all but the most stout-hearted, and a term paper to panic indeed. A large share of the blame, must fall on these students’ earlier training—from the mechanics of grammar and punctuation to the niceties of written self-expression. By the time they reach college, any benefits they derive from composition courses are limited.

Perhaps a solution would be to train a new race of teachers, better armed to battle the mysteries of the language from the first-grade classroom upward. Until we produce such teachers, students will be in no way the beneficiaries of the efforts of Shelley or other writers as their own.

Why have we mere mortals of the press and the American people been slow to accord Robert E. Smith the recognition which concealed a quote upon the page. The editor of English post Percy Shelley? If we were a jury, we would acquit. Taken out of context such a quote hardly conveys the best advantage. It’s also true that what might have won raves from Shelley’s 19th Century fans need not be what a freshman composition instructor expects in 1964. Too, Shelley’s reputation hardly can be expected to stand everything he wrote, umbrella-fashion even from an English instructor. Even great artists should be allowed the luxury of an ill-turned phrase or two. This is especially true with a quote from his prose, rather than the poetry where Shelley made his reputation.

The discussion does point up the fine line between the out-on-a-limb feeling any attempt at written expression inspires in so many students. A theme is enough to frighten all but the most stout-hearted, and a term paper to panic indeed. A large share of the blame, must fall on these students’ earlier training—from the mechanics of grammar and punctuation to the niceties of written self-expression. By the time they reach college, any benefits they derive from composition courses are limited.

Perhaps a solution would be to train a new race of teachers, better armed to battle the mysteries of the language from the first-grade classroom upward. Until we produce such teachers, students will be in no way the beneficiaries of the efforts of Shelley or other writers as their own.

Why have we mere mortals of the press and the American people been slow to accord Robert E. Smith the recognition which concealed a quote upon the page. The editor of English post Percy Shelley? If we were a jury, we would acquit. Taken out of context such a quote hardly conveys the best advantage. It’s also true that what might have won raves from Shelley’s 19th Century fans need not be what a freshman composition instructor expects in 1964. Too, Shelley’s reputation hardly can be expected to stand everything he wrote, umbrella-fashion even from an English instructor. Even great artists should be allowed the luxury of an ill-turned phrase or two. This is especially true with a quote from his prose, rather than the poetry where Shelley made his reputation.

The discussion does point up the fine line between the out-on-a-limb feeling any attempt at written expression inspires in so many students. A theme is enough to frighten all but the most stout-hearted, and a term paper to panic indeed. A large share of the blame, must fall on these students’ earlier training—from the mechanics of grammar and punctuation to the niceties of written self-expression. By the time they reach college, any benefits they derive from composition courses are limited.

Perhaps a solution would be to train a new race of teachers, better armed to battle the mysteries of the language from the first-grade classroom upward. Until we produce such teachers, students will be in no way the beneficiaries of the efforts of Shelley or other writers as their own.

Why have we mere mortals of the press and the American people been slow to accord Robert E. Smith the recognition which concealed a quote upon the page. The editor of English post Percy Shelley? If we were a jury, we would acquit. Taken out of context such a quote hardly conveys the best advantage. It’s also true that what might have won raves from Shelley’s 19th Century fans need not be what a freshman composition instructor expects in 1964. Too, Shelley’s reputation hardly can be expected to stand everything he wrote, umbrella-fashion even from an English instructor. Even great artists should be allowed the luxury of an ill-turned phrase or two. This is especially true with a quote from his prose, rather than the poetry where Shelley made his reputation.

The discussion does point up the fine line between the out-on-a-limb feeling any attempt at written expression inspires in so many students. A theme is enough to frighten all but the most stout-hearted, and a term paper to panic indeed. A large share of the blame, must fall on these students’ earlier training—from the mechanics of grammar and punctuation to the niceties of written self-expression. By the time they reach college, any benefits they derive from composition courses are limited.

Perhaps a solution would be to train a new race of teachers, better armed to battle the mysteries of the language from the first-grade classroom upward. Until we produce such teachers, students will be in no way the beneficiaries of the efforts of Shelley or other writers as their own.

Why have we mere mortals of the press and the American people been slow to accord Robert E. Smith the recognition which concealed a quote upon the page. The editor of English post Percy Shelley? If we were a jury, we would acquit. Taken out of context such a quote hardly conveys the best advantage. It’s also true that what might have won raves from Shelley’s 19th Century fans need not be what a freshman composition instructor expects in 1964. Too, Shelley’s reputation hardly can be expected to stand everything he wrote, umbrella-fashion even from an English instructor. Even great artists should be allowed the luxury of an ill-turned phrase or two. This is especially true with a quote from his prose, rather than the poetry where Shelley made his reputation.

The discussion does point up the fine line between the out-on-a-limb feeling any attempt at written expression inspires in so many students. A theme is enough to frighten all but the most stout-hearted, and a term paper to panic indeed. A large share of the blame, must fall on these students’ earlier training—from the mechanics of grammar and punctuation to the niceties of written self-expression. By the time they reach college, any benefits they derive from composition courses are limited.

Perhaps a solution would be to train a new race of teachers, better armed to battle the mysteries of the language from the first-grade classroom upward. Until we produce such teachers, students will be in no way the beneficiaries of the efforts of Shelley or other writers as their own.

Why have we mere mortals of the press and the American people been slow to accord Robert E. Smith the recognition which concealed a quote upon the page. The editor of English post Percy Shelley? If we were a jury, we would acquit. Taken out of context such a quote hardly conveys the best advantage. It’s also true that what might have won raves from Shelley’s 19th Century fans need not be what a freshman composition instructor expects in 1964. Too, Shelley’s reputation hardly can be expected to stand everything he wrote, umbrella-fashion even from an English instructor. Even great artists should be allowed the luxury of an ill-turned phrase or two. This is especially true with a quote from his prose, rather than the poetry where Shelley made his reputation.

The discussion does point up the fine line between the out-on-a-limb feeling any attempt at written expression inspires in so many students. A theme is enough to frighten all but the most stout-hearted, and a term paper to panic indeed. A large share of the blame, must fall on these students’ earlier training—from the mechanics of grammar and punctuation to the niceties of written self-expression. By the time they reach college, any benefits they derive from composition courses are limited.

Perhaps a solution would be to train a new race of teachers, better armed to battle the mysteries of the language from the first-grade classroom upward. Until we produce such teachers, students will be in no way the beneficiaries of the efforts of Shelley or other writers as their own.
Alaska Digging Out; 104 Believed Dead

ANCHORAGE, Alaska—As Alaskans toiled to dig out from the rubble of Friday’s great earthquake, Civil Defense officials listed new casualty figures of 21 known dead and 1,600 missing and presumed dead.

Most of those presumed dead were washed out to sea by tidal waves following the quake.

Gov. William A. Egan made a new damage estimate Sunday night of $350 million.

A stunned population began to realize the economic ruin carried by the quake. In some communities, industry was at much an 85 per cent wiped out.

"It might take a year and a half to two years to re­build," said Mayor Bruce Woodford of Anchorage, "but we’ll make it."

Egan said his estimate of property damage was con­servative. Other unofficial estimates were higher.

Information from many of the heavy-hitter areas was sketchy at best. In Kodiak, where a tidal wave washed out the waterfront, one report said martial law had been proclaimed. Police refused to confirm or deny the report.

Cold Deals Spring a Setback; 9-Inch Snow at Glenview

CHICAGO—Record cold gripped communities in all sections of Illinois as Chicago shook off another record—Sunday’s king-size snow blanket.

The state’s lowest temperature mark Monday was 2 above zero at O’Hare Airport. The deepest snow measured was nine inches at Glenview Naval Air Station. High tem­perature readings were in the plus 10s in the southern counties.

Cooler than normal weather is expected during the rest of the week.

Farm advisers and fruit growers said cold weather appears to have caused only limited damage to Southern Illinois’ peach crop.

For that important date

wear

FARAH

Slacks

Expensive-looking

Polycryl

SLACKS
cost only

$5.98 for Ivy Thins

$7.98 for Ivy Legs

All-new

Dressier

Washable

Ask for Polycryl slacks by

FARAH MANUFACTURING CO., INC., EL PASO, TEXAS

Here’s Your Men’s Store in Carbondale

Z/G

Announcing the arrival of Bostonians

We are delighted to offer Bostonian shoes to you. We believe you will find the style selection to your liking, and will be actually amazed at the comfort and long wear these shoes will bring you. But, don’t take our word for it! Come in and try them today!

OPEN MONDAY NITE TIL 8:30

Zwick & Goldsmith

just off campus
Southern Comes From Behind
To Win U.S. Championship

(Continued from Page 1)
possible first place finish. The Salukis failed to place in the long horse and didn't enter the Trampoline event, Steve Paletnerak finished second in the slide horse, while Bill Wolf finished fourth. Don Wolf sixth and Mitchell seventh on the high bar. Mitchell added a second on the parallel bars as Denny Wolf claimed sixth. The rings proved to be the strong point for the Salukis as they placed four performers, along with Ehrlich's tie for second, Mitchell placed fifth, Bill Wolf sixth and Denny Wolf ninth. Bill Hladik and Ray Yano were the only Salukis who didn't place in the three-day extravaganza.

Saluki finished well ahead of the field with 84 1/2 points, but the wide margin didn't indicate the close competition. USC took second place with 90 1/2 as defending champion. Michigan was third with 83 points.

Penn State, who was expected to give the Salukis a lot of trouble, tied for fourth with Washington. Both teams had 70 points.

Other team totals: Iowa 25 1/2; Denver 24, Michigan State 23 1/2; Wisconsin 20, California of Berkeley 19, California State at Los Angeles 15, Air Force Academy 14 1/2, Syracuse, Nebraska, Arizona State and Yale 14 1/2; Nevada 9; Illinois State 6, Iowa State, Minnesota and Colorado State 5, and Stanford 2.

Coaches Gather Here for Clinic

Saluki baseball coach Glen (Abe) Martin and high school track coach Jim Wiggers, the principal speakers at today's 16th annual Southern Illinois University spring coaching clinic being held on the SIU campus.
The clinic, to be conducted in the Agriculture building, will feature speakers by Martin and Wiggers, track coach at Alton High School, afternoon luncheon and an all-night golf tournament.

The morning program, scheduled to open at 8:45 with a welcoming speech by SIU Athletic Director Donald N. Floydston, will consist of two sessions. Martin will speak on "Outdoor and Indoor Practice Schedule," while Wiggers, who last year led prep squad to the Illinois state track championship, will talk on "Winter Program in Track" and "Track and Field Organization."

Following a luncheon provided by Southern's Athletic Department at the Jackson County Country Club, those attending will have the opportunity to participate in a question and answer session with Martin and Wiggers.

John C. Downey, associate professor of zoology, will speak at the Combined Graduates and Senior Seminar at 4 p.m. today in Room 133 in the Life Science Building. His topic is "The Evolution of Behavior. Patterns in the lycocatacidae."

Gymnastic Conquering Heroes

By Alan Goldfarb

"We're over the Mississippi now," came the voice of co-pilot Bill Meade, "We'll be down in 16 minutes."

A sleepy, sign-bearing crowd of more than 100 pushed its way to the door marked "To planes." They had been waiting for more than two hours in the lobby of Southern Illinois Airport to welcome home the newly crowned NCAA Gymnastics Champions—Southern Illinois University.

At 12:30 Sunday, the red and white Twin-Beetle put down on the cold, wintry runway. Photographers and newsmen pushed up to the plane as flash bulbs popped and cheg and camera men crowded in. Greeting the Salukis was a long blue and red sign that said, "Welcome Illinois Gymnasts!"

The loudest roar of the night was heard when coach Bill Meade squeezed out of the plane and held the coveted trophy above his head.

It was either the strong wind blowing in his eyes or the touching atmosphere, but tears were clearly visible screaming down Meade's face.

As the team and the coach pushed their way into the small lobby after receiving handshakes and hand slaps on the track, the crowd suddenly quieted as Meade started to talk.

"First of all I want to say that it was a team effort all the way. At no time did any his wife, Pam, turned in the way."

Mitchell was more than satisfied with his outfit performed brilliantly to bring Southern its first major NCAA championship.

Blare Hance, a former SIU gymnast said, "It was impossible. There's so much talent, it had to come."

All the Salukis were thrilled in shirt sleeves and light jackets after leaving the November temperature of Los Angeles. "It was nice being home," said Bill Wolf, referring to his native California.

25 Years’ Service

By Casey Rewarded

Head SIU swimming mentor Ralph Casey was one of five men who received 25-year service awards from the College Swimming Coaches Association of America Saturday.

Casey, a native of Goldsboro, N. C., came to Southern in 1959.

Speed Wash

Shirt Laundry

and Cleaners

214 S. University
Kristoff Ousted at Start

Finn, Millard Cap Titles; Matmen Capture 4th Place

Saluki wrestling standouts Terry Finn and Don Millard both capped impressive seasons by winning NCAA collegiate wrestling titles at Ithaca, N.Y., Saturday night.

Finn, a scrappy 115-pound senior from Pekin, N.Y., finished fourth in team standings in the NCAA championships while Millard, a dependable 167-pound senior from Pekin, handily defeated Bob Zwiesch, a freshman from Oklahoma State, 7-2.

Perennial mat power Oklahoma State captured its 24th national championship with a team total of 87 points.

Coach Jim Wilkinson's Saluki matmen, who were 8th in the NCAA tournament last year, registered 31 points to finish fourth in team standings behind Oklahoma State, Oklahoma and Iowa State. Oklahoma had 58 points, Iowa State 46 and Big Ten champ Michigan placed fifth with 29 points.

The surprising national championships were the first for SIU wrestlers.

In the quarterfinals, Finn, who logged a strong 10-3-1 record during the regular season, beat Cornell's Don Brown 3-4 and then edged Jerry Tanner of Oklahoma State 2-1, in the semifinals.

Millard, owner of a fine 13-2 record going into the championships, pinned Tom Peckham of Iowa State in 1:20 in the quarterfinals.

The Pekin ace's triumph in the quarterfinals avenged a loss to Peckham earlier this season, Millard outpointed Leonard Kaufman of Oregon State 9-6 in a wild semifinal match.

One of the big surprises of the meet was Saluki heavyweight Larry Kristoff's loss in his first match Thursday.

Kristoff, a senior standout who was NCAA heavyweight runner-up a year ago, had been counted on to lead Southern to the national collegiate title this year.

"Kristoff, defending national AAU heavyweight champion who was 13-1 during the regular season, lost a heartbreaking 7-5 decision to Purdue's Don Hop in the opening round.

This big Carbondale sensation is still eligible to defend his AAU title and also is eligible to compete for a coveted berth on the 1964 Olympic squad.

Win Every Match

Netters Sweep to Shutouts
Of Iowa, Western Michigan

SIU's tennis team pushed its season's record to 4-0 over the weekend, with twin 9-0 home dual meet triumphs over Iowa and Western Michigan.

Coach Carl Sexton's Saluki net squad was led by dependable veterans Lance Lammond, Pancho Castillo and brothers Bob and Roy Sprenglemeyer.

Lammond, Sexton's No. 1 singles man, extended his season's record to 4-0 with triumphs over Iowa's Dave Strauss and Western Michigan's Bob Gill, while Castillo 3-1, topped Western's Mike Goodrich, 6-2, 6-4 and Hawk-eyed Arden Stokstad, 6-3, 6-2.

The Sprenglemeyers also ganged up on their weekend opponents. Bob posted an impressive 6-0, 6-1 victory over Bruce Burton Wiercza and blanked Dick Riley of Iowa, 6-0, 6-0. Brother Roy defeated Western Michigan's Glen Sykes, 6-0, 6-0, and tapped Iowa's Marc Mears, 6-2, 6-3.

Quick sophomore Al Pena and Thad Ferguson also aided the Saluki effort with impressive wins in both meets.

SIU - IOWA RESULTS:
Lammond (S) beat Dave Strauss, 6-2, 6-3.
Castillo (S) beat Stokstad, 6-3, 6-2.
Roy Sprenglemeyer (S) beat Mears, 6-2, 6-3.
Pena (S) beat Benson, 6-3, 6-1.
Ferguson (S) beat Saupuras, 6-1, 6-4.
Lammond, R. Sprenglemeyer (S) beat Strauss-Stokstad, 6-3, 6-0.
Castillo-R. Sprenglemeyer (S) beat Meyers-Riley, 6-2, 6-2.
Pena-R. Ferguson (S) beat Saupuras, 11-0.

SIU - WESTERN MICHIGAN RESULTS:
Lammond (S) beat Gill, 6-2, 6-4.
Castillo (S) beat Goodrich, 6-2, 6-4.
R. Sprenglemeyer (S) beat Wiercza, 6-0, 6-1.
R. Ferguson (S) beat Sykes, 6-0, 6-0.
Pena (S) beat Stick, 6-1, 6-1.
Saluki Nine Rallies To Post 6-3 Victory

Southern came from behind in the late innings to win its opening game of the season Saturday, as the Salukis whipped Illinois State, 6-3.

The game, which was originally scheduled to be played at the Salukis' new home at Riverside Park in Murphysboro, was moved to the city reservoir park because of wet grounds.

A dismal day, with gusty winds and temperatures in the forties, did not hamper the Salukis' bats, as SIU rapped two Redbird pitchers for 14 hits.

Kent Collins, a transfer from Eastern Illinois, paced the Salukis with four safeties in five trips to the plate. Normal grabbed a 2-0 lead in the third inning. An error and back-to-back singles by Ken Frazen and Randy Ellenbauer loaded the bases for the Redbirds. The first run came across on a fielder's choice, and the second on a walk.

Normal padded its lead with a solo run in the fourth on a single by Frazen, a hit batsman and two more Saluki errors.

Southern narrowed the margin in the fifth, pushing across two runs. Gene Vincent, who came in for starter John Hoz in the fourth, led off the inning with a bunt. Gib Snyder rapped a single to right and Collins lined a double to score SIU's first run.

First baseman Jim Long's single drove in another run before a double play ended the inning.

The Salukis took the lead in the sixth with two rallies. Al Peludat opened the inning with a single and crossed the plate on Bob Bernstein's triple to deep center. A Redbird error on the play drove in another run.

Collins Raps 4 Hits

Gene Vincent's fine time of 17.24 left him far behind sensational winner Roy Sapp of Southern California at 16.49.5 and Bill Farely of Arkansas at 16:49.5 and Bill Farely of Arkansas at 16:49.5.

The Salukis completed their scoring in the seventh, as consecutive singles by Collins, Long and Mike Pratte loaded the bases for the Salukis. A sacrifice fly by Peludat and a throwing error on the play brought Collins and Long across with the final tallies of the game.

Gene Vincent, who helped his own cause with a single in the fifth, got credit for the victory after coming in to relieve starter John Hoz.

The victory in the first outing came after the southern trip to Texas where the Salukis won three of nine games.

The next date for Coach Abe Martin's nine will be a double-header Saturday against Memphis State.

Southern 6-3

Saluki Nine Rallies To Post 6-3 Victory

Selling SOMETHING?

You're sure to find a buyer for whatever you are selling because most students at SIU read the Egyptian Classified Ads. And you can insert a low-cost ad for yourself. We'll help you write it.

Buying SOMETHING?

Avoid the crowds! Save your time and energy! You'll find just what you want listed in the Egyptian Ads. Or insert a fast-acting Classified Ad yourself today. We'll help you write it.

Need SOMETHING?

We'll help you write it.

Swimming and to score in Swim Team 12th in freestyle race. finished fourth in the championship with 96 style broke the meet record of 17:10.2 in the 1,600-yard freestyle broke the meet record

Lost SOMETHING?

Lost your boss? Your diamond ring? Your last year's love? You might find them all listed in the Egyptian Ads. Or you can insert an inexpensive ad of your own. We'll help you write it.

Selling SOMETHING?

You're sure to find a buyer for whatever you are selling because most students at SIU read the Egyptian Classified Ads. And you can insert a low-cost ad for yourself. We'll help you write it.

Avoid the crowds! Save your time and energy! You'll find just what you want listed in the Egyptian Ads. Or insert a fast-acting Classified Ad yourself today. We'll help you write it.

Swim Team 12th in NCAA On 7 Points by McAneney

Sophomore Thom McAneney was the only Saluki swimmer to score in Saturday's NCAA swimming and diving championships at Yale University. McAneney, of Miami Beach, Florida, placed third in the 1,500-yard freestyle event and finished fourth in the 500-yard freestyle race.

Southern thus scored seven points to finish in a tie for 12th place with Washington State. The total represents the most points ever registered by a Saluki swimming squad at the NCAA finals. Southern California won the championship with 96 points.

McAneney's fine time of 17:10.2 in the 1,600-yard freestyle broke the meet record of 17:10.2 in the 1,600-yard freestyle.